Mr. trip to the hospital 12 days ago, on January 22, was her last.

She was deeply concerned over the possibility of losing the battle she was waging to stay alive, they wished, despite her protest, a "Mary Jane Brown" more than 18 months naming Abe Turner Jr., director of the Haskell National Bank as custodian. Hardly a day went by since without her, perhaps more of many other citizens of all ages, many have been deducted from the bank accounts of individuals "because our hearts go out to Mary Jane."

A few days ago, one of her three daughters, and her two children, from the Far East, they had been with their father and mother, an Airman, to help take care of mother and grandmother. k goodness, they got here e," folks here said Tuesday.

An urgent request for help in outfitting the cast of the annual Junior Class Play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," in 1923 "model" clothing was issued this week by Mrs. R. C. Couch, Jr., director of the production. Anyone having clothing of that era vintage stored in the attic and who would lend it, will be doing the Junior Class a tremendous favor by notifying Mrs. Couch.

Haskell Jaycees, following a stimulating discussion by Mrs. Luther Burkett Tuesday night, unanimously endorsed the plan to establish a four-county joint junior college district in this area and contributed $50 to the development fund set up to help accomplish the goal. Jesse Priest, president, and James Franklin, inter-club director, announced.

Annual Boy Scout "feed" provided for members of Rule Troop 44, their parents, and supporters of Scouting will be held Sunday noon in the Rule School cafeteria in connection with the observance of Boy Scout Week throughout the nation February 7-13. Scoutmaster Weldon Norman, Jim Norman, longtime Scouting adult leader at Rule, and Clyde Grice, grand "chef deguerre" of the Rule Chuck Wagon Gang cooking the meal, have urged all patrons of Scouting to join in the fellowship.

Haskell Elementary and Junior High P-TA groups will have a joint Founders' Day observance Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. in the Visual Aids Room of Haskell High School. Mrs. Frank Cadenhead Jr., will direct the program.

AT FIVE STATIONS IN COUNTY—

Oral Polio Vaccine To Be Distributed Here Sunday

HUNTING THE HASKELL RASCAL IS FUN... HOWEVER...!!!

By P. O. (Not Edgar Allen) (Free Press Varmint Editor)

Trinity Lutheran Church Installs Pastor Feb 14

Rev. Allen B. Johannes, 37-year-old graduate of Texas Lutheran College and Capital Lutheran Seminary, Columbus, Ohio, has been called as pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, of Haskell.

Rev. Johannes succeeds Rev. James F. Schaefer, who was called to an Arizona pastorate several months ago. The church here since that time has been served by a supply pastor, Rev. N. C. Reno, who has divided his time between Trinity Lutheran Church of Haskell and St. Paul's Lutheran Church at Sagerton.

The new Lutheran pastor will come to Haskell February 10, and will be installed the following Sunday, Feb. 14, by Rev. Reno at the regular Sunday morning worship service.

Rev. Johannes has served one congregation since his ordination. He comes here from St. John's Lutheran Church at Cat Springs, near Bellville, Texas, where he has been pastor for two and one-half years.

He is married and the couple has one daughter, 9 years old.

Trivalent, or three-in-one, doses of oral polio vaccine will be administered at five stations in Haskell County from 1 to 4 p. m. Sunday, February 7, Dr. T. W. Williams, county health physician has announced.

The vaccine will be distributed, as on two previous occasions in the past two years, by the Haskell Jaycees manning the five stations under the supervision of Dr. Williams and Mrs. W. F. Trice, county health nurse. President Jesse Priest, of the Haskell Jaycees, has designated Wayne Bradford as general chairman and James Franklin as coordinator of the project.

A total of 2,831 Haskell Countyans were given the trivalent oral dosage on Sunday, December 6. The distribution next Sunday will serve as a "booster" for those who received the vaccine eight weeks ago, in December. County health officials emphasized that all Haskell County citizens who have not received a total of four doses—that administered in January, 1963, and the three-in-one dosage in December, 1964—should come to one of the five stations next Sunday for the booster in order to assure immunity from polio.

Some 6,000 doses were distributed when the vaccine was first passed out in this area in January, 1963. For those who received the oral dosage at that time, the trivalent vaccine served as a booster. Those taking it for the first time last month "definitely should return for the booster next Sunday," it was emphasized.

Because it is a three-in-one "package," those citizens receiving it will be advised that 50 cents per dose would be an equitable contribution to make for the vaccine, instead of 25 cents as formerly. It was pointed out that payment is not a "must," and no one will be denied the vaccine for lack of payment, but contributions will be accepted to help defray the expense being borne by the Haskell Jaycees for vaccine procurement and for those recipients not able to pay.

Locations of the vaccine distribution stations, which will be open only from 1 to 4 p. m., instead of 6 p. m. as previously, with Jaycees in charge, are: Haskell County Courthouse, Haskell, Buddy Lane; Weinert Community Center, Jimmy Turner; Rochester School lunchroom, Alf Peiser; Rule School lunchroom, James Franklin; and O'Brien School lunchroom, Jesse Priest.

2 Fireboys Hurt Slightly In 3-Hour Fire Fight

Two members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department received injuries while fighting an early morning fire which gutted a five-room house near downtown Haskell early Friday.

All but four of this town's 32-member Volunteer Fire Department fought the stubborn blaze three hours in 20-degree temperature before subduing it. Firemen still kept watch over the smoldering shambles Friday afternoon.

Volunteer firemen Olen King and Lyndon Harris were treated for slight injuries suffered during the fire fighting. King had several stitches taken in an arm cut by glass, and Harris was hurt when he stepped on a nail which entered his foot.

The blaze broke out about 1:30 a. m. in the home of Mrs. Blanche Yancey at the corner of South Avenue C and South Second Street, a short distance from the square. Believed to have been started by the explosion of a gas stove, the flames enveloped the entire frame structure "in record time," according to witnesses. "We just had a tough time getting it out," commented Chief Tom Watson and Captain E. J. Stewart concerning the middle-of-the-night battle.

Reece B. Neal, County Pioneer, Succumbs At 89

Reece B. Neal, 89, of Rule, pioneer Methodist church lay leader and resident of the area more than six decades, died at 7:10 a. m. Saturday in Haskell County Hospital here after a long illness.

Born May 20, 1875, in Green Bush, Ga., he married Maude Eullington, Dec. 27, 1902. She died in 1946.

Mr. Neal was a member of the Methodist church and served as steward for a number of years. He had been an honorary steward in recent years since he was unable to attend.

He helped build the First Methodist Church and parsonage at Pinkerton and was active in building the First Methodist Church of Rule.

Survivors are two sons, Morris, of Rule, and Capt. Ellis Neal, of Pasadena, Texas; two daughters, Mrs. Ollis Macon, of Rule, and Mrs. Roy Brown, of Andrews; and one brother, Ben, of Rule.

tax receipts in Haskell will total around 1750, 238 fewer than the amount in 1962, the last full year, and 1200 less than last year's general election total. Norma Jean, county tax assessor, announced Monday.

Lions Club Endorses Junior College Project

Members of the Haskell Lions Club heartily endorsed the proposed Junior College and voted unanimously in favor of giving $50.00 to help share in the expenses of the project, at Tuesday's noon-day luncheon meeting.

Alfred Pierson and Frank Martin spoke briefly on the Boll Worm Control program which is scheduled for the latter part of September.

"Unless everyone is concerned and unless we can get enough donations to carry out the boll worm control program, this county may be forced out of the cotton-producing business," Pierson pointed out.

Ronnie Malone and Vance Aheldt were noted as guests at Tuesday's meeting.

Josselet, Fischer, Conner, Ivy Earn Cherished Awards

AT BOOSTER CLUB ALL-SPORTS BANQUET—

Joe Josselet, all-district 5-AA on an offensive end in 1963 and defensive halfback in 1964, was awarded two of the five trophies bestowed at the annual Haskell Booster Club's All-Sports Banquet attended by 325 of the sports minded here last Thursday night. Joe Kerbel, amiable head coach at West Texas State, was principal speaker.

The Haskell High School senior, also a basketball and track standout, was the recipient of the Dick Gaines Memorial Trophy, given this year for the third time to honor the memory of a Haskell coach who died of cancer five years ago. Presented to Josselet by the late Coach Gaines' widow, Mrs. Martha Gaines, member of the faculty of Abilene Christian College, the award was made one a point system on which scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and athletic ability were considered.

Josselet also was the winner of the Haskell Jaycees' sportsmanship trophy for his performance in basketball by the 1964 Indian eleven, perused the pages of a scrapbook "prop" as he wittily recalled highlights of a grueling gridiron season from the player's viewpoint.

HHS Head Coach Sonny Everett introduced his coaching staff, including Miss Janice Richards, Carlos Berry, Bunny Bennett, and David Middleton. The coaches, in turn, introduced the squads over which they exercise supervision.

During the basketball team presentation, Varsity Stalwart Gary Druesedow presented a bouquet of red roses to Basketball Sweetheart Darlene Bevel.

Coach Everett, introduced by Booster President Buck Everett as "one of the best coaches in the State of Texas," introduced 15 seniors, three juniors, and four sophomores, the 22-members of his varsity football team, and had a special word of praise for the following, who have scholastic averages of 87 or better for the past three and one half years of high school: Wendell Coston, David Wilson, Monte Frierson, James Ivy, Gary Conner, and Larry Jeter.

We Can Profit

The Christmas floods which caused so much havoc in the Far West revealed that self-reliant citizens who haven't forgotten the pioneering tradition still live in remote areas.

Red Cross field men used helicopters to conduct a thorough check of devastation regions. They found that victims of flood and storm who were totally cut off from the outside world were making the best of things and using their wits, muscles, inherent talents, and own resources to meet the crisis. The Associated Press reported that when a field man in Eureka, California, disaster area asked what emergency aid was needed, a typical reply was, "We don't have much, but it's enough."

Those of us who almost automatically turn helplessly to some outside agency when trouble strikes can profit from examples such as this.

The old spirit of independence and courage in the face of adversity still exists.

The "Indifferent Man"

Are we approaching the age of the "Indifferent Man?"

President Carey of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States fears that we may be. The "Indifferent Man," in his view, is the sort of individual who finds it safer to "withdraw into the crowd, to surrender his identity, to yield to remote authority the individual responsibility which has come down from the ancient City State of Athens to our own day as the stamp of a free people."

This, Mr. Carey also said, is an outgrowth of the complexity of space-age living. But that very complexity should in itself make us ever more zealous in protecting the rights, duties, and responsibilities which characterize a free nation.

We believe that the GREATER THE PROBLEM, the greater must be OUR DETERMINATION to KEEP THE INDIVIDUAL FROM BEING REDUCED to a statistic.

We have gone a long way toward becoming statistics. Plans and programs are in the mill which would take us still farther.

This nation grew great and strong because it believed in the "FREE MAN."

Heaven help us if the "Indifferent Man" ever takes his place.

What Are The Advantages of Junior College For YOUR CHILD?

Junior colleges have several distinct advantages over four-year colleges for many young people.

Because junior colleges draw their students almost exclusively from local or area high-school graduates, they allow many teen-agers who may be too young to go away to college to remain at home for a longer period of time. They also provide excellent opportunity for the transition from secondary school to college—so often difficult for many young people. There is no emotional strain of leaving family and friends.

Costs are generally low at junior colleges, sometimes almost free to students in public, tax-supported institutions. Those who wish to have a four-year college education may cut their expenses 50 to 75 per cent by attending a junior college in their freshman and sophomore years.

"Late bloomers" who have college-level capabilities but low high-school grades, can prove themselves by doing well in a junior college and thereby win acceptance to a senior college. Also, those students who did not take the essential college-preparatory courses in high school can make up deficiencies without losing time.

Junior colleges are frequently the best choice for those who want to enter one of the technical occupations so necessary to the present American economy. The person who drops out of senior college after two years is not as good a prospect for employment in a technical occupation as one who completes a two-year junior college program with such employment as his original goal.

The flexibility possible in organizing junior college curriculums makes it possible to meet local vocational needs. Students are trained to do specific jobs which are known to be available in the community or region.

There is little chance that a student will be turned aside because facilities are full. Junior colleges can expand readily as needs dictate.

Dropout rates from too much attention to social affairs is much lower than in large senior colleges. There is better opportunity for making friends, for effective group participation, and for developing leadership abilities.

Counseling facilities usually are more adequate than in senior colleges. Faculty members generally are more readily accessible for counsel and advice.

Instructional personnel are generally of high caliber; a master's degree is usually the minimum preparation required of junior college instructors. Junior college professors face fewer demands for research and writing than do their senior college colleagues, and have more time available to work with individual students.

We'd say that the advantages of an area junior college for YOUR CHILD, measured in dollars and cents, would return to him and her, and to you, a ratio of at least 29 to one on your investment. And nowhere else could you obtain for your child, at so little expense, two years of education beyond the high school.

We should get about this business of working together in these four counties, to procure, at this propitious time, a junior college to serve our mounting needs... WITHOUT DELAY.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

After having been on a sizzling safari into the Stonewall stronghold with Gatlin' Gun Garrett, no kin to the Famous Lawman Pat, with same last name, (but well he could be!) and after having been "in" on a few things up with which he has had to put as a public servant recently, we're here to say our High Sheriff should not be blamed for his ability to see two ways. It's enough to tangle anybody's eyes—the pace at which that Protector of the People prances to help out his fellow man.

And there are some folks we know who live just an impion on the other side of the law that probably wish he couldn't see around corners. We don't have proof positive that Gintler Eyes Garrett CAN see around 'em, but it would seem so—the way he gets his man!

What must have been a most unique survey, and we wonder who had the job and how long it took him, was recently conducted by Lloyd's Bank of London. It had to do with the use that was made of 100,000 paper clips. It revealed: 14,163 twisted or broken during phone calls; 17,200 used to make temporary clothing repairs; 5,434 as toothpicks; 5,308 to groom fingernails; 3,196 as pipe cleaners; 19,143 as chips in card games; thousands dropped on the floor and swept away. Only 20,000 were used to clip papers together.

They make pretty good "bullets" fired by a rubber band, too.

Long about the time we get to feelin' Methuselah-ish, someone throws out an inner-tube at the end of a good taut line which we, swirling around in the whirlpools and rapids of Time, grab and hold onto for dear life! This week our "inner tube" and rescue came in the form of an ad to us as CO of the Legion Post here. It said: Available: "Jan Garber, limited number of engagements in May; Sammy Kaye, beginning the end of September; Joe Reichman, March, April, and beginning October 1; The Three Suns, March and April."

After perusing that, just call us "Twinkle Toes." Anyone for Stan Kenton at Pavilion Caprice in the Nederland Plaza overlooking the beautiful Ohio? Or was you efer in Zinzinnati?

Or how about Kay Kyser and Ishkabibble and enrolling in the College of Musical Knowledge at the Black Hawk in Chicago?

Or maybe Billy Butterfield, Paul Crumbaugh, Warren Noble and Don Sebastian at Joyland in Lexington, or Ault Park in Cincinnati?

Or Ace Brigooge at Eden Park?

Or Ol' Genial Jan himself at the Trionon, Aragon, or just anywhere?

If HE'S still playing; I dad-gum sure can still be dancin'!

Two-step, anybody? Business Man's Bounce, that is?

Speakin' of Methuselah-ishness and obsolescence in tripping the light fantastic, we engaged in some military jargon and parlance the other day wherein we were recalling that so-and-so (and he really WAS A so-and-so!) was the toughest "PP pusher" on the base.

Is there a GI still extant that doesn't recall most vividly what a "PP pusher" was? That was the guy (with horns under his blue-and-gold helmet liner) in the Permanent Party who went around hotshotting all the slick sleeves into more and more activity with whatever chore they were performing.

Friend of ours compared his life's mate with his old World War II PP pusher the other day. He hasn't been able to get into his own home since.

Probably no other single generation of humanity ever will witness what this generation has witnessed via the miracle of television—two funeral tributes of such universal scope and magnitude as those accorded our own beloved, assassinated President, John F. Kennedy, and the indomitable leader of Great Britain in its Finest Hour, Winston Churchill.

Our own heart last Saturday ran a similar gamut of emotions as those experienced in the stunning days, Nov. 22-24, 1963, except that the principal emotion in one was a numbing disbelief shock, while the other last Saturday was pride and deep reverence for the deserved tribute being paid the memory of a fellow human being who rose to superior heights of courageous leadership.

As one of millions of television viewers, in both experiences, a pride that defies description of and for country, of and for the Man, engulfed us. When the lofty vaulted ceilings of magnificent St. Paul's Cathedral was filled with the voices of tribute-paying humanity singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" in memory of an Englishman who had an American Mother and who became the only Honorary Citizen modern America has ever had, our mind was gripped with thoughts of the bond that ties our two nations. Then, parenthetically, how could we help but think of what the inhabitants of that tiny island, under the inspiring direction of Winston Churchill, did in World War II to save the free world. We saw it with our own eyes. We know the geographical dimensions of England, as does many an ol' GI—and what they did with "Winnie" at the helm, still is unbelievable!

Luther Walker, our new chamber manager, is "off and running well." Power to him. He already has demonstrated he knows the recipe for community improvement. All of us now need to help him put the ingredients together and pop 'em into the oven to "rise."

One thing Luther said on the first civic shot he fired from the speaker's platform last week was that tourism is big business. To that we say a big "Amen." All Texas is talking it, and we need to climb on the bandwagon while the tailgate is down.

Luther said, and he is right as rain, that 12 additional cars stopping overnight daily in Haskell would be the equivalent of an industry with a payroll of $100,000 annually.

Stopping those 12 cars and more, daily, was, and is, the prime aim and object in our crusade to preserve the old depot here and make a museum of it for posterity... and tourists. Our depot-saving crusade received wide acclaim. Why can't we finish this restoration job quickly and furnish that incentive for tourists to stop, and make this town money in the process?

Presbyterians To Hear Outstanding Dean, Professor

Miss Frances Hesser, professor and dean of the Edward Lane Bible Institute, a mission post of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, at Patrocino, Brazil, will be the principal speaker at a family night supper at the First Presbyterian Church of Haskell Friday night, February 5.

During 30 years of consecrated service, Miss Hesser has been "the soul of the school," according to a report recently made to the 104th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

"The Presbyterian Church of Haskell is extremely fortunate to have such an outstanding Christian leader coming to be with us," Reverend Douglas B. Finch, pastor of the church here, declared.

The Edward Lane Bible Institute, of which Miss Hesser is dean, has sent out 500 trained workers not only into the West Brazil Mission of the Presbyterian Church, but also into other missions and the national church in Brazil. The graduation class in 1964 consisted of 18 student women and six men.

At the 1964 commencement, the graduation speaker, Rev. Wilson de Castro Ferreira, executive secretary of the Presbyterian Church in Brazil, paid homage to the dedicated service of Miss Hesser. He said, "Successive generations of students have felt the impress of her striking Christian personality and are exemplifying in their lives something of the beauty of character of this devoted and inspiring missionary."

Reverend Finch has issued a warm invitation for all regardless of denomination, or church affiliation, to hear the distinguished missionary from Brazil at the church here Friday night, February 5.

WIDELY SOUGHT MAN TAKEN BY SHERIFF GARRETT, RANGER

A 44-year-old man was taken into custody last week by Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett and Texas Ranger Homer T. Melton, of Benjamin, in connection with an alleged "insurance swindle" is also wanted in similar cases in at least five other points in Texas, and "the list is growing," Sheriff Garrett reported Thursday.

Identified by Sheriff Garrett as James Thomas Hodges, 44, of Paris, Texas, the man, arrested in Hot Springs, Arkansas, by the Texas officers, assisted by Arkansas authorities, was returned here on a charge of theft over $50.

According to Sheriff Garrett, the man reportedly accepted a check for $119.20 from Mrs. A. M. Bird, of Haskell, in payment of a one-year premium on an insurance policy issued by a Dallas-based insurance firm, and gave a receipt for the payment. Investigation shows the man had no connection with the firm he claimed to be representing as a salesman and collector, Sheriff Garrett reported.

Since his return here, where his case awaits grand jury

"I bet there are few people alive today who remember when this 1896 antique was actually used as a source of heat. Besides not giving out just an awful lot of heat to an awful lot of space, it didn't exactly smell like the breath of spring either. Times have certainly changed.

Now-a-days safe, flameless electric heating carries even, steady heat to all parts of a room or home. Hot spots, cold spots and drafts are things of the past. Since electric heating is totally flameless there are no pilot flames to go out or gaseous odors, no soot, film, smoke, or residue to rest on indoor walls and furniture. The house stays clean, comfortable, and fresh smelling.

If you aren't enjoying the comforts of flameless electric heat call a WTU representative or see your electrical heating contractor right away."

Thanks to David Blythe, an other unique (John Surray) "vest-pocket" pipe lies peacefully on my desk. This one is the first of "a kind" to be added to my collection, and I have never seen another just like it. The movable stem can be folded back "atop" the bowl, making it not much bigger than a silver dollar.

Ground-Hog Day has come and gone. The sun was shining brightly, so I guess we will have six more weeks of winter, since George Fouts saw his shadow.

High in the hills overlooking the peaceful Guadalupe River valley near Kerrville, the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children opens its doors each summer to more than 700 blind, deaf, mute and crippled boys and girls. In the two weeks of living, sharing and playing together, the children develop a new sense of participation which they carry home with them for a richer experience in living.

Children who attend the Texas Lions Camp carry home with them a priceless heritage of happiness. By attending chapel services on Sundays, by participating in such group activities as camping out, swimming contests and stunt nights, the youngsters help rid themselves of the sense of isolation. They develop a competitive spirit, mold bright ambitions and discover a new fullness in life. They are aided by skilled counselors who are eager to help handicapped youngsters. Each camper arrives home with him a record of his achievements... a neckerchief stenciled with symbols of his accomplishments. Trophies are awarded to the best all-around boy and girl campers each session, and prizes are given to campers in other fields, too. In the summer of 1960, the camp passed the magic number of 5,000 campers it has served by bringing handicapped youngsters together on a common plane and promoting a sense of companionship through carefully planned, joyous activities.

The program of the Texas Lions Camp, under the guidance of competent counselors, helps the children discover and improve many skills on an individual basis. Ingenious devices allow the campers to participate in the individual achievement program. In the specially designed pool, many youngsters learn to swim in just two weeks.

Youngsters at camp are encouraged to do new things for themselves and to take pride in learning to do them well. The Arts and Crafts shop offers a wide choice of handicrafts where campers often find new use for muscles which were once lame. Basket weaving, beading, leatherwork, metal work, shellcraft and painting are popular activities.

The Texas Lions League for crippled children is financed thusly:
Dues: An amendment to the state constitution provides for setting aside the equivalent of $3.00 per active member in Texas Lions Clubs, per year, to be used for the maintenance and operation of the Texas Lions Camp for Crippled Children.

Membership Plan: Active Membership... Available to Lions Club members, who invest $10 or more annually. Life Membership: Available to all persons, or organizations (with the exception of Lions Clubs) who invest $100 or more.

Special Projects: There are a wide range of special projects such as carnivals, home talent shows, etc., which are sponsored by Lions Clubs for the benefit of the camp.

Endowment and Memorial: Special memorial contributions from individuals, groups and estates are encouraged and appropriately acknowledged by the League office.

Christmas Card Project: Sponsored and carried on through the League office at Kerrville, Christmas Cards are shipped to Lions Clubs at their request, and result in a worthwhile source of income for the camp.

Now let us look at the Who, What, When, Where, How and Why Lions have, and sponsor such a camp.

Who: Blind, deaf, mute and crippled boys and girls, ages 7 through 16, who can participate fully in the modified camping program offered, may be eligible with the exception as listed in the Camper intake policies to the camper applications.

What: A free summer camp with group and individual activities planned especially for handicapped children, including camping out, arts and crafts, and sports, which has been operating since 1953.

When: The camp operates 5 summer sessions starting the first Sunday in June. Each camping period is 12 days. Check-in is from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. on opening Sunday. Check-out from 8-11 a. m. the second Saturday.

Where: The camp is located three miles southeast of Kerrville on Highway 27 on 504 beautiful hillside acres with 16 permanent buildings of stone, steel and concrete.

How: The camp is operated through dues from the Lions of Texas, contributions from them and their friends, special projects by local Lions Clubs, memorials, endowments and an annual Christmas Card project.

Why: The camp is dedicated to providing the crippled, blind, deaf and mute youngsters of Texas with a camp of their own where they can have the same kind of summer recreation normally available to other children.

The main reason for all the above publicity for the camp is simply this: the Haskell Lions Club would like to send some handicapped child to the camp this summer. So, if anyone knows of such a boy or girl, in this county, that the local club might send to the camp this

Danny Clayton Begins Navy Duty At San Diego Base

Seaman Danny L. Clayton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Clayton, of Haskell, has begun basic training at the Naval Training Center in San Diego, California.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance, and gunnery, military drill, first aid, and survival.

During the training, Seaman Clayton will receive tests and interviews which will determine his future assignment either to a service school for technical training, or to a ship or station for on-the-job training in a Navy rating specialty.

Josselet, Fischer ...

ners of the Jaycee Sportsmanship awards, Carolyn Fisher, Gary Conner, and Joe Josselet, cited the outstanding records as competitors of the recipients. Buck Everett, in presenting the Booster Club trophy to James Ivy, identified him as "the outstanding defensive player on the team."

Sonny Everett, a former Kerbel pupil and an all-state end when the WTSU mentor was turning out winners at Breckenridge, in introducing the speaker, told of the respect all his players, "even long years afterward," had for Kerbel both on and off the field.

Coach Kerbel's scintillating record as a high school coach (76-15-2) and his eminent success in the collegiate realm at Texas Tech and West Texas State also were lauded.

The dynamic Kerbel prefaced his presentation with a greeting to Haskellites from Frank Kimbrough, native of Haskell, former coach at WTSU and now athletic director there.

Kerbel insisted that "your goal in life be education." Athletics, he said are a training and proving ground for "goals" and integrity. "Especially with yourself." Values of participation in sports include development in one's personal makeup of courage, character, spirit of competition, perseverance, learning the meaning of dedicated work and its rewards, discipline, sacrifice, unselfishness, and loyalty. All these, he said, are sterling traits one develops through athletics. "To have loyalty when you're losing," he pointed out, "makes you grow a little."

In conclusion, Kerbel said every well-rounded athletic competitor needs "three bones"—a funnybone, to help him over the rough places and to come back for more; a wishbone, to give him the incentive to "shoot for the moon;" and a backbone, to give him the determination to make those wishes come true.

and walked another mile almost straight up (didn't know you could do that in West Texas, but you can!) This was all last Thursday. And it's the reason we're just now gettin' on with this dispatch. No breath until now.

The tracks were there. The cave was there. No Varmint. Couldn't have been in Stone-wall County anyway. Somebody said they saw him about the same time picking his teeth with the horns of a bull he had just eaten down around Paint Creek... in Haskell County, of course.

Thanks anyway, Stonewall County Sheriff Jack Samford, for the accommodation and transportation. And if I'm ever out that way I sho' do hope you're there. If not, just call me "Cave Man," because I won't be coming back. You can't get back from there.

of a joint public junior college district in conformance with legislative act in Texas, will be in Throckmorton on Wednesday, Feb. 24, with County Judge Byrd Thorp as host in the County Courthouse.

At the request of Aspermont area citizens, Mrs. Burkett will address an interested group of school, business and civic leaders at Hickman's Restaurant there at noon Thursday.

Surveys of the desires of the people now being run in seven newspapers in the four counties "are revealing and very encouraging in that so many people are expressing an interest in a junior college, and so many feel the need and are anxious to further their education beyond the high school," Mrs. Burkett reported Monday.

The name of "Old Glory" was given to the American flag on August 10, 1831 by William Driver of the merchant ship Charles Daggert.

We sell one kind of Chrysler. The full-size kind. No jr. versions.
What's more, seven out of seventeen 1965 models are priced only a few dollars more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped. That small difference includes power steering, power brakes, automatic transmission, radio, heater and a 383 cu. in. V-8 that runs on regular gas.
It figures like this: If you're going to pay the price of a Chrysler, get one. It's that easy. See us. We deliver.
