(Opinions expressed in this column are the views of the writer and should be so interpreted.)

IF ALL THE COPY THAT HAS been prepared in The Reporter office this week on the subject finds its way into the columns of the paper, the reader will wonder if the National Newspaper Week event to be observed by all the newspapers over the nation, October 1-7, wasn't 'hatched out' in this office. Or has The Reporter force lost its mind on the subject.

From a personal standpoint, (that's me), if I ever had a mind the readers of this column have conceded, I lost it long ago following the game of newspapering. But I love the kicks, the cuffs, and the cussings, which are heaped upon the profession, and I always will until I reach that point in my age I'm entitled to retire and live off the income from my old age pension.

Why shouldn't The Reporter force be "loco" over their profession? They are "wrapped up" in their vocation. . . . it is their meal ticket. . . . it is responsible for the clothes they wear. . . . it pays rent on the homes some are living in, and has paid for homes others are living in. . . . sometimes the profession draws forth a complimentary season ticket to all athletic events, and other paid admission entertainments. . . . and by heck, why shouldn't the whole "caboodle" of this office force mount the house tops and shout to the peoples of the World the much rejoicing that is going on over the fact we are members of the Fourth Estate, the greatest institution on earth. To "close-up shop" of the newspapers of the country that will be the time we celebrate the millennial period, which some folks say is the period when Christ will reign on earth in person with his saints.

At a Chamber of Commerce dinner in honor of the local teacher, there was a toast: "Long live our teachers!" "On what?" murmured a teacher under her breath.

Anyway you take it. . . . the newspaper profession is the one chosen by this columnist when he was a lad of 14 years of age, and has stuck with it 65 years. If I do say it, the guy is still making a fair support holding up his chosen profession to this day.

BUMPED INTO MARVIN GRAHAM the other day standing in front of a local drug store. Graham is one of Martin County's progressive and substantial farmers, living on his farm just west of Stanton on highway 80. Up until this year Graham had "dry-farmed" and was a successful one until it stopped raining. He drilled a water well on his place, got a good one, and for the first time in his life he is irrigating his farm.

I asked, "How you getting along irrigating?" Graham replied, "I've just gathered nine bales of cotton off nine acres." While he had a few pickers in his field he was looking for more. "My cotton is opening all over the place," Graham said. Graham's cotton is the long staple type, a variety that brings from seven to ten cents more on the pound than the half and half cotton.

THIS COLUMN IS UNDERGOING a "ribbing" since The Reporter came out last week with its prediction that Martin County's 1953 cotton crop would yield 20,000 bales. The opponent of the estimate is one of Stanton's most substantial citizens, and has his hand on the pulse beat of the financial status of the county, as well as a right good knowledge of the ability the lands of the county produce. Without a quiver in his voice or a blink in his eye he informed the columnist if the present fine weather continues to the close of the cotton harvest, the county will come up with a 25,000 bale crop. "If not more," he said as he left me standing with my mouth open in amazement.

It is projected to 8,500 feet which is calculated to test the Pennsylvanian reef line.

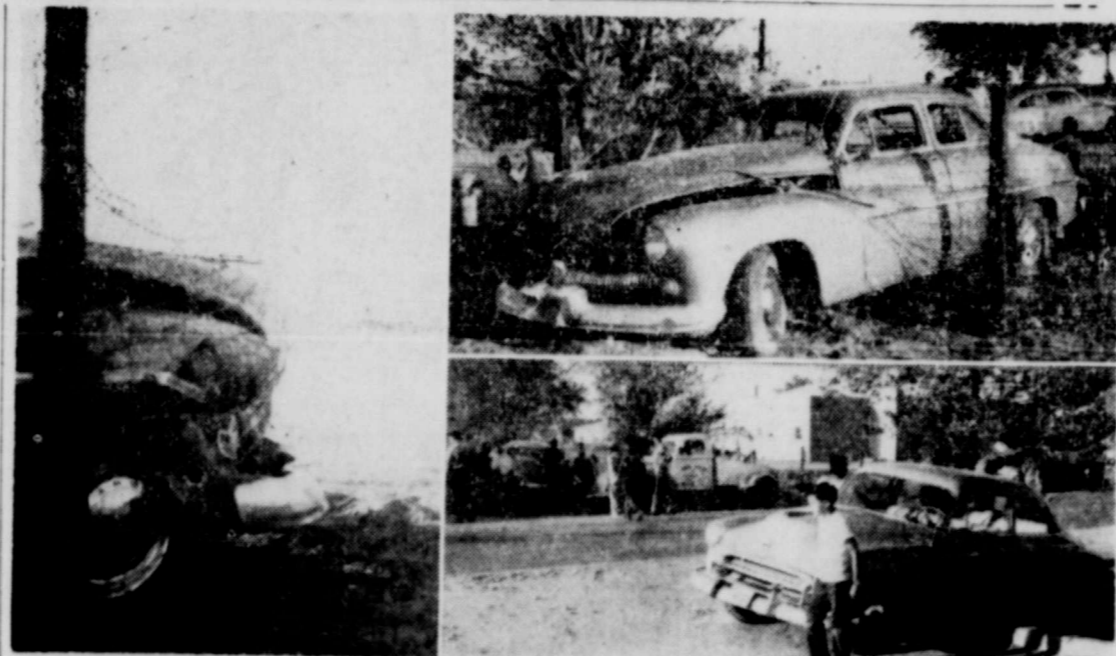

Record Crowd Sees Coahoma Bulldogs Edge Buffaloes; Meet Abernathy Friday

Possibly the largest turnout of spectators in Stanton football history crowded into Buffalo stadium Friday night to see the Coahoma Bulldogs pull away from a fourth quarter 18-0 Buff lead and go ahead to win the game 20-18. Superintendent O. W. Winstead said the gate may be near $700.

The sharp reverse in scoring began early in the last quarter when the Bulldogs displayed unusual determination to create situations where they had the opportunity to recover Buff fumbles near their own goal line. The maneuvers paid off in rapid succession to equal Stanton's goals and two extra points from the toe of Coahoma's Skeet Williams gave the margin needed for victory.

The business of recovering fumbles, coupled with a series of brilliant lateral passes, shooting both right and left, deep in Buff territory, accounted for most of Coahoma's offensive during the entire game, but still trailed Stanton's total yardage 187 yards to 280 yards.

Norman Blocker, 155-pound Senior halfback, carried the ball across the goalstrip three times for his teammates. The first came in the first quarter when good blocking kept him going the needed 35 yards around left end. In the second quarter he

MARTIN-HOWARD SC MEMBERS WILL ELECT SUPERVISOR TUESDAY AT LOMAX

An election will be held on October 6, at 8 o'clock p. m. at the Lomax School to elect a supervisor in sub-division V of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District.

Cover Crop Plantings Confined To Irrigation Lands In County

The length of term for a supervisor is five years with one supervisor being elected each year. Only landowners who are 21 or over and who own land within the sub-division may vote. All land operators, however, are invited who live within the following boundaries: south of highway 80 from Big Spring to Midland; north of the Midland-Garden City highway to a point about 5 miles west of Garden City; then, in a northwesterly direction crossing the Big Spring-Garden City highway at a point about 5 miles north of Garden City; continuing 3 miles; thence, north and northeast to the Sterling City-Big Spring highway at a point about 7 miles southeast of Big Spring and following the Sterling City-Big Spring highway into Big Spring.

Conservation movies will be shown which will include a comedy for the children. The ladies of the Lomax community center will serve refreshments. The wives of all landowners are eligible to vote.

MONDAY WILL BE DOLLAR DAY FOR STANTON BUYERS

Merchants of Stanton were busy today preparing their stock for the increasingly large customer turnouts to their regular monthly Dollar Day event which will be held Monday.

Ads appearing in this issue of The Reporter will reflect the values offered in most stores in Stanton. Stanton Drug Company, staging its annual One Cent Sale this weekend will continue the event through Dollar Day October 5.

The Martin County Chamber of Commerce has announced that it has five "big shiny silver dollars" awaiting the first people who answer the chamber's phone by saying "this is Dollar Day in Stanton."

Besides special promotion events by Dollar Day cooperators during the day the Stanton Lion's Club will add a grand climax with the staging of a Talent Show at the Texas Theatre that evening. The Lion's will be raising funds for use in their eyesight conservation program.

Mrs. W. Y. Houston Passes Wednesday

Mrs. W. Y. Houston passed away at 5:10 a. m. Wednesday morning in Glen Rose. Ella (Epley before marriage) as she was known to a host of friends in Stanton and Martin County where she had lived most of her life, was preceded in death by her husband, the late W. Y. "Dick" Houston.

Arlington Funeral Home, which had dispatched a conveyance to Glen Rose to return the remains to Stanton, said funeral arrangements had not been discussed at the time this report was written.

Mrs. Houston was the mother of Mrs. Morgan Hall, Stanton, and A. L. Houston, Odessa. She is also survived by three sisters, Zola, Ruth, and Alma; two brothers, Homer and Willie Epley, Midland, and three grandchildren.

Stanton To Be Host To Lion's Zone Meet

R. A. Lipscomb, Wink, Texas, district governor of Lion's International District 2-T-2, was guest speaker Monday evening when Stanton Lions met at the high school cafeteria.

Stanton will be host to Lion's Clubs from Seagraves, Seminole, and Andrews Monday, November 1. The program for this meeting will be brought by Seagraves.

Local Lions are really praising the fine food being served them by the senior class and their sponsors.

Through the courtesy of Lion Roy Manear of Midland, Bill McBride of Kerrville will be guest speaker for Stanton Lions Oct. 12.

Curb And Gutter Funds Raised At Joint City Council-County Commissioner's Court Meeting

Actual construction of a new four-lane highway through Stanton and Martin County came into sight Tuesday morning when the Stanton City Council and the Martin County Commissioner's Court met in joint session and agreed upon a plan which will pay for curb and gutters through the city.

The needed $23,400 was said to be the last demand of the State Highway Department before letting a contract for the road project which will turn U. S. Highway 80 into a four-lane thoroughfare through the county. The contract, scheduled for October, was delayed until local governmental agencies put up the needed funds, and the contract is now expected to be let in November and actual construction begun early in 1954.

Final acceptance of the $23,400 curb and gutter project cost by the City of Stanton came when the County Commissioners' Court showed they had approved the payment of $18,000 for curb and gutters along about one mile of the roadway just outside the city limits on the west side of town. In addition the court agreed to pay $3,400 for right-of-way property through the City of Stanton, which the city had acquired through a swap with the Texas and Pacific Railroad.

City funds of only $15,000 were needed to close the agreement.

Widening of the highway was put on the State's construction list early this year when Martin County voters approved a $240,000 bond issue for purchase of county right-of-ways.

County Tax Rolls Ready; Collections Now Accepted

The 1953 tax roll for Martin County is now ready and the tax office will start accepting taxes Thursday morning.

An incentive for paying taxes this year is the two percent discount on county taxes being offered by the county this year for the first time if your taxes are paid during the month of October. A three per cent discount will be given on state taxes during the month of October and in the month of November a two percent discount will be given on state taxes and one per cent on county taxes.

A statement of your county and state taxes will be mailed to taxpayers this year for the first time. The Martin County Tax Office also collects school taxes for the Flower Grove and Courtney School Districts although they do their own assessing and have their own board of equalization. The Commissioners Court acts as the County Board of Equalization.

Plans Complete For Lion's Talent Show

More than 25 acts have been acquired for the Lion's Club Talentshow which will be staged at 8:00 o'clock Monday evening in the Texas Theatre.

Proceeds from this entertaining feature will go to purchase an eye-testing machine for the Stanton schools. The machine will be used to test the vision of students in Stanton, and all of Martin County; thus enabling us to give our children perfect vision throughout their school years.

Four cash prizes are being offered contestants. Contestants wishing to rehearse may do so Thursday evening from 6:00 to 7:30 at the Texas Theatre.

All contestants are requested to be at the theatre by 7:30 the night of the show.

Sears Swine Show Opens Saturday

The Annual Sears Swine Show will be held at the county show barn in Stanton Saturday, according to County Agent Ray Hastings. Judging is scheduled to begin at 9:30 a. m. The boy with the winning gilt will compete in the area show in Big Spring October 8, Hastings said.

4-H Club boys showing gilts this year were announced as follows: Donnie Hull, Rodney Myrick, and Leon Hogg, Route One, Stanton; Pat Cole, Star Route, Tarzan; William Cave, and Dannel Froman, Route One, Ackerly; and Glen Wren, Stanton.

The Martin County Sears Board will be shown by Dell Hogg, Rt. One, Stanton, at the area show, Big Spring.

Judge of the show here Saturday will be E. D. Steele, vocational agriculture teacher in the Stanton schools.

Dates Set For Annual Martin County Junior Livestock Show

Dates for the Annual Martin County Junior Livestock Show were announced as January 22-23 following a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Agricultural and Livestock Committee September 23.

Ray Hastings, chairman of the committee, said that approximately $600 would be used in putting on the show which will be held in the county show barn in Stanton.

Tentative plans for entertainment during the show include a barbecue, a greased pig contest, a parade, contests for younger children, and possibly a band or orchestra.

Competition in the annual event is open to boys of the 4-H Club and FFA whose record books are up to date. Cash premiums and trophies are awarded winners in the various classes which will include special awards for showmanship.

Grand Jury Called Monday Morning

A case involving murder and other cases ranging from forgery, burglary, theft, swindle, and habitual criminal will be considered by a Martin County Grand Jury which has been called for Monday at 10:00 a. m. A Petit Jury panel will convene at 1:00 p. m. the same day.

County Sheriff Dan Saunders named the following as prospective Grand Jurors: E. C. Bentley, D. B. Cross, James D. Eiland, W. E. Puquay, Harry Haislip, E. H. Hardy, Dwain Henson, Robert Herzog, Jack Ireton, Howard Jenkins, Sam Martin, J. C. Mott, H. O. Phillips, Joe Puga, Edd Robnett, and Elmer Nichols.

Howdy Folks

By John Roneche

A carnival atmosphere will prevail in Stanton Monday. Bargain counters will be loaded with exceptional values for thrifty shoppers. Fans from Big Spring and Martin County will be on hand to witness the cotton picking contest between our own County Judge JAMES McMORRIES and Howard County Judge R. H. WEAVER. These nimble fingered men will lift the fleecy fibers from WOODFORD SALE'S patch just south of Stanton at 3:30 in the afternoon. Members of local sororities will also pick cotton to raise funds for club projects. The ladies will also operate a concession stand at the scene of the contest. At 8:00 in the evening at the Texas Theatre, the LION'S CLUB will stage a talent show to climax the day's activities. . . . Don't forget, if your phone rings Monday pick it up and say "This is Dollar Day in Stanton".—It will be worth a silver dollar to you.

This is the week—from October 1 to 8—when the newspapers over the Nation are to say something about themselves—as much as they want—and what they want—as long as it is not about something the postal authorities will hold the issue from going through the mails.

In this day and time when loose vocabulary expressions are going the rounds in public places and on the streets, which is bound to bring a blush of shame to the cheeks of the devil, we can hardly see why the newspaper using the language of the underworld should be censored by Washington officials. But thank God, the newspapers of the nation, viewing their position in the world as a vehicle to convey into the homes the printed page that comprises the language of moral uplift of decency and dependency, choose to guide the profession along the line given in the Biblical quotation from—

Matt 5: "Blessed are the pure at heart . . ."

Blessed are you when men reproach you, and persecute you, and speaking falsely, say all manner of evil against you, for my sake. Rejoice and exult, because your reward is great in heaven."

The Stanton Reporter is now in its forty-seventh year of publication. There are no reliable statistics available revealing that in the early days of its publication The Reporter missed an issue or more, or that it didn't slip any. Files of the publication were not kept. Only from the one and only copy of a 1906 issue that was brought to this office by a pioneer subscriber was there reliable information that the Reporter's age dated from the year 1906. It could be that someone has stowed away a copy of The Stanton Reporter showing it was published at an earlier date.

With the half dozen business places, one a wagon yard, operating in Stanton in 1906, the field for newspapering did not present a lucrative one for the printer who had accepted the advice of Horace Greely: "Go West Young Man and Grow Up With the Country."

The guy who blazed the newspaper trail in West Texas in those pioneer days of the George Washington hand press and a "shirt-tail full of type," was not laden with the disappointment over lost riches, and had come West to drown his sorrows. His ambition was to locate his print shop in a one-room shack bordering a close kin to the Chuck Sales' type for roominess, where he could sleep in peace and comfort (?) on the floor on a mattress of heavy wrapping paper and old newspapers. Eat at the restaurant where with the proper plea of sympathy the owner would fall for an exchange of a meal ticket for an ad. in his newspaper.

But those were days now passed and gone forever. "Let the dead bury their dead," we say. And it was the "tall and sturdy oaks that grew from small acorns." The newspaper plants have grown from the "shirt-tail full of type" and the G. Wash. hand press into monster leading industrial plants of today. We are now in the year 1953, and the second week of the Fall season.

The first obligation of The Reporter is to print the news. The second is to guide public opinion by interpretation. The third is to furnish wholesome entertainment for readers. The fourth is to be of service to the community. The fifth obligation is very important function financially—to merchandise goods through its advertisements.

To those critics who take cynical attitude to a newspaper's activities to obtain advertising, we would remind them that there is nothing more silent than a closed newspaper.

Newspapers like to feel they are performing a special public service. When they are good newspapers, they undoubtedly are. But so do all honest useful businesses perform a public service—even a special public service. They who build homes certainly do so. The growers and distributors of food obviously are essential in our scheme of things. So are the merchants, the bankers, the doctors, the lawyers, the laborers, the craftsmen—a long list of occupations. Newspaper people shouldn't feel that they alone are striving to perform a special public service. All sincere workmen are trying to do that.

The Stanton Reporter recognizes its shortcomings. It is cognizant of the inability to gather and publish all the news that happens in the community, due mainly, to its limited news gathering agency, and partly, to forgetfulness of the reporter who has been informed of the news but failed to prepare it in time for publication. And there are many other defalcations that can be charged to The Reporter, but where is there a business that is infallible? It can be truthfully said by The Reporter that these imperfections are "all of the head, not of the heart."

The theme of this year's observance of National Newspaper Week is FREEDOM OF INFORMATION. The slogan is "AN INFORMED PRESS MEANS AN INFORMED PEOPLE."

That the National Newspaper Week is an annual event to be observed by the newspapers the world over, an occasion set aside for the newspapers to say something about themselves, we feel it is a fitting climax to our little speck, to introduce to the public the members of The Stanton Reporter force that each week converts the paper from the "raw material into the finished product," are:

James N. Allison, Jr., President of the Permian Basin Publishing Company, publishers of The Stanton Reporter.

James E. Kelly, Editor; A. W. Wooley, business manager; John T. Roueche, mechanical superintendent; Mrs. John T. Roueche, society editor and bookkeeper; Jerry Orren, casting box operator and general utility man.

Newspaper advertising assures quick, thorough and commercial dealer distribution and dealer good will, because retailers are willing to sell products advertised direct to their own customers.

The first American newspaper was printed in Boston in 1690. It bore the title "Public Occurrences Both Foreign and Domestic." It was suppressed by the Massachusetts governor after the first issue.

Bible Comment:

Religion of Thanks Typified in Psalms In Praise of God

WHEN the Apostle Paul, contemplating the blessings of God through Christ, sought to express his wonderment and praise, prose failed him, and he burst into the lyricism of psalm: "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift."

The giving of thanks was a deep and impassioned thing in Paul, the Christian.

And the note of thankfulness was deep and strong in the religion of the Old Testament, which was the heritage of both Paul and his Master.

Its highest expression is in the Psalms.

If one had to choose one Psalm that typifies the religion of thanksgiving, one would probably pick the 107th, although the group of Psalms from the 103rd through the 107th are full of the note of thanks.

Thankfulness in religion is not only a proper attitude for blessings received, it is also an attitude of receptiveness.

An unthankful soul is a closed soul. Not much can penetrate the wall of an unthankful spirit.

Probably the most beautiful of all the Psalms are those in which the note of thankfulness is uppermost—the Psalms of praise for what God has done, that call upon men to bless God for His goodness and wonderful works to the children of men, and that express the love of the Lord as the proper response of a thankful heart.

There is such a thing as saying "Please" to God. The Psalmists knew how to say it, as humble suppliants, and they knew how to say "Thanks."

As the Psalms offer us the rich substance of praise and thankfulness, they offer, too, the finest models in beauty of form and expression.

It is not a coincidence, but in frank recognition of this, that in so many churches the responsive readings are drawn from the Psalms.

Says US Treasury, Supply Winter Hay In About Same Shape

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Mustang Draw must think money is hay, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was wanderin' around over my pasture yesterday afternoon absorbin' the October sun and sizzin' up my cows and wonderin' how cold it'll get this winter and whether they can all make it through alive when I noticed a copy of a newspaper had blown against a corner post and since my corner posts ain't the strongest in the world I figured I'd better take the paper off to cut down on the wind resistance. I haven't got time to be repairin' blown-over corner posts when there's even more work needed to be done on the posts in between, not to mention the wire, and since I had the paper in my hand when I puled it off I took it home and picked out a comfortable spot on the south side of the barn and stretched out and looked it over.

What interested me right off was an article sayin' the Secretary of the U. S. Treasury, George Humphrey, has checked up on the money on hand in Washington and has informed President Eisenhower that the government probably can scrape through the fall and winter without callin' Congress back into session to raise some more. He figures the government can cut a few corners and scratch around and meet its bills until January at least, when Congress is due back anyway.

I know exactly how it is, and I'm pleased to learn that me and the Secretary of the Treasury have some problems in common.

I have been checkin' up on my supply of Johnson grass hay and I've figured if I cut some corners and scratch around enough, my cows ought to be able to make it to January too, and I'm gonna take the position that if the United States Treasury can do it, my cows ought to too. In fact, my cows are gonna have to buckle down, recognize that's all the hay there is, and get by on it. This idea of pourin' more and more hay to the cows and more and more money to the people can't go on forever. We got to call a halt somewhere and I'm proud that me and the Secretary of the Treasury see eye to eye on it.

Of course, the people have a little advantage over my cows. My cows don't have Congress comin' back into session in January to take the pressure off, they've got to make it all the way to spring grass along in April. My cows just don't have any machinery for callin' me back into session in January. It's up to them to size up the hay in the barn and recognize that's all that's standin' between them and the first bale of green grass six months from now. I don't know that they'll be better cows physically for the experience, but if they make it they'll have the satisfaction of coming through with stronger characters. I've heard President Eisenhower himself say we need to strengthen the moral fiber of this nation. Personally, I find a great satisfaction in knowin' that the United States Treasury and my hay barn are in about the same shape.

TEC To Make Survey Of Wages To Be Paid Mexican Nationals

Leon M. Kinney, local office manager for the Texas Employment Commission, Big Spring, said today that Martin County cotton farmers will soon receive letters requesting them to supply information and wage data for a "range and wage survey" being conducted by the Texas Employment Commission and the local Crop Wage Committee.

The letter, he said, will explain the wage survey plan in detail, and will include a questionnaire which will request information on the general characteristics of the farm, such as size, cotton acreage, anticipated cotton yield, whether the farm is irrigated or non-irrigated, and similar data necessary for analysis of the sample to assure that it is representative in every respect.

The survey will be made, according to Kinney, in compliance with Public Law 78, which, in part says, that Mexican Nationals may be admitted to this Country for farm employment only if it is found that the wages and working conditions of domestic farm workers will not be adversely affected.

Kinney said, "Wages which the farmer agrees to pay Mexican Nationals are subject to change, depending on what other farmers pay their workers. Therefore, the survey is made for the convenience of the employers hiring Mexican Nationals.

"In fact," he said, "the Migrant Labor Agreement of 1951, as amended, heads in part as follows: 'The Mexican Consuls and Representatives of the Secretary of Labor shall exercise vigilance to insure that the wage rate paid to the Mexican worker is not less than the prevailing wage rate for similar work in the area of employment and that wages are paid to the Mexican workers in accordance with such rate or with any increases in such rate which may become effective in the area during the period of employment, but not below the minimum rate specified in the Work Contract. Increases in prevailing wage rates shall be put into effect immediately by the employer and shall not be contingent upon a formal request to do so by the Mexican worker, the Consul of Mexico, or the Representative of the Secretary of Labor. Declines in prevailing wage rates shall not be recognized and accepted by the Mexican worker, provided they do not fall below the rates specified in the Work Contract.'

The surveys are made only in the areas where Mexican Nationals are to be employed in numbers to warrant a survey. The surveys will be made bi-weekly during the cotton harvest season, Kinney said.

He added that a folded perforated card will be mailed to each farmer included in the survey on Mondays of the survey week. Information requested should be related to Wednesday of the survey week and returned the same day for tabulation by the TEC and the local Crop Wage Committee. Farmers not included on the sample list for the survey, will be given an opportunity to voluntarily furnish information on cards that will be available at cotton gins in the survey area.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sadler and children of Lubbock, visited relatives here over the weekend.

Retired Stanton Farmer Buried Here Friday

Funeral services were held at the Stanton Methodist Church Friday at 3 p. m. for Walter James Johnson, 73, who died at 6:40 a. m. September 24 in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mike Anderson, where he had been living the past year. Rev. Hugh H. Hunt, Methodist minister, officiated and burial was in Evergreen Cemetery under the arrangements of Arrington Funeral Home.

Johnson, who was born February 6, 1880, in Terrell County,

Georgia, came to Texas in 1904. In 1923 he moved to a farm five miles east of Stanton, where he lived until he moved to Stanton. He had farmed until about ten years ago when a heart condition made retirement advisable. Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Lela May Johnson, and the daughter, both of Stanton; a niece, Mrs. Ollie Harlow Brownwood; a nephew, C. A. Chastine, Brownwood; three granddaughters and two great-grandchildren.

Beryl Clinton Receives Masters Degree

From a recent issue of the Amarillo Globe News, comes the news of a former Stanton boy, that will be of interest to his many local friends.

He was an outstanding player on the Buffalo football squad while attending High School in Stanton.

Beryl Clinton, is the son of Mrs. Jessie Clinton, living on Star Route out of Stanton.

The Amarillo newspaper published the following news item about Beryl Clinton:

"Mrs. Beryl Clinton and new son, Charles Clinton, are at home at 4003 Gabies, from Northwest Texas Hospital. Charles was born, Thursday afternoon, August 27. He weighed 6 lbs., 12 oz. The Clintons have another son, Gary, who is almost 8 years old.

"Mrs. Jessie Clinton of Stanton, was here to greet the new grandson. She remained after attending the graduation exercises at West Texas State College, Canyon, when Beryl Clinton, a member of Amarillo High School faculty, received his Masters degree in Education.

"The paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Quinn, 111 East 17th, were enroute home after attending the International Typographical Union Convention in Detroit, Michigan."

TIME TO ACT!

Make a thorough check of your home. Inspect and clean your heating system, correct faulty wiring, clean out rubbish such as old newspapers and oily rags, and remove gasoline or other volatile liquids from the house. Follow these and other simple fire prevention rules regularly. The "ounce of prevention" proverb is never more true when it comes to the need of better fire prevention.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

One for the Books!

Noticed the Missus had a red ribbon tied around her finger at breakfast one morning last week. "What's that for?" I asked. "Your memory slipping?"

"It's not for me," she answers, "it's to remind you, and everybody else who asks what it's for, to contribute to the Woman's Club Library Fund. We need $200 and we figured we'd get more help if we could get people to ask us about it."

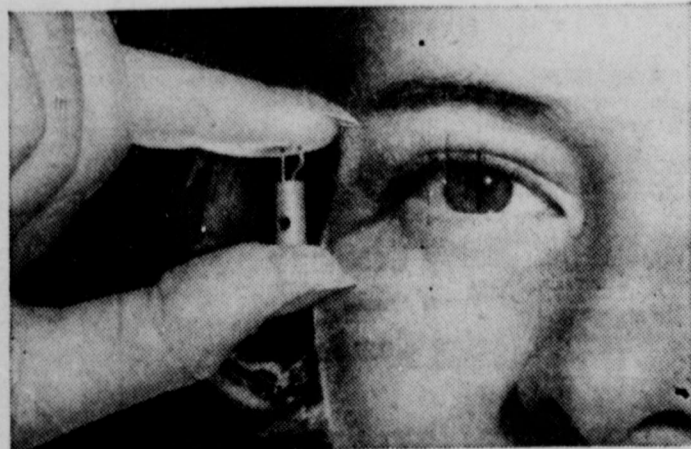

Well, as it turned out, the red ribbon worked just fine. The ladies are having the library all fixed up—and there's enough money for some new books, too. From where I sit, it would be a fine thing if we had some sort of private reminder when we forget the rights of our neighbors. Like when we start telling them what we think is best. I may like a travel book and a temperate glass of beer while you prefer a cup of tea with your historical novel. Let's both remember not to "put the finger" on the other!

Mighty Midget Starts Revolution

THIS IS A "TRANSISTOR"... the most important single invention ever developed by telephone scientists. Now used mostly for military purposes, it promises to revolutionize the design of many everyday electronic devices, from hearing aids to television sets. In telephone equipment it is expected to replace vacuum tubes — doing the same job, but taking up far less space and using far less power. Not all the new ideas developed by telephone research are as exciting as this. But every year an average of 260 inventions and improvements are made to help us keep your telephone service high in value — low in cost. SOUTHWESTERN BELL... FROM WHERE I SIT—By Hila Weathers

Manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce

THIS IS NOT A presentation of a new member, but public recognition of one of our active members who has been on the membership roster since they established their place of business. We recognize the Stanton Drug Company for voluntarily raising their monthly budget to the Chamber of Commerce. They are aware that the only source of income for this organization is from dues, or budgets set up by both business firms and individuals. Believing in the efforts of the officers, directors, committee chairmen, and each individual member, for a full program of work for the good of every person in the trade territory, this business establishment has been one of the first to step out and say: "We want to do more to help the activities along!" This is fine!

JUST REMEMBER to say: "This is Dollar Day in Stanton," when answering the telephone next Monday. Don't say: "Hello!" IF you answer correctly when this office calls you, then you will win a silver dollar. We have five shiny ones ready to be given out. SO, help put the Dollar Day over with a bang! Of course, if a business firm is called they are to answer: "This is Dollar Day at —" and give the name of their place of business. Now, you got it? Let's go!

IT WAS OUR PLEASURE to join a group and visit with the Colored Parent-Teachers Association at their school one night last week. Mrs. Leo Turner, City-County Sanitarian, was guest speaker, with a definite plan of action for the good of our colored neighbors in their efforts to build. Mrs. Glenn Gates, president of the Stanton PTA, was also a speaker, and brought out a major point of cooperation in forwarding programs of progress for all children throughout this area. The Colored PTA members, both men and women, responded with several inspiring talks and group singing, which was highly enjoyed. Our best wishes to them in their future programs.

AND SPEAKING OF Mrs. Leo Turner, we have visual proof that Leo has been on the job, not only with one of the outstanding fields of irrigated cotton in this section, but Jendo brought in one of the prettiest watermelons you ever saw, and so over the week-end, I ate most of that melon, and mankind, but it was so juicy and sweet! Now, don't ask me the species, I don't know, it was just one of the best watermelons I've ever tasted. Thanks, Jendo and Leo.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS to the work that some of the committees of the Chamber of Commerce are doing. They're doing some mighty fine jobs, and the program of one committee coming up October 4-10. This is Fire Prevention Week, and Henry Louder is chairman of the committee working for the programs to observe the full National Week. Each man, woman and child should assume their part of the responsibility and check your homes for fire hazards, and do away with stacks of papers and rubbish, and all things which might be breeding places for fire. Help keep our fire rates down! This is your job!

SEVERAL NIGHTS AGO, we

Carrie Alvis, Librarian

"It pays to advertise," has proven to be very true as far as our library is concerned. The library report in the last issue of The Reporter was read by several persons who came in and said that they had not been aware there was a public library in Stanton. They and several of their neighbors selected material from our shelves for the first time.

Our remarks about the books that have been checked out by borrowers who had forgotten to return them have also served to bring many books back. Many borrowers have looked through their book shelves and found overdue library books. While returning them they have brought along some of their own books enjoyed an evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Morrow, going out with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Halslip. The evening was very happily spent with these fine folks, and especially, did we enjoy the beauty of the entire place. The Morrrows' home is like an oasis, as we drove through windswept fields, and suddenly came upon their yard, deeply carpeted with rich green grass, and brightly blooming zinnias running along a white fence. That was a surprisingly beautiful scene, and if you haven't been out that way, then you should go. Our thanks to both couples for a very happy evening.

OUR SINCERE GOOD wishes to the Lions Club for a highly successful Talent Show. This program deserves to be well attended, as all proceeds go toward buying an eye testing machine for our school children. We heartily endorse their activities and urge you to help in their work by attending. John Rouche is program chairman, and is doing an excellent job.

OUR QUOTE FOR THE WEEK "Little boys who tell lies grow into big men, who tell their little sons they will grow big and strong by eating spinach!"

which they have donated to our collection.

This reponse is very commendable and we hope the spirit can be carried into all homes where some of our books still remain. Some of our most popular books are still missing and are considerably overdue.

When new books are donated to this library the name of the book and the name of the donor are recorded in a special record book which is kept on our library table. We would like to encourage persons to donate books as a memorial to deceased loved ones.

Wanted books which are either loaned out or which we do not have include such popular authors as Edna Ferber, Lois Lenski, Emil Loring, and Grace L. Hill. Books often sought by the younger teenagers are The Hardy Boys, Bobby Twins, and Tarzan books. The Giant Golden books are sought often but are scarce.

Let me again urge that all overdue books be returned and while so doing it would be fine to bring along some of your own books that have been read or outgrown. Our cooperative efforts will help make many readers happy.

IN FROM HIS "HAT L" RANCH

Jack Estes was in town Saturday sporting a clean shirt, from his "Hat L" ranch. Jack is not a bit hoggish about the area his ranch covers as it takes in part of the counties of Martin, Dawson and Gaines. He stated that he had sold several head of cattle last week to a Deaf Smith County rancher at Hereford. His grazing lands were still dry as heck, (not the word Jack used but we'll let it go at that).

VISITED IN MIDLAND

Your Texas Government Is New Textbook For Seventh Grade Pupils

Bob Boyce—Sandra Gibson

The Seventh Grade has an entirely new subject this year. They have a new textbook that is being used for the first time. The book, Your Texas Government, was written by Comer Clay of Texas Christian University and Elva A. Lernet, of the Fort Worth public schools. It is published by W. S. Benson and Company of Austin, Texas.

Some of the things we are studying in this new subject are the meaning and purpose of government and how it touches our daily lives. We are learning about our freedoms and rights, and about our duties and responsibilities as American citizens. All of us have memorized the American's Creed, by William Tyler Page. We think this study will help make us better citizens in our schools, our churches, our community and in our country.

Fifth Grade Geography Class Hears O B Bryan

Linda Nichols

O. B. Bryan, manager of the Cap Rock Electric Co-Op, was guest speaker at the fifth grade geography class September 22. The class has been studying Washington, D. C. Bryan told us many interesting and educational facts about our National Capitol.

He told us about hydroelectric power, dams and modern inventions that may effect our lives in the near future.

This was an annual visit. Bryan visits the fifth grade each year. His talks make the study of Washington more exciting than our textbooks.

We have a new pupil, Charlotte Ash from Sweetwater.

Two of our boys moved away. They were Pedro and Faustino Arreguin.

The junior class enjoyed operating the football concession stand. Our mothers were very helpful and food was donated by the class. We will again operate the concession stand when O'Donnell comes here October 9.

EDITORIAL

Eula Belle Mott—Senior

Do you have a child taking music or a child who walks across the street to the "store"? Do you know what the odds are for a car hitting one of these children one day? The odds are not very good. For years children have crossed that road without an accident and that kind of luck does not continue forever. This road is a stretch of the old highway 80 running from the corner of St. Francis to Highway 80.

For several years people have tried to have this road closed, with no luck. Last year, when first grade was situated in the house across the road, the campaign to close it set up in earnest, to no avail. There were blockades set up for about a block in front of the house but these did no good. Cars coming off Highway 80 were moving so fast that they either hit the blockades, or ran around them. Even from this you can see the great danger to small children. For a while we had safety patrolmen stationed along this route but this did not produce the results needed. The only sure, safe way to protect these children is to close the road completely. You cannot be too careful with the life of a child. It takes so few seconds to snuff out a life and even one small life is worth so much more than all the money it could possibly take or all the trouble it might cause to close this road.

Every day children of all ages cross this road to music or to the store or even going home. A small child doesn't realize, and a larger child sometimes forgets, the meaning of the slogan: "stop, look, and listen." Motorists are careless people and few stop to think of the small people who might be crossing. This past summer a car swerved off the road, hitting a parked school bus near the gym. What if school had been going on and your child had been riding that bus. The other day a car was pulling off the street, running in front of the school, onto the old highway and two small girls ran onto the road. The car was moving slowly and the little girls stopped, but what if the circumstances had been different. You might have been the driver or it might have been your little girl. Think about it!!! What do you think should be done?

T&P Offers Senior Class Educational Trip To "Orleans"

Angie Chesser

The most thrilling moment, so far this year, for the Seniors came with the offer from the T & P Railroad. This offer includes a five day trip to New Orleans with meals and lodging provided. Two of the most outstanding features of the trip will be a tour of New Orleans and a boat cruise on the gulf. Other entertainment will be provided.

You can see why we are working so hard this year to earn money. We appreciate the help that you have given us and that you would like to give us in the future, for we feel that this will be an educational and entertaining trip.

LUNCHROOM MENU

Typing Class Serves Lion's Club Dinner

LaRue Angel—Junior

Typing Class I served the Lion's Club Monday, September 21, 1953. The Lion's Club honored the teachers of Stanton school. The food was served family style and the girls served tea and coffee extra and refilled the bowls.

All of the typing I students helped prepare the meal in one way or the other.

Corky Blocker, Courtney Clements and Jerry Orren are the boys that helped wash the dishes after the meal.

Larrie Fisher, Ima Joy Williamson, Jeanie Overby, Dora Jane Ashley, Frances Young, Margaret Pierce, Virginia Wooley, Marglene Kelly and LaRue Angel served the rolls and kept the glasses filled with tea. When the Lions were ready to eat their dessert we served them coffee if it was desired.

The Lion's Club thanked the class for serving such an excellent meal.

NEW SEVENTH GRADER

ENTERS EIGHTH GRADE

Diana Dawson has entered Stanton schools as a member of the eighth grade.

PEP SQUAD LEADER

Randa Windsor was named junior pep squad leader.

FHA Elects Officers, Outlines Activities

Joyce Burchett

FHA stands for Future Homemakers of America—an incorporated non-profit youth organization. Any pupil may enroll in the secondary school who is taking or has taken a homemaking course in junior or senior high school may become a member. The main goal is learning to live better today in order that homemaking pupils live—and those of their families may be better tomorrow. The emblem of the Future Homemakers of America is octagonal in shape and bears the name of the organization. The colors are red and white, which means youth of courage, and a determination to succeed. The flower is a red rose—it is symbolic to glowing health. The motto is "Toward New Horizons."

The Stanton FHA Chapter met September 21, 1953 to elect new officers. They are: President, La Rue Angel; vice-president, Mary Beth Ory; reporter, Joyce Burchett; secretary, Larie Fisher; treasurer, Patsy Wheless; parliamentary, Dona Holder; song leader, Jeanette Howell; yearbook chairman, Virginia Wooley; scrapbook chairman, Jane Blissard; scrapbook helpers, Joyce Davenport and Francis Young.

We the Future Homemakers of America, are going to do our best in making a true Future Homemaker of America. We as the Future Homemakers of America know it is hard work, and that we must set an example for the new Future Homemakers of America.

Junior High Classes Feature Plays

Eighth Grade

Our history class gave a play, "Sir Pirate" this week. It was written by Jeanene Gibson. The characters were:

Seventh Grade

The seventh grade met September 25, 1953. The president, John Ray Ory called the meeting to order. The secretary, Sandra Gibson read the minutes. Betty Berry gave a play. The committee chairman gave their reports after the play. The meeting adjourned.

In Physical Education the girls are playing basket ball. The boys are training for football.

THE FINE CAR at half the fine car price

Duplicating America's costliest cars, feature after feature, Ford is worth more when you buy it . . . worth more when you sell it!

A FEW MINUTES on the telephone calling the dealers who sell America's finest cars will reveal there are at least eleven models among four makes with price tags over $4,000!

Now the interesting thing is that in feature after feature the Ford car duplicates each of these fine cars, and for less than half the fine car price!

Look under the hood of the most expensive cars and what do you find?

A V-8 Engine! Well, the Ford car has a V-8, too. In fact, it has had a V-8 since 1932, and since that time Ford has built more V-8's—by millions—than all other manufacturers combined. And there's no other builder in Ford's price range that's seen fit to offer one yet!

But the engine, as fine as it is, is only one of many things that make a fine car fine.

Automatic shifting, for example. All the fine cars offer it in one form or another because it's one of the things that make a fine car fine. But if you've never driven a Ford with Fordomatic you've missed one of the finer things of life. This amazing transmission not only does away with clutching and shifting forever—it gives you exactly the amount of power you want, when you want it—automatically.

Fine car power steering, too. The big, heavy costly cars offer it for the same reason they offer power brakes. It's a man-sized job for a 120 pound woman to handle a car weighing two tons or more without it—especially when parking. Our "Master-Guide" has two distinct benefits.

First, it gives a hydraulic power assist right down at the wheels and just enough to take out the work. You don't relinquish one particle of control—rather your control is more complete and far easier.

Second, being hydraulic, "Master-Guide" power steering absorbs those fatiguing steering wheel tremors caused by ruts and roads in bad repair. And you don't pay a fine car price for "Master-Guide."

But there is another fine car feature—the Ford ride. Books have been written on the subject of riding quality in an automobile, but the payoff comes on the pavement—or lack of it! Many people associate a comfortable ride with excess weight, but it's not weight alone that makes for comfort. If it were, those big five-ton trucks which you see every day would be the most comfortable vehicles on the road.

Without being technical we can tell you that what's been done with the suspension and springing system gives the Ford a softer ride, a smoother ride than many cars which tip the scales at better than an added half ton.

What about room? Here's an interesting point. If you've felt that only a costly car offered enough room, you just ought to sit down in a Ford even if you're out-size and six feet four! The so-called big car is bigger on the outside, but unless you buy a limousine with those little jump seats, it's not one passenger bigger inside.

Visibility is another fine car Ford feature. We say Ford cars offer "full-circle" visibility because they all have huge, curved one-piece windshields and a huge rear window to match . . . plus side windows that mean every passenger gets room with a view!

How beautiful is a Ford? A great English poet, John Keats, once wrote "Beauty is Truth, Truth Beauty"—well, he could have been writing about our car for its beauty comes from honest, clean lines in every dimension. In fact, we think most people agree—even our competitors —that the appearance of a Ford Car leaves very little to be desired. It is "at home" wherever it goes and it goes everywhere.

But what about Ford quality? Does it too match the fine car? Is the sheet metal of the body panels as thick? Is the finish as good? How about the trim and things like that? Well, as far as we can determine, the sheet metal is identical in thickness in practically all instances. As to finish—we believe Ford's baked-on enamel has no equal in any car. Ford upholstery fabrics and trim are less costly, but they're less delicate, too, and if anything, more durable.

How then is it possible to give you this fine car at half the fine car price?

Part of the answer lies in Ford manufacturing skills and knowledge as evidenced by the V-8 engine. Part of it comes from the ever increasing numbers of cars Ford produces and the economies they make possible. And, part of it comes from Ford's willingness to give greater values than might be expected in cars selling in Ford's price range. And that's the Ford idea.

FORD

Worth more when you buy it. Worth more when you sell it!

cotton fields as the second week of the cotton harvest is underway, the fleecy long staple lint is being gathered at the rate of a bale to bale and a half per acre, leads me to believe if the critic of The Reporter's 20,000-bale estimate, isn't correct in his prediction of 25,000 bale crop, I'm not a native of the Show Me State, but my leaning is in that direction, and The Reporter's estimate stand as is.

Daisy—"Why are you wearing your socks inside out?"
Crazy—"My feet were hot, mother told me to turn the hose on them."

STARTING FROM TODAY, Thursday, there are all kind of weeks coming up set aside for observance. As Jimmy Durante of movie fame says, "everybody wants to get into the act."

The first week observance is National Newspaper Week, October 1-8; Fire Prevention Week, October 4-11; Press Day at the Panhandle South Plains Fair, Lubbock, September 28-October 6, for members of the South Plains Press Association, October 3.

This event is where I come in. Charles L. Adams, Jr., president of the Fair, extended me an invitation to attend and bring along a lady, by issuing me a pass for Press Day luncheon to take place on the mezzanine floor of the Cap Rock Hotel. When I was through eating my lunch and arrived at the door on my way out I would be presented with a ticket entitling myself and lady free passageway into the carnival grounds. Oh, boy, that event is to restore youth back into the marrow of these old bones. I can ride my favorite horse on the merry-go-round . . . have the opportunity to commune with the birds of the air when I reach the top point on the Ferris Wheel . . . bring back into play that old baseball arm of mine by throwing eggs at the head of a negro boy stuck through a sheet . . . drop a few rings over knivese stuck in a table . . . and on my way out enter the tent and gaze on the bearded lady.

But after taking an inventory of my vacation money, I regret to disappoint the officials of the Panhandle South Plains Fair, I can't go.

THE NAME OF MARTIN COUNTY'S contestant in the cotton picking contest to come off on the afternoon of October 5, travels afar from its home haunts. The editor of the Munday Times, picked up the name from reading an account of the contest and reported in his paper last week that County Judge James McMorris, once lived in that town.

I PAUSE HERE TO PASS ALONG my regrets to Joe Pickle, managing editor of the Big Spring Daily Herald, as being a patient in a Big Spring hospital. At the close of the last session of the State Legislature, Pickle was returning from Austin where he had covered the legislative proceedings for the Hanks-Hart newspapers and met with a car collision that sent him to the hospital with a fractured right arm. The broken member developed a crook in it and to straighten the arm Pickle entered a Big Spring hospital two weeks ago and had the arm broken over in the hope when he pulls out from this operation the fault will be removed. Here's hoping Joe your hopes will be realized.

Phil—"Why don't you like girls?"
Abe—"They're too biased."
Phil—"Biased?"
Abe—"Yeah! Bias this and bias that—until I'm busted."

IT IS SAID THAT MOUNTAINS are built out of molehills, but I'm inclined to treat this old saying as far-fetched. Nevertheless, what has developed from a small undertaking . . . cotton picking contest between the county judges of Martin and Howard Counties, the occasion is shaping itself to emerge as a mountain of entertaining features from a molehill at the start, Monday, October 5, is to be called "Cotton Appreciation Day." Aside from the cotton picking contest, there will be free picture shows, band, and other entertainment during the day, and to climax the day-full of entertainment, at the Texas Theatre house that night, the Lions Club will stage a Talent Show, which will comprise stunts put on by individuals, groups, and civic clubs.

This "Cotton Appreciation Day" comes on Dollar Days in Stanton, a time when your dollar will stretch further for what it will buy in merchandise at the local merchants, than it has in a long, long time.

Boys, lockup the house, call the dogs, all pile into Tin Lizzy and come to town next Monday and enjoy yourselves.

English Class Learns Origin Of Literature

Paige Elland—Senior
During the first four weeks of school the Seniors have studied Geoffrey Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales". We learned that the popularity of "Canterbury Tales" is brought about by Chaucer's pre-eminent power to depict character and to make each of his characters a distinct individual.

We are now studying the works of William Shakespeare. Shakespeare got his beginning in plays around 1592. The class is now studying one of Shakespeare's greatest works, "MacBeth."

From the study of English literature we have learned the real beginning of our own literature. We have learned how our literature has grown from epics and ballads to the novels of today; from oral literature to printed; from Latin to modern English.

Jack Arrington of Stanton has been named agent, in Stanton, of the Western Republic Life Insurance Company, according to an announcement by Banks L. Miller, president of the newly organized company, whose home office is in Austin.

Arrington has been in the general insurance field since 1947. He spent four years in the U. S. Navy.

Mr. Arrington has been very active in civic affairs, and is Past Master of Stanton Lodge No. 151, member of Eastern Star The American Legion, a Shriner in Suez Temple, and president of the Martin County Girl Scouts Council.

In announcing the appointment, Miller stated, "We are extremely pleased to have Mr. Arrington as our Stanton repre-

Deavenport's To Observe Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Deavenport are observing their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, October 4, with an open house at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Edmund Tom, between the hours of 4 p. m. and 6 p. m.

They cordially invite all their friends to call and help them celebrate. Do not bring gifts.

The sophomore class has grown by two new members. They are Zana Dawson and Roth Goodman. Plans are now being made for a meeting with our mothers to plan this year's schedule.

VISITOR FROM WHITESBORO

Mrs. J. S. Bryan of Whitesboro, is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Bryan.

We believe that his qualifications and experience will enable him to be a counsel in insurance matters, working with his clients in preparing an adequate well-rounded insurance program in our company, which has over a quarter of a million dollars in assets, and was organized to give expert insurance service in all parts of Texas."

Kenneth Henson, QB Out Of Lobo Squad Broken Collar Bone

The Reporter was informed Saturday by the father, Lloyd Henson, that his son, Kenneth Henson, had that morning left Stanton for Alpine to be on hand for the football game that night between Sul Ross Lobos and the Texas Lutherans.

Kenneth Henson, quarterback on the Lobo squad, had suffered a broken collar bone Wednesday afternoon of last week, so the Reporter has been informed by Glenn Burgess, director of public relations at Sul Ross. According to Burgess, Henson received his injury during football practice as the team was running plays on Texas Lutherans, the team the Lobos played Saturday night and defeated 30-0. Henson was unable to play in Saturday night's game, but the father told the Reporter that the Lobo coach, Al Milch,
