

Garrett Locks Up Pair In Holdup

INDIANS ROUT PANTHERS WITH EXTRA LARGE CHARGE T-M-T

Haskell High School's power-packed Indians, in their season opener, buried an extra large charge of TMT (Too Much Thigpen) into the den of the Panthers, and routed the prowling pack from Seymour last Friday night in the Baylor County metropolis.

Paced by tailback Joe Thigpen's three touchdowns, Haskell rolled over the Seymour Panthers 33 to 18.

Thigpen scored on runs of 36, 39 and three yards and was given help in the scoring column by three of his teammates.

The visiting Indians scored first when Thigpen circled left end for 36 yards with 3:56 remaining in the first quarter. Quarterback James Davis left handed pass found left end Wayne Perrin in the end-zone for two points to push the Indians out in front to stay.

Both teams scored in the second half, with fullback Gary Conner of Haskell registering his first touchdown on a two-yard run over center. Conner's run came with 9:59 remaining in the first half, but Haskell's attempt at two points failed and the Indians enjoyed a 14-0 lead.

Seymour capitalized on a swing pass from Quarterback Robert Willbanks to left half Leonard Peters for its first score. The play—covering 55 yards—came with 4:05 remaining in the first half. Peters' try for a two-point conversion failed but the scoring was not finished for the half.

With only 1:41 left in the half, Quarterback James Davis connected with a 30-yard pass to right end Joe Joselet for the score. Davis was unsuccessful in his 2-point conversion attempt and the teams left the field at intermission with the Indians holding a 20-8 lead.

Seymour narrowed the margin in the third quarter, picking up first score of the second half in Willbanks' plunge over center for short yardage and TD. Peters' try for 2 points on the conversion was no good and the Indians held a 29-12 lead.

Thigpen gave the Indians an insurance tally with the third quarter nearly over when he traveled 39 yards for the score with 3:19 left. Davis' attempted aerial to Perrin was incomplete, but the Indians had a 26-12 lead with the game nearly three quarters over.

The tailback's final score of the game came with little more than six minutes remaining in the game when he crashed over left guard for three yards. He kicked the extra point to give the Indians 33 points.

The home team capitalized on a 12-yard pass play from Willbanks to right end Andy Marak for the TD. Marak's placement for the extra point was no good and the Indians left the field with a 33-15 win.

DR. W. FRED SWANK

Noted Member Of Baptist Clergy In Meeting Here

Dr. W. Fred Swank, trustee of Hardin-Simmons University, and pastor of the Sagamore Hill Baptist Church in Fort Worth, is conducting an 8-day evangelistic meeting which started Sunday and is continuing through next Sunday, Sept. 15, at the First Baptist Church here. Rev. Ray Nobles, pastor, has announced.

A cordial invitation has been issued for the public to attend for a stimulating spiritual experience.

Sunday services are at 11:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m., Sunday, Sept. 15. Two services daily, at 8:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., are being held through weekdays this week.

Dr. Swank, who was the stimulating speaker at a revival meeting at the church here 30 years ago, has maintained many ties with this community since that time.

Two men arrested early last Thursday in a burglary attempt in Oak Cliff were lodged in Haskell County jail here late Saturday and ordered held without bond on charges of armed robbery after being returned here by Sheriff Garth Gary of Sherman County Sheriff Charles H. Hays and Texas Ranger Melvin J. Melton of Jenks.

District Attorney Jayce Adams said the pair, identified as William Lee Trussell, 28, of Mesquite, and Raymond Haskell Davis, 30, of Tyler, were charged with "capital felony" in connection with the $700 daring daylight holdup of Dr. Frank Scott and Dr. Simmons, a visitor in the doctor's office, a block and a half from the Courthouse Square here at 3:00 p. m. on August 19.

Dallas police arrested the pair at the Hart Lumber Co., in Oak Cliff when two patrolmen saw them jump from behind the lumber yard, one scampering for a car, and the other sealing a fence. Both were captured minutes later, one having thrown down a .22 pistol, which police recovered.

Dallas Detective Chief Will Fritz, acting on information furnished him by Sheriff Garrett a few hours after the bold robbery by brass bandits here on August 19, said the duo caught in the lumber yard burglary try fitted Garrett's (See "Garrett Locks Up," P. 10)

PESKY BLAZES IN PARCHED PASTURES PLAGUE FIRE BOYS

CONG. GRAHAM PURCELL

Our Congressman To Be Honored At Dinner Here

Congressman Graham Purcell, of Wichita Falls, member of the U. S. House of Representatives from the 13th District of Texas, of which Haskell County is a part, will be guest of honor at a dinner to which the public is invited in Haskell next Wednesday, Sept. 18, at 6 p. m. in the private dining room of the Texas Cafe.

The Congressman, a native of Archer City, is not forgetting folks at the grassroots during a whirlwind visit beginning next Monday to see his constituents in the sprawling Northwest-North Central Texas district he represents with a 131.

Purcell, a member of the important Agriculture Committee of the U. S. House, due to a tight schedule, will not be able to arrive until just prior to the 6 p. m. dinner hour next Wednesday, but declared an earnest desire to see as many of his constituents as possible at the dinner and to visit with them following the meal.

Haskell County's representative in Congress will talk briefly at the dinner in his honor, but will conclude his remarks in time to allow church-goers attending to be present at Wednesday night prayer meetings in their respective houses of worship.

The Congressman, who was born and raised on a farm near Archer City, was an active 4-H Club member in his youth. He is a graduate of Texas A&M, former district judge in Wichita Falls, where he distinguished himself as a jurist, and is now serving with distinction in the nation's Capitol. Purcell, in a special election in 1961, was chosen as successor to Frank Beard when the latter left Congress to become an executive of the American Petroleum Institute. The people's faith in Purcell was demonstrated last November when he was re-elected to Congress for another two years.

Those desiring reservations to the dinner honoring Congressman Purcell, which are $150 per person, are asked to contact Porter Oakes at the Free Press office. Couples are urged to attend.

Pesky fires, ignited by lightning, popped out on parched pasture land throughout a wide area of North Central-Northwest Texas in which the towns of Haskell, Albany, Breckenridge, Seymour and Throckmorton were the outposts over the weekend, plaguing ranchers, farmers and firemen, who rushed into action in an around-the-clock vigil.

Regular and volunteer rural firefighting units from Haskell, Munday, Seymour, Stamford, Throckmorton, Albany and Breckenridge, battled the crackling prairie fires with portable pumps and towsack tactics. The effort challenged scores of firemen and citizen volunteers to peak performance around the clock to keep the wind-fanned flames contained.

Only a "heaven-sent sprinkler system" in the form of rain at 6 p. m. prevented a scene of destruction on the Scott Ranch 12 miles southeast of Haskell, the site of one of four pasture blazes in Haskell County Saturday. Haskell Fire Chief Tom Watson reported.

Haskell Fire Department Supervisor Floyd Lusk, who coordinated the efforts of 14 volunteer firemen from here, including five trained Jaycee emergency squad members, said late Saturday, "There were more outbreaks of range fires in this area today than in any other given day in my memory." Lusk is a 14-year veteran of the department here.

Temperatures of 103 and 104 degrees, the latter being the top reading here, didn't help firemen any. The around-the-clock fight in the heat left firemen near exhaustion.

A two-hour battle was waged Friday night by Haskell firemen on the J. R. Oodry Ranch southeast of Haskell and northeast of Lake Stamford along a strip a mile long and a quarter-mile wide.

Believed to have been started by lightning, according to Chief Watson, the blaze was thought to be out, but flared anew at 9 a. m. Saturday. Almost simultaneously, fire popped out on the Scott and Brooks Early ranches in the same vicinity. The three fires menaced power lines branching out from the West Texas Utilities' Paint Creek Power Plant southeast of here.

Fourteen volunteer firemen and Jaycees, led by Chief Watson and Haskell Chief of Police Tom Paul Barnett, organized into three "cades" to fight not only these power-plagued fires, but a fourth on the John Rike place nearby. J. C. (Dude) Montgomery, manager of the Scott Ranch, joined them in the work.

Others who put in up to 14 hours Saturday, manning Haskell's pumper and beating the brush and grassland with towsacks, ditching, and containing, were E. J. Stewart, Chester Hodges, John Watson, Olen Bartley, Sonny Reynolds, Alton Middleton and later, Billy Jack Ray, Abe Turner, Bill Tomlinson, Buck Everett and Glenn Sammons. Eight more volunteers made another run to the McFarland Ranch Sunday afternoon.

While deploying their operation, receiving intermittent nourishment from sandwiches and coffee and cold drinks brought to them at Irbay Hall, near the Throckmorton County line, Chief Watson and Lusk (See "Pesky Fires," Page 10)

DEPOT FOR A DOLLAR—Abe Turner, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, center, rear, receiving from Gene Shackelford, Fort Worth & Denver depot "sold" to Haskell for $1. Haskell area citizens recently had a successful County "Hey-Day" celebration to raise funds to move the depot, holder of many memories for oldtimers, to Rice Springs Park, where it will be restored as a museum and tourist attraction. Mrs. Bailey Toliver, left, Mrs. Tom Barfield, right, co-chair the Hey-Day celebration, together with Bob Lowrance, chamber of commerce coaching, witness the goin's on around the depot stove as Lowrance demonstrates he is doing "come first frost" after the old train station is moved to the park.

Unfortunate Situation Austin Judge's View Of Haskell Water Squabble

The suit goes to trial soon. He said that drought conditions in recent months have forced rationing of water in the area.

James Wilson of Austin, attorney for the City of Haskell, said that he should not be forced to take the case to trial until the Supreme Court acts on the pending law suit because he cannot afford to advance funds for expert witnesses and his own expenses while the injunction suit is being decided by the high court.

Roberts told Wilson that "You have my sympathy, but the only thing we are concerned about is an attack on the Water Commission order. This sounds like a local squabble. It is a very unfortunate situation."

Settlement Made Out of Court In $106,000 Suit

A damage suit for $106,000 filed by Herman T. Williams, of O'Brien, a heavy equipment operator, against Northern Star Seed Farms Seed Co., of O'Brien, in connection with accidental injuries received by Williams on No. 21, 1961, was settled out of court here shortly before noon Tuesday.

Exact amount of the settlement was not immediately disclosed pending filing of a judgment in the 30th District Court here with Judge Ben Charlie Chapman before whom the trial started Monday morning.

Williams reportedly received a serious head injury in a crash in which his pickup truck was in collision with a seed farm vehicle driven by a Latin-American employe in the town of O'Brien.

Davis Scarborough, of Abilene, represented Williams. The O'Brien firm was represented by Dennis P. Ratliff, Haskell, and Marvin Sprain, of Abilene.

WTU 'Paints Town' Puts Square On 'Silver Standard'

Other members of the board are Mrs. Bailey Toliver, Durham, Mrs. O'Neal, Rev. Douglas Finch, Woody Woodard, Mrs. Henry Druessow, Herbert Ray, Mrs. C. O. Holt, Middleton, and Bob Lowrance, manager of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, an ex-officio member.

Insurance Key Rate Reduction Awarded Haskell

Haskell has been awarded a reduction in its fire insurance key rate, the State Board of Insurance has announced.

The key rate represents the basic premium for $100 of fire insurance, and is determined through a system of charges and credits applied after the state agency checks on a city's fire hazards, protective equipment, and other factors.

Haskell's rate was dropped from 33 to 32 cents for a saving of $600. Main charge was six cents for having building laws deficient 77 per cent in code enforcement.

Credits were given for having booster trucks, firemen's training school, for teaching methods of fire prevention and principles of fire insurance in school, and for maintaining night watch service and an arson reward.

On Growing Up . . . Two Ways

Recently, after hearing a most challenging sermon characterized by a profundity of thought by a very able minister in this town on the subject of growing up, we were spontaneously moved to take notice of the inter-locking relation between "growing up" of the individuals in a town and the growing up of a town itself.

On the subject of growing up, this astute member of the clergy said some of us, no matter what our ages, haven't. In other words, you're only young once, but some folks are immature indefinitely.

It came to us that the same yardstick as applied to an individual about achieving maturity also certainly can be applied to a community. As in problems which come to an individual, much of the unhappiness, in the case of the person, or the unrest, in the case of a town, can be attributed to "not growing up."

And until the opinion leaders in a town "grow up" in their attitudes, a town cannot grow.

This minister presented as criteria for maturity these things: First, become un-self centered. Grow from self-centeredness to an understanding of your relationship to others. Help the child in yourself to grow out of it. You must have a concern for, and an interest in, other people. Life destroying individualism is immature.

A second mark of growing up is a sense of responsibility. All persons are born irresponsible. A grown man, floundering around trying to justify his irresponsibility, is immature.

In this connection, a college student who accepts the opportunity for an education, then denies the discipline it demands, is immature.

And a citizen of Haskell, Texas, or any other town, who enjoys the freedom of democracy, but will not work for worthwhile civic endeavors which will help his community to both GROW UP, and parentally, GROW, is yet a child for all practical purposes.

A third mark of maturity is an integrated life, a bringing together into focus all the ingredients for a wholeness of life. This reminds us of something we heard a tack-sharp gentleman say not long ago, "An oxcart is just as good as a rocket if you don't know where you're going."

We've got to quit squandering our energies on shallow activity, just as our pupil man and shepherd said we should not reduce Christianity to some sort of shallow moralism.

Neither a person, nor a community, can grow into real maturity unless it is an EXPANDING person, or town! A growing person, or town, can't be a PERVERTED-INDIVIDUALISTIC type.

Haskell has shown some signs recently of discarding some of its ox-carts, and of throwing aside some of its core-based perverted individualism by the prosecution of its meritorious park program in the Medical Center, the joint effort in the Club Scout Building, the community support of the livestock auction project. These ALL are sure signs of GROWING UP. They are signs of physical growth, too, because the two go hand-in-glove.

But we've only scratched the surface. Unless and until all of us here in a community we purport to love, begin pulling together with singleness of goals, and grow up, town-wise, realizing that in our unity lies our strength on any and all issues, we might as well turn in to Bill Holden NOW.

It is PAST TIME in this town for ALL OF ITS SO-CALLED CITIZENS to GROW UP, and we say it again, to realize we are NOT growing up unless we are EXPANDING. Only then can we lay claim to the genuine label of maturity.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's

Potpouri By PORTER

Last Friday was a great day for Indian (Haskell) Territory. Lola got what she wanted . . . again. Ditto for Garth, who made one of the wiser moves of his vigilant career in going straight to Dallas with his information after the Big Robbery here. And Haskell's aggressive (12 times for 94 yards in penalties worth!) Indians attacked a pack of Seymour Panthers like they were Our Varmint to springboard dreams of a scintillating season.

Speakin' of dreams, the Pencil Pusher was taking down the Indians' season schedule from a certain party not long ago. When his informer read off "Stamford, Nov. 15," he went right on giving dates for Haskell's ball club, "Bidistrict, Nov. 23," "Quarter-finals, Nov. 30," etc. We can dream, can't we?

Back to the holdup, there's a sporting goods store in Dallas and the partners are named Ketchum and Killum, so help us. The other night they had a break-in. A burglar alarm representative from Shreveport was listening in over a police radio belonging to a Big D cohort in the same business when they heard, "breaking and entering" at such-and-such an address, "Ketchum and Killum."

A few minutes later, over the radio came the announcement the intruders had been caught. The Shreveport visitor waited a few minutes and said, "When they gonna kill 'em?"

The foregoing is one of the ways the Texas legend for herman is furthered, we suppose. Reminds us of the story we heard about Haskell's John Payne. Understand he is a brand-new second lieutenant just overseas when some of his buddies, hearing he was a Texan, challenged his ability to handle a sidearm. The way we got it, he whipped out his .45 and fired at a crow flying overhead. The bird plummeted to the ground. His buddies "ate crow" ever afterwards with Dead-eye Payne around.

"Pigeon-Hole Pete" McDonald of Post Office fame, commenting on the moves our Sheriff made in the Scott-Simmons separation from their money, said, "No two ways about it—Garth was on the ball." We're told Garth said, "Was two ways about it, too. Look me in the eyes when you say that."

The Furth flew when Stanley went to Mineral Wells and took a bath over Labor Day weekend. He had a nicer color after that little junket.

A certain Methodist preacher here, renowned for sprinkling, of course, might do well to employ his sprinkling prowess on doves' tails. He reports that this season the doves are either faster, or he's slowed up considerably.

We've a nephew in whom we are well pleased, a strapping youngster named Bill Skaggs, who was just named the outstanding 4-H boy in Gray County. Our pride in this young man knows no bounds, but we hope this honor is no forecast of misfortune. He's due to take his bow in a regional awards banquet in Amarillo soon. Last year when he grabbed a little glory in 4-H competition, a pig ran between his legs and Bill got stuck on that pig's back. There he was riding backwards on the porker which headed for a barbed wire fence trying to give Bill the brushoff. Here was one pig that shoulda been greased before it tried to make it through that boy's legs. The toll for Bill was 18 stitches, a "no show" at the awards banquet, and a walk like Chester-on-TV for weeks. But, undaunted, and flashing a Skaggs smile, he returned to form to "bring home the bacon" with more aplomb than ever this year.

When Lynn Pace, Jr., went overseas in World War II, in the interests of morale, he boosted the spirits of his buddies by assuring them the fellows on that ship had round-trip tickets. After the war, Lynn reported to Marseilles, France, to come home. There was the same Liberty ship that brought him over, and he made the return crossing on it.

The Pencil Pusher left Europe from the same dock as Lynn on August 3, 1945, and at the time, was headed for the Lingayen Gulf, Philippines, there to be reoffitted for an invasion of the Japanese mainland with his buddies in the Nineteenth Tactical Air Command. Dropping of the two atomic bombs and the speedy end to the war amended those orders. We turned around in mid-ocean and got to the States on August 18. But as we left Marseilles, the PA system on the dock was playing a popular tune of the day, "Let's Take the Long Way Home." There couldn't have been a more appropriate song at the time for where we were headed.

Jack Muegge has been diggin' around here among our newspaper exchange files for current events to fortify himself for Mrs. Diggs' class. We suggest he hurry up and become President and make his own current events.

Seems to us, on the surface, the Baptists around here would unanimously favor Miller Creek dam. With more and more Baptists, more and more water will be needed . . . on the surface.

This ol' world is gettin' too specialized. Heard a fellow by the Post Office address a curvaceous cutie the other day with, "Hello, Doll." She inquired in reply, "Rag or China?"

Just found out that the difference between genius and talent is that talent gets paid every Friday or Saturday. Sure is nice to be associated with all this talent around here. The Pencil Pusher for too long had genius stature . . . and didn't know it.

Fellow came into Hassen's the other day looking for Rajah and asked Ione Menefee if she knew anything "about the boss' whereabouts." "I think they're in the wash," said Ione. "That was a knee-slapper."

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Norman over at Rule have a mulberry tree in their backyard that Mrs. Norman planted from a sprig 41 years ago. Claude said Sunday, "I wouldn't take $500 for that tree." A million would be a better price. This is one of the most beautiful trees in West Texas, with strikingly symmetrical branches spreading soothing shade from a cluster of four separate trunks, seems like. God worked overtime in this lovely crea-

Our public school, or rather the pupils, are experiencing an awkward situation and many of them are suffering a loss of time from their studies on account of the absence of the proper books. They were not ordered until school opened and may not be here for two weeks yet.

Eaton said Brown is expected to bring an informative message on how to build a better community. The Rule Chamber president expressed gratitude to Haskell County Agent Frank Martin for securing the speaker.

Tahoka Trapster Draws Best Bead In Sizzling Shoot

Bill Robinson, of Tahoka, winner of many national trapshooting trophies, was the victor in three events of a registered 200 bird registered shoot at the traps of the Haskell Gun Club here Sunday afternoon.

The Tahoka pigeon popper was the leader in singles, doubles, and the high overall score as he smashed 97 out of 100 birds from the 16-yard line, busted 47 out of 50 in doubles, and ran his high overall score up to 183 out of 200 with a 39 out of 50 total in the handicap event.

Bill Womack, of Olney, and Dan Grindstaff, of Fort Worth, shot an even-up 43 out of 50 in the handicap, with Womack grabbing the honors in a shoot-off.

Wallace Wooten, president of the Haskell Gun Club, and host for the registered shoot, and never without a comment, was as near silence as Wooten will probably ever be when he admitted finishing low-man in Sunday's competition. Wooten's Cal Coolidge-type remarks were confined to, "I either was off, or I've been highly over-rated."

Munday Man Held After Arrest On Forgery Counts

Using the name "Joe Brown" just didn't "seem to match up too well," Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett reported, for a man listed as Silverio Guerra, 49, picked up here Sunday and charged with forgery on two counts.

Sheriff Garrett said his chief deputy, Pete Mercer, and Constable Ace Davis, picked up the suspect, a resident of the Munday area, and charged him with forging checks passed at two Haskell grocery stores, each in the amount of $45.

The Haskell County Sheriff said he was checking Guerra's possible competency cases in Haskell County as well.

Wesleyan Service hold its district First Methodist Church on Sunday, 1:30 p. m. Studies of the reviewed, and all church are invited.

Recently, in our service area . . . $28,000,000 has been spent for industrial construction $27,000,000 has been spent for commercial construction

PLUS

$34 MILLION

... which has been spent for civic improvements.

Previously published figures of industrial and commercial construction in our service area are now boosted by the addition of another huge sum. Recent civic improvement expenditures by cities and counties amount to $34,000,000, exclusive of any State or Federal improvements.

This figure is more evidence of growth — big growth — in the area we serve. Moreover, when we say that this Center of the Southwest is in one of the Nation's fastest growing regions, the statement is backed by facts.

It is another reason why we are convinced that our service area — the Center of the Southwest — faces GROWTH UNLIMITED in the months and years ahead.

... more proof that the Center of the Southwest is in one of the Nation's fastest growing regions.

By AL HINDS

On the counter at Biard's Cleaners I noticed these two "eye catching" signs: "Worse than a quitter is the man who is afraid to begin." "Nothing can cook your goose quicker than a boiling temper."

Haskell's outstanding artist, "Doc" Brady, has a wonderful outlook on life. He says that at his age his time on this earth is running out, but tries each day to do at least one kind deed, or say something kind about someone.

Back in 1916 when he tried to enlist in the service of his country in the field artillery, "Doc" was about three-quarters of a pound too light to pass, so he went out, bought a couple of pounds of bananas, ate the fruit and drank Cokes and water. He came back to enlist the next day, and had put on enough weight to make the grade.

A good many years ago while I was publisher of the Paducah Post, I was invited to view the completion of a large service tank on the Martin ranch in King County. After viewing the tank, the large gathering of businessmen, farmers, soldiers, cowboys, county officials and reporters from Cattle, Stone-wall, King, Knox and Baylor counties, the group gathered at the camp and were served a "sumptuous" meal of beans, barbecue, oysters, fried potatoes, candied yams, pickles, biscuits and hot coffee cooked by "Humpty Briggs."

The large kettles containing the barbecue, potatoes and the odor of the steaming black coffee simmering over the wood coals, penetrating the crisp Autumn breeze still remains in my memory. As darkness began to creep over the camp, the warmth of the crackling fire, the fullness of a grand meal "neath my belt, along with the friendliness of the crowd, brought the close of a perfect day. Some of the incidents of the day have faded, yes, even the names of many of those present can not be remembered, but many events of that bright Autumn day seem as only yesterday.

I ran across "The Monkey's Viewpoint" from an old issue of "Texas Firemen," which by the way, contains more truth than poetry.

"Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree. Discussing things as they are said to be. Said one to the other, 'Now listen you two. There's a certain rumor that can't be true. That man descended from our noble race. The very ideal! It's a dire disgrace. No Monkey ever deserted his wife. Starved her baby, and ruined her life. And you've never known a mother or monk. To leave the babies with others to bunk. Or pass them from one to another. And another thing you never see. A monk build a fence 'round a coconut tree. And let the coconuts go to waste. Why, if I put a fence around this tree. Starvation would force you to steal from me. Here's another thing a monkey won't do. Go out at night and get on a stew. Or use gun, or club, or knife. To take some other monkey's life. Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss. But brother, he didn't descend from us."

My name's Cliff. Drop over anytime!

A survey conducted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States this year found that of 2,700 local chambers of commerce, only 3 per cent favored federal subsidies for mass transit programs.

Head football coach Ray Overton and Carlos Berry, Sonny Everett, Bill Blakely and David Middleton, presented the program at the Tuesday noon luncheon of Haskell Lions. Overton showed a film of the Haskell-Seymour football game played last Friday night at Seymour.

Rogers Durham was in charge of Tuesday's program and introduced Overton, and Coach Overton then introduced the other coaches.

Following the showing of the film, Middleton and Overton gave the group a run-down on what to expect over the district and pointed out that the game with Clyde Friday night would be a "tough one" as Clyde has a fast team and outweighs the Indians considerably.

Directors Meeting
The regular monthly meeting of officers and directors was held Tuesday morning, at the Highway Drive-In. Main topic on the agenda was making final plans for the big, Annual Pancake Supper which will be held Friday, October 4, from 5:00 to 7:15 p. m., in the High School lunchroom.

Officers and directors voted to give $25.00 to the Hospital Park, which is being sponsored by the Hospital Women's Auxiliary group.

Pancake Supper
Tickets went on sale Tuesday for the Pancake Supper, with J. M. Crawford in charge of ticket sales.

Funds raised from the Pancake Supper will go into the Goodfellows Fund to help the less fortunate families here at Christmastime.

AN ACT OF BROTHERLY LOVE, nothing less was what prompted Bud Lane, right, hard-working Haskell civic leader, president of the Jaycees, and just as dedicated as a salesman of Chevrolets for Bailey Tolver Motor Company, to put his brother, Ken Lane, left, "next to" the best kind of a deal in pickups. Here, Bud delivers the papers on the first 1964 Bailey Tolver-delivered Chevrolet pickup, said to be the best Chevrolet has built yet for superior styling, and rugged dependability. The Lane quorum here looks happy in its work, and this Chevrolet is destined to do a lot of solid work for Ken Lane, area farmer. (Adv.)

DANES AND THEIR COUNTRY Jaycees Covering GREAT, K-CITIAN TELLS CLUB All Areas Of Civic Interest

Any American who hasn't been to Denmark would be drooling to go there after hearing the delightfully descriptive dissertation about that intriguing cluster of islands charmingly delivered by a West Texan who now lives on a Danish feudal estate in a house 50 years older than her native Knox City.

Mrs. Paul Seicke, the former Margaret Reeder, of Knox City, daughter of Mrs. Grace Reeder, of the Knox County seat and granddaughter of Tom Reeder, reported to be the first settler there 80 years ago.

awed Haskell Rotarians Thursday noon with her graphic word portrayal of life in the homeland of the Danes.

The guest speaker, who came here at the invitation of Program Chairman R. A. Lane, is the wife of a Gulf Oil Company engineer, who has been one of the builders for two years of a refinery now nearly complete about 70 miles from Copenhagen.

Mrs. Seicke, a Texas Christian University graduate, has seen little of her native West Texas and Knox City for the past 30 years, but "it's always a thrill to come home, and our American passport is still our most cherished possession," she told Rotarians here.

The gracious lady's presentation of comparisons and contrasts between Denmark, which has been a constitutional monarchy since 1800 A. D., and this country, almost 1,000 years younger, had her listeners bent forward in their chairs to catch every classic comment.

The cranium creasing point with which Rotarians left their meeting was the miraculous number of ways in which Denmark, a nation of 500 islands, 100 of them inhabited, with a total land area the size of New Hampshire and Vermont and a total population of 4 1/2 million, leads the world in so many fields of accomplishment. Its leadership in the establishment and practice of democratic freedoms, education, and science (it has won more Nobel prizes for science than any other nation) "is appalling," Mrs. Seicke declared.

The home in which the Seickes live is in a castle dotted locale in which one of the castle dwellers is their landlord, a Cornell University educated Count. The house is 130 years old, "50 years older than Knox City," Mrs. Seicke pointed out, "but it has all the modern conveniences."

This country of multiple contrasts, though serene and carefully tended, is reported to have "more pigs than people," said the former Margaret Reeder, speaking about the industry of the country. Slaughtering pigs when they tip the scales at 210 pounds is big business there, she said, and Denmark was described as "pork chop heaven," where they also have the "most beautiful sausage in the world."

Mrs. Seicke concluded her spellbinding person-to-person chat about Denmark with a spine-tingling report on how the Danes went all-out to fete her and her husband on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary on July 18. A Danish custom of erecting an arbor to the individuals honored was carried out at the Seicke home, and the flags of the United States and Denmark were jointly planted there, together with a shield on which were emblazoned the marriage dates, "1938-1963." Gifts and flowers galore followed this unique demonstration of thoughtfulness.

"The Danes love anniversaries and birthdays are announced in the newspaper. A flag also is hoisted in front of the celebrant's house," she said, "to let all know of the occasion."

"They even celebrate the 4th of July in a park in Copenhagen purchased by some American-born Danes for the purpose," she added.

The Knox Citian is leaving Monday, and with her will go a personal "hello" from Haskell Rotarians to Danish Rotarians in her area over there in a tangible demonstration of "handshaking across the sea" fellowship. More of this so graciously conveyed could go a long way toward assuring lasting peace in the world.

The number of young persons—ages 16 to 21 years—out of work and looking for jobs was estimated at 800,000 in January 1968. Investment to create one new job averages around $15,000.

Garrett Locks Up

descriptions, and a 1960 model Buick car, blue with a white top, reportedly used in the getaway from Haskell, was traced to them, the Haskell County Sheriff quoted him as saying.

Sheriff Garrett had obtained his information from two Haskell girls who were in Oates Drug Store on the Square here when the pair entered and purchased adhesive tape on the day of the robbery, with which they later tied up Dr. Scott and Simmons, the Haskell Sheriff said.

Trussell and Davis were reported to have given statements about the holdup here and a burglary of an auto firm in Big Spring. According to Dallas police, the pair talked freely, and "almost seemed anxious to go to prison" on the charges.

Trussell told Dallas detectives before being returned here that he had purchased a pair of glasses from the Haskell eye, ear, nose and throat specialist about a year ago, Dr. Scott said Saturday that "a William I. Trussell, who gave his address as Stamford, bought some glasses from me last November," according to the doctor's records.

The drifters said they had been "roaming around" through New Mexico, Midland and Big Spring. They said they went to Midland from Haskell, and had been "roaming around" since.

A 1962 Oldsmobile recovered by Dallas police in the burglary attempt was stolen in Artesia, N. M., and a Texas license plate was stolen in Big Spring, officers said.

Billfolds belonging to Dr. Scott and Simmons and a bundle of clothes, among them the lettered shirt worn by one of the thugs, were found in a barrow ditch about five miles southwest of Haskell 48 hours after the robbery by Leon Burson, well-known farmer.

The bandits gained entrance to Dr. Scott's office when one of them told the doctor he wanted to be examined for glasses. Dr. Scott took him to an examination room.

As he asked the would be patient to sit down, the man jammed a gun in the doctor's ribs and demanded, "You sit down."

The doctor lunged at his assailant and the gun fell to the floor. The second man, who had followed them into the examination room, joined in overpowering Dr. Scott, but not before he sent one of them sprawling with a kick.

Then, both of them pinned the doctor into his examination chair and bound him to it with tape and his own necktie. Similar treatment was administered to Simmons, who entered the doctor's office on a mission of having some glasses repaired while the robbery was in progress.

The robbers left on foot after jerking the telephone cord out of the wall.

Placed behind bars in the county jail three blocks from the scene of the robbery here, Trussell and Davis will face grand jury action September 23 on the charges for which they are being held, Sheriff Garrett and District Attorney Adkins said.

Pesky Fires

said four fires "going all at once" in Throckmorton County, the closest being 16 miles from Haskell. Smoke from it was in enough quantity to be wafted into town on a brisk breeze, cutting visibility in Haskell considerably as it floated through at 5 p. m. Saturday.

Organized efforts of blaze battlers through the area, "who were as busy as we were at many points in six other counties," Lusk reported, are believed to have blocked what could have been an uncontrollable situation under shifting wind conditions.

Late Saturday night, Breckenridge Fire Captain M. A. Nutt said lightning fired an oil battery on the Bill Bitzer ranch in east Shackelford County which was being contained. Albany-Breckenridge area units also fought blazes on the Jim Nair Ranch north of Albany and near Caddo.

For over 30 years the federal government has been deeply involved in agriculture. Estimated cost of farm programs has been $3.5 to $5 billion a year.
