

BANK MARTIN REPORTS 1965 ECONOMIC CATTLE OUTLOOK

During the first 10 months of commercial beef production as 12 percent above the months of 1963. All class-cattle showed significant gains in slaughter. Producer and heifer beef under inspection through 1964, was up 13 percent from a year earlier and 18 percent from 2 years earlier.

Increased beef production in 1964 has had its effect on prices received by farmers. Ranchers, Frank Marshall County Agent, re- Tuesday.

Production in 1965 will be up 2 to 3 percent over 1964, he said. However, it will be slightly less than 1964 because of the slaughter because of weights than in the part of 1964, Martin said.

Number of cattle and on Jan. 1, 1965, will be 106.3 million, up from 106.3 million on Jan. 1, 1961. The forecast is that number will be somewhere between 106.5 and 107.0 million.

Slowdown in numbers from increased slaughter and further decreases in live animals. The cattle cycle may be approaching its peak. The present increase in numbers began in 1964 following the wide-spread drought which was broken in 1964.

Large part of the gain in 1965, inventory will be from the 1964 calf crop. Beef cow numbers will also show an increase.

Large slaughter in 1965 is expected to increase slightly over 1964 assuming normal range conditions. It will take a 4 percent increase in 1965 slaughter to a down-turn in cattle numbers.

Relatively stable period in numbers on farms and ranches would remain fairly healthy for the industry than a strong run in numbers.

October 1, 1964, there were 6.5 million cattle and on feed in the major states, 2 percent less than the same date a year ago.

However, this is 8 percent above the number on feed in 1963, two years ago, the County Agent stated. The number of fed cattle in 1965 will be 106.3 million, or 10 percent above the number on feed during 1964. The present price differential between fed cattle and slaughter cattle likely is ending large placements in the present quarter (October, November and December) of 1965.

If placements are not substantially in the present quarter of 1964, fed cattle market likely will remain large the first few months of 1965.

Placements of feeder cattle into the Corn Belt have been running substantially above year-earlier levels in recent months. The number of calves available for feeding will still be up on Jan. 1, 1965. If profit margins are carried into 1965, placements in the first quarter of 1965 may be large.

Prices of fed cattle should remain current levels into 1965. Large increases in cattle marketings later in 1965 may push prices down. After cattle prices, after some strength in late 1964 and early September, fell slightly in October, because of the increase in placements and feeder shipment into the Corn Belt states up 17 percent in July and up 21 percent in August from a year earlier. Many of these did not go into the feedlots, but to stalk fields. Many of these cattle will be placed on feed as soon as cleanup operations are completed and weather conditions will no longer permit cattle to remain in the fields.

Prices for feeder cattle will continue under pressure in early 1965, since there is a plentiful supply of cattle available for feeding. Wheat pastures have also been slow to develop in some areas of the United States and as a result, the demand for stockers has been less, Martin concluded.

MV Inspection Deadline Just Around Corner

Coincident with his report of six persons injured and estimated property damage of $5,850 in seven accidents in Haskell County during January, Sgt. Frank Jirek, state highway patrol supervisor headquartered here, reminded Monday of the imminent motor vehicle inspection deadline.

Haskell County escaped a fatal traffic accident last month, but has recorded its first 1965 motor vehicle victim in February.

April 15 is the deadline and there will be no extensions, for having a motor vehicle inspected to denote mechanical malfunctions if any exist, Sgt. Jirek pointed out.

During the past five and a half months, only 1,500,000, or 40 per cent, of the 4,500,000 registered vehicles in Texas were inspected, the Sergeant said.

If the number of uninspected vehicles were divided evenly among the 5,200 inspection stations in Texas, each would have approximately 520 vehicles to inspect in about 40 working days, or 13 vehicles per day, Sgt. Jirek reported.

Motorists should have their vehicles inspected without delay to avoid the inconveniences of waiting lines, he advised on Monday.

JAPAN'S AMAZING RECOVERY TOLD BY EXCHANGE STUDENT

Japan may lack resources, but the Japanese are resourceful, as evidenced by that nation's amazing economic development out of the chaos of World War II, and there is "somewhat more to Japan than transistor radios and Geisha girls."

This was the message with a truly Rotary International flavor of intercontinental understanding expertly delivered to Haskell Rotarians Thursday by John Sakoh, engaging young graduate student at H-SU, Abilene.

Sakoh, a graduate of the University of Tokyo, where his father is a professor now, is working toward an M. A. in economics at H-SU, and will himself return to Japan to join the faculty of his Japanese alma mater.

The tiny island of Japan, short on land as the 20th ranking nation in size in the world, ranks seventh in number of people with 100 million, and most of them have worked together in the 20 years since World War II to rebuild their almost totally destroyed homeland, Sakoh declared.

Even though only 18 per cent of tiny Japan is tillable, and the average farm is but 2 1/2 acres, Japanese farmers feed their own without importing food, he pointed out.

Japan in 20 years has risen to fourth place in the world behind the United States, USSR, and West Germany, in industrial development, though their national income is low, $18-billion annually, compared with the $428 billion annual income of this country. Still, the income of the Japanese already is the best in Asia, and fifth in the world at $18 billion, the H-SU graduate student emphasized.

Sakoh credits the high ratio of literacy and education beyond the high school in Japan with the phenomenal economic growth of his nation since World War II, and similarly, declared that Communistic influence prevalent in the Japanese government has diminished with improvement of the general economy.

He pointed with justifiable pride to the fact that Japanese self-help has been more evident than that of West Germany, though both have been the recipients of U. S. aid. "Japan could not have recovered without U. S. help," he stressed, but he reminded that whereas West Germany received $25-billion in U. S. help, $1-billion went to the Japanese. That is only one-twenty-fifth," smiled Sakoh, speaking in halting, but understandable English.

Conveying an interesting insight into Japanese traits of character, Sakoh said most all his people have washing machines and TV sets, but few refrigerators, because, unlike American women, most wives stay home, do not work, buy perishables day-by-day at the store and cook them and have no need to keep food stored for days, weeks, months, or a year. And there is a scarcity of cars because Japanese terrain is rugged, the roads narrow and winding, but the subways and trains good, he reported.

Enroute to Haskell from Abilene, Sakoh told his host, Tom Barfield, who secured him as a speaker. "You would not be popular in Japan with a car as big as this, because you would be branded a road hog."

Wage scales are low in Japan, said Sakoh, recalling that a man and wife there, both working for a national utility company, made $3.67 per day between them. "A U. S. worker makes that much in an hour if you're joined to the union," he laughed. At the same time, the same Japanese couple has all the appliance comforts of a U. S. home. U. S. goods and food is three times the prices paid for the same in Japan, he reminded.

Sakoh concluded his appearance here generously answering a barrage of questions from Haskell Rotarians, some of whom were transients in Japan in 1945-47, courtesy of Uncle Sam.

Robert B. (Bob) Terrell, with Holden Funeral Home here, was introduced as a new member. Roy Johnson, president, was in charge.

Rayburn Cook Is Now Assigned At Walker AF Base

The sergeant attended Haskell High School. His wife is the former Aiko Fukuda, of Japan.

A ORGANIZATION IS IN ITS THIRTY-SIXTH YEAR IN TEXAS

The Future Farmers of America organization is in its 36th year in Texas. There are 40,482 members studying vocational agriculture in 875 high schools in Texas. In these vocational agriculture classes, students are given an opportunity to receive technical and scientific training in agriculture as well as leadership and cooperation.

was found that 86 per cent of the vocational agriculture students who graduated from high school last year and were available for employment, are now in full-time farming or in agricultural related occupations. Approximately one-half of this number are in fulltime farming.

Agriculture today is more than farming. It involves those who process and distribute many agricultural goods. Many people are employed in agricultural occupations such as engineers, scientists, management personnel, sales and service personnel and educators. Also there are over 60,000 desirable openings each year for farm operators, farm engineers and full-time hired farm labor.

Membership has grown from 25,043 in 1950 to 40,482 in 1964. The largest growth has been in the last three years, an increase of over 3,500. Recent study conducted by George Hurt, State Director Vocational Agriculture, it

These people need a sound education and a continuing education to help keep them abreast of the rapidly changing technical and management aspects of farming.

Born June 2, 1912, in Sulphur Springs, he had lived in Childress a number of years. He was a member of the First Baptist Church there.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Etta Sartin, of Childress; three sisters, Mrs. Mike Pennell and Mrs. Joe Sims, both of Childress, and Mrs. Floyd Thomas, of Fort Worth; a stepdaughter, Barbara.

NOW WILL THE REAL 'THANG' PLEASE STAND (SHOW) UP...

Two exponents of the character and contour of wild life extant in Haskell County made known, coincidentally, recently within minutes of each other, widely divergent views about the infamous Haskell County Varmint, also known as "The Haskell Rascal," or more bluntly, "The Thang."

To the Haskell Free Press came a caller and a letter almost simultaneously to report their studied opinions of "The Thang."

The caller was Dude Gay, widely reputed as a wolf and coyote hunter, who has left varmint pelts by the hundreds to fence posts of this area.

Gay, who has been a staunch disbeliever in the existence of any extraordinarily large animal, mountain lion type in this territory, declared, "You rascal! — the one Sheriff Garrett and you all was lookin' for over in Stonewall County is hangin' to a fence post out at Clois Thomas' place three miles north of here. He and me and Gene Grand and John Wallace (all Haskellites) killed it last Friday night after one of our dogs jumped it in a wheatfield three miles east of Rotan."

Gay's reported "Thang" was a mere bobcat, weighing 30 pounds, real deadweight. Quite a contrast to the longtime Haskell County hunter's estimate of the Haskell Rascal's "vital statistics" was the picture drawn by Roger F. McIver, 1926 South 20th Street, in Abilene, whose sketch projected the Haskell County Varmint with a chassia like that of "a full grown bull and having the head and tail of a mountain lion. Others who have said they

NOW WILL THE REAL 'THANG' PLEASE STAND (SHOW) UP...

Friday night after one of our dogs jumped it in a wheatfield three miles east of Rotan."

Accompanying his drawing of "The Thang," the Abilenian writes, "I thought you might want to see what he looks like. You will say that it is exaggerated, but I say that if he can kill and drag a 200 or 300 pound yearling and eat it all at one setting, I say it is under-exaggerated. Since I am an expert on varmints, my advice to the amateur hunter is to leave him strictly alone, or they will make a MAN EATER OUT OF HIM. I would like to hear from you on this."

3 Vacancies On Weinert Board Will Be Filled

Weinert's Board of Educa-tion, in its most recent session, called a trustee election to be held at the Weinert School on Saturday, April 3, Douglas My-ers, superintendent of Weinert Schools, has announced.

Three vacancies will exist on the school board with the ex-pirations of the terms of office of T. E. Reeves, Wallace Boone, and D. H. Carroll. Both Reeves and Boone have indicated their intentions of seeking re-election to new three-year terms in of-office. Mr. Carroll, for reasons of health, had said he does not wish to be a candidate.

Other candidates seeking a school board post in Weinert may declare for office by ob-taining the necessary applica-tion forms at the office of Su-perintendent Myers prior to March 3, the last day for filing, the superintendent announced Monday.

WAYNE BINGHAM

Wayne Bingham, Munday Mentor, Going To Breck

Wayne Bingham, 28-year-old head coach at Munday, recently was named by the Brecken-ridge school board as head football coach.

Bingham replaces Ken Mc-Cullough who resigned at mid-term.

A graduate of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, Bingham has been at Munday for the past four years. He compiled a 32-10 record there and won one District champion-ship.

The district title, which came in 1962, enabled Bingham to share coach-of-the-year honors on the Abilene Reporter-News Class A All-Area team. Munday's Moguls ran up a 9-2 record that year.

Bingham's term at Brecken-ridge will begin, according to reports, as soon as he can get a release from his Munday contract. No plans have been announced concerning his assist-ant.

Bingham graduated from Goo-ree high school in 1954 and at- tended Cameron (Okla.) Junior College for two years before moving to Midwestern. He is married and has two sons—Kirk, nine, and Kevin, 18 months.

Cancer Center Work Continues At Brisk Pace

Haskell Cancer Center, one of three such service units in the entire State of Texas recognized recently for its achievements, had 18 dedicated volunteer workers at its Thursday afternoon work sessions during January, Mrs. Perry Spenny, supervisor, reported Monday.

The cancer center, located on the third floor of the Haskell County Courthouse, provides bandages and other necessary supplies to cancer patients throughout this area. Old sheets and pillow cases continue to be needed by the volunteers who use them in their preparation of these continuously expendable supplies.

Mrs. Florence Darden, service chairman for the center here, has advised that anyone having a need for bandages not now receiving supplies should contact her at Phone 864-2713 in Haskell.

Participating in work sessions from 2 to 4 p. m. Thursdays during January were: Mmes. J. H. Montgomery, John Brock, W. B. Wilson, W. E. Brady, Beatrice Livengood, Ira Davis, J. R. Davis, J. B. Edwards, Ed Hester, Spenny, Jim Darden, R. R. Overton, Eva Cain, J. V. Patterson, Bonnie Buntyn, Alice Mayes, Floy McMeans and Zelma Price.

Larry Hinds Is Recipient Of Honors Galore

Larry Hinds, outstanding senior at Paducah High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Hinds, of Paducah and Haskell, is the recent recipient of a series of honors for achievement in musical and scholastic endeavors.

The accomplished student, whose father is advertising manager of the Free Press, and former publisher of the Paducah Post, has been selected as a member of the Tenth Annual All-Senior Honor Band made up of graduating seniors from Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

As a member of the band, young Hinds will appear in concert in the Main auditorium on the campus of East Texas State College in Commerce on Saturday night, Feb. 20.

Young Hinds also was awarded a certificate for having a performance in classes through first semester at Paducah School.

Another tribute paid to a standing ovation was a fellow pianist played "Concerto" on the stage at the Euterpean armory, Paducah, last week.

'BUSINESS POPULATION' UP 8% IN COUNTY DURING PAST YEAR

Haskell County's "business population," the number of wholesalers, manufacturers, and retailers listed for the county, has increased 8 percent during the past year, A. J. Hemphill, district manager of the Fort Worth office of Dun and Bradstreet, has announced.

According to Hemphill, a physical count of businesses in this county showed 214 for January, 1956, compared with 199 this time last year.

Dun and Bradstreet, Hemphill pointed out, lists those manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers who seek or grant commercial credit, but it does not include some of the service and professional businesses such as beauty and barber shops, security dealers, and real estate brokers.

During the past year, Hemphill's report showed, 124 changes were made in D&B listings of Haskell County businesses, including 41 names added, 36 names deleted, and 47 changes in the ratings of continuing businesses. The changes occurring in Haskell County are about even with the rest of the country, where a change of business significance is counted every five seconds, Hemphill advised.

Using D&B Reference Book listings as a guide, here is what has happened, business population-wise, in Haskell County communities during the past year:

	Jan. '65	Jan. '64	Pct. Inc.
Haskell	122	108	13%
O'Brien	13	10	30%
Rochester	25	25
Rule	42	46	- 9%
Sargent	6	5	20%
Weinert	6	5	20%
