County Capon Show Opens Friday

VARIETY

By NEAL ESTES

We spend a great part of our time running down important people in our community for news items. Lately, we have had a lot of trouble trying to locate some of our public officials—those on the public's payroll. When something important happens in the community — when something of importance is scheduled to take place—and the event is in your sphere of activity and employment — won't you please contact the newspaper and show some interest in how you are making your living. Certain public events of benefit to the community at large should be given outstanding space. Your county newspaper is ready to offer the space free — but we must have the cooperation of those in charge. Don't make our two-person staff spend hours running you down by telephone and then getting a brush-off — like this: "Call me back, I'm busy."

A representative from the UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE visited the county recently and left a copy of a letter written to GROVER SPRINGER with us for publication, if we desired to use it. We are using it in our page one column and at the same time, want to send congratulations to GROVER. Here is the letter:

Dear Mr. Springer:
In June 1963 you completed 15 years as a Cooperative Weather Observer. We join with the Secretary of the Department of Commerce, the Chief of the Weather Bureau, and many Weather Bureau employees in congratulating you.

This is a creditable record of public service. The results of your efforts are used every day by many organizations and individuals in governmental activities as well as in private enterprise.

Please accept the enclosed emblem as a token of the high esteem with which your work is held. We hope that you continue to find your weather work interesting and that you add many more years to your worthwhile record of public service.

Sincerely yours,
David S. Hill
Chief, Substation
Management Unit.

We are happy to announce these November renewals and new subscriptions and it is our hope that these readers enjoy THE STANTON REPORTER for the next twelve months:

Cool Weather Arrives But No Frost Yet

Your county editor predicted the arrival of Jack Frost on the evening of November 12, but Old Jack failed to show up.

His schedule is now somewhat uncertain. Circumstances were just right for his initial appearance Tuesday, weatherwise, that is to say, but Brother Frost posted a postponement.

On Tuesday evening fair skies prevailed, a fairly high humidity was noted and a predicted temperature of 35 degrees was announced. Undoubtedly, the southerly winds sweeping in last Tuesday evening stalled the Jack Frost visit.

High temperature predicted for Thursday—a crisp 70.

BAGS WILD HOG — Butch Curry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Curry, was the lucky hunter when a party of four went wild hog hunting 150 miles south of Stanton near Sheffield last week. Butch downed his first hog with a shot fired from a rifle. The hog, wounded by a first bullet, charged and Butch told his dad afterwards that he had to keep his second shot steady to make the kill. The hunting party, including Sonny Curry, Herman Cain, Butch Cain, and Butch Curry bagged an even half dozen wild hogs. Herman Cain shot two hogs, his son, Butch, added another pair and the Curry father-son team got a hog each. Wild hog hunting is a favorite sport of many area hunters.

VOTE TO KEEP POLL TAX

County Voters Defeat Tax Collector Proposal

Martin County voters Saturday rejected a proposal to establish a new county office and ruled that the duties of tax assessor and tax collector continue as a part of the sheriff's responsibilities.

The vote on a proposal to separate the tax assessor-collector office from that of the sheriff was rejected by a vote of 140 for and 213 against.

Martin County does not have a large enough population to make it mandatory that it have a separate county office for tax assessing and collecting. However, the law provides that the citizens can create such an office if they approve it at an election. The proposal was laid before the voters by the Martin County Commissioners Court.

The tax assessor-collector proposal was an added feature to the special election of Saturday. (Continued on page 4)

Alpine Bucks Spoil Bison Homecoming

It was a long homecoming night for the Stanton Buffaloes here Friday, as the invading Alpine fighting Bucks rudely spoiled the festive occasion, 33-0.

The loss kept the winless Bisons in the District 7-AA basement, and Alpine's victory was another in a successful season for the long-dormant mountain boys.

The game's one-sided outcome was decided by two major factors. First, Stanton fumbled away the ball six times, and that's enough to beat the best of teams. Second, Alpine lost heralded fullback Elijo Leyva early but uncorkeed a ripping passing attack guided by quarterback George Gonzales to more than replace Leyva. The Bucks hit 7 of 13 throws for 134 yards to the middle and scored on a 17-yard run. Leyva place kicked the seventh point.

Stanton's offense totaled 137 yards, 119 rushing and 2 of 6 passes for 18 yards. The Bucks scored twice in both the first and second quarters to leave no doubt as to the eventual outcome, then they put another on the scoreboard with one second left in the third stanza.

Stanton moved down to the Alpine two in the fourth quarter before losing the ball on downs. This was the only serious offensive threat of the night for the home club.

In the first quarter, Leyva helped get the Bucks rolling with a 26-yard ramble to the Buffalo 22. Two plays later halfback Tony Green whipped inside left end, cut back to the middle and scored on a 17-yard run. Leyva place kicked the seventh point.

On the next to last play of the first quarter, Leyva bucked across from two yards away for the second Alpine touchdown. This completed a drive of 73 yards, 53 of it on (Continued on page 4)

Philosopher Has Newspaper Reading Habit Useful In Maintaining Peace Of Mind

(Editor's note: The Martin Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw suggests a change in the newspaper reading habits of the nation, but it won't work.)

Dear editor:

I have a system of reading newspapers which I'd like to recommend to Washington. It's the best system I know for maintaining peace of mind and a consistent foreign policy.

It's simple. Don't read a paper every day, it only mixes you up.

Under my system, I read a newspaper when one turns up, blown onto this Martin County grass farm by the wind, left by insurance salesmen, wrapped around vegetables and such things from my neighbors, thrown out of cars, etc.

You take a man who reads a newspaper every day and though and what happens? On Monday he's bent on beating Russia to the moon. On Tuesday he reads Russia and by Tuesday afternoon he's decided maybe we ought to call it off too.

Then a week later Mr. Khrushchev announces Russia is back in the race, this ties him in a knot, and the whole space program has to be re-evaluated once more.

You can see what it leads to when you read everything Mr. Khrushchev says. My policy is to read only half of what he says and believe none.

Speaking of putting a man on the moon, a friend says he read my letter last week in The Stanton Reporter proposing that we put one man on each of the billion planets out in space, and that he has figured it up and since there are only about three billion people on earth it's take a third of population to do it.

"Your idea is impractical," he said. "The idea, sending a third of the people out into space!"

That's what I'm talking about. It's a splendid idea. I've got several in mind I'd like to nominate for the trip now. For example, right around here there are . . . well, you fill in the names, and if mine turns up, scratch it off, I'll be busy farming.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Farm-City Week, November 22-28

Accomplishments of farmers and agribusiness groups will be related to city dwellers as a part of the observances in Texas and other states of National Farm-City Week, November 22-28. Activities designed to give rural and urban residents a better understanding of their respective roles in today's complicated and competitive world will be included in the observances, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nationally, Kiwanis International is coordinating agency for the Farm-City Week observance. Dolph Briscoe, Jr. of Uvalde and Calvin Pigg of Renner have been named co-chairmen for Texas. They are encouraging widespread participation in activities which will encourage better understanding and neighborliness between urban and rural citizens.

Officials of the Extension Service point out that county extension agents, 4-H Club members and leaders and county program building committees are putting the final touches on plans to participate in community and county activities. They will also cooperate with other groups and organizations, such as civic clubs, chambers of commerce, women's clubs, farm organizations, commodity groups and others.

The extension officials and co-chairmen point out that agriculture in Texas, as well as as the nation, is a dynamic industry. Last year in Texas the total value of agricultural products amounted to more than either the total manufacturing payroll, the total construction awards or the total retail trade payroll.

Texas annually produces crops valued at about one and a third billion dollars and livestock and livestock products with a value of more than one billion dollars. The total of all agricultural sales plus the value of products used at home brings the figure to $2,447,000,000. Only oil produces a larger annual dollar, they say, and agriculture is the oil industry's largest customer.

It was freedom that made it possible for Americans to transform Europe's costly plaything — the automobile — into a vehicle for everybody. So writes Christy Borth, who has been a close observer of the Detroit scene for 50 years. In his view, it was neither superior know-how nor abundant resources that made this American achievement possible. It was the fact that Americans were free to experiment as individuals, each in the hope of making a profit.

New Birth Means Life Of Peace, Love, Faithfulness

The mystery of New Birth is associated with the baptism of the Holy Spirit. We cannot understand the mystery of God or the nature and relationship of Father, Son and Holy Spirit; but we see the operations of God's spirit in human life and we know that the Holy Spirit is present with men to be their guide and helper.

To come to the plain, practical side of this mystery, the baptism of the Holy Spirit is not in some miraculous thing that men can claim to have experienced that has no relation to daily living. If a man has been baptized of the Holy Spirit, and the Spirit of God is in him, the fruits of that indwelling will be seen in his life and character.

"The fruits of the Spirit," Paul says, "are love, joy, peace, long suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, self-control." Against these, there is no law. They are the positive expressions of the good life and the God-guided life that all who need God's guidance can develop without limitation. Here there need be no restraint, and if all men had this experience of the New Birth we should have no need of laws, or of law officers, except to direct the normal ways and relationships of men.

The higher one rises in this life in Christ, and the more conscious he is of God's presence and guidance, the humbler is his spirit and attitude. Men of the world may glory in their wealth or success, but the Christian becomes, the less will he boast about it. It is the spirit that Paul admonished the Christians at Galatia: "Let us not become vain-glorious, provoking one another, envying one another."

Classing Office Receipts Double Last Year Totals

Sample receipts at the U.S.D.A.'s Cotton Classing Office in Abilene, totaled 218,125 bales November 1, according to B. B. ed in both grades and staple. Thirty-two per cent of the cotton was classed as white cotton, as compared to 42 per cent for the previous week. About 67 per cent of the cotton was light spotted and one per cent was classed as full spot. Forty-one per cent was 29-32 compared to 28 per cent in this same category the previous week.
Other staple lengths were as follows: seven per cent was 7 1/2; 23 per cent was 15-16; five per cent was 31-32; two per cent was 1-1/2; two per cent was 1 3/32; and nine per cent was 1 1/8.

a pair of Gonzales passes. Leyva was wide on his extra point try.

In the second period Alpine went 59 yards on a drive to the Stanton 3, lost the ball on downs, then tackle Marshall King pounced on a Buff fumble on the 3 the next play. Back in business, the Bucks quickly sent Green around left end for the score. Manuel Muniz missed the conversion.

With 20 seconds left in the half, Alpine forged another tally on a 56-yard hike. The capper was a 17-yard pass from Gonzales to end Ramon Molinar. Kenneth Nester booted the point-after to make it 26-0 at halftime.

Near the end of the third quarter, Gonzales fired a strike to Green, who was in the clear behind two Stanton defenders. The Buck back legged it to paydirt on the 41-yard play, then Nester kicked the extra point to complete the night's scoring.
Donnie Thompson was the night's standout on defense for Stanton, along with Mike Hall and Rodney Payne. Hall was also the offensive big gun for Stanton, especially in the last half.

Time Set To Mail Christmas Parcels

The period of November 1 to November 20 has been designated for the mailing of Christmas parcels to members of Armed Forces overseas. The term Armed Forces overseas also includes members of their families and authorized United States civilians who receive their mail through APO and FPO.

Relative to preparation for mailing, boxes for overseas transmission must necessarily be of strong construction on account of the great distance they must be transported and the handling and storage they must undergo. It is necessary that all articles for overseas delivery be packed in boxes of wood, metal, solid fiber board, or strong double faced corrugated fiber board.

It is also desirable that all fiber board boxes be securely wrapped in heavy paper, which strengthens the package. Each box should be tied with a strong cord. A slip of paper showing list of contents and address should be enclosed in the parcel.
In addition to the usual articles normally prohibited in the mails, matches of all kinds and lighter fluid may not be mailed overseas. Cigarettes, other tobacco products, and coffee are prohibited to many APO points.

Addresses must be legible and complete and should be prepared in typewriting or ink.
D. H. Vaughn, assistant to the postmaster, stated that if there are further questions about mailing, the public is requested to call at the post-office for information.

All area residents are invited to take part in the event. There will be plenty of turkeys, and the charges are $1.00.

How to speak out for freedom today

Free men have never gone in much for silence. Even before the first thirteen States became United States, men were speaking for freedom loud and clear.

Today Americans speak out for freedom many ways—in Congress, in local government, in neighborhood activities. Some speak out for freedom in other languages, in other lands. And millions of Americans speak out for freedom every time they buy U.S. Savings Bonds.

Every Savings Bond you buy is an investment in freedom. While you're saving money for your own family's future, you're helping Uncle Sam tend to the business of keeping men free today.

Perhaps you don't speak out for freedom in the same tone of voice when you buy a Bond as Patrick Henry did in his famous speech. But you speak every bit as surely. And every bit as proudly.

Why not speak out for freedom now? Buy Bonds at the bank or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

Keep freedom in your future with U.S. SAVINGS BONDS

Any car that looks like this and costs like this will sell well anywhere. But a car that goes and handles like the Caliente is wasted on cramped terrain. # FARM REVIEW AND FORECAST

Insects and plant diseases, major creators of problems for rural and city dwellers alike, will be discussed in detail during the annual Texas Insect and Plant Disease Control Conference at Texas A&M University, November 12-13. The conference will be held in the Memorial Student Center.

The latest ammunition from research finding dealing with the control of these home and production problem makers will be presented by entomologists and plant pathologists of the University and by off-campus authorities.

Two of the featured speakers will speak during the first session. They are Herbert F. Tomasek, chairman of the executive committee of the National Agriculture Chemicals Association, Kansas City, Mo. He will discuss the importance and use of chemicals in today's agriculture. He will be followed by a "Report of the Pesticide Control Activities of the Food and Drug Administration" by Sam D. Fine, director for the Dallas District, FDA.

Research and extension entomologists during the following sessions will present the latest research findings and control recommendations on nematodes, vegetable diseases and insects, grain sorghum, forage, and rice insects and diseases and also those for fruits and nuts. Dr. Robert Harris from the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, Kerrville, will discuss "Recent Developments in Livestock Insect Research" during the final session for the first day's program. Extension Entomologist John Thomas will follow with livestock pest control recommendations for 1964.

Americans can have confidence in the meat they buy in today's markets, says Ed Uvack, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

It is examined for wholesomeness by means of an inspection system and has been systematically graded to indicate quality differences, he says. Inspection and grading are the two most important areas in the marketing of livestock and meat in this country.

A new Texas A&M University Extension leaflet, L-585, explains each inspection stamp used in the state and the differences in the U. S. Federal meat grades. The various inspection stamps are examined in detail and the meaning of the lettering on each is explained.

The publication also traces the recent changes which have occurred in the Federal grades for each species. A special section explains the USDA dual grading system which was in effect for a one year trial period, from July 1962 to July 1963. The USDA is presently proposing that the yield grade portion of the dual system be incorporated into the old grading system.

A copy of this leaflet can be obtained from your county agricultural agent or by writing the Department of Agricultural Information, College Station, Texas.

Most of Texas is dry and much of the state is now faced with the problem of poor grazing, says Uel D. Thompson, animal husbandman with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

When this condition exists and the total feed intake of cattle must be supplied, probably the cheapest method is to supply energy by feeding sorghum grain, and limit the animal's intake with salt, explains Thompson. And though roughage is expensive and low in energy, some must be provided for proper ruminant digestion, he adds.

There are several alternatives for producers who have no pastures, according to Thompson. They can sell replacements if necessary, wean and sell calves as early as possible, cull low producers and confine animals to traps or drylots and feed them.

A mixture of 34 percent ground sorghum grain, 33 percent of a 41 percent protein supplement, 31 percent salt, and 2 percent trace mineralized salt, can be self-fed. Cattle will consume about five pounds of this mixture daily depending on the quality and quantity of the roughage they receive.

However, such a mixture is deficient in Vitamin A, states Thompson. Mature cattle need about 40,000 International Units of Vitamin A per head daily and the synthetic form may be fed, placed in the drinking water or injected into the animal, advises Thompson. It is not advisable to mix the synthetic form with mineral or high salt feed mixtures and to leave it exposed to air, sunlight and heat.

The amounts of roughage fed daily should be limited, due to their high cost and low energy value, and low quality roughages should be ground. Though grinding costs may be too high on other roughages, rice hulls must be ground to prevent intestinal irritations, says Thompson.

For more information on feeding of cattle during these times of stress, see your local county agricultural agent or write the Department of Agricultural Information, College Station, and ask for "Emergency Feeding of Livestock," B-218.

Pack Proper For Safety In Shipping

Packing a gift for mailing? Make sure it is both securely wrapped and present-pretty.

For mailing safety, use two boxes—an inner gift box and an outer mailing box. Make sure both are strong enough to protect the article. Even soft items such as clothing should be packed in boxes which will withstand possible rough handling and arrive intact. If breakable articles were not cushioned firmly at the store, use crumpled tissues to fill in the spaces.

Of course you'll wrap the inner gift box prettily, but be sure to choose packable decorations. Avoid paper with glitter trimmings. The glitter rubs off easily and probably will be in the bottom of the box when your gift arrives.

Also, eliminate fluffy bows and novelty ornaments which are easily crushed and flattened. Select tailored trimmings for mail-proof beauty. Fasten ribbons with an attractive gummed sticker or use a knotted cluster of streamers.

Now for the packing. Select a strong mailing box, just slightly larger than the gift box. To keep your gift safe and pretty, fill in the space between gift and mailing boxes with crumpled tissues in a variety of colors. By mixing aqua, pink, white and yellow you'll create a pastel potpourri of color that gives a festive greeting as soon as the mailing box is opened.

Be sure to wrap the outer mailing box with heavy paper and secure with sturdy twine. The address label should be typed or printed with indelible ink.

And don't forget your return address.

Cotton Men Ready For Cold Weather

Martin County cotton farmers are about ready for real cold weather to move in and they are wondering when that will hit.

Last year, the first frost occurred November 7. The normal date for first frost in the county is also November 7. Coldest weather recorded so far this fall is 39 degrees— which is far from the required 32 degrees needed for ice.

October has been rated one of the warmest Octobers in history and November, after a brief cool spell, has been mostly on the summer rather than the winter side.

Meantime, cotton harvesting in the county has slowed slightly according to Texas Employment Commission office survey. Most of the cotton which was ready for the strippers two or three weeks ago has been handled. The remainder is still in the fields.

Farmers are giving the late bolts every possible chance to mature and the warm weather and rainless days have been helpful in achieving this end. TEC has not hiked its crop

County	Est. Crop	% Open	% Hvst.	Ginned
MARTIN	75,000	77	24	22,058
Howard	36,500	87	49	17,977
Glasscock	9,600	86	72	7,017
Fisher	35,000	98	86.5	30,315
Mitchell	28,000	95	60	16,971
Nolan	17,000	99	62.5	10,636
Scurry	29,000	95	64	19,573
Dawson	150,000	85	42	62,992
TOTAL	380,000	90	51	187,539

estimate for the county. It is still standing by 75,000 bales. "We hope we'll have to hike it," said one official, "but we are waiting to see what happens in the next few days. A lot of damage and crop loss could be caused if it rained hard, for example, or if the frost popped a lot of bolts off the stalks." Meantime, gins are staying busy but not rushing.

Total ginnings now stands at 22,058, which is 24 per cent of the TEC crop estimate of 75,000. The TEC estimates that Martin County is 77 per cent open. The TEC also estimated there are 500 strippers in Martin, Howard, and Glasscock counties.

The cloudy skies of Friday and the few sprinkles of rain caused considerable weather-viewing by cotton farmers who, if they had their "druthers," would just as soon there was no rain. However, they are keenly conscious of the plight of rancher friends.

Ranches are hard hit by the prolonged rainless session and are becoming increasingly alarmed as the fall season moves steadily toward winter.

By NEAL ESTES

IT'S pretty nice to have birthdays at any age. Friends, neighbors, and co-workers joined in Tuesday to make our birthday a regular celebration. We loved every minute of the November 12 just passed too. Birthdays have consistently been big events in the ESTES family. Our late parents, our brothers and only sister made more over birthdays than anything else on the calendar. Our telephone started ringing Friday. A long distance call from our brother JOE and his wife CARROLL, started the birthday party for your country editor. Then telegrams from other members of our family, cards, gifts, et al, started coming in. MARY LOU, my only sister, a former dean of women at BAYLOR-BELTON, a former dean of women at SOUTH DAKOTA UNIVERSITY, and now associated with the HIGHLAND PARK schools in Dallas, always flashes the signals down the family line to remind busy brothers, their wives, and all the nieces and nephews and cousins that one or the other of the clan has a birthday coming up. Boy, oh boy, she gets results. It is something to behold. The love and affection we learned in our family home in Commerce leaps into high gear. And we might confess here that we get as much of a thrill at giving to another as we do in receiving. That's the positive truth. We want to wind up this paragraph now by thanking all of the friends and neighbors who thought about us Tuesday. It has been said that grown men are just little boys at heart. I hope we always retain a certain number of those cherished memories and events, such as birthdays, we knew in our salad days. Next week I have to call up my dentist and make an appointment. The wheels of time tell me that by the time yours truly marks another birthday, we might be eating cake on plastic choppers.

GUY STORY BROWN, son of MR. and MRS. GLENN BROWN, annexed another honor in Dallas recently. GUY won a special award with his mineral exhibits at the DALLAS GEM and MINERAL SHOW. His mineral specimens were gathered from different parts of the country and all added up to a scene of splendor in his lighted display case. GUYBO is another November fellow; his birthday falls on the last day of this month. Congratulations to you GUY on your latest accomplishment.

HARVEY WHITE turned in the order for the special election ballots to be marked by the people of Stanton in the city election in December, to our job department on low bid this week. We will be called upon to name a mayor and a town councilman. We must write in our choice for mayor. Candidates for this post failed to formally announce their intentions to run. For city commissioner we have ALBERT A. JOHNSON. He is seeking the lone seat on the council unopposed. JOHNSON is a fine young businessman, clean, fair and honest. The town can use his services at city hall. Let's all go down to the METHODIST CHURCH basement and vote. But don't go down there if you have no poll tax. It is now and has always been a legal requirement in this state to own a poll tax receipt or exemption before exercising your privilege of voting.

MARTIN County voters rejected the poll tax repeal amendment last Saturday by an overwhelming count. The ratio of defeat was three-to-one. Only twenty-five counties in Texas voted to do away with the poll tax requirement to vote. When the amendment was submitted to Texans for a vote several years ago a total of 39 counties favored repeal.

BY-THE-WAY, if you expect to vote in any of the elections on any level, city, state, school board, county, district, or in the presidential or general election next November you had better go over to the courthouse and buy yourself a poll tax as soon as possible. You will definitely have to have a receipt to participate in any election. And the Supreme Court of the United States can't do a single thing about over-turning the decision—the decision made by Texans in the election last Saturday.

THE dry, cool, crisp air these November mornings have the tendency to put a lot of pep and fire into the people. The majority of us have started thinking about anti-freeze, plant covering, and making the proper provisions of our pets who are forced to remain outside nights. This is a wonderful season though—one that makes us all glad to know we live in the greatest country of them all and the majority of us are willing to put up with a lot of things just to maintain the privilege of being an American.

DR. L. L. MORRIS, pastor of the FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH of Midland, delivered one of the greatest sermons of his illustrious career Sunday morning. We have written to him seeking a copy of his message and if we are fortunate enough to come by a copy, will print the text in full at some future date. The message is one that many of us, as good citizens, will appreciate, regardless of the church denomination we are affiliated with.

TEXAS U. got by BAYLOR last Saturday in Memorial Stadium by a 7-0 tally, and the victory enabled them to continue on their march of the national championship. The Steers must face TCU and A&M before the conference race is concluded. Our prediction for the game this Saturday is exactly what it has been in other weeks. We refuse to name a score or try and guess the winner. All we know is that the Longhorns have their hands full from here on in. If we do manage to defeat the Frogs and Farmers it will be by narrow margins. One thing we have learned for sure, however, TEXAS is a lot better on defense than on offense. Scores in recent games indicate that fact clearly.

NEAL'S NUGGET: Be kind to each other.

Chamber Chatter

By MAURYN VARNADORE

Hello, again:

The Capon Show is all set for the 15th and 16th of November. Eddie Owens of Big Spring will be the auctioneer and that is to start at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday, the 16th, so be there to bid on these fine birds. Thanksgiving is just around the corner and they are fine to grace any table.

We are pleased with the reception of the school students in the Fire Prevention Contest. We had entries from elementary schools and from junior high and high school. The winners were announced at a luncheon on Wednesday at the Belvue Restaurant. The Texas Insurance Fieldmen's Association presented the elementary poster winner and the junior high and high school theme winner with a Savings Bond. These are the men who held the town inspection on Fire Hazards.

The Chamber has been invited to participate in the Highway Opening Caravan from Kermit to El Paso November 23 and 24. This highway is from Oria, Texas to Highway 180 West, and cuts off about 45 miles between Kermit and El Paso. It is not necessary to go into New Mexico now. The caravan will leave Kermit at 8:30 a.m. on the 23rd and have lunch in El Paso with the Chamber of Commerce. Then a tour of the city and a dinner that evening. The next day is free, so you may return at your leisure. Anyone interested in making the trip can contact the Chamber office here by the 18th, so arrangements can be made.

This invitation to join the caravan to El Paso comes from a local boy, Maxie Davie, who is the Chamber manager in Kermit. He extends an invitation to all his friends in Martin County to join him on this trip.

We are fortunate in securing Mr. Perry Pickett, District Judge in Midland, for our banquet speaker. Mr. James Eiland, Chairman for the Banquet, informed the Chamber directors that Judge Pickett will be available in January and will be most happy to appear before us. The date for the banquet will be set at the next director's meeting, November 25.

New Members: We extend our appreciation to Dr. J. D. Bone, who has joined us in the Chamber. We are indeed happy to welcome him into our ranks.

Deer hunting season is upon us, so all you mighty hunters take extreme caution while you are in the field. We lose more good people through carelessness during hunting season. So go — have good luck — take care — so we can joyously say — "Home is the Hunter — Home from the Hills."

Bye, now.

METHODIST BOARD

Church Urged To Help Retarded

A recommendation for an increased ministry to retarded children by the Methodist church will be proposed to the denomination's General Conference which meets in 1964. Dr. Oeschger, general secretary of the Methodist Board of Hospitals and Homes, reported in the November "Together," mid-month Methodist family magazine.

The board has for the past 18 months been studying the problem of retardation at the request of the church. The church's compassionate concern fits in especially well for providing the quality of custodial care needed for severely retarded children. Unfortunately, he says, strong emotional feeling often prohibits objective planning of new programs in this area. The board, however, has specific new plans ready for implementation when it receives the direction and support of the church, he says.

The Methodist Church is late, Dr. Oeschger admits, in offering some of the services now provided by Roman Catholic and Lutheran churches. But Methodist are now taking the position that the church has at least a pioneering role in the development of standards, a high quality of service and resources for research. The study indicated that one of the church's main strengths in this field lies in ministry to the family of the child.

Other recommendations Dr. Oeschger propose are establishment of a national church agency for the care of severely retarded children to be supported by church funds and a more adequate health and welfare ministry to them through the local church. This would include day-care programs, homemaker services and sheltered workshop.
