

Trustees encouraged over small business management program

Western Texas College trustees Monday night were told WTC enrollment is up by more than 100 students over last fall, and they encouraged college administrators to proceed with a small business management education program in the spring semester.

Dean of Student Services Duane Hood said enrollment has reached 1,144 students, up from 1,026 last year, with inmates who qualified to take college courses at the Price Daniel Unit having had a significant impact.

Hood said the number of students from Scurry County declined from 487 to 427 while the number of students from Texas but outside the county increased from 505 to 675.

Dean of Instruction Bettie McQueen reported on the school's plan to inaugurate nine courses offering from 20 to 40 hours of instruction each on subjects including "How to Start Your Own Business," "Credit and Financing," computer science, accounting and personnel management after the first of the year.

Upon completion of the 210 total hours of adult vocational instruction, she said, a student will be credited with six academic hours toward an associate degree in applied science management.

"Studies have shown that thousands of small businesses fail each year due mostly to a lack of knowledge and training in business management," McQueen said.

The 5:45 p.m. meeting opened with the presentation of a plaque to board member Bill Wilson Sr. for his 20 years of board service.

Gay Hickman, college vice president for business and finance, reported that the school was helped considerably in 1988-89 by a tax collection rate that went to about 105 percent, raising more than the originally projected $1.6 million in property tax revenues and allowing a projected carry-over of about $25,000

Ask Us

Q--Please tell us what is done with drugs and money confiscated in drug raids.

A--The drugs are confiscated by law enforcement agencies and are destroyed after they have been used for evidence. State law allows district attorneys to file motions for judges to award other seized property, such as money and motor vehicles, to the counties in which they are seized.

Chamber accepts nominees

Snyder Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors accepted a slate of four candidates Monday to replace directors whose terms end this year.

Nominated were Susan Neves, Paula Gilbert, Larry Schwarz and Terry Bowden. Directors whose terms end this year are David Kattes, Joe Coronado, M.L. Duke and Herbie Figueredo. Figueredo will remain on the board, serving as immediate past president.

Chamber members will be mailed a ballot, according to Bill Moss, chamber director, which will give members the opportunity to nominate other candidates. To nominate someone other than the four nominated, a member must acquire 10 signatures of qualified chamber members and have them to the chamber office within 10 days of the postmark on the ballot.

Board President Figueredo presented drawings for two billboards advertising Snyder. One, to be seen on I 20 will sport the slogan "Grow West and Retire with the Best...Snyder...Where You Want to Be." The other, located on Highway 84, will advertise Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Its slogan will state "Snyder Goes To Great Heights To Care For You," and will feature a helicopter.

It was also noted during the meeting that the target date for Snyder magazine is Nov. 30. The magazine will advertise Snyder as a place to rear families, educate children and retire. Another publication, Scene, has a target date of Nov. 1. For the tabloid to be published, 45 advertising spaces must be sold by Oct. 15. The business card-size ads are available for $25 per each issue. The ads must be purchased in six-month blocks, therefore, one ad in each of six issues would cost $150.

Figueredo also noted the beginning of the Snyder Pops season. Individual season passes may be purchased for $75. Family-of-two (see CHAMBER, page 8)

Unique hand cancel to be featured

Snyder Postmaster Charles Thornton has announced the approval of a temporary postal station for the Scurry County Fair.

The station will be in operation Thursday from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. and will be located at the White Buffalo Stamp Club's booth at Scurry County Coliseum.

The annual county fair, featuring arts and crafts, livestock judging, games, rides and live entertainment, opens at noon Thursday and runs through Saturday at the coliseum.

The postal station will have a selection of recent commemorative and other stamps and postal cards available for sale. At the request of the stamp club, a special souvenir pictorial hand cancel has been approved for use at the station. The cancel honors the Price Daniel unit of the Texas Department of Corrections and features artwork by Snyder artist Myrtle Joiner showing a prison guard tower and barbed-wired fence along with a windmill, water tank and cattle.

Mail, with appropriate postage applied, can be deposited anytime Thursday in the mailbox provided at the Stamp Club's booth in the Scurry County Coliseum. (see POST OFFICE, page 8)

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The Aggies are big on research. They're trying to cross their mascot with a chicken in hopes the critter will lay poached eggs."

The beginning of school always excites not only for students, but for staffers as well.

Veteran Snyder educator Ray Courtney is the new principal at North Elementary. His secretary, Wanda Short, has enlisted the help of the entire staff in keeping up with the new principal.

Keeping up with students is a big task in itself. Judy Barkowsky, a third grade teacher at North, during the first week of school was helping bus students find the correct bus.

In particular, the pre-kindergarten students appeared confused and Mrs. Barkowsky was trying to make sure they boarded the right yellow vehicle.

"Where do you live?" the teacher asked one little boy.

"Snyder," came the shy reply.

Two more picked up in drug investigation

Two more of the six men who were named in seven sealed indictments here early this month as part of a three-county undercover drug investigation were reported in custody Monday, leaving only one more defendant to be apprehended here in the wide-ranging "drug bust."

County officers arrested Richard Tovar, 33, of 3803 Galveston Ave. about 4 p.m. Monday in a parking lot at Eighth St. and College Ave. on two counts of delivery of a controlled substance, cocaine.

Tovar was released from the county jail Monday night on two $15,000 bonds.

A deputy learned Monday that 29-year-old Felipe Martinez of Colorado City, another of the defendants accused in the Scurry County indictments for delivery of controlled substances, had been picked up Saturday night in Colorado City on a Mitchell County drug charge warrant.

He said the sixth Scurry County defendant, whose name was being withheld pending his arrest, would probably be picked up Tuesday.

The county grand jury two weeks ago issued the sealed indictments as a result of undercover work that had gone on since last November in Scurry, Mitchell and Nolan counties, with District Attorney Ernie B. Armstrong indicating that they were all related and that the defendants' names would be revealed in about two weeks.

Saturday night and Sunday, 28-year-old Thomas Boley of 111 Hickory St., 31-year-old Bruce Wortham of 4400 Ave. U, No. 5B-7, and 27-year-old Steve Dillard of 1912 Towle Park Rd. were taken into custody for delivery of controlled substances here in the three-county sweep that began at 9 p.m. Saturday with a concerted effort by officers in the three counties.

Boley, Wortham and Dillard each remained in custody in the county jail here Tuesday in lieu of $15,000 bonds.

A deputy said the investigation started in Nolan County, because of the three counties, it has the worst drug problem.

Most of the "buys" were made by a female undercover agent, he said.

Taking no chances

By James Jacoby

Today's deal was played last year in a competition in South Africa. South most frequently was declarer in seven spades and usually went set. In most cases declarer drew trumps and, having no way of knowing that the diamonds were splitting badly, eventually lost a diamond trick. Once or twice West made the inexplicable opening lead of a diamond away from the jack, which made smooth sailing for declarer. Those who failed to make seven spades would have done better if they could have called upon our favorite declarer, Careful Charlie, to help them in the play.

Careful Charlie would have seen that a dummy reversal was a possible approach to potential bad distribution in the diamond suit. With the opening lead of a trump, Charlie would have won in dummy, played ace of hearts and ruffed a heart with a spade honor. He would then have played a spade back to dummy, noting that both opponents followed. Another heart would be ruffed, followed by K-A and the ruff of a club. Now dummy would be entered with the queen of diamonds. The ace of spades would be played, declarer discarding a diamond. The king of hearts would come next, with the last possible diamond loser going away. Virtue would then be rewarded as the A-K of diamonds took the last two tricks.

And what if either opponent had shown out on the second round of spades? Then declarer would have had to draw trumps and hope that the diamond suit behaved.

Exotic meals on the grill

By The Associated Press

When you're tired of hot dogs and hamburgers, try something more exotic — like Indian, Korean or Caribbean cuisine.

Rich Davis, creator of K.C. Masterpiece barbecue sauce, says Tandoori-inspired fare is easy to prepare on the barbecue grill. Poultry can be marinated overnight in yogurt spiced with cumin, turmeric, cinnamon, ginger and garlic. If desired, a drop of red food coloring mixed with water can be brushed over the chicken just before grilling to add the traditional fiery hue.

Meaty short ribs take on a Korean accent when brushed with a blend of garlic, ginger, sesame oil and soy sauce before and during the cooking process.

To create tropical-Caribbean tastes, marinate beef in coconut milk, rum, ginger and crushed, dried hot red peppers before grilling.

Most vegetables cook quickly on the grill. Many can be grilled over medium-hot heat directly on an oiled grid or in a foil pan. Some, like endives, green beans and squash, are best cooked covered.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universe I Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to the woman who complained that her relatives were forever arguing with her about religion was ridiculous. You advised her to simply declare that the subject was off-limits.

Are you suggesting that people talk only about trivial, meaningless subjects so as to avoid the possibility of controversy? Part of the problem in our society today is that so many people talk only about shallow, petty things, and never examine the deeper topics or question the truth.

It is arrogant to tell people that there are subjects which they may not mention in your presence. You could have suggested that she learn enough about their cult to show them the errors contained in its teachings.

CONVERSANT
IN AMHERST, VA.

DEAR CONVERSANT: In my view, the height of arrogance is to attempt to show people the "errors" contained in the religion of their choice. That's a good way to start World War III.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "Had Enough in Little Rock": I used to have the same problem with my sister — only she wasn't trying to convert me to her religion. She had a different mission.

She's anti-abortion and I'm pro-choice, and whenever the subject would come up, I would never allow it to reach the discussion stage because it would always end up in an argument. I'd tell her, "Becky, you and I do not agree on this issue and we never will, so let's not discuss it." Then I'd steer the conversation to another topic.

She still mails me magazine articles, newspaper clips and all the anti-abortion propaganda she comes across — but I don't have to read it. That's my choice.
BECKY'S SISTER IN MADISON

DEAR ABBY: Regarding "Had Enough in Little Rock," whose sister and brother-in-law kept trying to change her religious faith, I had this problem many years ago when I married into a family whose religion was different from my own.

About 20 years ago, I clipped something from your column and had it laminated and I have carried it ever since. Whenever the subject of religion came up with someone, I handed him this quote from a letter that Thomas Jefferson wrote to Mrs. H. Harrison Smith in 1816:

"I never told my own religion nor scrutinized that of another. I never attempted to make a convert, nor wished to change another's creed. I am satisfied that yours must be an excellent religion to have produced a life of such exemplary virtue and correctness. For it is in our lives, and not from our words, that our religion must be judged."
Thanks, Abby.
HAD MORE THAN ENOUGH

DEAR ABBY: You suggested to "Had Enough" simply to declare that the subject of religion would be "off-limits."

Abby, there is no such thing as "off-limits" to some people — and my mother is one of them. When I learned to think for myself, I realized that I could never accept my mother's religion, so I made a study of comparative religions, found them all to be implausible and became a free-thinker. As soon as I graduated from college, I married a man who shared my views.

My mother has never stopped trying to get me to accept "the truth" as she perceives it. She keeps telling me I am going to hell if I don't embrace her religion, and I keep telling her that if I do, it will be my problem.
It's not easy to maintain a good relationship with a mother as headstrong as mine, but I love her for her good qualities, and manage to make the best of it.

By state officials...

Trip expenses eyed

AUSTIN (AP) — Statewide elected officials running up a $90,000 tab at taxpayer expense over the past 2½ years for trips outside Texas defended their actions, saying the trips benefited citizens.

The Austin American-Statesman reported that officials who are seeking re-election or higher office have billed taxpayers for the trips, at times staying in posh hotels, eating at fine restaurants, and ordering expensive room service.

The spending has drawn concern from some lawmakers and public interest groups who say the Legislature should restrict out-of-state travel by elected officials, especially when the state is struggling to make ends meet.

This year, lawmakers resorted to $1 billion of bookkeeping gimmicks to balance the state budget, while Texas continues to rank near the bottom of states in assistance to poor people.

"It would be reasonable to put some restrictions," on out-of-state travel by elected officials, said Sen. Kent Caperton, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

"I don't think we ought to make statewide elected officials stay in the Motel 6, but I do think there's the potential for abuse," Caperton, D-Bryan, told the Austin American-Statesman.

"It does seem reasonable to have some limitations," said Pam Fridrich, executive director of Common Cause.

But officials who made the trips say they were for the benefit of the state.

Travel records since January 1987, obtained under the Texas Open Records Act, show that Land Commissioner Garry Mauro, a Democrat who is seeking re-election, spent $39,674 on 39 trips, including 26 to Washington, D.C.

Most of his visits to Washington involved meeting with congressmen and federal officials on issues such as pollution and beach cleanup.

"My political agenda is to clean up the Gulf of Mexico and to clean up the air," Mauro said. "At some point, what's good public policy and what's good for the individual elected official become one and the same."

Texas Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance, a Republican candidate for governor, spent $16,322. Hance's trips included four to Vienna, Austria, to attend meetings of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

Hance also traveled to London to meet with the president of OPEC. On that trip, he spent $340 for one night's lodging, dinner, room-service breakfast and telephone calls at the London Hilton on Park Lane. Hance's European trips cost $9,549.

But Hance said the taxpayers benefited. "It was probably one of the greatest investments they've ever made. Look at the evidence: Oil prices have gone up and it's helped turn the economy around," Hance said.

Poll shows Texans against pay hike

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas voters appear unlikely to support a pay raise for their state lawmakers, according to results from a survey of likely voters.

A proposal on the Nov. 7 ballot would increase legislators' pay from $7,200 per year to $23,358.

The survey, commissioned by The Dallas Morning News and the Houston Chronicle, shows that 51 percent of those surveyed oppose the constitutional amendment to triple legislative salaries. Thirty-eight percent favor it and 11 percent were undecided.

"It looks like a goner," said pollster Richard Murray, adding that lawmakers "shouldn't spend the money yet."

Murray, a University of Houston political scientist, said the measure may be in more trouble than the survey indicates.

"Generally, proposals of this nature — whether it's to issue bonds or increase public officials' salaries — fare worse at the polls than show up in these elections surveys," Murray said.

Backers of the pay raise say legislators are paid too little and a raise would lessen the influence of lobbyists who make large contributions.

The statewide poll was conducted Sept. 5-13 by the Center for Public Policy at the University of Houston. It has a margin of error of four percentage points.

The survey was based on telephone interviews of 1,024 registered voters who said they were likely to vote in the March 1990 primaries. They were selected from 163 key urban precincts and rural counties.

Pilot surprised by bull snake

STURGIS, S.D. (AP)—Norbet Baker, who keeps his Cessna 150 in a pasture, says he will add one more item to his preflight inspection.

"I'm definitely adding 'snake' to my checklist," said the Sturgis pilot, who came face-to-face with a 1½-foot-long bull snake while cruising comfortably at 800 feet Friday night.

Baker and Dale Rovere of Black Hawk were about 10 miles north of Sturgis, a western South Dakota community, when the snake popped its head up through a hole in the dashboard, about 2 feet in front of their faces.

"He was hissing and sticking his tongue out at us," Rovere said.

Baker reached for a rag, grabbed the snake and threw it out the window. "Stuff just flew everywhere. It was a mess," Rovere said.

"After it was over, we got quite a chuckle out of it," said Baker. He figures the snake crawled up the tail assembly, through the fuselage and into the engine compartment.

The bull snake is nonpoisonous and feeds mostly on rodents.

DEAR READERS: Several weeks ago, I received a request to describe Klippel-Trenaunay syndrome. I pleaded ignorance and asked for help. Some kind readers took pity and sent me information on this rare condition.

Klippel-Trenaunay syndrome (angio-osteohypertrophy) consists of a benign overgrowth of blood vessels within a limb, associated with moles and enlargement of the muscles and bones, making the extremity bigger and hotter than the unaffected one.

The condition may be present at birth but usually develops during the first months or years of life. Varicose veins and mental retardation may be present. The cause is unknown but appears to be due to an inherited abnormality. There is no treatment. Typically, the limb (usually an arm) grows rapidly and then stops, leaving a residual deformity.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've recently become a vegetarian and am concerned about getting the correct balance of nutrients in my diet. I'm hearing about complete and incomplete proteins, but don't really understand them. Can you help?

DEAR READER: I don't really understand them either. Protein is protein. Although protein from meat, fish and poultry is high-quality, you will experience no health problems by substituting whole-grain protein, such as cereals, which is just as nutritious.

Vegetarians come in many degrees. Some people choose to eliminate only meat; they eat eggs, fish and milk products. Others disdain all products produced by animals, including milk and eggs. Obviously, the risk of protein deficiency is higher in the more restrictive diets.

Depending on your dietary preferences and your general state of health, you may need some calcium and vitamin supplements. Ask your doctor to help you choose a nutritious diet.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health

Report "Eating Right for A Healthy Heart." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have two ruptured discs in the L3, L4 region. How long does it take for medication to ease the severe pain in both legs?

DEAR READER: In my experience, the pain of ruptured discs is often difficult to control with medicine. If your discomfort is severe, you may need narcotics for pain-control. In this case, improvement may be almost immediate, although this effect is by no means consistent. Narcotics often reduce pain but do not eliminate it entirely. What's more, once the effects of the drug have worn off, the

Seles, Smith win at Virginia Slims

DALLAS (AP) — Two veterans tried to make up with the head what the body was lacking in the first round of the $250,000 Virginia Slims of Dallas.

One succeeded. The other came close. Anne Smith, 30, playing in her hometown, was the winner. Continuing a comeback from shin splints, Smith rallied Monday from a 2-4 deficit to beat Amy Frazier of Rochester Hills, Mich., 6-4, 6-3.

Bettina Bunge, 26, was the game loser. Ranked as high as

Spikers battle SA Lake View

Coach Patty Grimmert and the Snyder Lady Tigers match their season mark of 7-7 against San Angelo Lake View today, beginning with the freshman unit at 5 p.m.

SHS is seeking its first District 4-4A victory in volleyball this season after losing to Pecos, Sweetwater and Ft. Stockton in their first three loop outings.

Lake View is 1-2 within the league, beating Andrews and falling to Big Spring and Monahans, and 1-4 on the 1989 season.

Junior varsity action begins at 6:30 and varsity competition should get under way at about 7:30 p.m. in the SHS girls' gym.

Netters play in San Angelo

Snyder's tennis Tigers travel to San Angelo today for a 3 p.m. match versus the Lake View Chiefs as SHS continues play in District 4-4A.

The Tigers last match, a 9-9 tie with Andrews, was decided in favor of the Mustangs by virtue of the number of sets won during the individual matches.

Snyder and Lake View will play six boys' matches, six girls' matches and three each doubles matches.

Ira JV wins over Gorillas

Ira's junior varsity Bulldogs travelled to Trent and beat the Gorillas, 13-0, in grid action Thursday.

After a 0-0 first half, David Reyna of Ira reeled off a 12 yard touchdown scamper. The point after was no good, but the 'Dogs held a 6-0 lead.

Quarterback Chris Haynes connected with Michael Latham for Ira's last TD, a 15 yarder, in the fourth quarter.

The Haynes-to-Latham combination clicked again for the extra point to give the Bulldogs their final margin of victory.

Tournament benefits park

Snyder's first Park Club Softball Tournament will be played at Winston Park Sept. 22-24.

For fees and registration information call 573-6347 before 5 p.m. and ask for Bobby or 573-1548 after 6 p.m.

Proceeds of the tournament are to be used for building expansion at the Winston Park clubhouse.

sixth in the world in 1983 but unranked now after a 22-month layoff with knee and foot injuries, Bunge entered here as a wild card. She roared back after a nervous 1-5 start to scare 10th-ranked and fifth-seeded Monica Seles.

But Seles, a 15-year-old pro from Yugoslavia now living in Bradenton, Fla., eventually wore down Bunge to win, 6-7 (7-0), 6-4, 6-0.

"I at least gave her a bit of a workout," said Bunge. "Maybe she knows the old veteran can play a little. But after the second set, my mind completely went, and physically, with my bad knee, it was too much. If (the knee) is always inflamed. If it's like this, I'm not going to play any more."

Seles, winner of $163,211 this year, admitted that when Bunge won the first-set tiebreaker, "I didn't know the score. I just lost everything for a minute."

Seles took command when she broke Bunge for a 5-4 lead in the second set. "If I lost that game, I probably would have lost the match," Seles said.

She blasted away with her backhand, and Bunge didn't win another game.

Frazier turns 17 today, but the amateur said age had little effect on the outcome of her match.

"I don't think age makes any difference on the court. You just go and play," she said.

But Smith countered, "I think it does, but she's so young, she doesn't know that now. When I was down, I started coming in and moving her. When it's close, those shots become harder to hit."

This is Smith's fourth tournament since mid-January. She will meet No. 4 seed Pam Shriver of Baltimore in the second round of the 28-draw event.

In the only other singles match Monday, Shaun Stafford of Gainesville, Fla., defeated Gretchen Magers of San Diego, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Top seed Martina Navratilova of Fort Worth begins her quest for the $50,000 first prize Wednesday against the winner of today's match between Dinky Van Rensburg of South Africa and qualifier Ginger Helgeson of Del Mar, Calif. Navratilova drew a first-round bye.

Gray expected to play in Oklahoma State tilt

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Injured Texas Tech running back James Gray is expected to start on Saturday when the unbeaten Red Raiders play Oklahoma State at Stillwater, Okla.

Gray ran seven times for 69 yards and scored on a 53-yard run Saturday in a 27-20 victory over New Mexico before coach Spike Dykes decided to protect Gray's bruised right shoulder.

"Our decision not to play James was a good one," Dykes said on Monday. "We didn't want to take any chances on getting him hurt further. We would have

Pair of champions fall in season's week No. 2

Two defending state champions, Dallas Carter in 5A and Corrigan-Camden in 2A, were sidetracked in only the second week of the regular season.

And their losses were reflected in The Associated Press Schoolboy Football Poll. Carter, which was ranked fifth last week, lost to Killen 10-7 and dropped out of the top 10.

"We just couldn't move the ball," Carter coach Freddie James said. "They weren't kept playing him and normally we would have left him in."

Dykes said Oklahoma State will be angry after starting the season 0-2.

Ryder Team in England

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — The American Ryder Cup team, given a White House send-off by President Bush, is ready to begin its quest for golf's top international team prize.

Team captain Raymond Floyd and 11 members of the 12-man American team, accompanied by family and by PGA Tour officials, zipped through customs on Monday upon arriving at Birmingham airport. The other American player, U.S. Open champion Curtis Strange, was at the gate to welcome the team to Britain for the biennial matches.

Floyd and other members of the entourage visited with Bush in the White House Monday morning before flying to New York and then to England.

The team boarded a caravan of limosines for the short ride to the Belfry at Sutton Coldfield, where the biennial matches will be held Friday through Sunday.

Denver defense stiffens as Broncos take win from Bills

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y. (AP) — The defense was supposed to take charge, sparking the offense to a big show in prime time.

It did, unexpectedly, for Denver, while Buffalo's plans to do exactly that never materialized.

The Broncos, winners of just one of their previous 11 Monday night road appearances and beaten in their last eight games on artificial turf, convincingly reversed those trends with a 28-14 victory. Only when the Bills went to a hurry-up offense that their coach, Marv Levy, had called unethical before last year's AFC championship game did Denver's revitalized defense struggle.

But not for long. "We didn't want to be in a situation where we were on our heels all the time," Coach Dan Reeves said. "To say it was a great win for us would be an understatement."

The Broncos ranked just 22nd in NFL defensive statistics last season. They made the Super Bowl in 1986 and 1987, only to have the defense betray them in the big game.

So Reeves fired longtime defensive coordinator Joe Collier and replaced him with Wade Phillips. The defense has been sensational, forcing eight turnovers, as Denver went 2-0 with wins over Kansas City and the Bills.

"He wants us to be aggressive," cornerback Wymon Henderson, who picked off two passes by Jim Kelly, said.

The Broncos were most aggressive in building a 21-0 lead. They got a safety when Michael Brooks was unblocked and tackled Jamie Mueller in the end zone one play after Nate Odomes' interception had given Buffalo the ball inside its 1-yard line. Henderson's first interception led to rookie Bobby Humphrey's 33-yard run and, two plays later, Vance Johnson's 9-yard touchdown reception.

Then Andre Reed, who had 13 receptions for 157 yards, fumbled and Denver converted it into David Treadwell's 46-yard field goal as the first half ended.

The rookie kicker also hit from 22, 33 and 24 yards.

"We've always got somebody coming up with a big play when we need it," said Tyrone Braxton, who had one interception Monday night and scored on an interception return last week.

Usually, that's what the offense does. It had its share of critical plays, too — by Vance Johnson, Humphrey and Sammy Winder, who went past 5,000 career rushing yards, and, of course, quarterback John Elway.

"This is a big, big win for us with a young team," said Elway, who saw Reeves make more personnel changes than any other coach in the league.

The Bills defense, the stingiest in the AFC last year, was victimized by Buffalo's offensive problems.

"It could have been 50-0 instead of 15-0 early on, with all the mistakes we made," nose tackle Fred Smerlas said.

What the defending AFC East champions should do, according to Coach Marv Levy, is forget the past — last season's unbeaten record at home, and last week's defeat of Miami on the last play of the NFL opener.

"We're not going to win because we're good guys or because we know how to pull them out, or because we kick a field goal, like last year," Levy said. "We're going to win by playing better than last year because we had some good fortune. We earned a lot of that good fortune and we have to earn it again."

Buffalo looked like it might earn a dramatic comeback victory after Kelly led the team on 77 and 66-yard hurry-up drives to make it 21-14. Larry Kinnebrew scored on a 1-yard run and Ronnie Harmon took a 20-yard touchdown pass from Kelly.

But Levy knows you don't win too often with gimmicks. And Denver's defense got back to making the decisive plays.

"You make a garrison try at it," Levy said, "and it looks exciting. But it's desperation football and it pays off on rare occasions."

Monday night was not one of them.

Rangers dump Seattle 5-2; Ryan K's only 2

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — Giving up three hits in 7 1-3 innings would make just about any pitcher proud. Not so, Nolan Ryan.

Fred Manrique hit a two-run, tie-breaking double in the eighth after Ryan had left the game in the Texas Rangers' 5-2 victory over the Seattle Mariners Monday night.

"It was the worst command I've had all year," said Ryan, who got a no-decision after hitting two batters and walking five. Ryan's two strikeouts were his lowest total since Aug. 15, 1988. "I pretty much struggled the whole game."

Still, Ryan added to his major-league leading 279 strikeouts. He has two more starts to chase 300, a figure not reached by any major league pitcher since Ryan fanned 341 in 1977 while with the California Angels.

Cecilio Guante, 6-5, relieved Ryan and got the victory.

Walks to pinch hitter Jack Daugherty and Cecil Espy set up Manrique's double off Mike Jackson, 4-6. Manrique continued to third on right fielder Jay Buhner's throw and scored on Rafael Palmeiro's suicide squeeze.

Ken Griffey Jr. hit a two-run double in the Seattle fourth. Ryan walked three and hit a batter in the inning, but escaped further trouble when Omar Vizquel grounded out with the bases loaded.

Rookie Juan Gonzalez hit his first major-league homer, a two-run shot, that tied it in the fourth. Jeff Kunkel singled with one out and Gonzalez homered off Scott Bankhead.

But the talk was all about Ryan, how even on his worst night, he was just too much for Seattle.

"That's what makes him a great pitcher," said Mariners manager Jim Lefebvre.

Drug violations...

Seeks tougher penalties

AUSTIN (AP) — State Rep. Dan Morales' call for life imprisonment without parole for certain drug offenders was criticized as political ploy in his race for state attorney general.

"I know him (Morales) and consider him a friend, but I think he's doing this just because he's running for office," John Boston, executive director of the Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association, said Monday.

But Morales, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, said, "Getting drug dealers off the street has got to remain a top state priority."

Morales of San Antonio said he will ask Gov. Bill Clements to open the agenda of the November special legislative session to include his legislation.

Clements has said he will call legislators back into a special session Nov. 14 to work on the state workers' compensation system. The governor, who controls what legislation can be considered in special session, has declined to say what, if any, other issues he will open for consideration.

Morales said he is confident Clements will open the session for the proposals because the public is "fed up with rhetoric and I think they're going to demand action."

One of Morales' bills would allow a court to assess life in prison without parole to persons convicted of selling large quantities of hard drugs who have a prior conviction. Another proposal would allow juries to assess a death sentence in cases where a person was convicted of murder during a drug deal.

Morales said the life-in-prison bill would clean the streets of 50 to 100 drug dealers annually in Texas.

"Individuals who have shown time and again that they are ready, willing and able to deal drugs to our kids and other members of the public" have "lost the right to walk among us as a free human being," he said.

But Boston said inmates serving life without parole frequently are discipline problems in prison because they have no incentive to try and rehabilitate.

Concerning Morales' other proposal, Boston said the Legislature first must deal with the U.S. Supreme Court decision in the Johnny Paul Penry case before trying to amend the capital murder law.

Private insurance seen as being inadequate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Private insurance companies never will be able to protect most Americans against the staggering cost of long-term care at home or in nursing homes, says a leading expert on social insurance.

Former Social Security Commissioner Robert M. Ball argues in a new book that while sales of long-term care policies are likely to rise dramatically in coming years, companies won't be able to provide quality coverage at rates most people can afford.

"They know exactly what consumers want — but the dilemma is that when those wants are met, the cost goes up very considerably, shrinking the market for the newly improved policies," Ball wrote.

His book, "Because We're All In This Together," proposes a new social insurance program akin to Social Security that would levy more taxes to fund basic long-term care protection for all Americans.

This coverage would be augmented through supplementary private insurance plans, individual savings and an improved Medicaid program for the poor.

"Only a plan that anticipates the needs of society as a whole and spreads the risk as broadly as possible can meet the need at a cost that is bearable for each of us," Ball said. "Private insurance cannot possibly do the job alone."

Private insurers so far have sold about 1 million long-term care policies providing limited coverage to less than 2 percent of the age 50-and-up population that represents most of the potential market, Ball said.

Ball predicted pressure for a better and broader solution will grow along with public concern about the rising cost of long-term care — the bill for one year in a nursing home averaged $25,000 in 1988 — and the limits of current government coverage.

"It's not just a matter of the elderly wanting more protection for themselves," he said in an interview. "Those who are really at risk most are middle-aged people either needing to bring their parents in to their homes to care for them or facing very high expenses for nursing home care."

With Hungary...

Closer ties are seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bush administration plans to boost Hungary's trade status following a series of steps viewed by U.S. officials as progress on economic and political issues by the Warsaw Pact nation.

"Hungary has undertaken major steps toward economic and political reform," leading to the U.S. plan to grant most-favored nation status to the Eastern European communist state, President Bush said on Monday.

Speaking at a news conference in Helena, Mont., Bush said the move "will open new doors for the Hungarian economy, encouraging greater market orientation and increasing the foreign exchange earnings."

That and other initiatives were announced Monday by Commerce Secretary Robert Mosbacher, who was in Budapest for talks with Hungarian officials.

Meanwhile, The Washington Post today quoted Hungary's new parliament speaker, Matyas Szuros, as saying he sees the possibility that his nation could withdraw from the Warsaw Pact and become neutral by the end of the century.

Szuros said the shift to neutrality could take place "within a climate of trust" between Hungary and the Soviet Union.

The package announced by Mosbacher also includes new development programs and the establishment of a $25 million fund to help create private business in Hungary.

The proposals are part of a comprehensive pact to "support Hungary's efforts to develop a freer political system and to create and expand private enterprise," said Mosbacher.

Latin America's agricultural sector grew 6.4 percent in 1987, an improvement over the 2.5 percent setback it had in the previous year, says the Inter-American Development Bank.

Cheaper flying seen at Love

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumers could find traveling out of Dallas cheaper and less-hassle filled if restrictions on the use of Love Field are repealed and other carriers move into the downtown-area airport, a federal official says.

Removing the Love Field restrictions "would likely increase airline competition, provide added convenience, and reduce congestion at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport," says Tom Carter, director of the Federal Trade Commission's Dallas regional office.

"As a result, consumers both in Dallas and elsewhere, could benefit substantially," Carter says.

Some of those benefits include lower airfares to certain locations, lower parking and commuting costs, and reduced delays, Carter said in testimony recently to the Dallas City Council's transportation committee.

Under the so-called Wright amendment now under threat of repeal in Congress, direct flights out of Love Field are restricted to cities within Texas and its four neighboring states — New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

WHAT SITS OUT BACK, RUNS SUMMER AND WINTER, AND SAVES YOU MONEY?

A heat pump. And there are three good reasons you should get one.

A HEAT PUMP COOLS, HEATS AND SAVES.

Replace your old air conditioner with a new electric heat pump. It's a high efficiency air conditioner in summer. While, in the winter, it's the most energy efficient heating system you can own. On even the coldest days, a heat pump system operates efficiently and will provide all the warmth you need.

A HEAT PUMP CAN SAVE $130 A YEAR.

Compared to a gas furnace, a heat pump is more energy efficient. And TU Electric's low rates make heating and cooling your home with a heat pump an even better value. Tests have shown you can save $130 or more a year by installing a heat pump.*

GET MORE INFORMATION.

You can find out more about the amazing heat pump, including details on rebates, from your local heat pump dealer.
