DEFINITION: The difference between a radical and a conservative is the radical does have, and the conservative does not.

Prattle's Prophecy: In my game predictions involving names in the Southwest Conference for last week's battle of 100 teams, I missed only one team, however, I rubbed the salt in the Seymour-Haskell game, as I stated with the Indians. Missing only the Haskell-Seymour tilt, I batted 89 percent overall.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO (September 19, 1935)

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Foil are rejoicing over the arrival of a son born September 10.

Lee Stodghill is visiting his uncle Fred Osborne of Dallas this week.

The 1935 edition of the Haskell Indians defeated the Rule Bobcats here Friday night by a score of 21-0 in the first game of the season. After being denied blood in the first stanza, the Indians came back quickly in the second quarter by scoring on a pass from Jack to John Kimbrough from close to Rule's 30-yard line, after several plunges and end skirts had been made nearer mid-field. With the Kimbrough brothers carrying the ball most of the time behind teamates who kept ripping gaping holes, two more touchdowns were netted in the final quarter.

Wallace H. Cox, of Jones Cox & Company, Haskell business firm, departed Sunday for Chicago on a visit to the plant of the International Harvester Co. Mr. Cox will return by way of Lima, Ohio, where he will secure a new school bus recently purchased for use by the Haskell high school. He will drive the bus from Lima to Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. Claborne Payne, Mrs. J. P. Payne and daughter, Mary Beth, left on Wednesday for Dallas where Mr. and Mrs. Payne will attend the first annual Southwestern Gift Show and purchase the holiday line of gift merchandise for the Payne Drug Company.

Martin McCain, former banker at Sagerton and more recently connected with the Stamford Production Credit Corp., has been appointed as Bank Examiner with headquarters at Bryan, Texas. He will move his family to Bryan as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Rev. and Mrs. Orion W. Carter will give a "Hobo Party" Friday night for all the young people of the Methodist Church.

40 YEARS AGO (September 18, 1925)

Col. and Mrs. W. C. O'Bryan and son, Sidney E. O'Bryan of Waco, visited her nieces, Mes-

James T. A. Pinkston and C. M. Kaigler last week.

Mr. Courtney Hunt made a business trip to Dallas this week.

Uncle Billie Howard was in the city Saturday and said they had a real good turnout shower down at his place last Thursday.

Claude Wheatley of Knox City recently moved his family to Haskell and opened an Electric Shoe Shop on Depot street in the building with the Haskell Marble Works. Mr. Wheatley is an experienced shoe repair man and he is permanently located in Haskell. He was in the same occupation a number of years in Knox City and comes to Haskell well recommended.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardy Grissom were in Abilene Tuesday for the Style Show at the Grissom Store. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Shook who visited in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Conner.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. McClintock returned last week from a prospecting trip to Lamesa.

Jones & Son, Tinnors of this city, have made an enviable record since they embarked in business just a few years ago. They are not only supplying the demands of the home trade but are reaching out to other parts of the state doing work in their line that has been going out of state in the past.

Mrs. Alfred Pierson and little daughter, Louise, Mmes. John P. Payne, Jess Campbell of Rule and D. H. Reese of Dallas motored to Abilene last Wednesday on a pleasure trip.

Only by the cooperation of the citizens of Rule was the bridge across the Brazos west of town saved from serious damage last Friday. The heavy rains that fell over this section Thursday night brought the river down on a rise that threatened to wash-out the east end of the bridge.

60 YEARS AGO (September 23, 1905)

Capt. A. H. O'Keefe of the Paint Creek Neighborhood was in town yesterday and gave it as his opinion that the cotton in his section would make only a light yield.

Mr. G. F. Atchison on the east side was in Wednesday with a bale of cotton. He says his cotton will make a third of a bale per acre.

Mr. M. E. Park fell off a haystack Wednesday, striking the ground with his head. The shock rendered him unconscious for about an hour, but he has recovered from the effects.

Messrs. S. R. Rike, E. F. Springer, Charley Cummings and Al Cousins returned several days ago from their prospecting trip in the far west, beyond the Pecos.

SCHOOL NOTICE: We fondly hope and confidently expect to begin school in the new building Monday, Oct. 2. There are four cloak rooms to be finished and a little plastering in the auditorium yet to be done. If the unexpected does not come to pass, we will not disappoint you on the above date. However, if a change is made, you will be given due notice. T. L. Morrow, Principal.

Messrs. T. E. Ballard, A. D. English and Ross Hemphill made a shipment of beef cattle to Fort Worth this week. Mr. J. S. Barnett of the Rule neighborhood was in town Thursday. He says that is putting on fruit right and if frost is late in a fairly good crop.

Mr. W. F. Oakley of Pinkerton community in Wednesday and sold a load of new crop corn.

I have opened up a shop on the east side square, in the phone gallery and will appreciate any trade that will come.

—R. G. Merritt.

National 4-H Club Week

Whatever you're doing and wherever you live... during the week of September 25 through October 2... you should give attention, interest and support to an observance that will take place at that time. It is National 4-H Club Week.

It would be difficult to praise the 4-H movement too highly. Because of it great numbers of boys and girls are helped to learn the fundamentals of farming... and farming, in these days, is a combination of business, art and craft. The ancient virtues that are an implicit element in land and nature are combined with technology of today.

We live in an increasingly urbanized society. Inevitable as that may be, a very great deal of strength and the character of this nation is found in the rural side of its life. The land, and those who work the land, feed and clothe and sustain us. And there, away from the congested cities with all their problems, is the strongly beating heart of America.

There are no juvenile delinquents in the ranks of 4-H. They carry on those traditions... pride of purpose, fair dealing, independence, consideration for others... that are so vital to that heartbeat.

MEN OF SCIENCE

Inevitably and necessarily, the organized physicians of this country... and most especially the American Medical Association... have been deeply involved in legislative matters concerning medical practice and principle, notably medicare. This may have created an impression that the medical profession's major interests are confined to matters of a political nature.

That impression, if it does exist, is a serious misconception. As the head of the Association recently pointed out, its members "are primarily interested in scientific matters." This fact was emphasized by the great numbers of physicians who witnessed, or participated in, the AMA's recent Scientific Program at the New York Coliseum. Every day the building was crowded with physicians attending the lectures and visiting the four floors of exhibits. A total of 631 scientific papers was presented, along with films, panel discussions of medical matters, and so on.

The AMA's day-by-day work in the furtherance of the highest medical standards cover the broadest of areas. It inspects and accredits the medical schools. It is involved in hospital accreditation. It supports a strict code of medical ethics and fights an endless war against medical quackery. It tests drugs. It issues authoritative scientific publications. It symbolizes the fact that American medicine is dedicated in taking every sound and possible step that will provide better care for the American people, whatever their ages or income levels.

It can be said that the medical fraternity enters with reluctance into the political area. It does so because it must. It is its plain and inescapable duty to oppose measures and projects which, it is convinced, would prove detrimental to the standards of care and health and physical well-being of the people.

EARNED RESPECT

Today, after 100 years of service in all parts of the world, the Salvation Army has earned the respect of millions of people of every race and faith—young and old, rich and poor, royalty and slum dweller alike.

But this respect was grudgingly given and hard won. In 1865, when William Booth dedicated his life to the human refuse eeking out an existence in the teeming slums of London, he was branded a dangerous rabble-rouser and radical. Respectable Victorians and even churches were horrified to see the motley crew of thieves, prostitutes and drunkards that followed Booth.

Opposition often became persecution as the Salvation Army slowly grew in numbers and began spreading across the world. Saloonkeepers hired gangs of rowdies to break up street meetings; Salvationists were pelted with rotten vegetables and struck down by bricks and cobblestones. They were arrested for parading, for disturbing the peace and often denied protection by the police. A few Salvation Army officers lost their lives in these attacks.

These hardships only strengthened their resolve as they continued to seek out the wretched and forsaken souls who needed their ministry.

General William Booth, the Army founder, lived long enough to see public opinion slowly change. Social causes, for which he had fought so long, were being enacted into law. Government leaders and crowned heads in Europe all paid honor to the grand old man.

His spirit continues to live on through 27,000 officers around the world, dedicated to "fighting the good fight." You can help them win the fight through your contribution.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Indian Booster Club, Monday night, at the high school lunchroom, Bobby Watson was voted Back of the week and Stanley Fancher lineman. Other team members received substantial support in the voting.

President Harold Spain called the meeting to order. Mrs. Buck Everett was the recipient of the free door prize, (rug cleaners), given by Sherman's, Mrs. H. A. Sherman reported for her committee composed of herself, Mrs. L. Q. Greer, and Mrs. Viars Felker on the screening project for the north end of Indian Field. The club voted to purchase 42 trees at $2.00 each, upon approval by the school board.

Coach Sonny Everett showed the film of the Haskell-Seymour game to 44 members present.

Warriors On Warpath; Take Cubs 28-2

The Haskell Junior High Warriors "wrapped-up" their first district ballgame by defeating the Albany Cubs 28-2, there Tuesday night, Sept. 14. The Warriors scored respectively in all but the last quarter.

Donald Love set-up the first Warrior tally by intercepting an Albany pass on the Albany 17-yard line. From there Lee Pippin took a hand-off from the quarterback, Lanny Ivey, and raced 17 yards for pay dirt. Pittman then added the extra two points.

The second Warrior touchdown came on a recovered fumble by Roy David Pittman on the Albany 49-yard line. Three plays later, Lee Pippin scampered 43 yards for the final touchdown in the first half.

On the second play from scrimmage, Wayne Reeves galloped 41 yards for the first tally in the third quarter. The try for the extra point failed.

With about three minutes left in the third quarter, quarterback Lanny Ivey plunged over the goal-line from about 8 yards out. Wayne Reeves then added the two points.

Outstanding defensive efforts were by Darrell Crawford, Roy Pittman, Donald Love and Wayne Davis.

Weinert Topples Goree 18 To 14 Thursday Night

Weinert rallied from a two-point deficit in the first quarter to defeat Goree, 18-14, in an eight-man football game last Thursday.

Leading Weinert's attack was halfback Rocky Sanders, who raced for two touchdowns on runs of 38 and 19 yards. The winning score came on Larry Cunningham's 63-yard sprint in the third quarter.

Goree's touchdowns came on runs by Charles Kidd, a 10-yarder and a six-yarder.

Salvation Army Corps Operate In Thirty-Seven Texas Cities

Where were you the night of June 11? If you were in Sanderson, Texas, you were living a nightmare as you struggled to reach high ground and, perhaps, watched loved ones swept away to sudden death.

A few nights earlier, if you lived in Hale Center, you watched in horror as a tornado snaked its way through the town and destroyed much of the community.

If you were a Salvation Army officer from a nearby city, or a member of that organization's volunteer-staffed Service Unit Committee from one of several neighboring communities—you were soon marshaling supplies—to rush to the aid of your stricken Texas neighbors.

Mobile disaster canteens were sped to the two towns from the San Angelo, Plainview and Abilene corps of the Salvation Army. Their kitchens stocked with food and equipped to serve as many as 6,000 meals per day, each canteen was quickly set up by Salvation Army workers to serve victims and disaster workers during the period of emergency.

Titles of Alpine, Marfa, Fort Stockton, Abilene, Lockney, Olton and Earth, members of the Salvation Army Service Unit Committees gathered clothing, household articles and other necessities to be sent to the disaster victims.

These committees, completely comprised of year-round volunteer citizens, who conduct the welfare programs of the Salvation Army in cities that have no uniformed personnel, have proven as efficient and dedicated in times of large-scale disaster as in day-to-day welfare work.

Committees exist in almost 300 Texas towns to carry out the Salvation Army work of assistance to local families in need and stranded transient men and families. They receive no pay for their services.

Salvation Army corps operate in 37 Texas cities and are staffed by uniformed personnel who are dedicated to helping mankind spiritually and physically. Like General William Booth, who founded the Salvation Army a century ago, career Salvationists and volunteer committee workers are motivated by the desire to help the less fortunate.

THANK YOU NOTE

Thank you so very much for the food, flowers, cards and prayers which we received during our time of sorrow. May God bless each of you—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Maples. 39p

Convention Speaker Says B&PW Challenge To Women's Talents

Women are involved in all worthwhile efforts, Mrs. Geraldine Eidson of Fort Worth believes.

Assistant vice president and loan officer of Ridgela State Bank and state treasurer and finance committee chairman of Texas Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., she was speaker for the Saturday evening President's Banquet of the fall conference of District 7, B&PW.

"We in B&PW must maintain—even upgrade—the high ethical standards for women of businesses and professions. We must be flexible enough to adapt to the world as it is and still not be complacent."

National Theme

She stressed the national B&PW theme for the year, "Say YES—Youth, Education and Service."

"Our youth is our future. Any guidance we can give to them is to our benefit," she told members at the dinner in Felker's Restaurant.

The banking executive noted that the need for emphasis on education is especially felt in her field. "B&PW must stress adult education by seminars, on-the-job training and through all possible opportunities."

She is first vice president of the Fort Worth Chapter of American Institute of Banking and on the national education committee of National Assn. of Bank Women. She is enrolled in Southwestern Graduate School of Banking of Southern Methodist University.

Service

Mrs. Eidson called its own reward for work in the community. She urged continued cooperation of B&PW units with other civic organizations.

Mrs. Roy Johnson, president of Haskell's B&PW Club, host group for the events, presided for the banquet. Don Muenzler, president of Haskell Chamber of Commerce, welcomed the guests, and Mrs. Lena Porter of Colorado City introduced the speaker.

Mrs. Eidson arrived at a tea Saturday afternoon just ahead of a rain storm that delayed the arrival of several members over the district.

Mrs. Luther Burkett, District 7 director, was hostess for the tea for early registrants and honoring state officers and club presidents, in the Community Room of Haskell National Bank.

"The banking business is second nature to me," Mrs. Eidson said. "My father was a country banker—an executive vice president of a bank in Cranfills Gap in Bosque County. I became especially interested in the profession when I worked part-time while still in high school."

She is the wife of Fort Worth Attorney Joe H. Eidson and mother of a 15-year-old daughter, Marilyn. She was graduated from North Texas State College with a major in home economics and taught for 2½ years in Hico Independent School District.

Ridgela State Bank opened in her neighborhood in December of 1950, and Mrs. Eidson went to work in the collection department in April of 1951. She became assistant cashier and manager of the loan discount department in 1959, and was promoted to her present position in January of this year.

She is past group chairman of the Dallas, Fort Worth, North Texas Group of NABW and publicity chairman of Southwestern Division, past president of Women's Civic Club Council of Fort Worth and president of Fort Worth Lawyers' Wives Club.

Mrs. Burkett presided for a breakfast Sunday morning in Felker's Restaurant.

Workshops

Workshops beginning at 9:00 a. m., were coordinated by Avis Deavers of Abilene. Leaders were Mrs. Neoma Upshaw of Stamford, Civic Participation; Nelda Garrett of Colorado City, World Affairs; Mrs. Floy McMullen of Baird, Personal Development; Juanita Camfield of San Angelo, Legislation; Florence Anderson of San Angelo, Membership; and Georgia Stiles of Sweetwater, Seminar.

Miss Camfield, chairman of the state legislative steering committee, urged smaller clubs to cooperate with larger clubs in the district in sponsoring forums being emphasized by the state organization for the purpose of educating the public to B&PW aims.

"These forums will probably be held at colleges in the district," she said.

This emphasis is, of course, in addition to our continued work in obtaining equal legal rights for women in Texas," she said. "Last year, several bills were passed which were great steps forward. We are much nearer our goal in this effort."

She explained at her workshop the 10 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution to be voted on in November.

New Director

During the morning business session, members elected a new District 7 Director, Nelda Garrett, of Colorado City. Juanita Camfield was elected to the State Nominating committee, and alternates, Nelda Garrett.

Also at the business session, Myrtle Bumpas of Abilene, was appointed to the District Legislative Committee, and Miss Irene Stewart of Samford was appointed to the District Speakers Bureau.

San Angelo was chosen as the site of the 1966 District Conference.

MRS. JAMES FRIERSON CAMERON
... formerly Miss Judy Ann Adkins

Miss Judy Ann Adkins And James Frierson Cameron Married Recently

Miss Judy Ann Adkins became the bride of James Frierson Cameron, August 22, at 3 p. m. in the Eighth and Grand Church of Christ, Artesia, New Mexico. Mr. Robert A. Waller officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The setting was of greenery and candelabra holding lighted white tapers on either side of the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Adkins, 713 Centre Avenue, Artesia, and the parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cameron of Haskell, Texas, who attended the wedding.

Traditional music was provided by a quartet composed of Gayla Zumwalt, Carol Kuykendall, Roby Zumwalt and Robert Wayne Waller. They sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Wedding Prayer," "Father, Hear the Prayer We Offer," and "Oh Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk taffeta with overskirt of peau de soie, with white embroidery and applique. The bodice, with elbow length sleeves, was fastened at the back with tiny covered buttons, and swept into a chapel train. The bride's veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of matching petals delicately embroidered to match the decoration on the gown, and adorned with tiny rhinestones. She carried a bridal bouquet of white gladiolus in a crescent design. She wore a sixpence in her shoe, borrowed from Mrs. John A. Mathis, Jr.; a blue garter given to her by her mother-in-law; a new lace handkerchief, and for something old, she wore a pearl necklace and earrings, a gift from her parents when she graduated from college.

Mrs. Wilbur H. Johnson of El Paso, Texas, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Rojana Cox, Corpus Christi, Texas, (a college roommate of the bride); Miss Molly Wilcox, Rule, Texas; and Sandra Hickman, of Artesia. All attendants were dressed in identical floor length gowns of apricot silk taffeta with matching picturesque hats and shoes, and each carried a long stem of apricot colored gladiolus.

The flower girl was Dianna Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Johnson, of El Paso. The ring bearer was David Wayne Adkins, brother of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Adkins chose a beige linen and lace sheath with matching accessories. Mrs. Cameron wore a beige linen dress with brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of tiny red rosebuds.

Mr. Lynn Seets of Dallas was best man. The groomsmen were Tommy Shockley, Uvalde, Texas; Ken McCollum and Jack Leath of Abilene.

Upon entering the church, guests were registered in the bride's book by Miss Mikie Welch of Friona, Texas.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the C.V.E. building. The reception table was laid with a cloth of white net over satin, with silver appointments. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake served as the centerpiece and was flanked by silver candlesticks with white tapers. Miss Mikie Welch served the cake, and Miss Judy Brown of Davidson, Oklahoma, served the punch. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Glen Clem, Mrs. Harvey Jones, Mrs. V. F. Hickman, Mrs. Raymond Kennedy, Mrs. Ray Chancey, Mrs. George Stockton and Mrs. J. O. Bratcher.

Among out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ruth Davidson, the grandmother of the bride, from Redding, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Adkins, aunt and uncle of the bride from Midland, Texas, Mrs. Jim Cameron, the grandmother of the groom from Rule, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hays from Roswell, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. M. D. King and children, Sheryl, Lynn and Tommy from Monahans, Texas, Mrs. Henry Emerson and Jerry Emerson of Carlsbad, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Evans and daughter, Eva Racie of Pecos, Texas, and Wilbur Johnson and son, Rickey of El Paso, Texas.

The bride wore a silk turquoise suit with white accessories for traveling. Her corsage was of white gladiolus from the bridal bouquet. After a honeymoon trip to Taos and Red River the couple will be at home in Abilene, Texas, where Mr. Cameron, who is a senior at Abilene Christian College, will be doing student teaching in secondary mathematics. The new Mrs. Cameron, who is a graduate of Artesia High School and Abilene Christian College, will be employed in Abilene.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ

Most of us don't have any problems with our exemptions, because our children live with us and naturally we provide full support for the child. However, when you provide partial support for your child or for children who have reached the earning stage and are providing partial support for themselves, you may have a problem. It pays to keep records to make sure that you can prove that you provided bed and board while Junior engaged in the song and dance type of activity with his earnings. If you are not sure, talk it over with the tax man.

Progressive Study Club Holds Diamond Jubilee Celebration Tea

The Progressive Study Club began the celebration of the GFWC Diamond Jubilee Thursday, Sept. 16, 7:30 p. m., in the tea garden setting at the Abe Turner home.

Members and guests were ushered into the garden over a rock terrace lined with a planter of yellow mums into the garden where bright orange and yellow flowers in baskets hung from the tree boughs and seated at pastel covered round tables centered with hurricane lamps in a cluster of fall flowers. Hurricane lamps bordered the walks and the rock terrace which was used as the stage.

Mrs. Gerald McCoy, president, opened the year's program and welcomed all present. Mrs. Bailey Toliver, vice president and program chairman, presented a film strip, "The Story of Unity in Diversity." She also presented the yearbooks and explained how the club chose this year's study, "Headlines in World Affairs."

She stated that in January, 1965, President Johnson was confronted with at least ten major trouble spots in the world. Dangers abroad affecting U. S. national interests and demanding White House attention fell into two categories—the pressing immediate crises labeled extremely dangerous and secondly, the slower-fused but potentially explosive questions which could erupt at any time.

At that time, club members decided to make an intensive study of these troubled spots. Each member selected a case for study and since that time, has collected material and information. It has been most interesting to observe the changes that have occurred.

The hostesses for each program planned the social hour in such a manner as to show something of the cultural and culinary habits of each country.

Mrs. R. W. Herren lead the "Collect for Club Women," and explained it was first written in 1904 as a prayer for a meeting in Longmont, Colo., by Mary Stewart, a graduate of Colorado University, Boulder, who was then serving as school principal. It was adopted as the club woman's collect in 1941 by the GFWC. It has often been mistaken to have been written by Mary Stuart, Queen of Scots while she was in prison but the dates prove that a fallacy.

Fashions were presented by Lane-Felker. Mrs. R. A. Lane commented, while Mrs. Don Muenzler, Mrs. Hudson Pitman, Mrs. O. D. Pool and Mrs. R. W. Herren, all members of the club, modeled four or five each of the latest in fall creations. Mrs. Dan Strickland and Mrs. Douglas Lees assisted.

The social committee, Mrs. Luther Walker, Mrs. Abe Turner, Mrs. Bud Lane and Mrs. R. A. Lane served assorted finger sandwiches and lime sherbet ginger ale parfaits to the 40 members and guests.

The meetings are scheduled for each first and third Thursdays in the month. The next meeting date will be October 7, NATO and United Nations will be the topic of study.

Simplicity should be the general rule. A single color should be blended to go with the color and the personality of the gardener. Mrs. Bryant said that is a very beautiful color flatter our gardens. Nothing as beautiful at night as a white blossom. Green is nature's color, and many effects can be achieved from the following.

Many interesting programs have been planned for the year by the program chairman, Mrs. E. L. Wyche. Mrs. Gene Overton presented the yearbooks.

Since the 4-H program was inaugurated by the United States government in 1914, the 4-H movement has spread across our nation and to 76 foreign countries. More than 18,000 voluntary adult leaders work with club members in Texas and contribute to the success of 4-H. Parents and friends of 4-H give support and encouragement to club members. The New Hybrid Sudangrasses Now Being Introduced

The new sorghum-sudangrass hybrids, an exciting new kind of crop for many farmers, are expected to hit the market with full impact this year.

Riding in their wake, however, is a still newer type of forage which may be of even greater significance. These are the new hybrid sudangrasses now being introduced by Northrup, King & Co.

The first of these hybrids—called Trudan I—was introduced two years ago by the seed firm. A second hybrid, Trudan 2, is currently being introduced for 1966 plantings.

NATIONAL 4-H CLUB WEEK SEPTEMBER 25 - OCTOBER 2

Texas' 87,000 4-H Club members will join other 4-Hers throughout the nation in the observance of National 4-H Week, September 25-October 2, reports R. L. Hunt, Jr., state 4-H leader, Texas A&M University.

Hunt notes that some 2,250-000 boys and girls in the 50 states and Puerto Rico are 4-H members; that they range in age from 10 to 19 years of age; that they live in both rural and urban areas and that each conducts one or more projects involving personal responsibilities and "learning to do by doing." Along with their project or demonstration work, 4-H training also emphasizes the development of leadership and citizenship talents.

Theme for the upcoming week will be "Learning for Living." The 4-H members will be joined in the observance by their junior and adult 4-H leaders, their friends and Extension workers. The "head-heart-hands-health" organization is supervised in the counties by the county Extension agents and is the junior phase of the Cooperative Extension Service's educational programs.

Objectives of the week are to influence more young people to join or form 4-H Clubs; to acquaint more parents with 4-H and seek their cooperation; to encourage a larger number of capable men and women to become volunteer 4-H leaders; to increase public understanding of 4-H programs and activities; and to recognize and express appreciation for the contributions made to 4-H by friends and those who give support to the organization.

In his greetings to all 4-H members, President Johnson said, "Your aims are directly in line with our Nation's goals to achieve fuller and better living for all. You will surely benefit, as will others, from your efforts to explore career opportunities and seek needed education, to practice healthful living, to use constructively your leisure time, and to strengthen your personal standards and citizenship ideals."

Since the 4-H program was inaugurated by the United States government in 1914, the 4-H movement has spread across our nation and to 76 foreign countries.

More than 18,000 voluntary adult leaders work with club members in Texas and contribute to the success of 4-H. Parents and friends of 4-H give support and encouragement to club members. The 4-H Club program is directed by the staff of the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University.

The opportunities offered to 4-H Club members to grow in citizenship, leadership and practical skills are especially valuable to them, the State of Texas and the nation. The 4-H Clubs are a proving ground for future leaders. Therefore, I, as Governor of

Former Rule Man Is In Medical School

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert B. (Sonny) Whorton recently have moved to Oklahoma City where he is continuing work toward the M. D. degree at the University of Oklahoma Medical School.

In New Orleans for the past year and one half, Whorton was the designing statistician for a series of parish-by-parish immunization surveys for the Louisiana State Board of Health. He took his master of science degree, after special study at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., from Tulane University in June, 1964; the B. S. from Baylor University. His graduate and doctoral work have been made possible by grants from the National Institutes of Health, administered individually by the participating universities.

Whorton, originally from Rule, and his wife, the former Evangeline Loessin of Eagle Lake, have one daughter, Laila Loessin, 3.

Panhandle Deer Increase In '65

Both white-tailed and mule deer, in brushy canyons and river bottoms, traversing the Texas Panhandle, will be more plentiful this year than in 1964, according to Biologist Richard DeArment of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department staff.

Panhandle deer densities have never been high in comparison to Hill Country herds, but what Panhandle deer lack in numbers is made up for in size, noted DeArment. White-tailed bucks weighing 150-200 pounds on the hoof are not uncommon on the Washita and Canadian rivers in eastern Panhandle counties.

The Palo Duro Canyon, southeast of Amarillo and the Canadian river area south of Dalhart, supports stable mule deer herds from which most Panhandle mule deer are harvested each year, said the biologist.

In 1964, 246 mule deer and 299 white-tailed deer were harvested by sportsmen.

PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS IN COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

Industrial development . . . successful achievement

PLANT LOCATION ASSISTANCE

WTU area development representatives are available to assist growth-conscious communities in planning economic development programs

Not long ago WTU published an ad about the $1,300,000 improvement program in the West Texas community of Stamford. As we stated then, it was done for the purpose of "improving the chances of continued economic growth and attraction of new industry." And . . . industry responded! Today a well-known maker of women's and girls' apparel and sportswear is thriving in Stamford, with an annual payroll approaching $300,000. Selling its products all over the Nation, Stamford's new industry has almost tripled its employment in 18 months. In actual fact, here is a PATTERN FOR PROGRESS . . . a picture of successful achievement. Growth-conscious towns are invited to contact their local WTU manager for assistance from our area development representatives.

Hipp of Haskell, Mrs. Lillie Chapman and Mrs. Bonita Motley, both of Fort Worth; a son, Vernon S. Hudman, of Pensacola, Fla.; 10 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

The Good Earth

Haskell Garden Club got off to a good start by having a horticulture display at the lovely farm home of the Gene Overtons. Mrs. W. H. Bryant of 806 Wesleyan, Stamford, gave a lesson in landscaping. Some of the horticulture displayed were succulents, cacti, geraniums, gallardia, sweet basil, periwinkles, malva, ornamental pepper, Joseph's coat, pampas plumes, senna and Italian paste tomatoes. This just goes to show that in spite of hail, high winds, drought and an invasion of cucumber beetles, Haskell county can still produce beautiful flowers and vegetables. I have proven to my own satisfaction that Italian paste tomatoes are one of our best fruits of this county. I have raised gallons of these tomatoes that are from 3 to 3 1/2 inches long and 6 to 6 1/2 inches around at the largest part. They are slightly pear shaped. The meat is dry and mealy and not nearly as acid as some of the other tomatoes. My husband and I attended the first 1965-66 meeting of Abilene Garden Club Early Birds. The meeting was held Thursday in the Fort Phantom Lake shore cabin of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Steel. Dr. George Steinman of McMurry College gave an interesting demonstration of the versatility of drift wood. Dr. Steinman displayed many finished pieces of driftwood. The most outstanding piece in his collection was one of a gray horse, tail and mane flying as though from the wind. Ears bent forward as though startled or afraid. The trees also bent as though from the wind were made from moss gathered in the mountains of New Mexico. The base was sawed from a stump or tree. The overall picture was in gray. Dr. Steinman calls this masterpiece, 'The Approaching Storm.' So well has Dr. Steinman created this picture in driftwood, one can almost feel the fear of the horse. Dr. Steinman said tools needed to finish a piece of driftwood are, a rasp, chisel, mallet or hammer, steel brush, gouger and sandpaper. He often uses rubber door stops at the base of the finished driftwood so the arrangement will sit evenly and not scar the table on which it sits. A mixture of one-third olive oil and two-thirds alcohol is rubbed into the cleaned wood to season it. Then to finish the piece it is rubbed with Johnson's wax. This gives a natural polished look to the wood.

Woman Found Hanged In Rochester Jail

A 41-year-old Hobbs, N. M. woman was found hanged about midnight last Thursday in the Rochester city jail. She was identified as Mrs. Maggie Lorne Reynolds by Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett. Constable Bud LeFevre said nightwatchman, Henry Cobb, found the body about midnight. She apparently used her dress for a noose. The body was taken to Abilene for an autopsy, then brought back to Haskell where it was prepared for burial and then taken to the Smith Funeral Home in Ada, Oklahoma for final arrangements. Interment was at Ponotoc, Okla. She is survived by her husband, Jack Reynolds, Hobbs, N. M.; two daughters, Mrs. Tommie Lou Richards, Frankfort, Germany, and Barbara Joe Reynolds, Hobbs, N. M.; three sons, Norman Worchester, Hobbs, N. M.; Billy Ray Worchester, Ada, Okla., and Jackie Lynn Reynolds, Hobbs, N. M.; one brother, Harrison Sealy, Fort Campbell, Ky.; one sister, Lela Ligon, Hobbs, N. M.; mother, Mrs. Maggie Ola Sealy, and father, Sampson Sealy, of Ada, Okla. Mrs. Reynolds lived at 1001 North Cochran St., Hobbs, New Mexico.

Mrs. John Rike Tells About Her Interesting Trip To Quebec

From Skawhegan, Maine to the Canadian border, the forests are majestic, the villages are far apart and often nestled in a valley, so relates Mrs. John Rike, who made the trip from Hopewell Junction, New York, with her daughter, son-in-law, and two little grandsons. In Northern Maine and Eastern Canada the barns are often connected with the houses. The cattle must be kept in the barns during the cold winter months, and with this set-up, the farmer doesn't have to get outside to feed. Some of the houses have stairs from a second story balcony, in order to get outside when the snow almost covers the first story. Quebec is the only walled city on the continent. On the Plains of Abraham, General Wolfe defeated the French General Montcalm, but French is the language spoken throughout the city. At the Citadel, tourists can watch the changing of the guard with the troops in scarlet tunics and black bearskin shakos. The Governor's Promenade is a boardwalk skirting the cliffs high above the St. Lawrence. From here you can look down and get a view of ships on the river. Just across from the Chateau Frontenac at the Place d'Armes Plaza can be seen horse-drawn Victorian carriages and two-wheeled buggies called caleches. They make excellent transportation for sight-seeing. Rike said. The Chateau Frontenac in 1800, recalls in its tower the cultural tradition of France in the 16th century. "Our stay there has been more enjoyable than any I have had in my life," Rike jokingly said. The sedate guests in cowboots running up the marble steps.

Ray Fulenwider Rotary Speaker Tuesday Noon

Ray Fulenwider, principal of the Rule High School and acting minister of the Church of Christ in Rule, spoke to members of the Rotary Club last Thursday noon. Using as his subject, 'The Wonders of Our Capitalistic System and the Insidious Encroachment of Socialism Upon Our Great Society,' Mr. Fulenwider showed some very interesting and educational slides he made while vacationing in Virginia and Tennessee during the summer, which revealed the progressiveness of American history from the time Columbus discovered America up to the present date. The slides, which were made at Gatlinburg, Tenn., and Williamsburg, Va., pictured the wax museum designed to show the progress of history. Mr. Fulenwider also told of the current day trends toward socialism. He cited the fact that communism's early day experiences in America proved a failure. "Too many of our people today expect something for nothing," he cited the Tennessee Valley Dam project whereby electrical power costs were just about one-half the normal cost, but in the long run the taxpayers foot the bill," he guest speaker said. "We must protect this wonderful heritage of ours, or we may be like Rip Van Winkle and one of these days wake-up from a long sleep to find we are in an altogether different world," Mr. Fulenwider said. H. V. (Woody) Woodard, president, presided over the meeting. Guests, other than the speaker, at Thursday's meeting, were W. P. McCollum, Haskell High School Principal, Tommy Hester, Mrs. Fulenwider, and student guests of the month, Bobby Watson and Betsy Fouts.

Haskell County Wildcat Has Been Completed

A Haskell County wildcat has been completed as a Swastika Sand discovery 2 miles northwest of Stamford. The strike is J. R. Jennings of Abilene (formerly Harrison & Childress, et al, of Abilene) No. 1 J. M. Cannon. Location is 2310 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west lines of Section 92, Block 1, H&TC Survey. No. 1 Cannon had a three-hour potential of 52 barrels of 40.3 gravity oil. This gave it a calculated daily potential of 416 barrels. Flow was through a 16-64" choke and from an open hole. Operator set 4 1/2 inch casing at 2473 feet, top of the pay. Total depth is 2480 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 400-1. Jennings plans to drill two off-sets to the discovery. No. 2 J. M. Cannon will be drilled 660 feet north of the discovery. No. 3 Cannon will be 660 feet east of the strike. Harrison & Childress, et al, filed application to re-enter to 4650 feet, the original total depth, at a regular field project five miles northwest of Stamford. It is No. 5 W. Marugg, located on a 310-acre lease. The planned Strawn test is located 330 feet from the south and 5797 feet from the west lines of George Harris Survey 50. The venture was originally drilled as Robinson Drilling Co. No. 1 Will Marugg and plugged in 1957.
