SNOOTER KNOWS

A LITTLE ABOUT EVERYTHING
AND NOT MUCH ABOUT ANYTHING

THE SCURRY COUNTY TIME-REPORTER, in its last week reported that its job department printed the November election ballots for 13 West Texas counties yet it could not get the printing of the ballots for its county.

I would judge the Scurry county Times' printing plant, together with its goodwill and subscription, stands at a value of twenty-five or thirty thousand dollars. Just the number of employees required to handle the news and job departments, of course, we don't know, but again we judge it requires some 8 or 10. Since the war has made printers "scarce as hen's teeth" Willard Jones, the Times editor and publisher, has been picking up bright high school girls and learning them to be linotype operators, society and news reporters, helpers in other departments of the mechanical end. Whether or not these young ladies continue to follow this line of work after the war, remains to be seen, but they will have at least learned a good trade, and the experience they had in the Times office will be of great value to them as a printing office is an ideal school within itself. This column commends Willard Jones in this undertaking. It requires spending considerable time of both the force in the front and back office, as well as much patience, to teach "raw recruits" in as rather complicated institution as a printing office. Then, too, the young ladies are learning the printing trade to be commended. They have the courage to walk right into a "cold blooded" looking institution as a printing office with funny looking machinery stuck here and there, staring them in the face like they would jump at them. Who knows but some of Willard's girl students will turn out to be one of the country's leading authors, or expert mechanic?

But I have strayed from what I started out to say. The big element of the Times' newspaper and job plant, it's unlimited to the people of Snyder and Scurry County, in keeping the abreast of all the communal happenings, as well as its united support of all local and county affairs, paying to its employees their salaries to be spent with local merchants, and the payment of its localized obligations, such as high city, county, and school taxes, it would seem those in authority would have asked no questions but placed the order for printing to their home newspaper, if only to show appreciation of what valiant the Times editor is doing for his community. Giving the news the ballot printing to help editor keep his revenue receipts up to the point that would save the paper's present and future existence.

SIDIO COUNTY, Marfa, its county seat, is the first county of 254 counties in Texas to be its United War Chest quota of $6,146, and is to be presented two large silk flags, Old and the Lone Star, sponsored jointly by Governor Stevenson and Judge Ben H. Powell, war chest president. A item revealed that among leaders of the county war campaign to put President county to raise its quota at R. W. Jacobs, publicity man, and editor-publisher of the Great Bend Sentinel, published at Marfa, was prominently mentioned. Jacob's newspaper speaks for itself as a booster of a fine news-gathering and liberally supported advertisements from the business men. But outside of in some hard licks in support of the war chest campaign, Jacobs had to place some stellar blows through personal contact.

There are always a few individuals that voluntarily subscribe to war relief agencies at the start of the campaign, but the large majority of prospective contributors wait until they are personally contacted. This condition does not exist because one does not intend to contribute but because "I'll just wait until someone comes around—I'm just not at the point now I can spare the time to get off and go sign my name on the list." Well, brother, it's a good thing you're not out on the battle front waiting just the right time to get behind a stump—you'd probably get your head shot off.

Here is what we may experience right here at home—it's sincerely hoped not—but anyway it 'tis:

"I bragged about the money and work I gave to the war, until I met a man who gave a leg."

That remark by a recent visitor to a war chest office is an editorial itself. The truth is that all we can give is very little when compared with the sacrifices made by the men on the battlefronts. Our money... our time... is as nothing when other men are giving their lives.

We can't fight beside our boys "over there". We can't face dangers with them, suffer for them, even be with them when death draws near. We can't lift from their shoulders the burden they carry so bravely. No we can't do any of those things for them, but we can do SOMETHING. We can give our time, our efforts, and our money to the greatest of all war programs... to the annual campaign of the National War Fund

THE term, "mud-slinging" is with us again and is being mouthed daily in criticism of candidate for office. Too often if a speech doesn't please—or maybe strikes home—it is classed as "just mud-slinging." What is "mud-slinging?" Webster fails to define it. Literally, it is the hurling of mud, dirt, and filth that bespatters the recipient. Politically, it is the hurling of charges that are untrue, misleading, or unfair, and which besmirch an opposing candidate. Before crying "mud-slinging," one should weigh what has been said. Is it true? Is it taking unfair advantage? If the answers are "yes" and "no", then it can hardly be called "mud-slinging"

Think before using this over-worked term. Try to distinguish it from honest and needed statements of fact. The word is too often used as is much profanity—either thoughtlessly or for lack of an adequate vocabulary.

MEETING SATURDAY MORNING STARTED STANTON STUDY CLUB ON NEW YEAR

The Stanton Study Club, organized in 1929 and federated in 1930 and the only federated club in Stanton, a member of the 8th District, held their re-assembly meeting Saturday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ben Carpenter.

This was president's day and took the form of a coffee. The dining table laid in lace was placed at the end of the living room with windows as background. Centering the table was a floral arrangement of red verbenas and the napkins carried out the same color. Mrs. Phil Berry presided at the coffee table with Mrs. Ira Williams and Mrs. Edmond Tom assisting in serving the guests with doughnuts and coffee.

Mrs. John F. Priddy, gave her message to the club after which she called on Mrs. Ben Carpenter, vice-president, to read the Constitution and By-laws of the club.

Mrs. Priddy introduced her sister, Mrs. J. Howard Hodge of Midland, president of the 8th District, who brought a message on the accomplishments of the clubs of last year and outlined some of the objectives for this year. One very important objective is the carrying on of the recruiting of Student Nurses, also, the plan to assist in buying a ship for the U. S. Navy.

Mrs. Hodge has just returned from a tour with Mrs. Ethel Foster of Sterling City, state president of federated clubs, of the clubs in the Big Bend district, in which they found more enthusiasm than ever, some of the clubs meeting at night so they could get in all the required war work.

The study for the Stanton Study Club this year, is "A Changing World" with a book review for each alternate meeting.

Members present were: Mrs. Phil Berry, Mrs. O. B. Bryan, Mrs. Earl Burns, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Mrs. John F. Priddy, Mrs. B. F. Smith, Mrs. Edmund Tom, Mrs. Ira Williams; guests were: Mrs. James Patterson, Mrs. Jim Tom, Mrs. R. B. Whittaker, Mrs. F. A. Decker, and Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, of Midland, guest speaker.

The Carpenter living room looked very lovely with bowls and vases of red and white roses and softly lighted with tall white tapers.

The first regular meeting of the club will be October 26th with Mrs. Edmund Tom, hostess. Mrs. J. E. Kelly will review, "India's Problems Can Be Solved," by DeWitt McKenzie, with Mrs. James Jones giving a sketch of the author.

JONES BUYS BACK GROCERY & MARKET

The Jack Jones Grocery and Market that was sold to Gilbert Madison about three months ago was bought back by Jack Jones, the original owner, this week, Mr. Jones taking charge Monday morning. Alton Turner who was as employee of the Jones Grocery seven years up to the time it was sold to Madison, is associated with Mr. Jones in the operation of the business.

Mr. Madison found his outside interests needed his personal attention, and to take care of it, was his reason for selling.

Mr. Jones established this store nine years ago and operated it continuously up to the time he disposed of it. He watched it grow from the "dry goods box" size to its present position—the largest and most complete grocery and meat market in the county.

REPORTER 40 YEARS OLD

No time to detail the past, nor the future progress of The Reporter, only to say that the Reporter has reached its 40th birthday today. Of course, it has advanced quite some peace in those years, upped from a Washington hand press and all type set by hand to a Babcock cylinder newspaper press and Model 14 linotype machine. The Reporter hopes to be here 40 years from now whether its present editor does or not.

We wish to thank all sincerely for the fine support in the past and hope to merit in such a way you will continue the support in the future.

Chaplain McPherson Here

Chaplain Fred McPherson, who has been a chaplain in the U. S. Army the past two years, most of the time serving in the Pacific, was here this week visiting his wife and children. He is a patient at the hospital at McKinney for a rest period. When he lived in Stanton before the war it was Rev. Fred McPherson, pastor of the First Baptist church. We told Chaplain McPherson when he came into the office and extended his hand to shake, if it was the itch he had we'd have to refuse—we had that one time.

Pfc. Windell Thomason, of the U. S. Marine Corps, now hospitalized at Norman, Okla., for injury to a leg, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Thomason of Stanton. Before leaving for the States, Pfc. Thomason, wrote a letter to his sister, Miss Mildred Wright here. The letter was dated September 10, 1944, The New Herbreeds, and follows:

"I am getting along fine, never felt better. I am at a Naval hospital for a rest period.

"I will tell you some of the places I have been since I have been over here and things I have done. I left the States soon after my furlough and was at sea about three weeks before landing in New Calodinia. I stayed here about a month for training. From there I went to Guadalcanal and Tulogia. About a month later I was in the thickest of the battle on Bouganville. I was also on Purota Island which was bombed for 21 days without much rest. A story appeared in the Leatherneck Magazine entitled "Life On A Bull's Eye." The Marines left Bouganville in June and we went back to Guadalcanal. From there I was sent to the New Heberdees for a rest period. I was on Guadalcanal when you wrote me the American Legion sponsored the "Guadalcanal Diary."

FRENCH PEOPLE SWELL TO THEM

Corp. Teddie D. Barnhill, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Barnhill of Stanton, writes the Reporter from "Somewhere in France" to change the APO number on the address of his paper, and that he has been enjoying reading the Reporter, of which he had received two copies on October 3. He liked especially to read the "Our Soldier Boys' column," "because it is the only way I have of knowing where some of them are."

"The French people have been swell to us. They keep us supplied nearly all the time with fresh eggs, tomatoes, and fruits of all kinds.

"So far I have kept my half-track in pretty safe places with the exception of one time I got in front of a German machine gun and they hit it with 10 shots, but thanks to the good armor plate they didn't do any damage.

HOWARD-MARTIN SOIL CONSERVATION

Edmund Tom, farming near Stanton, and managing the Tom Brothers Ranch, is filling the trench silos on the ranch south-east of town. Some of his methods are unique and time-saving. Two trucks are employed, one driving underneath the elevator spout of the one-row portable ensilage cutter while the other is being unloaded by the tractor at the silo. This unloading is a one minute job, simply by hooking the tractor cable to the chicken wire frame in the bed of the truck and giving it a pull.

Between loads the tractor at the silo is used to pack the silage so the trucks can run over it without getting stuck.

Atlas sorgo is going into the silo this week. It seemed to stand drouth better than red top cane, however, Edmund thought in good years the red top would produce most.

Austrian winter peas and Harry Vetch are being tried by spot plantings in Martin County. Trials a few years ago were not too successful, partly because of rabbit damage. The plantings this year in 10'x10' frames of poultry wire that should exclude rabbits. It is hoped that some types or varieties of legumes can be adapted to this particular area.

H. A. Rumfield, farmer in the Courtney community, has a new set of whirlwind built terraces. They've been planted to barley and should have some cover on them by time the winter blowing season starts. Half of the system was ready in time to catch the last rain, October 2.

Henry McNew, farming 18 miles north of town, has worked up a conservation plan with the district. He plans to divert some of the run-off water from his draw onto the field where the slope is gentle and the soil is sandy loam. This system will be similar to the one operating on the F. W. and A. F. Grothe farms near Ackerly.

Mrs. Ida Mae Bristow, 1 1/2 miles west of town has applied for an observation plan. The late Dr. Bristow had the farm terraced and contoured five years ago. However, the terraces were

SHOW BUSINESS

Starring EDDIE CANTOR, GEORGE MURPHY, KELLY, CONSTANCE MOORE. Also, Latset Me of the Day. Cartoon.

EVERY time you turn on an electric light becomes a glowing testimonial to the genius of Thomas A. Edison. Sixty-five years ago Saturday, on October 21, 1879, Edison successfully completed the long series of experiments he'd started many months before to make a practical light source.

You know the rest. The brain of this one plus determination, perseverance and patience created a small glass bulb that has had a vast influence over the living and working habits of people throughout the world.

Today, electric light is a commonplace convenience. On the farm and in the cities, in homes, offices, stores and factories; in one-room shacks and in mansions this man-made light source that pushes back the mantle of darkness at the flip of a switch has helped bring about many of the fine things of our modern civilization.

Edison not only invented the first practical incandescent lamp. He also established the first commercial electric generating plant to extend the benefits of his revolutionary invention. The electric industry, today supplying the greatest amounts of power in history as a result of war needs, pays tribute to Edison's lamp and his pioneer electric generating plant.

Well, Folks

HERE I'M BACK at the old stand after an absence of some three months, trading, trafficking around on the outside. Mr Madison concluded he had very pressing business on the outside of the store that demanded his personal attention, and he made me a banter to sell back. I accepted, so Monday morning of this week I took charge of the original Jack Jones Grocery and Market. I have associated with me in the operation of the store Alton Turner an old employee of the store, who sold his grocery store in Midland, and together, with necessary clerks, we will be on hand at all times, a fresh and as complete stock of groceries and meats, as we can buy, and give the same prompt and courteous treatment the store gave during the 14 years that I owned and operated it. I extend a cordial welcome to all to make this store their trading center for groceries and meats.
