

Thigpen, Mullino Ride To Dirt In Show Here

Exhibitors of crowd capturing quarterhorse flesh from Abilene, Windthorst, Rochester, Seymour and Plainview were the top trophy takers as a host of visitors converged on this community for the seventh annual Haskell Horse Show Friday...

Grand champion stallion honors went to Ray Mo, owned by W. A. Reeder, of Plainview, and the reserve champion was King Lucky Bar, owned by J. W. Hastings, of Windthorst.

Duke Dandy, the pride of Felix Mullino, of Rochester, superintendent of the seventh annual horse show here, was given the nod by Judge George as grand champion gelding.

Financial Aid Exists Here For Worthy Students

Policy amendments granting more levity and expanding the scope of student eligibility for scholarship funds with which to obtain a college education, were announced here Thursday by Robert R. King, Haskell school superintendent and chairman of the Citizens Scholarship Committee here.

Worthy students desiring this type of aid should contact King at his office in the Haskell High School.

BISHOP KENNETH COPELAND At Methodist Conference

KENNETH COPELAND, FORMER PASTOR, NOW BISHOP, VISITS

It was like a homecoming for Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland, a former Haskell pastor, when he came to Abilene last week to be preacher for the sessions of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

Ordained an elder in the Methodist Protestant Church at 19, and president of the Texas Conference of the church when only 26, Bishop Copeland, well remembered and respected here, was pastor of the First Methodist Church in Haskell from 1940 to 1944.

The well-known clergyman, a native of Bexar, Arkansas, and consecrated at the altar of his own Travis Park Church in San Antonio June 26, 1960, was elected a bishop at the South Central Jurisdictional Conference in San Antonio, June 24, 1960.

Jaycees Set To Serve With Drag Gear, E-Squad

Cooperating with Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett, who made a personal monetary contribution to the enterprise, Haskell Jaycees have undertaken a project to build and distribute drag equipment for use in the event of emergency at Lake Stamford.

Day Camp Was Big Success By All Yardsticks

About 200 girls from the Haskell area attended the week-long Girl Scout Day Camp which was climaxed last weekend with an open house attended by a throng of parents at Scott's Crossing.

At the request of Sheriff Garrett, Haskell's Jaycees are asking that Stamford Jaycees join them in the project to double the equipment and manpower in a time of need.

June is Dairy Month. Supplies of all dairy products are at seasonal highs. Use them often to give the family wholesome and nutritious foods at bargain prices.

Airstrip Facility, Depot Restoration Plans Jelling

A New Projects Committee of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, dedicated to community development Friday night moved spiritedly into two titanic tasks—improvement of this city's airport facilities and crystallization of plans to have its archaic depot recently sold Haskell by the FW&DC for a dollar, and restore it as a museum and tourist attraction.

County Judge Jim Alvis Wednesday issued a strong plea for a heavy and representative vote, that it may be a true reflection of the opinion of the people on this issue.

Subsequent to the action of the court, a group of citizens, one of whom was C. S. Gay, circulated a petition asking for an election to determine the people's wishes on the trapper need. It has been the contention of many that wild dogs running loose, not coyotes or bobcats, have been the source of the stock menace.

STORIES ABOUT OUR VARMINT TRAVEL AS FAST AS IT DOES

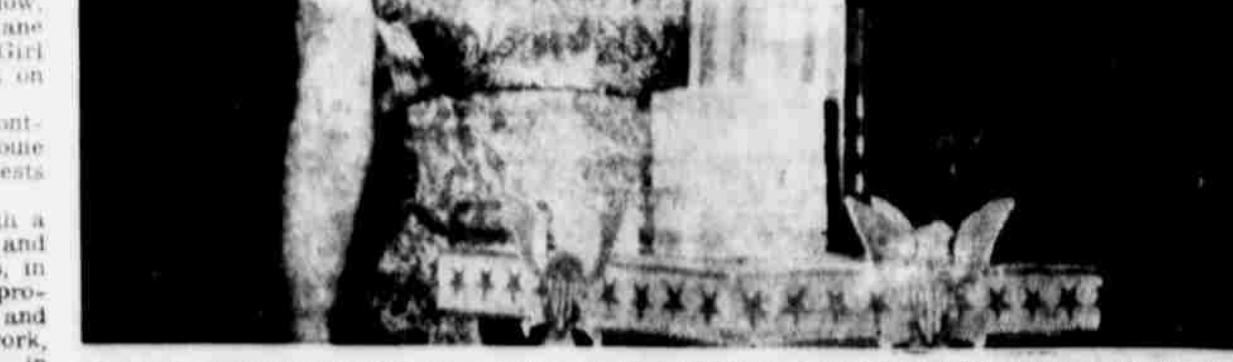

Haskell County's carnivorous creature, which has been more of an interloper than a loafer, so great has been its range as a "go between" has proved its territory-traveling mettle here during the past week. But its own lurking and slinking from one section of Haskell County to another still far from matches the distance the stories about its varmint have traveled.

To Haskell last Thursday came a letter from the Marylanders who, as transients traveling this area just before last New Year's, saw the vanisher cross the Throckmorton Highway. They never had heard of the strange beast which had been infrequently seen since 1939 around here, but the experience of the night of Dec. 27, 1962, made believers out of them.

Seven Girl Scouts From Here Are At Camp Boothe Oaks

Attending the camp activities for two weeks are Kay Overton, Anita Thigpen, Donna Nanny, Brenda Nanny, Linda Lane, Terry Kay Diggs, and Jenny Dulaney.

The Haskell contingent was transported to Camp Boothe Oaks in a parents' car pool.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT—is a subject talked about in many municipal and civic circles these days. Both capital and classic is the smile on the face of Mrs. Ruby Neil Hart, of New Boston, recently elected to succeed Harold R. Spain, Haskell postmaster, as president of Texas Chapter of National Association of Postmasters. And what an improvement in the looks of the state's president over last year! Flanking the newly-elected lady president of the state postmaster's association, are M. E. Trice (left), Rule postmaster and editor of the Lone Star Postmaster, the organization's publication, and Harold Jinks, of Washington, featured speaker at the convention in Abilene over which Haskellite Spain presided with aplomb. Jinks is director of the Division of Postmaster and Rural Appointments with the Post Office Department.

Sheriff Cousins New Warden

Bob Cousins, former Sheriff of Haskell County for six years, was named warden of the Darlington, one of the largest of the Texas prisons. George Beto, head of the Department of Corrections, announced the appointment.

Cousins, wife and three children live here at 611 Darrington warden of a prison housing 100 prisoners in a semi-security status. He employs under his management a 5,000 acre of it. There are 200 acres under production in rice, cotton and soybeans in this operation 25 miles from Houston on the Texas coast.

Cousins, remembered as a communicative and West Texas man married to the former King of Haskell, has three children, 12 and Al 10, and his oldest grandchild, named in the appropriations bill by Governor Orin Moody, is a projected $2-million construction and sealing project.

Haskell citizen, warden's brother-in-law, worked, sustained attack and died in an escaped inmate's leading expression in his being a successor.

Warden Cousins asks deep gratitude be to the people here who appreciate.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO (June 15, 1933)

Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Williams, and son, T. C., Jr., of Cisco, were visitors last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Conner.

Rankin Gammill, 1928 graduate coach of the Meadow, Texas, High School.

The first load of wheat from the 1933 crop was received in Haskell Friday. The load was purchased by Haskell Mill and Grain Company for 60 cents per bushel.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Sarrells left Monday afternoon for a two weeks vacation in Mineral Wells and points in South Texas.

Mrs. W. J. Sowell and granddaughters, Elizabeth and Beverly Gilbert, left the first of the week for an extended visit in California.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Daugherty and daughter, Ermine, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cooper, spent the weekend in Wichita Falls in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Houston Bolin and family. Mrs. Cooper returned from that city to her home in Streetman, Texas.

Miss Beulah Sego left Sunday for Canyon, where she will attend the summer term of West Texas State College.

A number of combines are running in the Sagerton section where wheat is reported making around 12 bushels per acre. However, the price is somewhat better than last year, compensating in part for the short crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Brown left Sunday on their return to Louisiana after visiting relatives and friends in Rochester.

Dr. Howell and family of Rochester left last week for a month's vacation in Raymondville and other points in that section.

Mrs. Jim Fouts of this city was removed to the Baptist Sanitarium in Abilene last Friday where she underwent surgery Saturday. A blood transfusion was required after the operation, and Olen Dotson of Haskell gave the blood. The many friends of Mrs. Fouts will be glad to learn she is recovering nicely and will be returned home in a few days.

Whither Goest We?

A Town "On The Move?"

Haskell is a community at a crossroads, two ways, geographically and progressively. Geographically, the roads go places—Abilene, Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Lubbock. Progressively, we haven't quite made up our minds yet about going places. Some of us make like we don't care which way the signs point.

We don't have as many choices on the roads to the future as we do geographically. One leads to progress. The other is a deadend.

We've been making mention of some momentous motivating being done on that road to progress around here lately. How much good will it do? Will people act? Will there be growth in the community? Will results for progress become apparent and felt by Haskell citizens?

We believe the people will act. They have demonstrated it already in the lead being taken first on the depot-museum project, and last Friday night, on the airport improvement plan. Mr. J. H. Strain, a prime mover by trade, deserves the highest of commendation for being a civic prime mover as well in offering to furnish without charge the men and equipment for the latter project.

At Rotary last Thursday, we wish the whole town could have been there. Dick Harris, who was general sales chairman for the recent tremendously successful effort in Wichita Falls to raise $1,000,000 for industrial development in his community, told a cross-section of Haskell citizenship, "Attitude constitutes the major strategy of getting a town on the move."

The replacement of a dormant manner of thinking with do-something is the key to community progress, our citizens were told.

Even Wichita Falls was dying on the vine, because folks who "had made their pile" couldn't see the need to support a town "on the move," Harris pointed out. But the older men caught spirit which the younger men worked to stimulate, then supported the project — and it was the support of the OLDER people that made the achievement of the goal possible.

Proof of an about-face in attitude toward do-something from do-nothing in Wichita Falls — and it can be accomplished here, too — was the passage last week of a $6,000,000 bond issue for public improvements by a resounding two-to-one vote. The same bond issue had been defeated twice previously, the last time by 4 to 1!

But the successful industrial project had changed that attitude. We're talking about, from negative to affirmative.

Successful prosecution of the plans we have on the move — the county-wide day-of-fun for everyone, fandangle style, to support our depot restoration; the harnessing of our historical heritage; the airport development — these accomplishments will lead to others. So, "Let's Go!"

The thinking of the people is the primary factor involved, and what is being done is heartening, responsive, awakening. It indicates, for a change, in this town, fine constructive action in living.

If we think of the future, we think of others. Repeat that in your mind, please. And we think of ourselves, too as it should be. Your support of these projects, and those that are BOUND to follow, will be "taking care of" Number One, You. FIRST, whether you realize it at the outset or not.

Let's make a "town on the move" a byword in Haskell — a most graceful lived by, inspiring, workable phrase therefore.

And our future will be productive, our heritage secured.

A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri
By PORTER

Thanks to the personalized shopping service provided by Juggernaut Jim-Dandy Norman, that international table-hopper from the "When You Stop-You Stay," town of Rule, we have a new Texas-size hat. We're thankful for the thoughtfulness of our rovin' Rule-r. Don't think we would have had time to do the shoppin', what with all that has been happenin' in this beautiful town filled with fine folks located between two junk piles.

This new lid has been a personality-changer, our colleagues say. We don't know whether to take that as a compliment. It would be well if it has changed that portion of the Pencil Pusher which it covers like an umbrella. It has made him feel like as if he had received his come-uppance in true Haskell haberdashing. Now we know how a lady feels about wearin' a hat places. Also, our fedora produces a feisty feelin', a "I think I'll just go varmint huntin' with a switch, swashbuckle style."

Speakin' of that varmint, the Fort Worth papers last week-end created a healthy huntin' atmosphere, striving to compete with each other on varmint coverage. The result was an exodus of big game (other than card) hunters from Cowtown, who converged on Haskell in strength for to sniff out that stealthy slinker. Too bad it isn't just a stinker, so we could find it. There were more than one of the super stalkers who said they'd jump our "thing" and bring it to the Square. But, to paraphrase a saying, they was countin' their varmints before they was caught.

Marvin Garrett, able Fort Worth Press newsmen who graced our community last week, wrote in his paper Sunday that "The legend of the Haskell County creature, like that of the Abominable Snowman, may live on and on." Or like the amphibious monster in the Scot loch. We prefer to hope and believe our carnivorous creature will be caught. After the buildup this baby (?) has received in the nation's Press, Boy, what a tourist attraction it would be mounted in our new depot-museum!

But, meanwhile, we're still as much in the dark about our varmint as a black cat eating licorice in a coal bin at midnight. One thing about it, the ratio of believers to non-believers in the existence of our varmint is bound to be determined at the polls when we decide nine days from now, on June 22, about hiring a trapper to control predators in the territory.

Since we've cats on the mind, BIG ones, we want to tell about Inky, ruler of the Joe Maples realm at 3rd and North D. We are enamored of cats anyway, except when they get catty. Now, Inky is a plutoecat. The type that emits a horrendous howl which, translated, says "no baloney" when that delectable dish is placed before this King. But salmon or steak, yes, he licks the platter clean.

Although Inky, about 20 pounds of black-plenty-of-Per-gian-maybe-a-little - something else-with white built-in booties, has a mighty good home and obviously excellent care at the Maples, he deigns to cross our threshold frequently, and in his plutoecatic way, takes over. We had a cat, Siamese, for nine years, which coincidentally was named Slinky, a name which fit as well as does Inky's, given her by our daughter. She brought her home one morning after reading an ad in the paper. THAT plutoecat was for sale for "only $35," to which a deaf ear was promptly turned. But the generous lady, rather than be an accessory before and after the fact of a broken heart, GAVE Slinky, pedigree and all, to us. That was the most satisfactory animal anyone ever could have, and the Pencil Pusher tried for years to pay that kind lady, a brilliant lawyer and civic leader in Amarillo, for what became a very necessary part of our lives. But she wouldn't hear to it.

Now the current edition, Inky, woe is us when he passes, and we hope he has nine lives, is a very necessary part of our lives. He has taken to the habit of sleeping on the hood of the car every night. Saturday night we were away, and the Maples said that cat walked a hundred, more or less, miles keeping a vigil for our return. He wasn't so much interested in us, but the hood of that car has become a pillow propped particularly for him. And he resented its absence mightily.

Did you know that right here in high, not too dry, West Texas, we have a fishery lady who prefers shark catchin' to the more domesticated varieties? This agile angler, curvaceous, too, Mrs. Jetty Clare, hauled in a couple of neophyte man-eaters in a recent deep-sea sortie off the Texas coast. Said if she'd wanted a bigger catch for display, she might have pitched Jetty overboard for bait. But she preferred, in the true tradition of a lady, to allow her husband the honor of hauling in the edible catches, which Castin' Clare did with finesse, much to the delight of the Free Press family, who tangibly benefitted therefrom.

An all too abbreviated period of happiness has departed our lives. Our hope is that it can be restored soon, and often. We speak of the departure of a Mother-Daughter combination, Delightful Diane and Heavenly Holly Williams, to be reunited with Husband-Father, Dr. Temple Williams. He has patiently patted a lonesome foot during their stimulating visit to Haskell. The young Dr. Williamses soon set sail to a new port on life's journey, the Navy Medical Center, at Bethesda, Maryland, where we know they will have a full, enjoyable, and productive experience. And there, Holly will bowl 'em over with her "big burger" talk as she continues to develop the personality and engaging charm that is going to land her on the boardwalk at Atlantic City in 1978!

Joe Pouns, the astute business editor of the Abilene Reporter News, says premonitions by newsmen of big stories breaking in a small town are just sort of built-in accessories with guys like us. We were tellin' him about wakin' up a full hour before our regular time the other morning and going to the Fire Station and City Hall to find out that sure 'nuf the Burdette house on the Herman Henry farm was burning right then. Joe sez he pulled a similar stunt one time at Coleman, got in on a big bank robbery, and "I wasn't one of the principals either."

Marvin is about 18 years old, and Bailey is hardly 16. The boys arrived in the city Thursday morning and will be showered with congratulations of friends. Judge Urges Prompt Reports Of Varmint Sign

A strong appeal for cooperation in promptly reporting evidences of Haskell County's vanishing varmint to the proper authorities has been voiced here by County Judge Jim Alvis.

Judge Alvis said chances for cornering the animal, now thought to be a mountain lion, would be greatly enhanced if we could get on the trail quickly with volunteer, experienced hunters directing trained dogs to help solve this puzzling mystery.

The county judge asked that any indication of a predator's presence be reported without delay to him at 864-2851 or to Sheriff Garth Garrett at 864-2229 in Haskell for speedy action by volunteers on a stand-by alert.

The trail of the strange varmint, believed responsible for four attacks on stock in the last two weeks of May, has grown cold since two laborers said they were frightened by the sight of it in a pasture 12 miles northeast of Haskell near the Mattson community Monday.

Area Ministers To Direct Meeting In South Dakota

Two area Church of Christ ministers will be away from their pulpits for two weeks, leaving after worship services Sunday night to go to Huron, South Dakota, to assist in conducting a gospel meeting and door-to-door crusade in that city of 20,000.

Jim Pennington, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ, and David Phemister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Phemister, of Weimert, who is minister of the Jayton Church of Christ, will be in the group converging on Huron for the meeting.

Most of next week will be spent in preparation for the gospel gathering and campaign, with Pennington handling the pre-meeting publicity and later the song leading responsibilities. The Haskell and Jayton Church of Christ ministers will participate in two services daily in Huron from June 16 through 23.

Preacher for the gospel meetings in the South Dakota city also is well known in this area and has directed several similar assemblies in Haskell. He is J. W. Anders, minister of the Northwest Church of Christ at Tyler, Texas.

Sampson Buys White's Store From Jon Baum

Jim Sampson, 28-year-old native of Wichita Falls, who has operated a welding supply business in Abilene for the past year, has purchased the White's Auto Store on the Courthouse Square in Haskell from Jon Baum, who has operated the establishment for the past two years.

Baum, former Mineral Wells funeral director, plans to return to that type of service in the near future. He has been most active in religious activities and civic projects while living in Haskell.

Sampson, a graduate of Wichita Falls High School in 1943, entered the Navy upon completion of high school and served for three years during World War II, training as an aerial gunner and flight engineer. He finished his Navy assignment on Okinawa in sea-plane operations.

The new owner-operator of the White's Auto Store here was with Air Reduction Sales Company in Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City for 16 years before going to Abilene a year ago to become a partner in the Abilene Welding Supply Company. He left this firm to enter into his first White's Auto affiliation here.

The new Haskell citizen is married to a former Phoenix, Arizona girl, and the Sampsons have three children, all girls, who will be attending Haskell schools this fall. They are, Linda 16, Phyllis 14, and Laura 13. They are members of the Baptist Church.

Purcell's Gift Is Token of Regard At Grassroots

Tangible token of the regard held by the President of the United States and Texas' 18th District Congressman Graham Purcell for people at the grassroots was the autographed copy of "Profiles In Courage," Pulitzer Prize winning book of John F. Kennedy given to the Haskell High School Library recently.

In behalf of Congressman Purcell, Haskell Free Press Editor Porter Oakes presented the valuable book autographed by President Kennedy to Robert R. King, superintendent of Haskell Schools, in a special assembly at the high school here.

Promptly responding to a request initiated by Oakes, Congressman Purcell obtained the book, the inside cover of which bears a note on White House stationery to the Congressman representing this Northwest and North Central Texas area declaring it was autographed especially for the Haskell library.

Superintendent King, in receiving the presentation, was effusive in his thanks for this thoughtful gesture by the President and our Congressman, the Hon. Graham Purcell, to us at the grassroots who will always cherish and preserve this gift.

Bobby Black Is Elected Delegate To Explorer Meet

Explorer Scouts from three states arrived Thursday on the campus of Baylor University, Waco, to take part in a four-day Boy Scouts of America Elected Explorer Delegate Conference.

Bobby Black, Life Scout-Explorer, of Haskell, was one of the four delegates elected from the Chisholm Council to attend. Jimmy Colkner and Dennis Brooks, both of Coleman, and Don Boles, of Clyde, were the other three chosen. They were accompanied to Waco by O. K. Reynolds, of Abilene, staff advisor.

The conference, with a theme of "Supersonic Citizenship," has had as its keynote speakers, Glenn Gregory, of the sports realm, a representative of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Dr. Walter Kerr.

Other features of the sessions, young Black reported, were a variety show with the Terrell Tigerettes and the United States Air Force Band of the West participating, and a Saturday night performance with Miss Teen Age America, Darla Banks, as the mistress of ceremonies and star.

Discussion groups in some 20 Explorer interest fields were conducted, and the entire program provided a "world of knowledge," the Haskell Explorer said, which he hopes to "share with Post 36 (the Haskell post) to help it become the goingest bunch of boys in the community."

They bring to 235 the number of students who have received financial aid to attend Texas Baptist colleges and universities since the scholarship program began.

Depot, Other New Projects, Sharply Shaping

While concentrating on crystallization of the decrepit depot priority project, civic work-horses in Haskell pin-pointed several endeavors indicative of a "town on the move" here during the past several days.

Both the Chamber board and the new projects committee reiterated their gratitude for the cooperative moves already initiated in behalf of the restoration project by the Ft. Worth and Denver Railway Company through its vice president, Ellis L. Simmons, and Mayor J. E. Walling and the City Council. Final affirmative word from the railroad on Haskell's request for possession of the depot for the purposes announced was received here last week.

Other demonstrations of a town on the move emerging from the new projects group meeting, in which Mrs. Roy Johnson, chamber manager, coordinated the action taken, included allocation of responsibility to the following civic leaders for the projects itemized: President Turner, airport paving; Mrs. Ed Hester, president of Garden Club, beautification program along lines of proven tree research study; Jaycee President Lane, contact highway department for counsel on tree planting program; to blot out unsightly junkyard approaches to Haskell; Dr. Cadenhead, explore all avenues of possibility for establishing a facilitated camping ground for transient tourists in Haskell.

Out of the chamber board meeting also came reports of the selection of a successor for Mrs. Johnson who recently resigned, the rehabilitation of old signs advertising Haskell and projecting of new ones on area highways; plans for industrial development, and participation by local citizens in the contagious and enthusiastic program for West Texas development sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, with a special appeal for attendance turnout by Haskellites at the WTCC annual meeting, its 45th, in Wichita Falls. This plea was made by Dr. T. W. Williams, longtime Haskell civic leader and member of the WTCC board.

Other key men reporting at the Chamber board parley were Dr. Cadenhead, E. J. Stewart, Alvin Sherman, and Tom Barfield.

What a difference

Grandma may talk about the good old days, but a team of horses couldn't drag her back to an old kitchen. When you compare the two pictures, you see an important fact. All the marvelously improved conveniences you see are made possible by electricity - every one. Yes, electricity makes the difference, and what a difference it makes! It eliminates drudgery and creates leisure time by performing countless tasks in the home with the flip of a switch. It turns factory wheels, lights the home, and does all these things effortlessly and economically. It is one of two reasons why the use of electricity is increasing here in the Center of the Southwest. The other is that more people, more businesses, more industries are coming our way. Our expansion program is keyed to this increase, for we've convinced our service area faces GROWTH UNLIMITED.

Whopper Radish With "Big Head" Is Raised Here

A radish that resembled a warhead on a miniature rocket and measuring some 11 1/2 inches around the middle was displayed with justifiable pride in Haskell this week by a city employee who grew it in a garden beside his home three blocks from the Courthouse Square here.

Ben Roberts, the gardener of the bumper radish crop, said he obtained an abundant supply of fluted tipped "breakfast radishes" that kept growing to dinner size" from broadcasting one fifteen-cent package of seed.

The Haskell city employee also has beets as big as a baseball, roasting ears, and 13 different kinds of green peppers, among his garden goodies, grown just a few steps away from the family dining table.

Torrid Tigers Still Snarl At The Summit

Only three games were played last week, but one of those broke a long-standing record in Haskell Little League play. Thursday night saw the Lions pitted against the Rams in a make-up game. Early in the game the Rams scored two runs and the game proceeded at an orderly pace until the Lions tied the score in the bottom of the fifth inning. As is the rule, the tie is played off, unless time prohibits. No inning may be originated after 9:30 p. m. Inning followed inning with the score still tied 2-2.

Then in the top of the 10th inning the Rams managed to get across one run, thus going ahead 3-2. Ram pitcher, Riley Middleton, aided by outstanding fielding efforts, did not allow the Lions to score and the game ended 3-2. No previous Little League game in Haskell had ever gone 10 innings and it will be interesting to see how long the record stands.

Redskins Go On Bases War Path To Lead League

Haskell Redskins have won their first three games of the season in the Cotton Belt Sophomore Teen Age League comprised of 13 and 14 year old baseball budding stars.

In the first game with Haskell Warriors, the Redskins won 11-0. Wiseman was the winning pitcher.

In the second set-to, the Redskins journeyed to Knox City and won by a score of 13-11. They had a double play Schwartz unassisted to Felker. Felker was the winning pitcher.

The third game was played in Haskell against Rochester, and the Redskins won 12-5. Ratliff made a double play by catching a fly and doubling the runner off first base. Wright was the winning pitcher.

League Standings table with columns for Team, W, L, T, Pct. Rows include Redskins (3-0-0, 1.000), Knox City (2-2-0, .500), Warriors (1-1-1, .333), O'Brien (1-1-1, .333), Rochester (0-3-0, .000).

1963 LITTLE LEAGUE SCHEDULE MAJOR TEAMS table. Rows include June 13: Hawks vs. Lions, June 14: Tigers vs. Cubs, June 15: Lions vs. Rams. No inning shall start after 9:30 p. m.

MINOR LEAGUE table. Rows include June 13: Red-H vs. Crows, June 15: Cats vs. Frogs. No inning to start after 6:45 p. m. If game does not begin within 5 minutes after umpire calls "play ball", the team not fielding 9 players will forfeit game.

Wall St. Journal Award Is Latest Ben Brock Honor

BEN BROCK

A Haskell native, Ben Brock, head of the journalism department in Newman High School, Sweetwater, has been notified that he is one of three Texas recipients of a $500 Wall Street Journal award for excellence during the past year in journalistic endeavors, according to word received here recently.

The reputable Wall Street Journal makes these awards annually, and Brock's was for excellence in the field of journalism instruction. He is the son of Mrs. Bob Brock, 400 South Avenue N, here, who has seven children who are graduates of Haskell High School.

Earlier this month, Brock, who also is assistant principal at the Sweetwater high school, received a plaque presented to him as the outstanding sponsor of Texas high school journalism projects. It was given by the Texas Interscholastic League Press Association, Dr. Max R. Haddock, director of the press group, also awarded Brock a special citation for his contribution to journalism and a proficiency certificate.

The latter called attention to Brock's superior journalistic talent as exemplified by his sponsorship and direction of the 1963 high school newspaper, "The Pony Express." The paper was rated as the top publication in Division III, TTL.

Brock's students won the state team journalism plaque this year for the third time in the past four years in Class AAA competition. For the 14th consecutive year, the Pony Express this spring won the Class AAA award for distinguished merit in journalism. Brock has been at Sweetwater since 1949.

In March, Brock was awarded the Columbia University Scholastic Press Association Gold Key, which went to only 16 high school journalism advisors in the nation.

He graduated from Haskell High School in 1941, from Hardin-Simmons University in 1949, and obtained his Master's degree from the University of Texas in 1956. He is a veteran of three years' service in Army intelligence, being attached to the Signal Corps.

Rev. Ray Nobles Sounds Keynote At Baccalaureate

Thirty-seven seniors of Haskell High School, who received their diplomas May 27th at the 78th annual commencement exercises of the school here, were counseled on "making life's greatest choices—mission, mate, and Maker" in a baccalaureate address Sunday, May 26. The speaker was Rev. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, where the baccalaureate service was held.

Taking his text from Matthew the 20th Chapter, verse 20 through 29, Rev. Nobles told the graduates their efforts to achieve greatness would be measured, not by the words of Shakespeare, who said "some people are born great, others achieve greatness, still others have it thrust upon them"; nor by Emerson, who said, "He becomes great who confers the most benefits"; but by the words of Jesus Christ in immortal speech which fell like nuggets of gold when He said, "But whosoever will be great among you, let him be your servant."

A solemn procession of black capped and gowned seniors, 37 strong, paraded two-by-two in an academic line into and out of the First Baptist Church sanctuary here to the instrumental music provided by Seniors Pamela Baird and Joanie Frazier.

The church sanctuary was filled to overflowing by relatives and friends of the HHS Class of 1963 to hear Rev. Nobles declare to the graduates: "If you are aware of all that is involved and are personally willing to make the sacrifice involved, then you will become successful." It was then that Rev. Nobles told the seniors that his wish for them was success, not in the terms of the world for they are limited to greatness, love, esteem, and faith, nor in the words of Shakespeare or Emerson, but by the yardstick of Jesus Christ as set down in Matthew in terms of service.

Rogers Durham, minister of the Christian Church, and Rev. Douglas Finch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

To be explained at the session in Wichita Falls are the Ellender bill on cotton, the wheat and feed grain bill offered under bi-partisan sponsorship, and the Cooley bill due to come up before the House on June 17.

Stamford Production Credit Association, the president of which is C. G. Burson, of Haskell, ranked eighth in the nation and second among 36 similar associations in Texas in percentage of voting stockholders at its 1962 annual stockholders meeting, according to figures received here from the Farm Credit Administration in Washington, D. C.

The home-owned and operated production credit group, with offices operating in Haskell, Stamford, Munday, Anson, and Spur, had a total of 66 per cent of its voting stockholders present at the 1962 annual meeting. "We are pleased to have attained this high national rating," General Manager J. L. Hill, Jr., said. "But we surpassed this figure by nearly 6 percent at the 1963 meeting held recently and hope this in-

LETTERS... To The Editor

Moss Point, Miss. June 5, 1963

Dear Editor: It is requested that the following article be published in the newspaper in order that the gracious family who helped us there may be thanked for their wonderful Texas hospitality.

During our travel through your city on May 27th, we were forced to stop due to turbulent weather conditions. Our itinerary had taken us from Moss Point, Miss., by way of San Antonio and Carlsbad, New Mexico, in route to Wichita Falls, Texas. Not being accustomed to tornadoic conditions we were frightened and at a loss as to what to do. We stopped at the home of one of your families to inquire about weather conditions. This family graciously shared their storm cellar with us for approximately an hour, then accompanied us until we located a place of lodging for the night, as local authorities had informed us that hazardous weather conditions still existed ahead of us.

Due to our anxiety we failed to get the names of these lovely people, and have been unable to write them personally. We are in hopes that they will read this article and accept our heartfelt thanks for the kindness shown to us. We will be forever grateful to them.

Yours truly, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Lassiter, Elaine and Barry

Letter to the Editor: There will be an election held June 22 to ballot on whether or not to hire a professional trapper for Haskell County. The new Texaco lease takes over the station Friday, and will be joined in its operation by Richard Kirkendall, who has ranched near here for the past two years, Gilliam said. Courteous, efficient service under this new management will be the continuing policy of the new lessee, it was announced.

Farmers, Stockmen Asked to Attend Legislative Meet

Friday, at the Texas Electric Service Company auditorium, in Wichita Falls.

Dr. T. W. Williams, long-time WTCO director from Haskell, and Loyal Walker, manager of WTCO's agriculture and livestock department, are encouraging attendance by those who should know more about pending legislation so that informed opinion can be expressed to our delegation in Congress, they have announced here.

To be explained at the session in Wichita Falls are the Ellender bill on cotton, the wheat and feed grain bill offered under bi-partisan sponsorship, and the Cooley bill due to come up before the House on June 17.

Haskell Makes Bountiful Bottom Of Bread Basket

Haskell County could lay claim to being the bottom of the nation's bread basket this wheat season, based on reports of railroad officials about wheat shipments currently moving from this area.

Keith Summers, of Wichita Falls, division freight agent, is directing wheat shipment traffic in this territory.

F. L. Worth and Denver-Burlington-Wichita Valley railroad men attending the recent West Texas Chamber of Commerce annual meeting in Wichita Falls say that between 2,000 and 2,200 carloads of wheat have been contracted for movement and presently are being transported following harvest of crops in a geographic triangle which has Wichita Falls, Quanah and Haskell as its points.

This county, with 52,000 acres of wheat almost harvested, is having one of its best grain seasons in several years, Frank Martin, Haskell County agricultural agent, has reported.

Santa Rosa Roundup, Top Rodeo Spectacle, Slated for June 19-22

VERNON, Texas (Special)—Feature acts are the strawberries and cream of the nation's rodeos and the Santa Rosa Roundup secured the best on the outdoor circuit for the 1963 performances, June 19 through 22.

Two of the specialties, capitalizing on the skills of expertly trained animals, are new to this area. They include Jim Warvel's "The Arena Kachinas" combining prancing white horses, pretty girls and precision riding, and "Arthur Allen's Famous Border Collies," sheep herding act.

Without the aid of bridle or saddle, Miss Jan Warvel highlights the Kachinas act by riding a horse in a jump over an automobile. Three matched Roman standing and jumping teams, ridden by three colorfully dressed pretty girls, are also put through a series of numbers including a precision cross fire jump.

The Allen Collies work sheep in much the same way cutting horses do cattle. The Scotch sheep dogs possess a strange power over the animals, relayed through their eyes in the form of a mystic stare. No other breed of dog has this power.

Allen, an American-born Scotchman, picked up the custom from his Scottish-born father of using the border collies for herding sheep. In 1941 while working his dogs outside of a barn at a livestock show, he was approached with a request to exhibit his dogs' skill. He has not stopped taking bookings since that day in 1941. Rex, one of the Allen dogs, was the star of the Disney movie, "Border Collies in Action." Two other of the Allen dogs, Rock and Ricky, were stars of the movie, "The Arizona Sheep Dog." His border collies have won all official trials the past 15 years.

The Clark Brothers clown team, a longtime favorite of Santa Rosa crowds, also returned after an absence of two years. In addition to their Brahma bull fighting skills, Gene and Bobby Clark have a number of comedy skits and acts which are spiced in at intervals between the regulation rodeo events.

For the 16th consecutive year, Santa Rosa will be produced by Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., unopposed as the nation's foremost producer of rodeos. Returning with Lynn and Jake Beutler are announcer Cy Tailon and Ruby Nance and his Rodeo Band.

Miss Linda Loftis, the 1961 Miss Texas winner and third in the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City, captivated audiences on the final two performances by special request in 1963.

Since last summer she has made many personal singing appearances including Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show at Fort Worth, was selected "Actress of the Year" at Fort Worth's Casa Manana Theatre in the Round in her debut starring role of Sigmund Romberg's "Desert Song" and is mistress of ceremonies of a

FRAZIER FAMILY TRADITION SPANS SEVENTY YEARS AT HHS

When Mrs. Ola Frazier saw as a home years ago, Woody's is still as popular today as it was when Joanie had "baby sitters running out her ears" there 15 years ago.

Neither Joanie Frazier's musical talent, which is legion in this area, nor her yen for "old string saving," is surprising after one has met her sprightly octogenarian grandmother.

Joanie, a classic beauty type, who was Indian Band Queen and president of the Nine Teens, famed choral group here, and has accumulated many other honors throughout her 12 school years just completed here, thinks it "would have been fun" to be a girl at the same time as her grandmother here.

Representative Roy Arledge of Stamford, who introduced the measure, which the House passed unanimously on May 17, will present the document to Hines in a ceremony at the Rotary Club of Rule this month, the legislator notified his district recently.

Arledge's resolution in Hines' behalf says, in part, "The State of Texas is cognizant of the tremendous responsibility facing a driver who must daily transport precious children to and from school and views as notable public service the conscientious fulfillment of this task."

Hines has completed 23 public school years of school bus driving for a total of 299,000 miles without an accident. Recently, he was presented a certification of safety merit by officials of the Texas Department of Public Safety, the Texas Education Agency, and the Texas Motor Transportation Agency, joint sponsors of the award.

The interview was interrupted as Joanie received a graduation gift to add to the roomful already laid out in neat array. It was perfumed stationery, and "smells just like Mrs. Diggs' (Mrs. Kathleen Diggs, speech teacher at Haskell High School), Joanie said in opening the package. Joanie got a wheelbarrow load of presents recently when members of the First Presbyterian Church here gave her a "This Is Your Life, Joanie Frazier" graduation party.

In addition to having a grandmother who is one of the oldest living alumni of Haskell High School and one of the oldest settlers still in Haskell County, Joanie can claim to be a sort of "legacy" of Haskell High. The first two and a half years of her life were spent in a home at the rear of the high school "hang-out," known as "Woody's Place," which her father has operated for 17 years. Though the building ceased to be used not occasion stopping this practice. But the graduation the Frazier family will probably remember longest was that of Monday night, May 27, when Joanie, a stary-eyed senior, lived up to her "legacy" in the 75th HHS academic ine.

One Hospitalized And 1 Charged In Stabbing Case

James Alfred Bartley, Jr., about 37, of Haskell, was taken to Haskell County Hospital shortly before midnight on May 30, with knife wounds in chest, face, throat, jaw and arm suffered in what Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett described as "the climax to a drinking bout" here.

a drinking bout which took place in Hendrix's quarters at the apartment house here. Hendrix was brought before District Attorney Royce Adkins the day after the stabbing for the filing of formal charges of assault with intent to murder. He was remanded to jail in lieu of making bond. Bartley underwent an emergency operation of more than two hours when admitted to the hospital and remained in serious condition at the hospital here for a time. An attending physician said he will recover.

Chief Deputy Mercer said the weapon with which Bartley was knifed a number of times was a pocketknife "that looked like a maize header."

DAUGHTER OF DAVE PERSONS CARVING CLASSIC CIVIC NICHE

A Haskell native who has climbed to the pinnacle of civic success and who has been twice loftily honored recently in her present home city, New Orleans, was a brief visitor here over Mother's Day.

Mrs. C. F. Hunter, wife of the captain of an Eastern Airlines flagship, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dave H. Persons, longtime Haskell residents, spent two days with her parents in Haskell.

It was learned while she was here that in recent successive ceremonies the former Haskellite, known to home-towners as Ruby Sue, was presented the key to her home parish, Jefferson, and also received a plaque as "the outstanding citizen of Jefferson Parish," given by the Metairie Rotary Club.

Both awards were in recognition of her accomplishments as chairman of the League of Women Voters, of Jefferson Parish, New Orleans. Mrs. Hunter was first elected chairman in March, 1961, and was re-elected this March for another two year term.

The achievements for which Mrs. Hunter was solidly saluted included her preparation for publication and distribution of a comprehensive compendium, "Spotlight On Jefferson Parish," a treatise on the mechanics of a new form of government adopted by Jefferson Parish; and her indefatigable work to present the facts which resulted in the passage of a sewage bond proposal totaling $14,500,000. The bond issue carried in January, and in the campaign placed before the voters, Mrs. Hunter made and intensive study of pollution problems in Lake Pontchartrain, the large lake fringing New Orleans, working with cal leagues, recently organized and set into operation a League of Women Voters group in Hammond, La., one of the largest cities in Louisiana without the services of the league.

On May 7, she initiated a series of tours for newcomers and all other interested citizens of the Courthouse in Jefferson Parish to acquaint them with the mechanics of their county or parish government.

As the wife of an airlines captain, Mrs. Hunter has enjoyed frequent contact with interesting people he has met and the Hunters have entertained numerous foreign visitors in their New Orleans home. In this way, she also has "worked" herself into a type of roving goodwill ambassador for the Foreign Relations Association based in New Orleans.

The Hunters recently have entertained the Mayor of Capetown, South Africa, and guests from Buenos Aires and Japan. One of the guests was the chief of air traffic control at the airport in Bogota, Colombia.

Mrs. Hunter, before her marriage, was an air traffic controller. That's how she met her husband, Captain Hunter, from tower to plane. She gave him the air, and landing instructions. He gave her a ring, first on the telephone, and then one for the finger.

Many Untended Lots In Cemetery In Need of Care

While expressing appreciation this week to the many individuals and families who have paid in their Willow Cemetery Association dues and have helped support the perpetual care program there, officials of the Association issued an appeal to a host of others who own or who have friends and relatives not living here who own untended lots.

All lots of persons paying dues for cemetery care are in excellent condition, it was pointed out, but arrangements should be made to improve the great number of cemetery properties which have been left without attention for a long time.

The Cemetery Association will undertake the responsibility of cleaning off the untidy looking lots for any individuals who will so indicate their interest by contributing to the overall cemetery maintenance, it was explained.

How true it is: Over at Dick Bischofhausen's Barber Shop I saw these well meaning words on a plaque . . . "The Thing That Costs the Least and Does the Most is Just a Pleasant Smile," and "Just the Fear of Starting, Stops Most People."

Push! . . . If you can't push, pull . . . If you can't pull, get the h-l out of the way.

Rule's "Big Wheel." Jim Norman, who hangs around the Free Press office quite a bit, quipped recently when I asked him how everything was moving along over in the Rule Metropolis: "Things are really moving, and if the wind gets any stronger, things will sure enough start moving."

It has become very popular to talk about the importance of saving our American Way of Life.

As a matter of fact, the only way we can lose it is for the American people themselves to become negligent in exercising the rights and privileges they have under our form of government that the liberties they take for granted will go by default.

We have to work to continue the blessings left us by our forefathers. American parents must strive to help develop character in their children, which is necessary to combat enemies from within and without our borders. The essential qualifications for the perpetuation of our representative form of government is character, and that is developed on a foundation of religious teachings.

Helping develop character in children through some form of religious training, cannot be delegated by parents to someone else. A good time to re-awaken old fashioned ideas is to go to Sunday School with the family, and thereby help to counteract the teachings of aliens, godless ideologies.

This is the time of year when many persons, (with the exception of newspapermen), are taking, or either planning vacations.

Vacation trends haven't changed too much. For instance, fashionable Europeans of the 15th to 19th Centuries wore much jewelry, and took 20 kinds of money on their "grand tours" of Europe. At Marie Antoinette's vacations at the petite Trianon, guests wore fortunes in jewels . . . lavish supper tables rose mechanically from the floor.

REMINISCING: While I was Company Clerk for a National Guard Unit at Coleman, Texas in 1929, '30 and '31, I remember the time I received a promotion to Corporal. I was presented with the stripe and was told to have it sewn on the sleeve of my shirt. Well, I got it sewn on o.k., but whadda-u know, the dern thing was upside down. I definitely remember the evening of federal inspection at the old Coleman National Guard Armory. That evening when I strutted down to the Armory I was feeling very good about the promotion . . . but I soon had all the joy taken out of me when Captain Peter P. Salgado "chewed me out from top to bottom, and remarked: "That's just like a damn corporal."

Most of us remember that not long ago chain letters were all the "fad." Only a few months ago a "chain bond selling spree" hit Haskell. I have a new angle to chain letter writing, which may, or may not appeal to the tired businessman . . . such as:

"This chain was started in hope of bringing happiness to all tired men. Unlike most chains it doesn't require money. Simply send a copy of this letter to five male friends, then bundle up your wife and send her to the fellow whose name heads the list. You will receive 18,186 women, and you should be dandies. HAVE FAITH! DON'T BREAK THE CHAIN! One fellow broke it, and got his wife back."

Overheard while shopping at a local grocery store recently: Two housewives were discussing the last depression. "It came at such a bad time," said one. "Just when everybody was out of work."

If you want to live in the kind of a town, Like the kind of a town you like, You needn't slip your clothes in a grip, And go for a long, long hike.

You'll only find what you left behind, For there's nothing that's really new, It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town, It isn't the town, it's you.

Airstrip--

Blaze Levels Burdette Home On Henry Farm

An apparently started in the attic of a house on the Herman Henry farm nine miles northwest of Haskell destroyed the structure and left the John Burdette family of eight homeless about 3:30 Friday morning.

The rural unit of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department, manned by Supervisor Floyd Lusk, County Judge Jim Alvis, and six other Haskell volunteer firemen, made the 9 mile run and prevented spread of the blaze.

The flames were licking through the ceiling of his bedroom. Burdette reported, when he woke up and alerted other members of the family, including his wife, four children, Mrs. Burdette's mother and sister, early today. Some members of the family "just did get out with their nightclothes," Henry said.

A purse belonging to Mrs. Triaso, the mother of Mrs. Burdette, containing $100 in cash was lost in the fire. It was the second time in ten years the family has lost practically everything. A similar type blaze in the Burdette farm home in Johnson County in 1952 wiped out their possessions. The five-room house was a total loss. Judge Alvis made arrangements to temporarily house the family here. Henry is moving another house on to the farm for the Burdettes.

Thigpen--

(Continued from Page 1) Aspermont, astride Bob Big Enuf, whipped a round the course in 20.4 to place first. Paulette Allen, Haskell County's pride and joy, Miss Rodeo Texas, a Hardin-Simmons Rodeo Queen this year, was charged a second off the two-tenths of a second off the pace, riding Blue's Carbon, with a 20.6 finish for second. Two barrel racers tied for third and fourth places with a dead heat 21-second time clocked. They were Celia Martin of Franklin, Tenn., riding Jose Dart, owned by Bob Corley, and Paul Allen, of Route 2, Rule, riding his own horse, Sonny Boy Caesar.

Felix Mullino prevailed in the junior cutting horse contest navigating his Duke Dandy through the choppy turf to gain a 72-point first place trophy. Second was J. E. Jackson, Jr., riding Whimpy Lester, with 71 points. Rayburn Layton, of Vernon, on Poco Mumbo, owned by Elvie Polmer, was third at 70 points. Next came Bob Mayson, of Morton; Gamble and Russell of Merkel's horse, Poco Cris, of Merkel, ridden by an unnamed rider; and Bobbie Wedeking, of Stamford, astride Eddie Siete, for 4th, 5th and 6th places in that order.

Thigpen Trophy Taker

Joe Thigpen, of Haskell put his mount, Skipper Dog, through his paces to win the senior cutting horse class, garnering 75 points, just one more than the 74 secured by W. R. Potter, of Roscoe, on Scooter Hays. Manuel Davis, of Claremont, was third with 73 points and David Gutar, of Abilene, fourth.

Ralph Russell, wearing the colors of Gamble and Russell, the Merkel team, was the winner in junior reining with Poco Cris, and the entry of Billy Ray Morrow, of Rochester, Mr. Gold's Sonny, was second, just one point behind Russell's 70 total.

Abilene's David Gutar, with Tops Snip Bar, was the glory grabber in western pleasure riding competition. Second place honors went to E. O. Miller, of Lubbock, riding Hi Cheetaha. Stamford's Bobby Wedeking on Eddie Siete took third.

First place winners in the halter classes named were: horse colts foaled in '63, unnamed colt, Ken Spitzer, Old Glory; filly colts foaled in '63, Ariel Bar, Dr. W. S. Nacol, Jr., Throckmorton, stallions foaled in '62, Bubbling Badger, Bill V. Miller, of Throckmorton; mares foaled in '62, Bubbling Dawn, Bill V. Miller, Throckmorton; stallions foaled in '61, King Lucky Bar, J. W. Hastings, Windhorst; mares foaled in '61, Miss Lucky Bar, J. W. Hastings, Windhorst; stallions foaled in '60, Scooter Ed, J. E. Jackson, Jr., Duncan, Okla.; mares foaled in '60, Lubcheetaha, E. O. Miller, Lubbock; stallions foaled in '59 or before, Ray Mo, W. A. Reeder, Plainview; mares foaled in '59 or before, Minnie Jiggs, Glenn Cooper, Seymour; mare and '63 foal, Deftly and colt unnamed, John Deatherage, Anson; geldings foaled in '61 or later, Tops Snips Star, David Gutar, Abilene; geldings foaled in '59 and '60, Duke Dandy, Felix Mullino, Rochester; geldings foaled in '58 or before, Bob Big Enuf, Susan Martin, Aspermont.

Three Haskell exhibitors, Mrs. Sydney Alexander, Royce Adkins, and R. A. Harris, also earned place ribbons in the classes entered. Mrs. Alexander's Johnson Bates was second in the mares foaled in '61 class. Adkins' Wolfe's Sue was fourth in mares foaled in '60; and Harris' Western Beauty was fourth in the mares foaled in '59 or before.

Gene Hunter, president of Haskell Sheriff's posse, and a 19-man working committee, supervised by Superintendent Mullino, ran the day-long spectacle. Buster Shelton assisted Judge Gene George as ringmaster, and Fred Gilliam, secretary, executed the book work. Others on the committee were Jerry V. Clare, Dr. T. W. Williams, C. O. Holt, R. A. Harris, Johnny Spitzer and Otto Baumhach.

Lions Travel To Italy At Tuesday Session

Wallace Cox Jr., was in charge of the program at the Tuesday noon-day luncheon meeting and showed some very educational, interesting and colorful slides on guided tours of Italy. Beautiful scenes of Rome and Venice, along with narrations, added emphasis to the tour of Italy.

Guests noted at Tuesday's meeting were, Doyle Eye, of Stamford, Jim Sampson, new White's Auto Store owner, Rev. Ellis Todd, pastor of the local First Methodist Church, Clar Ashmore of Villisca, Iowa, and John Wallace and Sarah Cox.

Ladies' Night

Wallace Cox Jr., who will leave within the next few days to attend the International Convention of Lions, in Miami, Florida, announced that program plans had been completed for Ladies' Night slated on Tuesday, June 25, 7:30 o'clock, Highway Drive-In.

Mesdames Royce Adkins, Harold Spain and William Kemp are in charge of decorations for the Ladies' Night activities.

Bud Pogue, George Fouts and Frank Scott, M. D., culinary committee, will make menu arrangements.

Jack McAdoo and Raja Hansen were appointed to call every Lion on the date of the Ladies' Night program, as a last minute reminder of the big event.

Mrs. Burkett Is In Conference At School Summit

Mrs. Luther Burkett, instructional supervisor in the Haskell and Rochester school systems, was in College Station, Monday through Wednesday to participate in the 1963 conference of county school superintendents, school administrators, and other instructional supervisors from throughout Texas.

The meeting, held at the Memorial Student Center at Texas A&M College, stressed "Strengthening Education Through Leadership." On the program were Paul V. Fety, chairman of the department of educational and administrative services, University of New Mexico; Natt E. Burbank, of Boulder, Colorado, president of the American Association of School Administrators, A. T. Dyal, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Bay City, and Waggoner Carr, Attorney General of Texas.

Mrs. Burkett took part Tuesday in a panel entitled, "Professional Growth for the Instructional Supervisor."

Carol Bledsoe Gets High Award And DDS Degree

Carol D. Bledsoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Bledsoe, of Haskell, received the University of Oregon Dental School Alumni Association Award at the annual Awards Assembly at the Portland school on June 4, according to word received here.

Bledsoe is one of 85 seniors who will receive DDS degrees Thursday at the University of Oregon Dental School.

The honor bestowed upon the Haskell student is given a graduating senior "for outstanding growth and development in human relationships, desirable professional attributes and scholastic achievements."

The Haskell native also won the Delta Sigma Delta, national dental fraternity, award for the senior who has done the most for his fraternity.

He was graduated from Haskell High School in 1942 and attended the University of Alaska one year and Portland State College two years before enrolling in the dental school. His wife, Dale, is a speech therapist for high school students. The couple has two children, Mark 11, and David 6.

Herman Cupp New Jaycee Director Replacing Baum

Herman Cupp, who recently became associated with Holden's Funeral Home in Haskell, has been named a director in the Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The new director succeeds Jon Eaton, a very active religious and civic leader in Haskell for the past two years who has sold his White's Auto Store here to return to the funeral directing service for which he was trained.

At the recent Jaycee board meeting at which Cupp was named a director, he and State Highway Patrolman Jesse Priest, headquartered here, were named co-chairmen of a committee to work up personnel and planning for staging a Jaycee carnival in Haskell later this summer.

The Jaycees are currently staging a contest among Jaycee wives to name the no-name publication being distributed to the membership, President Bud Lane said.

Lane said the Jaycees had recorded a vote of thanks to Glen Sammons and Debbie Wiseman, who was the recent Rice Springs Roundup queen here, for their work in operating concessions at the seventh annual Haskell Horse Show here last Friday.

12 Recent HHS Grads Already College 'Fish'

At least twelve members of Haskell High School's 1963 Class are not waiting until fall to pursue a college education. That many have enrolled in the summer schools of seven different colleges of the state to obtain credits toward a degree, and this number constitutes almost a third of the graduating class of 37.

Going to the University of Texas in Austin are, Bobby Herren, Phill Bowers, Nancy Britte, Tom Bill Holden, David Gannaway, and Nancy Lawson. Sandra Letz is attending Abilene Christian College, Abilene. Bobbie Zakokar is enrolled in the summer session at Hardin-Simmons University, of Abilene.

Lowell Ann Wallace is a student at Midwestern University, Wichita Falls. Lesley Wooten has registered at North Texas State University, Denton. Merilan Sue Crawford is taking courses at Commercial College in Abilene, and Nancy Hodje has gone to Lubbock to go to school at Texas Tech.

Pretty, Perky P-K Drilletes Sashay Square

Living up to the motto of the enterprising event they were heralding, the Possum Kingdom Roundup Rodeo, to be staged in Graham Wednesday through Saturday, the P-K Drilletes, chartered in the State of Texas as the "only all-girl riding club," precisely paced into Haskell Monday, "high, wide, and wild."

Just over a year old as an organization, the P-K Drilletes have brought Graham a lot of glory with 22 "in the money" finishes in 35 rodeo appearances to date, including a coveted first place at the 1963 Fort Worth Fat Stock Show in riding club competition.

Caroline and Sandra Calhoun, granddaughters of well-known Haskell citizens, the H. H. Coffields, were in the vanguard of the P-K Drillette door-to-door invitation team as they systematically covered Haskell to invite this area's citizenship to "let's rodeo" in Graham. Two prominent rodeo contractors, Adrian Parker, of St. Jo, and M. R. Rodeo Company, of Tahoka, are staging the Graham spectacle and will have 246 head of top stock between them to take care of an expected 400 cowboys.

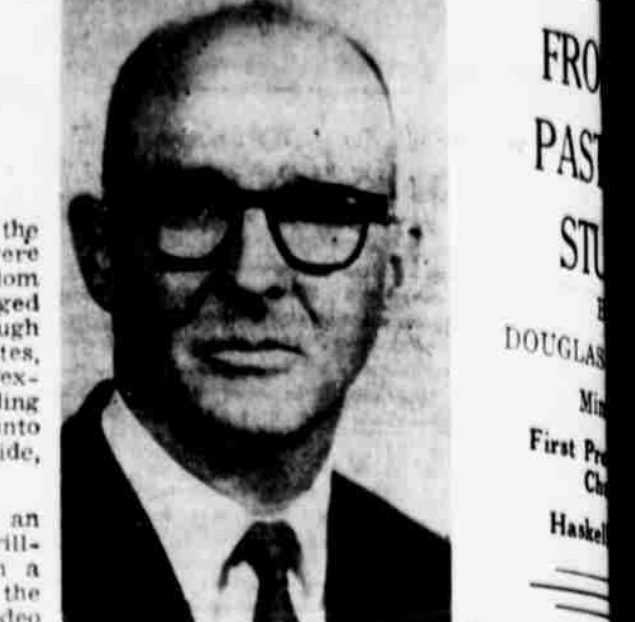

The P-K Drilletes, who covered Monday, Newcastle, Megargel, Westover, Seymour, and Throckmorton Tuesday as part of their 24-town schedule in trumpeting the rodeo, perform themselves in competition with their unique palomino, sorrel, paint, and bay horse units, at 5 p. m. parades in downtown Graham on Wednesday and Friday.

The Drilletes also are scheduled to take part in the Boomtown Rodeo in Burkburnett and the Santa Rosa Roundup in Vernon upcoming soon.

A church, or a minister of the Gospel, is free, of course, to advertise his services in any manner he might see fit. Usually when advertising lacks the dignity that the Christian Church deserves, however, you can be certain that the service of that particular church lacks divinity, too. The time is fast arriving in our society where in people are no longer taken in by high pressure preaching and the same type of advertising. You simply do not sell salvation like you would hot dogs.

The destruction of the dignity of the church in the interest of "rooting out" all competition and building up our own little band of followers is becoming an element in "American churchism" that is recognized as archaic . . . and not in keeping with true Christianity.

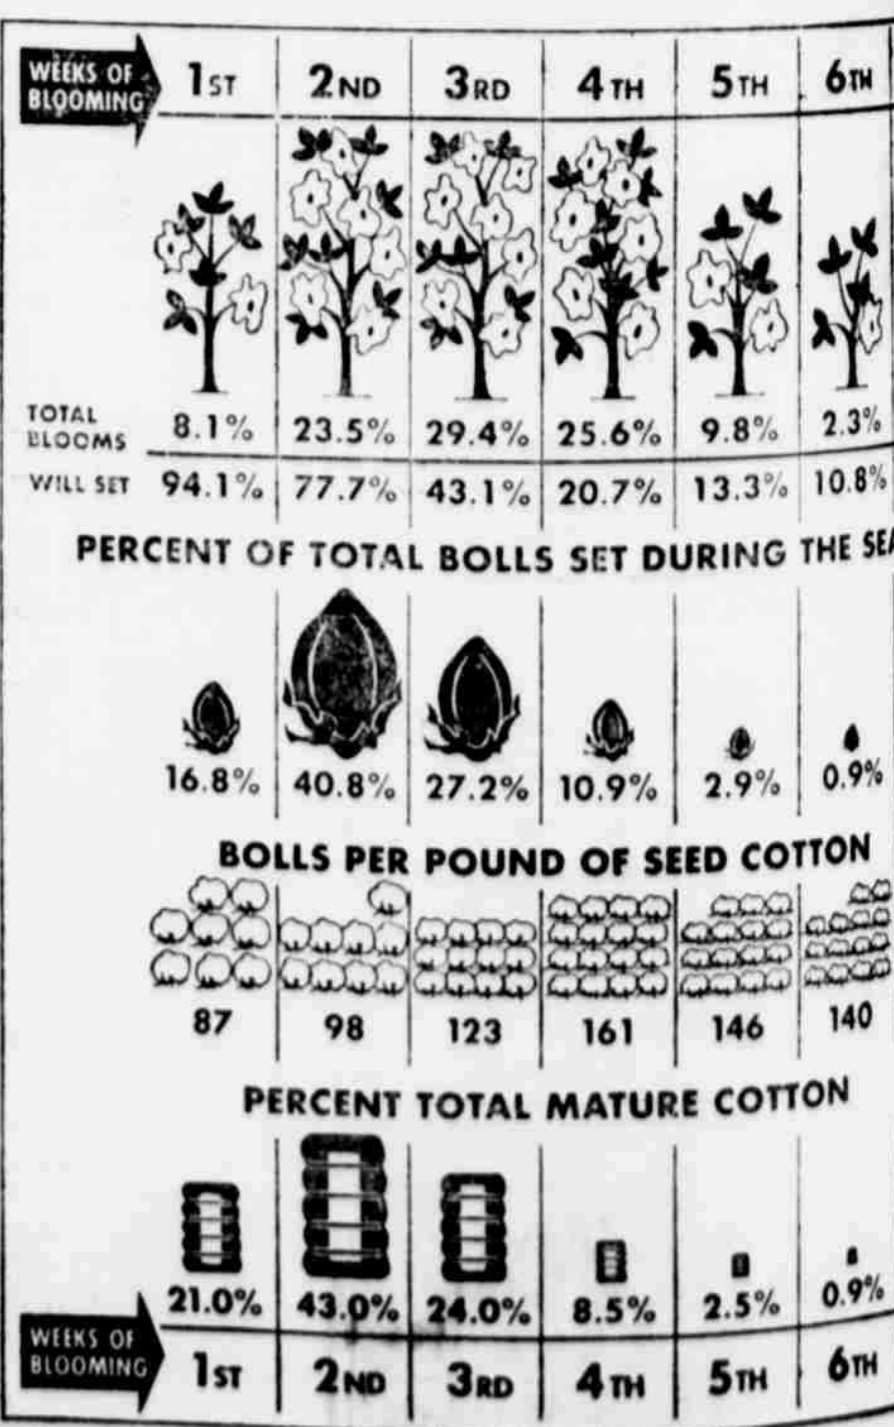

Of course, we live in a free society . . . and freedom of religion is one of our most cherished freedoms. But I would appeal to the developing society of West Texas to let those type "high pressure" churches become just exactly what they deserve to be . . . a small, isolated sect group that appeal to a certain type of person who has neither the time, the ability, nor the inclination to understand his own relationship to God . . . but would rather revel in a carnival atmosphere where worship is based on a free-wheeling, artificially created emotional atmosphere that has no foundation in fact, fiction or Bible. Such churches have a right to existence . . . but I question their right to lead people to believe that this is all that Christianity is. It is not; and the proper worship of God in a church service must mean more than this to the majority of people . . . or the Christian Church's work will be hindered . . . and it will be hindered by large masses of people who make a lot of noise, and dupe on-lookers into thinking that this is what the Christian Church is.

I am encouraged though, that one who experienced a worship in a mosque in the never quite as with the free . . . Young people, beginning to greater numbers . . . or worship of God . . . finer emotions . . . culminate in dependence.

NEW CHART RELEASED

Study Of Fruiting Habit Of Cotton Plant Cited As Valuable Aid To Cotton Farmer

A new, easy-to-understand chart showing the fruiting habits of the typical cotton plant has been released in this area. The chart is a simplified form of a continuing study by leading cotton research men, on fruiting of the typical cotton plant, under average weather conditions, if unhampered by insects. The chart is divided into seven weeks of cotton blooming and demonstrates that the greatest volume of mature cotton results from the early blooms. More than half of the total bolls and 64% of mature cotton results from the first two weeks' blooms. And 88% of the total mature cotton is picked from the blooms of the first three weeks. For example, in the first week only 8% of the blooms occur, but they develop into 21% of the mature cotton. By contrast, the fifth week has 9% of the total blooms, which results in less than 3% of the total cotton.

This fruiting pattern clearly demonstrates the importance of keeping insect infestations to a minimum. It is essential that squares be protected, and cotton experts agree, that a systematic planned program using Hi-Yield ACTIVATED KILLZALL (Toxaphene, DDT, Methyl Parathion) has demonstrated its effectiveness in protecting these squares from insect destruction, and in allowing the plant to fruit normally.

Cotton farmers who have not been satisfied with their lint average are invited to try this superior quality cotton insecticide. Hi-Yield ACTIVATED KILLZALL is made with a NEW process which greatly increases the killing power.
