

Snooter Knows

By JAMES E. KELLY

IT IS WITH A FULL MEASURE of pride the patron feels when he steps in the front entrance leading into the newly remodeled Stanton post office after his mail or to transact business with the office force. In the first place the patron is met at the front door these hot summer days, by an invigorating and refreshing chilled air direct from a modern air conditioner.

On a hot summer day this feature alone should act as a soothsayer for frazzled nerves and a disturbed mental faculty, suffered by the office force, due to laboring under warm air circulated by buzz fans.

Whatever feeling of frustration the patron may have gathered along the route while trudging through a hot sun to do business with Uncle Sam, all vanishes when he comes in contact with the cooling breeze now to be found circulating in the Stanton post office.

The entire front of the old building, which was built along in 1906, was torn out and a new one with a large plate glass front has been built. The interior of the building has been entirely overhauled, the ceiling lowered from its former lofty height, replaced by new metal material, a new tile floor, and a 20-foot addition added on to the rear of the building, providing more office space.

Dainty metal letters, protruding out on stems, bear the inscription on the sign, "U. S. Post Office Stanton, Texas," finds space on the brick facing above the awning.

The individual to hold responsible for remodeling and otherwise improving the old post office building, is A. L. Houston, one of the members of the Houston Estate. He makes his home in Odessa, though born and raised in Stanton. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Houston, a prominent pioneer ranch couple of this immediate vicinity. A. L. is also a brother of Mrs. Morgan Hall of Stanton. The present modern way Uncle Sam has to greet his patrons with him, to the old way, the patrons feel they are doing business in another world.

PERSUADING THE MAY ISSUE of the Texas and Pacific Railway Topic, published monthly by Employe and Public Relationship Department, which we do with much interest, we read in one paragraph what J. B. Shore, Director-Public Relations, considered was success in life? He said:

"If we can enrich the lives of those with whom we live and work . . . even though it be in a small way . . . if we can make the world just a little better in which to live, then our lives will be successful, although we may not achieve fame or fortune of power."

That philosophy given by Mr. Shore for that which he considers, "What is Success?" we go along with in toto.

THAT CONTEST THE MADISONVILLE Sidewalk Cattlemen's Assn. has rolling to find the oldest and the youngest officers holding the position of sheriff of Texas, has aroused the interest of some counties in West Texas.

The Albany News says Shackelford County has a sheriff in Jack Moberly, young enough to give contestant a chase for the prize. The Jayton Chronicle announces that J. B. Montgomery, sheriff of Kent County, is youthful enough to enter the race.

This column isn't going to stick its neck out by dropping a hint that might encourage a feeling of remorse on the part of any candidate who enter the contest for the youngest and oldest sheriff. But as to youth, our Martin County sheriff, Dan Saunders' qualifications are to be reckoned with contesting for the prize, a pair of hand-made boots, to be presented at a barbecue to be held at the Association's annual meeting June 2 at Madisonville.

DRAWING A LINE FROM EASTLAND on the east, pretty much of the area over West Texas has been visited by good rains, ranging in amount from one inch to 12 inches during the past week. The sections reporting the heaviest rainfall, were Eastland, 11 inches falling in 11 hours, and Hale Center, 12 inches falling over a period of 48 hours. In each instance farm lands planted

Courtney Transfers To Stanton

Sunday Rain Is Beneficial

Stanton received about eight-tenths of an inch of rain Sunday night to bolster feelings and crop prospects, and the county generally received beneficial rains, a survey shows.

The rain will add to more-than-usual moisture here and in the various communities to make crop prospects still brighter than they have been.

The area west of Tarzan seems to have gotten most of the rain, and a near-flood came there. Raymond Pribyla, four miles west of Tarzan measured 3½ inches with quite a bit of hail. His cotton was up and was washed out, he says, and he reports the highway nearby had 18 inches of water running over it.

Troy Pierce, living 4½ miles west and two south of Tarzan got two inches and some hail. He plans to scratch some and replant some cotton. Edward Smith, living a little over a mile south of Pierce, had about the same experience.

In the Courtney community R. S. Lewis got a half inch and quite a bit of hail, which damaged irrigated cotton.

Thearl Creech, on the Sid Cross farm half a mile east of Courtney, thinks he will have to replant.

Other rain reports were: O. L. Snodgrass, four miles southwest of Courtney, half an inch of rain, no hail; Gib Madison, 1½ inches on the Brick Eldson farm nine miles south of Stanton, and three inches on farm four miles north and west of Lenorah; Stander Grocery in Lenorah community, one inch; M. H. Nance, 6½ miles south of Flower Grove, two inches, replant; Bob Hill, Brown community, one inch; Delmar Hamm, fourth mile north of Lenorah, one and one-half inches of rain.

All in all the rain was quite beneficial.

Valley View Club Learns First Aid

Members of the Valley View Home Demonstration Club have been attending a first aid course taught by Mrs. June Reid. This is in connection with their study of civil defense.

Three lessons have been held in the Lenorah Church and one in the home of Mrs. G. Tunnell. One more lesson will be held to complete the course.

Members have been taught how to put on bandages, how to administer artificial respiration, how to treat different burns, snake bites, and many other first aid practices.

At the close of the first aid course, Mrs. Reid will teach a home nursing course for the Valley View club.

Members who have been attending the lessons are Mrs. Bob Thrallkill, Mrs. Delmar Hamm, Mrs. W. D. Walker, Mrs. Jim Miller, Mrs. Jim Franklin, Mrs. U. H. Butler, Mrs. Lewis Carlile, Mrs. Gib Madison, Mrs. Garth Odom and Mrs. G. Tunnell.

New Mail Service Starts Here June 7

The new certified mail service for patrons of the Stanton post office will be ready for use June 7, Mrs. B. P. Eldson, postmistress, has announced. This will make it easier and less expensive for the mailing of articles having no intrinsic value, yet on which more careful handling is sought.

The fee for this service will be 15c, whereas the fee for a similar service was 30c, and this other service will be discontinued. No insurance is available under this new plan, but patrons may still insure such packages by payment of the 40c fee or any of the higher fees, if they so desire. Valuables may still be insured as formerly.

Memorial Day To Be Observed Here

Stanton will observe Memorial Day next Monday generally, and practically all the business houses will be closed. The chamber of commerce voted sometime back to make Memorial Day one of the recognized holidays, and it will be observed as such.

The post office will be closed, the bank will be closed, and practically all the stores will be closed. The drug stores will remain open.

This Is Another Story That Tells How Well Reporter Advertising Does The Job

This is a story of how good is Stanton Reporter advertising, and it tells about the experience of C. J. Chapman, John Pinkston and Fred Alexander.

In the issue of May 12 Chapman advertised the spring clearance sale of the Chapman Farm & Home Supply, quoting quite some few prices of General Electric, Deep Freeze and Universal appliances.

"The paper was hardly out before folks started coming," Chapman said in telling how successful was the sale, during which he sold six big appliance units — refrigerators, washers, etc. "I am a firm believer in Stanton Reporter advertising and feel that is the best way to get the advertising job done," he said. Fred Alexander had been a

Cub Scouts Close Year With Cookout

Cub Scout Den 3 of Pack 28 closed its year's work Friday, May 20, with a cookout at the Floyd Smith home.

Scouts honored Mrs. W. A. I. Dickson, Jimmy Dickson and Jane Dickson, who will be leaving soon. They were presented with a gift.

Mrs. Dickson and Mrs. Floyd Smith have served as den mothers during the past year.

Games were played before and after the cookout.

Attending were Larry Radliff, Tommy Shanks, Ray Edward Louder, Selestino Jasso, Eugene Flores, Jimmy Dickson, Smitty Smith and Terry Shanks, den chief.

Sheriff's Office Now Has New Car

Tuesday the sheriff's office received a new Ford police car as a replacement of an older car being traded in, Sheriff Dan Saunders announced Wednesday.

The car is a specially built police interceptor and was made up on special order at Detroit.

Local Golfers Win In Jal Tournament

Houston Woody and Corky Blocker won top positions in their respective flights over the week end at the golf tournament at Jal, New Mexico.

Woody won the runner-up position in the first flight, and Blocker won the fourth flight.

Woody was presented with a golf bag, but Blocker was forced to refuse a $64 golf bag because to have accepted it would have made him ineligible to play football.

June Graham won the consolation prize in the fourth flight, and was presented with a golf bag.

In local play, Jack Arrington took over first spot on the ladder at the Stanton Country club course by beating Houston Woody Thursday with a 34. That leaves Yuell Winslow in the No. 2 spot and Woody in the No. 3 position.

Graduates Return From Senior Trip And Will Have Memories To Keep Down The Years

By EUGENIA MARTIN

Thirty-three members of the 1955 graduating class of Stanton high school returned Monday evening from a trip they will never forget — the senior trip, the close of their high school days.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Carlile, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Louder, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Steele, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hazlewood and Miss Bonnie Hatfield.

The group eagerly left early Thursday morning by bus for San Antonio. They reached San Antonio Thursday afternoon and went to Playland where they enjoyed the different rides and other attractions. They joined in San Antonio by Mike Baulch.

Friday morning was spent on a conducted tour of the city. Places visited were the Alamo, San Jose Mission, Brackenridge Zoo, the Sunken Gardens and other places of interest.

After the tour the group scrambled into the bus and left for Galveston.

Galveston was reached Friday evening. Some rushed into their swim suits and dashed out to go swimming, others went to the carnival grounds. Saturday morning was spent in various ways — swimming, sight-seeing and riding on a pleasure boat.

Following a trip to Texas City a beach picnic was held Saturday evening. Members of the group then played miniature golf, went skating, swimming or enjoyed the amusements.

Early Sunday morning found the group visiting the San Jacinto monument, and going by to see the Battleship Texas.

Bus trouble in Houston didn't dampen high spirits and a visit through the Shamrock Hotel after lunch provided interest.

When Austin was reached Sunday evening the group divided — some going swimming in a pool fed by three springs, others going to church. After swimming several went to the movies.

A tour of the capitol Monday morning completed the stay in Austin. Lunch was at Buchanan Dam and then on home to Stanton.

So ended four years of happy memories and someday when a white haired '55 graduate of Stanton high school meets another '55 graduate whose hair is streaked with silver, he'll finally get around to saying, "Do you remember that day at San Antonio on our senior trip?"

Still Time To Aid Cancer Drive

Although the official time for the Cancer drive to end has passed, there is still time to get in money for it, Coats Bentley, county chairman, has announced.

Bentley urges those who still plan to give diminishing coffees to do so as soon as possible. "This is one of the unique ways to aid the drive, and one that will help us reach the quota if all are given," he said.

Lions Postpone Monday Meeting

The Lions Club will not have its regular meeting Monday night because Monday is Memorial Day, Philip White, president, has announced. The club will resume meetings on the following Monday night as usual, he said.

Deputy's Services Are Terminated

The employment of A. C. Abernathy as deputy sheriff of Martin County, has been terminated, Sheriff Dan Saunders told The Stanton Reporter Wednesday morning. The services of his chief deputy were terminated as of May 20, he said.

In the meantime, Abernathy left in one of the county automobiles, with Sheriff Saunders' permission, on a trip to seek another job. Some concern was felt in some quarters as to the whereabouts of the deputy, but Saunders said Wednesday morning that he was not at all worried at any time. Abernathy returned Monday night.

Sheriff Saunders said Wednesday that the vacancy in his department has not been filled and would not be for a while. He did say, however, that he intended to hire someone local when the job is filled.

Legion Memorial Services Planned

Memorial Day will be observed in Stanton, Sunday and Monday with much solemnity by the Stoecker - Estes Post of the American Legion.

Sunday morning at 9:40 services will be held at St. Joseph's Catholic cemetery, with Rev. Louis Moeller, pastor of the church, speaking. The graves of all veterans of all wars will be decorated with a wreath.

Then, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the program will be held at Evergreen cemetery. T. W. Haynie will be master of ceremonies, and Rev. Hugh H. Hunt, pastor of the First Methodist Church, will be the speaker. The ceremony will be held at the Legion Memorial plot in the cemetery, and after the program all graves of all veterans of all wars will be decorated with a wreath.

This year's Memorial Day services will be dedicated to four veterans who have passed away since the program last year. These are: J. C. Brothers, Alfred Tom, Charles Anderson, and Lewis H. Wren.

Walt Dickison To Leave Stanton

Walt Dickison, who for the past 3½ years has helped Glenn Brown attend to the pharmaceutical duties at The Stanton Walgreen Drug Store, will return soon to Boulder, Colo., he has announced.

"It is with much regret that I am leaving Stanton," Dickison said, and declared that he regards the people here as the finest he has lived among. Matters of health, however, have prompted him to make the change.

Dickison will become a member of the faculty of the College of Pharmacy at the University of Colorado, a position he resigned to come to Stanton.

The Dickison family, Walt, Mrs. Dickison, and Jimmy and Jane, have won a place in the hearts of the community that will be hard to replace, and the people will hate to see them go. They plan to leave between June 1 and June 10.

Sheriff Dan Saunders Will Be Honored By Sidewalk Cattlemen as Youngest in Texas

Sheriff Dan Saunders of Martin County has been invited to be a guest of the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's Association on June 2 when that organization has its annual barbecue, reunion and rodeo.

Saunders said Wednesday morning. He has been named by the association as the youngest sheriff in Texas.

This year the oldest and youngest sheriffs are to be guests of the Madisonville group, and each will be presented with a handsome pair of cowboy boots, and will be allowed to wear them even if they don't own any cows. The Sidewalk Cattlemen's group is dedicated, it will be remembered, to seeing that only cattle-owners wear cowboy boots. Illegal wearers of cowboy boots often get dunked in a horse trough on the Madison courthouse square. Even a one-cow owner, though eligible to wear boots, isn't allowed to tuck his pants leg in.

Saunders said Wednesday he expected to go to Madisonville on June 2 if his son, David, who is 4 and has been confined to the hospital with pneumonia, gets along all right.

High School Students To Attend Here

The Courtney school system has been declared an elementary school and from now on high school students from Courtney will be transferred to the Stanton schools, it was decided Tuesday at a meeting of the county board of education.

The meeting of the county board was held Tuesday at the request of G. B. Shelburne, chairman, to consider transfers and consider classifying schools of the county, County School Superintendent Jim McCoy said Tuesday afternoon.

More Activity In Area Noted

By JAMES C. WATSON

Murphy Corporation and Husky Oil Company No. 11 A. Fasken is a new project in the Germania (Grayburg) field southwest of Stanton.

Location is 1,668 feet from south and 1,000 feet from west lines of section 14, block 37, J. V. Stokes survey, seven miles southeast of Stanton.

The project, No. 1 C. A. McClintic, originally was completed from the Spraberry for a daily potential of 450 barrels of oil. Operator will plug the well back to 4,100 feet for the Grayburg well.

The action also means that Courtney will not have a superintendent of schools, but a principal will be named to take care of the Courtney elementary schools, McCoy said.

The action of the county board in declaring Courtney an elementary school, and in transferring the high school students to Stanton comes as the culmination of much discussion at Courtney and in Stanton. A straw vote of patrons was held at Courtney a few weeks back, and by a narrow margin the patrons voted to make the transfer, which is in line with the consolidation program of the state department of education.

School Transfers Must Be In Soon

Parents who wish to transfer their children from one school district to another should come in before June 1 and make application to do so, County Superintendent Jim McCoy said Tuesday. The time formerly was a month longer, but this has to be done by May 31, he said.

Recent visitors in the L. C. Stovall home were the Stovall family, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Stovall and children, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Currie, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stovall, all of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Stovall of Odessa and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gross and children of Big Spring. The occasion was Mr. Stovall's birthday.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Ivey Davis were her grandsons, Harold Glenn Orren of Andrews and Den Orren of Hobbs.

More About The Buy-It-At-Home Idea

Seminole, a hustling, bustling little city of over 3,000 population has a weekly newspaper, The Seminole Sentinel which is every bit as thrifty and as industrious as its little city. No other institution has its finger more on the pulsebeat of the business interest in Seminole than its newspaper. It is confronted with all the questions and answers that arise among the merchants, because it has a representative who makes almost everyday contact with them.

Editorializing last week the Sentinel editor based his observation pretty much on one fact, that his merchants were complaining about several hundreds of dollars going out of the Seminole to Hobbs, N. M., Lubbock, Odessa, and other out-of-town stores for merchandise, most of which can be found in the large and modern stores of Seminole.

Modern highways affording easy and convenient travel by auto, and the mere fact that folks just want to go somewhere, anyway, the editor blames for a lot of this trading away from home. Then, too, as the Sentinel says, "a lot of people are not interested in coming to Seminole to do their shopping."

Despite the fact that the merchants of Seminole realize they are losing many thousands of dollars to out-of-town merchants, they are mindful of the fact, as the Sentinel says: "that any sound idea must receive the cooperation of all businessmen concerned." A concerted effort of the business interests directed at the individual shopper and the prospective purchaser.

"We must deal strictly with the individual since his opinion of the local situation is of prime importance. We are convinced that if enough energy is exerted and that if businessmen will cooperate to the limit, the results will be highly satisfying," Sentinel editor concludes his editorial.

The Sentinel editor's theorizing fits the situation as exists in Stanton. True, there are larger mercantile establishments in the neighboring towns to Stanton. They afford a larger and more varied stock of merchandise than do the merchants here, but even so, for the size stocks of merchandise they handle and the quality of the goods, none are better than found here in Stanton. Besides, the merchant here is your home business man. They live here and they contribute of their time and money to about every movement set on foot for the betterment of the community.

The money you spend with out-of-town merchants is removed forever from circulating down the trade channels of our town.

Three Bales Per Acre Is Newsworthy

Jess F. Blair, in his story appearing in the May issue of Southwestern Crop and Stock, published in Lubbock, revealed some interesting facts connected with crop production on irrigated farms in the Tarzan community of Martin County. They were facts happening right under the nose of the writer, who was wholly ignorant of them until told by Blair in his magazine article.

Blair brought out the fact that some of the irrigation farmers of Martin County were employing methods to improve the productivity of their soil to the point of getting the most yield from their land. Two of the irrigationists Blair mentioned, who were succeeding in making their cultivated acres "grow two blades of grass where one grew before," were Houston Woody and Lois Madison, irrigation farmers in the Tarzan area of this county.

These two farmers last year made their lands yield on the average of three bales of cotton per acre. One of the farms was a caliche-bottomed soil and considered almost worthless for dryland farming. At the start of irrigation on this farm five years ago, the production was less than a bale to the acre.

The secret of the success Messrs. Woody and Madison realized from the crop yield on their irrigated farms last year was due to the proper tilling of the soil, planting a high grade long staple cotton seed, early poisoning of the growing cotton plant, using the proper amount of water at the proper time.

Blair said "Last year these champion producers went in heavy for fertilizers. The average application was around 300 pounds of mixed fertilizer, such as 15-15-0, plus an additional 40 to 100 lbs. of nitrogen."

Homer Donaldson, a Martin County irrigationist, irrigated last year 32 acres of land from his 225 gallon per minute well, and realized a yield of 64 bales of cotton, according to Blair.

"With heavy fertilization, proper watering, rigid insect control and the kind of uncanny management these men have developed, there does not seem to be any limit to what an acre will produce," and that was an allusion made by Blair to the Martin County irrigated lands.

Confuse Russians By a Visit To The Philosopher's Farm

Dear editor:
As I understand it, in the interest of international harmony, a group of Russian editors and students are coming over to the United States to study us farmers sometime this spring or summer, and I have been giving the matter some serious thought.

The reasons the Russians want to study us is that in Russia, try as hard as they will or as hard as the government can make them, the farmers haven't been able to grow enough food, whereas in this country we have succeeded in growing more than we know what to do with. Now I don't know what the intentions of the United States are in this matter, I suppose they are entirely above-board, just a friendly gesture to let the Russians see how a free country farms, but if anybody is interested in confusing them, I know how it can be done.

Just let 'em visit my Johnson grass farm out here. If they can look at my farm operations thoroughly and then figure out how America has produced more food than it knows what to do with, they've got bigger electronic brains than we have.

And if we want to use a few cold war tactics in this matter, give 'em to understand my farm is a typical one, and after they spend a day taking notes on my methods and go back home and spread the word, it'll set Russian agriculture back two generations.

However, I don't look for anything to come of this, as I don't believe the Russians would ever understand my farm methods. In the first place, they may not even have bailing wire in Russia, and without bailing wire the foundations would fall out from under my system. You take all the bailing wire off my farm and two-thirds of the farmers would fall down, all the gates would swing open, the tall gate would fall off my trailer, my tractor would scatter parts from the backdoor to the north end of the farm, and I'm not even sure my pants would stay up.

If though the visitors insist on coming by my place, I'll be glad to show em around, and will give each one a small handful of Johnson grass seed. If we can get it back to Russian and dropped in half a dozen places, in five years we'll have em begging for mercy.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

STRONG & SECURE

BIBLE COMMENT

Evangelism Needs a Personal Touch

Jesus said that the test of discipleship, and the glorifying of God, was in bearing much fruit. "Herein is My Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be My disciples."

What does it mean to bear the fruit that glorifies God? Perhaps the greatest form of fruit-bearing is that in which the original disciples were engaged; that of bringing others to Jesus.

That is something in which every Christian should be engaged, and no movements of mass evangelism can be permanently effective unless the spirit and activity of personal evangelism be present and enduring.

From the throngs that attend evangelistic meetings, one may anticipate a number of changed lives. Many changes may not be permanent, but despite the relapses, many transformations to newness of life will be effected, and strong.

But the ultimate success of all such mass evangelism is in its effect upon the churches and the normal Christian life.

The ultimate power of winning souls for Christ rests with them. Theirs is the task of teaching and guiding the young so that they never go astray or need rescuing. This is a basic form of evangelism.

But with that is the work of creating an evangelistic atmosphere and environment, a constant invitation to all to accept the message of Christ's Gospel, and find the new life in Him.

This is one great way of bearing fruit to the glory of God.

What Was The News Of Note? -Twenty-Five Years Ago-

From The Stanton Reporter, issue of May 23, 1930

"The population of Martin County, Texas, as shown by a preliminary count of the returns of the Fifteenth Census, taken as of April 1, 1930, is 5,793. These figures are preliminary and subject to correction. The population of this area was not shown separately in 1920.

"There were 770 farms enumerated in this area at the Fifteenth Census."

The above is an extract from a letter brought to The Reporter office by Mrs. E. Clyde Smith, who was in charge of the census in this part of the county.

A great number of farmers were protecting their land by terracing and other methods. This was only started in the county in the past two or three years.

In 1920, the city of Stanton, then unincorporated, had a population of only 660, now it has 1376.

The Stanton High School graduating class held its closing exercises Monday night. The class is composed of Misses Carmen Chapman, Bess Myrick, Cordelia Wilkinson, Mary Helena Price, Lou Dell White, Gladys Poe, Clara Lawson, Beryl Tidwell, and Messrs. Phenix Metcalf, Grand Sanders, Pink Robertson, Hilton Kaderli, Wallis Hawkins, Floyd Smith, Jeff Davis, Wayne Moffett, and Eugene Parks. This is the largest class to ever graduate from the school.

Tarzan Notes: Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Lawson are rejoicing over the arrival of a beautiful little daughter whom they have named Ruby Nell.

ed to crops and otherwise placed in a state of preparedness for the planting of later crops, were washed away. Farm homes were removed from the lowlands to higher ground.

With all these areas visited by good rains, up to the moment this is being written, Martin County has had to be content with very light sprinkles to a top of three inches falling in one isolated community in this county.

We're not complaining. We are fully aware from having personally experienced what Jupiter Pluvius can do for Stanton. One time in particular it happened in May. Five inches of rain fell in Stanton in 55 minutes of time, and piled half a foot high against store buildings. The city of Stanton resembled the Mississippi River. Five thousand acres of growing cotton in the vicinity of Stanton were wiped out. Electric pumps operated night and day for a week, pumping water from the Mexican lake south of the T&P tracks to carry water a mile over the hill east of town to relieve the flooded district in south Stanton.

Rather than experience another like small flood of water descending from the clouds in so short space of time, we prefer the fall of moisture as we now have. There is a difference in "shuffling off this mortal coil" "by drying up on the vine" than dying from beneath a flood of water, or having life snuffed out by being flattened out under debris made so by a cyclone.

An old negro got up at a revival meeting and said: "Brudders an' sisters, you knows an' I knows I ain't been what I oughter been. I've robbed hen roosts an' stole hogs, an' stole lies, an' got drunk, an' cussed an' swore; but I thank der Lord der's one thing I ain't nebber done; I ain't nebber lost my religion." — Gulf Breeze.

A Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee has begun hearings on the proposal to build an atom-powered merchant ship which would be sent on a round-the-world good-will cruise.

NOW IN SUNNY HAWAII—Marine Capt. Veston Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Edwards of Stanton, and husband of the former Miss Gloria L. Kramer of Woodbridge, N. J., arrived at Pearl Harbor in April with his wife for duty as commander of the Marine barracks, Pearl Harbor guard company. Before reporting to Pearl Harbor he was a company commander with the 1st Marine Division's 3rd Battalion.

Mrs. Lila Flanagan left Sunday for Dallas where she went to the spring market. She was to have returned Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alexander have been visiting in Junction. They were to have returned home Tuesday.

Midland Independent School District has entered an order to charge transferred-in high school students $262.10 each and Stanton negro students $213.35 each in addition to state aid. Soon all schools will have to do likewise. No school can long accept any considerable number for state aid only. No school can plan an adequate long range program under the uncertainty of where surrounding districts may transfer from year to year. Divided none of our schools can provide the kind of a school the children are entitled to; united we can! In any event there will never be a better place than ours for abstract, insurance, notary services and loans.

DON'T BE A HURRY BUG!

SLOW DOWN and LIVE!

An Appeal for 101 Days of Safe Driving

During the summer months—from Memorial Day through Labor Day—highway traffic fatalities are high. So high that the Governors' Conference has endorsed a nation-wide safe driving program during the 101 days between the two holidays.

Only you, the motorist, can make this campaign a success . . . If you, and every other highway traveler, will resolve to drive at a safe speed, to follow the recommendations of Safety Associations for safe highway driving, literally hundreds of lives will be saved during this summer's travel. One of them may be your own.

Wherever you drive this summer, PLEASE DRIVE SAFELY

Safety Associations recommend that you follow these simple rules for a safe vacation trip:

- Observe all posted speed limits; don't hurry, ever.
- Regulate the speed of your car to highway and traffic conditions.
- Don't drive too long—stop when you're tired.
- Observe all highway caution warnings—slow down for curves, when descending steep hills, etc.
- Don't drink when driving.
- Follow the golden rule of traffic courtesy: give other motorists the same consideration you'd like for them to give you.

Cottonseed Will Discolor Eggs, Say the Experts

By JAMES E. KELLY

We have no intention of entering the poultry business for the purpose of swelling our bank account from the sale of eggs. Our knowledge of the poultry business stems from acquaintance with the domineer hen. The one who lays her eggs in the cow manger, and when she thinks the time opportune to raise a family, moves her egg-laying under the corn crib.

But we have some very good friends who are in the poultry business to make money. Some of them have their hens cooped up in individual cages, while others permit their hens to run the range of the premises.

The part we play in the poultry business is to put in public print the facts of how to improve the poultry egg production as stated by poultry experts.

From Kermit F. Schlamb, extension poultry marketing specialist, comes the information that eggs having off-colored yolks usually can be traced to hens fed cottonseed products. Such eggs appearing in Texas retail markets in recent weeks are objectionable to consumers.

No more than five per cent cottonseed meal in a hen's ration may cause yolk discoloration. Discolored eggs appear motley, olive to greenish-brown or even black in color.

"Some farmers mix their own poultry laying rations and use cottonseed meal unaware of its influence on yolk color," says Schlamb.

Poultry scientists at Texas A&M College do not recommend its use in laying rations and advise shell egg producers to check any supply of cottonseed products that may lower egg quality by affecting yolk color.

To detect this condition, Schlamb concludes, break one or two of the suspected eggs and expose them to ammonium hydroxide for several hours. If the characteristic mahogany brown or black color appears, it's reasonably certain hens are eating some form of cottonseed products.

The writer has heard of some complaints by customers purchasing eggs locally. Finding the yolk of some of the eggs bore a discoloration. And this information of what causes the discoloration of the yolk, coming from poultry experts, should be helpful to the local poultry raiser who has received complaints from the customer who purchased their eggs over the counter at the grocery store.

This '55 Buick must have something that folks just won't do without!

TWO months ago, in the public print, we said that this looks like Buick's biggest year—and we weren't fooling.

But what has happened—and continues to happen—is almost beyond belief.

People buy up these stunning new Buicks practically as fast as we get them from the factory. Buick production—already revised upward several times—keeps forging ahead to new highs every month to meet the mounting demand.

And Buick sales keep soaring higher and higher and higher—outstripping by far the phenomenal success of last year—the success that moved Buick into the "Big Three" of America's best sellers.

What is it about the '55 Buicks that folks by the hundreds of thousands just won't do without? It's many things.

It's styling that's boldly distinctive and fresh as tomorrow. It's beauty of line and beauty of interior décor. It's a ride that's level, firm and steady. It's a new sweetness of handling. It's great power—walloping new V8 power of record might.

But above all, it's a new kind of performance, from a new kind of automatic transmission that was born of flight thinking.

It's Variable Pitch Dynaflo*—engineered from the principle of the modern plane's switch-pitch propeller—and what it brings you in the way of pure thrill, mere words can't describe.

Just you drop in on us this very week and try it. That way you can see what a terrific automobile—and a terrific buy—the hottest-selling Buick of all time really is.

*Dynaflo Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

In exercises at the school on Tuesday morning, May 17, four senior students of the Courtney school received diplomas of graduation.

Gil Jones, district attorney, of Big Spring, gave the principal address. Mr. Jones' chosen topic was "Now is the Time to Begin." In his address, he pointed out to the students that several great personalities did their greatest works between the ages of 17 to 27 years. Shakespeare wrote his greatest works during that age; Byron and Keats also did their great works at this age. Now that students are getting out of high school means that they are just ready to begin, Mr. Jones brought out.

Kenneth Gilmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gilmore, gave the valedictory address; and Mrs. Ariene Mullins gave the salutatory talk.

Class prophecy was read by Bill Allred; and class will by Leon Powell. Presentation of diplomas was made by Coach Roland Mullins.

Helen Schauer sang "Longing for Jesus." She was accompanied on the piano by Alice Stewart. Miss Stewart played the processional and recessional.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Elmer L. Cover; and the benediction by Leslie Hull.

Ushers were Barbara Stewart, Jay Dee House, Hubert Hale and Glenda Smith.

The class colors were gold and white; and the stage was decorated with those colors; and flower arrangements of gladiola and roses.

Cpl. Stroud has been overseas for more than a year. The couple have one son, Phil, who is one and one-half years old. His father saw him when he was only a few weeks old. Mrs. Stroud plans to meet her husband at El Paso.

On Tuesday afternoon, May 17, Mrs. Cliff Hazlewood, Jr. honored her daughter, Debbie, with a birthday party on her third birthday.

Birthday cake and punch were served the group after games were played. Favors of birthday whistles were given the guests.

Present were: Janet Richardson, Janie and Debbie Boadie,
