(Opinions expressed in this column are the views of the writer and should be so interpreted).

The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are the children of the wicked one;

The enemy that soweth them is the devil; the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels;

As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be the end of the world.

St. Matthews 12: 38-39-40.

THE STANTON REPORTER IS observing National Newspaper Week on the ragged end of the celebration. The observance began October 1, and ends Friday.

Just what would you do if The Stanton Reporter and all other newspapers over the nation should call it quits—not issue another copy of the printed page?

Perhaps one of the most important things to you would be your daughter's wedding. How flat would fall the occasion if you didn't have the local newspaper to carry the account of the wedding and her photograph.

If you wanted to file away the account of the wedding in your trunk, you'd have to scribble it on foolscap paper.

A close relative or friend dies. No newspaper to print the news. To spread the news to your neighbors you'd have to call them over the telephone to inform them of the funeral hour, the church where the funeral is to be held, the officiating minister, etc.

The merchant, to get his advertisement to the customers in his trade territory, perhaps could mimeograph the announcement and distribute it to the people in the area by making a house to house canvas.

What happens when the newspapers stop is summed up pretty well by TV's Dorothy Kilgallen: "Nothing could quite take the place of the newspaper, nothing could do all the things—the routine things, the odd things, the amusing things—that the newspaper does in its many different ways for its readers. While one woman said, 'Even if the news is bad, I guess I want to know it.' Another—a girl at a cigarette counter—said, 'Wouldn't you hate to get married now? You can't even get your name in the paper, and I don't know how else I'll ever do it.'"

There is a part the public can play in paying its respects to the newspapers—especially, to the local newspaper. Support it with advertising and other printing business. Keep aloof from spending money with the fly-by-night advertising agents whose advertising revenue for the advertiser, is dissolved into thin air. These advertising representatives are interested in the welfare of the town and community only so far as they can bleed the public—leaches, shall we say, upon the body politic. Their financial expenditure in the community stops with the investment in house or room rent. They pay no tax money into the coffers of the county and city governments.

One writer says: "I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community, in the archives of state and nation. I am the lives of my readers. I am the country newspaper."

In his message to the newspapers on the occasion of National Newspaper Week, President Eisenhower, in part, said: "The nation joins the editors, publishers and reporters of this country in observance of National Newspaper Week. No institution is more necessary to our way of life than a free press. Those who struggle to keep America informed can enjoy the satisfaction of knowing that their contribution to the cause of freedom is mighty. They will deserve the respect and gratitude and support of all our people."

Scandal Trials Are Shifted

County Judge Outlines Financing Plans

Hospital Mortgage Negotiations Are Nearing An End

Negotiations were nearing an end this week for lifting the mortgage from the Martin County Memorial Hospital.

County Judge Bruce R. Frazier announced that the Amicable life insurance company had agreed to accept $35,000 in county bonds as part payment on the $47,000 indebtedness outstanding.

Under the terms of the agreement reached last week in a conference in Waco with Holt Massey, president of the life insurance company, the bonds will carry an interest rate of only two and one-quarter per cent.

"This is much lower than we could have sold the bonds for on the market," said Judge Frazier, "and the county will benefit that much."

The bonds—in $5,000 denomination—are being prepared for delivery.

The $35,000 bond payment leaves a balance of $12,050 and Judge Frazier this week outlined plans for retiring that balance. Four lots and a house, owned by the hospital, are now being offered for sale and bids will be received until Monday morning.

It is hoped that the property will bring at least $5,000, which will be applied on the mortgage held by Amicable.

To retire the balance, Judge Frazier said he would ask 30 Stanton men, who now are obligated up to $1,000 each on promissory notes, to replace these with notes of $375 each, to be retired by the hospital at the rate of $100 monthly.

Cases Will Be Heard Nov. 15 In Sweetwater

The transfer of 28 felony theft cases, involving former County Judge James McMorries and six other persons, to the 32nd District Court in Sweetwater was ordered here this week by District Judge Charlie Sullivan.

The seven men, including County Commissioner Joe Froman, former commissioners Oliver Vaughn and Stanley Lewis and three other men, were ordered to report in the Nolan County court on November 15.

The other three men are Whit McMorries, and M. H. McMorries, brothers of the former county judge, and James Herndon of Stanton.

All seven of the men posted new bonds a few hours after the transfer was ordered on Judge Sullivan's own motion.

The change of venue was ordered after Judge Sullivan expressed the belief they would be unable to receive a fair and impartial trial because of the wide publicity attending a recent grand jury investigation of financial affairs of Martin County and some of its independent school districts.

James McMorries faced 15 of the indictments involving the theft of county and school district funds.

Judge Sullivan announced his action as a new Martin County grand jury, headed by O. B. Bryan as foreman, was sworn into office to open the October term of the 118th district court here.

Other members of the grand jury include Eugene Baugh, James Biggs, L. O. Shortes, Bill Howell, Grover Springer, H. G. Glaze, Irvin Myrick, Cecil Bridges, Cecil Gilmore, Howard Jenkins and H. P. Morrison.

The grand jury met only for a brief session, returning a lone indictment on a charge of second offense drunken driving against Carl Dale Hunter of Sweetwater.

Hunter was arrested only a few hours before—on Sunday night—by Deputy Sheriff A. C. Abernathy on U. S. Highway 80 east of Stanton.

Hunter already has served one prison sentence on a similar charge and was released almost two years ago.

The scheduled trial of the seven Martin County men in Sweetwater was assured of a battery of legal talent.

Within an hour after Guilford Jones of Big Spring was notified of his appointment as district attorney to succeed Elton Gilliland, who had resigned, he announced he had asked Gilliland, County Attorney Ralph Caton and District Attorney Eldon Mahon of Sweetwater to join him in the prosecution of the cases.

Caton and Gilliland had spearheaded the investigation which led to the 28 indictments by the Martin County grand jury.

Springer Faces School District Recovery Suit

A suit for the recovery of $4,537.58 in school funds was filed this week in 118th district court against Grover Springer, president of the board of the Grady Consolidated Independent School district.

The first civil action filed following the recent investigation of tangled financial affairs in the county, the petition asserted the money was spent "fraudulently and illegally."

Bringing the suit were Otto Bearden and M. McKaskle on behalf of the school district.

Springer, operator of a grocery and hardware store at Leonora, has been president of the school board since January 1, 1951.

The suit asserted that during that time approximately $2,000 in checks on school district funds had been issued to the grocery store.

During the same period, the petition continued, Springer collected $1,600—at the rate of $50 a month—from school teachers for utilities and "such amount has not been paid into the funds of such school district."

The suit further alleges that school funds had been deposited with the Higginbotham-Bartlett Company of Stanton, which, in turn, issued a check for $937 to Springer, "which was done for the purpose of defrauding such school district in such amount."

Council Defers Water Action

The city council Tuesday night deferred action on the city's water problems, but discussed at varying lengths three possible alternatives in coping with the situation.

Mayor J. W. Sale and councilmen decided to conduct further studies before taking any action.

Alternatives discussed included (1) increasing capacities of present wells, (2) purchasing a land tract and sinking a 700-800 gallon well, and (3) getting water from commercial suppliers.

In other matters, the council voted to publish a financial statement for the quarter ending Sept. 30, agreed to purchase an electric adding machine, and authorized the mayor to execute deeds to property owners on an abandoned street.

The council also considered a suggestion by Police Chief Ed McCain that a different type of traffic light be installed at the intersection of Highway 80 and St. Peter Street.

McCain said it was difficult at present for motorists to distinguish between the red and green lights when the sun is setting. The mayor and McCain were scheduled to go to Midland to look over some surplus lights.

In the Sept. 16 meeting, the council had discussed the possibilities of three bond issues, including one for $45,000 to finance water improvements. This entailed a new well and additional storage facilities. The other two propositions were a swimming pool ($25,000) and a building for a community center ($9,000).

Decision to publish the financial statement came on an unanimous vote on an amended motion originally made by Councilman Bob Deavenport.

The original motion stipulated that statements be published every quarter and was seconded by Councilman June Graham. Councilman S. W. Wheeler moved an amendment which stipulated that the statement be published for the quarter ending Sept. 30 only. Wheeler and Councilman Sam Wilkinson voted for the amendment and the mayor broke a tie vote by voting for it also. The original motion as amended carried unanimously.

Wheeler said he did not want to bind future councils to publishing financial statements and felt that the question of whether or not to publish every quarter should be made at the end of each period.

With some $2,700 allocated in the recently adopted budget for new equipment, the council agreed to buy a 10-column electric adding machine. Wheeler moved its purchase with Wilkinson and Graham voting in favor of it. Deavenport abstained.

Deavenport favored buying an 8-column and a 10-column machine as recommended by City Secretary George Shelburne. The council majority, however, felt that the other machine could be purchased at a later date although it was generally agreed that if a more advantageous purchase could be made on two machines, the council would reconsider its action.

On a resolution by Deavenport, the council authorized the mayor to execute deeds to abutting property owners on that portion of the closed street, commonly known as the old Bankhead Highway, lying between

Gil Jones Is Named District Attorney, Picked As Democratic Nominee For Post

Guilford (Gil) Jones, 34-year-old Big Spring attorney, was appointed this week by Governor Allan Shivers as district attorney of the 118th judicial district. He will succeed Elton Gilliland of Big Spring, who recently resigned the post to enter the private practice of law.

A graduate of the University of Texas, Jones said he would qualify for the office before the end of the week.

"I want to make it clear that I am severing all connections with the law firm of Thomas, Thomas and Jones as quickly as possible," he said.

Jones was reared in Austin and received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Texas in 1941. He returned to the university later and received his law degree in 1950.

He immediately moved to Big Spring to enter the practice of law, first with his own office and then with the firm of Thomas, Thomas and Jones.

He is married and has two children, a 10-year-old son and a six-year-old daughter.

The appointment of Jones came on the heels of his selection Saturday as the Democratic nominee for the post in the November 2 general election.

He was selected to replace Gilliland at a meeting of the Democratic chairman of Martin, Howard and Glasscock Counties. They are Morgan Hall of Stanton, J. W. Purser of Big Spring and Mrs. Ronald McDaniel of Garden City.

Two Martin County roads are scheduled for construction under a new two-year farm-to-market road program for Texas announced by E. H. Thornton, Jr., of Galveston, chairman of the Texas Highway Commission.

The Martin County program includes:

1. Construction of a road from State Highway 137, one mile north of Flower Grove, west approximately 6.0 miles, at an estimated cost of approximately $68,000.

2. Reconstruction of a road from the north end of F.M. 1718 North to the Dawson County line, a distance of approximately 5.8 miles, at an estimated cost of $10,000.

Little Cotton Damage Expected As County Gets General Rains

Rains were fairly general over Martin County earlier in the week, slowing down cotton picking but causing little if any damage.

With the cotton harvest now in full swing, rains ranged from a trace to a little over an inch over the county, M. E. Vavra of the Soil Conservation Service said Wednesday. The rains were fairly light with no wind in most areas. Heaviest rains were reported in the northeastern part of the county.

Meanwhile in Stanton, three-quarters of an inch of rain were reported through Wednesday noon.

Sunday afternoon low rain clouds came into the area from the southwest, left a trace of rain and disappeared.

Tuesday morning, low billowy clouds hung over the section during the day intermittently showering heavily through the day.

Tuesday night saw more heavy showers and winds pepped up in some areas.

Vavra said there will be some sand in the cotton especially where bolls were open close to the ground. He reported picking has begun in all fields except in the late cotton fields which were replanted on account of the hail during planting season.

Prior to the rains, cotton had been coming in rapidly to the gins.

At Wednesday noon, the skies were cloudy indicating more rain in the offing. The moisture was considered sufficient to benefit planting of winter grain and grasses.

Up to Friday of last week, the number of bales turned out by six of the seven gins in the county was as follows:

Lenorah Gin. Co.	1285
Farmers Gin & Cot. Co.	1188
Planters (Tarzan)	841
Planters (Lenorah)	555
Farmers Co-Op	370

Company's Religious Program Is Promising

"And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, but not unto man."

This is a company motto framed and hanging in every department of the John E. Mitchell Company, Dallas, makers of cotton ginning machinery, die castings, automobile air conditioners, defense equipment and other products.

Christianity is put to work in the manufacturing plant. At regular Monday morning services the employees assemble to spend a few minutes in religious worship. The workmen file into the assembly room, coming directly from the machines, covered with grease and metal shavings.

A company official opens the service by stepping to a microphone and in plain spoken words mixes company business with concern for the welfare of sick employees.

When the company chaplain, an ordained minister, offers prayer, many, many of these grease-smeared, machine-tool operators bow their heads and pray with him.

Of one employee who had been sick and returned to work, the company spokesman said: "Our prayers have been answered. For here's Joe, back on the job. We were all afraid we were going to lose him, but here he is, and that's proof that prayers do pay."

These Monday religious services inaugurated by the Mitchell Company brings a closer relationship between employer and employee.

Both employees and management believe they are working for something more than pay; more than the company. They feel that in turning out a job, day after day, in being proud of their work, considerate of others, loyal to the company, they actually are working for God, hoping that one day it can be said of them:

"Well done, thou good and faithful servant"

Setting aside an hour each week or month for the coming together of company management and employees, to hold religious services and offer up prayer to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe for the many blessings He has bestowed upon them from hour to hour and day by day, is spreading to smaller industrial plants and offices.

The Editor Is Off On A Guessing Spree

This is all guess work with me. A twist of thought that has not been clear in my mind at any time, has followed me all of these days until now.

I have been an ardent supporter of the art of GUESSING! Guessing, many, many times where my next meal was coming from... guessing whether the check I gave on the home bank would allude the "held for insufficient funds" department, etc.

Now I'm off on a guessing spree if what I say here may turn up incorrect.

It's about my friend Charlie Roberts and his Andrews County News. In his "Drifting Sands" column of September 17, Roberts said the News had reached its 20th birthday.

I remember well, when Charlie Roberts, his wife and three little children landed in Andrews and launched the Andrews County News. My guess is that at that time the newspaper plant would have had a struggle to reach an investment figure of $2,000. The building housing the plant, tailorshop, and living quarters for the Roberts', oh, I guess, $500. But the building was rent property—not Roberts'.

The biggest interest Roberts had in his new adventure was to make the newspaper pay living expenses. A fire destroyed the building and all its contents, leaving Roberts broke and his newspaper plant gone up in smoke.

He had to visit the newspaper plants in the surrounding towns to get his newspaper printed. It fell my lot to do a little Linotype work for Roberts while he was arranging for another plant.

This was a task and an experience for Roberts. Many another seasoned newspaperman would have thrown in the towel.

As the years passed, Andrews grew and with it the News has grown. It is a sizable investment now.

Another very important thing to be taken into consideration with Roberts' success in the newspaper business, is that he and Mrs. Roberts sent their three children to college after their graduation from high school. One of the boys, Charles, Jr., now is editor of the Andrews County News, and he is doing an excellent job of it.

I guess Charlie Roberts is one of the most successful newspapermen I know.

"Blind Man's" Bluff

You know how Handy Turner down at the hardware store goes in for weird advertising stunts. Well, when it came to plugging his new Venetian blind department, his enthusiasm nearly landed him in trouble.

Handy painted a warning on the tailboard of his truck: "Caution—blind man driving."

"Had driven about a mile," Handy says, "when a state trooper stopped me and told me that sign might cause trouble. Guess he was right. From now on I'll advertise in the Clarion."

From where I sit, I agree—the highway is no place for jokes. We all ought to be considerate of the other fellow when we're driving. In fact, let's respect our neighbor's right of way always. Then, when we have differences of opinion—say about the best route to Centerville, or whether beer or buttermilk is better with lunch—there will be less chance of anybody developing any "blind" spots.

Philosopher Alarmed Over Womens' Threat To Enter Politics

Dear editor:

I was out here wandering around over my farm yesterday afternoon enjoying the October weather. There's no time of the year better than October, although I haven't got anything against the other eleven months, when I discovered a copy of a newspaper, which was half covered up with dirt and the termites had eaten part of and then abandoned, I imagine when they got to the editorial page, and I shook it out and sat down and looked it over.

Over on a page that was still intact I ran into an article that confirmed an opinion I've had for a long time, that women don't belong in politics. It's not that they don't have a right to be, it's just that they foul things up when they get in.

According to this article, about a year ago up in a town in Mississippi they elected an all-woman city council, and the reporter was giving a summary of their accomplishments in the past twelve months.

The main thing they had accomplished, and what they considered a full year of devotion to duty, was to get rid of all the weeds in the town, and I guess you know how they did it: They had the men do it.

This is typical of women in politics. They are in office a year and they wind up with a weedless town and a lot of tired men.

You let this thing spread, let more women get in more important offices, and they'll start spreading their anti-weed campaign out into the country and America will wind up clean as a city park and the men too tired to fight off an invader.

Personally, I'd rather have a few weeds about the place and stay rested up. I don't know of anything in the Constitution that says a man ought to spend his life hoeing weeds and Johnson grass, and I for one would like to sound a note of alarm when you hear of women threatening to go into politics. If it com-

Conversion Often A Matter Of Conscience

Conversion, as the word implies, means a turning about. And no turning about was ever more complete than that in which Saint Paul turned from his persecuting zeal of threats against the disciples of the Lord, to become a Christian disciple himself.

Sudden conversions, strange as they may seem, have been by no means rare. In many instances they are not as sudden as they seem to be.

The experience of sudden conversion, though, may be very real and may offer a clear evidence of its determining cause. Often it has come through crucial or enlightening experience, which has changed one's views and attitude. It is as if one has always lived in a valley. Then one day, climbing a mountain peak, one sees a world that was never dreamed of.

There can be peaks, too, on which the atmosphere of the soul may be completely changed. Complete conversions, either sudden or through some long process, are not as unexplainable as they sometimes seem to be.

Underlying such conversions is usually a conscientious attitude. In these cases, conversion means a change of association and allegiance rather than a change from a life of sin to a life of righteousness.

Paul said he lived in all good conscience all his life. Others called his Christian way heresy, but he called it still worshipping the God of his fathers.

es down to a choice between cleanin up all the weeds on my farm and keeping women out of political office, I'll choose the latter, even if I have to run for office myself to do it, although my ambitions to hold office are about like my ambitions to get rich if it takes work to accomplish it.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

What Was The News Of Note?—Twenty-Five Years Ago

(The following was taken from the files of The Stanton Reporter of Oct. 4, 1929.)

A story from the Midland Reporter-Telegram reprinted in this issue of The Stanton Reporter, spoke of the football game between the Midland Bulldogs and the Stanton Buffaloes at Cowden Park, Midland.

The Reporter-Telegram said: "It is the opinion of the coaches and scouts in this district that Friday's game will have important bearing on the district championship and probably decide it."

"Coach Irvin of Stanton has a small squad but he does have some 18 real athletes on whom he has concentrated all attention, and they are drilled to perfection."

The Boy Scouts of the local troop No. 56, met Tuesday evening at the Scout Hall in the courthouse with the newly chosen Scoutmaster and assistant Scoutmaster, Taylor Rushing and W. C. Glezener.

The Martin County exhibit backed by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, displayed at the South Plains Fair, Lubbock, scored a total of 872.9 points out of a possible 1,000.

Wednesday the Masons had charge of laying the corner stone of the new Methodist Church. Many visiting Masons took part in the program.

Stanton and Martin County can well be proud of the fine buildings that are completed this year: The new M. E. Church; new high school building; Courtney school building; new addition to the Lenora school.

Lay Powell of Colorado City, who owns a large amount of ranching lands near Stanton, was here the first of the week.

Mrs. E. P. Woodard entertained the Stitch and Chatter Club in a very charming manner Wednesday afternoon with "42." Mrs. Sam Wilkinson will be hostess to the club on Wednesday, Oct. 16.

Lady Club Begins Celebration Of Silver Anniversary Year Oct. 14

A silver anniversary coffee will open the 1954-55 club year for the Stanton Study Club next week. The coffee will be held at the home of Mrs. Jim Tom Thursday, Oct. 14, beginning at 9:30 a.m.

with the evening's collection of about $400.

Quite some discussion arose among the denominations in the city. It couldn't have been the Methodists for they wouldn't fool with so little amount.

The Presbyterians never were mentioned for they have a hard enough time getting their members in the front doors of the church, and there would be little to imply that one would risk entering a church through the back door.

Of course, it wouldn't be of any significance what this column knows. But Monday morning following the raid of the Baptist safe, there was a Midland Presbyterian in Stanton. That I'm positive because he invested 15-cents in a couple of cigars and presented them to a very close acquaintance of mine. A Presbyterian displaying such lavish expenditure of money sets up grounds for some sort of suspicion.

When the Midland Baptist post a reward for information leading to the recovery of the church's collections, contact with this column might lead to the description of the Midland Presbyterian who visited Stanton so closely upon the heels of the Baptists' financial loss.

THE LAYMAN'S NATIONAL committee announces the 14th annual observance of National Bible Week will be held October 18-24. Its purpose is to encourage everyone to read the Bible—and thus to help the spiritual strength and courage which is so necessary for our very survival in today's chaotic world.

Abraham Lincoln once said the Bible is "the best gift God has given to man." Its precepts are timeless and as enduring as the world itself. Read the Bible during the special week—and every week thereafter.

Monthly Meeting Of Altar Society Begins

The ladies of St. Joseph's Altar Society will resume their regular monthly meetings next Wednesday evening, October 13, at the parish rectory.

The meetings will begin after Rosary and all members are urged to be present.

A report on the district meeting held at Sweetwater last week will be made at the first meeting.

Attending the Sweetwater meeting were Mrs. S. W. Wilkinson, Mrs. L. G. Tom and Mrs. Joe Vincik.

Horse racing is at least 3,000 years old.

Dr. James Naismith invented basketball in the winter of 1891-92.

The first car race was from Paris to Rouen in 1894.

as well as to prospective members of the Study Club.

A special invitation has been extended to all past presidents who will be honored at the coffee.

Past presidents who have served since the club was organized 25 years ago are as follows: Mesdames E. P. Woodard, Odie Petsick (Miss Lorraine Lamar), R. W. Hamilton, James Jones, O. B. Bryan, Arlo Forrest, Poe Woodard, Jim Tom, Earl Powell. Also Mesdames Phil Berry, Dale Kelly, J. F. Priddy, Ben Carpenter, Paul Jones, A. E. Pittman, R. B. Whitaker, Glenn Brown, and S. W. Wheeler.

The only charter member remaining in the club are Mesdames John F. Priddy, B. F. Smith and Morgan Hall. Of these three, only Mrs. Priddy has remained in the club for the entire 25 years.

Ever since its organization the club has sponsored a library program. This began with an exchange of books among members. In 1932, the program developed into a full-fledged library which is now under the supervision of the county and is housed in the building formerly occupied by the county jail.

Although the county pays a librarian to open the library on Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, the Study Club continues it as one of its projects and maintains a committee to carry out plans and to submit library needs to the club.

Mrs. J. E. Kelly served as chairman of this committee for a great many years and is responsible for a large number of books being donated to this project.

Other special events are being planned by the club during this silver anniversary year and club members are especially looking forward to Texas Day in March, 1955.

SPORTS CAST

The Texas Tech Red Raiders and Texas Western Miners' football game scheduled for Oct. 9 at Lubbock, the fans will have the opportunity to see two World War II Navy officers battling wits in opposition to each other over winning the game.

Mike Brumelow, coach of Texas Western Miners and Coach JeWitt Weaver of the Tech Red Raiders, were Navy officers in the last World War.

The game will feature two half-backs from Kermit. Rick Spinks, who made two touchdowns in Tech's 41-9 win over Texas A&M, and Texas Western's Reavis Tervis, who accounted for 12 points in the Miner's 35-14 defeat of Sul Ross.

A rusty-faced, raw-boned lad of 27 years, from a farming country in Alabama, a pinch-hitter for the New York Giants was called on at a crucial point in the Giants-Indian's first game of the World Series, 10th inning, to man a bat. He whammed the ball out for a home run, driving in scores that won the game for the Giants.

That lad was Jim (Rusty) Rhodes. In the second game of the series, Rhodes pinch-hit for a teammate fielder and clouted a single that brought in a score.

Rhodes said: "I ain't much of a fielder and I got a pretty lousy arm but I sure love to take a whack at that ball."

Following a week's layoff—no game last weekend—report from the reservation of the Stanton Buffaloes, bear the information the team is in fine fettle to meet O'Donnell squad Friday night on O'Donnell field.

The last Buffalo game, a tie 13-13 with the Fort Stockton Panthers, left the Buffaloes in good condition.

The Buff fans don't hesitate to show their optimism that the local squad will win the O'Donnell contest.

The clash will be the opening game on the conference calendar, hence it is very evident both squads are primed to put up a Battle Royal to win this encounter.

From the Stanton-O'Donnell game coming up this Friday night all the games scheduled to be played will be conference contests. With O'Donnell there are seven contests to be decided. Out of the seven games three of them will be played on the Buffalo gridiron.

For the information of those who may not be informed as to the games to be played in the conference race, and the teams the Buffaloes are to meet, the schedule follows: Oct. 8—O'Donnell, there. Oct. 15—Seagraves, here. Oct. 22—Whiteface, there. Oct. 29—Denver City, here. Nov. 5—Morton, here. Nov. 12—Sundown, there. Nov. 19—Coahoma, there.

Andrews Mustangs took the scalps of the Lake View Chiefs at San Angelo Friday night to the tune of 20-13. But the report of the game says the Chiefs outplayed the Mustangs, but just played out.

The Sweetwater Mustangs went down in a heap before the exploding San Angelo Bobcats, 21-0. The Bobcats showed superiority in all departments, racking up 16 first downs to 6 by the Mustangs.

The Monahans Lobos went down in defeat before the Colorado City Wolves. The score 47-0. The thriller of the evening was the punt return of Wolf Billy Williams racing 87 yards for a touchdown.

FROM WHERE I SIT

By Hilo Weathers

Manager of the Martin County Chamber of Commerce

DUE TO THE FACT that the drouth has cut short our county fairs, we are happy to have the space to display several samples of Martin County grain, roses, watermelon, as well as the millet as a hold-over from last year. In our windows, you'll see the 84-pound watermelon grown by Souval Britton; the "7078" Maize which was grown on dry land by Leo Turner and brought in by Jendo; Gib Madison brought in some of the largest heads of goose-neck maize that has been grown in this area. This was from dry land, and Mr. Madison stated that the yield was so satisfactory this year, that larger fields will be planted in the future; the roses brought in by Mrs. T. D. Morgan, were grown in her rose garden. Mrs. Morgan is certainly well known for the development of her flower yard, and for the growth of many kinds of flowers and shrubs; the millet brought in last year by Dan McDonald, and is still quite an attraction. If the display doesn't show up well enough from the sidewalk, come on in. We'll be glad to have you. Let's hope we can have a county fair next year! If you want one, let us know!

THANKS TO Tom Ed Angel, who is connected with the Pioneer Airlines with offices at Terminal, we have a good supply of airline schedules. So, if you'd like to know when your flight is ready, come by for a schedule. Tom Ed also brought us a copy of the Official Airline Guide, giving the schedules for all airlines operating in the United States. So, when you want to "fly away," come by and let us help you!

SINCE WE HAVE been somewhat irregular with this column this summer, we have neglected to report to you that the Motel Belvue & Restaurant, has added a convenience to the traveling public which is enjoyed by much larger motels throughout the nation. It's this: telephones have been installed in each of the 33 rooms, and is handled by a PBX machine in the office. All local and long distance calls can be completed without the traveler leaving the room to "drop a nickel in the slot" in an outside telephone booth. We congratulate Ray and Mamie Kelly for their continued additions in making complete service! We're mighty proud of Motel Belvue.

WE HAVE ON the desk a very complete catalog of the Gaines County Fair, to be held in Seminole, Texas, October 8-9. From the 80-page catalog, the listings of departments, entries in all types of agriculture and livestock, poultry and swine, canned produce and baking. In fact, there are too many divisions to list—they really must have worked hard and long toward their annual fair. Wish we could visit them on those dates.

WITH THE MEMBERSHIP Committee active, we predict that we shall have some new members to present to you, beginning next week. It takes all persons in any given community working together, to make a successful and happy town. So, give these men your support when they call on you.

Four out of five V-8's on the road today are V-8 Fords! Ford introduced the V-8 engine to the low-price field more than 22 years ago... and is still the only car in its field to offer the smoothness and responsiveness of V-8 power. O'Donnell is still trying for its first victory of the season having dropped the three contests to date. The O'Donnell gridders run off a T-formation and frequently make use of the TCU spread formation. The Buffaloes use both the split T and the standard T.

Following the O'Donnell game Stanton will face the other six district foes on consecutive Friday nights in this order: Seagraves, Whiteface, Denver City, Morton, Sundown, and Coahoma.

The only loss suffered thus far by the Buffaloes was a 7 to 6 decision to McCamey, rated as the power in District 5-A and, in some quarters, the best in the state in Class A. Despite the loss, the Buffs outgained McCamey in net gains and first downs.

In the other two outings, Stanton handily turned back Class AA Pecos, 25 to 6, and tied Fort Stockton 13 to 13.

To date, the Buffs have scored 44 points to their opponents' 26 while racking up 49 first downs to the combined opposition's 29.
