JeSS thinkin

by: a. jess atkins

Jess Atkins is off thinking somewhere else this week, on vacation.

He called in some substitutes from The Midland Reporter-Telegram who have been pretending to sell ads and gather news while The Stanton Reporter's own Girl Friday Mrs. Don (Kay) Thigpen actually kept things on the right track.

Bob Deavenport at Deavenport's told Kay he had the impression W. M. Woody has put together more than one newspaper over the years. He's right. Woody took time off from being executive vice president of The Midland Reporter-Telegram to be boss and ad man for The Reporter this week.

And that guy running around town with a camera and a lot of stupid questions has been Wain Miller, a reporter and general flunkie at the Midland paper.

Let the record show that the Midland R-T has nothing to do with the "Texas Football" magazine football forecasts out this week predicting a fifth place finish for the Stanton Buffaloes in 1973 District 7-AA grid warfare.

Some of the writers up at The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal fed the prediction to the magazine.

Over at The R-T, sports-writers were impressed by Stanton last year and are looking for a better finish this year for the Buffs.

In case you missed it, here, however, is how "Texas Football" sees District 7-AA shaping up... and what the magazine had to say about Stanton:

1. Reagan County; 2. Crane; 3. Ozona; 4. Coahoma; 5. Stanton; 6. McCamey. "Fullback Mark Eiland (6-5, 205) is a prominent display at Stanton, but other good performers abound among 5 See SETTLERS Page 6

Wayne Mitchell Starts Duty As SHS Principal

The new principal at Stanton High School is Wayne Mitchell, 38, a former coach at Temple, McGregor and Rankin before serving the past four years as Sanderson High School principal.

Mitchell and his wife, Natha, and their two daughters, Natalie, 12, and Valerie, 8, have just moved to Stanton, residing at 106 E. 2nd St.

Mrs. Mitchell will be a classroom teacher in the Stanton schools. Although his employment did not become official until Aug. 1, Mitchell has been gun "getting acquainted" at high school and says, "We certainly have been impressed by the friendliness and attitude of the people we have met, and we are looking forward to the opening of school."

Mitchell was graduated from Gatesville High School in 1953 and earned both his teacher's and master's degrees from Baylor University. He also had done graduate study at Sul Ross State University at Alpine and at West-

Low Tax Brings No Gripes

The Martin County Commissioners, meeting as a board of equalization, adjourned Monday without having heard a single complaint.

"I guess people are happy this year because of the tax decrease," said Martin County Judge Carrol Yater.

Commissioners have lowered the tax rate from $1.59 to $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation, with assessment ratio remaining at 25 per cent.

Yater said the tax decrease was possible because the county has accumulated enough funds in the interest and sinking fund to pay off its only remaining bonds outstanding, those which paid for 1950s roads improvements.

Inflation Factor
"Now we can look forward to doing some needed improvements in the county," Judge Yater said.

He said commissioners have heard rumors they will be petitioned soon by interested citizens requesting a courthouse bond issue election.

Yater said a new courthouse could be constructed with little effect on the tax rate, if any.

A $450,000 courthouse bond issue proposal two years ago was rejected by a slim margin of the county's voters.

"The architects tell us inflation has increased the price of a building such as was proposed then by approximately 30 per cent," Yater said.

Revenue Sharing
"However, it is my opinion we could look at a smaller building than was proposed two years ago because, now that we have the new county community center it would be relatively inexpensive to locate the county agent's office there and the home demonstration office there, close to much of their work and the kitchen that the women's agents needs."

"Some of these facilities had been proposed for the courthouse building two years ago, but would not be needed there now."

"So apparently we still could come up with a nice See COURTHOUSE, Page 6

Funeral Held For Mrs. Bevers

Mrs. H. M. (Mamie McDurmon) Bevers, 72, died July 17 in Veterans Hospital in Big Spring.

Services were held in First United Methodist Church in Stanton with burial in Evergreen Cemetery, directed by Gilbreath Funeral Home.

She was born Oct. 14, 1900 in Buffalo and moved to Stanton in 1907. She was a veteran of World War II and was a former employe of Bell Telephone Company. She was married to H. M. Bevers of Midland March 16, 1957.

Survivors include her husband; a son, Clifford A. Bevers of Phoenix, Ariz.; two daughters, Mrs. Joyce Pettit of Odessa and Mrs. Juannell Henderson of Midland; two sisters, Mrs. Jackie Cross of San Angelo and Mrs. Ann Johnson of Roswell, N.M.; 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

'We'll Be Ready'

OFFICIALS SAY NEW SCHOOL WILL OPEN ON TIME — BARELY

Stanton School Supt. Russell McMeans said Wednesday the school district will be racing the clock to get moved into the new junior high-elementary school before classes open Aug. 16, "but the contractors promise we can make it."

He said the school board also hopes to be able to announce a new junior high principal before Wednesday.

Jimmy Conner, junior high principal for the past seven years, submitted his resignation last week in order to become junior high principal at Plains.

McMeans said a special school board meeting which had been scheduled Tuesday to act on a replacement for Conner was cancelled when there was no recommendation ready.

Reporting for work as the new principal at Stanton High School is Wayne Mitchell, who has moved here from Sanderson.

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS
Concerning the building program, McMeans said officials for the general contractor, Oasis Builders of Kermit, have pledged to have the building ready to occupy in time for the Aug. 13 teacher orientation and the first day of classes.

"There may be a few details yet to be finished by then, but nothing to hinder the opening of classes," McMeans said.

He said installation of new air conditioning, ceiling and lighting, and addition of two new classrooms, "is complete at Stanton High School."

A new vocational school also is complete, except for interior work to be completed by vocational students themselves, McMeans said.

Demolition Begins
Other improvements for the school system this year include a complete repainting and installation of air conditioning for the vocational agriculture building.

Meanwhile, demolition work has commenced on the 1920s-vintage elementary and junior high buildings.

Wilson Salvage Co. of Lubbock is in charge of razing the structures.

"We hope they will have the site pretty well cleaned up by the time school starts," McMeans said.

Library Closing
The Martin County Library will be closed Monday, July 30, through Aug. 12 for vacations. The announcement was made by Mrs. Velma Zimmerman.

And school officials say it is important that prospective students needing the shots at no charge attend the clinic.

"Due to requirements of the State Health Department and the Texas Education Agency, no student will be allowed to register or attend school this year unless he has the required immunizations," said Stanton school nurse Dorothy Smith.

She emphasized the immunizations may be obtained from any physician, for a small fee, or from the free clinic scheduled Wednesday. Required of all students are diphtheria, tetanus and polio immunizations.

Students age five through 12 also must have had immunizations against rubeola and measles.

Those who have had the measles immunization requirement.

Farmers Face Deadline

Martin County farmers must have cotton, feed grain and wheat acreage certified by Wednesday, Aug. 1, according to Martin County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) office manager George Glynn.

Without the certification by the deadline, there can be no crop program check, he said.

Herb Sorley of the ASCS said approximately three-fourths of the acreage in the county already has been certified, "but there still is a lot to do."

He said the ASCS measuring crews "are booked up solid," so other sources must be used for the measuring.

The certification deadline comes amid bright crop prospects for the county, despite recent hail damage to many crops.

Martin County Agent Billy Reager said the majority of the approximately 100,000 acres of cotton in the county "is in real good shape," except for some dry spots, mainly

Deputy Sheriff Attends School

Martin County Deputy Sheriff Tim Hudson has completed a 40-hour in-service training session with the Permian Basin Law Enforcement Academy in Midland.

The school presented advanced training in identification and investigation of narcotic drugs.

The school was financed by a Criminal Justice Council Training Grant from the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission.

All-Stars All Set...

The Stanton Little League All-Stars will meet the league champion Yankees at 8 p.m. today in the 1973 version of the city's annual all-star game.

DRAFT REGISTRATION STILL REQUIRED

AUSTIN — Col. Melvin N. Gantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, reminds young men that they still must register with Selective Service even though there is no draft.

The President's authority to induct men into the Armed Forces expired on July 1. The Nixon Administration does not plan to seek an extension of this authority, and the Defense Department is relying on volunteer enlistments to supply military manpower.

Gantz emphasized that only the authority to induct expired. All other provisions of the Military Selective Service Act remain in force. The annual lottery will be held, young men will continue to register, and their local boards will continue to classify them as to their availability for possible military service should Congress authorize the resumption of inductions in the event of a national emergency.

The State Director said the law requires all male persons, except certain nonimmigrant aliens, to register with Selective Service within 30 days before or after their 18th birthday.

He said: "Young men have three legal obligations: (1)

(2) they must notify their local draft board when they change address, and (3) they must carry their draft cards with them until their liability for service expires, for most men this is age 26."

The Colonel explained that Selective Service is undergoing a major reorganization and that as Selective Service goes into a standby operation, no inductions are taking place. Many local board offices are being relocated, with the result of fewer draft board offices in Texas.

Gantz said there are places of registration provided in each Texas county for the convenience of young men in registering.

Martin County residents may register with local Board No. 71 registrars Irene Long in the county judge's office or Billie Flanagan in the justice of the peace office, both in the Martin County Courthouse.

Controls Hurt Small Business

Independent business firms of this nation are doing more business on a dollar volume but enjoying it less.

An analysis of the first six months of small and independent business under controls shows that the controls have created substantial erosion and that it has not been possible to pass on increased costs.

This is developed from the 75,720 respondents to the continuous survey of the National Federation of Independent Business from January 1 through June 30.

The data shows 61 per cent so far this year reported higher dollar receipts than the previous year, and another 21 per cent report the same receipts as last year.

But 94 per cent report a higher cost of doing business this year than last, and balanced against this, only 70 per cent report they have been able to raise prices, while another 25 per cent report their prices unchanged from the previous year.

Among those who report increasing prices, only 13 per cent say that their increases fully compensated for their increased costs, and another 47 per cent say the increases partially compensated for increased costs. The balance of 40 per cent apparently found that they were unable to even out their prices with their increased costs.

Tarzan Church Of Christ Guest Devotional

By MAX LEACH
Minister, Tarzan Church of Christ

In that far away land in that long ago time when Christianity was given to the people of the earth as a way of life, life was no simpler to live than it is now, and man's basic nature was the same that it is now. Man, then, as now, was a creature of love and hate, longing and fulfillment, greed and generosity.

His technology was much different than now, however. To plant a seed, the average man would break the soil by hand, and put the seed in the soil by hand. But he knew about the same basic processes that we know about now — that a seed, to grow, had to be planted in soil, that the soil had to have moisture, and that for the plant to grow and bear fruit there had to be sunlight and air and more moisture.

And a man knew then, as he knows now, that the crop he harvested depended on the kind of seed he planted. That if he planted wheat, he got wheat. If he planted barley, he got barley. And if he planted weeds, he got weeds.

This is one of the basic teachings of the Christian Way — that what a person sows, that is what he is going to reap.

We are reaping, individually and collectively, some of the things that we have sown. This is not to say that we won't reap some of them; we just won't reap them now. If the seed is in the soil, the harvest will be coming, later.

Look at our present inflationary situation. For the past generation — and how many more? — the seeds of greed and avarice have been sown. Could it be that some of our present economic plight is a part of this harvest?

See The Reporter
For High Grade

Look at the violence about us, and in our society. But for the past 30 years and more we have seen violence become an international if not a world-wide way of life. If violence is a way of life on an international scale, can we prevent it being part of the harvest of everyday life?

And we shouldn't forget the great tidal wave of sexual immorality that has swept our country. Could this be the harvest of seeds sown in countless individual lives, and of generations?

In the New Testament we read that the followers of Jesus Christ — those that have turned from worldly ways to The Way, those who have been born again and live in Him — devote their lives to planting the right kind of seed and reaping the right kind of harvest. This harvest is a quiet and peaceable life.

A life that others look upon and recognize its goodness, and all the more when that goodness is absent from their own lives. This life is one of deep satisfaction in loving and being of use to others.

This life is undegraded with hope; the end of life, for them, is the beginning — not the meaningless end of a confused existence. This life is minus the passions and dark desires and envies and hatreds that wrack the world, with the consequent despair and dejection and fear of death.

Only in Him, Jesus Christ the Son of God, can man find The Way. He may go to the moon, he may land on Mars — but He will find the Good Life here — and hereafter — only by being one with Jesus Christ his saviour.

ANTIGO, WISC., JOURNAL: "Walking is excellent exercise, as Senator Proxmire affirms but it isn't safe for everyone. In the large cities there are areas where it is positively dangerous, because of the likelihood of being 'mugged.' In some suburbs pedestrians are viewed by residents as potential robbers, casing the neighborhood 'for jobs.' One has to live in the country or in one of the smaller cities to enjoy walking to the fullest."

ATTRACTIVE NUISANCES

THE FAMILY LAWYER

When children come to visit, chances are you feel a sense of responsibility for their safety. But suppose a child comes onto your premises without permission — or, perhaps, when you are not even home. Could you be held legally liable in case he gets hurt?

Indeed you can, under the "attractive nuisance doctrine" now in force in most states. This doctrine says you may be responsible for having something hazardous on your property that a child is not likely to see and avoid.

As the name implies, the hazard must be one which youngsters would ordinarily find attractive.

One case involved a tree house in a family's back yard where neighboring children often came to play. The tree house was wobbly, and one day a youthful climber lost his footing and suffered a bad fall.

Even though the parents were not home at the time of the accident, a court subsequently held them liable. The court said they should have realized, with a hazard so alluring to children, that they were inviting trouble.

Furthermore, the thing must be not only attractive but also a nuisance — that is, faulty in some way.

In another case, a boy was injured when he fell off an old couch in a neighbor's garage. But there was nothing wrong with the couch. It was therefore not an attractive nuisance, a court ruled later, and the householder did not have to pay damage.

Of course, the age of the victim is an important element in the situation. Courts have frequently turned down claims of children over 12, saying they were old enough to have recognized and avoided the particular hazard that brought them to grief.

Nor does the law expect a home owner to spend major sums of money to clear away minor dangers. It is not his duty, as one judge put it, to make his premises "child proof."

MEAT SPECIALS HARD TO FIND

COLLEGE STATION — Meat prices hover at ceiling prices, and "real specials" are hard to find, Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt reported this week.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, listed beef-department best values as chuck cuts, round steaks and ground beef.

"A substitute hamburger is available in some stores," she said.

"This is ground beef with a soy protein added. Its price is substantially lower than regular ground beef; however, this may increase some as the price of soy beans continues to rise. Its protein is about the same as regular ground beef — and fat is lower."

GOOD BUYS

In pork, Mrs. Clyatt recommended Boston butt roasts, quarter-loin sliced and rib-end roasts.

"Fryer chicken and egg prices remain about the same as a week ago with large-size eggs in best supply; while turkeys have increased a bit. "Fryer chickens are still good buys in most markets even though prices have advanced considerably in the past few months.

"For economy and good eating, invite friends over for backyard barbecued chicken.

"Cheese products also are at high levels."

Mrs. Clyatt cited supply-demand factors as one reason for rising prices, noting "this is true not only in this country, but throughout the world — most of these products aren't in large enough supply to keep pace with consumer demand."

DRY BEANS
She suggested dry beans as "a summertime must," served hot to accompany chilled salad plates boasting seasonally available fresh fruits and vegetables.

"Many vegetables are behind schedule due to the wet weather earlier, but quality is generally good," she said.

"Dry onion and potato supplies continue on the light side with relatively high price tags, and carrot supplies are less than usual at this season.

"Fresh fruit and vegetable items in best supply at the most reasonable prices include bananas, oranges, cherries, cantaloupes and watermelons.

"Also peaches, grapes, nectarines, celery, okra, black-eye and purple-hull peas, hard-shell squash, cabbage, corn, radishes, bell peppers, green onions and cucumbers."

Farm Group Leaders' Reaction Varies On Phase IV Controls

BUREAU'S WOODSON: GRATEFUL TO NIXON

WACO—Texas Farm Bureau President J. T. Woodson said farmers and ranchers are grateful that the Administration recognized the "fallacy" of price controls on raw farm products in the new Phase 4 economic controls.

"A free agriculture can and will produce adequate supplies of food for this nation with enough left over for export to help strengthen our economic standing around the world," Woodson said.

The farm leader said it is "regrettable" that beef will remain under the freeze until Sept. 12. This will cause many producers to hold their cattle off the market until that time, he said.

"We believe that wage and price controls are bad for any and all segments of the economy," the head of the 145,000 member farm organization said. "We look forward to the day when this country can return to an unrestricted economy."

Woodson praised the President for aiming for a balanced budget in the current 12 months.

"The most powerful fuel behind our inflation is wasteful, deficit spending by our federal government," the TFB President said. "It may be that in the long run our current fears over the economy will be beneficial if all Americans learn this one fact of life and quit expecting government to spend money it doesn't have."

Woodson said that, barring unforeseen weather factors, the production of food in this country will increase substantially this year.

He quoted the U.S. Department of Agriculture as predicting that corn supplies will be up 6 per cent over last year, soybeans up about 24 percent, grain sorghums up 5 percent and wheat supplies up by some 13 percent.

Area Farmer Presides At Cotton Meet

LUBBOCK—Energy, yields and other key factors in producing and moving the current cotton crop to market will be discussed at a regional meeting here Aug. 2 at the Red Raider Inn, beginning at noon.

Presiding will be Donnell Echols of Lamesa, vice chairman of the Producer Steering Committee for the National Cotton Council.

The meeting is one of six scheduled across the Belt under the theme, "1973 Cotton Alert—Energy And Yields."

Spearheading the effort are the Council and the U.S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with state Extension services and the American Petroleum Institute.

Stantonites Attend Area SCS Meeting

The Mustang Soil and Water Conservation District and the Soil Conservation Service office in Stanton were represented in Lubbock at the seventh annual meeting of the Texas Council of the Soil Conservation Society of America, by Jack Elrod and Gary Deitiker.

The meeting was held recently in Lubbock and was attended by more than 600 members and guests.

The keynote address was delivered by A. B. Linford of Bozeman, Mont., national president of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

The 1974 meeting will be held in Fort Worth, where Texas will make final plans for hosting the national convention at San Antonio in 1975.

UNION'S NAMAN: 'LEFT OUT AGAIN'

SNYDER—"Farmers have been counted out again in the announcement of President Nixon's Phase IV economic program," stated Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco at the charter meeting of the Scurry County Farmers Union in Snyder Monday night.

Naman explained that while the announcement of the program leaves the impression that special consideration is being given farmers, the new price control program is disappointing in that it discriminates against producers of certain commodities.

"While the cattle feeding segment of the farming industry is suffering as a result of the cost-price squeeze, Phase IV specifically avoids any relief to cattle producers.

It also fails to modify the embargo that has been placed on soybeans, cottonseed and related products, which deals harshly with producers of these commodities," Naman said.

The statewide farm leader charged that Treasury Secretary Schultz's statements concerning profits in agriculture are distorted and misleading in view of the fact that farmers are still only receiving 88 percent of a fair price for what they produce.

"Family farmers resent Secretary Schultz's off-hand and ill-founded remarks concerning 'farmers crying all the way to the bank' on nationwide television. Rash comments such as this indicate that Secretary Schultz is completely lacking in understanding the serious economic problems now facing family farmers," Naman said.

The Farmer Union leader stated that Phase IV is a further indication that the Nixon Administration fails to grasp the need to provide the economic incentive to farmers and ranchers to produce in abundance.

"It means that this Administration is insistent on a cheap food policy making family farmers and ranchers the scapegoats in its quest to solve the problem of inflation," according to Naman.

"Phase IV should have opened up exports on soybeans and cottonseed products to avoid the loss of foreign markets. Texas agriculture has a great stake in preserving export markets for these commodities.

"Also, the announcement of licensing requirements on made under pressure of domestic users of these products who are anxious to drive the prices down at harvest time" Naman said.

The county judge noted that commissioners have earmarked federal revenue sharing funds for permanent improvements.

Uses Studied
 "If revenue sharing continues as projected, the county can expect to receive approximately $350,000 from the federal government over the scheduled period," he said.

"This, obviously, would go a long way toward a new courthouse, if this is what the people want."

"But of course there are other needs which also must be considered, so we can't say at this point exactly what might be done."

He said commissioners also are looking into possible uses for the present courthouse structure — viewed by many as an historical landmark worth preserving.

Preferred 'New'
 The structure was commenced in 1906 and occupied in 1908. It has been remodeled somewhat inside and added to and changed outside, but otherwise still bears much resemblance to the early-day architecture.

In the election two years ago, voters were asked whether they preferred remodeling the present building or constructing a new facility.

The latter option won, hands down, but citizens did not approve the bonds to build it.

"Even though most people want a new courthouse, many do not want to destroy this one, for sentiment's sake," Yater said.

Optimism Spreads

"We have discussed the possibility of asking The University of Texas of the Permian Basin if they could use it for part of their regional antiquities depository, and possibly even for some extension classes," Yater said.

He said he believed county residents are in a more optimistic mood about the community now than they were two years ago.

"We're getting several new businesses along ... there are new houses going up ... and apartments."

"The town really is on the upswing," he said.

"The commissioners and I have heard several people say they would like to have the opportunity to vote on the courthouse project again," Yater said.

Stanton Teacher To Participate In State Meet

offensive and 9 defensive holdovers from a 5-5 club.

"Quarterback Bill Howard, halfback Mitchell Irvin, guard Ronnie Dickenson and tackle Steve Cook and H. A. Schuelke grade out solidly."

"The old reliable list also includes linemen David Stander, Dennis Iretton, Ray Conner, Roger Guterrez and Joe Hernandez, plus backs Vernon Brown, Gordon Eiland and Ray Conner.

"Well, at least they didn't pick us last again like they usually do," someone was heard to mutter at Stanton Walgreen Drug, where the magazine is on sale.

Former Stantonite Peggy Creech of Texico, N.M., wrote to file a complaint over lack of mention of prize-winners in The Reporter's account last week concerning the Martin County Old Settlers' Reunion.

Reunion secretary Mrs. Morgan Hall provided us with these results:

Youngest: Chris Herzog, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Herzog.

Oldest person present with perfect attendance at the reunions: G. B. Shelburne.

Here from the greatest distance: Mrs. Pat Gillilan of New York City.

Married shortest time: Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Louder.

Married in Martin County longest ago: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kelly ... 57 years.

Best woman's costume: Mrs. Beatrice Straub.

Best man's costume: Geroge Glynn.

Best girls' costume: Mrs. Bob Cox.

Best boy's costume: Cris Stone.

Floats: 1. Rho Xi; 2. Martin County 4-H Club.

Mounted units: 1. Martin County Historical Society; 2. Preceptor Mu; 3. J. C. Matt.

And ... Mrs. Owen Kelly guessed the mystery rider.

By the way, Mrs. Hall said that Jerry Hall of Austin, who gave the response to the welcome for the reunion program, "still thinks of Stanton as home."

Jerry Hall attended his first Martin County Old Settlers Reunion when he was just four years old.

He went on to a highly successful journalism and public relations career in Lubbock.

Washington and, presently Austin.

And if you were watching the CBS-TV Early Morning News last Monday, you saw another young man who knows a lot about Stanton, although you may not have recognized him.

H. Hilton Kaderli Jr. was the newsmen interviewing a scientist in Maryland concerning effects and results of air pollution.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hilton Kaderli of Midland, who have business interests in Stanton, including Martin County Abstract Co. And he is the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Kaderli, longtime Stanton residents.

Kaderli Sr., by the way, is nearing completion of a thorough remodeling of his offices here.

Kaderli Jr. attended school in Midland, then The University of Texas and The University of Oklahoma, where he ended up with a journalism degree after starting out to be a lawyer and changing his mind.

A lot of people start out to be something else but end up being reporters because it's one of the few jobs you don't have to be smart to do — you just have to be nosey.

Kaderli is not the run-of-the-mill reporter, though.

He held several key Oklahoma television reporting jobs before joining the CBS affiliate station in Washington.

In addition to being the station's ecology department chief, he airs the weather report three times daily and handles numerous other assignments in and around the nation's capital.

ly in the northwestern quarter of the county.

He said the half-inch to four-inch rains in the county last week were perfectly timed for most cotton and that moisture where the heavier rains fell is sufficient to carry the crop well toward maturity.

Reagor estimated approximately 5,000 acres of the crop in the county received a 1/2 damage early in July, but that farmers elected to keep much of the damaged crop.

"We estimate a couple of thousand acres were replanted in maize, soybeans and peas," he said.

"Overall, I'd say the crop picture in Martin County is very good," he summed up.

Crop outlooks also are good in adjoining counties, according to Jack Elrod of the Mustang Soil and Water Conservation District.

Perk up listless appetites—furnish plenty of fruits in family meals. Fresh pineapple usually makes a hit—and a two-pound fruit yields about six servings, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Area Government Leaders Accept Stanton Invite

The membership of the Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission has voted to stage its 1974 annual meeting in Stanton.

Martin County Judge Carroll Yater invited the PBRPC members during the group's semi-annual session last week in Monahan.

More than 75 area city, county and other local government officials will attend the Jan. 16, 1974, meeting in the new Martin County Community Center.

He has been active in Lions Club and the Baptist church.

Mrs. Mitchell, whose activities include oil painting, quipped that she hopes Stantonites will not hold it against her that she attended public schools and was graduated from high school at Coahoma.

She received her bachelor's degree from Mary Hardin-Baylor College and has done graduate work at Sul Ross and Colorado Western State.

Mitchell served three years as football coach at Temple, three years at McGregor and five years as head coach at Rankin before becoming principal at Sanderson.

Mrs. Mitchell was home-making teacher at Belton junior high for one year, McGregor High for three years, Rankin High for three years and Sanderson High for four years.

Natalie Mitchell, who will be in the seventh grade, played flute in the band and was head twirler at Sanderson Junior High last year.

Valerie Mitchell will be in the third grade when classes commence Aug. 16.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Glenn H. Lawson
 8619 North Loop
 El Paso, Tex. 79907

"Letters to Editor" must be signed to receive consideration for publication."

Dear Sir:

I do not believe it is my place to write this letter but it is my belief that there is one person in Stanton who has been overlooked long enough. This man is Mr. N. O. Parker.

I am a Stanton High School graduate and was taught by Mr. Parker. He has helped more students than anyone I know. Everyone should look at the banners, honors, and trophies this man has helped Stanton students to win. These aren't the major accomplishments. He has helped more students stay in school and more important than that he has and continues to help students believe in themselves. No matter how much one learns in school, if upon graduation he has not learned to believe in himself, he hasn't accomplished much.

I am a Vocational Agriculture teacher now and understand how good facilities can help. Go by and look at his facilities and then see what you can do. If nothing else just go by and shake the hand of this great man. He prepares youth for the future.

Sincerely yours,
 Glenn H. Lawson.

Tips for using electricity efficiently:

Think twice before you open this door.

The habit of opening refrigerator and freezer doors only when it's really necessary is a saving habit. The cold air that rushes out each time has to be replaced, which causes the unit to run more and use more electricity. Make a mental list of the items you need before you open the door, then take out as many of them as you can at one time.

Here are other suggestions for using minimum amounts of electricity to get maximum benefits from your refrigeration equipment.

If your refrigerator has to be defrosted manually, do it before the ice deposit gets one-fourth of an inch thick. Ice (frost) acts as unwanted insulation and causes your refrigerator to work overtime.

Let hot foods cool to room temperature before you place them in your refrigerator or freezer.

Use a refrigerator thermometer to help you attain temperature settings of 35 to 40 degrees for your refrigerator and zero temperature for your freezer. Settings below these temperatures could be a waste of electricity and cause unnecessary wear on the appliances.

And turn the dial to a warmer setting in the refrigerator section (according to manufacturer's recommendation) when you're going to be away for a week or longer.

It's our job at Texas Electric to help you get the most value from your electric service. Call us when you have questions about any use of electricity in your home. Or ask for our free booklet, "Tips to help you use electricity more efficiently throughout your home."
