

Reporter Second Best West Texas Newspaper

Second place in general excellence awarded to newspapers with under 2,000 circulation was presented to the Stanton Reporter this past weekend at the 22nd annual convention of the West Texas Press Association held in Alpine.

Marvin Hunter, Jr. of the Baird Star was named president of the organization for the coming year while W. H. (Bill) Collyns of The Midland Reporter-Telegram was elevated to the first vice-presidency.

The Wink Bulletin was awarded first place in the general excellence contest. The Reporter was next and The Baird Star and The Matador Tribune ran third and fourth in that order.

J. E. Kelly, editor of the Stanton Reporter, represented this newspaper at the convention and received the award. Kelly attended the meeting with Collyns.

Tortoise Causes 'Hair' To Stand on End

By JOHN ROUCHE

SURPRISED? You bet we were.

We were called to the phone, a calm, soothing masculine voice informed us that a package was delivered and placed in our auto. Bubbling over with eagerness, we retrieved the package and read the senders address: The Atomic Energy Commission, Willow Run, Tenn. All of a sudden we became so cautious that we were downright awkward. Eventually we decided it was no sample bomb, but a rattle snake from some admiring "friend" therefore, we hastened to the alley and procured a long pole with which to open the parcel. At length the wrapper was stripped off and the lid opened. Cautiously we approached the gaping opening of the box for a snatched-glance at the monster that must be within the confines of that cardboard box. A silver-like bubble appeared in the dark recess of the northwest corner. Jumping hurriedly backward on spasmodic reflex, we announced our puzzled finding. Creeping stealthily up for the second peek, we discovered the true identity of the imprisoned creature. It was a dry land terrapin which had been artistically painted to resemble the flying saucer that met with so much publicity in last week's issue of the Stanton Reporter.

We are trying to teach the pretty little thing to fly, but we are afraid our efforts are futile. Flying saucers must be made of lighter animals and just shaped like turtles to confuse you.

VOLUNTEERS TURN OUR FOR BLAZE ON SOUTH SIDE

Stanton Volunteer Firemen rushed to the scene of a burning outdoor privy Saturday morning, but were too late to save much of the burning structure.

The privy, which belongs to Dan McDonald, caught fire around 9:45 a. m. and the blaze was reported by Mrs. C. D. Camp to one of her neighbors. The neighbor reported the fire to the city hall.

Bob Deavenport, Henry Louder, Dave Bauh, Walter Graves and Ed Seago were volunteers who turned out to the fire.

Texas Mu Lambda Meets in Home of Barbara Smith

Texas Mu Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its sixth meeting Thursday in the home of Barbara Smith.

A complete review of the history of Beta Sigma Phi was discussed by the chapter.

Those present were Virginia Dickson, Betty Haywood, Ouida Henson, Margie Ireton, Maxine Martin, Vivian Rogers, Joanna Webb, Cora Beth White, Ruth Supalver, Sue Standefer and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held August 21 in the home of Maxine Martin.

4-H Girls Prepare Material For District Contest

Six Martin County 4-H Club girls have completed their record books which will be sent to Ft. Stockton for judging in the district Six 4-H club contest.

Those winning the district contest will be awarded trips to attend the annual State 4-H convention, which will be held in September.

Entries for the district contest must be in by Sept. 1.

Winners in the state contest will be entitled to another trip to the National 4-H Congress to be held in Chicago, Nov. 30-Dec. 4.

Martin County entries to date include Mary Ivy Henson, who is entered in the clothing achievement contest, Nell Hogg, an entry in the farm and home electric judging, and Jo Jon Hall, a leadership contestant.

Beanie McCoy, who entered her record book in the girls record contest, Lorene Burns, a foods preparations entry, and Mary Lynn Hamilton, a contestant in the general records judging, and others who have entered the district meet.

Martin County as a whole will enter a record book in the National 4-H Recreation and Rural Arts program.

If the county is one of the 50 in the state to receive recognition, it will be awarded twenty-five dollars plus recreational material. All 4-H clubs in the county help in preparing material for this county contest.

One individual has entered the National 4-H Recreation and Rural Arts program. He is Tom Ed Angel, who just recently returned from teaching leathercraft in a boys camp.

Ticklers

"Hope Mac doesn't tell everybody about our shower. We don't want a lot of riff-raff comin' in here."

GONE SWIMMIN'—Humphrey comes up from a plunge in his private swimming pool at San Francisco's Fleishhacker zoo to tell us that he may not look too bright but at least he has enough sense to stay in the water during this kind of weather. If the truth be known, Humphrey, like most of us, would appreciate a cake of ice to sit on.

CAMERA CATCHES CATCHER'S FLIGHT—Seeming to hover over home plate, catcher Paul Navarro of the Mexico City team descends too late to tag Rene Gonzalez of the Veracruz Aguilas who steals home safely. The zooming catcher made up for the late tag when he singled home the winning run later in the game, giving his team a 3-4 win of the contest played in Mexico City.

Morale Is A Woman's Business

Morale—at the national, community and home levels—is a woman's business, according to Charles Revson who has been studying feminine foibles on five continents over the past 20 years. It isn't only how women feel, talk and act but how other people feel about them that strengthens or weakens the country's morale and Mr. Revson whose Revlon Products Corporation is the world's largest company in the cosmetic field believes that now is the time when it is so important for women to be at their best so their morale-influence is high.

For a woman, beauty products finish the job where nature left off and the final luxurious lilt is the aura of fragrance around her. When Mr. Revson decided to add a fragrance mist to the company's line, his research chemists experimented with many scents and then after long experiments they perfected a bouquet that is like a lovely garden with dew still on the buds. They called it Aquamarine Mist and women everywhere accepted it immediately. Some splash it on after a shower, others spray it over them before they slip on their dresses and there are those who whisk it on with fingertips after they are dressed. While it has the lingering loveliness of a treasured perfume because it is concentrated, it can be used lavishly because of its inexpensiveness.

PHONE BOOK REVELATION

WASHINGTON—The extent to which the federal government now sprawls across the land is disclosed by an examination of telephone book listings in cities and towns.

Senator Homer Ferguson revealed the fact that in most places federal agency listings exceed those of the states. His hobby is to check federal and state listings when he has idle time on his hands.

"Once," said the Senator, "I happened to be in the moderate sized city of Bangor, Maine. In looking up a number I saw a long listing of federal government numbers. They counted up to 45. I turned to the state government listings and found that they numbered only 17."

"My curiosity was aroused. When I returned home the first thing I did was to open the Detroit telephone book so as to make the same comparison there. I found 214 federal listings and 119 for the state of Michigan. I next picked up a directory issued by the telephone company for Detroit's suburban area of small places. In those little towns there were 30 telephones for Uncle Sam and 17 for the state of Michigan.

"The ratio appears to run about the same in most cities and towns that I visited."

LIGHTNING STRIKES STANTON WOMAN MONDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Rdy Kelly of Belvue Motel didn't need a stove to cook on Monday night.

A "ball of fire," caused by lightning striking a transformer across the road, came rushing into the kitchen where Mrs. Kelly was cooking, burning her left arm and shoulder and knocking her out.

Mrs. Kelly was cooking a meal for Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Watts and family when the lightning struck. She said the "ball of fire" ran from the light pole outside and came out an electric switch located six feet from where she was standing.

A small spark hit her left arm and right shoulder and left her dazed for about an hour and a half. However, she has felt no ill effects since then.

Philosopher Says: Television Never Take Place of Handshake

Dear editor:
A bunch of us was sittin around out here the other day discussin politics and how radio and television have changed campaign methods.
"Campaignin is a lot easier now," one man argued. "All you have to do is sit in an air-condit i o n e d studio with a speech somebody else wrote for you and be seen and heard by millions of voters. Everybody gets to see what you look like. Can't fool the public any more."
I do not exactly look at it this way, that is, I got confidence in some candidates' ability to fool the public regardless of how much progress science makes, but I also got confidence in the public's ability to fool the candidates, and it's for that reason candidates shouldn't put all their faith in reachin the people over radio and television.
For example, we can see Washington, but Washington can't see us. I know what Eisenhower and Stevenson look like, but they don't know what I look like. It's one thing for the public to size the candidates up, but I suspect it's sort of important for the candidates to size the public up.
Television is fine for lettin the candidates reach the public, but it ain't worth a darn for lettin the public reach the candidates, and any candidate who doesn't know it and depends exclusively on campaignin from a studio is liable to run an excellent race and not wilt any collars but wind up short of votes.
I have never understood it myself, but science with all its onswep of progress ain't never been able to replace the handshake when it comes to gettin elected to public office.
My advice to both the Presidential candidates is to not spend all their money on radio and television time, better hold

Bacon and Garden Vegetables Make a Meal

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

A DINNER of crisp bacon slices teamed with two or more garden vegetables has both appetite and eye appeal. What's more, it is a quick dinner to prepare.

When buying your bacon, choose it from a refrigerated case. It's a practical idea to look for a brand of bacon which assures quality meat, cut from only the finest cured and smoked sides of pork. Plan to use the bacon within a week of purchase.

The bacon slices will separate more easily when stored in the package, loosely wrapped, on the lowest shelf of your refrigerator. Just before cooking, allow bacon to stand at room temperature for about five minutes before lifting off the slices. As in the case of all smoked products, bacon does not freeze well. It is best to buy bacon, therefore, only as you need it and will use quickly.

To pan-fry bacon, start it, either in separate slices or slices "in a lump," in a cold skillet. As the skillet and bacon heat slowly the slices will separate. Turn slices often, using kitchen tongs. Leave the drippings in the pan all during cooking to float slices and to keep them from burning. Pouring off drippings is both hazardous and unnecessary.

A combination of crisp ribbons of bacon and two favorite vegetables will make a full-size family meal. Try a bacon dressing poured over your vegetables. It's something to brag about.

Bacon Dressing (Yield—2 servings)

One-quarter pound sliced bacon, cut into 1/4-inch pieces, 1 tablespoon onion, minced, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, pepper and salt to taste.

Brown bacon lightly in skillet. Drain off 2 teaspoons fat. Add onion to skillet and cook over low heat until tender. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 5 minutes. Serve over hot vegetables or use as dressing for hot potato salad.

Tomato Bacon Dressing (Yield—6 servings)

One-quarter pound bacon, cut into 1/4-inch pieces, 1 tablespoon onion, minced, 1/2 cup tomato juice, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/4 teaspoon whole celery seed, if desired, pepper and salt to taste.

Brown bacon lightly in skillet. Drain off 2 teaspoons fat. Add onion to skillet and cook over low heat until tender. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 5 minutes. Serve over hot vegetables, such as lima beans, spinach or turnip greens, young carrots, etc. Or chill and pour over head lettuce for salad.

Bake Sale Proceeds To Help Delegates

Proceeds of Saturday's big bake sale, sponsored by Valley View and Courtney women, will go to the Martin County Home Demonstration Council, it was announced last week.

The money collected from the sale of all the "goodies" will be used to send the delegates to the annual state convention for Home Demonstration Clubs, which will begin in Kingsville, Aug. 23-29.

Cakes and pies were sold at the sale, which took place at Sheila's Dress Shop. C a k e s ranged in price from $1.50 to $2.00. Pies were sold for one dollar.

Four delegates have been selected to attend the convention. Mrs. Jimmy Elland, Martin County Home Demonstration agent, Mrs. Joe Stewart, Texas Home Demonstration agent, Mrs. Lewis Carlie, and Mrs. Jess Angel will attend the state meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Halslip left Friday on a vacation trip to East Texas, Arkansas, and Missouri. They will visit relatives on the way. A fishing trip is also on the Halslip's docket.

Keep costs down, performance up, with a Dodge

"My Dodge trucks save a lot of money on gas!"

says H. A. ROBINSON
Contract Hauler,
Mobile, Ala.

"On a 200-mile run I save 1 1/2 to 2 gallons of gas. I get this saving seven days a week, and on my two trucks that means I save over $300.00 a year on gas alone. That's good, because each of my trucks makes an average of 50 stops per day hauling mail."

"My first Dodge truck cost me only $54.00 of repair expense in two years. I ran my second Dodge over 103,000 miles in two years and spent only $15.50 on it for repairs."

"If I'd known what I know now about Dodge trucks, I'd have switched to them long ago and saved myself a lot of money."

- ▶ Haul at lower cost with a Dodge truck — 1/2- through 4-ton—that's "Job-Rated" to fit your job.
- ▶ Boost gasoline mileage with features like high-compression ratio and special gas-saving carburetor.
- ▶ Reduce upkeep with such wear-saving features as floating oil intake and positive-pressure lubrication.
- ▶ Enjoy super-smooth performance with glycol Fluid Drive, wear-protecting advantage available on all 1/2-, 3/4-, 1-ton and Route-Van models.
- ▶ Come in for a demonstration—and a good deal!

Save on gas and oil. All 8 Dodge truck engines give exceptional economy with plenty of power. You get advantages like lightweight aluminum pistons, improved fuel system with economy control, precision-balanced crankshaft, and other money-saving features.

Save on maintenance. Rugged engines and chassis make Dodge trucks famous for dependability. Upkeep costs stay low because of special Dodge features like 4-ring pistons, chrome-plated top ring, and wear-resisting exhaust valve seat inserts.

Save with long life. Because Dodge trucks last so long, depreciation is less and trade-in value stays up. Long life and dependability are result of such features as alloy steel springs, shot-peened axle shafts, and extra-sturdy frames.

White's Auto Store Defeats Midland, 10-5

White's Auto Store of Stanton gained revenge at the hands of the Midland American Legion softball team Saturday night, by soundly trouncing the Legionnaires, 10-5. Midland defeated the Stanton nine, 9-8 in 12 innings last week.

The game was played at Wadley Field in Midland. Newberry pitched the victory for Stanton and had a no-hit, no-run game going until the sixth inning. Don Green pitched for the losers.

PLAN C OF C "BULL SESSION"

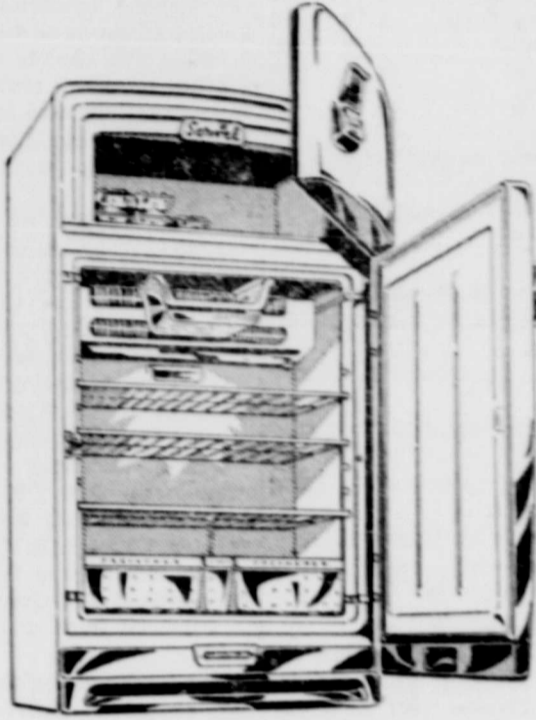

Mrs. Hila Weathers, Martin County Chamber of Commerce manager, was invited this week to attend a "Bull Session" luncheon of area Chamber of Commerce managers to be held in Big Spring Saturday, Aug. 23. The invitation was extended by J. H. Greene, secretary of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. It is Greene's hope that regular informal meetings of area managers can be held in order to acquaint Chamber persons with new ideas.

Garland Hawkins of Lawn was a weekend visitor in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hancock.

cool breeze starts up and the temperature starts to fall. But in the shade of your room or under the shade of a tree on the road the breeze is cool.

The greenery of the countryside on our trip to Alpine began to show up as we drove into Imperial, a section of irrigated country with growing cotton fields up about kneehigh, alfalfa, and other cover crops. And we had this pleasant scenery to greet our eyes until at the front door of Fort Stockton . . . irrigated farms, growing cotton, alfalfa fields, various kinds of grasses, and lanes of shade trees.

Fort Stockton is the home of George Baker and his Pioneer. George has a modern office building, so modern, had it not been for the gold lettered sign on the window, we would have passed it up as a bank building or a banking investment company's office. One side is occupied by Baker's office supply and the other occupied by his newspaper plant. He had already left for Alpine and we didn't get to visit the Pioneer office. Our introductory into Fort Stockton was the sudden appearance in the middle of the street we were traveling, a family of three dogs and their failure to recognize the short blasts of the automobile horn, caused Collyns to use the brake to the floorboard to keep from disintegrating three dogs. We stopped and the dogs scampered off, smiling back at us. Every town has its dogs, some are vicious, and some of the most friendly disposition, seemingly they feel it their duty to show a friendly welcome to visitors coming to town, and are willing to take their lives in their hands to carry out the welcome sign.

Billy Collyns was about the busiest member of the West Texas Press Association at Alpine. He had hardly dried the perspiration off his brow from delivering the response to the address of welcome made by Mayor John W. Gillett, mayor of Alpine, than he had to hike to interview Allan Frazier, the newly elected Judge of the Appeals Court; W. J. (Bill) Hooten, editor of The El Paso Times, who was to make an address to the convention; and Fred H. Husbands, executive vice-president and manager of the West Texas Press Association. But it served Billy right, he was 2nd vice-president of the Association. For his noble participation in the press convention, when it came time to elect new officers, Collyns was elevated to 1st vice-president.

Frazzled Ends of the Convention

Met Keith Morrow, cousin of Jimmy Allison, who resides on a ranch near Alpine. Formerly an employee of the Midland Reporter-Telegram . . . Noted sign on Alpine lumber yard as we entered Alpine, reading: "We put the PINE in Alpine." . . . Bill Collyns visited over the telephone with two of his aunts from our room in the hotel. They live in Marfa. They are sisters of his mother, Mrs. A. E. Collyns, who resides in San Angelo. Edges, sister, Mrs. S. T. Wood, has lived in Marfa country many years, and the youngest of the three sisters, Mrs. W. C. Fisher, resides in San Antonio but was visiting in Marfa. All are more than 75 years of age and all in good health and going strong. All are widows of pioneer West Texas ranchers. Mrs. Wood's husband, the late S. T. Wood, was first sheriff of Sterling County. All three families resided there in early days. . . I left Bill Collyns at the Midland Reporter-Telegram office Saturday night to help put the Sunday morning edition to bed, and getting myself home to Stanton to put myself to bed.

IT WOULD SEEM THAT TAXPAYERS would take a keener interest in going to the polls and voting on bond issues than they do, but they just don't anytime, or any place. In the recent $200,000 bond election held to provide funds for much needed improvements to be made on the elementary school building and the high school building for the Stanton Independent School District, only 126 votes were cast. The vote stood 95 for the bond issue and 31 against.
