An organized effort by city employees has surfaced here to oppose a proposed reduction in the city staff's benefit package. An estimated 50 of the city's 78 employees met Wednesday night to organize opposition to proposals still under consideration by the council regarding sick leave, vacation time, holidays and retirement benefits.

An employee spokesman was elected at that meeting, street department staffer David Hines, a former city councilman here.

The group is also now circulating a petition to protest the changes. The petition's opening statement contends that the city's benefits "are competitive with local and surrounding entities."

It reads, "We request that all the present benefits be continued so that the city can attract and keep quality employees, including the current policy of sick leave, vacation, holidays and the retirement system."

Faint signal reported in Leland search

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Rescue crews searching for a plane that disappeared carrying U. S. Rep. Mickey Leland and 13 other people were told today that a weather satellite detected an emergency signal from an airplane.

James Haley, a spokesman at the U. S. Embassy, said the faint locator signal was picked up by a National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration orbiter and was coming from an area 130 miles south-southeast of Addis Ababa, the capital.

Haley said the region is well outside the area rescue workers have been searching since Monday, when the twin-engine plane carrying the Texas Democrat and his party disappeared in remote, rugged country near the Sudanese border.

Hayley said it would probably be several hours before anyone reaches the site because it is night and the signal was coming from rough terrain.

Officials said they remained optimistic because a master bush pilot was at the controls when the plane disappeared in bad weather Monday shortly after leaving this capital for a refugee camp near the Ethiopian-Sudanese border.

President Bush called Leland's disappearance a matter "of great concern to us" and said Ethiopia is "going to get all the cooperation we can give them."

State Department spokeswoman Margaret Tutwiler said Wednesday that Marxist Ethiopia "agreed to an overflight of the area by a U-2 photo-reconnaissance plane."

She said an Air Force C-141 Starlifter medical evacuation plane was sent from West Germany carrying a 20-member medical team and search and rescue, weather and communications personnel.

AJRA times 'tight'

Wednesday's performance of the AJRA National Finals Rodeo featured tight competition, especially in the girls barrel racing and breakaway roping, as less than a half-second separated first through fifth places.

The rodeo continues nightly through Saturday at Scurry County Coliseum. Tickets for the 8 p.m. shows may be purchased at the door and prices are $4 for adults and $2 for children under 12. Box seats are also available for $6.

Shasta Brooks of Sweetwater finished first in a hotly-contested go in the barrel racing for girls 12 and under with a 14.70 time. She was followed closely by San Angelo's Crystal Bell with a 15.02. A 15.13 run by Sonora's Pam Jones was good enough for third place. Fourth place went to Jennifer Smith of Zephyr. Smith's time was 15.20.

In the girls 13-15 division of the barrel racing, Kelly Jo Ogden of Gail topped competitors with a time of 14.90 seconds. Sarah Bland of Mineral Wells took second spot with a 16.62 followed in third place by Charlotte Overton with a 20.00. Overton is from Graham. Fourth position for the evening went to Brandye Bitters from Mineral Wells with a 20.43.

One of the tightest races of the evening was in the girls 16-19 barrel racing. J.J. Robbins of El Paso headed the field with a 14.61 run. Placing second was Alison McFadden of Crane with a time of 14.72. Gretchen Hilton of Olney (see RODEO, page 8)

99 die in train accident

LOS MOCHIS, Mexico (AP)—Rescue workers today searched the muddy banks of the San Rafael River for more victims of a train crash that killed at least 99 people and scattered rail cars across the track and into the ravine below.

The train plunged off a bridge and fell about 25 into the river early Wednesday while en route from the coastal resort of Mazatlan to the northern city of Mexicali, on the border with Calexico, Calif.

Passenger cars were jumbled along the tracks like straws. Some lay on their side in the river.

Heavy rains Wednesday hampered efforts to reach victims, and the search was suspended during the night, but the sky cleared this morning and police, firefighters and Red Cross workers returned to the site.

Helicopters landed rescue workers nearby and casualties were taken out on railroad handcars.

Officials said at least 107 people were injured, including 30 seriously, and that the death toll (see HUNDREDS, page 8)

Fourth guard class has good response

Interest apparently remains high in the Texas Department of Corrections guard training class offered through Western Texas College, despite advisories to those signing up that the fourth graduating class likely will have to seek positions in prisons located elsewhere in the state.

With approximately one week remaining to sign up, WTC staffers have handed out 96 class applications as of Wednesday.

Mike Thornton, head of continuing education at the college, says these numbers match the interest shown for the past three correctional officer classes.

The actual class size for the three already graduated has been in the 25 to 30 range. Acceptance to the class involves both TDC testing and background checks.

"When they come to pick up an application, the first thing we ask them is, 'You do realize, you won't be working at Daniel,'" Thornton said.

Those showing interest in the class represent approximately a 100 mile radius from Snyder, he noted, saying, "That's about as far as we went with advertising."

While no graduates of the fourth correctional officer class are guaranteed employment at the local prison, all may apply for transfers back to the Price Daniel Unit immediately.

Thornton explained that TDC has now opted to waive its previous policy, which required a minimum of six months at one site before transfer to another could be requested.

He said TDC is expected to keep this waiver in force for a minimum of six months after (see TDC, page 8)

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Cheer up—Jonah was down in the mouth once, too."

We've just completed our first month as president of the Texas Press Association. It's one of those jobs where the paid staff does all the work, while officers take trips and get an increased volume of mail.

One of the things we've noticed is some of the keen names that adorn the nation's press. In Snyder, the Daily News is one of the more common ones.

A lot of newspaper names reflect history, civic pride or mergers. The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal is a combo of two early-day weekly newspapers. We've always wondered why anyone would think of an avalanche on the South Plains.

In Bonham, they read the Daily Favorite, and in Athens it's the Daily Review. Brownwood has the Bulletin and several towns have either the Citizen or the Courier. No one dares to question the Facts in Brazosport.

The Texan is in Dalhart, although Dalhart is barely in Texas. Gonzales has the Daily Inquirer and Harlingen has the Morning Star. The Hereford Brand has a nifty name while McAllen has the Monitor. Other names include the Index, Enterprise, Recorder, Light, Tribune, Reporter, Telegram, Advocate, Leader, and Democrat. There is no Republican in Texas publishing names.

Weekly publications of this state include the Anson Western Observer, Bastrop Advertiser, Beeville Bee-Picayune, Big Lake Wildcat, Bovina Blade, Kinney Cavalryman and the Carrizo Springs Javelin.

There's the Champion in Center, the Comanche Chief, Dangerfield Bee, Eagle Lake Headlight, Eden Echo, Fredricksburg Radio-Post, the Mirror in Gilmer, the Jefferson Jimplecute, Liberty Vindicator and the Riesel Rustler.

The San Augustine Rambler is descriptive as is the Schulenburg Sticker. The Springtown Epigraph is unique, but our favorite name is the Floyd County Hesperian in Floydada.

And because you always wondered about Hesperian, here goes: Hesperia was an ancient Greek name for Italy, or land of the west. In Greek mythology Hesperides were the daughters of Atlas who, together with a dragon, guarded the golden apples. We suppose the Hesperian is a nifty name for Guardian.

Q.—Is it mandatory that every county in the state be permitted to sell fireworks?

A.—The State of Texas allows the sale of fireworks. Cities, since they are granted ordinance rights, may prohibit such sales within their legal boundaries, but counties do not have the legal authority to prohibit such a state law, according to the state fire marshal.

In Brief

Fatal dispute

DALLAS (AP)—Police, fire trucks and several ambulances were dispatched to an apartment complex near Love Field today, and at least one person was reported dead and three injured in an incident that involved a car fire, shooting and stabbing.

The manager of an apartment complex said it appeared two men trying to get away from someone drove their car into a trash bin, the vehicle burst into flames, and both men got out safely, but someone ran to the vehicle and fired several shots.

"I heard gunshots," said Anita Barrington, assistant manager of the Bachman Oaks apartment complex near the Bachman Glen apartment complex at 2555 Webb Chapel Extension, where the incident occurred.

New trial?

HOUSTON (AP)—A judge's decision to recommend that an appeals court grant a new trial for convicted killer Rodney Muldrew virtually guarantees he will get a chance to undo his life sentence for murdering a cab driver, his attorney said.

After months of hearings, state District Judge Ted Poe said Tuesday he will tell the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals that jurors at Muldrew's 1986 murder trial didn't fully understand that a state witness was to get about $6,000 in rewards.

Poe also decided that Muldrew's original attorney, Tommy Dunn, was an effective lawyer at the trial and that then-prosecutor Doug Durham did not engage in misconduct to assure a conviction.

Spy satellite

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Columbia's astronauts worked through the third day of the shuttle's secret mission today as word came from the Air Force secretary that they had successfully put into orbit a powerful spy satellite.

"The United States now has a satellite in orbit as the result of a very successful launch," secretary Donald Rice told a small group of reporters after a ceremony at McDill Air Force Base in Tampa, Fla.

Reactions vary to S&L bailout plan

By The Associated Press
Many depositors are angry at the costly federal bailout of the thrift industry, but some say they don't care as long as their money is safe and others confessed ignorance about the rescue.

"I think it stinks," Ramiro Salazar, a 55-year-old mail carrier from the Los Angeles area, said Wednesday after President Bush signed the landmark bailout legislation into law. "How could they let it get so out of hand? It's going to affect everybody who pays taxes." A random check by The Associated Press of depositors across the country found cynicism and resentment over the bailout, which will require the government to spend about $285 billion over the next 30 years to close or dispose of money-losing thrifts.

coming from taxpayers. "This should not have happened," said John McGirk, a computer technician in New York. "The regulators knew this was coming and they should have done something about it before making us pay for it."

It is the most expensive industry rescue in history, with more than half the bailout money

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have a problem with cold feet. Three to four blankets, socks and the like don't help. I don't drink coffee or alcohol, don't smoke, walk regularly, yet my feet sting and burn like I've been in the cold too long. I'm on gout medication and high blood pressure medication but can't stand the pain from the cold feet.

DEAR READER: Cold, stinging feet can be the first sign of a blood circulation problem or neuropathy (nerve malfunction) in your lower extremities. Circulatory deficiencies are often caused by age-related arteriosclerotic buildup in blood vessels. When insufficient blood reaches the feet, they can feel prickly and cold. Neuropathy is a common consequence of metabolic diseases, such as anemia and diabetes. I suspect that vascular disease is the cause of your problem, because you are on medication for high blood pressure. However, you should ask your doctor about this.

While you're at it, question your doctor about anemia, diabetes, kidney disease, Lyme disease (an infection caused by a tick bite), and other ailments that are associated with the symptoms you describe. Finally, ask your doctor to consider the possibility that one or more of your medicines may be contributing to the problem. For example, by reducing circulation at the same time they lower blood pressure, many anti-hypertensive drugs can cause cold, prickly feet.

I believe your doctor is the logical person to sort out the possible causes of your complaint. If he or she is unable to do so, request referral to an internist, a physician skilled in diagnosis, for a second opinion. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Medical Specialists." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Are there any side effects from Halcion? I've been on this medication since 1983 because of a nervous breakdown.

DEAR READER: Halcion (triazolam) is classed as a hypnotic agent, a sleeping pill. The manufacturer strongly urges that the drug be used only for short-term treatment of sleeping disorders because of its addiction potential. Some patients become dependent on it and, if the drug is suddenly withdrawn, they experience symptoms of restlessness, cramps, sweating, tremor and convulsions. Other side effects include drowsiness, headache, lack of coordination, memory loss, confusion, nausea and vomiting. Therefore, the drug is potentially dangerous, and its dose must be tapered in chronic users. Despite its dangers, Halcion is a useful drug when prescribed under medical supervision.

I believe you have been taking Halcion too long. I'm surprised your doctor would continue to prescribe it year after year. Because "nervous breakdowns" are often associated with depression — and sleeping pills, as a rule, are depressants — I'm also surprised that your physician would choose Halcion, which can contribute to depression in susceptible patients.

I think you would be healthier if you addressed your insomnia in other ways — for instance, through counseling or other, less addictive medication. Ask your physician about this. In addition, you might request referral to a therapist who could help you discover methods of coping with stress and tension, two common causes of sleeplessness. Remember, you should not suddenly stop the Halcion on your own; you might experience side effects unless the withdrawal is monitored by a health professional. To give you more information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Help II — Mental/Substance Abuse." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Crisco contest added at State Fair of Texas

It's that time of year again, where Texas bakers are cordially invited to create their best-tasting, best-looking "My Favorite Texas Pie" for the Crisco American Pie Celebration at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas, Sept. 30 at 10:30 a.m.

A fair in each state will host the Crisco American Pie Celebration, each selecting one blue-ribbon finalist. These 50 finalists will then travel next spring to Atlanta, Ga., to compete for the ultimate bragging rights as creator of "THE American Pie."

In addition to gaining national recognition for their culinary talents, participants in the Crisco American Pie Celebration have the opportunity to meet new people, share baking secrets, have a terrific time and discover a common bond, their love for baking pie.

"From Tulsa to the national finals, it was fun making friends and getting to meet new people," said Rosalie Seebeck of Bethany, Okla., the 1988-89 Crisco American Pie Celebration national winner. "The contest was a real heart-warming experience, and I sure did enjoy it."

No pre-registration will be necessary. Pies must be baked at home using Crisco Shortening in the recipe, and should be taken to the Creative Arts Building by 9:30 a.m.

"My Favorite Texas Pie" is an open category designed to encourage a wide representation of pies reflecting an assorted variety of fruit and other agricultural products found throughout the Lone Star state.

All pies will be judged on the same criteria—crust, filling, appearance and originality.

"We found pie bakers to be very special people and we're proud to help them celebrate their love for the art of pie baking," said Reggie Fils-Aime, Crisco Shortening Manager. "Their excitement and enthusiasm has inspired us to make the Crisco American Pie Celebration an annual tradition. We expect this year's contest to be better and more exciting than ever."

As the celebration enters its third year, contest organizers expect a record-breaking number of entries. Last year, over 1,200 bakers entered nationally.

For more detailed entry information, contact Elizabeth Peabody of the State Fair of Texas at (214) 421-8744.

The magic combination

North took the blitzkrieg approach. When he made a forcing jump raise in hearts and South cue-bid the spade ace, he simply asked for aces and bid six. No doubt he hoped that South held three clubs, so that a spade could be shed from dummy on South's club ace. When the spade 10 was led, declarer's first chance was that West had led away from the king. But dummy's queen drew the king from East. Now a 2-2 heart split would still leave declarer positioned to make the slam just by guessing who held the diamond queen. But king of hearts and a heart to the ace left East holding a good heart trick. What was left now?

If diamonds were 3-2, it would do declarer no good to guess the diamond, since East would ruff in and cash the jack of spades to beat the hand. The only chance for declarer would be to find East with four diamonds. If East did have four, he would be more likely to hold the queen. So, in dummy now with the ace of hearts, declarer led the nine of diamonds and let it ride when East played low. A second diamond was then finessed to the 10, and the king of diamonds was cashed. Declarer reached dummy with a club and played ace of diamonds, throwing a spade as East had to follow with the queen. The last diamond let declarer get rid of his last spade, and the slam was made. Lucky, yes. But declarer played for the only combination of cards that would let him make the slam.

Murdock to lead UT

AUSTIN (AP) — Quarterback Mark Murdock of Texas may be a step slow, but Coach David McWilliams says he reads defenses as well as he reads books, which he does very well as a student in a liberal arts honors program.

Murdock, a third-year sophomore, became a starter midway through Texas' 4-7 season last year, the worst football record for the Longhorns in 32 years.

McWilliams is only 11-12 in two seasons at Texas, so a school that once routinely went to bowl games is now trying to learn how to win again.

And it won't be easy with a non-conference schedule that includes Colorado, Penn State and Oklahoma, as well as Southwest Conference road games against defending champion Arkansas, Houston and Texas A&M.

Murdock, 4.9 in the 40, may be the key, with guidance from new offensive coordinator Lynn Amedee.

"He's smart, tough, has a strong arm and reads (defenses) well," McWilliams said of Murdock. "His only problem is scrambling. He doesn't have quick feet."

"In the spring, the No. 1 priority was to improve his quickness, and he made some people miss him. 'If you'd jumped rope as many times as I did this spring, you'd be quicker, too,' he told me," McWilliams said.

He said Murdock "is smart in books, but he's also football smart. There are some guys that are brilliant who can't tell you cover 3 from cover 5 (defense). When he makes a mistake, normally he'll tell you what it was. You don't have to tell him."

Murdock, who threw for 1,189 yards last season, and running backs Chris Samuels, Deon Cockrell and redshirt freshman Adrian Walker will try to fill the gap left by tailback Eric Metcalf, who had 1,265 yards running and receiving last season as a senior.

With Metcalf off to the pros as a first-round draft choice, a bowl game seems out of the question for Texas.

"We better talk about a winning season first," said McWilliams, who also has added a new defensive coordinator, Leon Fuller.

Among the top returning lettermen is senior Tony Jones, who set a school record with 838 yards on 42 pass receptions last year, and punter Bobby Lilljedahl, No. 6 nationally.

"But (overall) we don't have those proven, experienced guys that have been out there and done it," McWilliams said in an interview.

Other veterans to watch, he said, include offensive tackle Ed Cunningham; defensive tackles Roger Fritcher and Ken Hackmack; defensive end Oscar Giles; and linebacker Duane Duncum.

He also mentioned as possible upcoming stars linebackers Anthony Curl; Mical Padgett and Brian Jones, a UCLA transfer; as well as defensive end Tommy Jeter; defensive tackle Todd Hunt and safety Lance Gunn.

"What we've accomplished the last couple of years, more than anything, is that we now, at least, have some depth in numbers in quality players."

Rangers get road win finally as Jays fall 4-3

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Blue Jays expected to see lots of knuckleballs from Charlie Hough. But that didn't mean they knew what to do with them.

"You have to stick with what got you here," Hough said after allowing five hits over six innings as the Texas Rangers snapped a four-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory over the Blue Jays Wednesday night.

"I've always had to rely on finesse," Hough said. "I'm not going to fool too many hitters with my power. But I felt great out there. I felt like I did in spring training."

Hough, 7-11, mixed in a fastball or two, but threw mainly knuckleballs in winning his second straight decision.

The 41-year-old righthander gave up two runs, struck out three and walked four before leaving in seventh following a leadoff double to Mookie Wilson. The ex-Met later scored after a sacrifice bunt by Nelson Liriano and a groundout by Tony Fernandez.

Jeff Russell gave up Manny Lee's leadoff single in the bottom of the ninth, then retired the next three batters in order for his 24th save of the season.

"The shoulder gave me a bit of a problem," Russell said. "But once the adrenalin set in, I didn't even notice it. Unlike in Baltimore last week when I was missing, it was up. At least tonight when I missed, I kept the ball down."

Harold Baines got the Rangers on the board early, with his 15th home run in the first inning off Dave Stieb for a 1-0 lead.

"Hal takes him over the fence to get us started and (Fred) Manrique comes up with a couple of key base hits," Texas manager Bobby Valentine said. "We got the offense when we needed it and played defense the way you're supposed to."

Julio Franco started the next inning with an infield single to second and Steve Buechele scored Franco from first with a double into the leftfield corner. Manrique drove in his first of two runs with a single to center to put the Rangers ahead 3-0.

Softball tourney set for Aug. 18

There will be a co-ed and men's softball tournament August 18-20 in Snyder.

Entry fees are $65 for co-ed teams and $85 for men's squads. The field will be limited to the first 28 teams to enter.

For more information call 573-4931 or 573-4146.

'Dallas' producer files lawsuit

DALLAS (AP) - In a case of real life mirroring fiction, the producer of the "Dallas" television series has sued the owner of Southfork Ranch seeking to keep the owner of the ranch from using the Southfork name or making any other reference to the series and its fictional Ewing clan.

It's a suit that would make the J.R. Ewing proud.

The suit, filed Wednesday by Lorimar Distribution Inc. against Terry V. Trippett and his businesses, CollinCommodore Ltd. and Collin County Ranch Corp., alleges that Trippett and his companies failed to renew a 1988 licensing agreement requiring royalty payments of at least $500,000.

Trippett missed a Dec. 31 deadline to renew the contract with a $100,000 down payment on the ranch's 1989 royalty obligation, which is calculated as a percentage of the property's quarterly income.

was expected to rise. Torrential rains over the last week were blamed for the crash.

"The cause was quite clear. The heavy rains loosened the railbed and the rails just gave way," said Roberto Martinez Maestre, a spokesman for the state government based in Mexico City, 730 miles from the crash site.

Rail and rescue officials could provide no immediate breakdown on the nationalities of the victims. Eleven victims identified Wednesday night were all Mexicans.

The train, popularly known as "The Burro" because it stops at almost every station along the 900-mile route, was patronized almost entirely by poor Mexicans.

The train had gone about 250 miles when the accident occurred at about 4 a.m. Police said they did not know how fast the train was going at the time of the accident or how many people were on board.

Most people on the train were apparently asleep, and the majority of the victims drowned, said Javier Lopez, the Red Cross

Those and other budget-related issues are scheduled for discussion in a 6:30 p.m. Monday council work session.

Some call it a drug...

Controversy begins over new cereal

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — General Mills Inc. says its new cereal is nothing more than a breakfast food that can reduce cholesterol, but Procter & Gamble Co. thinks it should be tested as a drug if it's going to make health claims.

P&G, which sells over-the-counter medicines, wants the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to order General Mills to pull the cereal, Benefit, off the market. It contends cereals should come under the same federal testing as drugs before health benefits such as reduced cholesterol can be advertised.

General Mills disagrees. "It's a cereal that's made from grain. It's consumed like a cereal. It's no different from any other cereal that's on the marketplace that contains soluble fiber and has the ability to lower cholesterol," General Mills spokesman Craig Shulstad said Wednesday.

The FDA is reviewing Procter & Gamble's June 8 request and is expected to respond soon, said Chris Lecos, press officer for the agency.

Benefit contains oat bran, rice and psyllium, a grain grown mainly in India. The outer husk of psyllium contains soluble fiber, which General Mills says has been shown to reduce cholesterol.

According to General Mills, which is based in the Minneapolis suburb of Golden Valley, tests conducted in 1987 on men with average and above-average cholesterol levels found that Benefit reduced cholesterol levels an average of 9 percent when 2 ounces were eaten daily as part of a low-fat diet.

Benefit accounted for about two-thirds of the reduction, the company said.

The Benefit package touts the cereal's claims of reducing cholesterol, a fatty substance that can build up in inner artery walls. The deposits can narrow blood vessels, decrease the blood flow and may lead to a heart attack or stroke.

Kellogg Co. made a similar claim in 1984 when it linked consumption of All-Bran, a high-fiber cereal, with reduction of cancer risks.

The FDA could have declared the cereal a drug, forcing Kellogg to undergo lengthy procedures for drug approval. But FDA Commissioner Dr. Frank Young said such action, which could have entailed seizing All-Bran, would have been ridiculous.

Instead, the agency decided to come up with a regulation that would allow health claims on labels — a process that is still under way.

P&G — which also makes toiletries, soap, detergents and other household and food products — claims General Mills is playing by a different set of rules from drug manufacturers in being allowed to make health claims without FDA approval.

Psyllium also is an ingredient in Cincinnati-based Procter & Gamble's Metamucil, a bulk fiber laxative. P&G had asked the FDA to allow the company to make cholesterol-lowering claims for Metamucil, but the agency said more tests were needed, company spokesman Bill Dobson said.

P&G recently submitted the results of additional testing and more tests may be required, Dobson said. An earlier study found that Metamucil reduced total cholesterol about 15 percent, he said.

Dobson said it's unfair for P&G to have to substantiate its cholesterol-lowering claims for Metamucil, while General Mills can make the same claims for a food product without getting FDA approval.

General Mills, which also makes Cheerios and Wheaties cereals, began distributing Benefit in Minneapolis-St. Paul and Milwaukee in late April and early May.

Jury rules against woman

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Texas Tech University did not fire a woman from her job with the university's athletic department because of her age, a jury in a federal civil suit has ruled.

The jury Wednesday rejected Mary Elizabeth Benak's contention that she was fired from an accounting position in October 1986 at 59 because of her age.

Mrs. Benak contended that her firing was a violation of the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, which makes it unlawful to discharge an employee over 40 because of age.

University officials claimed she was fired because she did not handle the responsibilities of her job and that her age was not a factor.
