Appraisal board signs contract with Dallas firm

Scurry County Appraisal Board of Directors Tuesday night signed a $47,000 contract with Thomas Y. Pickett, a Dallas firm which appraises oil and gas properties for the district.

The contract is set up for 1990 and 1991, with each year's fee being $47,000, in comparison to $49,500 in 1989 with the same company.

Bill Goad, a representative of the firm said, "Not only is the price of oil down considerably, but also the amount has gone down considerably. Unfortunately we don't deal in the numbers that we used to."

Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler recommended that the board accept the proposal from Pickett.

"The work done by Thomas Y. Pickett has been exceptionally good work. I have been very satisfied with it in every way," he said.

Director Doug Flynn made the motion, seconded by Mickey Sterling, and board members unanimously voted to accept the contract.

Peveler informed board members that Sharon McCarty and Sharla Williamson have passed necessary exams and are now registered assessor-collectors. "Their education has been a great benefit to the appraisal district," he said.

Flynn made a motion that the directors schedule one meeting each quarter as a dinner meeting. Unanimously, the board approved the motion.

Noriega forces crush attempted rebellion

PANAMA CITY, Panama (AP) — Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega's grip remained firm after his forces crushed a coup attempt, and an opposition leader said there would be no civil uprising because Panamanians "are highly intimidated."

Troops enforced a nighttime curfew in Panama City early today on streets where forces loyal to Noriega on Tuesday quashed the second attempt in 18 months by dissidents in the military to oust the Defense Forces chief.

Noriega was quick to blame the revolt on the United States, which has been trying to oust the Defense Forces commander for more than 1½ years.

"The proof is that American troops closed access routes to the Judge rules Tuesday...

County included in lawsuit

U.S. District Judge Sam Cummings of Lubbock ruled Tuesday that Scurry County should be included as a third defendant in a lawsuit former county auditor Bernhard Bartels and his former chief deputy, Ann Walton, have filed against District Judge Gene Dulaney and his appointee to succeed Bartels, Linda Franklin.

Bartels' and Walton's lawyers, Brian Quinn and Thomas Griffith of Lubbock, said in a motion filed last Friday that the county should be included to conform with recent opinions about similar cases in federal appellate courts.

County Judge Bobby Goodwin, county commissioners and County Attorney Lealand "Pete" Greene were meeting privately near mid-day about the suit and could not be reached for comment.

Contacted by telephone this morning, Quinn said Cummings also extended the deadline for the discovery, or evidence-gathering, process, which had been Oct. 1, but did not specify a new discovery deadline. Discovery must be completed before pre-trial motions are heard and a trial date set.

Bartels and Walton claim Dulaney violated their constitutional rights when he discharged Bartels from his job over his refusal to fire Walton. Dulaney claimed Walton had violated courthouse policies in her alleged advocacy of Greene in the district judge's election last year.

The suit seeks the reinstatement of Bartels and Walton to their jobs, back pay and other damages.

Prison short list now not expected until next week

An official with the Texas Department of Criminal Justice said Tuesday that further evaluation of proposals had further delayed announcement of a "short list" which had been anticipated early this week.

The list likely will be revealed no earlier than next week which likely will delay site visits by TDCJ board subcommittees by at least another week.

The department is expected to pare the list of applicants from 46 cities to approximately 24 with the towns remaining on the short list due visits by four members of TDCJ board.

Board Chairman Charles Terrell had earlier asked board members to set aside two days each in the second and third weeks of October for board site visits.

The final selection of sites for both 1,000 and 2,250-bed units are to be made Nov. 13. Snyder has applied for a 1,000-bed unit adjacent to the Price Daniel unit.

Tax notices are mailed out; new law may help taxpayers

A new law will allow tax collectors to accept partial payments this year, according to the Scurry County Tax Office.

Tax notices were mailed out Tuesday.

The notices contain county, college, city and school taxes. Ira and Hermleigh school districts are on separate statements.

In the past, taxpayers had to make payment in full to each of the taxing entities. In other words, taxpayers were not allowed to pay a portion of their city tax, college tax, county tax or school tax. Payment to any one entity had to be for the full amount.

Now, individuals may make partial payments to each entity until they have paid the entire tax.

County and college taxes are discounted if paid early. Taxpayers can save 3 percent off these bills by paying them in October, 2 percent by paying them in November or 1 percent by paying them in December.

Taxpayers may pay by mail. The office address and phone number — for those needing further information — are on each statement. The office will send a receipt to anyone paying by mail.

Unpaid taxes become delinquent Feb. 1, 1990 and a 7 percent penalty will be added. Tax rates for the four entities in Snyder total $1.99 per $100 valuation, an increase from $1.78 in 1988-89. The largest of these is the school district's $1.04 (see TAXES, page 8)

Bank deposits reflect sluggish area economy

Bank deposits in Snyder dipped $7 million compared to the third quarter of 1988—a reflection of the sluggish area economy.

Total deposits at three Snyder banks and one reporting savings and loan association totaled $189.3 million at the end of the third quarter of this year. Compared to Sept. 30, 1988 when deposits were $196.3 million, the drop was $7 million.

West Texas State Bank was the deposit leader with $77.1 million, up $4.6 million over this time last year and up $3.5 million from mid-year.

Snyder National Bank reported deposits of $65.7 million, down $10.5 million from the same time last year and down $9.4 million when compared to the end of the first six months of 1989.

Both the gain in deposits at West Texas and the drop at Snyder National are attributable in part to competitive bids for public funds. In the past quarter, Snyder Public Schools and Western Texas College awarded depository bids to West Texas which previously were held by Snyder National.

American State Bank reported deposits of $18.3 million, compared to $18.7 million at mid-year, down $400,000. The third quarter ASB deposit figure was down $600,000 when compared to the same period in 1988.

Snyder Savings and Loan, at the end of three full quarters, had total deposits of $28.2 million, up $300,000 when compared to mid-year and down $500,000 when taken against 1988.

Snyder National Bank total loans were $45.2 million, down $3.1 million from June 30 of this year and down $1.5 million when compared to the third quarter of 1988.

Loans at West Texas State totaled $32.1 million, up $1 million since mid-year and down $3.2 million when compared to Sept. 30 of 1988.

Third quarter loans at ASB were $4.5 million, up $600,000 when compared to the end of the first six months of 1989 and up $900,000 when compared to the end of the third quarter last year.

Snyder Savings had loans of $20.9 million, down $700,000 since mid-year, and down $2.1 million when compared to the third quarter of 1988.

Olney Savings, which operates a branch office in Snyder, does not report individual branch figures.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A safe driver is one who forgets the girl and hugs the road."

A lot of things show up in the mail at a newspaper office. An interesting piece recently was a copy of USA Singles News which contained literally hundreds of personal ads.

The publication said it was designed to help match Christian singles who would like a friendship that could possibly lead to something more serious.

The idea of dating or courting at our age at first hit us as rather humorous. It would probably be panic should it actually ever occur. What did strike us about the personal ads is that some of the folks appeared desperate for a relationship.

The publication warned that although it tried to attract persons of good character and high moral standards, it could not guarantee either the character or marital status of persons answering the ads. Readers were urged to ask for character references.

The letters to the editor section contained both criticism and praise of the process. Several were disappointed that a person who ran an ad failed to respond to an inquiry. There were others who were elated with the results.

The singles newspaper sells for $1 each, and for some reason ours came as a complimentary copy. It seems that the publication must think that good results take time, because it encourages readers to subscribe for a year.

It seems to us that the worst part of meeting people through a personal ad would be the problem of having to describe yourself on paper. For example:

"Former sex symbol who still talks good game. Only overweight because I'm not as tall as I wanted to be. Non smoker, but heavy coffee drinker. Live cleaner with each passing birthday. Favorite TV show is 10 o'clock news when able to stay awake. Despite size, require less room in bed because teeth are in water and hair is on the shelf. Don't call during re-runs of MASH."

Q—Does the Salvation Army serve food to the hungry here? What procedure do they go through?

A—The Salvation Army maintains a limited program of supplying items of clothing and other help to the needy in Snyder, on a budget of a few hundred dollars a year, but does not serve food. Gentle Dove Ministries, at the old Bethel Assembly of God Church building off 25th St., does plan to begin serving food in about three or four months, according to a spokesman for the Ministerial Alliance.

Bakker jury

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A jury today is confronting whether Jim Bakker is a "world-class" liar who used the nation's TV airwaves to cheat his PTL followers out of millions of dollars or a devout minister worthy of his flock.

The U.S. District Court jury was beginning its deliberations this morning.

Bakker, 49, is charged with 15 counts of wire fraud, eight counts of mail fraud and one count of conspiracy to commit wire and mail fraud.

He is accused of diverting more than $3.7 million in PTL money for his own benefit and of conspiring to defraud followers of their money to support his lavish living.

School finance will not wait

AUSTIN (AP) — A lawmaker says a lottery would solve school finance problems, while a Republican candidate for governor says he would support a tax increase if it would make Texas No. 1 in public education.

In proposing a lottery, Rep. Ron Wilson said he didn't think Texans were ready for another "Draconian" tax bill in response to the state Supreme Court's decision that the state school finance system is unconstitutional.

GOP gubernatorial candidate Jack Rains was asked Tuesday if he would support higher taxes to pay for school finance reform.

"If it takes higher taxes to make Texas No. 1 in quality education, I'll go fight for the higher taxes, because I think the people of Texas will support that," Rains said.

"But what the people of Texas are fed up and tired of are having systems that are not responsive to their needs..." he said. "In the education system, we've had a 50 percent increase in funding and no appreciable change in the quality of education — uneven results at best, with most of the money going to overhead and administrative items and not into the classroom.

"That's the sort of thing Texas taxpayers are not willing to support, and I think they're justified in reaching that conclusion."

Rains said after the Legislature enacted educational reforms in 1984, it "threw a great party, declared victory and sent the bill to local property owners. And they're groaning under that massive tax bill today."

Wilson, who also had a news conference, said although Gov. Bill Clements has stated he will call a special legislative session in the spring on public school finance, there is so much interest that Clements will put the issue on the agenda for the November special session.

"It's going to be hard not to place this item on the agenda when you have us back in session in November, because the members are going to clamor for it, for one thing," said Wilson, D-Houston.

Clements already has set a special session to begin Nov. 14 on workers' compensation, a subject that has tied the Legislature in knots this year.

The Supreme Court has given the Legislature until May 1 to come up with a solution on school finance, and the governor said Monday that he, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and House Speaker Gib Lewis would appoint a task force to make recommendations.

"I think it's been studied to death, and I don't think we can afford to wait any longer," Wilson said.

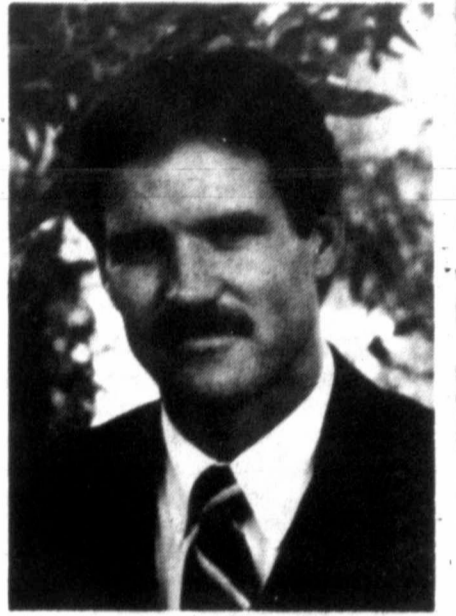

"It doesn't make sense to have us sitting there in November spending tax dollars, focusing on one issue and not being able to take up another that's going to be on the agenda — it just doesn't make good sense," he said.

Wilson said most experts agree it will take "tremendous sums of money" to repair Texas' public school system, and added, "It's time for us to again consider a state lottery to raise this needed revenue."

He said a lottery would bring in $1 billion the first two years.

But the director of an anti-gambling group called the lottery proposal "irresponsible."

"Proponents who want to substitute an inequitable taxing system with a regressive lottery are very shortsighted in wanting to make the poor, who already are shortchanged in the educational system, pay a disproportionate share of their educational costs," said Sue Cox of the Dallas-based group, Texans Who Care.

'Tight Sands' tax incentive said in bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen is asking the Senate to reinstate a tax benefit for the natural gas industry that he says would result in hundreds of new wells being drilled in Texas and thousands more across the country.

Joint Committee on Taxation estimates indicate the tax break would cost the U.S. Treasury $40 million in 1990 and $180 million by 1994.

Bentsen said the so-called "tight sands" tax credit is an incentive for producers willing to explore for natural gas in difficult geological formations such as the Carthage Valley in East Texas and the Cisco Canyon area of West Texas.

"These formations contain small pockets of gas rather than the more common large pools which have been developed in prior years," Bentsen, D-Texas, said Tuesday. "These small pockets of gas are difficult to find and expensive to produce."

Bentsen, the chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, has said that the budget deficit would make it impossible for Congress to deal with our energy crisis during 1989. But, in fact, we worked the numbers so that some additional revenue was found which I intend to use to reinstate the so-called 'tight sands' tax credit."

Patterson picked for '89-90 TSII

Gary Patterson, Snyder Junior High principal, is among 320 Texas secondary and elementary school administrators chosen by the Texas Education Agency to participate in the 1989-90 Texas School Improvement Initiative Program.

Established by Commissioner of Education W.N. Kirby, the Texas School Improvement Initiative is a statewide program in its second year of operation, designed to promote high performance standards of educational quality at the campus level.

"This goal will be accomplished by involving elementary and secondary principals as well as superintendents and central office administrators in the new performance-based accreditation process," said Dr. Ruben D. Olivarez, assistant commissioner for accreditation at the agency.

"Each school district in the state is required to receive a full accreditation review at least once every six years. This review includes a comprehensive on-site performance evaluation of school campuses."

To prepare Patterson and other participants to accompany Texas Education Agency accreditation teams for on-site visits, a summer training program was carried out in Austin.

"The focus of the training was on characteristics and implementation strategies of effective schools," Olivarez noted. "Participants will also receive training on the accreditation process."

Criteria of selection included recommendations by their superintendents, responses to questions related to instructional programs in their schools and school districts, and their philosophy on educational improvement.

McArthur speaks to ABWA chapter

The Deep Creek Chapter of American Business Women's Association met at The Shack Sept. 21 to celebrate 40 years of ABWA and membership month. Speaker for the session was Lilith McArthur with Snyder Daily News.

Introduced by Mae Cole, program chairman, McArthur gave tips for club write-ups and photos.

McArthur stated the most important part of a story are people's names. "People's names are part of their identity and self-esteem — they MUST be spelled correctly," she said.

She remarked that stories do not need to be in paragraph form, but all facts must be included to make a good write-up. The editors can make a story if they have where, when, who, why, what and how provided correctly.

She also stated that forms are available for weddings, engagements and anniversaries to guide a novice through the required information.

McArthur reminded members that any terms should be carefully defined for those who are not familiar with the club, profession or whatever is being written about. Also, abbreviations should only be used after the word or phrase has been spelled out.

Club reporters should provide a phone number on their story where someone can be reached during the day if questions arise.

She told members the newspaper can shrink and enlarge photos, but they must be in clear focus and have good lighting because the staff cannot correct those mistakes. Photographers should get as close as possible to their subject — the mistake most people make is standing too far back and producing tiny people with large margins in their pictures.

McArthur, society editor for three years, now serves as circulation bookkeeper, works in composition, and substitutes in several of the other departments.

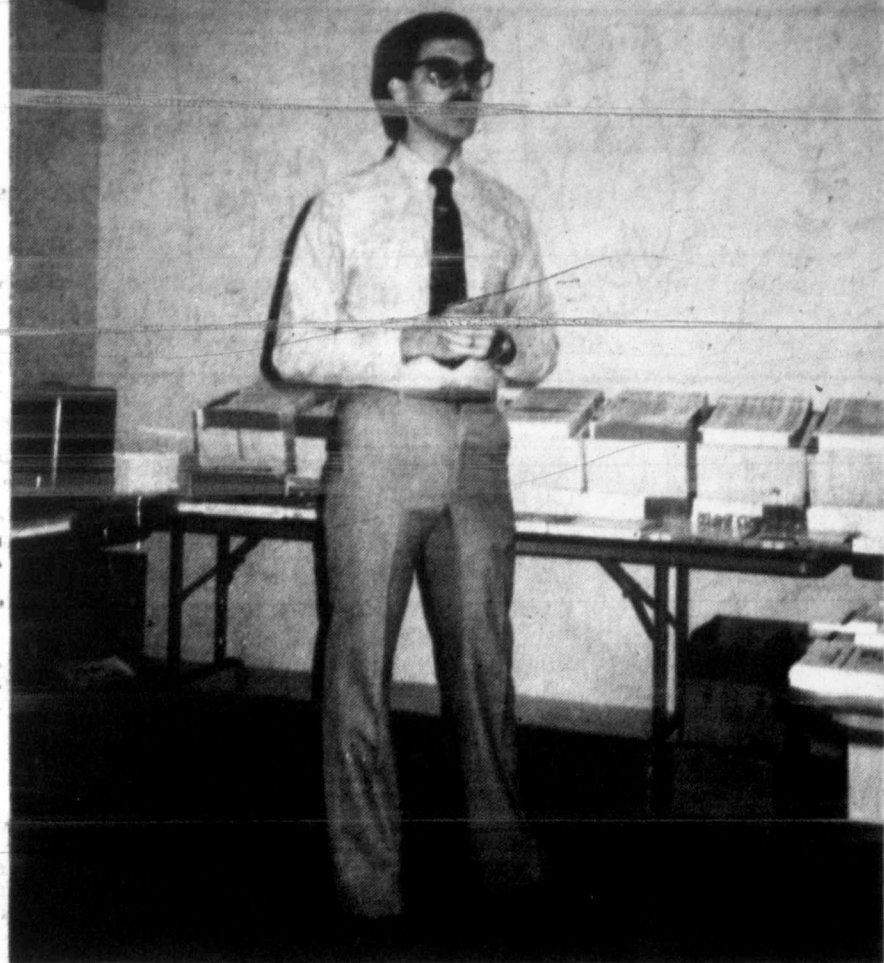

Vocational speaker for the dinner meeting was Penny Cochran, an employee of the Texas Department of Human Services for eight years. She served as a secretary for the Children's Protective Services program for seven years and recently transferred to the Income Assistance program.

Cochran's duties include filing and pulling case histories, answering the telephone and setting appointments for clients.

In the business session, members discussed plans for the club booth at White Buffalo Days. They will offer doughnut holes, drinks and hot dogs during the event.

GENEALOGY SEMINAR — Dewayne Lener, an expert on genealogical preservation, lectured during the Scurry County Genealogical Society Seminar Sept. 23 at the Willow Park Inn. (Club Photo)

Genealogical society hosts all-day seminar

Scurry County Genealogical Society had an all-day seminar and workshop at Willow Park Inn. Dewayne Lener of Dallas lectured on preservation.

An eleventh generation Italian-American, Lener grew up listening to his maternal grandfather tell magical stories about his family heritage. Since the age of 19, when he moved from Florida to New York City, Lener has conducted extensive research in New York, Washington, D.C., Salt Lake City and has researched professionally in Mexico, Italy, Spain, West Germany and England.

Lener's work in genealogy eventually led him into the field of preservation. At first self-taught, Lener subsequently received his higher education in preservation from the Universities of Texas in Austin, Stanford, Palo Alto and Denton.

Now considered to be the foremost expert on genealogical preservation in this country, Lener founded the Preservation Emporium in 1983. He is the author of the first book ever printed on genealogical preservation, "How to Begin a Preservation Program—Conservation Techniques and Methodology," published by Heritage Quest Press.

Lener lectures for the Heritage Quest ROAD SHOW on such subjects as Document Cleaning and Deacidification, and Document Repair and Mylar Polyester Encapsulation.

Mary Strelecki, program chairman, wishes to thank everyone for making the seminar a great success.

Exhibit created from 15 boulders

SAN DIEGO (AP) — At the San Diego Zoo, 64 man-made boulders and 15 tons of natural stone were used to create the African Rock Kopje, a half-acre walk-through exhibit that opened last year, reports Animal Kingdom.

Among the residents of this rocky oasis are klipspringers — dwarf antelopes about twice the size of hares. When frightened, they often bound away with jack-knife leaps as high as 10 feet straight up. Their hooves are rubbery for sure footing.

Sioux Indian leader Sitting Bull, a fugitive since the Battle of the Little Big Horn, surrendered to federal troops July 20, 1881.

Welcome home party held

R.C. Read recently hosted a "welcome home" party for his grandson, Dusty Read, who was discharged from the U.S. Air Force after having served in Denver, Colorado, Iceland and Wichita, Kan.

Out-of-town guests attending the barbecue and dance were Dusty's wife, Billie, and his mother, LaRuth Lum, both of Lubbock. Others included Jim Smith of Plano, Keith Moreland of Desoto, and Sherry Rains of Ballinger.

Snyder guests included Marie Moore, J.W. "Dub" Hurt, Jerald Smith, H.D. and Ruth Moreland, Darla and Josh Floyd, Robert and Nena Mitchell, Jeff and Margaret Stubblefield, Phillip and Wana Fisher, and Frank and Benn Nachlinger.

Others from Snyder were Christine Dunn, Gerald Sheid, Evelyn Barnett, J.T. and Sue Trice, Robert, Barbara and Wendy Miller, Amy Crumpton, Henry and Opal Wenetschlaeger, Pat and Nelda Bills, Don and Zeldia Atwood, and Robert and Mary Lankford.

The honored couple currently reside in Lubbock where he is employed with A.I.P.

All fish may not be good for health

NEW YORK (AP) — Not all fish may be good for you, according to the Reebok Aerobic Information Bureau.

Fish is a low-fat, low-sodium food, but fat supplies half the calories in most deep-fried brands found in your supermarket's freezer.

A serving of frozen fish contains 350 to 500 milligrams of sodium, say researchers at the University of California-Berkeley. Instead, try broiling fresh fish to preserve its low-fat, low-sodium benefits.

WTC golfers place 9th in tournament

WTC golfers travelled to Odessa this weekend for a pair of events. They competed in the Mission Country Club Intercollegiate Invitational tournament Sept. 30-Oct. 2 and they were hosted by Odessa College in their first conference tournament at the same golf course.

Host, Odessa College, captured first place in the invitational event with a three total of 886.

Second place went to Central Alabama with an 892 and third place belonged to Midland College with a 903 total.

Western Texas College finished in ninth position with a tally of 936.

"This was a good tournament for us to get some experience," said WTC golf coach Dave Foster.

"We had our chances but we just couldn't take advantage of it. The greens were as fast as any we'll play. That's a big reason all the schools were scoring as high as they were."

"Freshman Brandon Benedict had a good tournament," Foster concluded.

Benedict led WTC with a 227 followed by Tony Lara and Jeff Baker at 236, Chad Walsworth at 237, Jimmy Howe at 242, Brad Stewart at 244 and David Turren-tine at 250.

Baker and Turrentine are sophomores and the rest of the team is made up of freshmen.

New Mexico Junior College golfer Shawn Bench was the tournament medalist with a 54-hole score of 208.

Second medalist was David Thompson of Odessa who carded a 213.

The Westerners will attempt to regroup after a last place finish in the conference opener in Odessa.

Odessa, as expected by many, dominated the event taking the crown with a 434.

Midland finished second with a 27-hole 441, followed by NMJC's 448, a 464 by New Mexico Military Institute and WTC's 471.

Medalist for the event was Scott Turner of Odessa who shot a three-under 105. He was followed closely by Andrew Colter of Midland with a 106.

Benedict was the WTC leader in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference event, also, carding a 114 in 27 holes.

Stewart registered a score of 118 followed by Baker at 120, Howe at 121 and Tony Lara and David Turrentine with 124's.

The next action for the Westerners will be Oct. 18-20 in Roswell, N.M.

Six-man poll

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — There was little change this week in the six-man high school football poll, conducted by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, but there could be next week.

Fort Hancock, a 58-8 winner against Balmorhea, remained the No. 1 team in balloting by the panel of West Texas sports writers.

Stewart gets win...

A's take 7-3 victory

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Dave Stewart has had a knack for escaping serious trouble ever since his hardscrabble childhood in inner-city Oakland.

But like Indiana Jones, Stewart wishes he didn't always have to live so dangerously.

Stewart survived his usual early woes in Tuesday night's American League playoff opener, bearing down to get credit for the 7-3 victory over Toronto. He gave up five hits and three runs through 3-1-3 innings, then held the Blue Jays hitless until Dennis Eckersley relieved in the ninth.

Same old Stewart — not much flash or panache, just another 'W'. And anxious moments galore.

"I don't know why I always struggle early in the game," Stewart said. "I probably haven't had 10 starts this year that you haven't had to stay on the top step of the dugout."

The Blue Jays, who missed a golden opportunity to gain the home-field advantage, got another chance this afternoon when they sent young Todd Stottlemyre (7-7) up against A's veteran Mike Moore (19-11).

Game 3 will be Friday night in Toronto's SkyDome, where the Blue Jays have won 20 of their last 26 games.

Stewart, who's in line to pitch the fourth game Sunday in Toronto, struck out six and walked three. The third-time 20-game winner, 21-9 this year, put to rest any questions about his sore right shoulder. He stalked around the mound disgustedly after giving up a fourth-inning leadoff homer to Ernie Whitt, one of Whitt's two RBIs, then allowed only two more baserunners.

Volleyballers down B'field

Snyder's Lady Tigers volleyball squad beat Brownfield, 9-15, 15-11 and 15-10 in a non-district contest, Tuesday.

"We started pretty slow, losing that first game," said coach Patty Grimmer.

"We came back in games two and three and played really well," she continued. "We hustled, we played good defense and we had some good blocks."

Kathy Armstrong led the Lady Tigers in scoring with 13 points, Tuesday, including an ace.

She was followed by Jennifer Pate with seven, Robbie Braziel with six, Angie Brewster and Camille Thompson with five each, Liz Greathouse with three and Teena Braziel with two.

The junior varsity won, 15-12, 11-15 and 15-10, bringing their season record up to 15-5 on the season and 4-2 in District 4-4A competition.

The leading scorer for the JV was Dayla Church. Church recorded 13 points.

Freida Clay carded nine, as did Angie Crawford. Amber Bowlin, Julie Johnson and Angela Good each registered three and Stephanie Molina snagged one.

The freshman unit completed the Snyder shut-out of Brownfield, winning, 15-7 and 15-11.

The varsity and JV teams will be in action Saturday as the spikers travel to Pecos to tangle with the Lady Eagles.

Pecos is 17-1 on the season and 7-0 in first half district play.

The matches are set to begin at 2 p.m.

The freshman club is scheduled to compete in the Lamesa Tournament Saturday, with times and brackets to be announced.

Gridders receive coaches' citations

The Snyder coaching staff announced Tuesday the award winners from Friday's football game in Littlefield.

Individuals are cited by coaches after each contest and recognized at a weekly team meeting.

Tigers' defenders causing a fumble through a good hit were Mark King and Jodi Iglehart.

Kelly McGaha, getting his first start for the Tigers at noseguard, was awarded for recovering a Littlefield fumble.

The Leading Tackler award goes to defensive back Mark King. King registered a dozen tackles.

The knockdown award is given to offensive linemen who take at least 12 defenders off their feet in a game, or backs who take down at least seven.

This week's winners in that category include quick guard Kevin Murdock, a three time honoree, with 13 knockdowns, Willie Garcia, fullback, with eight and quarterback Toby Goodwin with seven.

Offensive players who, according to the coaches graded out at 80 percent or higher are Goodwin at 82 percent, Paul Anderson at 81 percent, Willie Garcia at 83 percent and Dewayne Cato at 85 percent.

Others, on offense, cited included Jayson Presley at 82 percent, Terry Snyder at 92 percent, Robert Palacios at 80 percent and Carlton Sanders at 80 percent.

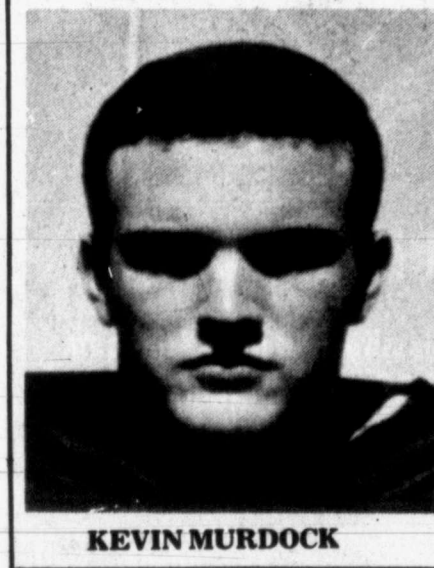

Mark King paced the defensive squad with a grade of 94 percent. He was followed by Jodi Iglehart and Bert Merritt with 86's, Charlie Guynes with an 83 and Snyder with a score of 82.

The Great Fake award goes to a back who pulls at least four defenders with him or is tackled as a result of his fake. This week the honors belong to Toby Goodwin with one great fake and Paul Anderson with four.

The Headhunter award for the week's big hit belongs to Mark King who separated a Wildcat ball carrier from the pigskin, killing a Littlefield drive at Snyder's 15 yard line Friday night.

King also had the outstanding tackle on a kick-off return.

Paul Anderson, for gaining 115 yards rushing, was given the 100 yard award, Bert Merritt nabbed the Special Teams award for kicking a pair of extra points and Terry Stephens was recognized from the SHS special teams for his 46 yard punting average versus Littlefield.

Baylor sweeps SWC honors with players of the week

WACO, Texas (AP) — Brad Goebel disappeared under a pile of scarlet and black uniforms and never saw his long pass descend.

It landed in the hands of a speeding Greg Anderson, who took it 75 yards for a touchdown on Saturday, and the Baylor Bears were off to an important 29-14 Southwest Conference victory over previously undefeated Texas Tech.

Goebel, a junior who finally showed promise he displayed his freshman season, earned The Associated Press SWC Offensive Player of the Week award for his tremendous performance, which included a 65-yard touchdown pass and a career-high 347 yards passing.

He edged Houston's Andre Ware, who passed for an SWC record seven touchdowns in a 65-7 victory over winless Temple.

Goebel won the award based on his performance against a quality opponent.

The AP SWC Defensive Player of the Week laurels also stayed in Waco with linebacker Gary Kinne registering 18 tackles, 11 unassisted, as the Bears slowed the Red Raiders' high-octane offense. Kinne helped cause a fumble that stopped an early Texas Tech drive at the Baylor 6-yard line.

Baylor coach Grant Teaff called Goebel's performance "his best overall game that I can think of."

Grant said Goebel suffered last year from a poor running game and inconsistent offensive line play. He had 16 interceptions.

"Brad had so much pressure on him last year that he was forcing his ball," Teaff said. "He doesn't have to do it this year when the running game gets going. At times last year, he felt like he had to make every play. He felt he had to be the leader and make things happen. He's just an old slow boy who is a good football player. He has to maximize his talent."

"The pass to Greg might have been the turning point of the game," Goebel said. "I checked off at the line of scrimmage and just laid the ball up for Greg and he ran under it."

"It reminded me of a touchdown pass I threw to Matt Clark two years ago against Texas A&M."

"Brad's back," Teaff said.

Art Shell replaces fired Raider coach

EL SEGUNDO, Calif. (AP) — It's getting the job, not being the first black in the modern-day NFL to become a head coach, that means the most to Art Shell.

"I don't want to get involved in that. The significance in this is I am now the head coach of the Los Angeles Raiders," Shell said Tuesday when asked if he had taken too long for a team to hire a black coach.

"Just to be involved with the Silver and Black itself means a lot to me," said Shell, a Hall of Fame offensive lineman for the Raiders.

Perhaps it is appropriate the Silver and Black hired the first black head coach. Certainly, it fits Al Davis, the team's managing general partner, who will do whatever he believes will best help the Raiders win, no matter how controversial or precedent-setting.

Shell takes over a long-time winner which has become a loser — since late in the 1986 season, the Raiders have a 13-27 record, including 1-3 this year.

Shell, 42, succeeds Mike Shanahan, who was fired two days after the Raiders lost their third straight game. Shanahan was in the second year of a three-year contract. The Raiders were 7-9 last season, Shanahan's first.

"It is an historic event; I understand the significance of it," Shell said. "I'm proud of it, but I'm also a Raider."

"I don't believe the color of my skin entered into this decision. I was chosen because he felt I was the right person at this time."

Davis said the significance of Shell's hiring can only be judged in the future.

"If this is an historic occasion, it'll really only be meaningful and historic if he is a great success," Davis said. "I just think he's the guy."

Then, when he was admonished by his mother and told to do as he was told, he complied, and he stabbed his mother to death in the same bedroom that the two little girls were killed in," Reyes said.

Here is an interesting exercise in partnership bidding. North's takeout double promised support for all unbid suits, and if North held four hearts, that suit would be a good one to play in. But South was not about to bid hearts with four small when he had such a strong club suit. However, after he bid three clubs, North cue-bid three spades -- a strong game-try. Now South bid his hearts. (After all, North could have four hearts.) North knew better than to allow South to languish there. He bid five clubs.

Class of '64 reunion set

When the lead was made, declarer wondered to himself why North had not simply bid three no-trump. But spilt milk was not to be cried over. So he won dummy's ace of spades and ruffed a spade. He played two rounds of clubs and the A-K-Q of diamonds, throwing a heart away. He then ruffed the last spade from dummy and got off lead with a heart. With the lucky lie of the hearts (A-Q doubleton in the West hand), the defenders could do no better than cash two heart tricks and then give declarer a sluff and a ruff with the lead of either a spade or a diamond.

Bentsen asks oil, gas tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen wants to tax oil and gas drilled on the outer continental shelf and use the revenues to protect coastal wetlands, but industry officials say the levy unfairly asks producers to remedy an erosion problem with many causes.

"The loss of wetlands is an on-shore problem and is not confined to coastal areas or areas with oil and gas activity," says Joseph Lastelic, a spokesman for the American Petroleum Institute.

Lastelic blames urban development, natural causes, the Mississippi River levy system, canals and agriculture for the decline of coastal wetlands, but environmentalists say off-shore drilling also has done a share of the damage and favor the concept of the proposed Coastal Wetlands Trust Fund.

Says Lastelic: "Since most of the causes of wetlands losses were unintended consequences of activities that provided public benefits, an equitable solution would be to fund wetlands conservation programs out of general revenues. It is unfair to tax a single industry to address a broad land use problem."

Under the plan by Bentsen, D-Texas, and Sen. J. Bennett Johnston, D-La., a tax of 2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas and a tax of 3 cents per barrel of oil would be levied on outer continental shelf production.

Industry estimates say the plan would raise about $100 million annually, while the senators say revenues would be closer to $383 million over five years.

The plan is included in Bentsen's version of what is known as budget reconciliation legislation pending before the Finance Committee, of which Bentsen is chairman.

Johnston said late Monday that getting the tax included in the reconciliation bill was "the difficult part" of moving the plan through the Senate.

According to a fact sheet from Johnston's office, the problem of wetlands loss in the Gulf Coast is critical, especially in Louisiana. Johnston's office also said oil and gas activity is one cause of erosion in coastal wetlands.

Dear Abby

Abortion Foes Are Challenged To Do More Than Carry Signs

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: This is a message to those men and women who try to prevent women from entering abortion clinics and carry big signs that say, "They Kill Babies Here!"

Have you signed up to adopt a child? If not, why not? Is it because you don't want one, can't afford one, or don't have the time, patience or desire to raise a child?

What if a woman who was about to enter a family planning clinic saw your sign, then decided not to have an abortion but chose instead to give her baby to you? Would you accept it? What if the mother belonged to a minority group — or was addicted to drugs, or tested positive for AIDS?

Why are you spending your time carrying a sign? Why aren't you volunteering to baby-sit a child born to a single mother so she can work? Why haven't you opened your door to a pregnant teen-ager whose parents have kicked her out when she took your advice and decided not to have an abortion?

As for the taxpayers who resent paying for abortions, who do you think pays for foster care, welfare, social workers and juvenile delinquency? The taxpayers.

Let's talk about something money can't buy: love. Have you ever visited a home for abused and unwanted children? Have you ever been to juvenile hall and seen the children who have committed crimes because they were born to mothers who didn't want them?

I'm not thrilled about abortion, but I don't think anyone has the right to tell others not to have one unless he or she has done the things I have mentioned above.

So, to those carrying those signs and trying to prevent women from entering family planning clinics, heed my message: If you must be against abortion, don't be a hypocrite — make your time and energy count.

HATES HYPOCRITES
IN SANTA ANA, CALIF.

DEAR HATES: I couldn't have said it better. Or as well.

DEAR ABBY: I've seen some of the most outrageous headlines in the tabloids and magazines that are sold at the checkout stands in supermarkets. They always feature famous people (usually movie stars), and later you find out that most of the stories aren't even true! I'm talking about flat-out, bald-faced lies.

Now I hear that they actually put the head of one famous person on the body of another — showing them "together" when they have never even met each other!

How can they get away with stuff like that? I would think some of those famous people would sue those publications for every dime they had. Or is it true that celebrities don't care what people say about them as long as they spell their names right? APPALLED IN KANSAS

DEAR APPALLED: It's not true that celebrities don't care what people say about them — they do care. But what's the alternative? Filing a lawsuit is not only expensive, it calls attention to the lie and serves to perpetuate it. (And there are those who will say, "Where there's smoke, there must be fire.") Most celebrities wisely choose to ignore the lies — libelous as they may be. And as for the people who buy those publications — they don't care whether the gossip is true or not, as long as it makes good reading.

Chelation therapy needs testing

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I take great exception to your negative comments about chelation therapy for arteriosclerosis.

This process has really stood the test of time. The International Chelation Research Foundation is now co-sponsoring the first controlled study to put this scientifically valid therapy in proper perspective.

DEAR READER: That's just the point. To date, there have been no reputable scientific studies of chelation therapy for the treatment of arteriosclerosis. Therefore, I conclude that the therapy has not withstood the test of time. Until such studies have been performed and reported, I will continue to maintain that chelation treatment of arteriosclerosis is quackery.

Chelation therapy, the use of chemical agents to bind minerals in the body, is a medically accepted technique to treat certain toxic states, such as lead poisoning. If and when scientific investigation proves it beneficial in treating arteriosclerosis, I'll change my opinion. However, at present, proof is lacking, so I advise patients to stay away from the method until it has been thoroughly tested.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Is there anything that can be done to cure a viral infection? I understand that antibiotics are ineffective. I'm having my second bad case of bronchitis in less than a year.

DEAR READER: Viruses are not affected by antibiotics. Some viruses are killed by anti-viral drugs — such as acyclovir, zidovudine, amantadine and vidarabine — but these microorganisms shrug off medicine, such as penicillin and sulfa.

Therefore, most responsible physicians discourage the use of antibiotics for routine viral infections, reserving anti-viral drugs for severe or life-threatening situations. Fortunately, most people with normal immune systems successfully combat virus infections with little more than rest, fluids and aspirin.

Bronchitis can be caused by viruses. However, repeated attacks of bronchial infection usually mean that bacteria have moved into tissue that was first weakened by the viruses. In such cases, antibiotic therapy usually eradicates the "opportunistic" bacteria. As I'm sure you know, cigarette smoking can make matters worse by further reducing the lungs' defenses.

I believe you need a sputum culture. By analyzing the mucus you cough up, the doctor can identify the type of infection and administer the proper medicine. Ask your physician to advise you.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Living With Chronic Lung Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

SHS students commended

Jason Best and Felicia Perry have been named commended students in the 1990 National Merit Scholarship Program.

About 35,000 commended students nationwide are being honored for their outstanding performance on the 1988 PSAT/NMSQT, which ranks them in the top five percent of more than one million students who enter the 1990 Merit Program by taking the qualifying test. Commended students scored slightly below the level required to continue in the 1990 competition for Merit Scholarships, but they have shown exceptional academic promise.

Jason is the son of John and Vicki Best, and Felicia is the daughter of James and Louise Morris.

Actress' trial postponed again

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — The trial of Grace Jones on charges of possessing less than $18 worth of cocaine was postponed for the fifth time since her April arrest, and the singer-actress said the delays are hurting her career.

"I had to go on television in Europe to refute newspaper reports which say I was a fugitive from Jamaica," she said, adding that Revlon commercials in which she appears have been taken off the air pending the outcome of the trial.

Ms. Jones, who traveled from Los Angeles to her homeland only to find the prosecutor failed to show up Tuesday, complained vehemently of the cost of returning to the Caribbean island for each new trial date. She traveled from Paris, Madrid and Rome for previous trial dates that were postponed because prosecutors were not familiar with the case.

3 students earn Who's Who honors

Two Snyder students and a former resident have recently received recognition from "Who's Who Among American High School Students" for the school year 1988-89.

They include Randy K. Morris who has received this honor for the second time, William C. Maxfield, and Stephanie C. Arnold who now lives in Cisco.

Each student will have his/her biography published in the 23rd annual edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students." Only five percent of all high school students from the 22,000 high schools in the U. S. are honored each year.

They are also now eligible to compete in the annual scholarship program as well. A minimum of $65,000 will be awarded this year, bringing total scholarships to $1,000,000 to date.

Rajneesh adopts name of 'Osho'

LAKE OSWEGO, Ore. (AP) — Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh has adopted a new name — Osho — and given his followers a change of habit.

Osho is a Japanese word that means "the whole man, the fully awakened one and respectfully symbolizes a man of peace, grace and love upon whom Existence is showering all its blessings from every direction," according to a statement from the sect's Oregon press service dated Sept. 15 and received in the mail Tuesday.

Disciples also have begun wearing maroon robes during the day and white robes during evening meditations at the commune in Pune, India, the release said. In the years when the commune was based in Oregon, Rajneeshes wore various shades of red, but the 58-year-old guru later advised them to drop the practice to avoid harassment and discrimination.

The self-described "rich man's guru," who teaches meditation as a means to enlightenment, returned to India four years ago after pleading guilty to U.S. immigration charges.

WITTENBERG, Wis. (AP) — Pretty and smart, Lori Esker was president of her high school and the Future Farmers of America chapter, and was involved in many other activities. But friends say she was devastated when her romance with a handsome young farmer broke up.

Now, she's in jail, accused of strangling the woman he planned to marry.

The charge shocked acquaintances in central Wisconsin's quiet farm country. "I have never seen her with a temper," said Lisa Steeb, a friend with whom Ms. Esker lived briefly earlier this year. "She never swore. She never got mad at anything."

Ms. Esker, 20, was charged with first-degree murder Monday in the Sept. 20 strangulation of 21-year-old Lisa Cihaski. Her body was found in her car at the motel where she worked near Wausau.

Ms. Esker admitted killing Ms. Cihaski after an argument over Bill Buss, but claimed it was in self-defense, according to court records. A bail hearing is scheduled Thursday in Wausau.

Broad-shouldered, over 6 feet tall and dark-haired, Buss worked Tuesday on his family's farm near Eland, about 25 miles east of Wausau, but said he did not want to discuss the case.

"It is a sadness for three families," his mother said.

Friends said Ms. Cihaski planned an engagement to Buss, who previously dated Ms. Esker.

When he and Ms. Esker broke up in June, she was devastated, Ms. Steeb said.

"But in the last month, she was over it," Ms. Steeb said. "She had gone out with a couple of other guys. We thought, 'Good, she is getting on with her life.'"

Ms. Esker lived with Ms. Steeb and her husband for about 45 days last summer.

A family member who answered the door at Ms. Esker's home near the town of Hatley said the woman's parents would not comment on the case.

People in the farming area east of Wausau said Ms. Esker, the reigning Marathon County dairy princess, was quick to make friends. She was described as a solid student at the University of Wisconsin-River Falls, where she was majoring in agricultural journalism.

At Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School, Superintendent Gerald Jackson recalled Ms. Esker as a leader in the 440-student school. She was president of the student body in 1986-87, her senior year.

The 1987 yearbook listed many activities: president of the Future Farmers of America, treasurer of the Wisconsin Junior Dairyman's Association and Future Business Leaders of America, a member of the National Honor Society, the track team, the debate team and Students Against Drunk Driving.

Friends say Ms. Cihaski, an assistant manager of sales and catering at Howard Johnson's Motor Lodge, attended church every Sunday and regularly bowled with her grandmother.
