State Legion Commander Addresses 3 Assemblies In Haskell Recently

Lewis Emerich of Houston, state commander of the American Legion, Thursday night gave strong support to the government's firm stand in Vietnam.

"The American Legion is doing everything possible to see that we never renege one step in protecting the freedom of those who desire it," he said.

Emerich spoke at the American Legion Hall on the 45th anniversary of the post here, founded about a year after the national organization was created in a theater in Paris, France, March 15, 1919.

Seventeen past commanders of the local post, including the first, John P. Payne, were present. The observance was attended by 225 persons. Porter Oakes, present post commander, introduced Payne, who opened the formal meeting with the preamble, signifying the Legion's aims and objectives.

Post Adjutant Jim Sampson presented Oakes with a pen and pencil set as a token of the local post's esteem for his services as commander. Oakes, editor of the Haskell Free Press for the past 22 years, has moved to Mineral Wells to become managing editor of the Index, daily newspaper there.

Emerich spoke to about 35 at a noon Rotary luncheon and 300 junior high and high school students in a joint assembly at the school Thursday afternoon.

"A nation is not judged by the heroes it honors but by the heroes it remembers," Emerich said in outlining the Legion's mission to make Americans more conscious of their heritage.

"Our Legion way of looking at things is to fight communism, not with demonstrations, but by reminding our youth of our background and experience," he said.

He reminded that "this country was born in revolution to obtain the basic freedoms which the Legion works to preserve today."

Emerich enumerated the basic missions of the Legion, stressing youth work in which Boys State "teaches our youth that politics is not a dirty name and is good for our country."

"We don't teach government," he said. "That job is being done splendidly in the schools, but politics is an American way of life."

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR ISSUES STATEMENT ON RURAL LABOR

A statement setting out the policy on certifying domestic workers available for agricultural jobs offered alien immigrants under provisions of section 212(a) (14) of the Immigration and Nationality Act, has been issued by Tracy C. Murrell, of Dallas, regional administrator of the U. S. Department of Labor, according to Bill Estep, manager of the Haskell Office, Texas Employment Commission.

Mr. Murrell declares: "The Secretary of Labor on Dec. 19, 1964, established new adverse effect rates, which effective April 1, 1965, provide a minimum wage rate for unskilled agricultural labor of $1.15 per hour or the equivalent at piece rate, if such a method of payment is used.

"Because of the change in adverse effect rates announced by the Secretary of Labor on Dec. 19, 1964, it has become necessary to adjust the wage rates set out in my policy statement of March 18, 1964, to conform to the Secretary's regulations.

Accordingly, effective April 1, 1965, the following policy will be in effect:

This is to advise agricultural employers seeking an endorsement of Form ES-320 that this office will certify adverse effect in accordance with Section 212 (a) (14) of the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, as amended, when the job offer (Form ES-320) shows a wage rate less than the following:

(a) For Farm Hands, General—Not less than $1.25 per hour for any kind of general year-round farm work. The job offer must guarantee the worker $50.00 per week. All hours in excess of 40 hours will be paid at the $1.25 rate. Housing, utilities and transportation to and from the worker's house to the field to be furnished free by employer. Employer must carry on-the-job insurance at no cost to the worker.

(b) For Ranch Hands—Not less than $2.07 per month plus room and board. All hours worked in excess of 208 hours during a calendar month shall be overtime and the worker shall be paid $1.25 per hour for all hours in excess of 208. The employer must carry on-the-job insurance at no cost to the worker. If the alien the employer is sponsoring is going to bring in his family, the employer need not furnish board. If he does not, however, he will offer to furnish housing and utilities and pay the worker $260.00 per month (includes $53 cash in lieu of board) for 208 hours during a calendar month.

We wish to make it clear that this action in no way establishes wage rates for domestic agricultural workers. The employer can, as in the past, employ domestic workers at any rate agreeable to the domestic

Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Deadline Is Near

There will be no extension of the Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection deadline of April 15, 1965, Captain Alan Johnson of the Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, Texas Department of Public Safety, for this area, has announced.

"Only two million of the five and a quarter million registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves over three million vehicles to be inspected in about five weeks," said Captain Johnson. Many thousands of vehicle owners can expect to wait in long lines in order to get their vehicles inspected by the April 15 deadline.

It is almost apparent now that many vehicle owners have waited too long for the inspection stations to safety inspect their vehicles by April 15. "Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15th without a valid 1965 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," stated the Captain. "The purpose of the motor vehicle inspection program is to discover any maladjustment which might become a link in a cycle of events leading to an accident, and by removing the link, prevent the accident."

Naturally, the tire for worriers has a guarantee for worriers.

We've put it in writing, which is where worriers like to see things.

This guarantee says that if the Royal Master* fails for any reason (except abuse or repairable puncture) we'll give you a new one, free, so long as there's half the tread left.

Suppose you've worn away more than half the tread?

Then you begin paying some money, based on tread wear and the current suggested exchange price (the price any time in the future you bring the tire in).

This pro-rata adjustment is better than you'll find among all leading makes.

It works out so that even if your tread's about 85% worn away, all you'd pay is 60% towards a new Royal Master.

Now what are you worrying about?

Do you worry about flats? The Royal Master's new inner lining wraps itself around a nail for dear life. You can spot and fix the slow leak at your convenience.

Do you worry about skids? When you have to stop short or take a cut, slick curve, the Royal Master's new tread has hundreds of gripping edges which rub the road dry under you.

In 1958-1963 Business Census—

County's Retail Trade Up 10% In Five Years

Haskell County's 175 retail establishments had $11.9 million in sales in 1963, an increase of 10 per cent from 1958, the U. S. Bureau of the Census has just reported after tabulating data gathered from all firms in the 1963 census of business. The last previous business census conducted by the Census Bureau, an agency of the U. S. Department of Commerce, was in 1958.

The Census Bureau scored a "first" in releasing this information, by compiling it for Haskell and other counties throughout the nation by electronic computer, then typing it electrically into news releases at eye-blinking speed of 10 lines per second.

Retail trade in the county meant jobs, exclusive of proprietors, for 339 men and women and a yearly payroll of $938,000. In volume of business, the county's food stores had sales of $2.8 million, a decrease of 8 per cent from 1958. In other retail business, the county's eating and drinking places had sales of $324,000, and gasoline service stations had sales of $1.3 million.

For the state as a whole, the Census Bureau reported 96,406 retail establishments with sales of $127,154 million, up 18 per cent from 1958.

Census reports to be issued in the next few months will give state and county figures on wholesale and service trades, manufacturing and mineral industries.

ASC HONOR ROLL

Sammy D. Larned of Haskell was listed among the honor roll students at Abilene Christian College for the Fall Semester.

ANOTHER CALF VICTIM—

Haskell Rascal, That 'Repeater,' Does It Again

Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett, two months deep into his second 4-year term, has established a reputation for "gettin' his man." But that Haskell Rascal . . .

No mere man, but an elusive quadruped, an "habitual criminal," known as the Haskell County Varmint, or "Thang," was the object of a Garrett stalking party again recently, after claiming another victim, a 300-pound calf on the Vernon Lovvern place, 9 miles southwest of Haskell in the Bitter Lake area.

Lovvern, of Stamford, found the remains, and they were scant, of his hefty bovine. He notified Haskell and Jones

County officers who sped to the scene.

Sheriff Garrett said, "There's no doubt but that it's the Varmint, our habitual criminal, again. All who were there agreed neither coyote, nor wild dog, nor bobcat could do that to so big a calf."

In addition to Garrett, Jones County Sheriff Dave Reeves, Haskell Deputy Sheriff W. L. Henry, Stamford Police Chief B. Q. Cooper, and Area Liquor Control Board Agent Bill McNelly observed the badly mauled and half eaten carcass of the 300-pound calf. The flanks, underparts, and flesh around the ribs were eaten away. Garrett said the kill was "fresh," occurring Sunday, or perhaps Saturday.

The Haskell Rascal, believed to be a large mountain lion, has attacked larger animals in its last two known kills. Another big calf was killed and dragged to a secluded spot on the Elbert (Chief) Mapes place, 11 miles northeast of Haskell in mid-January. A large mountain lion type has been reported seen twice in this area in the in-

REMEMBER WHEN? THE MOSELY BATH TUB. Ask your grandmother if she remembers this old 1893 Mosley oil-fired water heater and folding bathtub... Few of us actually realize that over 2/3 of the water used in the home is hot water. With the completely automatic electric water heater there is no fear of a flame going out when hot water is needed the most. And being totally flameless, it requires no venting, is easier to install and maintenance is practically nil. What a change from the 'good ol' days!'

The Care Of Indoor Plants

By F. W. MARTIN
 Haskell County Agent

Soil, water and air are among the most important considerations when growing plants indoors for long periods of time.

The roots can't grow under improper soil conditions, and the leaves will not develop properly if the atmosphere is poor.

Past research conducted at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station shows that the best growing medium for indoor plants is a mixture of 50 percent horticultural grade perlite and 50 percent coarse peat moss by volume, to which the proper nutrients have been added.

This mixture can be prepared for home use by uniformly mixing one and one-half bushels of horticultural grade perlite, one and one-half bushels of peat moss and four ounces of a complete all-purpose rose fertilizer.

Be sure that the mixture is thoroughly wet before potting or planting.

When indoor plants are grown in this mixture, watering once a week and feeding once every three months will be sufficient.

To feed the plants, apply the all-purpose fertilizer at a rate of one teaspoon for each six-inch pot or one-half pound for each 100 square feet of surface soil.

Indoor plants do best when an air temperature of 60 to 70 degrees F. is maintained at night. During the day, temperatures can be as high as 85 to 90 degrees without serious problems arising.

Light is also an important factor to consider when growing indoor plants. However, the maintenance of minimum light requirements for satisfactory growth of indoor plants is not as exacting as is usually supposed.

The brighter the natural light during the daylight hours, the shorter the period of artificial light that will be required. Also, the brighter the artificial light provided the shorter the period of illumination required.

Artificial light should not be provided for longer than a total of 16 hours per day, because eight hours of darkness must be provided during each 24-hour day period for healthy growth.

Also important in maintaining good appearance on indoor plants is the type of light used.

When only "daylight" fluorescent light is used, the color of many plants take on a cold and faded appearance. These undesirable effects can be overcome by the use of incandescent light often provided by the use of spotlights of incandescent tubes.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurmon Stout made a business trip to Fort Worth last week and visited his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stout.

Judy won fourth place in her division and Lynn and Ronnie won third place in their division.

COMMUNICATIONS Your Tool for Progress

Whatever happened to the Old Oaken Bucket?

One of our towns uses a communications system which automatically keeps the local water tower full from a distant water supply. In another of our towns the water supply lake uses our ELECTRONIC SENTRY® warning unit to notify authorities automatically when the water level reaches a low point. These are additional examples of how we serve in the ever-broadening field of communications. Prattle

By AL HINDS

Act I: Scene III: Exit Porter Oakes.

Since taking over the editing, during this period of adjustment, I would like to point out to readers of the Free Press, that I am not a prolific Porter Oakes when it comes to slinging words around, nor am I an easy-going, even-tempered editor with tact and background as was the late beloved Lon Pate.

Prattler is just a "fill-in," and I am not a fast editor, I am just a half-fast editor.

"You're the center of attention. When your birthday is here: But son, we love you just as much... Each day throughout the year. Happy 18th birthday, Larry!"

Once upon a time there was a mother skunk who had two sons whose names were "In" and "Out," but it seemed that every time In was out, Out was in. So one day, In, who was out, went in to see if Out was in, but Out was out, so his mother says, "In, go out and look for Out," but about that time Out came in looking for In, however In was out, so Out ran out and looked for In, but all the time In was out, Out was in.

The Missus is always complaining she has so much work to do around the house. I bought her an electric sewing machine, electric dryer, electric skillet, electric blanket, electric tooth brush, electric vacuum cleaner, electric mixer, electric iron... but now she is complaining about not having a place to sit down, so I am thinking about buying her an electric chair.

It cannot be denied that the American people have been generous in their support of education. Last year, for instance, voters in more than 2,100 elections throughout the nation approved school bond issues totalling $2,306,000,000. This was a new record.

So it certainly is highly questionable if a massive federal aid to education program is either needed or desirable. Beyond the huge sums of money involved, federal financial support of the schools would inevitably mean ever-increasing federal controls. Local control of the schools would be undermined, and in time might even be destroyed.

This is a fundamental matter. School policy has always reflected local needs and views. Local people certainly have a better knowledge of what is needed than a distant administrator. We should think a long time before deeply injecting the federal government into education, well-meant as the programs may be.

The man who rows the boat generally doesn't have time to rock it.

Two small boys at a modern art exhibit were staring at a wildly abstract painting. One of the youngsters muttered to the other: "Let's get out of here before they say we did it!"

Adam was perhaps the world's first electronic engineer. He furnished spare parts for the first loud speaker.

"Spring, with her golden suns and silver rains, is with us once again."

So wrote Henry Timrod. And many millions of us must have been thinking in those terms, though in a more prosaic fashion. For it has been a long winter. But Spring is with us again. Back when Prattle was a young'un, the months of March, April and May were the "Spring months," but to inform those who are statistically minded, Spring will not officially arrive until 3:05 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, on March 20. This does not mean, of course, that the skies will clear and the air turn balmy all of a moment. Nature has a way of ignoring the calendar, and many a Spring in its beginnings has been indistinguishable from the Winter that preceded it. But have patience, the good days are near at hand. The buds will pop from the earth, the trees will flower. It will be time to checkout the garden tools and the lawn mower again... the aphids must be sprayed away, the rose bushes trimmed and tended, the on-rushing grass curbed. But, even with these chores to accomplish at regular intervals, there will be time for fishing, and for just loafing and enjoying the scents and sounds that are uniquely those of Spring.

...And, if Spring comes, can summer be far behind!

Jurors Picked--

White said, "Put up your knife, Johnny. Put up your knife."

She said shortly afterward Mullins' pickup truck "left in a hurry."

Miss Newton said Mullins had made threatening remarks about using a chain on White a month before the incident.

Saw Blood

Danny Stewart, 31, now of Lake Worth, said he was living across the street from White on December 12 and was playing with his dog outside his house when he saw Mullins lash at White. White grabbed his stomach and the boy saw blood, he said, but added he did not see a knife.

When questioned by Scarborough he said he is three-school grades behind others of his age.

Other state witnesses were Bill Nellums, to whose house White came to summon help after he was cut; Deputy Sheriff W. L. Henry, who said he was called to the scene by Nellums; and Kenneth Gibbs of Haskell, who said he had been drinking with Mullins earlier in the day, Dec. 12.

Both Nellums and Henry said White told them Mullins had stabbed him.

In questioning jurors, Scarborough indicated self-defense and the lack of intent will be his major points of defense.

On May 13, 1968, the U. S. Navy Nurse Corps was established.

Final Rites Held Tuesday For Victor Elmore

Funeral for Victor Warren Elmore, 51, former Haskell resident, was held at 3 p. m. Tuesday, March 16, in Baum-Carlock-Bungardner Chapel in Mineral Wells, Texas, with the Rev. R. E. Maxwell, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, officiating.

Burial was in Brad Cemetery, about 30 miles west of Mineral Wells.

Mr. Elmore died at his home in Mineral Wells Sunday of an apparent heart attack.

He is survived by his wife; two sons, Ronnie and Lester; two step-sons, Darrel and Jack Houghton of Mineral Wells; his father, R. P., of Haskell; four brothers, Rollan of Haskell, Walter of Lamesa, Jack of Sundown and Robert of Breckenridge; and one sister, Mrs. Rachael Presley of Breckenridge.

Four Rural Traffic Accidents Haskell County During February

There were four rural traffic accidents in Haskell County during the month of February, according to Sgt. Frank Jirek, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in one person killed, two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $18,900.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county for the first two months of 1968 shows a total of 11 accidents resulting in one person killed, eight persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $24,750.

Yes, the old adage is true, "the best defense is a good offense." However, there is one exception where a good defense comes before a good offense. The exception is driving a motor vehicle. Defensive driving is the technique of driving to avoid accidents by anticipating all hazardous situations created by unsafe acts of other drivers, adverse weather, or road conditions. The defensive driver is always ready for a driver or pedestrian doing wrong thing. He is anything for a good thing. Another good defense that you have a safe vehicle by having it inspected. The law says 15 is the deadline for the 1965 inspection. Anyone operating a vehicle requiring a 1965 inspection sticker after this date will be in violation of the law.
