tional Finals Rodeo. The rodeo runs nightly at 8 o'clock through Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum. (SDN Staff Photo)

AJRA is off and running

Roby cowgirl Lorissa Edmondson had the night's fastest time in the barrel race and Gail's J.J. Kincheloe posted early numbers in the junior bull riding as the AJRA National Finals Rodeo got underway with its first performance Tuesday evening.

The rodeo, being held for the 14th consecutive season in Snyder, will run nightly at 8 o'clock through Saturday. General admission tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for children under age 12. Box seats are $6.

Senior citizens who wear a 1989 AJRA cap will be admitted for half price Wednesday.

Edmondson flashed a quick 14.54-second time to take the lead in the second go-round of the girl's age 13-15 barrel race. Tibba Smith of Carlsbad, N.M., who on Sunday won the Corky Ogden Memorial 8-and-under barrel event, timed a 14.99 Tuesday to take the lead in the girl's 12-under division. Trent cowboy Chad Sipe had the best time in the boy's 12-under group, a 15.25, while Shannon Ragland of Ralls time a 14.81 to pace the girl's 16-19 division.

Kincheloe posted the only score in the junior bull riding; a 64. Other roughstock leaders are Shane Sanders of Water Valley, who scored a 66 in the bareback; Gilbert Carrillo of El Paso, who marked a 69 in the bull riding; and Casey Crow of Lovington, N.M., who scored a 70 in the boy's 12-under steer riding.

AJRA president Lari Dee Guy of Abilene continued to excel in the girl's 16-19 division. Having already won the team roping championship for her age group, she set a hot 2.13-second time in the breakaway roping Tuesday. The top breakaway time of the evening, however, was turned in by Brandi Bremer of Hillsboro, who flashed a 1.74 in the girl's 13-15 division.

Q. — Is the proposed merit pay raise for city employees an annual raise or a "bonus"?

A. — The proposal, not final until the city budget is approved, is for a one-time bonus, city officials say.

In Brief

2 dead, 6 hurt

TYRE, Lebanon (AP) — A suicide car bomb exploded as an Israeli military convoy was passing on a road in south Lebanon today, the pro-Iranian group Hezbollah said.

Israel's army said five Israeli soldiers and a Lebanese militiaman were wounded by the blast just south of the Christian town of Qleiaa, and that the two members of the suicide team in the vehicle were killed.

Israel radio said the vehicle was a General Motors pickup truck and that the blast left a crater six feet deep. The radio said the pickup was carrying 110 pounds of explosives.

Hezbollah, or Party of God, said the "martyrdom operation" was carried out at the entrance to Qleiaa, 5 miles north of Israel's border at 9:45 a.m. (2:45 a.m. EDT).

Disaster drill

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Twenty-one hospitals here are preparing for the arrival of 200 "casualties" from a simulated earthquake in California as part of a medical disaster drill Wednesday.

The pretend victims will be flown from Randolph Air Force Base to Kelly Air Force Base for triage early in the morning, then dispersed to local hospitals, said Ray Dery, chief of public affairs at Brooke Army Medical Center.

Trainees from Lackland Air Force Base and Fort Sam Houston will act as casualties in the citywide exercise of the National Disaster Medical System. Three federal and 18 civilian hospitals are taking part.

Heard voices

DETROIT (AP) — A bank robber told authorities he plotted to assassinate President Bush and came close to making an attempt on Bush's life in Michigan four months ago.

John Spencer Daughette, 34, told Oakland, Calif., police and FBI agents about the attempt after he was arrested during a bank robbery Friday. Daughette was being held in Oakland without bond Tuesday on bank robbery charges.

Police and Secret Service agents said Daughette has no apparent motive for stalking Bush.

"He admitted that at some point he started hearing voices and that he has been following the president around the U.S. in an effort to get close enough to kill him," Sgt. Sam Maddux, a robbery investigator with the Oakland Police Department said Tuesday.

Search for Leland broadens

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — Rescuers extended their search today across the border into Sudan in the hopes of finding Texas Rep. Mickey Leland and 13 others who disappeared two days ago while flying to a refugee camp in southwestern Ethiopia.

Ethiopian authorities reported today that a plane had been heard flying Monday near Mizan Teferi, 50 miles south of the Fugnido refugee camp, where Leland and his entourage were headed.

The twin-engine plane carrying Leland, 44, and the others vanished during bad weather near Ethiopian-Sudanese border, 480 miles southwest of Addis Ababa.

Leland, a Democrat from Houston and the chairman of the House Select Committee on Hunger, was in Ethiopia on a return visit because of his keen interest in Africa's refugee problem.

The Twin Otter, a plane commonly used for bush flying in Africa, also carried three members of Leland's staff, a friend of the politician, four Americans from the U.S. Embassy and from the U.S. Agency for International Development, and five Ethiopians — three government officials, the pilot and co-pilot.

Up to 10 small planes were being used in the search today, directed by Ethiopia's Civil Aviation Authority.

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said an Air Force medical evacuation plane left Germany this morning en route to Addis Ababa in case it was needed.

The weather today was markedly better than Tuesday, when heavy clouds and poor visibility hampered planes coursing the cold plateau in Ethiopia, said John Guerra, political officer at the U.S. Embassy in Addis Ababa.

Rescuers continue to focus on a region called Dembidola, about 75 miles north of Fugnido where Ethiopian authorities said a small plane reportedly was heard circling Monday, according to U.S. Embassy officials. The Dembidola region borders Mizan Teferi.

Earlier, embassy officials said they were told the plane actually had been sighted near Dembidola, but today acknowledged they had been misinformed.

Dembidola is in an accessible region of foothills between mountains that rise up to 12,000 feet and swampy plateaus stretching to the Sudanese border. Communications with Dembidola and Mizan Teferi, as with most areas outside the capital, are bad to nonexistent.

U.S. Embassy spokesman James Haley said the search had been extended slightly across the Sudanese border on the theory Leland's plane had the fuel capacity to go that far and may have crossed the border to avoid bad weather.

Counseling center opens local office

Thursday marks the opening of Charter Plains Counseling Center here, located at 4200 College Ave.

Snyder native Belva LaRoux is community services co-ordinator for the outreach center, which provides free assessments and referrals pertaining to problems with alcohol and drug abuse.

The open house will be held from 3 p.m. until 6 p.m. Regular hours for the center will be from 8:30 a.m. through 5:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The center is an extension of Charter Plains Hospital in Lubbock, which specializes in the care of mental health and substance abuse problems. The hospital has programs for children, teenagers and adults on a variety of subjects, including substance abuse and eating disorders such as anorexia nervosa and bulimia.

As a community service, Charter Plains also offers a speakers bureau comprised of psychiatrists, psychologists, nurses, social workers, nutritionists, educators and others. Topics include dealing with stress, parenting techniques, exercise and mental health, alcoholism, parent-teen relationships and topics related to mental health and substance abuse issues.

Locally, LaRoux, who is a certified alcohol and drug abuse counselor, will help individuals and their families assess their needs and refer them to programs where they can receive help. Eventually, she will be conducting aftercare groups for individuals and their families following treatment.

"That is a part of the continuing care that Charter provides," said LaRoux. "This is an important part of the recovery process as it enables the individual and the family to make a successful transition back into the community."

37th St. widening hearing is slated

The public hearing has now been scheduled related to the widening of 37th St. west from College Ave.

The meeting to allow for public comment is slated Sept. 12 and will be held at the Snyder Junior High School beginning at 7 p.m.

The hearing is part of state requirements for such projects. The meeting itself is scheduled by the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, which will fund the work through its urban system program.

The projected expense for the widening is some $805,000.

At the Sept. 12 session, tentative schedules for right-of-way acquisition will be discussed also.

Right-of-way must be provided by the City of Snyder. City of-officials have indicated only a three-block area adjoining the intersection of College Ave. and 37th St. is expected to be affected.

This includes the north side of 37th St. for a two-block area just west of College. A one-block area just west of College on the south side of 37th will require right-of-way also.

The intersection itself will be widened from 44 ft. to 60 ft., allowing for the addition of a fifth traffic lane which will serve as a turning lane for vehicles off of 37th St. onto College.

A "left-turn only" traffic light will be added at the intersection.

The remainder of 37th St. to the west to El Paso will be widened to a minimum of 48 ft. The street will go from two-lane to four-

A few months ago, city of Houston vice officers busted a prostitution ring. The raid resulted in police seizing lists of customers' names.

The publicity that followed included an announcement from officers that they would contact names on the lists—said to number several hundred. Telephones at the police station and city hall began to ring as officers found that several chose to ward off visits from vice squad officers by calling first.

One name on the list was obviously a businessman with a demanding schedule. The executive had his secretary call the police station for him because, explained the secretary, "he is very busy."

A burglar downstate has messed with a perfectly good cliché, "He took everything but the kitchen sink."

The prosecutor asked for a life sentence for a house burglar who tried to get away with a sink in a house. Instead of life, the jury gave him a 20-year sentence and a $5,000 fine.

Lawyers will do a lot of things to get the attention or sympathy of the jury.

Youth charged with pawn shop burglary

A 17-year-old Snyder youth was arrested Tuesday in connection with three recent burglaries and thefts, including one that was discovered Tuesday morning at Sparkle City Pawn Shop at 1900 37th St.

Arrested was Jeffrey E. Allen of 3607 Hill Ave. Recovered with the arrest were 18 pistols, 33 boxes of ammunition, four knives and five hat pins taken during the Sparkle City break-in, a city detective said.

Pawn shop owner Bill Early reported the burglary at 7:02 a.m. Tuesday. It is believed the individual taking the merchandise hid in the store prior to its closing, the detective said.

Allen is charged also in connection with a June 27 burglary at the 3607 Ave. A home of J.T. Orms, who reported the loss of firearms, knives and small change, and the theft of hand tools from a workshop in the backyard of the 3606 Ave. B home of James Northcott.

Allen was charged Tuesday with burglary of a building, burglary of a habitation and misdemeanor theft and was released on a total of $9,000 in bonds.

Investigators had recovered all of the Sparkle City merchandise and most of the missing items from the other incidents, they said.

Factions push for amendment for crime victims

AUSTIN (AP) — The criminal justice system should protect crime victims, not just those accused of wrongdoing, say advocates of a proposed constitutional amendment outlining victims' rights.

"Proposition 13 sends a message to crime victims, and that is, 'You deserve equity and fairness under the law,'" Sen. J.E. "Buster" Brown, sponsor of the proposal, said at a Tuesday news conference.

"After all, a constitution that protects the rights of the worst among us surely ought to be able to protect the rights of the most innocent among us," said Brown, R-Lake Jackson.

sentence, imprisonment and release of the accused; and to fair treatment throughout the criminal justice process.

The Texas Crime Victims Rights Committee, formed to push for the amendment, is headed by Janie Wilson of Wa the People, a group formed after three young people were abducted from Lake Hawkins and murdered in 1986.

The coalition backing the proposition on the Nov. 7 ballot, including victims' advocacy groups, does not want to erode constitutional safeguards for people accused of crimes, said Rep. Bob Richardson, R-Austin.

After that crime, victims' groups gathered 85,000 signatures supporting stricter laws for criminals and increased rights for victims, said Ms. Wilson.

"Rather, we call on the Texas judicial system to apply rights to crime victims with equal vigor, recognition and maintenance," said Richardson, author of the proposed amendment.

"We didn't know what rights existed for crime victims, but we knew whatever they were, they were not being honored and they were not being implemented," she said. "This constitutional amendment is a direct result of our quest for victims' rights."

Although victims' rights already are outlined in law, putting them in the constitution would strengthen them, he said.

The rights in the proposed amendment include the right to restitution; to reasonable protection from the accused; to information about the conviction,

Bob Stearns of VIGIL, a coalition of victims' rights groups pushing for the amendment, said the committee wants to make Texans aware that crime victims have rights.

Victims are neglected despite great odds that crime will touch people's lives, Richardson said. A crime is committed somewhere in the United States every five seconds, he said.

"We're serious that we want crime victims to be represented in the criminal justice process," he said. "They are the forgotten person."

Lake Meredith hearing set for September, '89

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen has asked the Bureau of Reclamation to back a plan to curb salt pollution of Lake Meredith, a major source of drinking water for the Panhandle, before a Senate committee considers the legislation.

and power is scheduled for Sept. 14, Bentsen said Tuesday.

At a House hearing last week, Joe Hall, acting commissioner of the Bureau of Reclamation, said the administration did not yet have a position on the bill.

A hearing on the bill before the Senate subcommittee on water

Under the legislation sponsored by Bentsen, D-Texas, and Reps. Larry Combest, R-Lubbock, and Bill Sarpalus, D-Amarillo, the Bureau of Reclamation would help manage and design construction of the desalinization project.

UT gives up on the bird war

AUSTIN (AP) — In the battle between the University of Texas and grackles, grackles can Local sponsors would finance about 75 percent of the cost, Bentsen said, with the federal government paying for the balance of the $6.4 million project.

About five years ago, UT at Austin, faced with an onslaught of gasping grackles, declared war on the black-winged invaders.

"My bill would establish a salt pollution control project at Lake Meredith, on which 11 West Texas cities depend for their water supply," Bentsen said. "Lake Meredith has had salinity problems since its construction and the source of that salinity has been identified as a shallow brine acquirer in New Mexico."

The troops fired pyrotechnic guns, cranked up loudspeakers that screeched the sounds of grackles in distress, dangled rubber snakes, set up owl look-alikes, and slapped wooden clappers.

The Panhandle lake, built in the 1960s, is the source of drinking water to approximately 430,000 West Texans.

But the grackles remained. "We've tried just about everything," said Howard Wilson, director of UT's physical plant division, "and nothing seemed to work."

Bentsen said the problem can be solved by pumping out the salt water and disposing of it in deep injection wells.

So, now, there is nothing left to do but mop up the mess.

"West Texans are willing to pay for construction and operation of this project, but they must have technical advice and preliminary testing done by the Bureau of Reclamation," Bentsen said.

Every morning, shortly after grackle check-out time, as the noisemakers wing their way into the countryside, maintenance crews move in with push-brooms and long hoses, gushing water.

He said each year of delay puts an additional 30,000 tons of salt into Lake Meredith. Recent samples of Lake Meredith water have found salt levels of 350 milligrams per liter, while salt levels have been as high as 402 milligrams per liter, Bentsen said.

And each evening, near dusk, the flocks of grackles return to their roosts in the 4,000 trees that dot the campus, and they do what grackles seem to do best: screech uproariously and poop on passers-by.

Health and environmental agencies, however, generally recommend salt levels of 250 milligrams per liter for drinking water.

"They make it really disgusting to walk around campus," said Anne Iverson, a senior, who in four years on campus has learned to dodge the winged enemies.

Seven convicted on federal drug charges

WACO, Texas (AP) — A federal grand jury indicted seven people on drug manufacturing charges stemming from a May raid at a Hamilton County rendering plant, but the indictment made no mention of two bodies found at the abandoned site.

Among those indicted Tuesday on charges of conspiracy to manufacture methamphetamine were Wendell Shackleford, 29; Eric Dwain Shackleford, 41; Mi Linda Shackleford, 40; John Lester Smith, 39; Melody Ann Soord, 26; and Glenn Harris, 54.

All of the defendants were being held without bond in the McLennan County Jail, except Wendell Shackleford, who remained at large late Tuesday, the Waco Tribune-Herald reported.

Each defendant faces a possible maximum punishment of life in prison and a $4 million fine on the conspiracy charge.

Officials Friday found the cremated remains of a man in a barrel at the plant, where officials say methamphetamines were concocted for illegal sale and distribution. The body of a woman was found stuffed in a 55-gallon drum at the site June 30.

Thomas Ray Gunn, 33, is charged in the same indictment with conspiracy to distribute methamphetamine. He faces a maximum 20-year prison term and a $1 million fine.

Officials also have charged Eric Shackleford with using a firearm during the commission of a felony. He faces a mandatory five years in prison and a possible $250,000 fine on that charge.

Meanwhile, assistant U.S. Attorney Bill Johnston said forensic experts are working to identify the small bone fragments, teeth and ashes found Friday. The body of the woman, who reportedly had long red hair, also remains unidentified.

Group: sea turtles are still in danger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Endangered sea turtles will still die in shrimp nets despite new Commerce Department regulations and a federal judge should require shrimpers to use turtle-excluding devices, a wildlife group says.

It's not enough to require shrimpers to raise their nets every hour and 45 minutes so entrapped turtles won't drown, the National Wildlife Federation said in a petition to U.S. District Judge Thomas Hogan.

Citing a recent scientific study, the federation contended that the "severely endangered" Kemp's Ridley sea turtle cannot withstand the trawl times.

The group on Tuesday asked Hogan to force the Commerce Department to require Gulf Coast shrimpers to equip their nets with TEDs. Hogan is overseeing the federation's legal attack on Commerce Secretary Robert Mosbacher for not requiring the excluding devices.

A new federal law requires shrimpers to attach big boxes with hinged sides to their nets so that turtles can swim through — unless the secretary of commerce has good reason to require other protective measures.

Mosbacher decided July 24 to suspend requirements for excluder devices after Texas and Louisiana shrimpers protested by blockading Gulf Coast shipping channels. The shrimpers argue that the devices reduce their catch by as much as a third.

Last week, Hogan ordered Mosbacher to adopt regulations of some sort to protect sea turtles from drowning in shrimpers' nets. Mosbacher announced the 105-minute trawling regulation on Monday, the deadline the judge had set.

The federation said Mosbacher has data from National Marine Fisheries Service scientists showing that a 105-minute tow will kill four times as many turtles as the secretary has said it will.

The trawling regulation lasts until Sept. 7, while the department solicits comment on permanent regulations needed "in light of conservation needs of sea turtle populations and the economics of the shrimp fishing industry."

Commerce spokesman Reed Boatright said he did not want to comment on the lawsuit since the judge has a new petition before him.

About 40 people protested the trawling rules in front of the Commerce Department Tuesday morning, chanting "Mosbacher, Mosbacher, hear our plea; save the turtles in the sea." They carried posters with slogans like "Shrimpers are crying, but turtles are dying."

When West jumped to four spades, North was deprived of normal bidding methods for investigating slam possibilities. The solution was simple — just bid the slam in diamonds and hope for the best.

West led the ace of spades and continued with another spade. There was nothing to do but ruff with dummy's king of diamonds. What next?

A low diamond was played from dummy, and East followed with the eight. Since West began with nine spades, it was likely that he held only one diamond. It was too far-fetched that the singleton was the queen, and as to the remaining cards (the 10 and seven), it now looked more likely that the 10 was with East. So declarer guessed the right play by putting in the nine of diamonds. A club to dummy's ace let declarer play another diamond to pick up East's Q-10. Declarer now cashed the king of clubs and the king of hearts. West, known to have started with nine spades and one diamond, followed to two clubs and to one heart, and had nothing left but spades. As South ran the remaining diamonds, East was squeezed, forced to give up his guard in hearts or to throw away his high club.

Illustrator to write for magazine

DENVER (AP) — Berke Breathed, whose pen illustrated the comic strip "Bloom County," plans to go a little overboard as a contributing editor at Boating magazine.

John Owens, editor in chief of Boating, said Tuesday that Breathed, an avid boater who has homes in Evergreen and Florida, will write a monthly humor column.

Breathed, who owns four boats, said his column, titled "Overboard," will reflect his consuming interest in the sport.

"Boating looks at equipment in the way I want to look at equipment — what's coming out, and why we silly boaters think that a new-style helm station is exciting," Breathed said.

The last "Bloom County" comic strip appeared in papers last weekend. Breathed, who won a Pulitzer Prize for cartooning in 1987, plans to begin work on a new strip called "Outland" that will begin Sept. 3. "Outland" features a black ghetto child who was a "Bloom County" regular.

CBS to back late night talk show

LOS ANGELES (AP) — CBS is firmly behind the "The Pat Sajak Show" as the late-night talkfest struggles against reigning king Johnny Carson and his "Tonight Show," the show's producer said.

"CBS has just told me, 'Do what it takes to make it work, and we'll stick by you,'" Paul Gilbert said in a recent interview.

Dear Abby

Bride Perplexed by Wedding Guests Who Rewrite Invitation

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I'm planning my wedding and have encountered a problem that seems to be common among recent brides. My parents, who have limited funds, are paying for my wedding, so we sent invitations to those we wanted, and we included a response card.

To our surprise, many of the response cards came back with "and friend" written in — also, some of the couples had added "and children."

It was very awkward having to telephone these people to tell them we couldn't accommodate their "friend" or children. And can you believe that some people were angry?

I suppose because the response card leaves a blank for them to fill in the number of people, some folks feel they are entitled to invite whomever else they want.

Abby, please make this clear in your column. Brides everywhere will appreciate it.

ONE OF THEM

DEAR ONE: I am in favor of doing away with response cards with "blanks" to fill in to indicate how many will attend. Too many people believe the blank is an invitation to invite as many people as they wish.

The number of guests invited can be found on the envelope of the invitation: If it is addressed to Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, only those two will be expected. And an invitation addressed to Mary Smith means only Mary is expected.

Readers, please pay attention. A battalion of brides is getting nervous indigestion from response cards filled in with the names of friends and relatives.

DEAR ABBY: My 6-year-old niece (I'll call her Nancy) caused a scene in the grocery store. She hit her grandmother on the back as they stood in the checkout line. Grandma had bought Nancy a treat that she had wanted to be put into her own shopping bag, but Grandma put the treat in her own purse instead, so Nancy hit her and said, "I wanted it in my own bag, I said!"

She was marched out of the store and given a slight slap and a stern talking-to for her actions. My niece agreed that she would never do it again and was given her treat.

My question is: Should this scene be banished from conversation in front of other family members? The child's grandmother, who happens to be my mother, thinks that since Nancy doesn't want anyone to know (probably from embarrassment and guilt), no one should mention it.

I believe that since when one grows older, one's crimes are printed along with one's name in the newspaper, children should learn early in life that unacceptable behavior should not be hidden. I also believe that a little ostracism is very effective punishment. My mother disagrees and insisted that I ask for your opinion.

NAME WITHHELD ON REQUEST

DEAR NAME WITHHELD: Your niece's "crime" was more an impulsive reaction than a serious offense. I agree with your mother. I see no reason to humiliate Nancy further by mentioning the incident to the family. The child was punished and seems to have learned her lesson, so it's best forgotten.

Don't put off writing thank-you notes, letters of sympathy, etc. because you don't know what to say. Get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." Send a check or money order for $2.89 ($3.39 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054. (Postage is included.)

Hud never checked woman's background officials report

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — HUD never checked the background of an Arlington woman, now accused of embezzling $2.5 million, before awarding her a contract for a company she was not licensed with and didn't work for, officials said.

Reba Louise Lovell represented herself as president and manager of Commerce Title Co. when she signed a contract with the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, according to a federal lawsuit.

But state records show Ms. Lovell was not president and was not licensed as a closing agent for the company, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported.

Len Wheeler, senior vice president of United Title Co., formerly Commerce Title, said Ms. Lovell never worked for the company. "We never wrote that woman a check," she said.

Ms. Lovell's case is one of many in a widening investigation of HUD practices across the nation.

"This is another outrageous example of mismanagement and corruption at HUD," U.S. Rep. Martin Frost, D-Dallas, told the Star-Telegram. "It's further evidence that there's been virtually no demand for responsibility or accountability at HUD by this administration, or certainly the previous one."

Ms. Lovell was indicted June 1 on charges that she took $2.5 million last year from the sale of 55 Fort Worth-Dallas homes while she was under contract to HUD.

Also, a federal lawsuit filed July 14 in behalf of the United States seeks more than $15 million in damages from Ms. Lovell.

Announcement slated...

Hance seeks GOP nomination

AUSTIN (AP) — Kent Hance advocated tough penalties for drug dealers and local control of education, saying his proposals and government experience will assure him the Republican nomination for governor.

The Railroad Commission chairman plans to enter the race Tuesday with announcements in Austin, San Antonio, Houston, Dallas and Lubbock, said Mark Sanders, campaign press secretary. Hance then will embark on a two-week tour of 29 other cities.

In a Monday interview with The Dallas Morning News, Hance said he would support the death penalty for drug dealers and a constitutional amendment denying bond for pushers. He advocated mandatory jail time for all users of illegal drugs.

In education, Hance said he would stress local control of the system, with more input by teachers and parents.

He proposed that the state education commissioner be elected, rather than appointed by the State Board of Education, saying the change would make the commissioner more accountable to Texans.

Hance also vowed to work for tax breaks for businesses.

In his quest for nomination,

Hance said he will spend $3 million and his campaign theme will be a "New Vision for Texas."

He will become the third GOP candidate to enter the race to succeed Gov. Bill Clements, a Republican.

Former Secretary of State Jack Rains of Houston and Midland businessman Clayton Williams already have announced.

Corporate takeover artist T. Boone Pickens of Amarillo has said he will decide by Tuesday whether to enter the race.

Among the Democrats, state Treasurer Ann Richards has announced her bid for governor. Attorney General Jim Mattox is expected to challenge her in the Democratic primary.

Hance touted surveys that show him the front-runner in the race for the GOP nomination.

His campaign released partial results of a survey by its pollster, Lance Tarrance, that indicated Hance was 20 points ahead in the GOP field.

The poll of 500 GOP voters was conducted July 31 through Aug. 2. It has a margin of error of plus or minus 4.5 percentage points.

Some of Hance's detractors have said he is ahead in the early surveys because he has more name identification than the other Republican hopefuls.

Books were to be purchased in lieu of speaking fees, according to reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former House Speaker Jim Wright or his staff suggested that their organizations buy bulk copies of his book rather than pay him a speaking fee, say officials of three groups that have been subpoenaed by a federal grand jury investigating the Texas Democrat.

The Justice Department has refused to discuss the grand jury's probe, but attorneys for Southwest Texas State University and the National Realtors Association say they were asked to turn over documents related to Wright's book, "Reflections of a Public Man."

The third organization subpoenaed — Ocean Spray, a cooperative of cranberry and citrus growers — declined to discuss details of its request from the grand jury. But a spokesman acknowledged that the group bought $2,000 worth of Wright's books.

Larry Shannon, administrative assistant at Wright's office in Fort Worth, said that the investigation appears "very routine" and that it resulted from the media attention focused on Wright during the ethics investigation.

Justice Department spokesman David Runkel said the agency's inquiry is continuing. "I can't comment on any aspect of the investigation, except I will confirm that is ongoing," he said.

Ocean Spray spokesman John Lawlor said Wright spoke to a group of growers and management employees in November 1985. Wright's staff suggested that instead of giving Wright an honorarium, Ocean Spray use the money to purchase the books, for which Wright received a 55 percent royalty, Lawlor said.

"As far as we were concerned, it was an honorarium in the form of a book purchase in place of a cash honorarium," Lawlor said. "How he was to use them (the books) was for him to determine."

Lawlor said Tuesday that Ocean Spray did not want to discuss details of the subpoena, other than to confirm that "they are limited to matters relating to the former speaker."

The House ethics committee, after a year's investigation, said it had reason to believe Wright tried to evade House limits on outside income through bulk sales of the book. The investigation ended with Wright's resignation in June.

Southwest Texas State attorney Bill Fly said the university on Monday received a subpoena dated July 14 and has until Friday to submit documents pertaining to Wright's speech to the school in the fall of 1984 and the subsequent purchase of $3,000 worth of books.

Fly said the university had agreed to pay Wright $3,000 for a speech. After Wright's appearance, Fly said, someone in the speaker's office called the university to say Wright had reached his limit on outside income. Wright's staff member then asked if the speaker could use the money to instead purchase copies of his book for the university, Fly said.

Under an agreement with the publisher of his book, Wright was to receive 55 percent royalties. While the House limits what a member can keep in fees from speaking engagements to 30 percent of his or her congressional salary, royalties are exempt.

Laurene Janik, general counsel for the Realtors organization, said Wright spoke to the Realtors group in April 1985. A $2,000 check was issued and voided, and the money was to be used to purchase Wright's book, she said.

Youth is granted probation

DALLAS (AP) — A 23-year-old man was convicted of murder in the Jan. 17 shooting deaths of two brothers during a quarrel over his dog running loose, but the jury granted him a 10-year probation sentence.

Roy Wayne Traylor could have received two life sentences for the Jan. 17 shooting deaths of Jose Sandoval, 27, and Alonzo Sandoval, 26.

Traylor also was convicted of aggravated assault in the shooting of a third brother, Alfredo Sandoval, 17, who was shot in the hip when an argument outside the Sandoval residence ended in gunfire.

The verdict means freedom for Traylor, a clerk in a feed store, who had been in jail since surrendering to police the day after the shootings.

In finding Traylor guilty in the shootings, the jury rejected his claim of self-defense, but was swayed to grant probation after a parade of his relatives and supporters begged that he not be sent to prison.

Early in the trial, Alfredo Sandoval said his older brothers were prepared for a fistfight but did not expect gunfire when they confronted Traylor the afternoon of Jan. 17 to demand that he keep his dogs restrained.

One of Traylor's seven dogs, the youth said, had been roaming the neighborhood earlier that day and had nearly bitten Alonzo's 7-year-old daughter.

The youth said that as his oldest brother, Jose, removed his jacket in preparation for a fight, Traylor pulled a gun from beneath his coat and "started shooting everybody."

Hogs picked in 1989

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — About eight to 10 times a game, Arkansas quarterback Quinn Grovey will hand the ball to the tailback and get out of the way. It's part of the Razorbacks' new-look offense.

During the Razorbacks' 10-2 Southwest Conference championship season in 1988, Grovey was involved in play after play, making decisions on the option out of the wishbone. This year, Arkansas will be in the multiple I-formation under new offensive coordinator Jack Crowe.

But Arkansas Coach Ken Hatfield is quick to point out that the Razorbacks will use fullbacks Barry Foster and JuJu Harshaw inside and Grovey on the corner.

E.D. Jackson, redshirted last year, has emerged as the starter at tailback. He weighed 191 and bench pressed 265 when he arrived a year ago; now he weighs 205 and bench presses 300.

"Everybody is expecting a lot out of him, but he's got his head screwed on correctly," Hatfield said.

Foster, who led Arkansas with 660 yards rushing and 11 touchdowns last year, can play fullback or tailback.

Mix in wide receivers Tim Horton, who catches anything near him, tight end Billy Winston, an All-SWC choice last year, and speedy Derek Russell and Hatfield admits that Arkansas has lots of weapons.

"The most I've ever been around," he said. "They all have the ability to make a big play at any time."

The problem, Hatfield said, is that the defense might give up some big plays. Only three starters return from the defense that played a major role in Arkansas' first Cotton Bowl trip in 13 years.

Arkansas attempted only 180 passes last year — lowest in the league by far — but Hatfield won't commit to any numbers in 1989.

"We have to be more balanced, we just have to be more effective throwing," he said.

Arkansas averaged 389 yards per game last year, but only 142 passing. Grovey was the top-rated passer in the league, completing 62 of 98 with only three interceptions.

"Throwing is all we have done all spring with him," Hatfield said.

For one thing, his arm is stronger. "He's worked hard to be rounded out to be a complete quarterback," Hatfield said.

"But he's still not John Elway."

He said he had told Russell that the time had come for him to emerge as a complete receiver.

"There is a difference in just being a nice, fast guy," he said. "I told him that when we get that ball close, you're going to catch it. You have a hard time wasting a down when you don't have confidence."

Arkansas was 7-0 in the SWC last year, the first time a team has been unbeaten in the conference since 1983. Texas A&M and Arkansas are the favorites this year. Baylor, Texas and Houston will have a lot to say about the league race, Hatfield said.

"The key areas for us are safety, inside linebacker and the whole field goal group," he said.

Gone is safety Steve Atwater, who signed a $2 million contract as the first-round draft choice of the Denver Broncos. Gone are linebackers Reggie Hall and LaSalle Harper. Also gone is Kendall Trainor, who made 24 field goals in a row. His snapper and holder are also gone.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar won the NBA most valuable player award a record six times.

In a 1967 NBA game, Wilt Chamberlain of Philadelphia came down with 41 rebounds against Boston to set a record for a playoff.

'Connection' is impressing Cowboys new coaching staff

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — The "Baylor Connection" lives on in the Dallas Cowboys' training camp.

Fullback Broderick Sargent, who played on a Baylor University football team that also included current Cowboys Robert Williams and Ron Francis, is listed as the No. 1 fullback going into Sunday's exhibition opener against the San Diego Chargers.

Last season, Williams was one of Dallas' most pleasant surprises in an otherwise dreary, 3-

13 year. "At one point, Sargent had dropped one pass the entire training camp," Cowboys head coach Jimmy Johnson said. "He's had the best stats of anyone as far as catching the ball."

"He's blocked well, caught it well, and he's a power runner. Right now he's the frontrunner."

Sargent, who played high school football at Waxahachie, just 35 miles south of Dallas, took advantage of a mediocre start by incumbent starter Timmy Newsome and second-round draft pick Daryl Johnston.

The coaching staff may have elevated Sargent to the first team as a motivational tool on Newsome and Johnston, but Sargent wants to keep the job.

"I've worked very hard," Sargent said. "I knew they needed help there (at fullback) when I came in. But I was just hoping to make the team. Now, who knows?"

Sargent played for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1986 and 1987, then was cut before last season. He signed with Dallas as a free agent and spent last off-season working on his conditioning.

The Cowboys' two other Baylor products have been friends since they met at a high school track meet.

In college, Williams backed up Francis at running back before Francis went on to become the Southwest Conference defensive player of the year in 1985.

This summer, they're roommates and friendly rivals for the starting job at right cornerback, where Williams currently holds the edge.

"It's just good competition," Williams said. "No hard feelings. We'll keep being friends, no matter what happens. And whoever starts, the other one is going to play a lot on the nickel defense."

Francis, a native of LaMarque, entered training camp last season with a lock on the job but dislocated a shoulder during an intrasquad game. Williams, who is from Galveston, capitalized on his friend's misfortune and started all but two games at right corner last season.

Francis echoes Williams' feelings on their situation.

"We both realize it's a job, and we just happened to be competing for the same spot," Francis said. "There's no animosity. Actually I think it's better to be competing against a friend. We can help each other without worrying."

Williams has taken a roundabout route to his current status. Originally signed by the Washington Redskins in 1986 as a free agent wide receiver, he was released by the Redskins in camp and signed with the Cowboys as a cornerback project in the spring of 1987.

Dallas also released Williams before the 1987 season, and Williams planned on becoming a substitute teacher in the Dallas suburb of Garland. However, the Cowboys re-signed Williams during the players' strike.

Crockett lost to Cowboys for '89 season

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Dallas Cowboys rookie linebacker was lost for the season when he suffered a torn ligament in the left knee during a drill rushing the passer.

Crockett, who played college football at Georgia Tech, reported to camp late after a contract dispute and injured his right knee early in drills. He then sat out a week. His latest injury occurred Monday during his first day back on the practice field, team officials said.

The team's second fifth-round pick in April's regular National Football League draft, Crockett was scheduled to leave the Cowboys' facility today for Dallas. Dr. Robert Vandemeer is scheduled to operate on the knee Thursday at Mary Shiel's Hospital.

Tuesday, after an afternoon workout with the Los Angeles Raiders at their training facility in Oxnard, Calif., head coach Jimmy Johnson said veteran linebacker Garry Cobb's left knee could have some cartilage damage.

"We're going to have to look at Cobb after practice," Johnson said. "He tried to go today but couldn't. He's been missing every other workout. We felt we could rest it, and once we got to one-a-days, he'd be all right. But there could be some cartilage damage there."

Athletes need physicals soon

Snyder public schools students needing an athletic physical will need to make an appointment with a local designated doctor.

The school will pick up the tab for examinations taken prior to Aug. 15. Steve Krueger, SHS trainer, has urged students to schedule appointments as early as possible.

Those requiring physicals are seventh and ninth grade students who plan to participate in athletics and all athletes new to the Snyder school system. Others required to have physicals are students who have not previously participated in athletics but plan to do so.

Athletes not needing a physical are still required to turn in a medical history and UIL rules acknowledgment form by Aug. 15. Forms are available at the athletic director's office or the field house.

Appointments for physicals may be made with Drs. Nelson Brice, Jim Bureson, Bid Cooper, Bill Pierce or Paul Thompson.

Day and night tourney slated

This year's Day and Night Scholarship golf tournament will be held Friday, Aug. 18, at the WTC golf course.

The entry fee of $35 will get participants 18 holes of golf, dinner, one "night ball" and stick.

Nine holes will be played in the light of day, with tee time set for 6 p.m., and nine holes will be played after dark as play resumes at 9:30 p.m.

A barbecue dinner, provided by Beta Sigma Phi sorority, will be served at 8 p.m.

Proceeds from the tournament will go to the scholarship fund at Western Texas College.

Oilers sign DB Johnson to contract

SAN MARCOS, Texas (AP) — The Houston Oilers announced the signing of defensive back Richard Johnson to a 3-year contract.

Club officials said the 6-1, 190-pound Johnson, who is in his fifth year with the team, would be in camp Wednesday morning.

Johnson missed the entire training camp his rookie season because of contractual problems, but still played in all 16 games that year, including two starts.

Texas drops another game 7-0 to Gozzo and the Jays

TORONTO (AP) — Mauro "Goose" Gozzo figures it will probably take a few more days for his latest performance to really sink in.

"I don't think it's hit me yet," Gozzo said following eight innings of three-hit ball in his major-league debut as the Toronto Blue Jays defeated the Texas Rangers 7-0 Tuesday night.

"I was hoping for a September call-up, but this is more than I could ever hope for," Gozzo said. Gozzo struck out four and walked three as the Blue Jays won their third in a row to climb above the .500 mark (.5756) for the first time since a 4-3 opening-day victory over the Kansas City Royals.

"I was a little nervous," Gozzo said, "but I looked up in the stands at my dad and he gave me the thumbs up. It relaxed me. Getting an early lead didn't hurt either."

Fred McGriff supplied the early lead, belting Bobby Witt's 3-1 offering to left for his American League-leading 30th home run of the season, giving the Blue Jays a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the second.

"It's satisfying when I hit them the opposite way," said McGriff, a left-handed batter. "When I hit up the middle or to left it means I'm not pulling off the ball. I'm staying with it."

Nelson Liriano, who drove in a career-high four runs on a single and a three-run homer, put the Blue Jays up 2-0 in the bottom of the third.

Mookie Wilson started the inning with a double down the line in right and Liriano cashed him in with a solid single to center. "That's a key hit in that situation," Liriano said. "We're only up by one and it's still early. Getting a big lead helped settle him (Gozzo) down."

Liriano put the game out of reach when he hit his third home run of the season, a three-run shot in the bottom of the fourth. McGriff and Lloyd Moseby were on base via walks when they scored on Liriano's first homer since June 20 in California.

"We finally got some runs to work with," Blue Jays manager Cito Gaston said. "We've been getting outstanding starting pitching to keep us in a lot of games. It's nice to see the bats pick up some of the slack."

Liriano set the tone of the game when he turned in a fine defensive effort to snare Cecil Espy's hard grounder in the top of the first. Liriano ranged far to his right, short-hopped the ball and threw off-balance to nail the speedy Espy for the first out of the game.

"He's (Gozzo) thinking right away he's got good defense behind him. It helped him right from the start," Liriano said.

George Bell capped the scoring with an RBI single to center in the bottom of the seventh, driving in Kelly Gruber from second. Gruber had led off the inning with a double.

Witt was tagged with the loss, allowing six runs on five hits over 4 2-3 innings.

Norman looks to PGA event

HAWTHORN WOODS, III. (AP) — Greg Norman carries a sense of accomplishment, rather than disappointment, into the 71st PGA National Championship.

"I'm very proud of what I did. In the last round of the British Open, I fought my way back into it," Norman said. "Not many guys can fight their way back after being seven shots behind like I did."

"I'm disappointed with the outcome, of course, but I'm proud of what I did," Norman said.

Norman was seven shots off the lead going into the final round of the British Open, but birdied the first six holes on the way to a 64 that forced a playoff with eventual champion Mark Calcavecchia and Wayne Grady.

It is the memory of that 64 that Norman will take into the PGA, the last of the year's Big Four golf events.

"That's the last thing I did," said Norman, who hasn't played since the British Open.

"I've still got all those great things, all those things from the 64, in my system," Norman said Tuesday after a practice round for the event that begins Thursday on the Kemper Lakes Golf Club in the northern suburbs of Chicago.

Norman, who has an unfortunate habit of losing golf's major titles in dramatic fashion, said he was very optimistic about his chances in this one.

"I like the golf course. The golf course sets up well for me," he said. "I'm playing extremely well. I'm putting well. My confidence is good. I feel very relaxed. I'm looking forward to the week."

He said the disappointment of the British Open playoff loss did not compare with some of his earlier frustrations, such as a playoff loss to Fuzzy Zoeller in the 1984 U.S. Open, Larry Mize's playoff pitch-in to win the 1987 Masters, Bob Tway's 72nd hole birdie-from-a-bunker in the 1986 PGA, Norman's last-hole bogey that ended his bid in the 1986 Masters.

Baseball loop for seniors set for Nov.

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — No current members of the Hall of Fame were picked in the Senior Professional Baseball Association draft, but plenty of recognizable ex-major leaguers were selected by eight teams that hope to play this fall in Florida.

Former Oakland A's stars Vida Blue, Bert Campaneris and Rollie Fingers were among the 120 former big leaguers reserved through the SPBA's player dispersal system. Dick Williams, who managed that trio to three consecutive World Series titles, will manage again when the league — for former major leaguers 35 and older — begins its inaugural 72-game season on Nov. 1.

Other notable selections were former National League batting champion Bill Madlock and outfielders Bobby Bonds, George Foster, Al Oliver, Cesar Cedeno, Paul Blair, Hal McRae, Dave Kingman, Ron LeFlore and Mickey Rivers.

Infielders included Larry Bowa, Buddy Bell, Dave Concepcion, Tony Perez, Rennie Stennett, Graig Nettles and Bucky Dent. Bill Freehan, Jim Essian, Milt May and Steve Yeager were among the catchers.

Berger beats Robertson in 'Hardcourts'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Like most anyone who's picked up a racket and taken a whack at a tennis ball, Jay Berger hasn't always found the game to his liking.

"I've got to improve what I'm doing," Berger said. "I love the game of tennis, but I don't love it all the time. That's my problem."

Berger, seeded fifth in the U.S. Hardcourts championships, had no problems Tuesday as he walloped qualifier Michael Robertson 6-3, 6-3 in a battle of hard-hitting baseliners.

It was a welcome victory for Berger, who was ousted in the first round of this tournament last year and was coming off second-round losses in his two previous tournaments.

Berger reeled off eight straight points to hold serve and then break his South African opponent for a 3-2 lead in the first set.

Using shots that kept Robertson on the run deep in the backcourt, Berger held serve to go up 4-3 in the second set. Robertson then scored just one point on his own serve as Berger broke for a 5-3 advantage.

Berger needed four deuces and three match points before Robertson's return sailed beyond the baseline to end the match.

Four seeded players exited the $417,500 tournament Tuesday in a rash of upsets. No. 6 Jaime Yzaga of Peru was beaten 6-2, 6-3 by Johan Carlsson of Sweden, No. 7 Peter Lundgren of Sweden fell to Canada's Andrew Sznajder 6-3, 6-4, Simon Youl of Australia ousted No. 11 Jim Pugh 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, and qualifier Barry Moir eliminated No. 12 Pieter Aldrich of South Africa 4-6, 6-3, 6-2.

The top seeds, idle all week thanks to first-round byes, faced their first matches today. Top seed Stefan Edberg of Sweden drew Danie Visser, No. 2 John McEnroe faces Dan Cassidy, No. 3 Tim Mayotte meets Jimmy Arias and No. 4 Aaron Krickstein goes against Diego Nargiso of Monaco.

Soviet making transition to NBA

HENNIKER, N.H. (AP) — Golden State Warriors assistant Mike Schuler has been around the NBA enough to know talent when he sees it. And he says former Soviet star Sarunas Marciulionis is a can't-miss rookie.

"This kid will not fail," said Schuler, who coached the Portland Trail Blazers for three years. "I think he'll be a heck of a player."

Marciulionis, from Lithuania, is the most developed non-American player in the world, according to some scouts.

He was the first Soviet basketball player to sign with an NBA team when he agreed to a contract with Golden State in June and is expected to have an immediate impact on the team.

Marciulionis, 25, says he is excited about playing against the likes of Larry Bird, Michael Jordan, and Magic Johnson, but that the reality of his new career hasn't sunk in yet.

"It's still difficult for me to accept," Marciulionis said through an interpreter Tuesday.

A year ago, Marciulionis was on the Soviet national team preparing for the Olympics at Seoul, South Korea. Many Americans caught their first glimpse of him when he scored 19 points, including three 3-point shots, to lead the Soviets over the United States 82-78 in the Olympic semifinals.

Beating the United States and winning the gold medal was the highlight of his amateur career, he said.

But that was one year and thousands of miles ago. This week, he is in New Hampshire for the Warriors' summer camp at tiny New England College, where he is getting his first taste of pro ball.

He looks no different than any of the 15 or so free agents, rookies and roster players at the camp, and that may be his strongest suit, Schuler said. Marciulionis has fit in quickly and has picked up many nuances of the American game.

"He's had three excellent workouts," Schuler said. "He has a great ability to catch onto things."

Schuler said Marciulionis, who speaks little English, has "great ability to recognize and relate to things on the court without being told what to do."

Marciulionis has been compared to teammate Chris Mullin. Both have a soft left-handed shot, the ability to bring the ball up the Women's groups say...

Police officer could have stopped rape

DALLAS (AP) — A Groesbeck police officer could have stopped the rape of a suspected prostitute in Dallas without blowing his cover in a drug investigation, representatives of two women's organizations say.

"It doesn't take a police badge to stop a rape," said Karen Ashmore, president of the Dallas Chapter of the National Organization for Women, which has called for the firing of Officer Tomas Echarte.

"I certainly would not be comfortable with a police officer watching over my security and well-being," said Ms. Ashmore. "That's a slap in the face" to women, she said.

She said the organization will formally ask Groesbeck Police Chief Chuck Walker to fire Echarte.

Walker, who has defended Echarte's non-action, did not return phone calls Tuesday to The Associated Press.

Wanda White, a counselor at the Rape Crisis Center in Dallas, said Echarte's failure to do something was "a crime in itself."

"If a crime is being committed, somebody should do something about it... That's a decision all of us have to make," Ms. White said.

According to newspaper reports, Echarte was working on an undercover drug investigation for University Park police and pretended to be sick to avoid participating in the attack in June.

"You don't want to ruin your credibility (with the suspects)," he told The Dallas Morning News. "If it had been a life-threatening situation, I'd have blown my cover. I'd have had to. You just can't let someone be killed."

Dallas police said they will begin a criminal investigation ask if she wants to press charges.

Detectives will also ask Echarte for a full account of what happened, Dallas Deputy Chief Ray Hawkins said.

"I think he had some obligation as one human being to another to help her as best he could," Hawkins said. "All women, even prostitutes, have a right not to be raped."

Echarte reportedly said the incident occurred in Dallas while he was working on a 2-month investigation that resulted in the arrests of four University Park employees on charges of selling drugs.

Groesbeck Chief Walker said Echarte couldn't have intervened without risking his life and the investigation, the Dallas newspaper reported.

Dallas County District Attorney... know whether state law requires Texas peace officers to intervene in felonies they observe, the newspaper reported.

Echarte first recounted the incident publicly in an interview with the Waco Tribune-Herald.

RR officials probing one fatal accident

WACO, Texas (AP) — Railroad officials were still looking into the cause of a train crash in a Waco industrial park that killed a 37-year-old train engineer and injured five other people.

Waco firefighters worked for almost an hour Tuesday morning to put out the fire, said Assistant Fire Chief R.G. Wilson.

Union Pacific officials say a southbound grain train with five engines and 99 cars collided shortly after 6 a.m. Tuesday with a northbound switch engine carrying 20 to 30 cars. The accident took place on a track behind Central Texas Corrugated Inc. in the Texas Central Industrial District.

A system called "track-in-time authority" is supposed to prevent trains traveling in opposite directions from colliding, a Union Pacific official said.

"It would be like giving you permission to drive from Third Street to Eighth Street between 8 o'clock and 8:05," said spokesman Alex Tice. "At 8:05, you would get off the street or call dispatchers and ask for more time. Orders given by dispatchers are verbally repeated by engineers. The system works most of the time. This time, despite the safeguards, something went wrong. It's up to us to find out why."

After the collision, the lead engine on the southbound train jumped the track, crushed a boxcar and stopped just short of a ditch that runs west of the railroad tracks. The back of the engine sat 10 feet off the ground on a cushion of mangled iron and steel.

Engineer Frank Lewis, 37, of Fort Worth was thrown from the southbound engine after the collision. A railroad employee riding on the northbound train found Lewis on fire, Waco police reported.

Justice of the Peace Alan Mayfield declared Lewis dead at the scene.

Four other Union Pacific employees treated at Waco hospitals and released were: Terry Lee Hensley, 26, of Grandview; Terry Lee Boyd, 34, of Crowley; Billy Fleming, 59, of Smithville; and Pat Olson, 60, of Waco.

Trains operate on a block system, Tice said, similar to that on city roads. A signal system of red and green lights indicate when it's safe to enter a block. Railroad officials aren't sure if the lights weren't operating or someone missed a signal, Tice said.

Woman detained in gem fraud probe

COLOMBO, Sri Lanka (AP) — The attorney for a Sri Lankan woman who has been trying to buy bankrupt Bishop College of Dallas said he is concerned for the safety of his client, who is being detained here while authorities investigate fraud allegations.

Panditha Sujatha Nadarajah said six gem dealers are wrongly accusing her of defrauding them of $4.2 million and that she is being held hostage in a hotel.

"I don't want anything to happen to her," said A.W. Clem of Paris, Texas. "If she's in some danger, I want to know. I haven't been able to communicate with her."

Authorities confiscated Mrs. Nadarajah's U.S. passport and ordered her to remain in Sri Lanka while they investigate, said a spokesman for Colombo police's fraud bureau on Tuesday.

Mrs. Nadarajah, 48, denied the accusations. In an interview, she said she is the "victim of a big conspiracy" and is a "legal hostage" in a Colombo hotel. She did not elaborate.

The police spokesman said Mrs. Nadarajah previously was arrested for failing to pay a $4,500 bill at a Colombo hotel and for giving a bank a check that bounced. He said the hotel bill later was paid in installments.

Mrs. Nadarajah said she had not tried to avoid payment but was simply waiting for funds to arrive from the United States.

Mrs. Nadarajah tried to leave Sri Lanka on Sunday, but she was detained because of complaints submitted by local gem dealers who said checks she had given them for stones purchased in the United States last February had bounced, said the police spokesman, who by custom is not identified by name.

He said a criminal magistrate on Monday ordered Mrs. Nadarajah freed on bail but told police to hold her U.S. passport while the gem dealers' complaints were investigated. No charges have been filed, pending completion of the investigation.

Mrs. Nadarajah denied she tried to defraud the gem dealers. She said she had planned to buy Bishop College, a college in South Dallas that closed last year for lack of funds, "but this conspiracy has prevented me from doing so."

A group represented by Mrs. Nadarajah was awarded the contract to purchase Bishop College for $10 million last April and she posted $75,000 in jewels as a non-refundable deposit. She later received a one-month extension in exchange for an additional $100,000.

She has yet to pay the $100,000, which officials say they will seek to collect.

Bishop College, a 108-year-old predominantly black college in south Dallas, was closed last year when officials could not raise the $1.85 million needed to cover academic year costs.

Clem said he believes Mrs. Nadarajah still intends to buy the university, although he has not spoken with a trustee in charge of liquidating the college's assets.

"She's made arrangements for the money, I understand," Clem told The Associated Press on Tuesday.

S&L owner in Vernon is accused

DALLAS (AP) — A former Vernon Savings & Loan executive said the thrift's owner concocted a scheme to illegally reimburse employees for campaign contributions and pressured other executives to go along with the plan.

Patrick L. Malone, a former executive vice president at Vernon, testified that owner Don Dixon had promised to raise funds for the political campaigns of state and national politicians, including former House Speaker Jim Wright and former Rep. Jack Kemp, R-New York.

In the first day of testimony in a federal fraud trial of former Vernon President Patrick G. King, Malone testified that Dixon said employees could make the political contributions, then charge them to their company expense accounts or be reimbursed with phony bonuses, if needed.

"I knew what Don said was wrong," Malone said. "I knew that he wanted the money. The alternative was to become one of the outcasts and lose my position at Vernon."

King, a former deputy commissioner in the state agency regulating thrifts before moving to Vernon, is charged in a 37-count indictment alleging he conspired with other Vernon officials to approve the illegal reimbursements. No criminal charges have been levied against Dixon.

Federal regulators closed the institution in November 1987, reopening it as Montfort Savings at a cost of $1.3 billion. The thrift was merged with several others late last year into First Gibraltar Federal Savings Bank.

Vernon frequently is included among examples of the worst abuses in the industry, expanding its assets 10-fold through speculative development and construction loans.

Malone, who was forced by the Bank Board to resign from Vernon in April 1986, testified how he solicited contributions from King and other top thrift executives for the 1986 gubernatorial campaign of Rep. Tom Loeffler, and the re-election bids of Wright, who resigned after a House Ethics committee investigation; Kemp, now Secretary of Housing and Urban Development; Republican Sen. Jake Garn of Utah; and Democrat Sen. Alan Cranston of California.

ombo said Mrs. Nadarajah and her daughter had invited the gem dealers to the United States, had taken $4.2 million worth of precious stones, and had paid the dealers with checks.

The complaints filed by the gem dealers said Mrs. Nadarajah told them not to cash the checks, which were drawn on American banks, but to hold them as security and she would replace them with cash when she visited Sri Lanka.

When no cash was forthcoming, the gem merchants said they tried to cash the checks but they bounced. When they learned Mrs. Nadarajah was in Sri Lanka, they went to the police.

The police spokesman refused to give the daughter's name, saying she was still at large and evading arrest.

Aug. 10, 1989

In the year ahead you may become involved in several enterprises where you'll feel compelled to put all your chips down at once and play to win. If you rely on your efforts and talents, and not chance, you should do well.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Profitable returns can be generated at this time from innovative ideas you conceive today. What you'll envision won't be pipe dreams, so put them to practical uses. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Assist a friend who will be socially unsure today. Your poise and enthusiasm will give your pal the needed confidence.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Something might occur today that you may find extremely annoying. Bring it out in the open so that it can be cleared up quickly, instead of hiding it and letting it smolder.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A clever friend could be instrumental today in helping you find a way to accomplish something you've been unable to do. Your pal won't mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your greatest opportunities are likely to come today in financial or career areas, or perhaps through something you'll do that will bring them collectively into play.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A frustrating condition is about to change. As of today you'll be better able to come to grips with it and reduce it to a manageable size.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) It could prove unwise to let more time lapse regarding a side venture you've been holding in abeyance. If a calculated risk is required to get it moving, give it serious consideration.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) An acquaintance with whom you'll become more involved at this time should not be hastily judged. If this person is given half a chance you could end up being friends.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your imagination will be keen today and generate numerous ideas. Although they're apt to be of equal value, you'll still have to be selective so you don't attempt more than you can handle.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You might need a slight change of pace today. Try to plan something light and fun with friends for this evening that is mentally stimulating, yet physically fulfilling.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Ways can be found today to make adjustments around a situation that cannot be completely changed to your liking. These alterations might not be optimum, but they will make things better than before.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If a social arrangement you're involved in gets a bit out of hand today, step in and take charge. Since you'll be able to see ways to rectify the matter, it'll make you the natural leader.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My dear sister has contracted genital herpes from her husband. Can this disease be passed through the common use of towels, sink, shower, tub, toilet, hot tub or swimming pool? What cleaning products might be effective to prevent the spread of disease?

DEAR READER: Genital herpes is now considered by many experts to be the most prevalent sexually transmitted disease in the United States. It is spread by intimate contact, usually sexual, when one partner has active infection; that is, when he or she has the painful genital blisters that characterize the disease.

Genital herpes tends to run in cycles. It can be triggered by fatigue, illness or genital irritation. It is frequently painful, almost always embarrassing, highly contagious and difficult to eradicate. Herpes can be fatal to newborns who contract it during birth.

Acyclovir (Zovirax), a prescription anti-viral drug, shows promise in lessening symptoms of genital herpes and in reducing the frequency and severity of attacks. However, it is not a cure-all. Patients with active lesions must be fastidious in their habits to avoid contaminating uninfected individuals. This includes being especially careful about hot tubs, towels and undergarments — in short, any surfaces that are in contact with the herpes blisters. Cleaning solutions, such as household bleach, will kill the virus on objects and clothing. Genital herpes is not infectious when a patient is in the quiescent phase between attacks.

I urge your sister and brother-in-law to seek medical advice so that they can use acyclovir when the herpes breaks out.

Incidentally, because herpes is spread by direct contact, you do not have to worry about sinks, outer clothing and casual social interaction. Nonetheless, I advise patients to exercise caution in bathrooms, showers, etc. and to avoid swimming pools during periods of active herpes infection.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Where to Find Sex Information." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've always had either sodium pentothal or nitrous oxide for dental extractions. Is this advisable since I'm now 64?

DEAR READER: The choice of dental anesthesia is a decision best left to your dentist or oral surgeon. If you have never had a bad reaction to sodium pentothal or nitrous oxide, I see no reason why these substances could not be used, even though you are 64, and older patients often have more complications from anesthetics. Remember there are newer anesthetics available which might be more appropriate for you. Ask your dentist.

Fluvanna girl gets scholarship

Shanna D'Lyn Lloyd of Fluvanna has been awarded a one year $1,000 Fasken Foundation scholarship by the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation. The Fasken Foundation awarded three grants to students who have participated in the UIL academic state meet contests and who have compiled an outstanding record of academic and extracurricular achievement.

This year the TILF awarded 199 new awards and will renew approximately 144 awards for a total of 343 scholarships for 1989-90 with a value of over $450,000. Recipients may attend any approved college or university in Texas.

A Borden County High School graduate, Lloyd participated in the 1989 UIL state meet feature writing contest, participated in UIL ready writing, informative speaking, poetry interpretation, accounting and one-act play contests. She also participated in UIL basketball events, national BETA Club, 4-H, student council, and band.

She plans to attend Texas A&M University and major in agriculture journalism.

Princess plans visit

TOKYO (AP) — Princess Nori, the only daughter of Emperor Akihito and Empress Michiko, plans to visit Belgian King and Queen Baudouin in Spain next week, a palace official said.

Princess Nori, a sophomore majoring in literature at Gakushuin University in Tokyo, is to stay with the Belgian royal couple at their summer house in Spain for about 10 days beginning Aug. 16, an Imperial Household Agency official said.

Three space rookies are Columbia's crew

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Here is a look at the crew of the Columbia space shuttle for its secret military mission that began Tuesday.

Col. Brewster Shaw Jr., commander, flew fighter jets in Vietnam and later was an Air Force test pilot.

Shaw, 44, became an astronaut 11 years ago. He piloted Columbia's 1983 Spacelab-1 mission and commanded Atlantis in a 1985 night launch.

"If anyone can be said to be the best of the best, Brewster is up there," said former crewmate Charles Walker.

Shaw worked for the presidential commission that investigated the Challenger explosion and is the astronaut office's liaison with the Pentagon for classified payloads.

Shaw is from Cass City, Mich., and has a master's degree in engineering mechanics from the University of Wisconsin. He and his wife, Kathleen, have three children, ages 19, 14 and 12.

Richard N. Richards, a Navy commander, has been an astronaut for nine years but is making his first shuttle flight as Columbia's pilot.

He has been a Naval aviator aboard the USS America and USS Saratoga and a test pilot.

Richards, 42, was born in Key West, Fla., but considers St. Louis his hometown. He holds a master's degree in aeronautical systems from the University of West Florida. His wife's name is Lois.

Navy Cmdr. David C. Leestma, who made his first shuttle flight aboard Challenger in 1984, is flight engineer and mission specialist aboard Columbia.

He received his wings in October 1973 and served about the USS John F. Kennedy in the Mediterranean and North Atlantic.

During his first shuttle flight, Leestma completed a 3½-hour spacewalk to demonstrate satellite refueling.

Leestma, 40, was born in Muskegon, Mich., and has a master's degree in aeronautical engineering from the Naval Postgraduate School.

He and his wife, Patti, have five children, ages 1 to 9.

Army Lt. Col. James C. Adamson not only has flown airplanes but has taught about them, jumped out of them and has led ground forces.

Adamson, 43, was born in Warsaw, N.Y., and earned a master's degree from Princeton University in 1977. He became an assistant professor of aerodynamics at West Point, where he had graduated in 1969.

He has written a text on aircraft performance, has flown research aircraft and is a licensed commercial pilot. Adamson flew in Vietnam as a scout pilot, team leader and air mission commander. He flew with medical evacuation units and worked at the Johnson Space Center before becoming an astronaut in 1984.

Adamson and his wife, Susan, have a 15-year-old son.

Mark N. Brown, an Air Force major, was a member of the solid rocket booster redesign team appointed after the Challenger explosion.

He received his wings in 1974 and joined a fighter squadron at K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base, Mich. In 1979, Brown was transferred to the Air Force Institute of Technology at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio, where he got a master's in aeronautical engineering in 1980.

Brown then worked as an engineer at the Johnson Space Center, where he became an astronaut in May 1984.

Brown, 37, was born in Valparaiso, Ind. He and his wife, Lynne, have two children, ages 7 and 3.

Former PTL aide agrees to testify against Bakker

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The former top aide to PTL founder Jim Bakker pleaded guilty to fraud and conspiracy and agreed to testify against the evangelist, but Bakker's attorney said the deal was suspect because the aide had sold his soul.

U.S. District Judge Robert Potter on Tuesday also refused to delay Bakker's trial, turning down complaints from defense attorneys' about pretrial publicity.

"Whether this case is tried in Charlotte, North Carolina, or Ottumwa, Iowa, two years from now, there is going to be pretrial publicity. It is one of the prices that we all must pay for a free press," Potter said.

Jury selection is scheduled to begin Aug. 21 with opening arguments to start a week later.

Richard Dortch, former executive vice president of PTL, pleaded guilty to one count of mail fraud, one of wire fraud by telephone, one of wire fraud by television and one of conspiracy, according to one of his attorneys, Mark Calloway.

"Beyond that, we have no comment," Calloway said.

A plea agreement calls for Dortch to cooperate with the U.S. Attorney's office and the Justice Department in "whatever form" requested, including "sworn testimony in court and documentary materials."

"Richard Dortch will become the key witness against Jim Bakker," said Washington lawyer Ben Cotten, who represents convicted former PTL aides David and James Taggart.

"Having pleaded to conspiracy — with Jim Bakker being the alleged co-conspirator — it will be very difficult for Bakker to convince the jury that at least on the charge of conspiracy he's innocent," Cotten said.

He also said the Taggarts would consider testifying against Bakker.

George T. Davis, Bakker's attorney, said he was surprised by the plea agreement and said Dortch's testimony has "got to have some effect."

"These kind of deals are somewhat suspect from the very nature of the animal because it is not uncommon for people to sell their souls if necessary to save their bodies," Davis said.

Bush signs S&L legislation today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush today signed far-reaching legislation to rescue the nation's ailing savings and loan industry, calling the measure "a first step, a crucial step, toward restoring public confidence."

"I'm proud to sign this monster," Bush said at a Rose Garden ceremony attended by architects of the nearly foot-high bill, which authorizes $50 billion in new government borrowing over the next 26 months.

The bill also imposes tough new standards on savings and loan institutions and triggers the most sweeping overhaul of the regulatory bureaucracy in 50 years.

Along with the late-morning signing of the measure, the president was ordering his administration to gear up to close or merge hundreds of failed institutions.

Bush said the measure, which received final congressional approval Saturday, "says to tens of millions of savings and loan depositors: you will not be the victims of others' mistakes."

Among the 300 or so people at the signing ceremony were Treasury Secretary Nicholas Brady, Housing and Urban Development Secretary Jack Kemp and key Capitol Hill sponsors, including Sen. Donald W. Riegle Jr., D-Mich., and Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Texas, chairmen of the congressional banking committees.

To the president's right were mock-ups of the new emblems that the institutions will put on their doors to assure depositors their money is safe.

One proclaims in bold, white letters against a gold background: "Deposit Federal ly Insured — Backed Up by the Full Faith and Credit of the United States Government."

"This legislation comes to grips with the problems facing our savings and loan industry. It will safeguard and stabilize America's financial system," Bush declared.

He called the measure, a variation on a bailout plan he submitted to Congress on Feb. 6, "historic legislation."

"It is responsive and responsible. And for that, I salute the Congress," the president said.

Immediately after the signing ceremony, Brady was conducting the first meeting of the board overseeing the Resolution Trust Corp. The RTC was created to manage the sale of sour loans and repossessed real estate the government is inheriting from ailing savings and loans.

The RTC board, whose members also include Kemp and Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan, will approve operating policies for the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., the agency charged with managing the bailout. It also will appoint top staff members to oversee the FDIC.

Mrs. Higgins wants living hostages saved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wife of Marine Lt. Col. William Higgins says she is praying for President Bush's efforts to "save the living" U.S. hostages in Lebanon as she acknowledges her husband almost certainly is dead.

Robin Higgins, wearing her Marine Corps uniform and speaking in a calm and steady voice, acknowledged for the first time Tuesday it is a "virtual certainty" her husband is dead.

"Now is not the time for anger and bitterness, for recrimination and blame. Now is the time for calm reflection....Now is the time to tell Rich Higgins that we love him and we miss him," she said.

Meanwhile, the Boston Globe today quoted Bush as saying he isn't optimistic the eight remaining U.S. hostages will soon go free, but plans to continue negotiating for their release.

"I have no problem with that... if I can talk to somebody and get the release of an American hostage and do it without, in my view or in the view of the experts, putting others at risk" of being taken hostage, Bush told the paper.

"I have no reason to say that I can see in the short run a total resolution of the American hostage problem. I wish I could."

Higgins was the commander of a U.N. peacekeeping force in southern Lebanon when he was abducted on Feb. 17, 1988.

His Shiite Moslem kidnapers released a 30-second videotape a week ago that purported to show him dangling by a rope, bound and gagged. The terrorists said the U.S. officer was hanged in retaliation for Israel's kidnapping of Sheik Abdul Karim Obeid, a Moslem cleric.

State Department officials rejected any suggestion tying the fate of the eight American hostages to billions of dollars of Iranian assets frozen in this country nearly a decade ago.

"The questions of the assets have no connection or linkage whatsoever with the hostage issue," spokesman Richard Boucher told reporters.

A report in the English-language Tehran Times quoted a source saying Iran would definitely intercede to gain the release of the hostages if Washington gave assurances it would release frozen Iranian assets.

While Mrs. Higgins issued her call for reflection, Pentagon spokesman Pete Williams noted that U.S. warships remain on patrol in the Mideast region, pointing out that 26 U.S. vessels are in the Mediterranean while 21 are stationed in the Indian Ocean.

lane, each with a minimum width of 12 ft.

On the south side of 37th St., for the majority of the approximate 1 mile stretch, the curb line will be moved back 4 ft.

On the north side of 37th, the curb will be moved back either 6 or 12 ft. From Ave. U west to Austin Place, the 12 ft. setback will be required. From Austin Place to Crockett, the requirement will be a 6 ft. setback on the north side of the street.

A 4 ft. sidewalk will be added on both sides of 37th also. The entire project will measure exactly .814 of-a-mile.

At the hearing Sept. 12, verbal and written comments from the public will be accepted. The public may also offer such comments within 10 days after the hearing.

Written statements may be submitted to the District Design Engineer's office at P.O. Box 150, Abilene, Tx., 79604. State highway officials stress that these must be received within 10 days after the public hearing.

There were no qualified times in the boy's 12-under ribbon roping but Jeff Yates of Corsicana turned in a 4.49 run to lead the 13-15 division. Snyder's Leddy Lewis was second in 6.09.

In the aftershow slack, Sweetwater's Boyd Brooks took over the second-go lead in the 12-under pole bending with a time of 19.91, and in Tuesday's morning slack, 13-15 age competitor Caryn Standifer of Colbert, Okla., had a 8.15-second clocking as the best time in the goat tying.

'Dead' woman wakes up

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — An 87-year-old woman who regained consciousness as she was about to be embalmed showed no signs of life before she was taken to the funeral home, a boarding home operator said.

"The lady died away for a while and later came back to," said Robbie Caldwell. "The lady was laying there. She had no pulse, no blood pressure, nothing. She was just gone."

Ms. Caldwell did not say whether Carrie Stringfellow was pronounced dead by a physician before she was taken to the funeral home on Saturday, and she refused to answer additional questions.

Ms. Stringfellow, whose murmuring startled a mortician preparing to embalm her, was listed in fair condition Tuesday at Mercy Medical Center. She was taken to the hospital after she was found to be alive.

"She has no recall of what happened to her Saturday evening," Ernest Henson, vice president of medical services at the hospital, said at a news conference. "It's kind of like a black period."

He said her memory otherwise seems to be unaffected and that she appears to be "cheerful and happy." He said Ms. Stringfellow, who is blind, may be released from the hospital as early as Friday and plans to live with a niece.
