GOV. PRESTON SMITH has announced the appointment of OTICE GREEN Lubbock public relations man, as his new top administrative aide. GREEN assumed his duties the past week. He is a long time personal friend of the governor, and it a graduate of Texas Tech. GREEN has been closely identified with all of SMITH'S political campaigns since the days he made the race for a Texas Senate seat from our district.

By-the-way, GOV. SMITH left a chamber of commerce banquet set for Winsboro, Texas, last Friday night before he was scheduled to speak because of a threat. An anonymous telephone caller warned that someone at the banquet would be killed. Earlier in the day, the State Capitol in Austin experienced a bomb scare, when a caller warned that one was set to go off in the state house. Things have indeed reached a sad situation when the governor of Texas is forced to leave a public meeting in a small town for apparent security reasons. And then the wild boys are crying for the scalps of the Texas Rangers. Our editorial answer to the attempt to destroy the Rangers is a loud NEVER!

BRENDA and ERNEST HANER and their children, BRIGETTE and ERIC, visited in Breckenridge and vicinity the past weekend. That city is to be their new home after April 20. A lot of water — lake water — abounds in Stephens County, and when ERIC saw one large body of water he exclaimed: "Look at the ocean." The young fellow has resided with his parents in Martin County for three of his youthful four years of life, and no wonder he called the lake an ocean. One thing for sure, ERIC had been taught large bodies of water were to be found somewhere, and when he spied the sprawling lake, he tagged it the ocean. The experience of ERIC reminds me of the 20-year-old Commerce man whose tent on earth had been limited to Hunt County before he climbed aboard a special train headed for the Dallas Fair. He poked his head the train window and shouted: "Goodbye ol' Texas—I'm going to Dallas!"

Some questions have been raised concerning qualifications for voting rights in the approaching city election to be held in Stanton Saturday, April 4. The law is plain on the subject. Any person over 21 years of age who has resided in Texas for a period of one year, and who has been a resident of the city for six months and has registered to vote in county, district, state, and federal elections can vote. It is not necessary that the prospective voter own either real or personal property in the city limits or having rendered same for tax purposes.

The March winds really howled the past Friday, and it was reported that a stray wig, possibly one blown from some hippie's head camped out this side of Lubbock, was found lodged against a hedge in Stanton.

Wednesday marked the start of the fourth month of the year. The seventies seem to be flying. Besides all the deadlines due this month, the local newspaper will be published five times. There are five Thursdays in the month. The last issue in April will roll on April 30, and that will be just in time to carry the Dollar

April Sixth Dollar Day In Stanton

April 6 will be Dollar Day in Martin County. The monthly observation of the big bargain day in the county is a featured event which has grown to be a tradition in the community. Several merchants have availed themselves of the opportunity to sponsor special Dollar Day advertisements in this issue of the newspaper. The ad copy has been prepared for and beamed at bringing reader attention of the hundreds of outstanding price values available in Stanton on Dollar Day. Be in Stanton Monday, April 6 and take advantage of the April shower of fine bargains to be found in the stores in the county capitol.

Leader Of County's Largest Industry

O. B. Bryan was one young man who followed Horace Greenley's advice to "Go West, Young Man," to seek his future and fortune. Bryan, manager of Cap Rock Electric Co-Operative, traveled to Midland in 1929, from his home town of Whitesboro, Grayson County, to seek his future in West Texas.

Greenley's advice was well heeded by Bryan, as he has become not only an outstanding business leader of Martin County, but of West Texas as well. Bryan is currently the president of the statewide organization of Texas Electric Co-Operatives, chairman of Group Five of Co-Op managers of West Texas and the Panhandle, and most recently named a member of the Texas Rural Electric Education and Research Committee of Texas Tech.

He is also a director of the First National Bank of Stanton, and is an active supporter of the First Methodist Church. In connection with the Methodist Church, he is a member of the ministerial board here, district director of the Methodist Men Association, vice-chairman of the board of pensions of the Northwest Conference, and is secretary of the board of directors of the Ed Robb Evangelist Association of Abilene.

Bryan can also be found on some Sunday mornings filling the pulpit of area churches, since he is a certified lay preacher of the Methodist Church. Bryan moved from Midland to Stanton in 1933, to own and operate his own grocery con-

BEATING THE LAST MINUTE RUSH — Ross Roberts picks up his license plates from the county tax collector's deputy, Mrs. Kathleen Lewis, just in time to beat the April 1 deadline of acquiring 1970 plates. The tax collector's office were expecting to register more than 2,300 vehicles by Wednesday at 5:00 p.m.

Jack Ireton Among Leading Ford Salesmen

Jack Ireton of White Motor Co., Stanton, has been selected as one of the nation's leading Ford dealership salesmen during 1969, and will receive Ford Division's Sales Award at a banquet April 4 in Dallas.

W. H. Coleman, Dallas district sales manager, said Sales Award winners had substantially exceeded requirements for Ford Division's 300-500 Club, and that their sales achievements were near the "Top Hatter" level, the highest award any Ford salesman can earn.

Mr. Coleman said the 13,000-plus salesmen in the 300 - 500 Club, sold an average of nearly $500,000 worth of automotive merchandise in 1969, and that Top Hatters averaged more than $1,000,000 in sales.

Skills Survey Shows Steady Advancement

The Martin County Skills Survey continues to show steady improvement, according to the Texas Employment Survey teams. As of the close of business Monday, the number of persons who had registered stood at 341, an excellent start, but far from complete, director Gene Clements said. The Skills Survey has been assisted greatly by the following business, who are all 100 per cent in the registration of their employees: The First National Bank, Cap Rock Electric, Wes - Tex Telephone Co., Martin County, White Motor Co., Texas Highway Department, Blocker Oil Co., and the Martin County Hospital District. Several other businesses are nearing the 100 per cent mark in participation.

The question has been raised as to who should register for the Martin County Skills Survey. The answer is quite easy, Clements said, "You." For the survey to be truly representative and to be of maximum use in recruiting new industry, all people who live or work in Martin County, and who are at least 16 years old, should be included.

This would include those who are currently employed, those who are currently unemployed and seeking employment, and those who are not now working and who have no intention of working at anytime in the foreseeable future. It takes only a few minutes to register when you stop by for your mail, and the office is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Monday through Friday, Clements stated.

County Bond Sales Total $5,277 To Date

United States Savings Bonds sales during February in Martin County totaled $1,778, according to an announcement today by County Bond Chairman James Jones. Sales for the first two months were $5,277 — 20 per cent of the 1970 sales goal.

Treasury figures show that Texans purchased $16,678,196 in Savings Bonds during February — an increase of 16 per cent over February 1969. Ser-

Cecil Bridges To Head Panel At Convention

Cecil Bridges, long active in Martin County civic affairs and prominent member of the Lions Club here, will head the committee on nominations at the 1970 District 2-A1 meeting to be held by Lions in San Angelo on April 24-25.

Bridges is a former district governor of 2A-1.

State Senator W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland, will be a featured speaker at the convocation, which is expected to attract more than 300 persons. He is a member of the Midland Downtown Lions Club.

Aubrey D. Green, a past international president of York, Alabama, will also address the convention.

Directors Of Insect Control Named March 23

The Martin County Insect Control Association held its first annual meeting March 23, at Grady School, with election of directors conducted. E. D. Holcomb from "C" Community, and Curtis Flanagan from "B" Community, were the two new directors elected. Owen Kelly Community "A", and Bruce Key, Community "D", were re-elected for two year terms. Directors terms not expiring this year are: N. W. Tate, "A" Community; Leroy Linney, "B" Community; Troy Langston, "C" Community, and F. E. Snell, "D" Community.

A report of the 1969 operation of the association, was given by secretary Leroy Linney. President Owen Kelly, gave some explanation of how the diapause program was carried out, and that the state supervisor, Charlie Holt, felt the program was very successful. Plans for a future program are now being considered by the new board.

Immediately after the annual meeting, the board of directors held an organizational meeting, and elected Bruce Key, president; Owen Kelly, vice president; and Leroy Linney, secretary and treasurer.

Census Takers Easily Identified

Martin County householders will not have any difficulty identifying enumerators for the 1970 Census of Population and Housing, according to the county crew leader, Mrs. Bobby Campbell. Enumerators, or census takers, will wear a red, white, and blue identification card on their rounds in the county.

The cards will bear the seal of the Department of Commerce, and the words "Census Enumerator, Official Credential," are printed across its face. It bears the census taker's signature, and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a census enumerator, and has sworn to keep confidential all census information provided by a resident.

Persons purporting to be census takers, and do not have this identification card should be reported immediately to the district office, which is located in Lubbock. Census takers for the county will be Mrs. Anna Anderson, Mrs. Betty Thompson, Mrs. Ruth Holcombe, Mrs. Mary Roper, and Mrs. Lillian Newcomer. These ladies can be further identified by the portfolio containing their supplies. The portfolio is blue, and bears the legend, "1970 Census. In the portfolio the census taker carries her supplies of report forms, maps, pencils, and other tools necessary for her work. Mrs. Campbell estimated that the survey in the county will take from three to five weeks to complete. Enumerators will collect the census forms residents received in the mail, beginning this week.

Philosopher Tells How To Read A Newspaper And Wind Up Getting Depressed

(Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his grass farm on Mustang Draw, explores a new way to read newspapers, and stay sane.)

Dear editor:
Every once in a while to get my mind of the trials and tribulations of the world, I start reading a newspaper from the back page first, gradually working my way from right to left, postponing as long as in can what some people call the gloom of the front page.

It's surprising how much valuable news you can pick up this way.

For example, last night I read in a short article under a cake recipe that the U. S. Interior Department and Army scientists are urging further study of and idea to bring fresh water to water-short areas of the country by towing icebergs from the An-tractic. That's right. Icebergs, it said, consist of frozen fresh water, in fact 80 per cent of the world's fresh water is contained in the icebergs up there, so why not have tubs tow them to water-short areas in the United States?

That's all the article said, but it's enough, leaving a man's mind free of the depressing front page news while he meditates on the sight of a tug towing an iceberg to the Atlantic coast, and then somebody's hooking on it with a tractor I suppose, and driving like mad to get it to Arizona before it melts.

Somehow this reminds me of the man who spent years working on a better mouse trap, and finally invented one and had already marked off where he wanted the path beaten to his door, when some smart-alec invented rat poison. You can't get to his place now for the weeds.

And then there was the man who opened up a chain of livery stables just as the automobile was catching on.

Nothing is said to be more powerful than an idea whose time has arrived, but next to it for some people is the idea whose time has expired.

Try it sometime. Read a daily newspaper from back to front. It conditions the mind for the state of the world that day. Of course, this is hard to do with television news.

Yours faithfully,

Living Costs Rise Sharply In February

Higher food prices from potatoes to pork chops, a big jump in home mortgage interest rates, and other price hikes in February continued the nation's worst rise in living costs in 20 years.

Last month's increase of five-tenths of one per cent in typical family living costs slipped another nickel from the value of a $10 bill, and boosted the government's Consumer Price Index to 132.5, the Labor Department said.

The index figure means it cost $13.25 last month for food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care, and recreation that cost $10 a decade ago, reducing the value of the 1957-59 dollar to 75.5 cents.

At the same time, average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers rose $1.06 to $117.18. That was $7.07 more than a year ago. But inflation has erased $7.38 in purchasing power since last February, more than wiping out the wage gain, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Pork chops were up 2 cents a pound to $1.20 in February, potatoes rose 3.8 cents per 10-pound bag to nearly 85 cents, and home mortgage interest rates leaped 2.6 index points in the single month, the Bureau said.

*Programs for Youth Schools Systems

My pledge to you, the people of Martin County.

"Each of us is interested in our youth. I too am interested in the youth in a positive way. I am not just interested in punishing juvenile offenders, but I think that many problems can be prevented by the vision of different types of programs that would be both Educational and Recreational. This doesn't mean that I am in favor of raising taxes in order to initiate New Programs, but that our county should take advantage of the programs that already exist, and are put out by the State for the use of interested people tax free. The youth is the Future of Martin County.

with an electric range that cleans its own oven

If you like to cook but hate to clean, you'll love an electric range that has a self-cleaning oven. You just set it and forget it. Cleans itself automatically while you take care of other things.

Electric range surface cooking units clean themselves, too. And the outside of the range itself is as easy to clean as a china plate. Forget the scour and scrub routine. Buy an electric range and make the happy cooking scene.

Daily Living Is Test Of Christian

The man with compassion was the one whom we call "the Good Samaritan," the man whom the parable of Jesus has made famous, and the outstanding type of all who have devoted themselves to human need and the service of their fellow man.

That a Samaritan, despised in his time as belonging to a people of corrupted religious belief, should become that type is in itself a striking thing.

But the Parable is also in every way striking for itself contrasts and its plain insistence that religion in its outward form and profession is of little account or significance, if reality of genuine goodness, humanity, and mercy be lacking.

It often happens that some non-church members displays qualities of character and goodness in action that puts to shame many church members and professing Christians. But that it is not the general rule.

There is no particular evidence that there were many good Samaritans, and there is plenty of evidence that there were many Jews whose lives were marked with the qualities of that particular Samaritan. It was a Jew, Jesus Himself, who told the Parable.

But the standards of Christian good living is set in such character and conduct as the Good Samaritan displayed. One cannot be a good Christian without being a good neighbor, and there is no such things as faith in God, and love of God, that is not associated and reflected in love toward one's fellow man.

"If a man love not his brother, whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?"

Wtex Crop Water Supply Dwindling

Texas High Plains farmers are running out of groundwater reserves to irrigate cotton and sorghum wheat crops, the Agriculture Department said Monday.

The lower Panhandle was a dryland farming area before the use of underground water reserves. By the year 2015, the region will have to return to dryland farming that depends mostly on rainfall, the department said.

There has been a shift from dryland winter wheat to rotating crops of cotton and grain sorghum with the increasing use of groundwater reserves. Cotton is a bigger bigger money crop than winter wheat, and grain sorghum is a good crop to use in rotation with cotton.

But grain sorghum, "Makes less efficient use of the water," the USDA said.

In a study by USDA's Economic Research Service, and Texas A&M University is was reported that:

"As water is used on these and other High Plains crops, the amount pumped is projected to decline from a high of 4.13 million acre feet in 1969 to 95,000 acre feet in 2015. An along with this, the number of irrigated acres would drop from 3.5 million to 125,000 acres."

Outdoors In Texas

By VERN SANFORD

Most Texas anglers are aware of the fact that cool rains and cold winds, which drop temperatures of lakes and stream, have an effect on fish.

Every angler should recognize that as temperatures decline, so does the metabolism of most game fish. Result is a slowing of the reflexes and a diminishing of the appetite.

This doesn't mean that the fish stop feeding. No siree! It's just that they won't react to a lure that's moving too fast. So, slow it down so the fish can catch it easily.

Proper lures for you to use under such circumstances are baits that can be retrieved slowly. These include plastic worms, weighted spinners with a No. 5 blade, surface lures that make a commotion via a hollow head or spinners, and floating-diving lures.

Fish can be anywhere, depending on whether the water level is high or low. So, try them in the boondocks, in deep channels, where streams flow in a lake, off rocky point and in shallow bays or coves.

In cool weather fish begin bunching up, so when you

IRS Warns Against Scare Advertising

North Texas taxpayers were warned today against "guarantees" offered by some commercial returns preparers that make it appear that the preparer will represent the taxpayer in any subsequent audit.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., district director of Internal Revenue for North Texas, said only attorneys, CPAs, and certain others who have demonstrated their qualification can represent a taxpayer before the IRS. Taxpayers should be sure of just what it meant by a "guarantee" offered by a preparer.

Misleading ads in newspapers, radio, and television, said Campbell, convey the erroneous impression that the tax law recently passed by Congress greatly complicates taxpayers' 1969 returns. Actually, the changes made by the new law that apply to 1969, affect only a few taxpayers.

Other advertising, according to Campbell, exaggerates the complexity of the new Form 1040 so as to discourage taxpayers from attempting to make out their own returns.

On the contrary, he explained, the new form was designed to eliminate problems taxpayers had with the old 1040, and to make it easier for low-income taxpayers to claim such things as sick pay exclusion, itemized deductions, and retirement income credits, if they are entitled to them.

Campbell said if a taxpayer elects to employ a commercial preparer to fill out his return, he should select a reputable preparer. Regardless of who fills in the form, the taxpayer is responsible for the accuracy of the return.

April Draft In Texas 940

The April draft call for Texas is 940, and no man will be selected and ordered for induction with a random sequence number higher than 115, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said recently.

This April quota is down from 1,064 in March, which is being filled with men having random sequence numbers no higher than 90.

The state quota for pre-induction physical and mental examination in April is 8,442, up from 8,243 in March. Men sent for these examinations will be limited to those with random sequence numbers 1 through 215.

Deferred or exempt men, such as teachers or students, with random sequence numbers 1 through 215, may be forwarded for these examinations if they are likely to lose their deferred or exempt status during the next six months, Colonel Schwartz said.

No men with random sequence numbers above 215 will be forwarded for examination until further notice. Men born in 1951, who have no random sequence numbers, also will not be called now for this purpose. A drawing probably will be held in July to establish the numbers for the 1951 group.

All volunteers at the draft boards must be inducted ahead of the non-volunteers selected and ordered to report for induction by random sequence number.

The Texas induction quota of 940 for April, is the state's share of a national call for 19,000 men, all for the Army.

Bill Before Congress May Up Earnings

Can a retired person live on $1,680 per year?

Congressman Bill Chappel, Jr. of Florida thinks not, and has a bill before Congress to permit a senior citizen to earn up to $2,400 per year before losing any of his or her Social Security benefits. This is the subject of a poll now being taken among the nation's independent businessmen by the National Federation of Independent Business.

In the past the polls of the Federation have shown that 72 percent of the independent businessmen believe that senior citizens should be permitted unlimited earnings without sacrificing any Social Security benefits.

Now, apparently under the whiplash of the present administration, which believes the $1,680 per year limit too low, the Social Security Administration has changed its viewpoint.

In a letter to Jerome Gulan, legislative director of the National Federation of Independent Business, Robert Ball, Social Security Commissioner, states in part, "the provision in the Social Security law under which benefits are not paid in full to people under age 72 if their earning exceed

$1,680 in a year... generally referred to as the retirement test, should be changed."

He further states, "It is, of course, not right that people who do additional work or take a job at higher pay are disadvantaged."

The Administration's bill differs both from the Chappell bill for raising the limit, and from the independent business viewpoint of no limits. The pertinent details as explained by Ball are as follows:

"Under present law, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings between $1,680 (the annual exempt amount) and $2,880, but above $2,800, $1 in benefits is withheld for each $1 of earnings. Since benefits are tax free, while earnings are taxable, a person may have less net income by increasing his earnings. Under the Administration's bill, $1 in benefits would be withheld for each $2 of earnings above the annual exempt amount regardless of how high the earnings might be; there would be no point at which $1 in benefits would be withheld for each $1 of earnings. The bill would also increase the annual exempt amount of earnings from $1,680 to $1,800, and would provide automatic increase in the annual exempt amount as earnings levels rise."

The new position of the Social Security Administration probably illustrates its response to shifting political

Vets Bound For Hospitals Get Immunity

Veterans 65 or older no longer have to disclose financial details to be admitted to a Veterans Administration hospital.

Previously this information was required from all veterans who did not have a service-connected disability, and were not drawing a pension.

The new rules were sent to VA field stations over the instructions for filling out VA forms. The change modifies instructions for filling out V9 applications for hospital care, by exempting veterans 65 and older from completing questions which deal with financial details.

Veterans in this age group need only to certify that they are unable to pay for needed hospital or domiciliary care, and for transportation for non-service related medical conditions.

Veterans Administration

(Editor's note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.)

Q — I am a member of the Army Reserves, and was required to serve six months on active duty. Does this give me eligibility for schooling under the GI bills?

A — No. Six-month enlistees under the reserve program are not entitled to educational assistance.

Q — Where may I obtain a record of discharge of a man who was in the Navy during the years 1915 to 1918?

A — You might write to the Officer in Charge, Discharged Enlisted Personnel Records Branch, U. S. Naval Records Management Center, 97-00 Page Boulevard, St. Louis, Mo. 63132.

Q — My wife and I have a joint bank account. Do I have to report the total interest received on this account to the Veterans Administration as part of my income on the annual income questionnaire?

A — No. Since it is a joint income, you should report only your half of the interest on the questionnaire. If you are drawing pension under the new pension law, both you and your wife should each report half the interest in the appropriate column provided.

Q — I was a chaplain attached to an Army unit in the South Pacific during World War II. Am I entitled to any veterans benefits?

A — Yes. You should be entitled to the same benefits of any honorably discharged World War II veteran. See or write your VA regional office for specific information on any benefit in which you are interested.

By BILLY REAGOR County Agent

A booklet which summarizes fertilizer research and demonstration work on the Texas High Plains over a 10-year period, is now available from the county agricultural agent's office.

Title of the report is "Fertilizer Research and Demonstration Summary for the Texas High Plains, 1958-1967," according to Billy Reagor, county agricultural agent. It was prepared by James H. Valentine, area soil chemist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and Dr. Arthur B. Onken, assistant professor of soil and fertilizer at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

Information on a large number of more than 200 research tests directly pertaining to fertilizer use and response on the High Plains, is contained in the booklet, points out Reagor. The publication summarized fertility research conducted with cotton, grain sorghum, wheat, alfalfa, and sugar beets. Also, a general description of area soils and their fertility status, fertilizer use history, and a soil test explanation, is included.

Reagor adds that in addition to this research, informa-

MORE THAN FOOD

Wisn Tunisia suffered the worst floods in her history last fall. CARE rushed food to two of the worst hit regions, while a CARE-MEDICO team instituted a typhoid inoculation program for 80,000 persons. Now, the agency is helping to rebuild devastated wells and homes. Such "food plus" aid is supported by contributions to CARE, New York 100-16.

The black-footed ferret, once trained to hunt rabbits and to destroy vermin, is facing extinction in the United States, since its main sources of food, the prairie dog has almost disappeared in the county.

tion, fertilizer demonstrations are also conducted in the county each year with cooperating farmers. This information is published at the beginning of each year in a result demonstration handbook that is also available at the county agent's office.

Reagor points out that as yield potentials increase due to improved management and production practices, fertilizer use can be increased profitably. He urges all farmers and fertilizer dealers in the county to come by his office to pick up a copy of the booklet described above as it contains valuable information that may be helpful in planning a fertility program for this year's crops.

MARTIN COUNTY HOMEMAKER—

Camping, Favorite Hobby Of County Homemaker

LOADING UP — Mrs. D. E. Ory receives help from her granddaughter, Glee Ann Henson, in loading the car with camping supplies for an Easter camping trip.

A love of camping, a talent for tote painting, a flair for fashion, and an interest in antiques, are just a few of the varied interests and talents of one Martin County homemaker, Mrs. D. E. Ory.

An admiring quality of this local homemaker, is that she is proficient at all her interests and abilities.

For example, the former Amelia Griffice, and her husband, traveled to Alaska in 1967, during a six week's vacation, camping out the entire trip.

"We are the rare breed of campers there days," Mrs. Ory explained, "instead of the modern campers, etc., we camp the rough way — tents and sleeping bags."

The Orys traveled through Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, and Canada, on their trip to Fairbanks, Alaska, to visit their daughter, Mrs. Burley Polk, and her family.

"The trip was thoroughly enjoyable, and we loved every mile of it," the attractive homemaker said.

The roughest part of the trip Mrs. Ory said, was the 4,500 mile trip on the unpaved Alaskan highway. "That 4,500 miles took us 12 days to cover, but we enjoyed each day, since Alaska has marvelous camping grounds, and scenery."

Photographing the scenery on the camping trips, is another hobby of Mrs. Ory, and she is often the guest speaker at some of the local clubs, featuring her pictures of her various trips.

The Orys have their camping trips perfected to the last little detail. Before they embarked on their first expansive camping trip, they attended a camping school sponsored by the Midland Y. M. C. A.

"We learn so much from those classes," Mrs. Ory said. "And anyone who is really interested in camping should take advantage of these courses."

When asked about some helpful hints to would-be campers, Mrs. Ory suggested that a person should either rent or borrow the equipment for their first camping venture. "So many people buy tons of expensive camping equipment for their first trip, and only to find that they don't really enjoy camping out at all."

Mrs. Ory recommended that after the "camping fever" does infect a person, the first investments they should make should be a good tent, and the best of sleeping bags. "A good night sleep is so important when you are camping out," Mrs. Ory said, "we use air mattresses and get even more added comfort."

Mrs. Ory does cooking on a Coleman stove, and serves menus just as if she was in her home's kitchen.

"We usually stock up on staples at home, and buy fresh meat on route," she explained.

At the time of this interview, Mrs. Ory was loading up her customized "chuck box" for a Easter trip to Lake L. B. J. with her husband.

The "chuck box" was designed by Mrs. Ory, and her husband, and is similar to the chuck boxes used by cooks on cattle drives. It is a wooden box with drawers for silverware, staples, has a lid that lowers for an instant table, and fits in the back of the Ory pickup.

Traveling is an important hobby of Mrs. Ory, and she is scheduling a trip to Europe next year.

she laughingly said. Mrs. Ory was born in Big Spring, and attended schools in the West Texas town before marrying D. E. Ory in 1935, and moving to Martin County to farm.

She is the mother of four children, Mrs. Roy Simpson of Hereford, Mrs. Jimmy Henson of Stanton, Mrs. Burley Polk of Kansas, and John Ray Ory of Dallas. She is also the proud grandmother of eight grandchildren.

Mrs. Ory is also an active member of the First Baptist Church, and is the superintendent of Primary II of the Sunday School. In addition she is a member of Beta Sigma Phi, and the Stanton Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Ory also manages to work part-time at Swartz's of Big Spring, in conjunction with her regular housekeeping duties.

The Ory home west of Stanton, reflects some of Mrs. Ory's other interests and talents. She has refinished several pieces of antique furniture, and is proud of an old bookcase that has been in her father's family for many years.

She also "antiqued" her kitchen cabinets during the past summer, and proudly displays some of her pieces decorated with tote painting.

One of the grandchildren's favorite recipes is the French dressing that follows:

FRENCH DRESSING
1 can tomato soup
1 cup Wesson oil
1 tbs. Worcestershire sauce
1 tbs. black pepper
1 tbs. mustard
1 tbs. garlic salt
1 tsp. salt
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup vinegar

Pour soup in bowl add other ingredients, and beat until well mixed.
Serve on tossed green salad.

Mrs. Ory recommend the following pound cake, plus coffee for entertaining guests.

LEMON GLAZED NECTAR POUND CAKE
1 package lemon cake mix
1/2 cup sugar
4 eggs
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1 cup apricot nectar

Mix cake mix and sugar blend in eggs, oil, and apricot nectar. Beat 6 minutes at medium speed, pour in greased and floured tube pan. Bake 350° for 50 minutes. When cake has cooled ten minutes, take out of pan, and pour icing over cake while hot.

LEMN GLAZE ICEING
Combine 1/4 cup lemon juice and 1 1/4 cups sifted confectioner sugar, beat until smooth.

April 12-18, is National Library Week. The goal for National Library Week in Texas, "Educate Texans about and gain support for the funding and implementation of the Texas Library Systems Act."

In Texas 27 counties have no library service. 824,370 Texans have no library service. Many more people have only token service. The cost per capita for minimum standards of library service through system in 1969—$6.12 library income per capita in Texas $1.37.

There are fewer books in Texas public libraries than there are in Texas. In 1969 the Texas State Legislature passed the Texas Library Systems Act, which has as its basic purpose, gaining the level of library service in Texas, making adequate library service equally available to every Texan.

"What can you do to promote Better Libraries." Make your support of libraries known in Austin. Contact your representative, and urge him to vote for funding the Texas Library System Act. The six-day second Legislature will be asked in 1971, to provide funds necessary to implement the system act. Our local public library will be affected by this legislation. You will be hearing more about this as the time approaches for the beginning of the 1971 Legislature.

The "Detroit" magazine, published by the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, condensed a portion of the Monthly Economic Letter of the First National City Bank of New York. "... Because the housewife sees inflation at the end of a long chain of transactions and the supermarket or the department store, she tends to blame 'greedy middlemen'. Such estigmatism makes many others the target for inflation blame: commercial banks for high interest rates, unions for high wages, large corporations for the high prices of their products, and state and local governments for high property taxes. ... But most of the blame for inflation is misplaced. For although inflation has a thousand faces, it has but one essential cause: overly expansive and erratic monetary policy that has pushed the quantity of money more swiftly than the quantity of goods and services."

Tax Man Sam Sez:

There are more than 400 Texas cities, including Stanton, with city sales taxes in addition to the State of Texas sales tax. The tax instructions that you received in the mail contained a nice chart giving you the amount you can deduct on your state sales tax—provided, of course, that you do itemize your deductions. They also tell you how to figure your city sales tax, in addition to the state sales tax, if our city had a sales tax. The Dallas District Office of IRS has prepared a handy chart to use in computing your city sales tax. This chart is posted in bank and post offices, as well as the Internal Revenue Services offices. A great many papers also printed the chart for the benefit of their readers. If you need a copy of the handy city sales tax chart, look in the lobby of your post office, or drop by the nearest IRS office and pick up a copy.

Outdoors In Texas

By VERN SANFORD

Can you toss that fishing lure exactly where you want it . . . and let it gently drop on the water . . . every time you make a cast?

Well, if you can, then you're a master caster. But you're one angler in a million, because it isn't easy to do.

How do master casters get that way? Just as in all other sports it's achieved by practice. Then more practice, and more, and more practice.

Give that little rubber casting plug a good workout—day after day, and week after week, and you too can be proficient in the gentle art of casting, or perhaps we should say the art of gentle masting — for that's even more difficult.

Problem, of course, is finding the time to practice. If you're really interested you'll set aside the time, even if it's only 10 or 15 minutes a day.

Consistency is the real secret and determination to master the art is essential. You just gotta take the time, whatever the weather . . . be it hot or cold, dry or wet . . . and stay with it. Don't let rain or sleet or snow deter you.

One of the best master casters in Texas is Bill Carter of Dallas. Bill is a tackle representative for such firms as Zebco (rods and reels), Evans (lures), Newton (lines), and Roadrunner (lures).

How did he learn the art?

Bill tells me that he started flipping a plastic plug down the aisles of the stores he called on when he first began peddling outdoors merchandise. "It gave me something to do while waiting to talk to tackle buyers," said Bill.

Naturally, the narrow confines of a retail store is not recommended as the place to practice casting. But it did one thing for Bill, it taught him to cast carefully — that's for sure.

Actually it made Bill one of the best trick casters in Texas. He can flip the ashes off your cigarette at 10 paces. He can drop a lure in a tin cup at 20 paces.

One of his favorite tricks is his black-light demonstration of casting in the dark. Others in his repertoire include the flip-cast, the bow-and-arrow cast, and the mother-in-law cast. And he does it all so easy and so well that he will amaze you with his accuracy — whether in the home, in the store, or on the water.

So, if you really want to learn to cast, take a tip from Bill who says "It's just a matter of practice."

Flight on the heels of the unlawful strike of mail carriers followed the "sickness" strike of air traffic controllers. Air traffic is big in the urban centers but of little concern in rural America. So those of us touched only lightly in our daily living with air traffic strikers can find the time to think of solutions. Substitutes for every controller's job in the country should be trained at once. They should be drawn from the section of our society who still have some of the crimson of patriotism rolling through their veins. They should be happy, dedicated people. They should be paid while in training and while on a standby basis and be made a full time thing out of the air controlling business when wildcatters either walk out or call in "sick." In other words the wildcatters, and the likes of the advise of those of the headline crashing LEE J. BAILEY type can be replaced, and I suggest some sound plan as the one described here be employed at once. This nation cannot tolerate the stoppage of services needed in the seventies by starting the new decade off on a sour strike sound.

The Rock Festival slated to be held Easter week-end seven miles south of Lubbock, was victimized by the elements and turned out to be a big flop. One might say that mother nature canceled the lease. First, the good people of Dickens, Texas, decreed that the flip-flop-and-rock bunch not invade their peaceful little community. The festival site was swiftly moved after a court order was granted a leaseholder in Dickens County. The second site south of Lubbock was hurriedly selected. The winds, rains, blowing dust, and finally flying snow, drove the bearded ones back to the civilized comforts of Lubbock. The bumper-to-bumper crowd expected to cause traffic problems to the festival scene did not materialize. The reverse happened. The handful of paid ticket holders who had arrived before the element turned loose their fury on the rocksters departed for warmer quarters. One hippie was observed hastening back toward the Hub City with tears from his eyes flowing freely to make tiny icicles on his cheeks. It was certainly no time to plug in and play "We Shall Overcome."

For fifteen years MRS. EDNA DAVIDSON has been a friend of mine and a constant supporter of this newspaper. She is the youngest thinking grandmother in town. Her sense of humor is boundless. MRS. DAVIDSON has been associated with the GLENN BROWN family and their drugstore here for more years than the fifteen I have been a resident of Martin County. When the "Midnight Cowboy" was being partially filmed in this area, I kiddingly told MISS EDNA I wanted to take her to Big Spring to see the finished production. Neither of us ever made the scene where the Cowboy film was being shown. I got sick and MISS EDNA, a good Baptist and sister of a preacher of that denomination, didn't want to be seen entering the front door of any theatre where such shows as "The Midnight Cowboy" might be playing. Saturday morning of the past week I started kidding around again with MISS EDNA about accompanying me to the Rock Festival being held near Lubbock. She surprised me by turning my silly line of jargon back on me by remarking: "You go get a motorcycle and I'll go home and put on a mini skirt, some boots and beads, and we'll head out for the festival grounds." Man alive, did I pipe down and fast.

A copy of The Stanton Reporter published in 1954, shows Sheriff Dan SAUNDERS authorized the printing of a news story concerning vandalism in the city. Sixteen years ago, SHERIFF DAN said: "This wave of vandalism by children has got to the point where it can't be ignored any longer. I'm not threatening anybody, but I want to remind parents who don't keep sufficient tabs on their youngsters that they can be held responsible under Texas law for the acts of the children." Up until recently vandalism has been kept at a low ebb in Martin County, but it has apparently started again, and the same law holding parents responsible for property destroyed, is still on the books, and perhaps the curbing of vandalism better begin at home in 1970.

Officials of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., are cautiously optimistic about the possibility the House Committee on Agriculture will be able to report out a farm bill, complete with new programs for cotton, wheat, and feed grains, before the end of April.

As Congress recessed March 26 for Easter, word from Washington was that the Wheat and Feed Grains Subcommittee, chaired by Congressman Graham Purcell (D-Texas), would complete work on a wheat and feed grains section for the bill soon after returning to work on April 6. It is hoped the subcommittee version of these two programs will not meet serious objections from the Administration, in which case neither should have much difficulty gaining full committee endorsement.

A cotton program is still the big stumbling block. But according to PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "Definite progress has been made in some areas of disagreement, and there are signs that a meeting of minds may be possible on other disputed points."

Work toward resolving the difference between the cotton program ideas espoused by USDA, and those favored by producers and their congressional representatives, is occurring on two fronts.

The Cotton Subcommittee, headed by Congressman Thomas Abernethy (D-Miss), has been working on its fourth "committee print" of a bill, and some believe subcommittee members are near agreement.

Meanwhile USDA officials have been holding conference with Congressman Page Belcher of Oklahoma, ranking Republican on the House Committee, and with Committee Chairman Bob Poage (D-Texas).

It now seems likely that the end result for cotton will be a melding of the two efforts, hopefully into something that can come out of committee with substantial support from committee members, the Administration, and cotton producers. Without support from all three, observers are agreed it could not get through the House.

Two major rifts between the Administration and producer representatives at the moment revolve around minimum producer returns, and the levels as which producers may be required to "set aside" acreage.

As reiterated by Secretary Clifford Hardin before the Senate Agriculture Committee March 23, the Administration seeks greater flexibility in setting price support loan levels on cotton and other commodities as a means to expanding U. S. exports.

Producers, recognizing that the loan level for cotton virtually determines market prices both here and abroad, want income protection written into law. As PCG President Donnell Echols of Lamesa, put it, "Cotton exports are extremely important to our industry and to the nation as a whole, but U. S. cotton producers are in no position to subsidize exports, and we are not interested in producing cotton for export if the production will pay for itself."

On the set-aside issue, Johnson noted that the latest proposal from USDA asks for authority to require that producers set aside and acreage equivalent to 75 percent of base cotton allotments.

And this would be far above the maximum of 20 percent most often mentioned in producers discussions.

"So it is obvious there is a lot of negotiating to be done before a cotton program is written that will have the support needed for passage," Johnson, concluded, "but all factions are beginning to understand each other a little better with each conference, and there is still reason to hope that a bill can come out of committee by the end of April."

As has been pointed out before, time is running short. Congress will want to adjourn as early as possible this year to get home for election campaigns, perhaps as early as mid-September, and almost certainly no later than mid-October.

Senator Allen Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, has said his committee will not begin writing a Senate bill until the House Committee acts. The bills reported by House and Senate Committees will still be faced with time-consuming debates in both Houses. A conference committee will be required to iron out differences in the respective bills, then the conference report will have to go back to House and Senate for approval.

The time shortage was what Congressman Poage had in mind last month when he said he would try to get a bill out of the House Committee by Easter. He didn't make it, despite a sincere effort on his part.

But if he doesn't get a bill out by the last of April or early May, chances for passage during this session of Congress will be greatly reduced.

Gambling At Home

Seated at a kitchen table, the home owner and his next-door neighbor were intent upon their little game of poker. But a passing policeman, glancing through the window, decided they were breaking law and placed them under arrest.

At the trial, the prosecutor told the court:

"What makes their game a crime is the fact that they were playing for money. It so happens that gambling is against the law."

Nevertheless, the court found the men not guilty. The judge said "gambling is not criminal if it takes place within the 'sanctity' of the home. Most anti-gambling laws do make an exception, either expressly or by implication, for the private home. The theory is that, within these limits, and 2) was never used for society should not mix in.

A home owner and his family went away for a vacation, leaving a house guest on the premises. The house guest promptly threw the place open for dice and poker games, with all comers welcome.

In short order he was arrested, tried, and found guilty of violating the local gambling ordinance. The judge said the mere fact that the gambling took place within a private residence did not change the public character of the activities.

What if the gambling takes place on a private premises, but not within the house itself?

Generally, it is a matter of degree. In one case, a farmer and his cronies did their gambling in a storage building, about 250 yards behind the farmhouse. When arrested, they claimed the immunity of a private residence.

However, the court could not see things that way. Finding them guilty as charged, the judge pointed out that the building 1) had no furniture, and 2) was never used for

Agnew Reports He'll Continue As A Spokesman

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says he plans to continue to act as a spokesman against "those who seek to destroy our heritage of liberty and our system of justice."

"The everyday law-abiding American who believes in his country need a strong voice to articulate his dissatisfaction . . . to penetrate the cacophony of seditious drizzle mandating from the best publicized clowns in our society and their fans in the Fourth Estate," Agnew said.

The vice president spoke in Atlanta Saturday to more than 1,000 persons attending a $100-a-plate Republican fund-raising dinner.

"The liberal media have been calling on me to lower my voice to seek accord and unity among all Americans," Agnew said.

"Nothing would please me more than to see all voices lowered, to see us return to discussion and debate within our institutions, to see dissatisfied citizens turn to the elective process to change government, to see an end to the vilification, the obscenity, vandalism and the violence that becomes the standard tactics of those who claim in the interest of peace and freedom," the vice president declared.

"But," he continued, "I want you to know I will not make a unilateral withdrawal and thereby abridge the confidence of the 'Silent Majority.'"

"If the hippies and the yuppies and the disrupters of the disrupters of the systems that Washington and Lincoln as presidents brought forth in this country will shut up and work within our free system of government I will lower my voice," he said.

Two mouths almost are cheaper to feed, says Gwendolyn Clyatt, extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University. That amounts to $495 a member of the average statistical family of 3.6 persons.

MIDDLE OF 16TH CENTURY WAS FIRST REFERENCE TO MANUFACTURE OF TOFFEE AND ESTABLISHMENT OF CANDY STORES BEFORE THIS TOFFEE AND OTHER CANDIES WERE SOLD BY PHARMACISTS AND SPICE STORES.
REAL DEVELOPMENT OF MANUFACTURE OF CHEWY TOFFEE AND OTHER CONFECTIONERY BEGAN IN 19TH CENTURY IN ENGLAND AND FROM THERE, AFTER GREAT EXPOSITION HELD IN LONDON IN 1851, SPREAD INTO FRANCE AND GERMANY.

THE LATTER PART OF THE 19TH CENTURY WAS CHARACTERIZED MOST OF ALL IN THE CANDY WORLD BY THE INTRODUCTION OF THE POPULAR PENNY CANDIES INCLUDING TOFFEE ITEMS.

TOFFEE IS NOW ONE OF THE FAVORITE FORMS OF CANDY AND IS ADVERTISED AND PROMOTED BY MANY FIRMS . . . LIKE THE CURRENT "CHEW UP A SMILE" CAMPAIGN FOR KRAFT TOFFEE.
