Federal district court...

Suit trial date expected soon

A Lubbock federal district court suit filed April 7 against 132nd District Judge Gene Dulaney following the dismissals of the Scurry County auditor and his chief deputy is nearing the point where a trial date could be set, with Nov. 1 the deadline for attorneys to file pre-trial motions.

Former County Auditor Bernhard Bartels and his deputy, Ann Walton, are seeking back pay, reinstatement and other compensation in the suit.

Pre-trial motions will be considered soon by U.S. District Judge Sam Cummings of Lubbock because plaintiffs' lawyers Brian Quinn and Thomas Griffith of Lubbock and Dulaney's lawyer, Forrest Bowers, are reaching the end of the discovery, or evidence-gathering, process.

Oct. 1 is the deadline Cumings has imposed for discovery to be completed, with the attorneys having been involved in taking depositions from persons with knowledge of the case and in other ways gathering evidence that might be presented in a trial.

Bartels, a former Pct. 3 county commissioner, and Walton, a Snyder school board member, were released from their jobs, according to the petition filed by Quinn and Griffith, when Bartels refused to fire Walton for her activities during the race last year between Dulaney, a Republican, and Lealand "Pete" Greene, a Democrat who is now Scurry County attorney.

Dulaney told county commissioners during a court meeting last December that he was going to insist Bartels replace Walton because her advocacy of Greene during the race was "against courthouse policy."

Dulaney, who has the responsibility of appointing the county auditor, said he did not wish to replace Bartels but would if Bartels did not fire Walton.

Bartels refused to do so, and Dulaney replaced him with Linda Franklin on Jan. 1. Franklin replaced Walton with Gail Dixon.

Attorneys indicated in telephone interviews that the seven-month-long Interstate 30 condominium trial involving (See FEDERAL, Page 8)

Contestants are sought for Miss Snyder pageant

Contestants for the Miss Snyder Scholarship Pageant are still being accepted, according to Bill Moss, chamber of commerce director.

The pageant is open to women between the ages of 17 and 26 as of Sept. 1, 1989. Entrants must be a high school graduate, single, never have been married, of good moral character and a citizen of the United States.

The pageant will be held in Worsham Auditorium on Nov. 11, 1989. The current Miss Texas, Leah Kay Lyle of Plainview, is expected to perform at the pageant here.

Winners will progress from local competition to state and national levels. Over $5,000,000 in educational scholarships are awarded annually.

Young women interested in the pageant are urged to contact Moss at 573-3558 or 573-0637.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "Some folks are versatile—they can do anything wrong."

Some people, especially law enforcement types, claim to have an innate ability to determine if someone is telling the truth.

It has been a common-held belief that in judging a person's veracity, people are heavily influenced by whether the person appears nervous, shifts about regularly, avoids eye contact, stammers, pauses, mumbles or repeats the question.

It's sort of like the little guy who decides to be "street smart" in the TV commercial for a breakfast cereal.

Now, however, psychologists at Michigan State University have done a study concluding that posture and eye contact is not necessarily an accurate indicator of truthfulness.

Almost anyone can remember those trips to the principal's office or the teacher's workroom. Their first demand was to "look at me."

Parents have used this technique on children for years, and wives have even been known to insist "look me in the eye and say that again."

The MSU study had to do with versions of accidents in both familiar and unfamiliar settings. The study found that only in unfamiliar surroundings did body language influence the believability of the witness.

Since most lying occurs in familiar surroundings, people may listen more to the context of a statement than to the smoothness of presentation.

We're reminded of the oil company retirees who made it their practice to play 18 holes of golf every day. One of the golfers usually got home in time for an early dinner.

On his way home, the man saw an attractive young lady stranded by the side of the road. He stopped and offered to help. He was extremely late getting home.

His wife demanded an explanation. "Honey, we've been married all these years, and I think it's best that I level with you. I saw this young woman with a flat tire, I stopped and helped her out. One thing led to another and we ended up at her apartment. I'm very sorry," the golfer confessed.

"Don't lie to me," demanded his wife. "You played 36 holes didn't you?"

Jurors watch videos

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Jurors in Jim Bakker's fraud trial began watching the television evangelist making the sales pitch he is accused of using to defraud his followers of millions of dollars.

Prosecutors on Monday began showing an eight-hour videotape culled from broadcasts of Bakker's "The PTL Club." Earlier in the day, actor Efrem Zimbalist Jr. testified that the PTL board of directors, on which he once served, was little more than a rubber stamp for Bakker.

On the tape, Bakker asks followers to send $1,000 in exchange for "lifetime partnerships" that guaranteed the donors three nights a year lodging for life at PTL's Heritage USA theme park.

"We're going to unveil ... the most exciting project ever undertaken ... perhaps in the history of Christianity," Bakker, dressed in a black tuxedo, told his television audience in 1984.

Bakker is accused of diverting more than $3.7 million in PTL money raised from the partnerships to pay for personal luxuries. If convicted of the 24 counts against him, Bakker could be sentenced to 120 years in prison and fined more than $5 million.

Witnesses have testified they bought the partnerships but could not get rooms. Others have testified that partnerships were oversold and that the money from such promotions often was used to cover PTL's day-to-day operating costs rather than finance construction of the guaranteed rooms and buildings.

FBI agent Harold Pearson, who compiled the videotape, said more than 66,000 partnerships were sold to viewers by the time Bakker left PTL, despite a publicized limit of 25,000.

"All we need is 25,000 people to become members," Bakker said on a program televised Feb. 20, 1984. "That's all the memberships we can have in the Heritage Grand Hotel. In two weeks, we will be closed."

On the tape, Bakker consistently mentioned the restrictions.

Assessing benefits, risks of surgery

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 73-year-old female with emphysema, heart failure, hypoglycemia, hiatal hernia and hypothyroidism. My cardiologist wants to do an operation on the artery in my neck. How dangerous is this procedure, and how much recuperation is necessary?

DEAR READER: Without knowing what operation your cardiologist recommends, I can't assess the benefits and risks of the procedure. However, because of your emphysema and heart disease, you are certainly at high risk for serious complications from anesthesia. You will want to be absolutely sure the operation is necessary before consenting to it.

Why not obtain a second opinion? You certainly could benefit from another perspective. The advice given by a qualified consultant would enable you to make an informed decision about surgery. To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "An Informed Approach To Surgery." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been on thyroid replacement for many years and see an endocrinologist every six months. A couple of years ago, my white blood count dropped to the low 2,000s, and since then has ranged between 2,500 and 3,500. I'm afraid my immune system might not be adequate to meet an emergency and that the low count indicates the early stages of some disease.

DEAR READER: I suspect you have two different afflictions. First, you have an underactive thyroid gland, for which you take thyroid supplements. The medicine is an unlikely cause for your low white-blood-cell count. Patients with hypothyroidism sometimes have low blood counts, but the counts usually return to normal once the thyroid deficiency is corrected.

Second, your white-cell count is low. It should ordinarily be 4,500 to 10,000 cells per cubic millimeter of whole blood. Although a count of 2,500 to 3,500 may be normal for you, it could indicate a problem, such as leukemia, with your bone marrow. The bone marrow may stop making cells if the patient has a nutritional or vitamin deficiency, cancer, immune deficiency, chronic infection or toxic drug reaction (from penicillin, for example). Ask your endocrinologist why your white-blood-cell count is low and whether more tests could indicate additional treatment.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have internal and external hemorrhoids that have been treated in the past by surgery. My current doctor assured me he can remove the internal ones with a rubber-band treatment and the external ones by freezing them. What's your opinion?

DEAR READER: Ligating hemorrhoids with rubber bands or freezing them may be appropriate therapy for you. Both techniques are standard; they don't involve surgery and are, therefore, less painful, safer and cheaper. If your doctor is familiar with these methods, take his advice.

Bomb probable cause of crash

PARIS (AP) — A bomb probably caused the crash of a French DC-10 jetliner that disappeared shortly after taking off from Chad with 171 people on board, the airline said today.

The French airline UTA also said it received an anonymous call from a man claiming responsibility for the crash on behalf of the Moslem terrorist group Islamic Jihad. The airline said it was not in a position to judge its authenticity and informed the French Foreign Ministry.

The wreckage of the aircraft was found today scattered over a wide area in a desolate region of south-central Niger. There was no word on survivors. The wife of the U.S. ambassador to Chad and a Chadian Cabinet minister were among those reported on board.

Contact was lost with the Paris-bound jet less than an hour after it took off from the Chadian capital of N'Djamena after originating in the Congo.

"It exploded at high altitude, leaving every reason to believe it was a bomb," UTA airline spokesman Michel Friess said on French television. He said it was possible, but less likely, that a technical failure was to blame.

On March 10, 1984, a bomb exploded on a UTA DC-8 flying the same route just before the plane was to take off from N'Djamena, injuring 25 people on board. An otherwise unknown group calling itself "Group Idriss Miskini" claimed responsibility but the Chadian government blamed Libya for the bombing.

Chad fought with Libyan-backed rebels for more than a decade, but the situation has been calm for the past two years, and Chad and Libya recently signed an agreement to settle their border dispute peacefully.

"It appears to have exploded in flight at high altitude," said the spokesman, who spoke on condition of anonymity. "The pieces are widely scattered, so it didn't crash on impact."

Among the passengers on Tuesday's UTA airline flight was Bonnie Pugh, wife of the U.S. ambassador to Chad, Robert L. Pugh, the U.S. Embassy in Chad said.

The plane was found shortly after dawn by a Transall aircraft sent by the French military contingent in N'Djamena, the Chadian capital.

The Defense Ministry said the wreckage was spread over a wide rocky and sandy area in the Termit mountains, north of Lake Chad.

In a statement, UTA said the wreckage was found at 16.54 degrees north latitude and 11.54 degrees east longitude. It gave no passenger list or breakdown of nationalities of those on board.

French military spokesmen said several twin-engine Puma helicopters were being dispatched from N'Djamena.

UTA said contact was lost with Flight 772 less than an hour after it took off from N'Djamena on Tuesday afternoon after a stopover on a flight that originated in Brazzaville, capital of the Congo.

It comes down to a guess

When South asked for aces and kings, it was his intention to bid a grand slam if North showed up with three kings. Since the jump to three spades by North showed four-card support, South could assume no spade losers, and he was willing to gamble that if his side had all the kings, he could dispose of the potential club loser. Luckily for South, partner showed only two kings, and he settled in six spades. Then suddenly the assumption about no spade losers proved faulty when East turned up with J-10-9-5.

Declarer won the ace of hearts, and got the bad news when he played a spade to dummy's ace. So he played a club back to his jack. When that won the trick, he was in position to make the contract if he guessed the distribution of the other suits. He played two more high spades, then the A-K and a diamond ruff. He continued with the K-Q of hearts. East dutifully followed suit to all of these. East was now left with the high trump, the king of clubs and one other card. If that unknown card were a diamond or a heart, the contract could be made by playing the ace of clubs, since the king would drop. But if that last card were another club, declarer must throw East on lead with a trump to force him to lead away from the club king. The winning play is the trump. And declarer did make the right play. But let's all be aware that it might have been right to cash the club ace in the hope that the king would come down.

Ira's Long on TEA study panel

Larry G. Long, principal of the Ira Independent School District, was among 320 Texas elementary and secondary school administrators chosen by the Texas Education Agency to participate in the 1989-90 Texas School Improvement Initiative Program.

Established by Education Commissioner W.N. Kirby, the statewide program is in its second year of operation and is designed to promote high performance standards of educational quality at the campus level.

Each school district in the state is required to receive a full accreditation review at least every six years, and this review includes a comprehensive on-site performance evaluation of school campuses.

To prepare participants for on-site visits during the 1989-90 school year, a summer training program was held in Austin during July.

Long also attended a week-long discipline management training workshop in San Marcos, sponsored by Southwest Texas State University and the Governor's office.

Also attending were three Ira teachers—Marla Rigsby, Sue Parham and Lillie Sullivan. Also attending was Snyder High teacher Marshall Parham.

The team of teachers wrote a campus action plan for the improvement of discipline at Ira.

As part of the TSI program, Long will accompany the TEA's accreditation team on two or three on-site visits to different schools in the state.

Long will be specializing in the evaluation of the accreditation level of the high school campus in the district being visited.

Long holds a master of arts degree from Texas Tech University, where he also completed his certification for principal and superintendent. He is married to Sherry Long who is employed as a secretary at the First Baptist Church in Ira. They have one son, Brett, who is a sophomore at Ira High School.

The U.S. Revenue Cutter Service — a naval task force — was formed in 1790. It would later become the Coast Guard.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am very disappointed in your response to "Can't Believe It" in which you say the Bible approves of people drowning their sorrows in alcohol. The biggest problem with interpretation of Scripture is in taking verses out of context.

The section referred to was for those "ready to perish." Abby, back in biblical times, they did not have Demerol or morphine to alleviate extreme pain.

You should have cited some of the many passages in Scripture that are critical of drinking.

DAUGHTER OF AN ALCOHOLIC

DEAR DAUGHTER: You are right. I should have. And now I will, with apologies for my tardiness:

PROVERBS 20:1 — Wine is a mocker and beer a brawler; whoever is led by them is not wise.

PROVERBS 23:20 — Do not join those who drink too much wine.

PROVERBS 23:29-35 — Who has woe? Who has sorrow? Who has strife? Who has needless bruises? Who has bloodshot eyes? Those who linger over wine, who go to sample bowls of mixed wine. Do not gaze at wine when it is red, when it sparkles in the cup, when it goes down smoothly! In the end it bites like a snake and poisons like a viper. Your eyes will see strange sights and your mind imagine confusing things. You will be like one sleeping on the high seas, lying on top of the rigging. "They hit me," you will say, "but I'm not hurt! They beat me, but I don't feel it! When will I wake up so I can find another drink?"

EPHESIANS 5:18 — Do not get drunk on wine, which leads to debauchery. Instead, be filled with the Spirit.

DEAR ABBY: Here's how my husband and I solved the problem of writing thank-you notes for our wedding gifts.

We sat down together and wrote a thank-you note after we opened each gift. The rule was, we couldn't open a gift until we had written the thank-you note for the gift we have just opened. We also addressed and stamped the envelope.

We got the job done together, and it was a lot of fun.

JULIE ROSE, STERLING HEIGHTS, MICH.

DEAR JULIE: An ideal solution. Aren't you glad you aren't married to this newlywed in Seattle? Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I must take issue with your suggestion that husbands should share in writing the thank-you notes for wedding gifts.

I understand that all department stores have a "bridal registry." This is a long list of everything the bride has already selected: china, glassware, silver, household appliances — the works.

I personally would be content to use the discount store dishes and silverware (stainless) I used before I was married.

Where is the "groom's registry"? I would have been thrilled to go to my local hardware store and pick out a power tool, a set of screwdrivers or a garden rake as a wedding present.

I would be more than willing to write thank-you notes for our wedding gifts had there been anything for me. As it happens, my wife received most of the things she selected. I say, let her write the thank-you notes!

Campaign limits are sought

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Attorney General candidate John Bryant said state lawmakers should respond to the public outcry over the mixture of money and politics by limiting campaign contributions. Bryant on Tuesday urged Gov. Bill Clements to open the agenda of the November special legislative session to include reform of laws governing campaign finance and lobbyist expenses.

mittees and $1,000 from individuals.

Currently in Texas, there is no limit on how much a candidate can receive from PACs or individuals.

Clements has said he will call lawmakers back into a special legislative session Nov. 14 to reform the state worker's compensation system. The governor, who controls the agenda for special sessions, has not said what, if any, other issue he would allow lawmakers to consider.

Bryant admitted that passing campaign and finance reforms is tough.

"It's kind of like trying to stop a war. Neither side wants to put its guns down because he's afraid the other side will put them down second and shoot him," he said.

Bryant said if the federal campaign finance limits were imposed on state races, he would have to refund about $100,000. But he said campaign funding has become too important.

Signs to combat DWI

AUSTIN (AP) — State officials today were scheduled to post the first "DWI ... You Can't Afford It" sign to kick off a pilot project prompted by fears that the anti-drinking-while-intoxicated effort of recent years was losing momentum.

The new slogan is the foundation of a campaign by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation and the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

Last year, 1,363 people died in wrecks involving drunken drivers statewide, a nine percent increase from 1987 when 1,250 people died in DWI wrecks.

"There was a big anti-DWI push a few years ago, but publicity has died down somewhat," said Bob Dickson, executive director of the Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse.

State officials said they believed that reminding Texans of the costs associated with drinking and driving may help get their attention.

DWI cost the state $450 million in 1988 in lost productivity and property loss, officials said.

A person convicted of DWI faces an average cost of $3,200 in attorneys fees, fines, probation fees and court costs, according to Jacque Branum, traffic specialist for the Highway Department.

Four red, white and blue signs — two each at two rest areas on Interstate 35 in Hays and Williamson counties — will carry the slogan in the Austin area.

The first sign was to be placed at the rest area off the north-bound lanes of I-35, north of Round Rock.

Branum said the program could be expanded statewide depending on its success.

SHS gets first 4-4A spike win

"Everybody won." That was the first comment after Tuesday night's volleyball matches versus Lake View from SHS coach Patty Grimmett.

The freshmen won, 15-4 and 15-1, the JV took the match in two games, 15-11 and 15-9, and the varsity won their first district contest, 15-10 and 15-10.

"We started the varsity with a new arrangement and a different defense," Grimmett reported. "The girls executed the defense well and the offense was 100 percent better."

"They had good hits at Lake View, some long rallies, but the most important thing was that they were consistent in both games."

Jennifer Pate and Teena Brazier each scored nine points for the Lady Tigers to lead the team in scoring. Camille Thompson, Cindy Srna and Liz Greathouse scored three each, Angie Brewster tagged two and Kathy Armstrong got one.

JV scorers were led by Freida Clay with 12 points followed by Angie Crawford and Dayla Church with five apiece, Ronda Gantt four and Amber Bowlin and Ginger Alexander a pair each.

Michelle Callahan led the frosh in scoring with nine points. Sheri Srna tallied six, Debbie Schwartz grabbed five, Lynette Sears snatched four and Stephanie Fambro and Melanie Duncan each had three.

The spikers' next matches are slated to begin at 12:30 p.m. in Monahans on Saturday.

Grid changes move games

Last minute schedule changes will affect the places the eighth grade, freshman and junior varsity football teams will play Thursday.

The JV will travel to Big Spring for a 7 p.m. battle with the JV Steers. They had originally planned to host Abilene High.

Freshman gridgers will tangle with Sweetwater at 5:30 p.m. at Tiger Stadium instead of Travis Field as was previously scheduled.

The eighth grade squad will play at Travis Field, instead of the junior high fields, beginning at 5 p.m., versus Breckenridge.

Soccer group raising funds

Snyder Soccer Association is in the midst of a fund-raising event, the proceeds of which will be used to purchase new uniforms for next season.

"We are trying to keep the registration fees down and buy new uniforms for the players," said secretary of the soccer association Janet Polk.

A gift catalog from NASCO 21, of Springfield Tn., entitled Incredible Edibles, is available from soccer players and parents. Gifts range in price from $3.50 to $18.

Gift items may be bought until Sept. 26.

Court sends America's Cup back to San Diego Yachters

SAN DIEGO (AP) — An appeals court sunk New Zealander Michael Fay's claim on the America's Cup and returned it to the San Diego Yacht Club. But another courtroom skirmish may surface before an end to the legal wrangling over sailing's biggest prize.

Fay said he intends to appeal Tuesday's 4-1 decision by the Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court, which overturned a lower-court ruling. The original court case had led to the disqualification of the San Diego Yacht Club and the forfeiture of the Cup to Fay and the Mercury Bay Boating Club.

"The majority decision from this court is a disgrace," Fay said of Tuesday's reversal. "The idea that a competitor can fix a contest to win makes nonsense of any sport. It is wrong, plain and simple."

San Diego resorted to an unprecedented catamaran defense on Sept. 7 and Sept. 9, 1988, to dispose of Fay's majestic but lumbering monohulled yacht in successive races during a best-of-three series off San Diego.

Fay, who had sued to force the September series, went back to court after being defeated on the water in what has become known as the "Coma off Point Loma."

He claimed the SDYC failed to meet his challenge in a like and similar boat and that Stars & Stripes, the dual-hulled, 60-foot catamaran skippered by three-time Cup winner Dennis Conner, DALLAS (AP) — Mike Romo triggered the chaos then retreated to the sidelines to enjoy history.

The first thing the poised freshman quarterback from San Antonio did was to look around for flags after he flipped the game-winning, 5-yard touchdown pass to Mike Bowen on Saturday night with 0:00 on the clock.

The second thing he did was get the heck out of the way.

"I didn't want to get trampled," said cool-headed Romo. "I saw everybody pouring out of the stands and I thought I'd get to the sidelines and watch. I figured I could hug people and shake hands later. I just wanted to watch. Poor Bowen. He said he thought he died."

Bowen was caught at the bottom of a massive pileup of players and fans celebrating Southern Methodist's return from the football dead with a 31-30 victory over Connecticut.

Romo's performance earned him The Associated Press Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week award. Of course, it was the first for SMU in three years because the Mustangs missed two seasons due to NCAA probation ills.

The defensive award went to Texas Tech's Charles Perry, a senior defensive tackle from Iowa Park who was instrumental in preserving the Red Raiders' 27-20 victory over New Mexico.

Perry tackled Dion Morrow for a three-yard loss on fourth down at the Raiders' goal late in the game. Besides the game-saving tackle, Perry caused a fumble, had two quarterback sacks, and made seven other tackles.

had an unfair speed advantage over New Zealand's 133-foot sloop.

Last March, Fay became the first person to win the Cup in court when New York State Supreme Court Judge Carmen Ciparick ruled the SDYC violated the spirit of the Deed of Gift, the 102 year-old document governing

Snyder netters fall to Lake View team

Snyder High School's tennis team was defeated 11-7 by San Angelo Lake View Tuesday.

The boys singles team won 5-1 and the boys doubles unit took two of three from the Chiefs.

The girls lost by a combined score of 9-0 to one of the tougher teams in District 4-4A. Lake View boasts previous loop champion Melissa Anderson and regional contender Diana Garcia.

SJHS spikers win 2, lose 2

Sweetwater's junior high volleyball teams came to Snyder and captured two matches from the SJHS seventh graders and lost two to the eighth graders.

The eighth grade Black squad defeated Sweetwater, 6-15, 15-2 and 15-4 as the Gold crew spanked the Mustangs 15-8 and 16-14.

Tammy Logsdon and Misty Roquemore were MVP's for the Black and Gold teams, respectively.

Snyder's seventh grade Black team lost in three games to Sweetwater, 15-3, 7-15 and 11-15.

The MVP for the seventh grade Black, scoring 10 points was Darcy McIntire.

The Gold unit of seventh graders lost 11-15 and 12-15.

Genifer Vantine was the MVP for that team.

The junior high spikers will participate in the Denver City volleyball tournament Saturday, Sept. 23.

Seventh graders will play Brownfield at noon and the eighth graders, who will be playing in a pool format, will face Levelland at 11 a.m. and Seminole at noon.

Monday, Sept. 25, the junior high spikers travel to Andrews for a 5 p.m. match versus the Mustangs.

"It was good experience for our girls," said coach Charlie Chrane. "They faced the two best teams in the district right off the bat. The scores don't indicate the fact that they are making good progress."

Lake View's Anderson defeated Kathy Ogburn, 6-0, 6-0, and Garcia beat Diana Espinosa 6-0, 6-1.

Teri Lauder milk of Snyder fell, 6-1, 6-0 to Deana Martinez, Veronica Carrillo of the San Angelo school ran past Rachel Wilson, 6-1, 6-0, and Martha Carrillo beat SHS netter Robin Cave, 6-2, 6-1.

Snyder's Gayle Henderson put a scare into Adele Hippe before falling 7-5, 6-3.

Brandon Martin, John Griffin, Bill Vestal, Kevin McMillan and Marcus Best were victorious for the boys team.

Martin beat Chris Gove, 6-4, 6-3, Griffin defeated Martin Devries by the same score, McMillan thumped Herman Meza, 6-1, 7-6 and Vestal duelled with Spencer Perry for three sets before coming out on top, 7-5, 5-7 and 6-1.

Damon Kennedy dropped his match to Lake View's Brian Markwood, 6-1, 7-5.

In the doubles, Martin and Griffin teamed up to defeat Gove and Perry, 6-2, 6-1, while Kennedy and Vestal whipped Markwood and Smith 7-5, 6-0.

McMillan and Best lost in three sets, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, to the Chiefs' duo of Devries and Meza.

Ogburn-Lauder milk lost, 6-2, 6-0, to Anderson-Garcia, Wilson-Henderson was beaten by Hippe-Martinez, 6-1, 6-2 and Espinosa-Harden fell in a pair of 6-1 sets to Carrillo-Carrillo by the same score in girls' doubles action.

The tennis team will be on the road this Saturday as they travel to Ft. Stockton. Matches begin at 11 a.m.

Jimmy Johnson finds life difficult with pros

IRVING, Texas (AP) — It wasn't like this for Jimmy Johnson at Picayune.

Dallas coach Johnson said on Tuesday he couldn't remember college or high school coaching being as tough as the NFL.

"I had a couple of tough years when I was at Oklahoma State but I can't compare it to that," Johnson said on Tuesday. "And I don't guess I could compare it to coaching at Picayune (Mississippi) High School (in 1966). Getting ready for Bay St. Louis isn't quite as tough as getting ready for the Washington Redskins."

Johnson said he has reminded his staff, most of whom were highly successful at the University of Miami, to remain patient despite a stinging 0-2 start.

"I told them to keep believing in the things they're doing," Johnson said, "because in time it will pay off. We need to look to the end of a long journey and have faith in what we are doing and to never compromise what we believe in. We'll eventually get there."

Johnson makes his regular-season home debut Sunday with the winless Redskins the oppo-

Truck driver trapped two hours dies despite efforts

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A garbage truck driver, wedged inside the mangled cab of his vehicle for nearly two hours, died as more than 20 rescue workers tried to free him.

Jesus Chavarria Anguiano, 40, died Monday afternoon on Interstate 410, where the truck apparently had a tire blowout and smashed into a large sign stanchion.

"We simply ran out of time. We tried pretty hard to get this guy out of there," said Cliff Aultman, an Emergency Medical Services paramedic.

San Antonio and Kelly Air Force Base firefighters, EMS crews and police used hydraulic tools to try to free Anguiano. But because he was so tightly wedged in the cab, they could not pull him out.

East Coast braces for Hugo

MIAMI (AP) — Residents from Florida to North Carolina stocked up on groceries, flashlights and window-reinforcing tape for Hurricane Hugo's expected assault and the Navy sent ships to sea today to wait out the killer storm.

Looting broke out on St. Croix in the U.S. Virgin Islands in the wake of the storm, which has been blamed for at least 25 deaths in the Caribbean.

Forecasters said the chances of the hurricane hitting the East Coast late this week were steadily increasing. Most projected paths had the storm hitting between Cape Canaveral and Cape Hatteras, N.C., by Saturday.

The storm today brushed northeast of the Bahamas with winds of 105 mph and was expected to bring mostly high wind and rain. Workers boarded up government buildings, and Prime Minister Lynden Pindling cut short a visit to Jamaica.

"Although the indications are that it's going to move east of the more populated areas, no one is relaxing their vigil because it can change direction," said Bill Kalis, a spokesman for the Bahamian government.

Looters ransacked stores and law enforcement collapsed on St. Croix, where tourists pleaded with reporters for help in getting out.

"When we landed, we were pounced upon by about 15 tourists," said Gary Williams. "They said, 'Please get food!'"

Please get water! Please help us! They're looting. We've seen police looting. We've seen National Guard looting. There's no law and order here."

At 9 a.m. EDT, Hugo's center was 395 miles east of Nassau in the Bahamas. Its coordinates were 25.2 north latitude and 71.1 west longitude. The storm was moving northwest at 12 mph. Little change in strength was expected today.

The Navy today began to send ships to sea from a base at Charleston, S.C., to avoid storm damage.

The storm's death toll was incomplete, and officials feared it would grow as rescuers searched collapsed buildings.

Hugo so far has left millions of dollars in damage, more than 50,000 Caribbean residents homeless and hundreds of injuries. It ripped away roofs, flattened houses, flipped planes, damaged cash crops and knocked out power and communications.

Two Coast Guard planes carrying fresh water, food and lumber arrived in Puerto Rico late Tuesday, and several other relief flights were planned today.

On Monday, the hurricane's 125 mph winds smashed directly into Puerto Rico, where officials said 10,000 people were homeless and 25,000 were in shelters. Government and voluntary relief teams from Texas to New York began sending supplies.

The hardest-hit islands were still cut off from normal communication early today. On the tiny British island of Montserrat, officials said nearly every building was destroyed, including the only hospital on the island of 12,000.

"It's as if a bomb has been dropped in the buildings and everything has been blown out. All trees are like stubble. There's not a flower left standing," said Cmdr. Colin Ferbrache of the Royal Navy vessel H.M.S. Alacrity, which was stationed off Montserrat.

National Hurricane Center specialist Bob Case said late Tuesday that the East Coast would feel the storm's fringe effects of rain and some gusty winds at least through Thursday night, if Hugo stayed on its track parallel to the Bahamas.

"It appears there's more and more a likelihood of the hurricane striking the Southeastern coast during the next three to four days," Case said from the center in suburban Coral Gables. "Each hour it continues on the track, it increases that probability."

The season's eighth hurricane, with Tropical Storm Iris trailing behind, could veer into the open Atlantic, but other weather systems probably would draw it toward the United States. The storm's possible approach has East Coast residents concerned.

"I think Hugo has certainly got people nervous," said Kathleen Hale at the Dade County Office of Emergency Management, which was flooded with calls to its hurricane preparedness hotline.

A Mount Pleasant, S.C., hardware store manager said residents grabbed supplies.

Garland developer D.L. "Danny" Faulkner and other defendants that ended in a mis-trial last Friday in Lubbock has slowed the progress of the suit against Dulaney.

The plaintiffs' lawyers alleged in filing the petition last April that the case should be tried in federal court because Bartels' and Walton's constitutional rights of free speech, association and assembly had been violated.

Plaintiffs also claim violation of the constitutional rights to have a secret ballot and to seek public office without fear of retaliation.

Attorneys on both sides indicated that pre-trial motions, in which the propriety of the case's proceeding to the point of a trial and other issues will be tested, will probably be heard by Cummings after the first of the year.

In addition to reinstatement, back pay, lost employees' benefits and attorneys' fees, Bartels and Walton seek unspecified damages for "great embarrassment, shame, notoriety and humiliation."

A graduation date is pending.

Following graduation, prospective officers will be considered for relocation only, meaning they will not immediately be employed at the Daniel unit. They will be eligible to apply for a transfer, however.

A total of 89 individuals were trained in the three previous TDCJ classes through the WTC program, which is one of only seven colleges in Texas approved for guard training.

Congressional pay hike is proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House ethics task force is proposing a 35 percent congressional pay raise over two years while controversial honoraria payments are phased out during the same period, according to a congressional source.

The proposal would increase pay by about 10 percent next year, another 25 percent in 1991 and tie pay boosts afterward to the cost of living, the source said Tuesday night, speaking on condition of anonymity.

The final recommendation of the 10-member bipartisan task force is expected to be presented to congressional leadership this week. The proposal is subject to change and is expected to go before the full House by the end of October.

House and Senate members currently are paid $89,500 annually, and leaders are paid more. A 35 percent increase would make the salary $120,825.

A key part of the new plan would be a two-year phaseout of honoraria — fees for making speeches, often to organizations lobbying for legislation. House members now may keep honoraria totaling 30 percent of their pay, while the limit for senators is 40 percent.

The proposal also would eliminate a provision in current law allowing House members who were in office by January 1980 to convert excess campaign money to personal use. The task force has not decided when that proposed change should take effect, according to the source.

The plan also would tighten disclosure requirements for receipt of gifts. The task force reportedly is considering several proposals to allow outside earned income other than honoraria, including the possibility of letting members keep 15 percent of their outside earnings.

Former House Speaker Jim Wright, D-Texas, established the task force earlier this year after lawmakers suffered through their latest bitter feud over a pay increase.

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader led what became a public outcry against a plan to raise lawmakers' salaries by 51 percent, a raise that could have gone into effect without a vote if Congress had gone along with the recommendations of a presidential pay commission and former President Reagan.

Wright sought to save part of the raise by having the House vote on a 30 percent increase that would have been offset by a phaseout of honoraria, but the House rejected such a plan.

On Aug. 3, 1492, Christopher Columbus set sail from Palos, Spain, with three ships — the Nina, the Pinta and the Santa Maria — on a voyage that would take him to the New World.

Citrus harvest to be light

IRS looking at salon's records

AUSTIN (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service has acknowledged that an agent obtained copies of the campaign finance reports of a top state lawmaker, but an agency spokeswoman cautioned against making any conclusions.

Days before Rep. Stan Schlueter stepped down as one of the most powerful members of the Texas House, the IRS copied campaign records showing how he spent more than $9,000 a month in political funds.

IRS agent Garland Hilton duplicated all reports Schlueter filed with the secretary of state's office between 1986 and 1988 for his three officeholder accounts, according to state records.

Schlueter, a Killeen Democrat and chairman of the Calendars Committee that decides which bills reach the House floor for debate, on Monday delivered a one-paragraph resignation letter to Gov. Bill Clements.

IRS officials in Austin wouldn't discuss specifics, but confirmed that Hilton works for the federal agency.

"I wouldn't draw too many conclusions from someone making copies of documents. As part of our research, we sometimes look at records pertaining to one person when we are interested in other people," said Patsy Harber, IRS spokeswoman.

As with all lawmakers, Schlueter's filings show who gave him money and how he spent it.

Schlueter wasn't in his office Tuesday, his secretary said, and a phone call from the Associated Press wasn't immediately returned.

IRS officials cautioned Texas lawmakers earlier this month that gifts and donations from lobbyists and other supporters that are used for personal benefit should be reported as income.

Citing IRS regulations, Mrs. Harber said she couldn't discuss what prompted the records search.

The Austin American-Statesman earlier reported Schlueter supplemented his living expenses with more than $9,000 a month in political contributions, even though he hadn't faced an election opponent in years.

That spending, triple what most other legislative committee chairmen spent from political donations included a $1,000 monthly lease on a house, memberships in exclusive clubs and scholarships awarded to students in his district.

Japanese firm buys interest in U.S. bank

NEW YORK (AP) — Manufacturers Hanover Corp., sparked by the uncertainty of Third World loan repayments, has sold control of one of its units and a portion of its stock to a Japanese bank for $1.4 billion.

The deal is the largest investment yet by a Japanese bank in an American financial institution.

Manufacturers Hanover, the nation's seventh largest bank, said Monday the sale was necessary to strengthen its financial footing.

The New York bank has been troubled by its investments of $6.8 billion to developing countries. It also announced Monday it would add $950 million to its reserves for losses on loans to those countries.

Clements is "neutral"

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements will remain officially neutral in the four-way Republican gubernatorial primary, according to his press secretary, although at least one candidate says Clements encouraged him to run.

"The governor encourages the maximum possible participation in the Republican primary. He is, however, neutral in the race," spokeswoman Rossanna Salazar said Tuesday after Dallas lawyer Tom Luce entered the GOP field. Luce, 49, said the retiring Clements encouraged him to seek the office. "He encouraged me to run. He said he thought I'd be a good governor," Luce said.

Ms. Salazar acknowledged that Clements had offered Luce support, but she said the governor had "encouraged" several candidates.

Luce enters a field where three candidates — Midland oilman Clayton Williams, Railroad Commission Chairman Kent Hance and former secretary of state Jack Rains — have been campaigning and raising money for months. But he said he's not worried about the late start.

"I haven't even done my Christmas shopping, and the primary's in March, so I don't consider it all that late," he said.

He also said he wasn't concerned about a weekend opinion poll which showed him with only 1 percent support among likely GOP voters, arguing that it is too early to place importance on such surveys.

Luce has worked as a legal trouble-shooter for Dallas billionaire H. Ross Perot, who earlier said he would support Luce's gubernatorial bid.

GOP offers boost for war on drugs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are taking another look at President Bush's anti-drug proposal in light of a Republican offer to boost it by $800 million over the original plan.

Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., said he would present the GOP offer to his Democratic colleagues today. "We'll take another look at the figures," Byrd said.

But he added that while the numbers may be flexible, two principles in the more expensive anti-drug package he proposed last week remain non-negotiable: a greater emphasis on drug treatment and prevention, and an across-the-board cut of most federal programs to pay for the stepped-up drug war.

The logjam over the size, shape and funding of the war on drugs is holding up not only the anti-drug package but also a series of spending bills needed to keep the government running after the current fiscal year ends Sept. 30.

Byrd said his goal in demanding even cuts in defense and domestic programs is to avoid pitting program against program, senator against senator — as would occur if the money were sought from specific targeted agencies. That could lead to even more delay in getting the spending bills through, he said.

At a meeting in the Capitol late Tuesday, Senate Republicans offered to add some $800 million to the $7.9 billion drug war Bush outlined Sept. 5, and agreed to pay for about half of the improvements with an across-the-board spending cut of one-fourth of 1 percent.

The remaining $400 million in increased funding would come from cuts in a yet-to-be-selected assortment of defense and domestic programs drawn from Bush's original proposal, said Sen. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., the chief GOP negotiator.

Your Birthday

Sept. 21, 1989

It looks like the year ahead will be an extremely active one for you where you'll make many new friends and contacts. Just be sure you do not sever old relationships when new pals enter the scene.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In your eagerness to wrap things up today you might be willing to settle for second best instead of allowing adequate time for the matter to mature properly. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you to understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's best not to let companions do your thinking for you today if you feel their ideas or suggestions do not serve your best interests. Be safe and think for yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Unless you are a careful shopper today, it is likely you may pay more than is reasonable for something you want at present in order to gratify your whim.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You're a bit more indecisive than usual today and might make revisions and last-minute changes in your plans that could create uncertainties for you as well as for others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It will make you feel better about yourself today if you help others who are in need of your assistance, but it is smart to draw the line with anyone you sense is taking advantage of your good nature.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A pal of yours who is a pretty fantastic promoter might talk you into something today where the risk is greater than the returns. Keep your guard up.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) It's best you do one thing right today rather than attempt to do a number of projects simultaneously where you cannot give them the proper attention each requires.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Give your ideas a chance to work today instead of packing everything in at your first setback. In order to be successful today, you must be both patient and adaptable.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's best not to involve yourself at present in any type of endeavor that puts additional strains on your resources. It is important that you are prudent, not impulsive.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be certain your mate or partner has a hand in making decisions today that affect joint interests. If you take it upon yourself to call the shots alone, you could be inviting trouble.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Give your full and complete attention to anything you work on today that has an effect on your personal interests. If you get careless, you won't have proper back-up to catch your mistakes.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) At a social gathering today if you find yourself in the company of an individual who makes you feel uncomfortable, start circulating until you find a conversationalist with whom you are compatible.
