

Support Is Needed By The Goodfellows

Christmas is closing in on Haskell from every direction. Everywhere children look, there are reminders of this Glorious Season.

There are adults, too, whose hearts are sure to be heavy laden for whom sickness, or adversity, or a combination of both, portend a sparse Christmas. They worry not so much about themselves, but about others dependent upon them.

Among the children who will be watchfully waiting, hopes will ride high, as does the Christmas music on the air waves, that they may be a part of it all.

And so many will not be disappointed, thanks to Santa's helpers, the Goodfellows, contributors to the Lions Club Goodfellows Fund. Yet, contributions have been very slow in arriving so far this season, and it's later than we think.

Royce Adkins, chairman of Goodfellows, has issued an urgent appeal for contributions to

"LET US BEGIN" AND "LET US CONTINUE"—The words of this nation's 35th President, the assassinated President John F. Kennedy, and his successor, the 36th President, Lyndon B. Johnson, are emblazoned on the float of the Rotary Club of Haskell in the Christmas parade here. The cross and eternal flame symbolize the site of the grave of President Kennedy in Arlington National Cemetery. Shown on the float are, from left, E. J. Stewart, past president of Haskell Rotary; Roy Johnson, the president now; and Desmond Dulaney, secretary of the civic club, all of whom were key workers in the assembly of Rotary's float entry.

Bulletins

Purchases of TB Christmas Seals the first 11 days of the current campaign totalled $387.50, which was $32.50 less than the same period last year, Miss Nettie McCollum, secretary, and Mrs. W. P. Trice, treasurer, have reported.

Dr. T. W. Williams, president of the Haskell County Tuberculosis Association, has expressed gratitude for all who have contributed, and urges continued early support of this worthwhile traditional Christmas-time project. "Buy... and use... Christmas Seals" is the keynote of the appeal.

Haskell's Garden Club, with Mrs. W. B. Guess as chairman of the project, will sponsor an appealing bazaar Saturday in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank. Doors open at 10 a. m., according to Mrs. Gene Overton, president. "Browsers" searching for unique Christmas gifts, and "grazers" looking for palate-pleasing goodies will have a field day at the Garden Club Bazaar Saturday, its sponsors report. Don't you dare miss it!

Oral Polio Vaccine To Be Distributed Here Sunday

Arrival Expected Of New Fire Engine For HFD

W. B. McMillin, Here 40 Years, Succumbs At 80

Three-in-one doses of oral polio vaccine will be administered at five stations in Haskell County, starting at 1 p. m. on Sunday, Dec. 6. Dr. T. W. Williams, county health physician, has announced.

The three-types-in-one dosage will be distributed by Haskell Jaycees manning the five stations under the supervision of Dr. Williams, and Mrs. W. P. Trice, county health nurse. President Jesse Priest, of the Haskell Jaycees, has designated Wayne Bradford as general chairman of the project.

Some 5,000 Haskell Countians are expected to avail themselves of the opportunity for the polio vaccine, being administered in this area for the first time in almost two years. At that time, January, 1963, about 6,000 oral doses were given, Dr. Williams said.

The Haskell County health doctor said that children and youths from age six weeks through 18 years especially should get the vaccine Dec. 6, and a concerted effort will be made to see that the more than 2,000 school age children and youth of Haskell County receive it. Citizens of all ages will benefit from the trivalent vaccine, physicians have declared.

For those who have previously received the oral dosage, the December 6th distribution will serve as a booster. Dr. Williams explained. "Those taking it for the first time on Dec. 6th will have the opportunity for a second go-round in two months, the specific date to be announced later," said the physician.

Because it is a three-in-one "package," those receiving it will be advised that 50 cents per dose would be an equitable contribution to make for the vaccine, instead of 25 cents as formerly. It was emphasized that payment is not a "must," and no one will be denied the vaccine for lack of payment, but contributions will be accepted to help defray the expense being borne by the Jaycees for vaccine procurement and for those recipients not able to pay.

Roy Herricks, pastor of the Haskell Four-square Gospel Church, officiating. Burial was in Weinert Cemetery under direction of Holden Funeral Home.

Mr. Miller, a native of Kansas, was born February 9, 1882. He came to Haskell County in 1935 and settled near Weinert, where he was engaged in farming. He moved to the town of Weinert in 1950. His wife, the former Elizabeth Prentice, died in February, 1955.

Once-In-A-Lifetime Opportunity

An informative seminar on National Security, reporting this nation's strengths and weaknesses, threats to the Free World, and problems of survival will be held beginning next Monday and continuing for 12 days through December 18 at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

We cannot sit idly by, knowing of the proximity and availability of such a worthwhile program, without wholeheartedly endorsing it and unreservedly commending it to the attention of every last reader of this newspaper.

It was the cherished experience of your editor to participate as an Air Force reserve officer, in a National Security Seminar in Amarillo two years ago at this same time. Never has an experience been so rewarding. We not only suggest, but urge and implore all citizens of the Haskell area, who can, to allow themselves this golden opportunity for enlightenment on subjects of vital importance to all of us.

The only one scheduled in Texas this year, this 12-day lecture-ship is given by eminently-qualified officers of the United States' military establishment. Open to everyone, there are some 600 persons who already have registered, with spaces left for possibly 800 more participants.

No secret, or classified, information is divulged, but studies cover a broad field. Countries and continents discussed will include Captive Europe, Russia, Africa, the Far East, and Free Europe.

The course is a 12-day condensation of the 10-month school given in Washington, D. C., for selected officers by the Industrial War College of the Armed Forces.

Lecturers are drawn from the broad first-hand observations of the Air Force, Army, Navy and Marine Corps. Facts disclosed during earlier such forums this year include:

Sixty-two cents of each budget dollar go to finance national security. In hard cash, that's $51 billion for the military and $10.2 billion for military assistance, NASA, Atomic Energy Commission international program, and space. We should be, and are at the National Seminar, appraised of the "why" of such expenditures.

A defensive weakness of the U. S. lies in its population concentration—four out of every five persons live in the cities.

Also, seventy-one percent of our defense production is sited within 50 cities.

Registration costs are a negligible $10 for business and professional people, $5 for women, ministers, and educators, and $1 for students. The sessions will be held in the HLSU chapel-auditorium. Registration checks should be mailed to the National Security Seminar, in care of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, 341 Hickory. The seminar office phone number is ORchard 3-8363. Armed Forces members on active duty will be admitted if they attend in uniform. Reservists in uniform may earn points toward retirement.

Purpose of this seminar is to inform America's citizens and better educate her military reservists.

It does both. We know. And we're here to tell you, it is worth YOUR effort to be a participant in the National Security Seminar so immediately geographically available to you. It's a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity in our books. Don't let it get by you.

Arithmetic ... Good and Bad

Texas United Fund's Campaign Reporter, which we receive weekly during the statewide efforts in behalf of this tremendously important and vital effort on behalf of towns large and small in our state, has plenty of arithmetic in it, both glowingly good, and also... mighty bad.

Reflecting the good arithmetic beside their names are already 100 per cent-plus goal attainment cities like Amarillo, Waco, Fort Worth and Dallas. In the same category are towns the size of Haskell, like Nocona and Ballinger.

In the 100 per cent bracket are 33 towns and cities, while 34 have reached more than 90 per cent of their goals. Another 28 are 80 percenters or better at this writing. Twenty-five more have passed 70 per cent toward their aim, and still going strong.

Where is Haskell? Haskell, with 68.6 per cent of its 1960 goal, one which certainly is "in line," achieved, is 131st in a list of 170 cities and towns in Texas reporting United Fund campaigns and quotas.

And we KNOW Haskell has just as good, if not better, and just as, if not more, responsible citizenship than the 40 or so towns of similar size that appear on the list 'way out in front of us on meeting their United Fund's humanitarian challenge to unselfish, genuinely charitable community action.

The Glorious Season of concern for the welfare of others is upon us. Let's mark it here in Haskell by regrouping our forces and finishing this 1964 United Fund effort as a winner!

While we're thinking on these things, let us not forget these signs about YOUR United Fund:

- + adds hope to the lives of the forgotten, the handicapped, the aged and the ailing.
 - subtracts crime and delinquency by providing wholesome recreation for more of our young people.
 - X multiplies over and over again the good it does in the form of health and welfare relief.
 - + divides the pledge you make among the greatest number of services and agencies to help the most people.
- And this all EQUALS good arithmetic, we think you'll agree.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

We feel that some type of break-through to our readers may be claimed by this column after last week's effort anent Janie's birthday. In the first place, we found we have more readers than just a few, and their taking the time to make their thoughtful comments gave this old "retread" a glowy feeling... all over... and that's covering a lot of territory! Thank you from the bottom of a grateful heart.

Since the bouquets can be more graciously fielded than brickbats, and they sure do smell a sight better, we hope we can "score" again soon, and often.

The response to our column of last week about a Dad's-eye view of the important milestone in the life of his Daughter just "proves out" something we've contended for a long time:

Folks, by and large, LIKE TO READ on a subject about which they've had some first-hand experience themselves. They like to see in print a justification of, or support of, a feeling they've had all along, themselves. They like to be able to read about something, lay down the publication, throw their eye-glasses up on their forehead, or down on their protruding proboscides, and say, "Uh huh, I BEEN RIGHT there." Either in body, or in mind.

Guess it's what you'd call salvaging the innate ego of a person.

It's an ingredient that should not be minimized—this matter of communication, using the heart-strings as the telegrapher between writer and reader.

Speaking of heart-strings, a certain leather-skinned Man of the Soil whom we are proud to call brother-in-law, along with three others of similar sterling quality, offered a pre-Thanksgiving dinner prayer at a festive gathering of the Skaggs clan in Kermit that made us tingle from head to toe. What he said in a few well-chosen words made us CHERISH our status as an American! Need we say more?

After a prayer like that, if out of somewhere had come the words of "Bless This House," Perry Como style, we believe we'd have been obliged to page "Mr. LePage's" to glue us back together!

Only the voracious attack we made on the mountain of savory vittles prepared by our winsome, blackeyed, sallow-skinned hostess, Joyce Skaggs, is all that saved us from drowning in a sea of nostalgic tears. It was THAT kind of family get-together... soothing to the very soul. We hope you experienced this same for your Thanksgiving.

Haskell and Haskellites will have a golden opportunity come Saturday to roll out the red carpet for a host of Hirschi Huskie fans going to, and coming from Abilene, the site of the AAA playoff game between the Wichita Falls school and Sweetwater. It is set for 2:30 p. m. in Public Schools Stadium. Wichitans will be pouring through Haskell "by the numbers" long about lunch and suppertime, both. A coffee-break rest stop on the northwest corner of the Square by the Jaycees, Chamber of Commerce, or Booster Club would be in order, seems to us. A little extra effort like that might just directly help the economy here, too, you

30 YEARS AGO (December 6, 1934)

Every player on the Haskell Indian football squad will be banqueted Tuesday night at the Tonkawa Coffee Shop in recognition of an outstanding record this season. The committee arranging for the banquet is composed of T. J. Ar buckle, H. S. Leon and Dennis P. Ratliff.

Mr. and Mrs. Lanham Williams and son of Mertzon spent Thanksgiving here with her mother, Mrs. Edith English, and with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Williams, of Rule.

Hon. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor University, will speak in this city December 14 at the First Methodist Church. His visit here and address is being sponsored by the Magazine Club.

R. A. Crowell, who has been in the jewelry business here for several years, has moved to Big Spring, where he will open a jewelry store.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilson, of Breckenridge, spent Thanksgiving here with their parents, Mrs. H. S. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Y. Robertson. Jesse Collier returned this week from Baton Rouge, La., know. The followers of Coach Jess Stiles, a former Haskellite himself, and his boys would appreciate our hospitality, we'd wager, and might cross the thresholds of our stores and eating establishments during their stopover. How about it?

The man, whose two raised forefingers of one hand indicating Victory, and two on the other cradled a cigar to create a symbol of Winston Churchill to the world, was 90 years old Monday. To us, he is the living exemplification of indomitable courage, of indestructibility, of "There'll Always Be An England." He already has left his mark on this world. Long may he wave!

The pastime of "spelunking," exploring of caves, has picked up tremendous momentum down in Central Texas in the hill country, LBJ country, of recent vintage.

Spelunkers' idea of the 'most' is to go into a heretofore unexplored cavern, and perambulate the hidden recesses as pioneers. One such hole in the side of a particularly rugged hunk of terrain was entered recently by three excited teenagers who were sure they had recorded a "first."

That is until a sweep of their powerful flashlight picked up the words emblazoned on the cavern wall, "In Your Heart, You Know..." And YOU know, too, how the rest goes.

Quail season opened Tuesday, thus easing tensions that have been rapidly building for weeks among some of the more avid bird watchers hereabouts. We're happy for them, and hope they remember us if they bag their limit. Hint, Hint, Hint.

It was amusing to some, and a cardinal sin to others, what happened in the Possum Kingdom area last week. Word got out that quail season was on, and some hunters lost no time getting on the firing line.

Guess that's what you'd call jumping the gun, literally.

Oakescript: The days are upon us when preparation of goodies for this Glorious Season will be at their zenith. If you can remember when Mother or Auntie stuck a broomstraw in the cake to see if it was 'done,' in the words of our respected FI columnist Friend Wes Izzard, you don't have to worry about the draft.

Mrs. Claude Warren spent several days this week visiting her daughters, Miss Louise Warren, and Mrs. Glen Boley, and family, in Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holt, and daughter, Jane, spent several days in Raton Rouge, La., attending the Red and White store owners' national convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt had as weekend guests in their home, Mrs. C. M. Hunt and daughter, Mrs. Orlene Nelson, and her daughter, and Mrs. Hollis Fields and daughter, Martha, of Dallas.

Miss Ruth Robertson, of Denton, spent Thanksgiving here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Robertson.

County Tax Collector Ed Fouts announced he has been advised the 1935 car license tags cannot be sold until March 1, 1935. They cannot be placed on automobiles until April 1, 1935.

40 YEARS AGO (December 5, 1924)

H. M. Smith, F. A. West, O. A. Adkins, and Paul Zahn returned Thursday from a deer hunting trip to South Texas. Two deer were killed by Smith and Zahn, and a general good time was had by the entire party.

F. E. Thomas, of Breckenridge, has purchased the City Studio from J. W. Farmer, and took charge of the business on Monday morning.

H. M. McNeese, of Dallas, has purchased the Texas Theatre from Ed Robertson. McNeese announced that he has purchased a new $3100 pipe organ which will be installed in the theatre within the next two weeks.

Contracts have been let by West Texas Utilities Company for which they will spend approximately $75,000 in Haskell. The plans call for a new ice and light plant of brick construction, which will be erected on their present property. The old building is being torn down this week to make room for the new structure. In addition to the new plant, an extension of 40 feet will be made on their present office building on the south side of the square. This will provide much needed space for enlarging their display sections and offices, and also give additional storeroom.

The Haskell Indians football

Public Weigher Frank McCurley reports a total of 13,807 bales of cotton weighed in the local yard up to noon Thursday.

Wallace Cox, of Jones Cox and Company in this city reports picking up several foreign countries on his radio Friday. He heard programs from Austria, Ireland and Mexico, that he could identify along with some others the origin of which he was not certain. He did not have an outside aerial on his set, but said the foreign stations came in clearly.

60 YEARS AGO (December 4, 1904)

J. A. Wier, of the Cliff neighborhood, has returned from a prospecting trip to Mexico. He says he will stay in the Lone Star State.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Cobb Will Be Honored On Golden Anniversary Date

Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Cobb, a southeastern Haskell County couple, who loved their original home so much they stayed right there and rebuilt the house twice in the 50 years lacking four months they lived in it, will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday, Dec. 13.

Honoring them on this occasion will be their two children, Mrs. J. D. (Evelyn) Gillispie, of Pecos, and S. G. Cobb, Jr., of Hobbs, N. M., who will be hostess and host at an open house from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 13, at their parents' new residence, 1501 North Avenue E, here. The Cobbs moved into Haskell only last August after spending 49 years and eight months in their original "honeymoon home."

Further tangible proof of the "quatter sovereignty" exercised by the "groom" is the fact that he lived until August also almost within sight of his birthplace on the Cobb Ranch March 21, 1891, more than 73 years ago. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cobb who settled in Haskell County in 1888, less than three years after the town of Haskell was surveyed and organized.

"Uncle Sam" Cobb still actively ranches his property in the southeast corner of Haskell County. He and Esta Joiner, who came here with her parents from Greenville in 1907, were married at 8 p. m. on December 13, 1914. They recall the wedding hour was set for 5:30 p. m., but they waited for the arrival of a train on which was riding Charlie Conner, an active civic leader and business man here today, who "stood up" with Uncle Sam, as did Vera Fitzgerald, now Mrs. Frank Terrell, of Fort Worth.

The bride was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Joiner. Her father, operator of a grocery in Greenville, came to Haskell to put in a meat market, which he operated many years. The Cobbs lost their eldest child, a daughter, when she was five years old. In addition to the two living children, they have 3 grandchildren.

Dr. Nobles Speaker At Thanksgiving Program of Progressive Study Club

Dr. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Haskell, was the featured speaker at a recent meeting of the Progressive Study Club here on the topic, "The Spiritual Value of Being Thankful."

Following a sketch on the first Thanksgiving, presented by Mrs. W. O. Holden, program director, Dr. Nobles cited some of his experiences in Mexico and overseas and his first hand observations of people in destitute circumstances. He reminded that millions of human beings would gladly change places with any of us, and that if Americans, even for a brief period, were forced to live under the conditions those people took for granted, "we would truly be thankful for all our blessings."

Mrs. Leon Jones, Mrs. Frank W. Martin, and Mrs. Roy Everett added a final touch to a moving Thanksgiving program with a vocal selection, "Bless This House."

Mrs. Harry Koehler opened the meeting with a prayer of Thanksgiving. In a business session directed by Mrs. Abe Turner, Jr., president, the club voted to contribute to the support of the Abilene State School, the Haskell County Tuberculosis Association and the CARE program.

The hostesses, Mrs. Gerald McCoy and Mrs. R. A. Lane, served refreshments from a beautifully appointed "Harvest Time" table.

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

That Sunday School lesson was a hard one, wasn't it? I guess God's Grace is one of the hardest things we have to comprehend. Our theological reference book reads "Grace is unmerited love." Maybe we are too egotistical to admit even to ourselves that we really aren't worthy of God's love.

I wish all of Paint Creek could have heard Carlos Montgomery sing "Amazing Grace" at the Methodist worship service Sunday morning. He has a wonderful voice and he and Pat give of their talents in the choir of the Methodist Church in Midland.

Willie Lee Medford and Jeanine and Janice Isbell were in Dallas Friday and Saturday visiting with Danny and the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell.

Entire Family Of 6 Hospitalized Briefly Here

County and state law enforcement officers here this week were looking for the operator of a vehicle who drove directly into the path of an oncoming car on U. S. Highway 277 one mile north of town early Sunday morning, causing a crash which hospitalized six members of an Abilene family.

Rev. and Mrs. Irvy Townsend, of Abilene, and their four children ranging in ages from 20 months to 15 years, were taken in a Holden ambulance to Haskell County Hospital at 4:00 a. m. Sunday for injuries received when their 1962 automobile ploughed into an embankment after leaving the road to avoid a collision with another car, according to Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett and State Highway Patrolman Tommy Wood, who investigated. The unidentified operator of the second car drove onto the highway from a side road and then left the scene, the officers said.

Four members of the family required stitches to close facial cuts resulting from the crash. Mrs. Townsend was the most seriously hurt, her head having gone through the windshield, hospital authorities reported. All had been released from the hospital by late Sunday.

Sheriff Garrett and State Patrolman Wood were looking for the driver of a car "who almost got a whole family killed," the Sheriff said.

The Townsend family was returning to Abilene from a trip to Missouri at the time of the accident.

spur, poppies and gillardia, may have grown too tall, due to a wet fall, and get nipped back by a killing frost. Usually when this is the case, only the tender top is killed. The plants will often grow back below the place where the frost nipped them. Sometime there are more flowers next spring if plants are partly killed back. It is as though one pinched out the top of the plant, to encourage branching.

If you wish to move your Amaryllis bed, just after the foliage is killed is a good time to dig the bulbs. Let them stay in a dry warm place until February or early March. Then re-plant where you wish the bulbs to blossom.

Mr. Lee Crawford, of Haskell, who is bedfast most of the time, and paralyzed almost from the neck down, does his gardening the hard way. Mrs. Crawford lifts him into a wheel chair, (with the aid of a mechanical lift), pushes him down a ramp into the yard. From this point on, Mr. Crawford is king of his domain. He directs his wife and children in planting both a vegetable garden, and a small flower plot. Mrs. Crawford says with pride, "Lee really knows his gardening well." Mr. Crawford calls his flower garden the "bright spot," because he can lie in bed and enjoy looking at the flowers.

One day this fall, I took Mr. Crawford a bouquet of chrysanthemums. He had just recovered from a severe case of the flu. Instead of bemoaning his fate, he managed a weak smile and said, "I'm so glad you brought the flowers while I am alive to enjoy them." Mr. and Mrs. Crawford have four children, two girls and two boys. Although Mr. Crawford requires 24 hour care, Mrs. Crawford never complains of her lot. She says, "Lee is such a help in rearing the children." We could take a lesson in courage from this family.

Prattle

By AL HINDS

"Beeg Pome" with apologies to Glenn Shelton and Porter Oakes:

With the frost upon the punkin' And the golden grain in shock, My summer clothes are worn out, And my winter one's in hock.

I saw this sign down at Woodson Radio & Electric: "Selling is like shaving. If you don't do it every day, you're a bum!"

With the exception of bowl games, the football season came to a screeching halt last weekend with Baylor toppling Rice, and TCU downing SMU.

For Pratter's overall record in pre-game predictions involving the Haskell Indians and teams in the Southwest conference, I hit 45 and missed 22, thus giving me a batting average of .675 percentage for the season.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders completed one of the school's most successful seasons although losing to University of Arkansas 17-0 in their final game of the year.

As the Raiders compiled a 6-3-1 mark, two of the three losses were to members of the nation's top ten, Arkansas and Texas. Furthermore, the Raiders were popular with the fans, as evidenced by three attendance records being set ... all season, home-season and one game.

Also back Donny Anderson became the school's third grinder to make a major all-America first team.

All-season attendance record is now 314,500. For six home games the Raiders drew 228,100. Two of these crowds surpassed the former Jones Stadium record of 42,000 (for Texas and 45,000 for Arkansas).

Texas Tech's season record: Won over Mississippi State 21-7, Texas A&M 16-12, Texas Christian 25-10, Southern Methodist 12-0, West Texas State 48-0, and Washington State 28-10; played 6-6 tie with Rice, and lost to Texas 38-0, Baylor 20-10, and Arkansas 17-0.

The Sun Bowl game in El Paso December 26 which will pit the Texas Tech Red Raiders against the University of Georgia should be a dilly. Georgia gained wins over Vanderbilt, Clemson, Kentucky, North Carolina, Florida and Georgia Tech and tied South Carolina this season, so it appears the "Big Reds" will have their work cut out for them.

"How Dry I Am" - it's a great tune, but the harmony is reminiscent of the early 1900's. This is often the downfall of many singing groups, and also of many communities, towns and cities water problems.

A few days or weeks of practice will remedy the ills of a singing group, but an outdated approach may result in years of delay for improved water facilities. These mistakes can't possibly be overcome in a short time. It takes public support to expand inadequate water facilities, or to build new ones where needed.

Public apathy, inadequate planning, and antiquated water facilities is becoming more and more prevalent in many cities, towns and communities. The need for more and better water supply, never is given a lot of thought by many citizens, but it is vital and important that high quality water in the quantities needed is essential to continue present living standards.

District Attorney Royce Adkins Lions Speaker

"The Law of Wills in the State of Texas," was the topic of District Attorney Royce Adkins' talk at the Tuesday noon luncheon meeting of Lions.

Mr. Adkins pointed out to club members the three different types of Wills, also the fact that all persons should make a Will in order that their property and holdings would be channeled as desired.

In defining a Will, the District Attorney said that "it is the legal declaration of a person's mind as to the manner in which he would have his estate disposed of after his death."

O'Brien Bulldogs

Talpa then marched 60 yards after the kickoff for its first score of the night, making the score 8-6, after the two extra points were tacked on. But the lead was short-lived. The two teams swapped fumbles with end Myndell Morris coming up with the last one for O'Brien on the Talpa 13. Rhodes ran twice and then Duncan went over from 4 yards out with only four seconds gone in the 2nd quarter. His kick failed.

Another Ram fumble, this one at the Talpa 36, set up the third Bulldog marker. Rhodes went for 9 yards. Henry then hit Rhodes, who was alone in the end zone. The score came with 5:42 left in the quarter, and Duncan's kick failed.

Again the Rams stormed back. They took over after the kickoff at their 27, and then marched 53 yards in six plays. O'Brien scored its fourth TD 3:26 deep in the 3rd quarter, capping a 42-yard drive which took 7 plays. Duncan blasted up the middle for 7 yards and the TD. His kick was good and the Bulldogs led 26-16.

A minute and 56 seconds later they lengthened the lead to 32-16 on a one-yard plunge by Rhodes. Duncan's kick made it 34-16. That drive had begun on the O'Brien 37 after a punt.

It then took only 47 seconds for the Rams to score again. The score was set up when Beaver returned the kickoff to the Bulldog 10.

Shortly after the 4th quarter began, Bulldog end Morris caught Beaver in his own end zone for a safety and 2 points. The situation was set up by a 44-yard punt.

The final Bulldog score came with 6:36 left in the final period on a 20-yard reverse run by Rhodes. Duncan's kick was good for the 44-23 victory.

Former County Resident Dies In Plainview

George Franklin Williams, 68, former Haskell County resident for 40 years and kinsman of several area residents, died on Saturday at 9:30 a. m. at his home southeast of Plainview.

Funeral was held in the First Baptist Church of O'Brien at 2:30 p. m. Monday with the Rev. Calvin Partain of the First Baptist Church of O'Donnell officiating. The Rev. Cecil Foster of O'Brien assisted.

Burial was in the Knox City Cemetery under direction of Smith Funeral Home of Knox City.

Born October 28, 1896 in Wilson County, he moved to Haskell County in 1915 and moved to the Plainview area in 1955.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. J. M. Williams of Rochester; his wife, Alice; one daughter, Mrs. Elmo Stephens, of O'Brien; one son, Clyde, of Plainview; three grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; three brothers, Ben, of Knox City, Joe and Ross of Imperial, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Mattie Jenkins, of Rochester, Mrs. R. E. West, of Antioch, Calif., and Mrs. Zinnie Fannin, of Ventura, Calif.

Season-Heralding

The Haskell Chapter, Young Homemakers of Texas, received the third prize of $15 for its "Santa's Workshop," with small children again the predominant personnel enacting the scene. All were offspring of the members of the Young Homemaker chapter in Haskell.

In another traditional event annually an integral part of the Christmas parade here, the Rotary Club of Haskell, with Tom Barfield, as chairman, held its Pet Parade, and Gregg Thompson, last year's winner, was a repeater for a $7.50 first prize. The 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson Jr., was dressed like a roly-poly snowman, complete with pipe and black stovepipe hat. His faithful 4-legged Mandi, a Boston Terrier, blended with her master in a black and white color pattern.

Danny Hartsfield, another winner last year, finished second among 10 Pet Parade entrants. The 7-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hess Hartsfield was decked out in a Santa suit and was the object of the admiring gaze of all, including the dachshund by his warm side.

James Isbell, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Isbell, and his unique pet, a raccoon, got the third place nod.

There were many other outstanding entries in the 33-unit parade column, headed by Sheriff Garth Garrett, Mayor J. E. Walling Jr., Chamber of Commerce President Abe Turner Jr. and the 72-piece Haskell Indian Band fronted by its twirling corps and paced by Head Drum Major Andrea Baird.

Winsome Suzy Redwine, Haskell's Hey Day Queen of 1964, rode the Chamber of Commerce float, her contagious smile a key to hospitality offered by the Chamber here. Millie Holden, Haskell High School senior, was the central figure on a regally decorated entry of Lane-Felker ladies' apparel. A Shetland pony pulled old fashioned miniature sally carried the colors of the Personality Shoppe here.

The Rotary Club of Haskell had a striking float with a majestic cross and eternal flame symbolizing the site of the burial place of the nation's 35th president, the assassinated John F. Kennedy, in Arlington National Cemetery. Other civic and service groups with entries included the Business and Professional Women's Club, Boy and Girl Scouts, Jaycees and Lone Pate Chapter, Quill and Scroll.

Santa's Helpers, the entry of another First Grade class in Haskell Elementary School, taught by Mrs. Wynona Dickinson, was also a standout.

Haskell's famed Sheriff's Possession, with Kenneth Felker, president, and C. O. Holt, secretary, arraying their forces, lined up the 40-minute parade and lent their palomino-mounted, scarlet shirred symmetry to the wind-up of the late afternoon grass roots spectacle reeled off in ideal autumn weather.

'MYSTERY SHOPPER' FAVORS 17 ON INITIAL SPENDING SPREE

Haskell's "Mystery Shopper," a Chamber of Commerce-sponsored emissary of hospitality, "struck" 17 times Saturday, official opening day of the Yuletide here.

The crowd-mingling, store promenade Man of Means struck happiness in the hearts of his "targets," that is, crossing the palms of his contacts with "the long green," scrip "money" redeemable in merchandise in varying amounts at most Haskell stores, the names of which appear on the reverse side of the "tender" which is legal only for the duration of the Christmas Season here.

The word is out that the "Mystery Shopper" will make frequent forays into Haskell shopping crowds throughout the pre-Christmas period here.

Of the 17 fortunate recipients of scrip "money" Saturday, two each were from Rule, Knox City and Rochester, one each from Old Glory and Crosbyton, and the rest were hometowners.

The identities of favored ones and the list is sure to grow, includes: Mrs. John M. McQuinn, Mrs. E. J. Carroll, of Rule; Mrs. J. L. Beaucamp and Mrs. Herman Williams, Rochester; Martha Newman and Mrs. George Zeissel, of Knox City; Mrs. Joan Newman, of Old Glory; David Verner, of Crosbyton; and A. R. Cox, Cliff Morris, Homer Patterson, Jack Chapman, Mrs. L. C. Killian, Mrs. Frank W. Moore, Mrs. Leon Robertson, John J. Long, and Joe Ozma, all of Haskell.

Clifton Callers Mrs. Martel Dickinson, and children, of San Antonio, spent the Thanksgiving holidays in the home of her mother here, Mrs. Mart Clifton.

Larned Latchstring Luffed Betty Sue Wolf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Larned and two sons, Lance Wade and Flint Todd, visited Thanksgiving week with her parents. They were joined on Thanksgiving Day by Erby Hugh Wolfe Jr., Betty Sue's husband.

Lance Wade and Flint Todd enjoyed riding Santa's sleigh with their uncles, Johnny Larned Jr., and Timothy Baine Larned. The Wolfe family returned to their home in Coppas Cove Sunday. Mr. Wolfe, a building contractor, has just completed a new brick home for his family in Coppas Cove.
