A Little About Everything Not Much About Anything By JAMES E. KELLY

(Opinions expressed in this column are the views of the writer and should be so interpreted).

A cub reporter rushed back from the livestock show he had been assigned to cover. "I've got the perfect news story," he breathlessly told the city editor. "Calm down man," said the editor, "what happened?" "Well," replied the reporter, "a bull threw a congressman."

I READ OF A PECULIAR SITUATION existing in Oklahoma County, the county that Oklahoma City is the capital. It's a situation I'm sure Oklahoma County doesn't claim it has a copyright, for I'd guess its a sit-copyright, for I'd guess it a situation that could be found in many Texas counties.

Recently, a new set of county commissioners were inducted into office in Oklahoma County and they began plans to get their "house in order." In the cleanup process the new commissioners found that one precinct had a two years' supply of scraper blades, and that another had no blades at all. One commissioner district had difficulty in obtaining the necessary road building machinery and another district had a full supply of road building machinery lying idle. The new commissioners found also, that one of their predecessors was purchasing scraper blades at 91 cents a foot and the other predecessor was paying as much as $1.45 a foot for the same identical blade. Each of the old commissioners had looked upon his district as an independent unit of government without any thought of the welfare of the community as a whole. The whole county had paid for brand new road building machinery while in another commissioner's district similar road building machinery was lying idle.

The new set of Oklahoma County commissioners have set up a new plan of operation they intend to follow through during their administration. That is: Instead of the county being divided into separate and independent units of government, a central agency will be set up and one purchasing agent will do all the buying for all the commissioner districts in Oklahoma County. With this system in force it is predicted the county should be saved tens of thousands of dollars. The new county commissioners view their positions as just about the most important in the county, and where in the exercise of their official duties, economy in spending the taxpayers money, and efficiency in office, will be uppermost in their minds, hence it is their sincere desire, so reports the new commissioners, to serve the people of Oklahoma County by protecting the taxpayers who pay the bills.

The Oklahomans found there had been considerable favoritism and waste and squandering going on under the administration of the former county commissioners, and they proposed to eliminate that situation by selecting the right kind of men to comprise the membership of the commissioners' court. And from the plan of action set up by the new commissioners to follow during their term in office, it looks very much to this column that Oklahoma County will have an economic and efficient county commissioners' court. That set up of establishing a central agency and one purchasing agent for all the commissioners' districts appeals to this writer as one that will prove advantageous in saving the taxpayers' money. It would pay Texas counties to investigate this new plan adopted by the new commissioners of Oklahoma County.

PUMP INSTALLED AT NO. 1 MORRIS NEAR STANTON

By JAMES C. WATSON

Plymouth Oil Company has installed a pump at its No. 1 W. R. Morris, wildcat in Southwest Martin County and and three-quarters miles northeast of the town of Stanton and was to make production tests.

Those tests can not begin until oil, which was put into tanks during swabbing tests, can be moved out.

No. 1 Morris had indicated as a discovery from the Spraberry. Last test recovered 40 barrels of oil and 10 barrels of water daily from perforations at 7,873-97 feet.

Location is 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 7, block 35, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Another discovery from the Spraberry in the Stanton vicinity is in prospect at Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Hall, wildcat in Glasscock County, eight miles southeast of Stanton.

Operator took a drillstem test from 6,498 to 6,640 feet. Tool was open three hours and 15 minutes. Recovery was 310 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

The project unloaded sweet gas as the drillpipe was being pulled.

A later drillstem test, from 6,990 to 7,062 feet, with tool open three hours, recovered 180 feet of gas-cut mud with no water.

Hole was being cored below 7,062 feet at last report.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 6, block 34, T-2-S, T&P survey.

DeKalb Agricultural Association, Inc., No. 1 Kittie Belle (Mrs. Richard H.) Knox, scheduled 12,500-foot wildcat in Northwest Martin County, was drilling being below 11,654 feet in lime and chert.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 30, block 40, T-1-N, T&P survey. That makes it 30 miles west of Stanton.

Phillips Petroleum Company No. 1-C Schar (Scharbauer Cattle Company), Southwest Martin County wildcat 13 miles north of Midland and 19 miles west and slightly north of Stanton, was perforated casing opposite the Spraberry at 8,366-88 feet and was prepared to swab and test. This project has shown as some sort of a discovery from that formation.

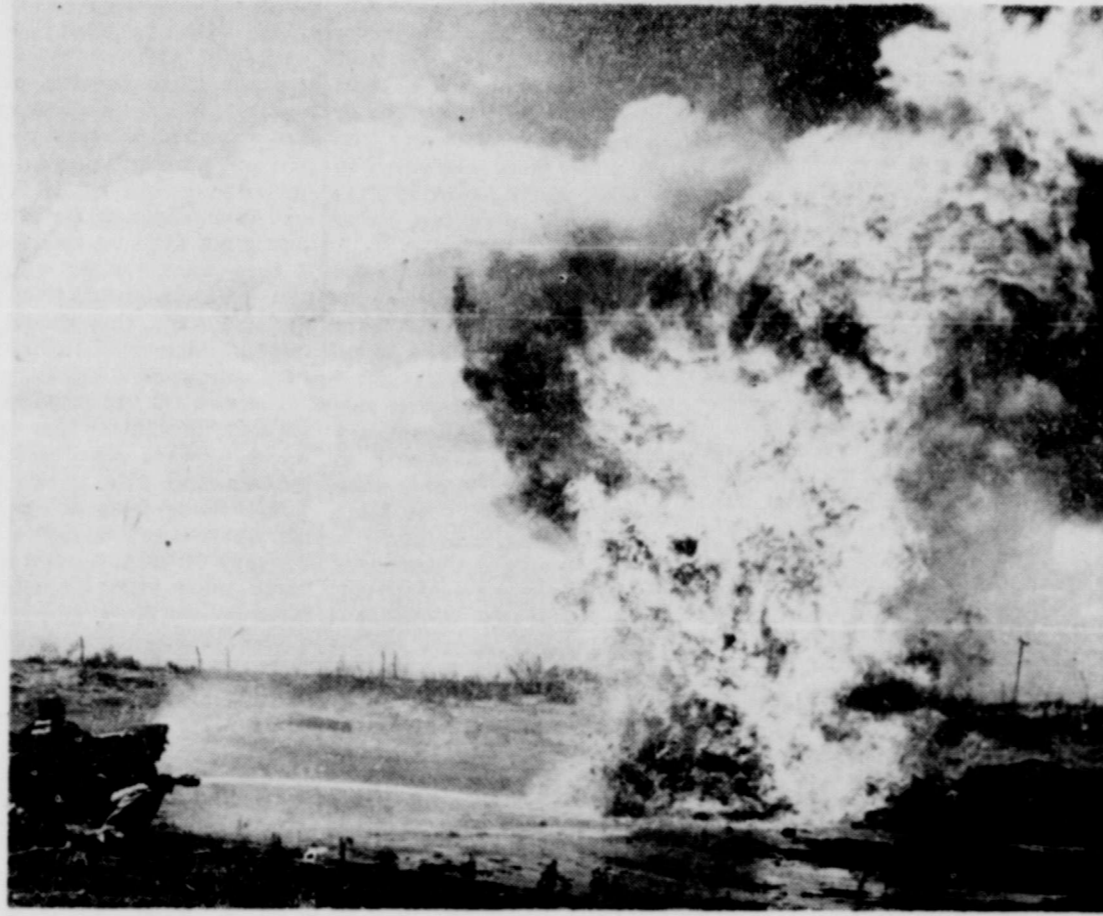

Location is 1,320 feet south and 6,888 feet from west lines of league 324, LaSalle County School Land survey. It is four and one-half miles east of the Mabee (San Andres) field.

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Flynt, wildcat 28 miles north of Midland and in Central-West Martin County, was drilling below 11,114 feet in lime and shale. It is being dug 660 feet from south and west lines of labor 12, league 248, Hartley County School Land survey and 24 miles northwest of Stanton.

Stanolind No. 1 Cowden, wildcat in Southwest Martin County, 30 miles west of Stanton, was drilling below 12,810 feet in lime and shale. It is 660 feet from south and east lines of the south west quarter of section 30, block 40, T&P survey.

TWO DIE IN FIRE, EXPLOSION IN FLOWER GROVE COMMUNITY

Two men died Thursday in an explosion and fire at the J. I. (Isiah) Brown farm in the Flower Grove community. A third man suffered burns.

Brown, 58, farmer and stock raiser, was one of the victims. W. R. (Bill) Oaks, 50, Ackerly, was killed instantly when a plow blade apparently dug into a pipeline. He was the driver of the caterpillar tractor used to pull the plow.

The injured man, Abjandro Casares, was hospitalized in Big Spring.

Oak's body was found a short distance from the flames at a point where it was believed he either jumped or was blown. It was several hours, however, before firemen and sheriff's deputies including Martin County Deputy Jim McCoy were able to remove the charred body because of the intense heat.

Brown had been standing about 75 feet from the point of the explosion. He was rushed still conscious to Lamesa hospital where he died several hours later.

Services for Brown were held at 3 p. m. Saturday in the Baptist Church at Ackerly. He was buried in a Big Spring cemetery. Last rites for Oaks were held at the same hour and in the same church Sunday, with burial following at Ackerly.

Brown, an active community worker, is survived by his wife; two sons, Melvin Brown, Ackerly, and Walter Brown, Andrews; one daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Nichols, Ackerly; five grandchildren, and three brothers and sisters.

Oaks had lived at Ackerly since 1949, and had been an operator for Lucas Whitehead, Stanton, equipment contractor. He was a member of the Ackerly Baptist Church.

Surviving him are five brothers, George Dewey Oaks, Oakland, Calif.; Edwin Oaks, Elmer Oaks, Burnon Oaks, and Robert D. Oaks, all of Ackerly; four sisters, Elizabeth Oaks, Ackerly, Mrs. R. R. Robinson, Big Lake, Mrs. John Webb, Ackerly, and Mrs. W. L. Brown, Lawton, Okla. The tractor, with its power lift up, continued on its way and had lumbered a distance of about a mile and a half before some men overtook and halted it. The machine had rolled through two fences.

Al Terrill, Colorado City, district manager for Shell Pipeline Company, said that the line was a 6-inch carrier from Denver City to the Westbrook station. It was used to transport gasoline in March, and had not been in use since then. The line, which was dug up, reconditioned and re-welded in 1945 and marked along the route, was buried 24 or 18 inches from top of the pipe. The fire burned itself out about midnight Thursday, Terrill reported. The line ripped out of the ground for a short distance by force of the blast, was broken in three places. Most of the time, however, fire billowed only from the apparent point of contact with the tractor rig. Flames occasionally danced to the other places.

Oaks had been using a grubbing unit on the tractor to clear an adjoining field. He had moved into the field to clear some shinnery and brush along the turnrow area when suddenly the accident occurred. The point at which the contact was made was a slight depression resulting from wind erosion.

Smoke could be seen for a distance of 20 miles for several hours after the fire started.

SCHOOL FINANCES REPORTED BY SUPERINTENDENT

Stanton Independent school district will have on Sept. 1, a balance of $1,261.82 if all the money due the district including $3,438.11 in back taxes is received.

Supt. O. W. Winstead released a statement of what the schools assets and liabilities should be at the end of August.

It included in assets $8,193.98, local maintenance fund; $1,885.39 state and county available fund; $482.11 building fund; $3,012.29 interest and sinking fund; $62.65, transportation fund; $785.95, lunch room fund; $2,612.30 state and county available fund due; $1,010.00, transportation aid due; $3,348.11, back taxes due; and $478.05, athletic fund balance.

Liabilities include $7,612.68 teachers salaries; $500 janitors salary; $4,069.20, Cameron, Texas, bank notes; $4,500 athletic fund; $283.51 local bills; and $559, withholding tax for June. Total liability given as $17,479.69 as compared to $18,741.51 in assets that can be used to pay the bills as of Sept. 1.

Altogether, the district owes $20,709 (in short term loans) to the Cameron, Texas, bank, which draws five per cent interest.

$200,000 BOND ISSUE ELECTION TO BE HELD

Stanton school trustees Monday night set Saturday, August 2, as the date for a bond election in their efforts to raise funds immediately to finance the repair of the elementary and high school buildings.

Patrons will be asked to approve a bond issue of $200,000 for the job.

It was believed a week earlier that possibly $100,000 would be sufficient to put the buildings in order. The estimate was found to be too low, however, after board members examined cost figures submitted by architects. They employed the architectural firm of Christenson and Christenson, Dallas, designers of the Stanton First National Bank subject to the approval of the bond issue, at the polls.

It was decided to ask the larger amount and then sell only the bonds needed to put the buildings in condition for use.

Construction work, board members believed, could get underway within two weeks after approval of the bond issue.

Openhouse at the school, preceding the election, is being planned to give the patrons an opportunity to see the state of disrepair of the buildings, Supt. O. W. Winstead announced.

ED ROBNETT TO RECEIVE FFA AWARD

Ed Robnett, of Stanton, has been selected as one of four men (not teachers) to receive the honorary Lone Star Farmer degree and degree pen.

Besides Robnett, those receiving the awards are Sam Baize, Stamford; R. E. Gracey, Roscoe; and H. C. Noelke, Sheffield. Announcement of the men selected was made by E. L. Tiner, superintendent of agriculture, area two, Big Spring.

Don't leave things in your car when the car is parked in a parking lot, advises the Texas Division of the American Auto mobile Association. A parking lot owner is not ordinarily responsible for articles left in a car parked on his lot unless there is a special arrangement by which he assumes responsibility for such loss.

PRESIDENT SIGNS NEW GI BILL FOR KOREA VETERANS

The President has signed into law a new GI BILL for veterans who served in the armed forces any place in the world since the start of the Korean conflict on June 27, 1950.

The new law provides five benefits, all designed to assist veterans in their return to civilian life. Included are education and training; guaranteed or insured loans for homes, farms and businesses; unemployment compensation; mustering - out pay, and job-finding help.

The education and training provisions allow a veteran one and one-half days of training for each day in service after the outbreak of the Korean fighting—regardless of where the service was performed—up to a maximum of 36 months.

Previously Trained Veterans
However, veterans who have previously trained under earlier veterans' training laws—the World War II GI Bill or Public Laws 16 to 894 for the disabled—may go up to 48 months, minus whatever time they've already spent in training under those earlier programs.

A veteran may train in school or college, on-the-job or on-the-farm, so long as the school or training establishment has been approved by an appropriate State Approving Agency and meets other qualifications of the law. Only one change of course program is allowed, except under certain conditions determined by the Veterans Administration.

Veterans in GI Bill training will receive an education and training allowance each month from the Government, to meet part of the expenses of their training and living costs. Tuition fees, books, supplies and equipment will not be paid by the Government; instead, they will have to be paid out of their monthly allowance.

Rate System
Rates for veterans in full-time training in schools and colleges are $110 a month, if they have no dependents; $135 if they have one dependent, and $190 if they have more than one dependent. Those in training less than full time will receive lower monthly rates.

Top monthly amounts for on-the-job trainees are $70 without dependents; $85 with one dependent, and $105 with more than one dependent. The maximums for institutional on-farm trainees are $95, $110, and $130, respectively. The law requires that on-job and on-farm rates be reduced, at four-month intervals, as the training progresses and the veteran's own earnings increase.

The law also specifies that veterans taking institutional on-farm training must devote full time to their program.

Dependency Status
The new GI Bill places a $310-a-month ceiling on job training, regardless of dependency status. Should a veteran's training allowance plus his earnings—as a trainee exceed this amount, VA will reduce the allowance accordingly. There's no ceiling, however, on what he may earn.

A veteran will get his monthly allowance some time after the end of each month of training completed. Before the VA can pay him, the law requires a certification from both the veteran and his school or training establishment, that he was enrolled in and pursuing his course during that period.

Method of Payment
This new method of payment differs from procedures followed under previous veterans' training laws. Under earlier laws, VA paid tuition and other costs directly to schools, and also paid eligible veterans a monthly subsistence allowance.

Although the new law takes effect today, no training allowances may be paid for any period prior to August 20.

The loan provisions of the new GI Bill for post-Korean veterans are similar to the GI loan program now in effect for World War II veterans. Some changes have been made, however, to protect the interests of home-buying veterans.

Home Loan Guarantee
The amount of VA guarantee on a loan is the same for both groups of veterans. Home loans may be guaranteed for up to 90 percent of the loan, but the guaranteed portion may not exceed $7,500. Other real estate loans may be guaranteed up to 50 percent, with a $4,000 top. And non-real-estate loans, such as GI business loans, may be guaranteed for up to 50 percent with a $2,000 ceiling as to guarantee. All such loans also may be insured.

VA's direct loan program, now in effect for World War II veterans, has been extended to veterans who served since Korea. Under the program, VA may make loans directly to veterans, but only in certain areas where four percent GI loan money is not available.

Loan Safeguards
GI loan safeguards, written into the new law, apply both to World War II veterans and those with post-Korean service. Among them are the following:

A veteran's property must meet or exceed minimum requirements for planning, construction and general acceptability. This provision doesn't apply to construction started within 60 days of today before they were purchased with a GI loan.

Veterans Protected
VA may refuse to appraise any dwelling or housing project owned or built by anyone who has attempted to take unfair advantage of veterans in the past. Examples would be substantial deficiencies in the house failure to discharge contract liabilities, or unfair practices in regard to contracts or marketing of the houses.

Also, VA may refuse to guarantee loans made by lenders who have failed to service loans adequately, who have failed to keep adequate loan accounting records, who have shown poor credit judgment, or who have engaged in other practices detrimental to the veteran or to the Government.

Loan Entitlement
In the case of World War II veterans who have returned to active duty, their unused loan entitlement under the World War II GI Bill will be replaced by the same amount of entitlement under the new law. The result is that they won't be bound by the GI loan deadline of July 25, 1957, set up in the earlier law; they'll have 10 years from the end of the present emergency to obtain GI loans.

The new GI Bill's unemployment compensation program, administered through the States by the U. S. Department of Labor, provides unemployed post-Korean veterans with payments of $26 a week, up to a total of 25 weeks. The top amount that any veteran can get, therefore, is $675.

The unemployment program takes effect 90 days from now. It has been tied in with the new law's mustering-out program in the following way:

Dates Explained
A veteran entitled to $100 mustering-out pay can't get unemployment compensation until 30 days after discharge or 90 days from today—the effective date of the program—which ever is later. A veteran who gets $200 mustering-out pay has to wait until 60 days after discharge or 90 days from now, while one who receives $300 must wait either 90 days after discharge or 90 days after this date, whichever comes later.

Eligibility requirements for the foregoing three benefits—education and training, GI loans and unemployment compensation—include (1) a discharge under conditions other than dishonorable; (2) active service any time after June 27, 1950, and (3) at least 90 days' total service, unless discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.

The mustering-out payments, provided for in the new GI Bill, will be made at time of discharge to anyone who served in the rank of captain or less in the Army or Air Force, or as lieutenant senior grade or less in the Navy. The veteran also must have an honorable discharge.

Payments are $300 for those with at least 90 days' service who were on active duty outside the continental limits of the United States or Alaska; $200 for those with 60 days or more service who were not outside the USA or Alaska, and $100 for those who spent less than 60 days on active duty.

Veterans eligible for $300 will get $100 upon discharge; $100 a month later, and $100 a month after that. Those who are to receive $200 will get $100 at discharge and the remainder a month later. And veterans eligible for only $100 will be paid that amount all at once.

Post Korea Veterans
Post-Korea veterans discharged before the new GI Bill became law also may receive mustering-out pay. To obtain the money, they must apply to their branch of service within two years from today.

The mustering-out program, similar to that in effect after World War II, will be administered by the Armed Forces and the Treasury Department, and not by the VA.

The new GI BILL extends job-finding assistance to veterans with service after the start of Korean hostilities, on the same basis as veterans of World War II. The help includes job counseling and employment placement services of the Veterans Employment Service, a part of the U. S. Employment Service.

Not Included
Veterans were reminded that the last three benefits of the new GI Bill—unemployment compensation, mustering - out pay and job-hunting aid—are not administered by the Veterans Administration. So veterans should not write VA about them, if they want further information or have questions to be answered; instead, they should correspond directly with the agency concerned.

The new GI Bill contains important deadlines that post-Korea veterans, must be started by August 20, 1954, or two years after release from active duty, whichever comes later. No training may be given beyond either seven years after discharge or seven years after the end of the current emergency, whichever is later.

In contrast, for most World

War II veterans, the GI Bill cut-off date for starting has already passed, and training may not be extended beyond July 25, 1956.

Deadline For Loans
The deadline for veterans with service after Korea is 10 years after the present emergency comes to an end. The deadline for World War II veterans who have not gone back on active duty is July 25, 1957.

Finally, the deadline for unemployment compensation under the new law will be five years after the end of the emergency period.

The date on which the present emergency comes to an end is one that has to be determined either by Presidential proclamation or by concurrent resolution of Congress.

Cost of tuberculosis in the United States is estimated at more than $350,000,000 a year.

GOVERNORS AGREE

(An Editorial)
With the political wars raging, it would be a miracle indeed if the governors of the various States were to agree on anything except mother love and the American Flag. However, the miracle has happened. All 48 State governors have expressed their agreement on the effectiveness of driver training in combating traffic accidents.

In a booklet, "Your Governor

Indorses," published by the AAA Safety Department, the State chief executives state their unqualified support for driver training. To quote just one of them, Gov. Allan Shivers, of Texas, said:

"I believe that the education of automobile drivers is a highly significant part of the public high schools' responsibility for preparing young citizens to live efficiently, safely, and with enjoyment."

However, public support must be had, before driver training can make the headway needed in this area of growing traffic fatalities. In the campaign to bring all schools into the driver training fold, AAA clubs and interested civic clubs should be able to make excellent use of governors' support.

CATTLE INDUSTRY IS PORTRAYED IN AGRICULTURE BOOK

Mechanization catches up with the beef cattle industry in the impressive Trans-Pecos chapter of the all-new "Story Book of Texas Agriculture" at the 1952 State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Oct. 4 through 19.

The display shows three mechanical cowboys branding a mechanical calf while a mechanical campfire broils a plaster beefsteak. A big color enlargement in the back shows a photographic herd of cattle grazing against a range of celluloid mountains. A model chuckwagon at one side of scene and a variety of prairie grasses and plants complete the pseudo-cattle country setting.

The Trans-Pecos area is included in the Texas A&M College System Extension District 6, which covers the following counties: Andrews, Brewster, Jeff Davis, Crane, Crockett, Culberson, Ector, Edwards, El Paso, Glasscock, Hudspeth, Kinney, Loving, Martin, Midland, Pecos, Presidio, Reagan, Reeves, Sutton, Terrell, Upton, Val Verde, Ward, and Winkler.

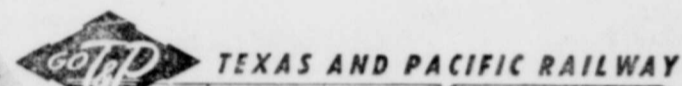

The national vacation budget is estimated by the American Automobile Association at ten billion dollars annually. Total highway travel will reach 436 billion miles in a single year, and 80 per cent of the total mileage will be traveled on only 20 per cent of our highway system, says the AAA.

HOW YOU CAN MAKE AMERICA STRONG — IV

HE NEEDS YOUR VOTE — TO STAY FREE!

Our children's future is uncertain. Because our country's future is uncertain. Perhaps we have let them down. Can it be that self-government interests us no more ... that the priceless gift of personal freedom can find no takers? Can it be that we know not—and care not—who represents us at the meeting place? Have we traded personal opportunity and integrity for security ... for a handout at the back door? And robbed our children in the process? To be strong as a nation, morally and spiritually, is a primary duty we owe our children. Before it is too late ... before the chance is gone forever ... America must be made strong again. With informed, skillful, courageous leadership. Next election, no matter what kind, let's get up and put on our hats and go to the polling place and vote! Know the issues and the candidates. Vote to fill every office with an able man. Let's go back to the old-fashioned habit of taking a part in our democratic government. Our youngsters need votes ... to stay free!

Yours is the power to make us strong spiritually, morally, politically and economically. Write today for a copy of the article, "The Four Pillars of Freedom—Work, Save, Vote and Pray." Mail your request to: J. B. Shores, Public Relations Department, Texas and Pacific Railway, Dallas, Texas. No charge, of course!

Me—Advising a Banker!

The Missus and I were invited to dinner over at Balesville the other night. I sat next to a banker from the state capital.

"Mighty nice country you've got down there," he says. "Don't be surprised if I come to live there myself. In a few years I plan to get away from everybody, buy a farm and just take it easy."

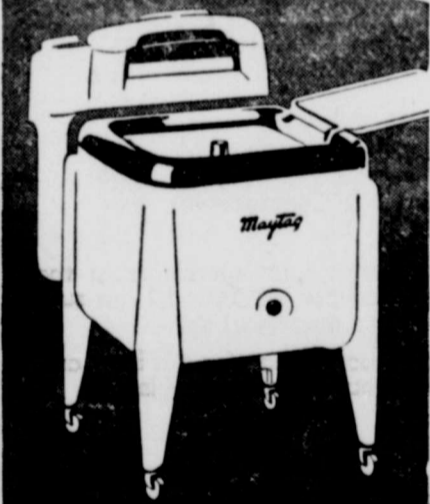

"Well," I told him, "we'd like to have you. But when someone plans to buy a farm and 'take it easy' he often winds up working harder than ever. It takes work to run a farm right no matter how many hands you can afford to hire. "And from where I sit," I continued, "you won't get away" from people either. Neighbors are plenty important in a farming community—whether it's helping one another out or just friendly visiting over a sociable glass of beer. "Hard work and neighbors dropping in all the time?" he asks, looking at me over his glasses. Then he smiles and says, "Sounds wonderful. You've just sold me on a farm."

It saves your strength - and it might save your life

CAN you imagine parking a car as easily as you steer it on a straight-away?

You twirl the steering wheel with one hand—turn the front wheels until you get the last inch of advantage from Buick's short "turning radius"—spot the car in a tight spot at the curb—or swing out when the car parked in front of you seems impossibly close.

For this alone a lot of people—especially women—are saying that Buick's Power Steering is the biggest advance since Dynaflo Drive.*

But you're going to find out something more as you pile up the miles.

You're going to feel the same confident and thrilling sense of command you have always felt in a Buick, because Power Steering only goes into action when extra effort is needed to turn the wheels.

You're going to find that your front wheels track just as they always have—that they automatically swing back on course, after you've made a turn, when you ease your grip on the steering wheel.

You're also going to find that Power Steering takes over when your front wheels hit loose dirt or sand—road irregularities and chuckholes—and smooths down their jerk or tug on the wheel in your hands.

All this adds to the ease and pleasure of driving. But it adds to the safety, too, because, in the rare event of a blowout, Power Steering helps you keep control. There's no sudden and violent jerk ever when this helping hand's on the job.

Add to this the level-gaited serenity of Buick's Million Dollar Ride—the "rarin' to go" exuberance of its Fireball 8 Engine—the spread-out room, the luxurious fabrics—the way this great performer can turn up its nose at gas stations—and there's only one smart thing for you to do:

Drop in — or pick up your phone — and arrange to give this marvel a tryout. Even the price says, Better buy Buick now.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Now available on Super as well as Roadmaster—optional at extra cost.

ISLANDER REFUTES CANDIDATE CHARGES

Charges and insinuations being made against Gov. Allan Shivers by one of his opponents, Ralph W. Yarborough, in connection with a trip aboard the Macee yacht Balinese here in 1948, "are without fact." This was the statement given to wire services Saturday by David C. Leavell, one of those who arranged the trip and who at the time was vice-president of the Galveston Chamber of Commerce. The statement continued: "Insinuations, being leveled at Gov. Shivers concerning the propriety of a visit he made to Galveston, must be repudiated as false."

"These charges... are certainly in poor taste and wholly without fact."

"I refer to charges and insinuations being made in the press and over the radio about Governor Shivers making a trip on the yacht 'Balinese' while on a visit to Galveston who he was lieutenant governor."

Invited Family

"In 1948, while serving as vice president of the Galveston chamber of commerce, I joined E. C. Leach, immediate past president of the Greater Galveston Beach Association, in inviting Governor Shivers and his family to visit our city and relax on our beaches."

"The then lieutenant governor accepted and with his wife and three children, came to Galveston for the week-end. A highlight of the visit included a yacht trip which was originally planned to be aboard one of the city's finest yachts. The boat's engines did not function properly and in quickly seen a substitute craft, Leach found the first yacht to be available immediately was the 'Balinese.' "The lieutenant governor didn't have the slightest idea before, or at the time, what yacht was to be used and since we were going out for a brief sight-seeing tour, it never occurred to the hosts that use of the 'Balinese' could be used for political purposes in the future. "This vessel had and has been used for scores of groups from throughout the country by Galveston civic leaders and for no other purpose than to 'show off' our fine beaches and port facilities."

He appointed Mrs. Glenn Brown head of the women's division of his campaign organization in Martin County.

Other on Trip

"The trip now in question was a two-hour inspection cruise that included all sections of Galveston's port, thence to the nearby Texas City port to view damage from that community's disaster-explosion along the waterfront, and finally out into the Gulf and return to our home port."

"Others invited on this cruise, in addition to Mrs. Leavell, were E. H. Thornton, Jr., now chairman of the Texas Highway Commission and Mrs. Thornton; the U. S. District army engineer and his wife, now in Korea; the mayor of Galveston and his wife; Mr. and Mrs. Julius Scheppe of Dallas, with their daughter and grandchildren."

"The facts concerning this trip were and are easily ascertainable by anyone especially interested, and are in contrast to the reports given the press and radio that gamblers were aboard and were hosts for the trip." (Paid for by Martin County Shivers for Governor Committee; Bob Deavenport, Chairman).

AQUA PURA NOT PIPED

Efforts of Hila Weathers, manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, pointing to the freshness of Martin County water didn't go unnoticed at a recent dinner in Odessa.

The event was held to celebrate the arrival of water from this county through the Colorado River Municipal Water District's pipelines. Hila took with her a jug (with a cork cork) labeled "Fresh Martin County Water not Piped Over." Governor Allan Shivers was the guest speaker.

EXCERPS FROM LETTERS RECEIVED BY JAMES McMORRIES

"Our Chairman, Mr. Thornton, has paid you some well deserved compliments on the fine, unselfish leadership you are providing for your county and the City of Stanton.

"My greatest concern over the possibility of preserving this system of government of ours is the lack of capable, unselfish leadership throughout the nation. The indifference and apathy of the chief beneficiaries of our Democratic form of government is contributing more to the weakening of our system of free enterprise, in my opinion, than is Joe Stalin or the Far East problem. A hand full of men in every community having your courage, vision and unselfish initiative could save the situation. I only hope and pray they come available before it is too late."

With kind personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Fred A. Wemple, Midland,

"I want you to know that I consider you one of the outstanding ex-officio county superintendents in the state. You have evidenced more interest in your local school districts than any other county judge and I am sure the school people of Martin County are aware of this fact and appreciate your efforts as much as I do.

"It is our purpose to work with you in providing the best possible educational opportunities for the boys and girls of your county, and I invite you to contact us any time we may be of service to you and your schools."

Sincerely yours,

WHO WON THE OIL STRIKE?

Who won the oil strike? The oil workers' unions? Ask the average worker in a struck refinery if it was worth being out of work for four weeks! Did the oil companies win? Ask the stockholders who own the refineries that were shut down by picket lines! And, of course, long-suffering John Q. Public never wins anything!

Although remarkably few people seem aware of it, oil refinery workers are the best paid industrial employes in America today. They were close to the top even before the strike, and had been offered still another pay boost. The current round of wage settlements in the oil industry has elevated the average weekly pay of refinery workers to an estimated $91 a week, for a 40½-hour week. That figures out to $2.24 an hour, the highest average hourly wage in the nation.

It cost the average oil worker who walked out approximately $340 to participate in that strike! Simple arithmetic will show that it will take the employee who was on strike for only a week, about 70 weeks—well over a year—to make up the pay he lost. If he joined a strike for a month, he will have to work for nearly six years to regain his lost pay.

In view of the high wages in refineries, and considering that the oil unions had rejected substantial wage increases offered by the oil companies months before the strike, it seems obvious that the unions could not have had any serious complaints about their wage rates. Then what was all the shouting about? It couldn't have been about other employe benefits, for the oil worker has a very liberal measure of these, just as he has top-quality working conditions. It wouldn't have been about the right of collective bargaining, which has long been guaranteed him.

The only conclusion we can draw is that the unions' real objective is the creation of one big "super-union" that would hold the whip hand over the whole industry through industry-wide bargaining without regard for local conditions.

Did the oil workers win their strike? Ask the man who lost $340 in pay! The oil companies? Hardly, with their sales off $0 million barrels during the strike period! The public? You're the public—what did you win? Who won the oil strike? Nobody!

WHO ARE THE VANQUISHED AMERICANS?

Time was when $10,000 a year was a lot of money. Only the relative few earned or had a reasonable hope of earning as much. Even nowadays, with record taxes and a four-bit dollar, it is far more than most families ever see, the average income being in the neighborhood of $3,000.

Yet there is a $10,000-a-year class of people in this country who simply can't make both ends meet, economize as they will. That, at least, is the theme of a fascinating article in the July issue of Harper's magazine, called "Going Broke on $10,000 a Year," which is signed with the pseudonym Jay Taylor. This class consists of junior business executives who must put up a front, appear jobs, and donate generously to charities and other worthy causes. Mr. Taylor writes early in his article: "I'm a symbol—and a simpaton. I'm a symbol of the group from which business leaders used to be drawn, a group now being liquidated."

Mr. Taylor goes into meticulous detail as to his finances, and it's quite a story. Last year, he wrote, he earned $10,400 and spent $10,456. And here, in a capsule form, is what happened to his money. To get the full flavor of the account, of course, the whole article should be read.

First of all he actually got not $10,400 but $8,978, taxes having accounted for the difference. His first outgo was for rent—$1,656. This, he says, is about as little as he could pay without moving to so cheap a neighborhood that he would lose cast with his associates and endanger future promotions.

Several hundred dollars went out for unavoidable household expenses such as utilities, and his wife got $2,049, or some $40 a week, to buy the food and other supplies needed by a family of four. Furniture swallowed $274, and insurance $471. Mr. Taylor has no car and says he can't possibly afford one, but commutation tickets cost him $180 and are scheduled to go up in price.

Doctors and dentists accounted for $264, and the children's expenses, such as their clothes and school books and a summer camp, dug in to the tune of $241. He and his wife spent only $173 on clothing for themselves. Gifts and holiday expenses totaled around $500 all told, and there was a miscellaneous item of $364, which included such odds and ends as church contributions, wood, bushes and bulbs for the garden.

So it goes, in Mr. Taylor's summation—everything is accounted for down to the penny, save $133 for which he has no records. None of the items of expenditure seem at all high for a man in his position—many of them seem almost amazingly low.

Mr. Taylor's conclusion is typical of the tone of his article: "So I speak as one small symbol of a class. I look at the broken-down occasional chair which should have been replaced a year ago. I postpone my trip to the dentist for another six months in hopes that the pediatrician's bill can be paid in the interval. And I realize that I belong to a new class of forgotten men in whom no labor leaders, politicians, farmers, corporation presidents, or commencement speakers take any vested interest—the $10,000-a-year men, Vanquished Americans."

Bible Comment:

Purity of Heart Is More Than Just Resisting Evil

TO the wise men among the ancient Hebrews the heart was not only the center of man's physical being, but it symbolized also the center and source of his moral and spiritual life. He thought not only with his mind, but with his heart. "As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he." "Search the heart, for out of it are the issues of life." Purity of heart, therefore, became the supreme condition of a good and wholesome life, as much as pure blood is the condition of a healthy body. One can live with a diseased body, for a time at least, just as one can live with a diseased soul, but the seeds of destruction are there. And the conditions and demands of good moral health are as imperative as are the conditions and demands of good health for the body.

What does it mean to be pure in heart? The common tendency is to think of "purity" chiefly, if not altogether, in terms of sex; but purity of heart means a great deal more than avoidance of what Saint Peter has called the "Fleshly lusts that war against the soul."

There are other lusts that are as damaging to the soul, and that are perhaps even more destructive to man's fellowmen. There is the lust of power and wealth; and there is even the lust of ease, and the lust of pleasure, which unregulated and uncontrolled can destroy in man the sense of duty.

Purity, too, must be considered on its positive side. It is not enough to resist the temptations of evil; it is necessary to be moved by the impulses of good, and perhaps even more destructive to man's fellowmen. There is the lust of power and wealth; and there is even the lust of ease, and the lust of pleasure, which unregulated and uncontrolled can destroy in man the sense of duty.

Purity relates to much more than sexual conduct, but that does not mean that purity in that area is any less vital. The Bible is very plain and outspoken concerning right relations between man and woman. It commends the virtuous woman, who will do her husband "good and not evil all the days of her life," and it warns against the "strange women" in whose lures are the ways of destruction. Ancient counsel still holds good.

BIG SPRING ANNUAL RODEO DATES ARE SET

Fifteenth annual Big Spring Rodeo and Cowboy Reunion will be unrec'd August 8-9 in the Rodeo Bowl in Big Spring.

This year's contest will offer $3,400 purse plus entry fees.

A big parade is to be led by the famous Cowboy Band of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene will serve to get reunion activities underway on the afternoon of August 9. Several Sheriff's Posse parade groups, including the one from Crosbyton, also are expected to take part in the parade. Additional music will be provided by the Big Spring High School band.

Four Performances

The Cowboy Band will play for each of the four performances of the rodeo. Beutler Brothers of Elk City, Okla., again will provide stock for the show.

Top cowboys of the nation will, of course, participate in the Rodeo Cowboys Association-reorganized rodeo. All usual events will be included in the championship show. Traditional events for cowgirls are a part of the rodeo curriculum.

The rodeo and reunion are being held for the third year in Big Spring's concrete rodeo stadium, constructed in a natural amphitheater west of the city after residential development overlapped former show grounds. Facilities are among the best in the state and the Rodeo Bowl will seat upwards of 7,500 spectators.

TO THE VOTERS OF MARTIN COUNTY:

There has been considerable discussion by your teachers and officials concerning the growing problem of juvenile delinquency, but no definite solution has been reached. Why then contribute to this situation by allowing teenagers to drink intoxicating liquors in the cars parked outside the dance halls? The promoters, or managers of such places of recreation will not permit this inside their establishments. Why can't it be controlled on the outside as well?

The sheriff's office was designed to protect the youth as well as other citizens and should be administered in an efficient manner toward that end. I do not believe that any sheriff or deputy should have an uncontrollable temper, or consider himself the judge and jury as well as the arresting officer.

If you will elect me your next sheriff you can be assured that I will do my very best, with your help and understanding, to meet and correct our juvenile delinquency problem. Also I will do my very best to obtain an honest, capable and efficient man as deputy sheriff and you may rest assured that the sheriff's office will be free of any pressure from any organization, clique or any other source.

OPEN-DITCH IRRIGATION WASTES WATER

Can you imagine losing 30 to 50 per cent of every glass of water you try to drink?

Of course, the example is far-fetched, but the figures are right for water loss in open-ditch irrigation, according to Dr. Arthur Young, head of the departments of agriculture engineering and agronomy at Texas Tech.

Tech has eliminated water loss in a 200-acre, livestock pasture irrigation venture installed in April. Dr. Young said it's all done with underground concrete pipes, and rises, spaced at desired intervals. Surface caps allow the water to be used or shut off as needed.

Pays for Installation
Dr. Young estimates the cost of installing such a system from $1

Two New Kitchen Aids Expedite Summer Meal Preparations

BY EDNA MILES

IN the heat of summer, any gadget that will make getting a meal more pleasant and efficient is welcome. Among the newest are a portable, hand-operated mixer that's really inexpensive and a wall-type coffee mill.

The mixer handles various jobs around the kitchen in record time, thus cutting down the hours spent over a hot stove. It will beat four egg whites stiff in 45 seconds—fast enough for anyone! Further, all of the liquids are drawn into its counter rotating blades so there's no splashing as you work.

There are extra attachments for this mixer, including a fast cream whipper and a beater. All of them are easy to clean.

Lots of men like the taste of freshly-ground coffee but get it all too rarely. They can have it every morning now via a new coffee-mill that, once attached to the wall, grinds beans coarse or fine and shells out enough for 12 cups at one time.

To release the cup, the housewife just presses a button on one side of the mill, then snaps it back on ready for the next round. And at breakfast, the whole family sits down to the kind of coffee grandmother once served.

Coffee mill turns out freshly-ground makings for 12 cups of coffee. It hangs on a wall and comes with a convenient transparent, graduated cup.

Non-splashing mixer beats four egg whites stiff in 45 seconds. It's easy to clean and extra beater and whipper are available.

to $1.10 a foot, depending on the number of rises. Water savings from evaporation and seepage offset the cost of installation, he said. In addition, there are no longer the open ditch problems of how to get water uphill and keeping weeds from growing around the ditch.

Dr. Young pointed out that seepage loss in the open ditch will always be the same regardless of the amount of water used in any situation. From this, he explains, the farmer with a low-flowing well would be particularly benefited by an underground system.

RETURN FROM VACATION TRIP INTO OKLAHOMA

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martin have returned from a week's vacation trip to Southwest Oklahoma, and doing a little fishing on Lake Wichita. In Oklahoma they visited Lawton and the site in the Wichita Mountains, where the renowned religious outdoor Easter Service, "Christ Is Risen" is held annually on Easter Sunday. Thousands of people from within and outside of the State attend this service, and there are hundreds of people that take part in presenting this annual affair.

On their return trip home Mr. and Mrs. Martin stopped at Lake Wichita, near Wichita Falls where Sam went into action in an attempt to ensnare the finney tribe. The first catch, according to Sam, was a 25-pound bull frog, and the next was a fish that broke the wire cable fishing line Sam used, and got away. No one but Sam, will ever know how big that fish was.

James Jones and his hardware and appliance store got along just fine while Sam was on his vacation. It was the only time in many moons Jones has been seen at the coffee counter. It was the only time the store's cash register provided enough change for more than one cup of coffee at a time.

ADDS ATTRACTIVENESS TO PARKING LOT

Credit for a bit of improvement that has enhanced the attractiveness as well as provide more convenience to serve the purpose for which the plot of ground was intended, goes to the Aisup Chevrolet Company.

The plot of ground located on the corner lot across east from the company, has been scraped clean of bumps and dips occasioned by the high winds during the drought period, through the efforts of Claude Knowlin, manager of the company, piloting a tractor and John Holder, an employee of the company, bearing down lightly on a hoe handle. The pile of sand that had been heaped around the front and one side of the plot on the outside of the enclosure, was smoothed down. The plot of ground was made ready for moving new farm machinery on to it. The attractiveness of the ground made through the expenditure of "elbow grease" provided by Claude and John, will add to the attractiveness of new machinery placed on it.

Aisup Chevrolet Company has leased a block of ground across the street for parking old, used, and new farm machinery and used cars and trucks.

This bit of improvement deserves a high position among the completed projects in the local cleanup and paintup campaign in progress in Stanton.

The world's largest walled swimming pool, fed by 26,000,000 gallons of water daily from San Solomon Springs, is located in Balmorhea State Park on highway 290 four miles southwest of Balmorhea.

law provides a penalty of from $100 to $500 for one convicted of participating in the primary and convention of more than one party. In other words if you vote in the Democratic primary Saturday you are not eligible to participate in the Republican precinct convention.

JUST WHAT TO DO COME Saturday? Have your mind made up as to the candidate you are going to vote for. You haven't forgotten that Saturday is primary election day, I hope? And that at 8 o'clock Saturday morning the election polls open for you to walk in and cast your vote, and the polls will close at 7 o'clock Saturday night. That should give you sufficient time to decide on the slate of candidates you are going to vote for from U. S. Senator to justice of the peace. I've made up my mind (with its extreme limitation), the candidates I'm going to vote for, especially my county candidates, and unless one on the slate "cashes in his checks" and shuffles off this mortal coil, or one is caught robbing a bank, I'm going to vote 'er straight—that is, my list. I have been sitting quietly attending to my own business in this campaign (through the grapevine communication) a report has reached my ears that I was a "rampant - unbridled - he - horse," bucking against one up for re-election. Thanks to the grapevine information it's as true as all other communications that come over that line. Anyway, in my lonesome hours of meditation, I haven't devoted much time to studying the fitness of each county candidate, as I know 'em all. I've been right here with them. Even have let the bars down for some to suspicion my reputation as an upright citizen drinking coffee with them, especcially, with those who show a willingness to pay for the cup of coffee. I have laid the candidate out on a slab and dissected each in minute detail to ascertain which one of two or more of 'em met my best judgment as to the best qualified to fill the office for myself and the rest of the several hundred taxpayers in my county, regardless of whether the candidate is still an office holder, or whether he is a brand new prospect for the office.

SO, NOW, BOYS! WHATEVER YOU DO! drop the trace chains, hang up the harness on a peg, turn the mules out to graze, call the dogs and hike to your polling boxes Saturday, and vote your sentiments. I know you will vote the way your best judgment dictates.

VOTE AS YOU PLEASE, BUT PLEASE VOTE!

THERE CAN BE NO JUSTIFICATION in the charge by the Reds that the Allies are dropping germs all over the Reds when it has been found upon investigation that Korea is alive with crawling flying native germs.

IT'S BAD ENOUGH TO HAVE crops destroyed by a prolonged froth but to have them destroyed by a chemical floating on the air and dropped down on them, that's a different story. Thirty miles north of Dallas are the communities of Richardson, Garland, and Plano, the cotton center of Dallas County. A fine prospect for a cotton crop was in the offing in those communities when all of a sudden it was discovered the cotton plants were wilting and dying. Dallas had been using a herbicide spray to kill the weeds. It is thought this chemical has been floating on the air from Dallas and falling on cotton crops. Due to several days of hot weather Dallas reported the fine prospects for a corn crop had gone glimmering. Drouth is the chemical that has prevented many thousands of acres of Martin County land to be planted to cotton, and unless the showers continue to fall on the cotton up and growing in the communities of the county that were fortunate to be in the early shower belt, they will succumb before maturity.

MARTIN COUNTY STANDS charged with providing one of the most disastrous accidents to happen on the farm front on the eve of the opening of the "National Farm Safety Week"—July 20-26, Thursday, before the start of "Farm Safety Week," while clearing brush on the farm of J. I. (Isiah) Brown, owner, in the Flower Grove community in the north part of this county, with a tractor, the driver ripped up a short distance of "loaded" gas pipe line of a well known oil company had laid through that section sometime back. An explosion and fire followed, enveloping driver and tractor in flames. Standing a few feet away from the explosion was Mr. Brown, owner of the farm, who succumbed shortly after the accident from burns received. The driver of the tractor was supposed to have died instantly from the force of the explosion. Two lives were lost in this accident, and a third person sent to a hospital suffering severely from burns.

The Safety Council reports that 14,500 farm people were accidentally killed last year—1,250,000 others suffered the loss of time from injuries, home accident cost the Americans over $600,000,000 annually in lost wages, medical expense and insurance overhead. The safe home for family members and for children to grow up in, is one where the parents are safety conscious and where hazards are corrected. The Safety Council says: "Remember everyone is important, whether man, woman or child and cannot be replaced. Believe in the dignity of safety. It is worth the time it takes to be safe."

Philosopher Says: Politicians Fooled By Antics of Voters

Dear editor: It's hard to realize, but some times national candidates don't display any more political insight into human nature than the county candidates. They can be taken in by promises the same as the voters.

Take Senator Taft, now. If you recall, his managers wired all the Republican delegates ahead of the con-support and they got back enough favorable telegrams to put him over, and Taft pointed to that stack of wires and said it was in the bag, but somebody must have been kiddin somebody as he lost.

It reminds me of a situation over in another county a few years back. Fellow by the name of Arthur Jones was runnin for re-election as county clerk.

He was down in a community in one end of the county one day on an electioneerin trip and before he got started he headed for Jake Wade's store, since Jake was sort of the king pin in that area.

"Why, Arthur, what are you doin campaignin around here?" Jake asked. "It's not necessary. Everybody around here is gonna vote for you anyway. Go on back to the court house and save your money."

"Well, thanks, Jake," Arthur said, with a pleased look. "I felt that way about it all along, but I'm sure glad to hear you say it," and he put his campaign cards back in his pocket and went on back to the court house.

On election night, Arthur was bowled over when the election returns came in. He lost two to one, and in Jake's community he lost four to one. He was also flabbergasted to learn that Jake had been his opponent's first cousin.

We learned long ago out here in politics you just don't take nothin for granted, but apparently this information ain't trickled up to the national level yet.

Candidates ain't the only people who make wild promises. Some times the delegates and the voters do a little of it too. It's just one of the hard facts of life.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

I have recently learned that you are a candidate for Associate Judge of the Court of Civil Appeals at El Paso, Texas. I have followed your course on the District bench for a number of years and am convinced that you possess all of the attributes of a real Judge; you have the legal knowledge, the judicial temperament; and the courage to apply the law as you see and understand it, regardless of whom it affects.

If I lived in your district I would not only vote for you but would do whatever I could to help elect you. By HILA WEATHERS
Manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce

OUR MEMBER OF THE WEEK
We are glad to present the Mashburn Cleaners, owned and operated by J. B. Mashburn. This modern cleaning plant is located on E. St. Anna Street in the Bentley Building. Mr. Mashburn has been known in Martin County most of his life, and has been owner of this place of business since January of this year. First class cleaning and pressing work is done here, and Mr. Mashburn is also the local agent for the Levelland Steam Laundry, with pick-ups each Wednesday and Saturday. We are happy to have Mr. Mashburn line up with the organization which has for its sole aim the betterment and development of Stanton and Martin County.

ALL PLANS AND PLOTS FOR the week are shaping up into the Field Trip under the direction of the Agriculture and Livestock committee of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. Ray Hastings, County Agent, is chairman of this committee, and he reports that from all indications, the trip will be made by a large group of local business men and several out-of-town men. He stated that the Soil Conservation Service offices in Midland, Big Spring, and Stanton representatives will be among the group. This is mighty fine. The trip will be covered by press representatives from the three cities named above. So, if you cannot make the trip, then "read all about it" in the papers.

OUR PUBLIC THANKS TO Mrs. R. A. Bennett for a large vase full of colorful yard flowers. The flowers were kept right on our desk as long as they were "physically able to hold up their heads." Then, reluctantly, they were placed in "File 13" We were full of colorful yard, flow- certainly appreciate the thought- fulness of Mrs. Bennett, as flowers brighten up an office as much (and maybe more) as they do a home. Thanks, Mrs. Bennett.

WE HAD AN EXTRA NICE visitor Monday. He was Holt Priddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Priddy, (one of our good mem- bers, who live south of Stanton. Holt is at home from the University of Texas for the summer months, and we understand he's on the heavy end of farming. And from his "stature" we'd bet that he could keep the "heavy end" under control. While here, Holt and I really "planted a good grass crop coverage" in this section. Happy to have you, Holt, to visit us, and we had heard of him quite often, and just now had the pleasure of meeting him. Come back sometime, Holt.

DROPPING IN FOR DINNER—With the aid of an eye-dropper, Dorothy Carr, 11, and Susan Stein, 12, both of Devon, Pa., see to it that two baby robin orphans get their proper nourishment. The girls found the apparently deserted birds in a nest near their homes, and are caring for them until they can fend for themselves.

WE HAD THE PLEASURE OF answering an inquiry from a gentleman living in Medicine Lodge, Kansas. Our folders had not arrived, therefore, we wrote him quite a "feature article" concerning the growth and development of Stanton and Martin County.

BUT WAIT — IN MONDAY'S mail, we received one of our folders which was just completed. A letter with it stated that the "folders are enroute" and so, within a few days, or maybe hours, they'll be delivered to the office. These folders are colorful and contain a pictured and written story of Martin County. We have looked forward to having folders of this type since our organization. We would like for YOU to see them — so come by the office, and let's mail some to your out-of-town friends.

ANOTHER OF OUR VISITORS was Angelo Davenport, who lives with his family east of Stanton. Mr. Davenport told us that in the near future, he and family planned to attend an annual family reunion in Sulphur, Oklahoma. We have been there, and know the parks and facilities offered, and we feel sure that Mr. and Mrs. Davenport will have a wonderful visit. It was our privilege to give Mr. Davenport one of the stickers for his automobile which will help advertise our town. Here's hoping the Davenport family will enjoy every moment of their vacation and return safely to us.

AM STILL SHAKING FROM sheer fright. You see, driving over from Midland this Monday morning, I heard the radio report of a violent earthquake in California, near where my family lives; another report that five persons had been killed

FAMOUS AT ONE—Christopher Miltenberger is interested in the frosting on his first birthday cake, unaware that his blood type is so rare that medical men have named it in his honor. After a worldwide search the "Miltenberger Blood Factor" was found in only three other cases, all in the family.

(there are five in my family), well, I floor-boarded the car, got over here and telephoned them. They are safe, but they said it had been terrific. They said their home rocked as though it were a small canoe of a storm tossed ocean; cabinet doors were slung open and other things slammed around. The power lines were down, and they'd had no lights since just before five o'clock, and I talked with them at 8:30. They said it was a terrible experience, but OH, what a relief when I heard Gene's voice.

WE ARE PREPARING NEWS items for the Texas Chamber of Commerce News, and for the West Texas Today. We shall give a list of our activities and recent items of interest from this area. These two magazines are monthly publications, and will reach every town in Texas. This will give others a story of our program of work.

TOPS IN PAY LOAD!

If you use gasoline-powered tractors in the 45,000 GCW class, here's big news. This new GMC Series 470 will haul more pay load than any other vehicle of its rating with comparable standard equipment—up to more than a half-ton than some!

That's because GMC has found new ways to take dead weight out of truck design by advanced engineering.

One example is GMC's sensational new "302" valve-in-head engine that delivers 145 h.p. at 3200 r.p.m. It weighs less than other engines of equal power by as much as 500 lbs. Yet it's the highest-compression gasoline truck engine ever built—gives you extra mileage from regular fuel!

Come in. Compare them—in power, in pay load, in rugged long-life construction—against all the rest!

Then check the price and you'll agree: nowhere else will so little buy so much in a 3- to 4½-ton truck.

OHIO COUPLE VISITS GRAVE OF SISTER WHO DIED IN STANTON 40 YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kelly, had as their guests Sunday afternoon and night, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reikowsky, of North Canton, Ohio. The meeting between the Kellys and the Reikowskys, came about when Mr. Reikowsky approached Mr. and Mrs. Kelly as they were driving into the driveway of their home, introducing himself, and inquiring the way to the Catholic cemetery. He had a sister who died here 40 years ago and was buried in that cemetery. Her name was Sister Mary Magdolene, a Sister in the convent, became Sister Mary Magdolene. She served in that capacity with the convent until her death in 1912, according to Mr. Reikowsky.

During World War II, a young air corpsman, stationed at Mathew Field, San Angelo, appeared at the Kelly home, the former Catholic convent, inquiring the direction to the Catholic cemetery. He said he had been instructed by his father to visit the grave of his father's sister while he was near Stanton. This fact was mentioned by the Kellys during their relating to the Reikowskys incidents where tourists passing through Stanton had called at the Kelly home informing them they had at one time many years back attended the Academy. Mr. Reikowsky stated the young airman referred to was his son, Louis P. Reikowsky. Asked how the result of the Republican Presidential Convention was taken by the people of Ohio, Mr. Reikowsky said: "It was a stunning blow to Senator Taft and the voters of Ohio, who were positive he had the nomination wrapped up in a bag."

Mrs. Reikowsky is a kodak fan and took some snapshots around the Kelly home, as well as the interior to show their many North Canton, Ohio friends the building that was once the Catholic Convent in Stanton, which was built over 60 years ago. Coming to town they spied the road sign that has attracted the tourists traveling on Highway 80, and is publicized over so wide an area of the U. S., drew much comment from them. Mrs. Reikowsky was not about to miss "shooting" that sign to have a picture of it to show friends. Mr. Reikowsky is a machinist with the Hoover Vacuum Cleaner factory, that is located at North Canton, Ohio. He has been an employee of the company for 35 years and was off on his two weeks' vacation. Mr. Reikowsky said they made the trip for one purpose only, that was to visit the grave of his sister buried in the Catholic cemetery in Stanton. They traveled 1600 miles by auto to Stanton, coming by the way of Memphis, Tenn., cutting off there to Shreveport, Dallas, Fort Worth to Stanton. They left Monday morning on their return trip home going by the way of Wichita Falls, Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

Mr. Reikowsky said the Hoover Vacuum company employed 2,000 workmen.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

GUILFORD (GIL) JONES

When is it time for a change in Public Officials?
It is always time if you are not satisfied with the conduct of the office.

Personally, I believe as a general rule, two terms in public office are enough regardless of whether the first term was appointive or elective.

Is it now the time for a change in the District Attorney's Office? You will answer that question election day.

I believe it is probably true that "a new broom sweeps just a little cleaner."

ABOUT ASSISTANCE

Shivers wrote and helped Age Assistance Law in for equitable distribution of funds for the needy.

Two years ago he was one of the leaders who tried to get more money for the aged, a cause that failed because the voters disapproved a constitutional amendment.

Governor Shivers has, in the past and will in the future, advocate making available to our deserving aged citizens not merely enough for a meager existence, but sufficient funds to carry them through the evening years of life as proud, dignified citizens.

An increase of $5 in each pension check is due next October.

THE TRUTH ABOUT COUNTY ROAD FUNDS

Farm-to-market road building has been the greatest in history during the Shivers administration.

During Governor Shivers' administration, Martin County has received $714,284 rural road benefits from state highway user taxes as follows:

License fees $108,849, road bond surplus $51,135, construction of farm-to-market roads $392,300, authorized but not under construction $90,000.

In this county, 38 miles of farm-to-market roads have been built, and an additional 17 miles have been authorized for construction, for a total of 55 miles.

Governor Shivers' administration has consistently supported the Martin County road building program and will continue to do so in the future.

Together we will continue to build a greater Texas
