Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO (May 30, 1935)

The Haskell Braves captured undisputed possession of first place in the Wichita Valley baseball league Sunday when they eked out a win over the Munday Moguls by a score of 2 to 1.

Miss Mary Couch arrived home Tuesday, and will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Couch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Haynes announce the marriage of their daughter, Oma B. to Mr. C. W. Bledsoe on Sunday, May 26. Mr. Bledsoe is employed at the Midget Cafe. Miss Haynes has been operating a beauty shop in Haskell at the present time.

Dorothy Sego and Vida Lee Nichols are planning to enter summer school at Alpine.

Mrs. Wallace Ruff entertained the Sew and Sew Club Tuesday afternoon for their regular meeting. After an enjoyable afternoon spent in sewing and conversation, the hostess served a delightful refreshment plate of fruit, salad, crackers, banana fruit cake and iced tea to Mrs. Hudson Pittman, Emmett Starr, Bill Woodson, Rogers Gilstrap, Holt Eastland, Bob Herren, Jr., Carl Arbuckle, J. H. Pickett, and a guest, Mrs. Ora Phippen.

Mrs. E. Hassen was returned to her home here Tuesday from the Scott & White Sanitarium, where she underwent a major operation.

In order to acquaint farmers with the results accomplished on their recent march to Washington, D. M. Guinn, Sagerton; B. Walters, Rule; and Jessie B. Smith, delegates, will hold meetings in six places in Haskell County beginning next week. A prize will be given to each woman from the club having the largest per cent of its members entering dress and slip in the dress contest June 14, in Haskell.

The local office of the Western Union Telegraph Company, during the past few days, has been busy with much activity as that of the largest city. Mrs. Carrie Moser, local manager, together with an extra relief operator, has been very busy every hour of the day since the opening of the Collier murder case in District Court. Because of the statewide interest in this case, plans were made by the Western Union to handle an extra amount of press matter for the daily newspapers and news services, and placed in operation another wire from the Haskell office into Dallas. Other plans were made for expediting the service and handling the extra amount of business from this station, including relief operators for day work, and in this manner the daily newspapers, who have correspondents here, have been able to handle reports of the trial with the utmost efficiency.

County Treasurer J. E. Walling and family accompanied by a number of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Watson and family of Corsicana, T. J. Watson and wife of Rule, parents of Mrs. Walling, Tom Watson and wife of the Watson Drug Company of Rule, Walter Watson and wife, and Elmer C. Watson and family of Post, spent Monday night and Tuesday on Paint Creek fishing and caught a nice lot of fish with the hook-and-line process.

John P. Payne of the Payne Drug Company of this city, and Ralph Rainey, cotton buyer, returned last Thursday from a fishing trip to San Antonio and other South Texas points in search of the place where the "Finny Tribe" was the least apprehensive of bodily harm. No evidence was shown of the fishing trip, but, of course, the big one got away just before he was safely landed. The boys have the sympathy of their many friends.

The second horse racing event of the Haskell County Fair Park track will take place Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Ed Sprouis left Sunday night for Austin, where she will spend several weeks with relatives and friends.

60 YEARS AGO (June 3, 1905)

Miss Bell Rupe honored the Magazine Club with a bunco game last Saturday afternoon. At the close of the game, an ice cream course formed the tempting menu, enjoyed by Mrs. McConnell, Long, R. E. Sherrill, Geo. Fields, Hentz, S. B. Pierson, Scott, Bailey Montgomery, McCollum, Wilson, Adams, Jno. Jones, Baker, Pinkerton, H. R. Jones, Meadors, M. Pierson, W. E. Sherrill, H. Alexander Williams and Misses Fields, Chambliss, Alexander and Elliott.

Wednesday evening, May 31, 1905, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Alexander, Miss Ethel and Mr. Joe Irby, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock. Rev. J. H. Chambliss, officiating. At nine o'clock, Mendelssohn's wedding march was sounded and our friends entered the parlor, which was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. There, in the presence of a few friends and the families, the two young lives were made one. The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of white crepe de chine, lined with white taffeta, and carried in her hand a bouquet of white roses. The groom, too, was very charming in his dress suit and white gloves. After congratulations and best wishes had been extended to the happy pair, a feast, fit for the gods, was served.

A special sermon to the graduating class will be delivered at the Christian Church, June 4, both morning and evening. Subject for 11:00 a. m. is "What Is Life," the theme for the night discussion. "Why Young People Should Attend College." Special music will be rendered at both services.

The trustees of the Haskell Independent School District have sold the $14,500 bonds issued to provide for the construction of our new school building.

W. H. Srafer, one of the prosperous farmers of Wild Horse Prairie, was doing business in town Thursday.

Federal Aid To Education

The new federal aid to education bill—a measure which, of its kind, is unprecedented in scope, cost and purpose... is now law.

It remains to be seen how much further the federal government will go in its invasion of the educational world—and what effect there will be on local responsibility and authority. But, looking at the statistics, it is difficult to see what need there is for the federal government to play a Big Brother role in the educational scheme of things.

In the last decade, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States reports, spending on public schools increased 157 per cent, while enrollment rose only 43 per cent. About 95 per cent of the increased spending came from local and state taxes and bonds, and only 5 per cent from the federal government. Every sign indicates that during coming years, states and communities will have the resources to meet educational needs and demands.

Federal aid to education, on a big scale, is simply part of the trend toward giving more authority to the central government. It is a trend that is gradually and surely destroying the traditional concept of the division of powers and responsibilities among governments.

Education And Employment

Unemployment remains at worrisome levels. Yet, in many fields, there is a serious shortage of workers.

That seeming paradox is easily explained. "Education" and "training" are key words in today's labor market. And great numbers of people, including the young, simply aren't qualified.

The Labor Department has issued a revealing report listing the 70 occupations in which demand is greatest and detailing the requirement. In only four of these groups is a high school education not demanded, and even in these, two of high school plus special training is a must.

The largest number requires completion of high school along with additional training. The next largest calls for a college degree, or equivalent, plus further education and training.

The moral is plain enough. There is small in this technological economy for the untrained, the ill-trained, or the little educated. Sylvia Porter struck the right note when, in summing-up the Labor Department findings, she wrote: "The warning to you, America's youth, couldn't be clearer. Your whole working life tomorrow will depend on the amount of education and training you get today. Don't doom yourself!"

TAXPAYER REVOLT APPROACHING

All around the country, the state legislatures have been meeting this year... to the dismay of many a humble taxpayer. For there is hardly a state that isn't searching for new, or increased sources of revenue. Sales taxes, income taxes, property taxes, liquor and cigarette taxes, gasoline taxes... the trend in all is upward.

So, the taxpayers may begin to pay much closer attention to what their legislators ask and want and do than has been the case in the past. According to Newsweek, "Together, the 50 states (and localities) will spend upwards of $70 billion this year (and are expected to match total Federal outlays by 1970) for programs and services that sometimes meet the test of adequacy, but seldom the test of excellence."

The problem is one that may be described as a mixture of quantity and quality. On the one hand there is the matter of how much state and local government can and should do... and on the other the matter of how efficiently they do it. And there certainly is a limit to how much money can be bled from the taxpayers... a limit we are approaching if we haven't actually reached it.

It's time the taxpayer cast a wary and critical eye on the state house, the courthouse, and the city hall, no less than the capital in Washington.

New Legislation Will Strengthen Texas Employment Commission

The enactment of Senate Bill 316 will greatly improve the position of the Texas Employment Commission in the collection of delinquent unemployment taxes. W. S. Birdwell, Jr., the employer representative on the Commission, declared today.

"By strengthening the Commission's ability to collect delinquent taxes, this legislation will help to maintain the solvency of the trust fund set aside to sustain workers unemployed through no fault of their own through periods of unemployment and to eliminate the inequity which has forced responsible employers in Texas to carry the load for those employers who refuse to pay their unemployment insurance taxes," Birdwell said.

Sponsored by Senator Culp Krueger and Representative Raleigh Brown, the legislation signed last week by Gov. Connally provides that delinquent unemployment taxes, penalty and interest, owed by an employer shall become a lien upon all of the property, real and personal, of such employer. In the past, the law established a lien only against the property used by the employer in the operation of the business, and in many instances the delinquent employer owned no property used in the business. The legislation also provides that delinquent unemployment taxes, penalty and interest, constitute a debt against the State collectible from money owed by the State to the delinquent employer, such as gasoline tax refunds.

The new legislation, which becomes effective on July 1st, 1965, provides that judgments for taxes and penalties shall bear interest at 6% per annum and that employers who are delinquent after judgment shall make bond before continuing to employ workers. It also permits the Commission to sue for taxes owed another state by a Texas employer if that state will sue for taxes owed Texas by one of its employers.

Pipelines

BY EVA GABOR*

Father's Day Gift: A French Briar Pipe
With a 3-Carat Diamond in the Stem...

asked George Jessel, one time when he was on the Johnny Carson show with me, and George said, "My grandmother smoked a pipe and I liked her very much." But neither of these men are pipe smokers. So I went to Bennett Cerf who smokes a pipe all the time. First I asked him, "Do you, as a publisher, think that men start to smoke a pipe and then become novelists; or do novelists start smoking a pipe because it makes their pictures look so handsome on the paper dust covers of their books?" He thought about this for a long time and then he said in that deliberate, pipe-smoking way of his, "I don't know." How many men do you know who can think that clearly?

Women Pipesmokers?
"Tell me, Bennett," I said, "how do you like it when a woman smokes a pipe?" He said, "I don't mind it until she starts to borrow my tobacco." Then he stopped for a half hour, puffed on his pipe and finally said, "Actually, it might keep them quieter than they are. William Makepeace Thackeray, the English novelist, once wrote, 'the pipe draws wisdom from the lips of the philosopher and shuts-up the mouth of the foolish'. With women smoking pipes we might find some more philosophers... or have a little more quiet."

Men's Best Friend
I know that a dog is a man's best friend, but I also know some men who think that a woman can get a woman to wear your slippers and newspaper when you come home. It is better than a dog, because they find women than dogs is that you have to take them out to walk at night.

men not only like men smoke pipes, they like the pipe tobacco so much of them are starting to smoke themselves. And I did some research on this too. Men like men who smoke a pipe. I wanted to find out if I worked vice versa. So I asked Johnny Carson if he liked a woman who smokes a pipe. He said "I have never met a woman who smokes a pipe. I didn't like." Then I

Many County Libraries Too Small To Accomplish Goals of Service

Miss Elizabeth Karle, of Abilene, representative of the Texas State Library, as a field consultant, field services division, was in Haskell recently for the purpose of stimulating interest in the county library.

The county library movement in the United States has resulted in the formation of hundreds of such units. These are basically library systems—a headquarters, branch or member libraries in small towns, and one or more bookmobiles to serve rural areas. The headquarters performs administrative services for the entire county. Where there had been small public libraries before, the county library system may provide cooperation between all of them, established new local community libraries where appropriate, and provide bookmobile service to bring library service closer to rural and crossroads residents.

But many county libraries are still too small to accomplish the goals of good library service without a disproportionate share of tax revenue. The new library idea of larger systems has been applied to them also. Many of the newer and larger library systems have been built on an existing county system in one or more counties.

Library Cooperation
Library cooperation, in its simplest terms, is two or more libraries working together to accomplish what they cannot do, or cannot do well, separately. Cooperation among libraries is not new. It has been practiced in various forms for over a half century. New ways to work together have been developed over the years to meet specific needs, or to solve specific problems, until now there is a wide range of cooperation among American public libraries.

Why Cooperation?
Why should a small library work with other library organizations?

- (1). Because it can add only a few titles to its book collection each year. The minimum standard of 4,000 is beyond its financial reach.
- (2). It cannot afford library specialists in adult, young adult and children's work. It is doing well if it has one professional librarian on its staff.
- (3). It does not have the resources to handle the more specialized, or difficult reference questions.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

Arborvitae has taken to the country. Many farmers are landscaping with this shrub.

Long stately rows of arborvitae surround three sides of the Willie Burger home north of Haskell on the Knox City road. Not only are hedges of arborvitae attractive, they afford a break from high west Texas winds.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Blake, who live south of Haskell on the Stamford highway, have landscaped their place in arborvitae. Mrs. Blake is beginning to have a nice yard due to this protection.

Buck and Ivy Calloway are another couple who have not been deterred by high winds, from having a lovely yard in the country. Black locust trees afford a shade for the lush green lawn. Flowers planted in tasteful beds surround the house.

All these yards make driving from Haskell a very pleasant pastime.

When one drives to Rule they are attracted by the beautiful yards of Dall and Delmer Williams. Larspur of every shade, poppies and many other flowers frame the lovely brick home. Truly, such yards help to beautify the "good earth."

Rule must have really carried out their Garden Club theme, "Help Make Rule Green." I was over there just after the last rain and was enthralled by so many glowing green plants, and flowers of every description and kind. The trees were deep emerald green, just having had their faces washed by torrential rains.

The Glenn Merchants home on the road to Lake Stamford attracts the attention of passers-by. Glenn and Maggie have made good use of their new home. An orchard is already established. Trees and shrubs are planted. New flowers and plants have been added to planter boxes from time to time. Give the Merchant a few more years, and it will be a beauty spot of Haskell County.

The Lord willing, we will move to Fort Worth Thursday of this week. Since moving to Haskell two years ago, we have renewed old friendships and made many new friends. There will always be a warm place in my heart for Haskell. I'll try to write this column from time to time.

FALLOUT SHELTER BUILT-IN EASILY

A new booklet just issued by the Defense Department's Office of Civil Defense (OCD) describes and illustrates 34 new buildings across the Nation in which "slanting" techniques were used to build-in fallout protection at little or no added cost and without affecting the buildings' looks or efficiency.

The publication, entitled "New Buildings With Fallout Protection" (TR-27), also dispels the notion that a fallout shelter has to be single-purpose, underground and unattractive. It points out that all buildings across the Nation provide some degree of radiation shielding, and many of these contain shelter space in above-ground areas. Many other buildings have weak points in shielding which could have been avoided had knowledge of fallout and protection against it been known at the time of design. Many of the "slanting" techniques of fallout protective design were theoretically proved feasible in two nationwide design competitions, sponsored by OCD in cooperation with architects' and engineers' societies. The theories were put into practice in the 34 buildings cited by the OCD booklet.

Following are some examples of "slanting" techniques:
• Reducing or eliminating windows or placing them high up in a room to cut down direct exposure of occupants to outside radiation, which moves in straight lines.
• Filling hollow walls with a radiation-shielding material such as sand.
• Locating haffle walls in front of outside entrances, and placing inner partitions so that shelter areas would not be exposed to outside radiation.
• Arranging rooms to provide a fallout-protected inner core area.

Small Public Library

It sometimes takes courage as well as foresight for the small library to decide to join a larger unit. But every small public library should be reassured that no small public library on record which has joined a larger system, has ever withdrawn of its own initiative, nor have these small libraries lost their identity.

The rapid growth and spread of cooperation among libraries indicates that it holds the future of good public library service in America. When applied to library cooperation, the man who said, "This is the price of growth," is wrong. There is no "price" to pay other than continued library financial support. The small public library does not disappear in the system, but with the strength of the system behind it, is able to provide improved and greatly expanded service to its community.

Haskell Indians Wallop Rule By Score of 15-3

Thursday night the Haskell Indians got off to another great year of baseball, as they defeated Rule 15-3. In the first inning, Kregor, the first man up, walked, then Ron Josselot hit an "in-the-park" home run. The Indians showed their usual strength in the pitching staff, as Josselot gave up only four hits in the five innings he pitched. Turnbow who relieved Josselot in the fifth, gave up one run on no hits.

The Rule team was plagued by errors all night as they committed six errors. To sum it up, the Indians made a few costly mistakes, but these mistakes did not out-weigh the team's strengths.

Indians 5 6 0 0 4 0—15
Rule 0 1 0 1 0 1—3

Rule got 3 runs on 2 hits, while Haskell got 15 runs on 12 hits.

Cake Baking Part Of Research On Radiation Effects

A Texas Aggie has been baking angel food cakes in modified coffee cans as part of his graduate research work on radiation effects.

Hershel Ball, a 23-year-old graduate student from Burleson, is studying the effects of gamma radiation on the physical and functional properties of egg whites.

"Very little bacterial contamination occurs in fresh eggs," Ball explains. "However, when the egg is removed from the shell, chances for contamination increase several fold. Eggs, either the whites, yolk or blends, can be pasteurized by heating, similar to the process used to pasteurize milk. Scientists have recently discovered that gamma radiation can also be used effectively for pasteurization of eggs."

Gamma radiation is an energetic ray. Just like heat or light is an energy. Certain levels of gamma radiation will sterilize the exposed eggs.

The poultry science student is trying to determine the effects of radiation pasteurization on egg white performance by baking miniature angel-food cakes. He has baked over 200 of the coffee-can-cakes in his studies.

Ball checks the volume of foam when the radiated egg whites are whipped. The stability, viscosity, surface tension and other characteristics of the egg whites, radiated and non-radiated are checked to determine the effects of radiation pasteurization on their functional ability. The volume, texture and height of each cake baked are measured.

The graduate student feels gamma radiation has a bright future in the field of pasteurization.

Two troops of Junior Girl Scouts, Nos. 464 and 465, journeyed to Dallas' State Fair Music Hall on Wednesday, May 26, to attend the matinee performance of "Hello, Dolly," starring Texas' own Mary Martin.

The girls traveled in 11 cars, leaving Haskell at 7:30 a. m. on Wednesday morning and returning somewhat later that night. Each girl took a "nose-bag" lunch and the board was spread in Fort Worth's Forest Park. Traveling in caravan, the girls were treated to several humorous experiences. After lunch, the caravan proceeded to Dallas.

The performance, one of a record-breaking series for stage box offices, was a musical delight for all. Costumes and scenery were outstanding, eye-catching and colorful. Miss Martin's captivating performance was supported by a superb international cast including Loring Smith, Carleton Carpenter, Marilyn Lovell, Mark Alden, Judith Drake and Beverlee Weir, who presented some of the most delightful music of the season. To make the event even more memorable, each girl was able to obtain Miss Martin's autograph.

Following the performance, the scouts had dinner at Youngblood's Restaurant, across the street from the Music Hall, and began the round trip home. The trip was made possible through the use of Troop Funds collected through the year by the girls in dues, Cookie Sale and Calendar Sales.

Girls making the trip were: Bonnie Lou Adkins, Debbie Burson, Judy Blair, Gomis Berry, Debbie Brown, Pam Colbert, Helen Mary Cadenhead, Tammy Cox, Katie Darnell, Penny Darnell, Paulette Dick, Julia Dulaney, Mary Ann Elliott, Rebecca Finch, Karen Felker, Betty Fore, Bobette Franklin, Susan Gilleland, Pat Harris, Sharon Hise, Linda Hartsfield, Pam Klose, Beth Lowery, Lynda Lane, Judy Lehde, Lujean Lane, Nancy McFadden, Paula Middleton, Nancy Kay Middleton, Cathy Money, Pamela Money, Cene McDonald, Jamie Mullins, Brenda Nanny, Sheila Parsons, Denise Perry, Karen Pippin, Linda Powell, Michelle McGowan, Susie McAdoo, Becky Ray, Cathy Rieves, Rita Sanchez, Diane Sammons, Suzanne Thomas, Diane Tidwell, Theresa Thomas, Ann Minor, Janis Clouton, Vicki Wilcox.

Accompanying the scouts were Mrs. Royce Adkins, Mrs. Frank Cadenhead, Mrs. Bob Colbert, Mrs. Jean Elliott, Mrs. Bobby Franklin, Mrs. Hess Hartsfield, Mrs. Burnell Gilleland, Mrs. Brooks Middleton, Mrs. Wibert Klose, Mrs. Clois Thomas, Mrs. Carrie Williams, Miss Dianne Cadenhead, Miss Betty Fouts, and the Troop leaders for the two troops, Mrs. Jack Pippin, Mrs. Henry Harris and Mrs. Allen Rieves.

Naomi SS Class Holds Meeting In Clanton Home

The Naomi Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church met in the home of Miss Betty Clanton, their teacher, May 28, for the monthly social and business meeting.

Mrs. Ruby Smith, class president, called the meeting to order and business was discussed. Reports from class officers were given. Mrs. Elsie Eastland led the opening prayer. Mrs. Maurice Gannaway brought the devotional for the evening using the poem, "Unaware," by Emma A. Lints. The poem was based on the Scripture, Matt. 25:40, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me." We all, each day, have many opportunities to serve Jesus if we are only aware of them.

Following the program, the class enjoyed an hour of fellowship and singing hymns. Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, roasted nuts, olives and coffee were served to members. Mmes. Elsie Eastland, Freddie Ballard, Betty Harris, Brucille Nellums, Opal Stephenson, Katherine Schwartz, Clara Biard, Helen Oates, Ruby Smith, Lorene Fouts, Opal Adkins, Maurice Gannaway, Lucille Gannaway, Ethel Lou Shelton, and Miss Betty Jo Clanton, Group No. 3 were hostesses.

PRACTICAL SHORT CUTS ARE KEY TO TIME MANAGEMENT

When it comes to home management, many homemakers of all ages rate "lack of time" as their biggest home-front problem. Let the clothes dryer and freshen shag rugs, bedspreads, pillows and peries. A few minutes in the dryer will take you outside on a windy day. "A desire for a change in working methods is a successful change," the specialist says.

This was revealed in a recent government survey, where three of every five women polled listed the element of time as their major concern. You can run your home in less time by finding ways to stretch time through practical short cuts, says Mrs. Elsie Short, Texas A&M University Extension home management specialist.

It may take some time and special work by each homemaker to find short cuts which will work best, however, the specialist says. "Learning to dovetail your tasks can save time—but this requires some study for efficient time use. Knowing how long it takes to make a bed, clean a refrigerator, to vacuum a floor or dust the furniture, will make dovetailing of tasks much easier. You may want to do the dusting while a cake is baking and clean the refrigerator while the cake cools for the icing. You may see the cake while you listen to the news report or a favorite program," Mrs. Short says.

When preparing food, it takes only a little more time to prepare two dishes—one for immediate use and one for the freezer.

Save steps and time by keeping a portable container for often-used cleaning supplies and keep it ready to be carried to any area where it might be needed.

Outdoor Look Is Popular This Season

The outdoor look is "in" this summer, and women's fashions are capitalizing on many aspects of this trend.

Young and active looks are found in every sportswear category, says Lynn Parks, Texas A&M University Extension consumer education specialist.

"You may be a surf-watcher instead of a surf-rider, but you will find the nation's newest beach sport is an important influence in swim wear designs. The surfing look is reflected in many tailored two-piece suits," Miss Parks says.

These suits feature such surfer design notes as flap pockets, lace-up ties at the waist, and boy-leg trunks banded with white fabric trim. Suits come in sturdy cotton denim, madras plaid, and duck.

Because real surfers like their suits to look faded, one new swim wear fabric is an all-cotton twill with a special weather-faded look.

Another popular trend in sportswear is the nautical look. Both sailors and non-sailors will take to one trim-fitting sporty outfit—bell-bottomed pants and blazer jacket in cotton sailcloth.

For riding the range-on horseback or on the seat of a bicycle—there's the ranching look. It's interpreted in cotton stretch wrangler pants and Western-tailored shirts. And, whether you're a golfer or not, you'll like the casual comfort of stylish new golfing ensembles, worn with cotton knit T-shirts.

Improvement Conference Is Held At A&M

More than 100 persons from all over the state will attend the Coordination of Beef Improvement Conference, July 19-20.

The session, to be held at A&M University and the Ramada Inn, is a continuation of A&M's annual Live-Stock and Meat Marketing Institute and the Beef Cattle Course.

Uvacek, Extension live-stock marketing specialist in the Agricultural Economics Department, said the general theme is "Economic Opportunities in a Changing Market for Cattle and Beef."

The conference is sponsored by the American National Cattlemen's Association, Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' Association, and Texas A&M.

Uvacek said a special feature is a series of five workshops dealing with coordination of marketing volume and quality and its effect on price, reducing cost and waste in cattle and beef marketing, education of and meeting consumer needs, coordination of market information, and alternative systems for marketing cattle and beef.

Three noted economists will head a speaking lineup of more than 25 beef industry leaders. The economists are George L. Mehren, assistant secretary of agriculture; Raymond J. Doll, vice president and senior economist of the Federal Reserve Bank in Kansas City; and Paul L. Farris, project leader in meats and poultry for the National Commission on Food Marketing.

June Brings Abundance Of Dairy Foods

Just because it's June might be the reason milk and other dairy foods are in such big supply now, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

June is the usual month when milk production is at its peak. That's why June is Dairy Month. When milk is especially plentiful, you also can expect a big supply of such other dairy products as cream, whipping cream, cheese, cottage cheese and ice cream.

Also reported plentiful during June by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service are seasonal vegetables and broiler-fryers.

Fresh vegetables always perk up mealtime. Right now, home and nearby commercial gardens are pouring forth a wide variety of vegetables to help brighten your meals. Use them generously.

Broiler-fryers are ideal for popular early-summer cookouts. Remember, June is National Barbecue Month. Broiler marketings are forecast heavier than last year when prices to producers were at a near-record low.

Keep June Dairy Month and National Barbecue Month in mind when you shop, and take special notice of the vegetable counter — for all the eating pleasures of June.

Watch For The June Dollar Day Circular

When you receive your June four-page dollar day circular, be sure to check it carefully, and by all means "hang on to it" as you could be a "Treasure Hunt" winner.

The Retail Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, along with cooperating merchants, have worked out a "Treasure Hunt" promotion in Haskell by combining programs with the monthly Dollar Day.

All 8,500 circulars for the June Dollar Day, printed by the Haskell Free Press, will be numbered. Merchants will be given a card by the Chamber of Commerce office listing four numbers. One, or all of these numbers will match the number on a circular. Merchants will display their card toward the back of their store—but in a place that can be easily seen.

Participating merchants will list in their "Dollar Day" ad, the prize, or prizes to be given away.

Residents, all over this wide trade area, who receive Dollar Day circulars should watch for the June Dollar Day, big 4-page circular and look it over with an "eagle-eye" — not only to check the many, many bargains—but the number you find printed on the circular could make you a "Treasure Hunt" winner.

Regular Season Control For Cotton Insects

Cotton should be checked weekly by examining about 100 squares at least one-third grown. Squares should be selected at random from several representative areas of the field. When 15 to 25 per cent or more have weevil punctures, begin treatment. Apply insecticides at five-day intervals.

After one-third grown squares are present and egg laying has started, infestations may still be confined to small areas of the field in some cases.

Check your field carefully, if punctured squares are found in only a portion of the field, spray only that area. The spot treatment method where applicable is cheaper and beneficial insects are not affected in the unsprayed areas of the field.

Annual Coastal Bermuda Hay Day Slated June 11th

The Annual Coastal Bermuda Hay Day will be held Friday, June 11, at the Witchcraft Farms located at the intersection of Highway 368 and the Wichita River.

All hay to be judged in the hay judging contest will be tagged with name, date of cutting, type of hay, and will be delivered and placed in the barn at Witchcraft Farms by 1:00 p. m., Friday, June 11.

All persons interested in Coastal Bermuda Hay and related equipment are urged to attend. A larger display of equipment and additional competent growers and authorities in this field are expected to attend.

Contact Jim Harwell at the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce or B. T. Haws, County Agent, for additional information.

Star-spangled way to make your money grow

Plant some of your cash in U. S. Savings Bonds and start your own private money tree. It won't mushroom overnight like a beanstalk. But once the seed is planted, it'll keep on growing at a steady pace. You'll cultivate interest at a guaranteed rate—3 3/4% when grown to maturity—so your tree won't have any pesky ups and downs to stunt its growth.

The tax bug won't worry you, either. Savings Bonds aren't subject to state or local income taxes, and the federal tax can be deferred until you cash your Bonds.

The best thing about this money tree is the star-spangled fruit it bears. While your tree is growing, it's helping your country grow, too, and helping to make your own future more secure. If U. S. Savings Bonds sound good to you, plant now. The growing season is year-round.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- ✓ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- ✓ You can get your money when you need it
- ✓ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- ✓ You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

SIX FLAGS OVER TEXAS IS NOW OPEN SEVEN DAYS PER WEEK

Six Flags Over Texas is now open seven days a week. Operating hours for the popular tourist attraction, located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth, is from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

The 1965 season at SIX FLAGS, which began April 16, has already furnished Park officials with some healthy signs of another banner year, according to attendance reports and license plate surveys taken over the past five weeks.

Despite the rainy weather that has plagued the area during this time, the worst in Six Flags' four-year history, attendance is still running higher, with 175,077 visitors to date as compared to 169,770 last year.

The percentage of out-of-state visitors is up 33 per cent over a year ago. Kansas has now taken over the number three spot right behind Oklahoma and Louisiana, in percentage of tourists visiting Six Flags. Arkansas is fourth, followed by California, Illinois, New Mexico, Missouri, Ohio, Michigan and Colorado.

"The large increase of visitors, especially from the Mid-western and Western states, is a solid indicator of Six Flags' continued growth and recognition as one of the nation's top tourist attractions," said Angus G. Wynne, Jr., president of Great Southwest Corp., owners and operators of the 115-acre theme Park.

Six Flags was recently ranked as the number one tourist attraction in the State of Texas with more than 5,000,000 visitors since opening in 1961. Anticipated attendance for the 1965 season is in excess of 1.8 million.

State Draft Quota For June Is Up

The state draft quota for June is 695, compared to 639 in May, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

The June call of 695 men is the biggest since January 1964, when 812 Texans were directed to report for military service.

The June call is the Texas share of a national quota for 17,000 men, all for the Army.

The state Selective Service director also announced that state draft boards will forward 3,338 males for Army mental-physical examinations in May, 535 of whom will be 18 year olds.

These tests for 18 year olds are the result of President Johnson's action in 1964 which ordered the Director of Selective Service and the Secretary of Defense to examine all newly registered men who are out of school and available for service. Males married at age 18 and those known to be in school at that age will not be examined.

Col. Schwartz stressed that these youths will not be considered for the armed forces at this time. Normally, draft for service is about age 22.

The June quotas already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES FOR JUNE 6

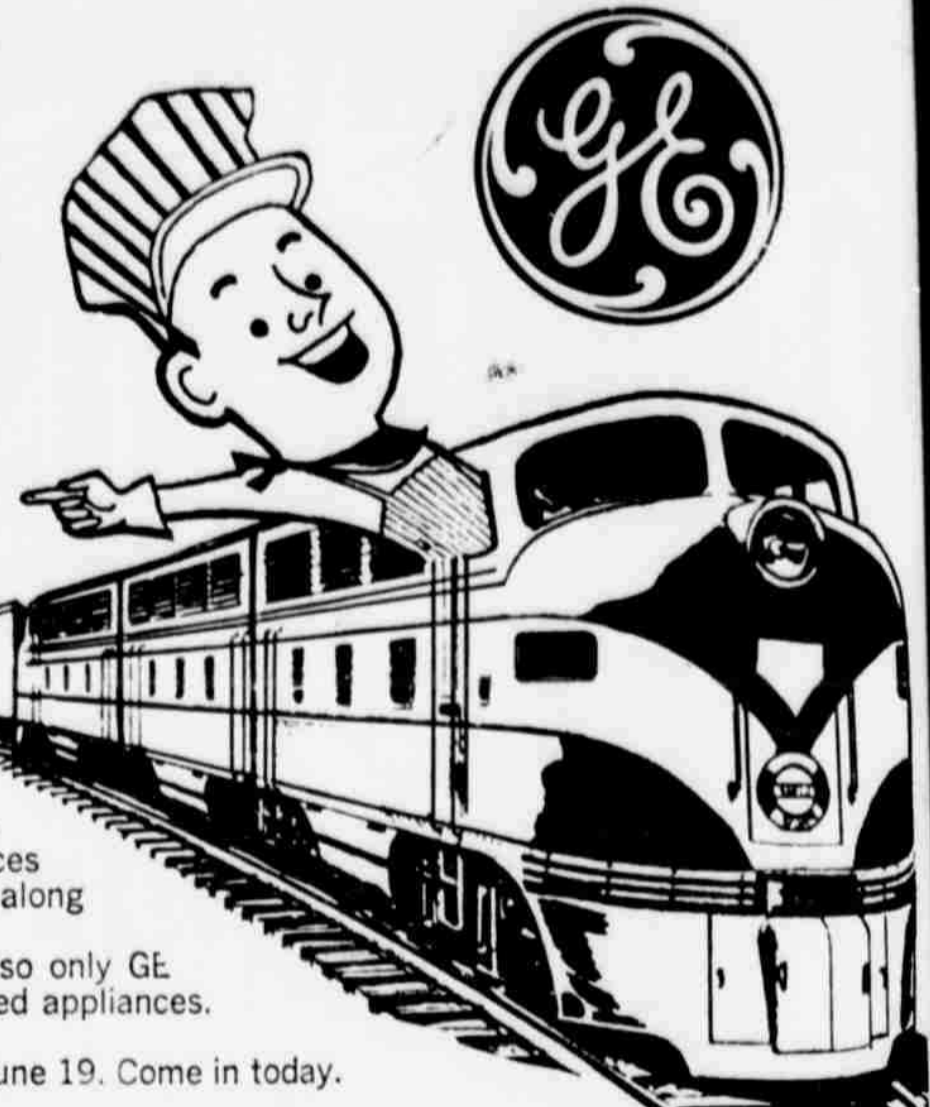

The healing of the "man which was taken with a palsy" told by Luke (Ch. 5), will be featured in the Bible lesson to be read at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (145:9, 17): "The Lord is good to all; and his tender mercies are over all his works... the Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will include the following: "Immortal Mind is the only cause; therefore disease is neither a cause nor an effect. Mind in every case is the eternal God, good. Sin, disease, and death have no foundations in Truth (p. 415)."

The subject will be, "God the Only Cause and Creator." Turn to the classified columns of the Free Press for profitable reading.

New Caparol controls weeds in cotton at layby without residue problems in crops planted next spring.

You can spray new Caparol* at layby for control of most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses, without fear of a soil residue carryover to harm crops planted in the spring of 1966. Just apply Caparol after your cotton is up six inches or more and before weeds are two inches high.

Spraying Caparol at layby will give you control until your cotton is up high enough to shade out any weeds that may germinate late in the summer. You can even apply Caparol where other herbicides have already been used and you find weeds breaking through.

Caparol is easy to handle and apply. Just direct the spray at the base of the cotton plants. You'll get quick knockdown of the young weeds and grasses. Then the action of Caparol continues to control weeds and grasses through the roots as they germinate for the next several weeks.

With Caparol on the job, you won't have weeds to compete for moisture and plant food. And you won't have rank weeds to foul up harvesting... to stain and downgrade lint.

By AL HINDS

Thanks to Mrs. Jack Lane, of Burleson, for the very nice and much appreciated card I received the first of the week. It was so thoughtful of you to take time to drop me a note.

FOOLOSOPHY. Many a man has been down while waiting for something to turn up. Patience is to be applauded always, but of course the people who have dealings with you never have occasion to use it; it takes sunshine in the soul to ripen the fruits of the spirit; when a man is down in the world, an ounce of help is much better than a pound of preaching; life is like a game of cards in which a good deal depends upon a good deal.

Commendation for Civil Defense directors for their excellent work was pointed out by Attorney General Waggoner Carr in his keynote address before the Fifth Annual Conference of Texas Civil Defense Directors, recently.

In discussing the men and women of Texas who carry the load in defense and disaster relief, he said: "To say simply 'Thank You' for the job you are doing seems totally inadequate to express my true feeling in the debt of gratitude that all Texans owe to this dedicated group."

"What you are doing today... the work you are performing... your time and your energy," he said. "is one assurance that points toward lasting peace in this world of unrest. Many of you without pay, without public acclaim, without thought of personal gain, devote hours to community service... much of it involving preparation for something we hope and pray will never happen."

The Attorney General stated, "In the family of government agencies, Civil Defense has been an orphan. It has been starved at the appropriations table, its schooling has been deficient, its textbooks out of date, its equipment leftovers and cast offs."

"Misunderstanding of the true role of Civil Defense has been and still is prevalent in many... if not most... political jurisdictions. Therefore, only through the definition and understanding can progress be made in establishing CD as a profession among the other activities of government."

He defined Civil Defense as "Government Functioning in Emergency" and went on to say, "Civil Defense and Disaster Relief is becoming, for the first time, the professional field of endeavor that it deserves to be. The local organization in your charge will benefit accordingly. Henceforth, it will be easier to recruit persons with talent and training and to take your rightful place in the high councils of government."

Attorney General Carr compared the concept of balance in Civil Defense with the achievement of balance in the military forces and many of the President's programs. He said, "The

Farm Pond Becoming Profitable And Delightful Recreational Feature

The farm pond, basically constructed to provide livestock water is rapidly becoming a profitable and delightful recreational feature of the farm and ranch, says J. C. Yearly Jr., Work Unit Conservationist of the Haskell Soil Conservation Service.

Many farm ponds are stocked with fish each year to provide a place where the family and friends from town can relax and fish. As many people move to town, the problem of finding recreational facilities to fulfill their need is increasing, Yearly stated, and the wise farmer will be able to reap some of the profits. All that is needed is a farm pond and the willingness to share it with others. Of course, Yearly pointed out, neither will be worth too much unless the pond is stocked with usable fish.

Application for stock fish can be secured from the Soil Conservation Service or directly from the Department of the Interior's Fish and Wildlife Service. Bass and Bluegill are generally delivered in late May and early June, while catfish are delivered in August and September. Applications should be in several weeks in advance of delivery.

A fish pond must be stocked correctly and with the right kinds of fish if it is to provide good fishing quickly and continuously. A combination of large-mouth bass and blue gill is dependable for warm-water ponds. Many pond owners want catfish, crappie and other kinds of fish in their farm ponds. Experiments have shown that the bass-bluegill combination produces the best fishing and the most pounds of fish per acre with the least trouble, stated Yearly.

It is very important to know the size of your pond in surface acres when applying for fish, as the hatchery furnishes fish based on this size. The concept of balance is equally important within Civil Defense. Shelters, warning, emergency communications, damage assessment, radiological monitoring, the training of fire and police forces, research, continuity of Federal, State and local government—these are all essential elements in effective Civil Defense, and the proper balance in priorities must be and is being established among them. Therefore you, as Civil Defense leaders in your community, must concentrate on this perspective."

Mr. Carr pointed out the need for cooperation and coordination at local, State and national levels. He stated, "State agents cannot do everything; they cannot be everywhere; they cannot see everything. The State government has command of great resources, but it cannot ignore the vast potential in local resources and initiative."

"Only through local organizations can we inspire the energies of those who feel responsibility for the safety of others. There is a vast reservoir of willingness to help. But it can only be mobilized through intensive organization, planning, and education," he added.

Homer Garrison Jr., State Coordinator for Defense and Disaster Relief and Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, offered encouragement to local Civil Defense Directors at his address at the convention.

He said, "Let me stress to you now, and this is one very important thing that should be expounded in every community, to every citizen, Civil Defense is NOT something that can be put away and called upon just when needed, but it is a day-to-day program of preparedness which keeps its wheels turning, in gear, and ready to protect lives and property in any emergency."

pond should be free from wild or undesirable fish before stocking, Yearly pointed out. Information on cleaning the pond and ridding it of undesirable fish can be secured from your Soil Conservation Service Technician.

Proper management of the pond after stocking is as important to successful fish production as is having the right kinds and amounts of fish. Yearly pointed out that high Joys of Golden Age...

After 65 Things Are Less Taxing

If you're one of the thousands of Americans who reached age 65 last year, you may have learned one of the fiscal joys of reaching that golden age—more liberal income tax allowances.

For the first time in your life, your drug and medicine bill, as well as your medical expenses, are completely and delightfully deductible, Samuel Boardman, director of Retirement Planning for Continental Casualty Company, reminds taxpayers that the 1964 Revenue Act dropped the limitation on medicine and drugs beginning with 1964's tax return.

Also, as an added incentive for people who reach 65, Uncle Sam permits an extra $600 exemption, or $1200, Boardman points out. On a separate return this additional exemption is also allowed for the spouse of the taxpayer, if the spouse has no gross income and is not claimed as a dependent by another taxpayer. And it is allowed on a joint return no matter how much income the spouse made, if the spouse is at least 65.

Actually, Boardman points out, a person who celebrated his 65th birthday on New Year's Day of this year is eligible as an "over-65" taxpayer for 1964. "An individual is assumed to have reached the age of 65 the fertility of pond water accomplishes three desirable objectives: (1) Increases fish production and makes it possible to catch more fish, (2) Makes possible one standard rate of stocking fish, and (3) prevents the growth of submerged water weeds.

A well fertilized pond supports 400 pounds or more of bluegills and bass per acre, and yields 150 to 200 pounds annually by fishing. An average pond of natural fertility yields only 15 to 35 pounds of fish per acre annually. Your pond is exceptional if it needs no fertilizer added.

A mineral fertilizer is best. Organic fertilizers encourage pond scum. Whatever analysis you use, be sure that the amount of nitrogen equals the amount of phosphorus. The average pond requires from 800 to 1200 pounds per acre of fertilizer such as 8-8-2. This is easily applied. Simply pour the fertilizer in shallow water around the side. Wind action and underwater currents will mix the fertilizer throughout the pond. All waterweeds are undesirable in fish ponds. They interfere with fishing and do not provide food for the fish. Waterweeds use up the pond's fertility, and cause death to fish during periods of low water oxygen. Proper fertilization of the pond prevents waterweeds from growing, but once a pond is infected, the weeds will have to be killed. You can prevent waterweeds a lot easier than you can get rid of them.

Fishing is still one of the most important practices in pond management. Yearly included in the second year its limit of fish. No more fish from the pond. You will equal your harvest out 50 pounds of fish. The pounds will grow back
