

SNOOTER KNOWS

LITTLE ABOUT EVERY-THING

NOT MUCH ABOUT ANY-THING

More and more is the Trade at home problem becoming serious one for small towns to solve. Paved roads and automobiles have cut deep inroads into the trade territory of the small town. The country is on wheels and it wants to go places and see things. The horse and buggy days have gone forever. The day when a jaunt of 20 miles to town was a big day's job—now with automobile it's no trick to make that distance in 30 minutes. Folks just naturally like to go places and see things, and neighbor towns of larger dimensions support alluring drawing cards that attracts the eye and the interests of the folks that live in the trade territory of the small town. These attractions may be in the form of entertainment features or merchants' windows glowing with displays of merchandise with price tags. One of the more important features that attracts folks to town, be it either large or small, is the merchants' advertising appearing in the home-town newspaper, and don't fool yourself that these advertisements are not read by the subscribers.

While the small town is buffeted hard by the larger ones from the standpoint of trade, the small town by no means is a "gone gozzlin'" unless the folks living in it are willing to permit it to go into innocuous desuetude (Ex-President Grover Cleveland's word coinage), meaning "harmless cessation of activities."

The keen competition for trade set-up by the larger towns brought about by automobile and good roads making travel to them easier and more convenient, only goes to serve notice on the small towns that to survive the attack they must not permit themselves to go "to sleep at the switch" in promoting a method of salesmanship and good will that will educate the people in the local trade territory the very importance of trading at home.

Let local merchants serve you. We ask you to show your loyalty to your friends without asking you to sacrifice a single thing. The next time you go shopping compare prices and quality. Spending your dollar at home you are doing yourself and all of us a favor, for the money you spend goes into the bank right here in town to reappear later as credit and purchasing power to build homes, to support the local schools, to pay the local teachers, and comes back into your own pockets in increased wages and more regular, sensible working hours over the whole year.

Enlightened self help pays dividends. Trading at home is enlightened self help of the finest kind.

ANNUAL SCHOOL BUDGET MEETING AUGUST 18TH

Any Interested Patron May Attend and Discuss Any Feature Of the Budget.

At the regular school board meeting Monday night, it was decided to have the regular annual budget meeting of the Stanton school board on Friday night August 18. Any interested patron may appear and discuss any feature of the budget which will be considered by the board at that time.

The board authorized Supt. Southall to purchase books for the high school and the grade school library not to exceed the amount authorized by the State Aid regulations of the State Department of Education.

Written acceptances from all new teachers have been received and were presented to the board by the secretary.

Since part of the bonds due in 1939 were paid off last year from funds derived from delinquent taxes the previous year, the board decided to apply part of the bond money of 1939 to the payment of Bonds No. 7, No. 53, and No. 54 of an outstanding refunding issue. These bonds are of $500 denomination each. Bond No. 7 will fall due next July and Nos. 53 and 54 will be due July 1963. Payment of No. 7 will ease the pressure of bond payments next year should times be too hard; and payment of Nos. 53 and 54 will cancel $1250 interest as well as $1000 principal, relieving the district of $2250 indebtedness by the payment of $1000.

UNCLE JOHN GIST PAID AN OLD DEBT

The following news item appearing in the Memphis (Hall County) Democrat, will be read with interest by the many Martin county friends of Uncle Johnny Gist, pioneer Ector county ranchman. Following a visit to the Pioneer Settlers reunion held last week in Memphis:

John Gist, pioneer cattleman of Hall County, who now lives in Odessa, was another old-timer who made an excellent talk to the old-timers. Years ago in the early 1900's, Mr. Gist was operating a store in the Eli community. During the reunion, another old-timer came up to him and asked if he were the man who ran the store. Mr. Gist replied that he was. The man told him that he once bought a cultivator from Mr. Gist and still owed him $10 on it. He pulled out the $10 and paid the 40-year old bill.

PEOPLE LIVE NOW AS 'IN CHRIST'S TIME

The following is a letter sent by Johnny Basset to his parents here from Egypt:

Jerusalem, July 13, 1939

Dear Folks:

This has been the busiest, most interesting and most thrilling day I have spent. Since I don't have too much space on these two sheets of paper I will cover the time before coming over shortly.

We went into Cairo Monday, spent Tuesday there and caught a train here Wednesday night, which was last night. We are leaving in the morning. It is really a pity that we have so little time but we have certainly stretched it.

I'll start with our arrival here the first of the trip can remain until later. We arrived here about 10 this morning. After a hard night on the train, we snatched a bath, hired a car and a guide and was off by 12. First we went out to Bethlehem and saw where Jesus was born, a temple has been erected there now. On this temple are the bells from which the chimes are broadcast throughout the world every Christmas. The people of Bethlehem still live the same as they did in the time of Christ. The same type stone houses with the living quarters slightly above the ground level and stables for the cattle, a three-quarter story below, all of which is filthy. The two quarters aren't partitioned and the stink from the stables spread throughout the house. The Inn in which Christ was born was built on the same order.

Next we went to the Mount of Olives and saw what was supposed to be the footprints of Jesus on a rock, the last place on earth that he touched before ascending. The Mount is a small round top hill capping a large rolling one.

Looking to the west from the Mount you can see the site of Solomon's Temple which is now occupied by a mosque, the Garden of Gethsemane on below and the old city on beyond. Looking west you can see the Dead Sea and River Jordan. The Sea is actually 25 miles or so away but it is 1200 feet below sea level and the Mount a thousand or two above so you see why it is possible to see it at such a great distance.

We weren't able to visit the site of Solomon's Temple because it is a strongly disputed area between the Moslems and Jews and it isn't considered safe.

From the Mount of Olives we went on to the Garden of Gethsemane. The olive trees standing there now are supposed to be ones that Christ rested under. They certainly looked old enough. From there we continued on to the pool of Bethesda where Christ healed the lame man. The pool is a cistern some 15 or 20 feet under ground. We journeyed on to Pilots Palace where the Romans tried Christ. A Catholic orphanage is built over the site now, but the old Castle is still there. One of the Sisters showed us through it and she was the sweetest old soul that we had the pleasure of meeting. A magnificent painting of Christ with his crown of thorns and

Sub-irrigated Vineyard

By G. A. BOND, Martin County Agent

An interesting hobby has turned into a profitable enterprise C. F. Gray, Martin county farmer and business man, who has created one of the beauty spots of West Texas, one mile west of Stanton on the Bankhead highway.

In 1930 Mr. Gray became interested in sub-irrigating a garden and vineyard on his 80 acre farm, which he operates in addition to serving as manager of a lumber company in Stanton He planted 2 acres of grapes, approximately 600 vines of 25 different American and European varieties. The grapes were planted in 12-foot rows with concrete tile between each row, about 7500 feet of tile. Water is supplied to the tile from a windmill and storage tanks.

A garden below the vineyard was also, sub-irrigated with the concrete tile. The tile in the garden was laid at six-foot intervals. For the last three years, however, part of this garden patch has been devoted to alfalfa for a green pasture for swine and poultry. Alfalfa does well under this system and this is the only alfalfa patch in the county.

Mr. Gray also has an orchard of approximately 2 acres with some 130 trees of which 70 are peaches, 6 cherries, 16 pear, 12 apple, and the remainder persimmon, almond, plum, and apricot. He also has a small berry patch of blackberries and dew berries.

Normally Mr. Gray harvests around 600 bushels of grapes, some of his peach trees will yield 15 bushels of peaches to the tree this year, and last year he gathered nearly 600 crates of berries. His grapes are selling for 75 cents to $1.00 a bushel this year and peaches are bringing him from $1.00 to $1.50 a bushel.

cross over his shoulder marks the place where he took up the cross and started carrying it to the calvary. The Sister knelt in prayer before the painting and asked us to join her. I felt that I wasn't a devoted enough christian to pray with one so close to her Saviour and in such a sacred place but I did anyway. I felt closer to Christ than I have since I was converted. It was all so touching and I shall never forget the little Sister. She was so sincere and she is devoting her whole life to these orphaned Arabs. I wished I had had more money with me so I could have helped her more in her worthy cause.

I am running out of paper and I'm so sleepy I can hardly write as you can easily notice. I slept practically none at all last night on the train, and it is past eleven now. I will write tomorrow night and finish telling you of our short but very interesting and very wonderful trip.

Good night and lots of love.

SUB-IRRIGATED—

ed early and the weather turned cold. On the night of March 30, Mr. Gray stayed up all night watching the thermometer. He had previously distributed all over the orchard and vineyard piles of cotton burs and milo head pomaces to use for smudge fires. The temperature did not drop below freezing that night but one week later the fires were needed. A freeze on the night of April 7 caused the piles to be lighted and burned all night. The results of these fires can be seen now. One side of a tree will be well loaded with fruit while the side away from the fire will have no fruit at all.

This same condition is evident in the grapes. Mr. Gray found that the milo pomace made the best fire for smudging. They burned slowly, making an excellent smudge.

Cultural practices
Fruit trees are usually considered very short-lived in this section of the state, but Mr.

Gray has found that in peach trees he can extend the life of the tree by keeping them growing close to the ground. For the first year or two after the young tree is planted, he prunes off the upper third of the tree and leaves those branches near the ground. This keeps the trunk of the tree shaded so that sand and sun will not blister the bark providing an opening for the shot hole borers. He is of the opinion that his fruit does not color as well under this method of pruning but that the tree lasts longer and produces more. All of his trees are surface irrigated. He sprays each spring with lime sulphur for (San Jose scale).

For grapes Mr. Gray prefers the Munson type grape trellis and all of his 600 vines are growing on them. He prunes his grapes annually, and sprays 'em with nicotine sulphate each summer just before the leaf hoppers start.

Mr Gray completed the last step toward having a model demonstration farm, as recommended by the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. college, this spring by terracing his cropland. He has utilized the services of the past and present Extension agents in establishing his demonstrations; fruits, berries, alfalfa, sub-irrigation, terracing, trench silos, and windbreaks. He also produces all of his eggs, milk, cream, butter, vegetables, honey, pork and many other items that will grow in this part of the State.

FISHED ON THE CONCHO

Messrs. O. C. Southall B. F. White, H. A. Poole, and Culver Southall, spent a day and night fishing on the North Concho near Water Valley, last week. They had a fierce engagement with the Concho mosquitoes; are still having trouble with John Garner "chiggers"; got thoroughly soaked in a terrific rainstorm; and caught four (count 'em) fish large enough to keep. The big one did not get away!

GREYHOUND LINES FASTEST GROWING TRANSPORTATION LINES

Fort Worth, Texas, July 31.— Facts and figures on one of Texas' fastest growing companies and the Southwest's largest motor transportation system were made public here today through an interview with Paul W. Tibbetts, President of Southwestern Greyhound Lines, following completion of an extensive remodeling program in Southwestern Greyhound Lines' general headquarters offices in this city. The company offices now cover about 15,000 square feet of floor space compared with approximately 8,000 square feet occupied prior to the remodeling. The alterations which included complete year-round air-conditioning were made at a cost of more than $40,000 Tibbetts said. More than 125 people are now employed in the company's general headquarters office.

Southwestern Greyhound Lines office expansion has been necessitated by the continual growth of the company's services and equipment Tibbetts said. Super-Coaches, which are manufactured for and operated by the affiliated Greyhound Lines exclusively are now used on almost every Greyhound schedule in Texas he said. These coaches are a great improvement over operated generally when the Southwestern Greyhound Lines was formed in 1933.

Texas Operation Largest
According to President Tibbetts who has made his home in Texas for many years, Southwestern Greyhound Lines has grown to be the major highway transportation system in the Southwest since its incorporation in 1933. From its Texas headquarters, officials of Southwestern Greyhound Lines operate their coaches over more than 6,000 miles of highway in the Southwest. The majority of the operation is in Texas, however, Tibbetts said, since the company operates its coaches more than 10,000 miles annually over 3,000 miles of Texas highway serving 281 towns and communities, many of which have no other means of public transportation. In addition to the company's own operation Southwestern Greyhound Lines connects its schedules with those of 57 other carriers in the state, giving bus service to more than 1,000 Texas towns and communities it was pointed out. Southwestern Greyhound Lines carried 1,291,153 passengers on its coaches in 1938. 774,691 of these were Texas travelers.

Texas Payroll High
Southwestern Greyhound Lines paid $958,763.79 in 1938 to 591 employees in Texas in addition to commissions paid to 210 ticket agents in the state, according to Tibbetts. $2,000,000 Invested in Texas
When asked about Southwestern Greyhound Lines' investments in Texas G. P. Schmal, vice-president and comptroller of the Greyhound line, stated that at the close of the year 1938 the company had more than $2,000,000 invested in terminals, garages and equipment in the state. Answering a query as to the taxes paid on the company's buses, Schmal stated that Southwestern Greyhound Lines paid the State of Texas $169,584.50 for the use of its highways in 1938.

In addition to the $2,000,000 invested in Texas property, Southwestern Greyhound Lines spent $249,491.00 for Texas products in 1938 Schmal pointed out.

Young Craftsman Completes Intricate Lamps for Chapel

Creator of these elaborate light fixtures for the Chapel in the Woods being constructed at Texas State College for Women is a student artist, Miss Sammy Tate (lower left) of Ennis, who designed them and has put them together herself. She is being assisted by Miss Helen Solberg, a Clifton student, under the supervision of Miss Dorothy A. LaSelle of the TSCW art department. Miss Tate has saw-pierced and riveted these spheres for the Chapel auditorium. She is also making lights for the vestibule and front door, two candle-sticks and the large altar cross. All art work in the Chapel, including the stained glass windows, is being done by TSCW students.

Forty Tribes Dance at Gallup Ceremonials

W. bonnets, ceremonial paint and feathers signal the approach of the Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial to be held at Gallup, New Mexico, August 17-20, inclusive.

ALLUP, N. M.—Indian drums are sounding in the far places of the Southwest. Soon it will be time for the many tribes to gather "at the place by the bridge" (Indian for Gallup, N. M.) here each year seven thousand Indians from nearly forty different tribes join forces to produce America's most colorful and spectacular Indian Show, the annual Inter-Tribal Indian Ceremonial. For four days they will dance, chant, compete in sports and engage in weird rites before capacity audiences made up of their white brethren. The Gallup Ceremonial is the largest and most authentic Indian spectacle of its kind in the country. Usually the Ceremonial is held the last part of August. But a change in dates has been announced by Joseph Lieberman, Santa Fe agent and this year's president of the Ceremonial Association. The event will open on August 17th and run through four days with the last performance scheduled for the evening of the 20th. In addition to seven regular shows, the association has also arranged a colorful street parade each day except Sunday. A special attraction each year is the unusual display of Indian arts and crafts in the Exhibit Hall where thousands of articles are shown. A score of native craftsmen will be at work showing the technique of Indian handicraft.

Yes, the Indian drums are sounding in the far places of the Southwest, and soon the Navajos, Zunis, Hopis, Utes, Apaches, Lagunas, Acomas and a score of other tribesmen and their families will start the trek to "the place by the bridge," Gallup, N. M.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and considered it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents, and leaders of boys clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on most newsstands at 15c a copy. Subscription prices are $1.50 for one year or $3.00 for three years. Foreign rates 50c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan. 42tf.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.

Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.

Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years.

They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your dealer!

COME TO STANTON

On the threshold of the Fall season Stanton merchants find in making room for their Fall stocks, they have many items of summer goods they are willing to sacrifice the price on rather than carry them over another year. Hence the "TOUR FOR VALUES" among the stores in Stanton at this season will find many articles and at Bargain Prices equal to those found in the larger nearby towns. There is no other angle to the "TOUR FOR VALUES" in stores in Stanton that is of vital importance to the community and that is a certain part of every dollar spent in Stanton remains here in circulation. The dollar spent "OUTSIDE" is irrevocably gone.

If you earn a livelihood in one community and spend your earnings in another you are automatically eliminating your means of earning a livelihood in that community.

Perhaps you feel you owe nothing to your local merchant. But certainly you cannot deny your obligation to yourself and family.

The merchants of Stanton make no bid for your patronage on the ground of loyalty. They offer you as great or greater DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR value as you can get anywhere. They make no compromise with quality in the goods they sell. And if the merchandise you buy from them fails to make good, the merchant will.

The local merchant gladly supports your schools, churches, your local charities and civic organizations. He contributes in every possible way to the growth and development of our city. These things add to the overhead expense extras the outside sources do not have, yet withal, he can and does compete with them in price and in many instances, extends credit for customers convenience.

Patronize local stores for in so doing you contribute to the future of our city—you help perpetuate prosperity and last but not least, you help yourself.

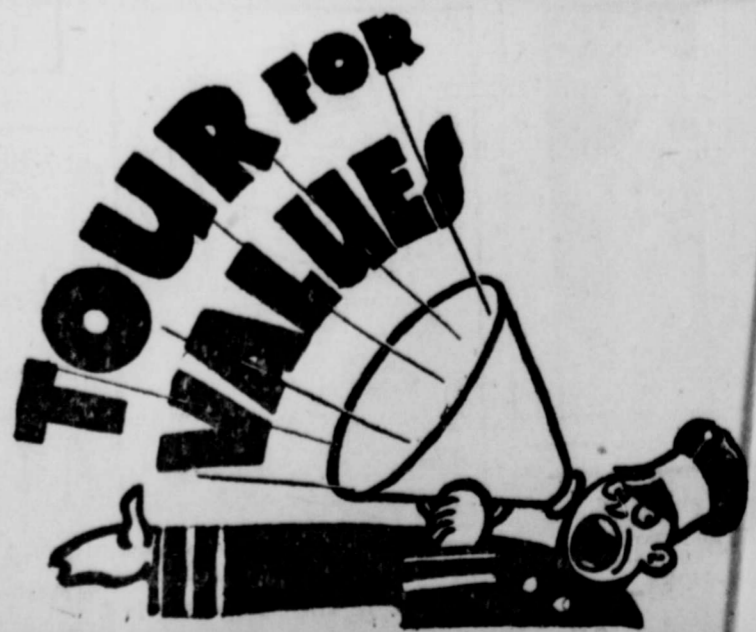

IN THE STORES OF THESE COOPERATING MERCHANTS OF STANTON, SHOPPERS WILL FIND STYLISH WEARING APPAREL FOR EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY; NEW AND INVITING HOME FURNISHINGS; TEMPTING FOOD STUFFS; AUTOMOBILE SUPPLIES AND EVERY NEEDED COMMODITY.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and considered it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

"It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum," writes one high school senior. "THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such a sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY."

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents, and leaders of boys clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it.

Trained writers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY, the sort of reading matter boys like best.

FINE RAINS FALL THIS WEEK

First of this week was ushered in by some good rains falling in the county ranging from an inch to an inch and a half over the county. The feed crop is practically made with the rains coming as they did, and young cotton growing fine with only a few worms working, so reports come from the farming section.

Range lands have been materially benefited, and the fall outlook puts on rather an encouraging prospect for the farmer and ranchmen.

By allotting the 4-H club of Catarina high school and the Texas Game Fish and Oyster Commission the use for a period of two years of several hundred acres of land, the Catarina Farms Co., of Dimmit County, Texas has provided students the "working tools" with which to help restore the game of the state and to also learn the practical side of game management. The procedure is a new department in Texas and is being watched with considerable interest by game officials throughout the state.

The large tract of land is to be utilized by the 4-H club members as a school demonstration area for a bobwhite quail demonstration project and has been designated a wildlife sanctuary for birds and animals. Students will assist in providing suitable habitat for several species of wildlife and will also plant crops suitable for providing feed. The practical knowledge derived by the 4-H club members is expected to result in increased conservation and game throughout Dimmit county.

Arrangements for the working agreement believed to be the best of its kind in the Southwest were made by H. A. Dillon, manager of the Catarina Farms; C. P. Landholt, superintendent of Catarina High and Herbert Ward, state game warden.

A crippled doe on the Gibbons Ranch in San Saba county recently gave birth to her sixth set of twin fawns. John Wood, state game warden of Brownwood, reports. According to Mr. John Gibbons owner of the ranch, the doe was shot when very young and her right hind leg has been useless ever since. She ranges the same locality each year.

Having determined to their satisfaction that the armadillo does little damage to quail nests and eats practically no eggs, if any, experts of the game department have been concentrating upon a study of the food habits of the roadrunner, that long-tailed bird so familiar to West and South Texas.

Stories have long made the rounds that the roadrunner was a destroyer of quail and their eggs.

Examination of the contents of stomachs of many roadrunners shows that there was no evidence of quail or their eggs being eaten. On the other hand, it has been definitely proved that 85.6 of all foods of the roadrunner is insects. Reptiles, most of which were lizards, totaled 6 percent. Vegetable matter composed 2 per cent and birds made up 6.4, they including cactus wren sparrow and

That the roadrunner deserves protection for its aid in destroying insects has been ascertained. The greatest good these birds do lies in the number of grasshoppers they eat. 62 per cent of the entire stomach contents consisted of grasshoppers. Other insects included caterpillars, centipedes, scorpions, tarantulas, beetles, cicadas and several other noxious and poisonous insects.
