June Dollar Day Slated For Monday

Stanton merchants will mark Monday, June 3, for a huge summertime celebration.

With the new season dawning and school out the seasonable clothing demanded for the hot months ahead will be on display in local stores and marked to suit the billfold.

Dollar Day has been the most consistently community business boosting event ever observed in Martin County and the Monday's values for June will be no exception to the rule.

Many of the merchants have availed themselves of the opportunity of using this issue of The Stanton Reporter for advertising their specials for this week end and for Monday, June 3, Dollar Day.

It is nice to see BOB LATIMER up and around again. BOB recently had surgery and is home again and doing just fine. LATIMER is one of those fellows really missed in a place even when he is gone for a short time.

Buddy Shanks is in town. The former popular Stanton High School student and star footballer attended school at Abilene Christian College the past year. BUDDY was in a hurry and I didn't have the opportunity for a longer visit with him to find out his plans for the summer, but no doubt, he will have something worthwhile lined up. One summer, if memory serves correctly, BUDDY made a trip to the Holy Land. He is a fine young man and one of the most capable and intelligent athletes ever to play for SHS.

Thanks to some friends of mine MR. and MRS. GRADY ULMER. I have a new seven-weeks old German police puppy. I named him JEB STUART after the famed Confederate cavalry general. For three years I have been the owner of a beagle called LYNDON. The little dog, JEB, has worried the beagle down. JEB demands constant attention from LYN and it is easy to see the beagle is tired of dog-sitting. A friend advised me to change JEB'S name to HUBERT and after that LYNDON would have the shepard running errands for him.

I send sincere sympathy to MR. and MRS. J. A. WILSON on the loss of their sister, MRS. ETHEL CREAMER who passed away recently in Colorado City. Another sister is also reported to be gravely ill. She is MRS. TALLY LEACH, Colorado City.

Martin County Horse Show Winners Named

Champion gelding of the Martin County Horse Show held here Saturday was shown by Larry Franklin. Champion mare of the show was shown by Joe Cruise III.

In performance class, the Junior Western Pleasure Contest was won by Terry Kelly, and second place was won by Tom Hoggard. In senior Western Pleasure, Larry Franklin was first and Kay Lynn Hankins was second.

In junior barrel racing, Sherry Hankins was first, and second place was won by Tom Hoggard.

Senior barrel racing competition was won by Miss Hankins, and second place was by Franklin.

Junior polebending contest was won by Charles Atchison, and second place was won by Linny Fryar. Senior polebending contest was won by Tom Hoggard.

Editor's Mail

Roswell, N. M.

Editor Stanton Reporter Stanton, Texas Dear Sir:

I grew up, went to school, and married in Stanton, many years ago, more than I like to admit. Quiet recently I went through Stanton, stopped and visited with friends and renewed acquaintances after 40 years. I was told there would be a celebration, "Old Timer's Reunion" in July. My Dad and I expect to attend. He is Frank Goodson, now past 80 years old. I am the former Jo Goodson, now Mrs. W. P. Bobo of Roswell, New Mexico. We are very excited about the anticipated return to Stanton for the reunion. Will you please send me a program of events? Incidentally, I would like a subscription to The Stanton Reporter. Please advise me the cost and start with the next edition.

Ann Haggard and Kelly Joe Gaskins

Washington, D. C., is the destination of Ann Haggard, Stanton, and Kelly Joe Gaskins, Knott, who leave June 6 on a 12-day tour sponsored by Cap Rock Electric Cooperative, Stanton.

Winners of an oratorical contest, Ann and Kelly Joe will meet in Waxahatche with some 85 to 100 other winners of similar competition conducted by rural electric systems all over the Lone Star State.

From Waxahatche they will travel by chartered bus with over - night stops in Little Rock, Ark., Nashville, Tenn., and Roanoke, Va., arriving in Washington, D. C. on June 10.

During the five-day stay in the Nation's capital city, they will visit the Capitol, the White House, Smithsonian Institute, Wax Museum, Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, and many other historical shrines and monuments. REA Headquarters, Department of Agriculture, and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association are on the agenda.

The Texas group will place a wreath on the grave of President Kennedy while in Arlington Cemetery.

They will enjoy the company of the Texas Delegation at a Congressional Breakfast, cruise the Potomac River, and possibly visit with President Johnson.

On Rural Youth Day, they will participate with a thousand or more other young people from all over the country. They will return home June 18.

Stanton Lions Award Officers Certificates

The Stanton Lions Club met Tuesday noon at Belvue Restaurant with president, Tom Angel, presiding. F. O. Rhodes led the sing-song, accompanied by sweetheart Pauline Wood. The pledge to the flag was led by Paige Eiland, and Richard Payne voiced the invocation.

The president gave a review of the past year's activities, and presented special awards to the following men who served as chairmen of various projects. They were Bill Terry, Paige Eiland, Chuck Elmore, F. O. Rhodes, and George Costlow.

Miss Vickie Morrison, queens pageant winner, was presented a gold charm bracelet. A mother - of - pearl compact was given to the club's sweetheart, Pauline Wood.

John Rouche received a framed certificate of past secretary. Zone Chairman, John Wood, presented Tom Angel with his framed certificate of past president.

Two new members were received in the club, as Cecil Bridges performed the installation ceremony for Charlie Welch and Travis Clay. The sponsoring Lions, Bill Terry and Steve Edwards placed membership pins on the newly installed men.

A B. Segars of Lubbock, was a guest of O. B. Bryan. Twenty members were present.

Some Stores To Close On Memorial Day

Some Stanton stores will close Thursday, May 30, to observe Memorial Day.

The day is one voted on by retail merchants of the Chamber of Commerce to observe but there are a number of establishments which plan to remain open.

The federal offices will all be closed and the bank and postoffice will also observe the day as a holiday.

Business activity is expected to resume on a normal basis Friday morning as no local merchant is planning closing for a long week-end.

A special Memorial Day program has not been planned but members of the American Legion will mark some of the graves in local cemeteries.

Pan American Slates Slaughter Well In Martin

By JAMES C. WATSON

Pan American Petroleum Corp. has slated No. 1-G Elma L. Slaughter as a 9,350-foot venture in the Sulphur Draw (8,790-foot Dean-Wolfcamp) area of Martin County, 10 miles north of Lenora.

The drillsite is 1,320 feet from north and 1,470 feet from east lines of section 71, block B, Bauer & Cockrell survey, a mile south and the same distance northwest of producers in the seven-well reservoir.

Texaco Inc. abandoned No. 1 Jalnick III, Glasscock County wildcat at total depth 8,250 feet, 660 feet from north and west lines of section 35, block 30, W&NW survey, 10 miles northeast of Garden City.

Preston Smith Faces Attorney In Top Contest

Texas voters will be back at the ballot boxes Saturday, June 1, to mark the names of their favorite candidate in the governor's race and decide the party nominees in all run-off contests.

The big political race as far as state voters are concerned is the contest for the gubernatorial place between Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and Houston attorney Don Yarborough.

Mrs. E. Creamer Passed Away In Colorado City

Mrs. Ethel Mae Wilson Creamer died May 26 in a Colorado City hospital. She was born at Rising Star, Texas, October 8, 1885, and married to Joe M. Creamer at Sharon, Texas, in Scurry County, August 23, 1908, and moved to Colorado City in 1920.

Survivors include Gracy C. Creamer of Grand Prairie, one daughter, Mrs. Mabel Wright, who preceded her in death in 1955, three grand-children seven great-grand-children, her son-in-law, E. H. Wright; three brothers, James A. Wilson of Stanton, W. T. Wilson of Andrews, J. Bryan Wilson of Belville, Texas; three sisters, Mrs. Tally Leach, Colorado City, Mrs. L. D. Hull, Stamford, and Mrs. Ruby Simmons of Andrews; and numerous nieces and nephews.

Services were conducted at Oak Street Baptist Church in Colorado City.

Both candidates are closing hard and fast with their city hopping tactics this last week of the campaign. Interest has been at an all-time low for such a race for office at a top level this year and the candidates are both trying to stimulate the voting public for the Saturday turn-out.

Preston Smith is stressing experience in government as the chief reason why he should be elevated to the governorship. He is a veteran of 18 years of legislative and executive service to Texas.

Smith is also urging people to vote all over the state since he claims the moderate-conservative majority can win if they vote in great numbers. Don Yarborough led in the first primary.

Smith is also violently opposing the rising crime rate and said in a speech Wednesday: "We will not tolerate rioting and looting and burning in Texas."

The Lt. Gov. says he is strongly opposed to a state income tax.

Don Yarborough is spending the last week appealing to the voters to elect him governor so he can bring new in-

HONORED HEROES

(An Editorial)

LA JOLLA, Calif.—Memorial Day is a solemn and meaningful occasion in American history and tradition. And just so, for it is a hallowed time set aside to remember our honored heroes who have given their lives in the service of our country.

One of the great hymns long revered and often sung in America and titled "America the Beautiful" declares: "O, beautiful for heroes proved in liberating strife, who more than self their country loved, and mercy more than life."

From the trying times of the Revolutionary War, American patriots with a dream in their hearts and courage for their breastplates have stood in the breach for freedom and justice. There was a patriot dream that truly looked beyond their years to the building of a great and free nation in what then was a vast wilderness.

Today, through many wars and in the midst of another, our country is proud and strong, our cities are great, the land is productive, and our traditional "pursuit of happiness" is both promising and rewarding—all because brave men have stood between our homes and war's desolation and maintained that freedom for which others before them died.

We pay our humble and sincere respects on this important occasion to the honored heroes who, in placing service to country above life itself, have set a high example for us all. Their sacrifice calls from us in response the very finest we can give to refine and extend the principle of freedom, mend the flaws in our society, confirm our ways in self control, and more firmly establish the ideal of liberty in law.

The loud and too-much-publicized few who use this freedom, to vaunt their confusion, having fallen victim to the communistic conspiracy against the godly concepts of decency and honor and liberty, do not deserve to be mentioned along with those honored men who have given their last ounce of ner-

Red's Corner

By RED GIBSON

A magazine called Editor & Publisher, circulated weekly among news and printing people, carries a short feature showing typographical errors that have popped up across the country.

I have clipped the feature for years. Some of those errors — commonly called "typos" — are worth repeating, and we'll get around to that later.

What brought the subject to mind was a recent incident in which, for the first time, I got burned. These errors occur in every newspaper, particularly in the early editions when everyone is in a hurry. Not long ago I counted more than 50 errors in one story — yes, one story — in The Dallas News.

Anyway, the incident we are concerned with happened on May 16, in which I wrote a sentence that was supposed to come out like this:

"OK, I know the sea isn't all that magnificent, and you have seen big Hawaiian surfer waves on your telly."

It came out saying "... on your belly."

You can't win 'em all.

Before the printers and proofreaders get mad, let me hurry and say that it may have been a slip on the copy. But at any rate the error wasn't as bad as the one The Fort Worth Star - Telegram had recently.

To tell you the truth, I can't verify that paragraph. One of

Philosopher Has A Few Remarks On Trend Of College Students To Politics

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw may be out of his field in his letter this week, but that's his worry.)

Dear editor:

In this year's Presidential race I don't have any favorites, I'm like most people, wait till somebody gets elected and see how much you can find about him that's wrong, it's more fun that way, but in all the newspapers I've been reading out here on this Martin County grass farm lately I've been noticing what looks like a new wrinkle in campaigning.

The candidates, regardless of which party they're in, are spending more and more time talking to college students, and college students are responding by taking sides themselves, this group for another, etc. This is made possible because frequently classes have been postponed while a third group holds out in the administration building until their rights have been met and they get a promise they won't have to stay in after school for wrecking the president's office.

That's college students for you. One year they're swallowing gold fish, next year politicians' promises.

I understand there's one student who is claiming the record for having swallowed 28 promises in four days, 12 from one candidate, five from another, 8 for another, and 3 from a candidate whose name he can't remember. He's due out of the infirmary in about a week. This record is expected to fall before the nominating conventions, unless the trend shifts to a different area, like seeing how many backers of a given candidate they can crowd into a telephone booth, with the candidate in the middle.

In this connection, I read a statement by an educator who said it's a healthy sign that college students are taking things seriously, but I'm afraid he hasn't been watching very closely. College students have always taken things and themselves seriously. It's just lately that the politicians have been taking them seriously.

I hope everything works out all right, but it's barely possible that both sides may be in for a let-down when the shouting's over.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Bible Comment—

Jesus Taught The True Worth Of Giving

When Paul was leaving Miletus after having called the elders of the Christian Church of Ephesus to hear his words of farewell, he bade these Christians to remember the words of the Lord Jesus: "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

No words could express more accurately the spirit of all that Jesus had said and exemplified in His life and death. Nor could any words express more pointedly the challenge of Jesus and His teaching to the ideas and actions of what He called "the world."

Getting and receiving is such a normal process of life and is so natural to happiness and welfare that we might well ask whether Jesus was right in declaring that it is more blessed to give than to receive.

We may ask but there is only one answer. And the answer is found not only in some spiritual blessedness that compensates for the giving or renunciation of some material possession or treasured thing.

Jesus offered men rest: "Come unto me... And I will give you rest."

Yet rest is the thing that men, rich, poor, old, young, sick or well, cannot do without. That offer of rest by the master was supreme in its insight into human need.

So, in this matter of the blessedness of giving in any large and spiritual reality, the assertion that it is more blessed to give than to receive is an extension of much that is true in normal living. The giving of parents to their children, the giving to loved ones, the innumerable acts of graciousness and self-sacrifice in which men and women find supreme satisfaction, bear witness to the testimony of Jesus.

Students Urged To Seek Summer Jobs Early

If you are a college or high school student and want a summer job, apply immediately. Competition for summer jobs will be keen.

About 300,000 more young people aged 16 through 21 will be looking for work this summer than a year ago, the Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates. In all, there will be 3.8 million news workers, and of these about 2.8 million want summer jobs — much scarcer than full-time positions, according to Wanda Meyer, extension home management specialist.

"Jobs will go to the most qualified, diligent and ambitious," the bureau says. How do you measure up in this department?

As a first step, high school students should see a school counselor, advises the Texas A&M University specialist. College students can go to the employment office on campus.

Mary Wilson Ends Course In Decoration

Mrs. C. E. Wilson, owner and operator of Mary's Drapery Shop in Andrews, completed a course and received her diploma from the Chicago School of Interior Decoration, Chicago, Illinois.

"Mrs. Wilson is highly recommended by this school to deal with any decorative problem and is recognized as a qualified interior decorator," according to O. F. Necha, school registrar. Mrs. Wilson is the daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, and sister of Mrs. J. C. Sale, of Stanton.

Dairy Products Spotlight June Plentiful Foods

June's a good time to examine your milk intake, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The dairy industry again department will be housed in the building, Mayor Marshall said. Reno State Journal.

He had been under a doctor's care for a chest ailment, his wife said. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

One more. This one I saw in the old New York Herald Tribune, before it became the World Journal Tribune, and then went out of business. The paper had a story on a chef who was being sued for his pots and pans and other cooking paraphernalia, as I recall it. The story was comparing the cook to other artists, and produced a line that was supposed to read: "Why, what would Michelangelo be without his paints?" It was printed thus: "... without his pants?"

Enough for now. This listing could go on for most of the day, and I will indeed produce another batch one of these days. Newspapermen get more fun out of typos than just about anything else. They are always of great delight — as long as they happen to someone else.

is celebrating "June is Dairy Month." And as you might expect, supplies of dairy foods are plentiful. In addition to milk, plan to serve such dairy favorites as cream, cheese, butter, and yogurt.

Other foods reported plentiful this month include eggs, seasonal vegetables and vegetable fats and oils.

June output of eggs is expected to come close to the record large supplies of a year earlier. Eggs and milk combine for many tasty, nutritious warm-weather beverages.

You'll see the supplies of fresh vegetables on the increase this month, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. You'll probably find good quality field-grown celery, beans, cabbage, lettuce, green peppers, cucumbers and asparagus.

Supplies of edible oil products and raw material sources should be plentiful enough to satisfy all demand for vegetable fats and oils, says USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service. Stocks during the year are expected to reach a four-year high of more than 12 billion pounds.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Having a maid is probably not as popular as it was a few years ago for many reasons. If your maid, your lawn boy, baby sitter, or other household help, earns more than $50 per quarter, you have to have an employer identification number from the IRS Service Center — you have to pay Social Security tax on the employe or employes each quarter. You must have the employee's Social Security number.

The way the lawn has been lately, won't take long for the lawn boy to collect $50 off of you. Check it, and get Circular H from IRS.

Questions-&-Answers

Q — I have an extension until the middle of June to file my return as the result of illness. Is it true I'll have to pay interest on my taxes when I do file?

A — Yes, interest at the rate of six percent a year must be added to taxes that are not paid in full by the filing deadline. This interest must be paid even though a taxpayer has received an extension of time to file his return.

Q — I made a mistake on my return which led me to overstate my income by several hundred dollars. Can I file for a refund on this even though I have not received the refund I requested on my original return?

A — Yes, you can correct this filing error now even though the refund on your original return has not arrived. Obtain a copy of Form 1040-X from your local IRS office and follow the instructions on this form for correcting your mistake. You will receive a separate refund for the difference between your original refund claim and the corrected claim.

Q — Are school prizes and honors taxable? I just won a science award.

A — Whether the prize is taxable or not depends on the circumstances under which it was won. If you had to perform a specific act to win the prize, such as write an essay or develop an experiment, the prize would be taxable. A prize given in recognition of past accomplishments is not taxable if the recipient is selected without action on his part and is not expected to render future services.

Q — My son is going to work this summer. How can he get a social security card?

A — Application for a social security number should be made on Form SS-5. This form is available at local Social Security and IRS offices.

Q — Do you have any publication that shows what taxes a small businessman has to pay?

A — A tax calendar for businessmen is part of IRS publication 334, "Tax Guide for Small Business. To obtain a separate copy of this tax calendar send a post card to your District Director asking for Document No. 5046, "Tax Calendar and Check List for 1968."

Q — My son is taking a job this summer and plans to put most of the money he earns in the bank to pay his college expenses in the fall. If he earns over $600, will we lose our dependency exemption for him?

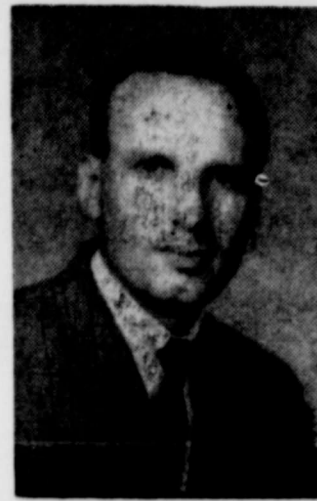

A — If your son is under 19 or is a full-time student, the amount of money he earns will not disqualify him from being claimed as your dependent as long as the other dependency tests are met.

Donald A. Johnson

Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has accepted an invitation to serve as member of the official U. S. delegation to the International Cotton Advisory Committee meeting June 2 through June 12 in Athens, Greece.

Johnson, PCG executive officer since 1965 and a member of the USDA's National Cotton Advisory Committee, was selected as producer adviser to the ICAC delegation by Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman.

ICAC is an association of 41 countries interested in the production, export, import and consumption of cotton. Its meetings have been aptly described as a "world parliament on cotton."

PCG President Don Anderson of Crosbyton said, "This is a high personal honor for our executive officer and will give him an opportunity to gain first hand knowledge of the world cotton picture, particularly as it affects foreign markets for High Plains cotton."

A major function of the ICAC is to observe and keep in close touch with developments affecting the world cotton situation and to collect and disseminate complete and timely statistics on world cotton production, trade, consumption, stocks and prices.

At times it also suggests to participating governments measures the committee deems suitable and practicable for the furtherance of a sound international cotton economy.

PCG carries out a continuous advertising and promotion program, including the provision of free technical services to foreign spinners, to maintain and expand overseas markets for High Plains production. And in recent years exports have accounted for some 65 per cent of cotton sales from the area.

On the return portion of his trip Johnson will follow through on contracts made in the organization's foreign sales effort with personal visits to trade associations, merchants and mills in seven European countries.

He will leave Lubbock on May 30 and return on about June 20.

His tentative itinerary calls for visits to cotton trade associations in Le Havre, France; Bremen, Germany, and Liverpool, England. Spinners, cotton buyers and other industry leader will be contacted in Milan, Italy; Zurich, Switzerland; Amsterdam, Holland; Frankfurt, Germany; Ghent, Belgium, and London, England.

In all of these Johnson will stress the quality improvements being made on the Plains the technical services being provided by PCG and "our determination to provide the supply, the quality and the services necessary to please foreign customers and increase their use of cotton from the High Plains."

ICAC plenary meetings are alternated between member countries and recently have attracted from 150 to 200 cotton leaders and government representatives from all parts of the world.

Johnson will be the second PCG executive officer to attend an ICAC meeting. The late George W. Pfeifferberger, Johnson's predecessor, was chosen as the producer delegate in 1963 when the meeting was held in Bangalore, India.

"Exports are a significant factor in markets for this area's cotton," Anderson stated, "and we can't afford to miss a single opportunity to enhance our understanding of export markets or to participate in the making of international agreements that conceivably could either make or break our sales to foreign countries."

He also noted that an increase in exports is this country's only immediate hope for returning to the production of 15 or 16 million bales of cotton annually.

Johnson, a native of Hamlin, Texas, in a 1955 Agricultural Education graduate of Texas Technological College, where he ranked in the top 10 per cent of his class. He also re-entered Tech for graduate study in chemistry after serving with the U. S. Army of Germany.

Closely associated with cotton all his life, Johnson began his career with Plains Cotton Growers in 1960 and became executive vice president of the 23-county, 25,000 member organization in 1965.

Grassroots Opinion

MARYSVILLE, CALIF., APPEAL-DEMOCRAT: "A democracy cannot exist as a permanent form of government. It can only exist until the voters discover that they can vote themselves largess out of the public treasury. From that moment on the majority always votes for the candidate promising the most benefits from the public treasury, with the result that a democracy will always collapse from a loose fiscal policy, always to be followed by a dictatorship." This ominous statement was penned nearly two centuries ago by the 18th-century Scottish historian and judge, Alexander Fraser Tytler. The learned judge had in mind the fate of the Roman Republic. . . . The U. S. seems destined not only to repeat the mistakes of history, but the mistakes of modern history. We may be excused, through nonetheless doomed, for failure to heed the example of ancient Rome, but the example of Britain is too close and too obvious for a plea of ignorance."

—G—

WARRENSBURG, MO., STAR-JOURNAL: "As democratic capitalism has developed in this country, the sense of class, never as strong here as in the various old countries from which we sprang, has diminished. Laboring commoners can and do speak to economic kings, and in terms of living standards it is not always easy to tell them apart."

'Let us recapture the pioneer spirit of cooperation to give Texas a fresh start.'

County Agents Column

Gardeners and homeowners in Martin County may be noting the yellowing of leaves on some of their fruit trees, ornamentals and lawn grasses during this season. This condition known as chlorosis results from iron deficiency, says Billy Reager, county agricultural agent.

Chlorosis is caused by the inability of plants to take up sufficient iron which is essential for the development of chlorophyll, the green pigment in leaves.

Primary causes of the disorder are high lime content of the soil and excessive use of phosphate fertilizer, Reager points out.

In addition to fruit trees, oaks and maples, ornamentals such as roses, pyracantha, abelia, hollies and photinia are also susceptible.

Regardless of the type of shrub or tree, chlorosis can be easily spotted explains the agent. Leaves will yellow between the veins early in the growing season. Veins usually remain green but, in extreme cases, the entire leaf yellows and may be almost white in appearance.

Grass tends to turn yellow in spots and close observation may reveal a striping of the leaf with green veins and yellowing in between.

Chlorosis can be controlled by spraying the foliage until wet with a solution of iron sulfate (copperas). For trees and shrubs, use two level tablespoons of copperas per three gallons of water and include about one and one-half teaspoons of liquid household detergent to insure even coverage. For grasses, increase the amount of copperas to three level tablespoons in the same mixture. Three or four applications at weekly intervals may be required for effective control, points out Reager.

In addition to foliar spray, Reager also recommends soil applications of copperas. One pound of copperas per 100 square feet of area broadcast and watered is adequate.

Chelated iron compounds are also effective for controlling chlorosis when applied as directed by the manufacturer, adds the agent.

Reager cautions that copperas will stain masonry and any other material or equipment if left in contact. Remove solutions by rinsing and sweep walks clean of material immediately after applications.

Additional information on chlorosis in gardens and lawns is found in Leaflet 4 - 35 available at county extension office.

TFB Urges Congressmen Back Broad Program

The Texas Farm Bureau today urged Texas Congressmen to support a "positive broad-based program to expand markets increase prices, cut costs and thus provide the basis for increased net farm income" instead of extending present programs.

The House Agriculture Committee has approved extension of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1965 for one year beyond its 1969 expiration date, the House members are expected to vote on the proposal soon.

In a letter to Texas Congressmen, Texas Farm Bureau President Sidney Dean of Victoria, said extension of the 1965 Act would not be in the best interest of farmers.

"The current program has not resulted in improved net farm income," Dean charged. "On the contrary, the position of farmers is increasingly less favorable. The cost-price squeeze has tightened, the parity ratio has decreased to depression level, and program costs have increased to a point where severe limitations on payments to farmers are imminent."

The TFB leader said since the current farm law does not expire until Dec. 31, 1969, that consideration of new ideas should be the order of business.

"Instead of continuing down the dead-end road of government supply management, price-fixing and subsidies, farmers need a broad-based program to expand markets, increase prices, cut costs, and thus provide the basis for increased net farm income," Dean said.

"Farm Bureau has developed and decommitted to Congress a positive program to achieve these objectives," the farm organization leader said. "We invite and request your study and your support for Farm Bureau's proposals, and respectfully request that you use your influence to oppose efforts to extend the Food and Agriculture Act beyond its present expiration date," Dean added.

In testimony before the House Agriculture Committee recently on the question of extending the current program, the American Farm Bureau Federation said that because the operation of government supply-management programs depends on political decisions, farmers are placed at a distinct disadvantage since non-farm consumers outnumber farm people by 94 to 6.

"Political decisions must necessarily please the majority rather than the minority, and the vast majority of our citizens are non-farm consumers," the AFBF said. "If we continue government supply-management, it is to be expected that agriculture will become a public utility—that is, an industry that is regulated for the benefit of consumers."

On the question of direct payments which are an important part of the current program, the AFBF said: "Government payments are an unreliable basis for the income that is necessary for a healthy agriculture because they can be cut or limited at any time."

Dink Polson Now Serving In Vietnam

Dink Polson, well known Martin County young soldier, is now serving in Vietnam. Polson wrote two poems and mailed them to loved ones here. The first of his poems appears below.

Of all the places in the world, America is the best; The land that God has blessed.

My love for it has grown and grown, After seeing other places. Since living there and being here, It seems wrapped in silk and laces.

I'd fight and sweat to keep it free And defend it with my life. Because there I have my dear loved ones. And most of all, my wife.

It made me so sad to have to leave, And it really grieved me so, I felt like hanging Uncle Sam. But then I didn't know.

The troubles of the other folks Who live in far off lands, I never thought of what may come. If the cons have us at hand.

The ones back home, don't really know They turn to hippies and dodge the draft. And just demonstrate to shout:

"Ban the bomb," and "Down with war," They take everything for granted, They love to reap the finished crop. But forgot it once was planted;

By our own kin, who lived before And fought for what was right, If we all knew what they went through

P&W Accepts Operation Of Balmorhea State Park

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission, in a regular quarterly session last week, cancelled the concession contract under which Reeves County Water Improvement District No. 2 had operated Balmorhea State Park since 1961.

In separate action, the commission accepted a water rights agreement with the water improvement district, whereby the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department acquired water rights from San Solomon Springs to operate and maintain the 48-acre state park, five miles southwest of Balmorhea near Toyahvale.

The commission also approved a budget for the park until August 31, the end of the fiscal year. The approved budget included operation expenses, two park attendants, a clerk, two maintenance and operations personnel and four part-time life guards for the summer operation.

The commission also praised State Representative Gene Hendry of Alpine, and Richard Slack of Pecos, and State Senator Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, for their efforts in setting up the water rights agreement with the water improvement district.

Main attraction of the park, located five miles southwest of Balmorhea in West Texas, is the two-acre constant temperature swimming pool fed by San Solomon Springs, which runs 26 million gallons of water per day. The pool, larger than an olympic-size pool, was built in the early 1930's by the Civilian Conservation Corps under direction of the National Park Service. Studies by the department show water-based outdoor recreation facilities in that area of West Texas are very limited. Reports also show the pool is used by visitors as far away as El Paso and the Midland-Odessa area.

The park was acquired in 1934-35 by the old State Parks Board, who turned it over to the water district for operation in 1961.

Other facilities at the park include trailer camping sites, open camping shelters, trailer camping sites, and a bathhouse for the pool. Nearby attractions include Fort Davis National Historic Site, and Davis Mountains State Park.

THE FORT STOCKTON PIONEER: "A 'lynch-mob' that never existed gave Fort Stockton extensive unfavorable publicity during the weekend, after an exaggerated news report from Los Angeles was distributed over the nation by a wire service.

"The report indicated that four Negroes were released by Fort Stockton police to 'a waiting lynch mob,' and that the four had disappeared.

"The news broke after a city patrolman stopped four apparent member of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee allegedly speeding in Fort Stockton, and detained them to determine ownership of their car.

"Fort Stockton police, the sheriff's office, and the city attorney were deluged with long-distance phone calls, including five calls from a New York Times reporter, seeking information after the release from Reuters, a European news service, was originated in Los Angeles May 19."

ANDREWS COUNTY NEWS: "A long-awaited special day in Andrews will occur Monday with a special ground breaking ceremony and barbecue in a Welcome Wentworth Day.

"The garment plant will officially begin construction with the turning of the first shovel of dirt by top company officials, including Ronald and Monte Sopkins of Wentworth Garment Manufacturers."

THE ALPINE AVALANCHE: "Have you or your children ever ridden on a passenger train in the U. S.?" "If you (or your children) haven't, then you had better plan to buy your train ticket sometime before Monday, June 24, 1968.

"That's the date when the Southern Pacific Co. has announced that it plans to discontinue passenger trains number 1 and 2 (the Sunset Limited), which operates between New Orleans and Los Angeles (via Marathon, Alpine and Marfa)."

THE MUNDAY TIMES: "Final plans for the 6th Annual Vegetable Festival are rapidly being completed, states James Smith, General Chairman. The Vegetable Festival will be on Friday and Saturday, June 28 and 29.

"The chairmen of the several committees of the Festival have their respective committees working to insure another successful Vegetable Festival."

THE FOARD COUNTY NEWS: "Two Crowell business firms were broken into Sunday night and various items were reported missing."

"Entrance to Shirley-Youree Drug was gained through the back door. In addition to change being taken from cash registers, other items reported missing following the burglary included a Polaroid Swinger camera, six pocket knives, cigarette lighters, film and flash bulbs.

"At the Dairy Bar, where entrance was gained through the front door, owner Frank Copper told Sheriff Dan Callaway that cigarettes were the only items taken from his business, although the culprits apparently made themselves a drink from the fountain."

THE EDEN ECHO: "G. H. Spiser, official weather observer, in his comments 'crop-wise' notes.

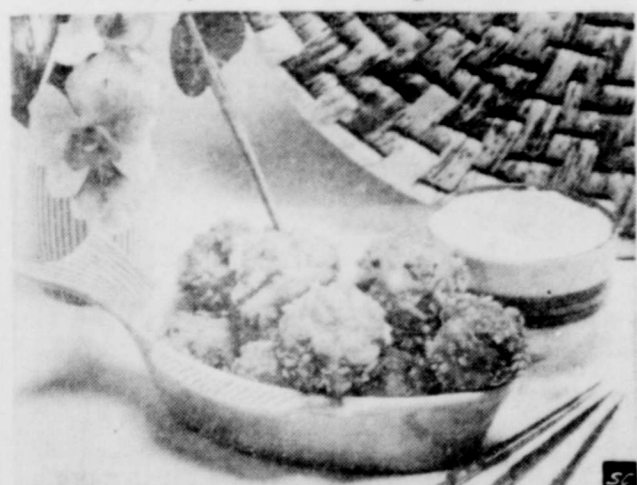

"Prospects for a large wheat yield is still favorable and mild sunny weather has lately been the rule and promises to continue as we near the end of May.

"Some fields are now in the dough stage with some early varieties beginning to harden. These particular ones will likely be ready for the combine about June 5, with most later maturing varieties ready about June 10 to 20."

THE MITCHELL COUNTY NEWS: "The Senior Class of 1968 departed on their annual Senior Trip on Thursday May 10 at 2:30 p.m. arriving in San Antonio at 9:30 that evening. They spent two nights at a motel in San Antonio, enjoying the HemisFair."

THE MEMPHIS DEMOCRAT: "Lake Greenbelt, Texas' newest resort lake, located five miles north of Clarendon, picked up another one-half mile of shoreline from recent heavy rains to set the stage for the grand opening and formal dedi-

Lazy Luau Shrimp Balls

Inspired by the care-free spirit of the Hawaiian Luau, savory crisp shrimp balls served with a creamy pineapple dip make tasty summer dining hors d'oeuvres perfect with cool drinks or punches on the patio. This easy-to-prepare recipe, created by the home economists of Chun King, can be made in advance, frozen, and reheated just before serving.

SHRIMP BALLS WITH PINEAPPLE DIP

- Dip
- 1/2 cup sour cream
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise
 - 1/2 cup partially drained crushed pineapple
- Shrimp Balls
- 1 lb. fresh uncooked shrimp
 - 1 can (3 oz.) chow mein noodles
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped green onion
 - 1/4 cup finely chopped canned water chestnuts
 - 1 egg
 - 1 tablespoon Chun King soy sauce
 - 1/2 cup vegetable oil

Mix dip ingredients and chill well. Remove shells from shrimp, de-vein and chop into small pieces; crush chow mein noodles with rolling pin. Blend together chopped shrimp, 1/4 cup of the chow mein noodles, green onion, water chestnuts, egg and soy sauce. Form mixture into small balls and bread with remaining crushed chow mein noodles. Fry in 1/2 cup oil, preheated to 350° F, until golden brown and done. Serve hot shrimp balls with chilled dip. Makes 20 to 25 balls; 1 1/2 cups dip.

cation on May 29 through June 2.

Mike McCully, chairman of the celebration committee of Clarendon, said an estimated 25,000 visitors are expected for the climax of the five-day event on Sunday, June 2, for the formal dedication and boat racing sponsored by the National Outboard Association."

THE MERKEL MAIL: "Merkel's annual Summer Recreation program will be held this year, and will be under the direction of William (Bill) Tate, according to Chamber of Commerce president, Lon McDonald."

"In a called meeting Wednesday morning, chamber directors voted to continue the program this summer, with Tate as supervisor."

THE BIG LAKE WILDCAT: "Meeting with Reagan County Commissioners' Court Monday, May 13, in its regular sessions, members of Reagan Garden Club again requested the installation of a sprinkler system for the park area around the swimming pool so that sound landscaping plans could be started for its beautification."

SEMINOLE SENTINEL: "Another eagerly awaited ruling was handed down Monday by a special three-judge federal court panel in Dallas which unanimously upheld an Interstate Commerce Commission decision approving construction of the Permian Basin Railroad.

"Only recourse left, open to the protesting Texas and Pacific Railway Co. is an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, and in order to make this appeal T & P must first get the approval of the three-judge panel which handed down the ruling. T&P has 60 days in which to file such an appeal.

"The ruling apparently cleared the last hurdle in beginning construction on the shortline railroad that will connect the Santa Fe at Seagraves to the T&P at Odessa via Seminole and Andrews."

Methodist Church Activities

Circle I and II of the WSCS of the United Methodist Church, met Tuesday morning to hear Major Glen E. Jones from Webb Air Force Base, Big Spring, speak on his experiences in Vietnam and with the Vietnamese people.

In 1961 he spent seven months in Vietnam as a fighter pilot, and in 1965 and 1966, he spent 12 months there as an advisor, and lived with the Vietnamese people. He outlined the history of Vietnam, and told why in his opinion we are there.

VOTE SATURDAY JUNE 1

TO: The Citizens and Voters of Texas FROM: Preston Smith, Candidate for Governor

The purpose of this message is to ask for your support and vote in the Second Democratic Primary Saturday, June 1.

I am proud to have been a part of Texas government for 18 years. Opponents may harp about what is wrong in Texas; I happen to think there are a lot of things RIGHT in Texas.

T. W. HAYNIE, American Legion Post Adjutant, T. STOEGER-ESTES POST NUMBER 429, has advised the newspaper that the lack of funds would defer the purchase of some markers for veterans graves in the county, but the money would be available next year to complete the project. HAYNIE said: "We sincerely hope that none of the World War Two mothers and fathers will feel that we have neglected their heroic sons, but we had to defer their markers because of the expense." By next year, the Legion hopes to have all graves properly marked.

It is always pleasing to have a personal letter from an individual concerning appreciation for some article appearing in the paper but when one gets a communication from an entire congregation it is indeed gratifying. I appreciate the nice note sent to me by the Belvue Church of Christ expressing appreciation of the manner in which the newspaper handled the publicity for their annual Vacation Bible School. It is a genuine pleasure to help our churches in anyway we can.

The peace hopes of America are in the hands of the man in Paris, France today that helped FRANKLIN ROOSEVELT lose the peace at Yalta. HARRIMAN'S, advise to FRD caused JOE STALIN to "trade the boots off the jolly ROSEY." I was frightened when I learned LYNDON, the disciple of ROOSEVELT, had sent AYERILL to represent us at the peace talks. I am not the only person of this opinion either. There's a guy called GOLDBERG who was, I think, requested to resign from the United Nations and quietly put in moth balls before the Paris peace conference started. GOLDBERG might not have done as much for us, or anymore, than HARRIMAN, but that point is insignificant. HARRIMAN reminds me of an old fire horse—everytime he hears a bell sound he runs out of the barn. He don't know where the fire is but runs through habit.

gy and life's blood to establish and maintain for their families and the rest of us the glorious heritage of a free country.

Man can no more rise above the call of his country than he can set himself above God who created it and who maintains it in His will and purpose. Those patriots, young and old, in times past and in the present, have indeed answered the highest call in responding to their country's need in time of emergency.

One of the great soldiers of all time, the late General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, spoke most eloquently and movingly of "Duty, Honor, Country" as being the all-in-all of a serviceman's creed. That concept, of course, embraces one's relationship to God. None of us is exempt from such duty, and one brings only dishonor to himself in denying his duty by refusing to answer the call of his country to service.

The times call also, we think, for a searching of the conscience on the part of the small minority of leaders in Congress who in speaking so openly and persistently against our position in defense of freedom in Vietnam have given aid and comfort to the enemy, cause, influenced him to avoid all efforts to seek a peaceful solution of the issues, and may in effect have denied the very cause for which many of our honored servicemen are giving their lives.

Let us as good citizens join on this Memorial Day in pausing to recognize and honor the heroes of all our wars. And may we pledge anew our devotion to God and country, freedom and justice, goodness and mercy, which has been so highly exemplified by those whom we honor.
