OPERATED FILLING STATION AND ICE HOUSE IN STANTON IN EARLY 1920'S

A former Stanton boy came back to town last Thursday afternoon to spend a short time visiting old friends, that brought back to the memory of citizens living here then in the days of the early 1920's.

Johnny Whitson, came down from his home at Texhoma, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Whitson, living in Midland, as well as a brother, Willis Whitson, and to make a side trip to Stanton to visit his many old friends.

Johnny and his brother, Willis, operated the Gulf Service Station and ice house, then located on the property where the Louder Electric now stands. The business was operated by the Whitson brothers from the early 1920's into the 1930's when the brothers disposed of their business, Johnny and his wife moving to Oklahoma City and Willis moving to Midland.

In those days the little 2x4 icehouse connected to the filling station, was the scene of much business activity in the summer time. There were a scant few refrigerators and ice boxes in the homes of Stanton citizens and in the homes of the people living in the rural section. The method most generally used in conserving the ice in those days, was to wrap the hunk or cake of ice in a wet blanket. If you had an ice box the ice was placed in it wrapped in a wet cloth, and the milk and the butter placed on top of the ice. Not always did you have ice in the home, and to keep the milk and butter fresh as long as possible they were placed in a receptacle in fresh cold water. The items covered over with a wet cloth and placed in the window where the wind would strike the receptacle.

The heavy demand for ice in the summer forced Johnny or Willis Whitson to make frequent trips to the ice factories in Midland and Big Spring to replenish their rapidly depleted stock on hot summer days.

Sunday, usually, was a day for selling an extra poundage of ice due to its demand to use in making home made ice cream in a freezer turned by hand for company at Sunday dinner. Now most every home in Stanton and the country surrounding boasts of an ice box that manufactures its own ice, and if ice cream is wanted to serve with dinner or for party refreshments, we go to the drug store and buy any amount desired, packed in a paper carton.

Johnny Whitson is a wheat farmer at Texhoma. His farm is located on the border line of Texas and Kansas. Last year, Whitson said the wheat crop was a failure, due to the lack of moisture at the proper time, and this year the crop was a failure because of the drought. "Losing two wheat crops in succession, hurts badly," said Whitson.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Whitson, the parents, lived in Stanton during the time their sons lived here, and only a few years ago they moved to Midland to make their home. Willis Whitson is the owner and operator of the Whitson Grocery in Midland. And just to pull up stakes and leave Stanton, Willis wasn't satisfied until he "stole" one of Stanton's favored daughters, Miss Agnes Louder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Louder, pioneer residents of Martin County.

children of Midland and Mr. and Mrs. Leston Edwards of Snyder.

Mrs. Mozelle Sparkman of Elk City, Okla., visited Monday in Stanton in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Edwards.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Eiland visited last week in Waco and Franklin, in the home of Mrs. Bill Clements.

Mrs. J. E. Falls and Mrs. A. J. Young of Snyder, were visitors last week in the homes of Mrs. W. W. Eiland and Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Eiland.

Mrs. Wayne Mattney of Odessa, and Mrs. Gene Clements of Courtney, visited last week in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ethridge.

Mrs. Alvis Brewer and Mrs. Jack Arrington were visitors in Midland Thursday.

HUGE CATFISH TAKEN IN NETS

AUSTIN—A crew supervised by Game Warden Bert Iverson of Throckmorton, seized 57 big catfish when Woodson Lake shrank from 320 to 20 acres because of dry weather.

The fish, all yellow cats, ranged in size from 21 to 105 pounds. A few channel cats, crappie and black bass also rescued were taken to the Possum Kingdom hatchery by Hatchery Superintendent Harmon Henderson. Since seining is legal in Throckmorton County and since the big fish were taken from private waters, they were distributed among the men who manned the boats and seines.

When the lake was created 28 years ago it was stocked with cats taken from the Clear Fork of the Brazos River. For many years it provided good fishing but dry weather reduced it to a shallow mudhole.

BIG BANG for the Bored Car Owner

Have you ever driven a Buick SPECIAL?

Do you know how it feels to touch off the most powerful engine you'll find in any car of its pounds and price?

Do you know that it almost steers itself—holds its course like an airliner on the beam—even comes back on course after taking a turn?

Do you know that there's silken magic in its Dynaflo Drive*?

Do you know how many miles it can get from a gallon of gas?

Do you know that it has a Million Dollar Ride?

Mister, if you haven't found out such things, you're missing a lot of fun every mile you drive.

You're missing the fun of bossing around a big hoodful of high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball 8 Engine.

You're missing the fun—and comfort—of riding on four big, soft, easy-acting coil springs.

You're missing the fun of feeling daisy-fresh with half-a-thousand thrilling miles behind you.

You're missing, in short, the fun of owning a Buick.

And it's nobody's fault but yours because—at the prices we're asking for this beauty—you can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car.

How about checking up on what you've been missing?

HERE'S A BOOST TO YOUR ALREADY INFLATED POCKETBOOK

The Washington Report, a weekly publication published by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, dropped on the desk in the news room of The Stanton Reporter this week, had a piece of statistical news that caught the eye of this reporter and made it blink in rapid succession. It was that the Federal taxes had jumped 1,072 per cent in 12 years. The Federal tax load for 1952 amounted to $1,389 per American family compared with $1,196 at the peak of World War II tax collections and as compared with $122 per family as recently as 1940.

The question arising in this reporter's mind is, how much higher can taxes go and how much longer can Mr. Average Citizen pay his tax, before the law of gravity sets in? The length of time a $5 bill lies undisturbed in this reporter's bill fold is the length of time he remains seated at his desk after the boss has handed him his week's wages. The minute he closes the office door on his back and steps out on the street the $5 greenback begins to turn and twist to escape its confinement, and succeeds in about 30 minutes after the reporter has reached the business area.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves and Mrs. G. A. Bridges visited last week in Big Spring in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Bridges.

J. T. RUTHERFORD DEFEATS HILL HUDSON FOR STATE SENATOR

In the state senatorial race in district 29, J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, defeated Hill Hudson of Pecos, in Saturday's primary election by over 3,000 votes.

It will be remembered by Martin county voters that Rutherford represented the 88th district in the Legislature. Martin County then was in that district prior to the redistricting of Texas by the legislature. Redistricting threw Rutherford in the new senatorial district carved out. Seeking to arise a step higher in the State Legislature, Rutherford announced for the State Senate, and was elected.

Redistricting threw Martin County in the 101st State Legislative District, and Obie Bristow of Big Spring, was elected our Representative in the Legislature without opposition.

SERGEANT SHELLBURNE VISITS STANTON ON WAY TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

FROM WHERE I SIT

By HILA WEATHERS
 Manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce

OUR MEMBER OF THE WEEK

We are proud to present our newest wholesale business enterprise, that of the National Brands Wholesale, owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. Wes Ward. They are known to us, and will be known to you as "Wes and Helen." They use their home at 601 Burleson as headquarters for this area, and have salesmen who offer nationally known brands of drug sundries, tobaccos, candies and other items. They have another outlet in Sweetwater, and have long been recognized as efficient and prompt in all their dealings. We do appreciate their affiliation, as we feel they can do much over the area to let others know of the advantages and opportunities in Stanton and Martin County.

IT WAS AN HONOR TO HAVE Dr. M. A. Watts to pay a visit to the office last week. Dr. and Mrs. Watts recently moved to Stanton. He has offices at the Martin County Memorial Hospital. We are happy to welcome this family, and hope living here will be pleasant and successful for them.

ANOTHER VISITOR WAS A Martin County farmer, Pete

Morrison, who has helped us quite often with our housing problems. Pete owns a nice cottage here and we appreciate his confidence in our selection of tenants for him. We shall continue to do our best.

WE ARE MIGHTY HAPPY over the fact that there are a great number of "good will ambassadors" living in our county. We know, because there have been several families who make out-of-State vacation trips, and most of them have come by the office to get a car-sticker; they'll carry the message of "welcome" to far flung points. DO hope that all will have highly satisfactory and pleasant vacation trips and return safely.

WE ATTENDED A HAPPY affair last Thursday night, when Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peters honored Dr. J. Leonard Dixon with a barbecue picnic at their home west of Stanton. Several of the hospital personnel and friends were invited. We're happy we were included. Really, Paul Peters must have a secret in preparing barbecue, as that was about the best we've tasted. Mr. and Mrs. Hoot Tom were there, as Mrs. Tom had cooked the GOOD red beans, like they should be cooked. And onions, Oh, my goodness, but what would barbecue be without onions? I'll never know, I've never tried it. The associations nice, and the affair was altogether highly successful.

AND SPEAKING OF DR. J. Leonard Dixon, reminds us of the fact that every person has an event of "once in a life-time." Now, it seems to us that "once-in-a-life-time" of a town, there is one special event that stands out above all others. In this instance, the event of the coming of Dr. Dixon to Stanton will not soon be forgotten by the countless numbers of people who have benefitted under his broad specialized experience in the genuine interest in each individual patient, and his personal kindness and understanding of all with whom he came in contact. Yes, Dr. Dixon is the "once in a life-time" for Martin County. And we DO wish for him and Mrs. Dixon much happiness and success in their new home in California.

YES, THE FIELD TRIP DIRECTED by the Agriculture and Livestock Committee of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, was about all that it could have been. Our congratulations to Ray Hastings, chairman, upon his well planned tour. The trip was so successful that another trip is being planned for August, and will cover other sections of the county and trade territory. Plan now to make that trip. The following local business men made the trip: R. C. Vest, representing the Farm Equipment & Supply Co.; Guy A. Eiland, representing the First National Bank; James Jones, of the James Jones Hardware; Bill Ethridge, of the Ethridge & Rhodes Motor Co.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Arrington, of the Arrington Funeral Home; Horace Blocker, of the Blocker Motor Co.; James Eiland, of the Cap Rock Electric Co.-Op; E. F. White, of the White Motor Co.; Cecil Bridges, Texas Electric Service; S. W. Wheeler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and of the Wheeler Motor Co.; W. R. Butcher, of Stanton Implement Co.; Earl Douglas, Farmers Cooperative Society; Charles Daniels of FMA; Martin Vavra and Steve Ravensett from the Soil Conservation Service of Martin County; G. P. Ross, represented both the Midland Reporter-Telegram and The Stanton Reporter; Elbert Steele, teacher of VA and Director of the FFA; Bruce Frazier, Coordinator of the Veterans Vocational School. Others were Mrs. Flora Rogers, Mrs. F. O. Rhodes, J. C. Sale and son, Jimmie; Sam Houston, Curtis Erwin, W. A. Douglas, Owen Kelly and children, Bobbie and Sandra. Out-of-towners making the trip included Cal Boykin, Jr., of the Soil Conservation Service in Midland; Burward Lewters, Howard County Agent, and son, Life, of Big Spring; Franklin

Reynolds, representing the Big Spring Daily Herald; and Geo. Kelley, of the Universal Feed Mills of Fort Worth. It was my pleasure to represent the Martin County Chamber of Commerce. Please read the full account of the trip in a special article in this newspaper.

Dear Friends:

I wish to thank all of you for the confidence placed in me by the large vote I received in the Democratic primary. I am deeply grateful to you and I am especially proud of the Overwhelming majority I received at Lenora and Tarzan, where I am known best.

Due to a limited amount of money and the short time between now and the run-off, it will be impossible for me to see each of you and talk to you personally. I do, however, earnestly invite each of you to check my background and my experience as a book-keeper and as a peace officer.

Again I wish to thank each of you who supported me and respectfully solicit your continued support and confidence.

I hope the conduct of my campaign has been such that I will be worthy of the votes of all in the run-off on August 23rd.

Sincerely,
Dan Saunders

The water in the wells and shuts off the water flowing down the ditches to irrigate his land, yet with irrigation, he is safe from suffering a total crop loss by drouth.

But back to dry farming. The best I know about it, was when I walked two miles from our farm home to school every morning and back again in the evening, every day but Saturday and Sunday, during the three month school term. My dinner pail was filled with meat, vegetables, fruits, and bread, all raised on the farm. The wheat and the corn raised on the farm were milled into corn meal and flour that mother kneaded into light bread, rolls, and corn pone that nestled in my dinner pail. Generally, my bread was buttered from milk provided by milk cows fed on home-grown feed and grazed on grasses in pastures and on a growing wheat field in the winter.

My home folks were diversification farmers . . . milk cows, hogs, chickens, fruit orchard, grape vineyard, berry bushes, Indian corn, wheat, and oats, poultry, eggs, good old fresh buttermilk to drink, my reward for turning the barrel-type churn. The old farm produced enough poultry, eggs, and butter for home consumption, and to sell on the market for a little cash and to exchange for dress goods and material to make my shirts and darn my sox, and once in a while enough to buy me a 75c felt hat. Drouths, would strike our farm, too, wiping out crops, but my farm folk prepared for that time by always having plenty of feed stored away in granaries and feed stacks for the livestock, and vegetables, fruits canned and stacked in the cellar, and homegrown meat stored and salted down in the storage room. I'm certain if the Martin County farmer would move away from this one crop method of farming and diversify his crops and provide to tide over a future drouth by storing away surplus crop production, raise his own meat for home consumption, he would be a much happier and contented farmer, and never have room to complain that he chose the wrong avocation.

ONE OF MY "UNPARDONABLE faults," I meet up with in this line of business I'm associated, is to give space in this column to mention the name of a local citizen who gets himself in the way of a newshound that is out on the prowl for another newspaper and gets himself mentioned in that neighbor newspaper. It was a pleasing news item that Stanley Reynolds, recently, had in his "Grub Line" column in the Big Spring Daily Herald. Reynolds was "chousing" around about the country districts in Martin County, and came in contact with a farmer who Reynolds said was "reported to be riding the political trail as hard as if he were a candidate." Continuing Reynolds said, "he is R. S. Lewis, a brother of my friend Glenn R. Lewis of San Angelo, who is a candidate for the Texas Supreme Court, and a mighty fine man, good lawyer and a veteran of World War II." Then Reynolds added: "Mrs. R. S. Lewis is the former Kathleen McCreless, of Stanton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCreless." And, "incidentally," Reynolds said, "the Big Spring Daily Herald has editorially endorsed Glenn Lewis for the Supreme Court—a mighty good choice!" Well, what is the matter with his brother, R. S. Lewis, being a mighty good man. He is one of Stanton's "close in" highly respected young farmers, residing on the Jim McCreless farm, a few miles west of here. And to prove that "R.S." carries on his shoulders as level head as the Daily Herald said his brother, Glenn Lewis did in its supporting editorial, he chose one of Martin County's fairest daughters, Kathleen McCreless to be his wife. I have known Kathleen ever since she was a little girl going to school with her hair done up in ribbon bows.

CAMPAIGN WILL BE HARD FOUGHT

The first thing General Eisenhower did after witnessing his victory on TV was to call on Senator Taft. The significance of this goes beyond the gracious gesture factor. For, if there is to be a Republican victory next November, it is clear that there must be far more unity within the party than exists now. The wounds that were inflicted before and during the convention are deep and painful. It is General Eisenhower's difficult task to heal them.

Senator Taft made the generous response that was expected of him, by saying he would do everything in his power to help the GOP candidate win, and to help him afterwards as President. No one doubts that Taft will do exactly this, to the limit of his very great capabilities. But many of the Taft men, and to a greater extent the hard core of MacArthur men, have demonstrated a very different attitude.

Their anger, it is true, is not directed so much at Eisenhower as it is at those who managed his campaign and fought to a victorious conclusion without giving or asking quarter—notably Governor Dewey. Many think Eisenhower could not have beaten Taft without the enormously skillful work of Dewey and the Dewey lieutenants from New York. Only about two weeks before the convening of the convention it was evident that the General's political star was sinking, and it was then that what amounted to an SOS was sent to the Governor. What he accomplished deserves a permanent place in political history. He demonstrated again what even his bitterest enemies have long admitted—that when the chips are finally down in a tough political game, no one plays his cards better.

It may be that one of the major Republican assets is, in a sense, a negative one. In informed party circles, there is none of the blind confidence that characterized the 1948 campaign and led to the debacle. And there is every reason, despite the great personal appeal of Eisenhower, why this should be the case. It is probably true that almost everybody likes Ike. His is a remarkable success story in the old American tradition, and he caps it off with as warm and engaging a personality as anyone could ask for. At the same time, this is not enough to assure or even make probable his election. The Democrats have great advantages. They lead the Republicans by a wide margin in registrations. For 20 years they have demonstrated an ability to attract most of the independent voters who hold the balance of power. If he is to win, Eisenhower must get virtually 100 per cent of the regular Republican vote, a substantial majority of the independent vote, and some of the registered Democratic vote. That is a large order. It will take a real campaigner and a real campaign on the part of all concerned to accomplish it.

Eisenhower's success at Chicago was, in large measure, based on the thought that he alone of the possible candidates could lift, inspire, and gain the confidence and support of the masses of voters. The reason for this was well expressed in a Wall Street Journal editorial: "Many Americans have thought of Mr. Eisenhower as their President because he seems to express and embody that for which their hearts hunger. He is a man who in a cynical age does not fear to believe in simple things, who holds to the copy book maxims. He talks sincerely of love of country. He is proud of his past and believes intensely that its future lies in adhering to the traditions that made it great."

That, very likely, is Candidate Eisenhower's greatest single asset.

A RIGHT AND A DUTY

The Non-Partisan Retailers' Nationwide Get-Out-The-Vote Committee has come up with a catchy and excellent slogan this year. It is "Vote As You Please—But Please Vote."

The coming election is of tremendous importance—it will determine the fateful courses that this nation will take in domestic and foreign policy. On both sides, the candidates, their managers, and their partisans have promised driving, fighting campaigns. Far-reaching and opposed philosophies of government are the real stake in this election. It will be a tragedy if the decision is made, as in the past, by a minority of our people.

Over the centuries, rivers of blood have been shed in the fight for the right of franchise—the right to a secret ballot. For this is the first and the last defense against tyranny. Without the right to vote as conscience and mind dictates, men are slaves—the servants of ruthless masters whose powers know no limit.

We have the right—yet it is common in this country for but half or less of the eligible voters to go to the polling booth on election day. One vote doesn't matter, they say. Yet a bare handful of votes can determine crucial contests—as recently as 1940 a U. S. Senator was elected by a margin of just 20 votes in the huge state of Texas. And when the "my vote doesn't matter" attitude is held by millions of people, we have government by the minority, and no one can say that the will of the people is dominant.

Vote As You Please—But Please Vote.

Bible Comment:

It's Time for Us To Face the Liquor Problem Honestly

There is, of course, a distinction between total abstinence and temperance or moderation, and it is foolish not to recognize it. But the line between temperance and intemperance in drinking is very thin.

Intemperance is such a curse, so accompanied with evil and tragedy, that there is an advantage in being completely free from, if not actually against, a commodity and a traffic that unquestionably has serious aspects for many individuals and homes, and for society.

Whatever we think of these things today, there isn't much question where the Bible stands. Its denunciations and warnings in the matter of strong drink are many and explicit. The Scripture passages make this plain. "Wine is a mocker; strong drink is raging; and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise." Modern, as well as ancient, experience bears that out. Strong drink has made fools out of some otherwise very able and wise men.

The Bible warns by example as well as precept. Back in 1919, at Grand Rapids, Mich., during a meeting of the Congregational National Council, Dr. Charles E. Jefferson, famous minister of Broadway Tabernacle in New York, preached a powerful sermon on Noah. He described a world washed clean by the flood, with a chance to build anew, but in that day of opportunity Noah got drunk.

It was a parable for that world emerging from World War I. It is a parable for the world of today. The problems of our planet are not all associated with strong drink, but it is not a sober world that is facing them.

We have been hearing a lot about our inadequately supported schools and our ill-paid teachers, but we are spending more nationally for strong drink than we are for education. As long as that is true, can we be said to be adequately prepared for world leadership?

It is time that we faced the liquor question, with calmness and moderation if you will, but with common sense and courage. Too many are saying in this matter, "Evil, be thou my good."

DOWN MEMORY LANE

Questions and Answers

Q—I am a school teacher and a World War II veteran. I took GI Bill training last summer, and I expected to continue this summer. But I became ill and will have to stay in bed for a couple of months. Will I be able to go ahead with my studies next summer, or will I lose out because I skipped a summer?

A—You will be permitted to continue with your GI studies next summer, since this summer's interruption has been for a reason beyond your control. Of course, you must continue to be employed as a teacher during consecutive regular school years.

Q—I am a peacetime veteran, having gone into service after World War II and having been discharged before Korea. I have a service-connected disability for which I draw compensation. May I have this disability treated by VA on an outpatient basis?

A—A veteran may be furnished outpatient treatment by VA for any compensable service-connected disability, whether incurred during wartime or peacetime service.

Q—Is it possible to pay GI insurance premiums in advance, rather than on a monthly basis?

A—Yes. If you pay in advance, you save a certain amount every year. Payments in advance may be made either quarterly, semi-annually or annually.

TEXAS POLIO OUTBREAK PULLING HEAVILY ON THE PURSE STRINGS OF TNFIP

Some 18 or 20 cases of polio in Martin County this year, is providing a share of the drain on the purse strings of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The National Foundation has already for this year 1952, poured into Texas the sum of $635,630, and from reports of new polio cases developing every day, the end of drawing heavily on the funds of the National Foundation, is not in sight.

Among the polio cases Stanton has provided this year the severity of most of the cases has been in mild form. One case of death from polio has been assessed against Stanton this week.

INCREASED SOCIAL SECURITY PAYMENTS DUE

Many people in the Stanton area will receive higher social security payments beginning early in October as a result of the social security amendments which President Truman signed into law last July 18.

Jack B. Calvert, manager of the Odessa social security office, emphasized that no one needs to apply for the increased payments. "The Social Security Administration is already changing the amounts," he pointed out. "We expect to get them changed in time to have them in the mail October 3, the regular delivery date, but if in a few cases we don't meet that schedule we'll send the regular check and make up the difference in a later check."

Mr. Calvert pointed out that although nearly every family receiving payments would receive an increase, the additional amount would not always be divided among all the members of the family receiving monthly checks. In some cases the entire increase will go to the retired worker.

Under terms of the law, most families will get an increase of about $5.00; some will get less, some will get more. A few benefits now being paid, and most of those payable in the future, will be based on earnings after 1950.

instead of after 1936. The amended law provides a new formula for determining the amount of the payments in these cases. Under it, a retired worker's monthly benefit would be 55% of the first $100 of his average monthly earnings plus 15% of the remainder up to $300.

Combination Heater-Light Warms Small Home Areas

BY EDNA MILES

OF the new electrical appliances that make life easier and, as a result more fun, there is one utility fixture that gives a maximum return for the money spent. And to the family fighting the battle of the budget, this is indeed welcome news.

A new combination all-electric ceiling heater, overhead light and air circulator is designed to eliminate the hazards of the ordinary wall or portable auxiliary heater. It's installed in the ceiling for the utmost in safety.

This places it, of course, beyond the reach of children's hands and eliminates the chance of burns or shocks suffered from backing into an ordinary heater.

A fan draws the air from the ceiling, pulls it through the unit and thus heats it and forces it down into the room where it is circulated for uniform comfort from floor to ceiling. Thus, it's ideal for bathrooms, bedrooms, nurseries, recreation rooms or other small areas requiring heat, light and air circulation.

Besides all its other advantages this utility appliance fits into the decor of a room, unobtrusively lending beauty to it.

SUPREME COURT SETS DATE TO HEAR UNDERGROUND WATER DISTRICT CASE

A second round in the hearing of the case of the Martin County Underground Water District, has been set for Oct. 29. In the first trial of the case March 22, the judge of the 126th district court, Austin, ruled against the Martin County water district, and the case was appealed to the Texas Supreme Court. The State Board of Water Engineers, is joined with the Martin County water district in the suit.

Following the organization of the Martin County Underground Water Conservation District . . . election of officers . . . adopting plans of operation for the district . . . the Colorado River Municipal Water District, organized to build a huge dam and reservoir on the Colorado river to compound water, (if it ever rained enough), to provide water for the cities of Big Spring, Snyder, and Odessa, filed suit against the Martin district. The trial was held in the 126th district court, Austin, and the judge held against the Martin County Underground Water Conservation District.

Before the suit was filed and the trial was heard, the CRMWD had drilled some 13 wells in the underground water district of Martin County and was laying pipe to carry water from these wells to Odessa. And as the matter now stands Odessa is receiving 5,000,000 gallons of water daily from 13 or more wells that have been drilled in the Martin County water district. It is reported that sometime in the early days of this month, August, pipe will have been laid from the Martin County wells to Big Spring, which city hopes to draw 8,000,000 gallons daily from these wells. That will put a pressure on these wells of 13,000,000 gallons of water daily going to Odessa and Big Spring.

ERRING ANGLERS BOOST ARRESTS

The major factor in the June arrest report concerned violations of the fishing code, according to the Director of Law Enforcement for the Texas Game & Fish Commission.

He said all but 76 of the 305 prosecutions for the month involved fishing law violations. One hundred and one persons were charged with lacking ordinary fishing licenses.

Forty two persons were arrested for selling fish without a license. Ten used illegal nets or seines.

The 305 cases reported result-

Philosopher Says: Convention Over, Work to be Done

Dear editor:

Now that the Democrats have nominated their man, I'll say this for a national political convention, those delegates keep some of the longest hours I ever heard of, don't believe I'd care for that kind of work, the advantage of listening in by radio instead of attending in person is that you can get a break from the speeches occasionally listen to the commercials, but what I started out to say was that now that the Democrats have nominated their man and the race has leveled off to a contest between Stevenson and Eisenhower, I do not intend to get over-heated in the coming campaign months.

I don't have any idea which candidate is gonna win, but I have an idea that Johnson grass out here is gonna grow just as rank under either party.

WHO'S NOT A JAN FAN?—Cooling off by the sea, lovely film star Jan Sterling adorns the California coast so beguilingly that she should have no trouble attracting new admirers.

Also, regardless of who gets elected, I do not believe that: Taxes are gonna be outlawed. Russia is gonna start tellin the truth.

Crop pests are gonno to decrease.

Parkin places are gonna increase.

Rainfall is gonna be controlled to where you can tell it.

Radio programs are gonna be much different.

Usin a hoe is gonna be made more delightful.

Fillibustres are gonna get better.

W o m e n drivers are gonna get better.

Banks loans are gonna get easier for me.

Spinach is gonna taste any different.

Monthly payments are gonna come around less often.

Gasoline is gonna be sold on the downpayment plan.

The international situation is gonna change.

In short, while there's lots that the next administration can do, there'll still be a lot I'll never get around to doin and it's still gonna be up to the individual to do the best he can, which in my case don't make too good a showing but it suits me. I've never enjoyed swingin a hoe, regardless of who's President.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

OWNER-OPERATOR OF EAT SHOP HERE 13 YEARS

Thirteen years is a long time to be owner and operator of one business, but come Saturday this will be the length of time Mrs. Larry Morris has owned and operated the Eat Shop in Stanton. Mrs. Morris purchased the business from the late Wayne Moffett and Mrs. Marguerite Moffett.

The building was a small stucco connected with a larger stucco building, operated as a filling station. The buildings were built and owned by the Conoco Oil Co. and were located on the corner lot where the new First National Bank now stands.

Soon after the purchase of the property by Paul Jones, Mrs. Morris moved her Eat Shop to its present location.

Mrs. Morris paid $12 a month rent at the start of her new business venture and when she moved her new location she was paying $35 a month, and now her rent is $40 a month but located in larger and more convenient quarters.

Mrs. Morris served steak for 50c, now $1.00; T-bone steak, 50c and 75c, now $1.50; hamburger sandwich 10c, ham sandwich, 15c now they are 30c and 35c. Hot dog sandwich, then was 5c.

Miss Mildred Wright was the very efficient and accommodating helper for Mrs. Morris in the operation of her Eat Shop, working in that capacity for Mrs. Morris, eleven years. Miss Mildred Wright is now Mrs. E. E. Alexander and living in El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Tillman Morgan and Noble Morgan of Stanton, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morgan of Claud visited this week in Midland in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Morgan.
