Q-Does the commissioners court have to go along with Judge Gene Dulaney's order for a county audit, or can they deny

A-County Attorney Pete Greene said that if the commissioners decided to contest the order, they would have to file a lawsuit against 132nd District Court. Judge Dulanes has the authority under state law to order a financial audit, Greene said, but the commissioners might contest whether or not he may order an operational efficiency audit, as the audit has been described in a letter from Dulaney to the commissioners court. The order has been scheduled as an item of discussion on the court's agenda for next Monday.

In Brief

Forced to land

MONTE VISTA, Colo. (AP) — Both electrical generators failed on a Northwest Airlines DC-9, forcing it to land at a small airport, an investigator said. The darkened jet skidded about 1,000 feet off the runway and into a muddy field.

None of the 104 people aboard was seriously hurt in the emergency landing at unattended Monte Vista Municipal Airport in the mountains of southern Colorado early Wednesday.

The cabin filled with smoke after the landing, and a crew member had to use an ax to hack open a window and relieve cabin pressure so the doors could open, Northwest Kevin Whalen said.

The pilot suffered minor cuts and bruises and one of the 99 passengers was treated at a hospital for shock and minor injuries, officials said. Flight 109 had been flying from Minneapolis to Phoenix.

After landing, the pilot used a pay telephone to summon help.

Companionable Widower Is Ready to Be a Travelin' Man

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in need of some information and help in finding a licensed escort service or companionship service for persons who have been widowed or are single for reasons of their own. Host my wife of 39 years two years ago and am now to a point that I would like to get on with my life. I have a very small income and cannot do much traveling, although I would like to do so. Having just returned from my first ship cruise, which was very enjoyable. I realized that there are ladies out there who would pay for a companion for a short period of time. I am not interested in a long-term relationship at this time.

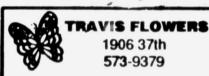

I am a 71-year-old male (look 60), non-smoker, social drinking OK, average physical condition. I consider myself a Christian and prefer a Christian lady. I would like to explore the possibilities of being an escort, and I think I should try to find an agency that specializes in this sort of thing because of the pitfalls that could be encountered. I would value highly any information you could give me.

CALIFORNIAN

DEAR CALIFORNIAN: I appreciate your desire to travel and see the world, but if you intend to do so by hiring yourself out as a paid escort, I hope you know how risky it is these days. However, if you're determined to become a hired escort, make yourself available for interviews with the escort services in your area. Another thought: Inquire at the travel agencies and cruise lines. And keep your fingers crossed.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 71-year-old woman. Recently, when I went for an eye appointment, the doctor's greeting to me was, "Hello, young included."

As I have stated, I am not a young lady and prefer not to be addressed condescendingly. What's wrong with, "Hello, Mrs. Jones?"

Along the same line, I went to a nursing home to talk business with the administrator who was in her minutes before she was calling me by my first name!

Since we were doing business and she was so much younger, she should have known that she owed me the courtesy and respect of addressing me as "Mrs. Jones.

What is your opinion? "MRS. JONES" IN SAVANNAH, GA.

DEAR MRS. JONES: People who address strangers - particularly older strangers - by their first names (or anything other than "Mr." or "Mrs.") may be perceived as rude or disrespectful, but actually they are just trying to be friendly.

If such familiarity bothers you, simply request that strangers call you "Mrs. Jones."

DEAR ABBY: A 33-year-old woman died today. She was applying mascara when she missed a turn, her car hit a concrete curb and flipped over. She suffered skull and chest injuries, was on life support for two weeks and then died. With her was her young son, who suffered only a broken arm. She left four young children without a mother.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've beén on Valium for about 20 years for anxiety. Sometimes, the dosage is as much as 20 milligrams per day. But for the most part, I average 21/2 to 5 milligrams per day. I've tried Elavil without success. Is it possible that some people need Valium, just as diabetics need insulin? And why is Valium always the culprit and not Librium and other related drugs'

DEAR READER: First of all, people do not "need" tranquilizers, any more than they "need" alcohol or narcotics. Valium, Librium and similar drugs are useful for the short-term treatment of anxiety and nervousness. However, they do have side effects (such as drowsiness and forgetfulness), and they are habit-forming. Despite manufacturer's claims, most tranquilizers cause identical problems; there is no one "culprit."

Twenty years ago, doctors were far less chary of tranquilizers than they are today. In the past, physicians freely prescribed these drugs to control nervousness. That's how Valium became the most widely used tranquilizer in the world and made millions of dollars for its manufacturer. We now know there is a trade-off: Tranquilizers are helpful in certain instances. but they clearly affect brain function

Although 20 milligrams of Val a day is excessive, five milligrams a day is not a lot. It's equal to about two ounces of hard liquor. Would you feel comfortable admitting you need a belt of bourbon in the morning to calm down and start the day? This is something to think about. Some patients I have known would be insulted if I suggested they had a drug-dependency problem. Yet, Valium - not alcohol - was their drug of choice. The same could be said of any tranquilizer or sleeping pill.

To a degree, I blame the doctor who has continued to supply you with Valium, year after year, without suggesting alternatives. This is irresponsible. You could, perhaps, be helped by counseling or stress management. You may not even require Valium (or any other drug) to function normally. There's been a terrible misperception in this country that every ache and pain must be treated, every manifestation of anxiety requires a pill. ## In trouble with a double

An unorthodox takeout double can get you into trouble in more ways than one. West traded on favorable vulnerability to double one heart after his partner had passed. He had spades and something resembling a cheesy open-ing bid himself. When East responded with a bid of two clubs, South doubled to show that his opening bid was very strong, and West ran to two diamonds. North now supported hearts, and South bid game.
West took the K-A of diamonds and switched to the queen of spades. De-clarer took dummy's spade ace, played back to his heart ace and cashed the A-K of clubs. It was appar-

Area six-man units in action this week

Area six man squads will continue to fight for their respective district crowns this weekend as Highland is at Hermleigh, Ira visits Loraine, and Borden County hosts Klondike Highland makes a homecoming visit to Hermleigh in a Saturday 7-A grid tilt.

Hermleigh is 3-2 on the season and 0-1 in district play following a 64-16 drubbing at the hands of defending loop champion Trent. Hermleigh was faced with a numbers problem early in the season and after losing three players to injuries, the Cards' depth has suffered even more. Manuel Castillo received a head injury that required emergency surgery, Wayne Reynolds broke his collarbone and Chip Collier's leg was broken leaving coach Doug Cook thin, indeed. Their opponent ran into the Ira Bulldogs last week, losing 53-8 in a game called in the third period on the 45 point rule.

Ira comes into this Friday's contest full of optimism after their trouncing of the Hornets.

Ira will need all they can get as they face an offensive powerhouse that ran up 75 points a week ago versus Blackwell while the defense allowed just 26 Borden County's Coyotes easily whipped Loop in a 6-A battle last Friday, 52-9 raising their season mark to 4-1-1, while Klondike Klondike pounded Dawson 50-14 in their last outing.

The other game in 7-A is the matchup between Blackwell and Trent, at Trent, on Saturday.

Other 6-A contests include first place Sands at Dawson and Loop at Grady.

Series game three slated for Tuesday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Life in the Bay Area will go on and so will the World Series.

Baseball officials wrestled on Wednesday with the question of whether to finish the Series between San Francisco and Oakland after a powerful earthquake caused death and destruction in northern California 31 minutes before the sched start of Game 3 on Tuesday.

During a news conference on Wednesday morning, Commissioner Fay Vincent announced there would be no game Wednesday night.

Vincent met with representatives of both teams, city ofnot to play baseball before next Tuesday.

"We just had a long discussion," Vincent said. "It's becoming clear to Major League Baseball that our issue is a modest one. There will be no baseball before next Tuesday.'

Vincent said that before Game 3 would be played at Candlestick Park, he would need the approval of San Francisco city officials.

"I don't think cancellation of the World Series is appropriate," Vincent said. "Right now, we're hopeful we'll be able to play next

If possible, Games 3, 4, and 5 would be played at Candlestick Park next Tuesday through Thursday. The A's hold a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 Series.

John Lind, the stadium manager at Candlestick Park, said minor repairs could be made by next week.

"We have found no major structural damage," Lind said. "There are some minor repairs and cleanup. From the city standpoint, this is not of the highest priority.

The earthquake, measured at 6.9 on the Richter scale, resulted in more than 270 deaths and hundreds of injuries.

It was the worst quake in the Bay area since 1906, when it was an estimated 8.3 on the Richter.

The Bay began the task of recovery on Wednesday, and baseball didn't want to get in the way.

"We will not play while this ficials and ABC -TV, and decided community is in a state of recovery, while the hunt for victims goes on," Vincent said.

> And today, the A's and Giants have planned workouts.

Offensively, Snyder was carried, pretty much, by tailback Paul Anderson. Anderson gained 128 yards on 17 attempts against the Mustangs scoring the only SHS touchdown.

He is currently third in the district in rushing yards with 349 on the season.

Quarterback Toby Goodwin only had to resort to passing six times in the Andrews tilt, completing one for a 15 yard gain to wide out Mark King.

Ft. Stockton has suffered pounded by the fact that their offense has given the ball up 18 times in those five games, including six fumbles and 12 interceptions.

Shannon Beeles, QB for the Panthers, has thrown for 383 yards and two touchdowns in '89, but has tossed eleven of those interceptions.

When he does find his target, his favorite receiver is tailback Frankie Garcia. Garcia has hauled in 15 passes for 267 yards and a pair of TD's.

The Panthers are next to last in team offense averaging a measly 194 yards per contest.

Defensively the Panthers rank seventh in the district, giving up 275 yards. They allow 150 yards passing and 125 yards on the ground each tilt.

Lake View at Big Spring

The Chiefs were 44-0 victims of an enthusiastic Monahans team last Friday and things don't appear to be getting any easier for them as they tangle with the Steers this week.

Thompson has thrown for four touchdowns and 589 yards in the Steers' first five games, leaving him second in loop standings among passers.

Junior wingback Neal Mayfield is listed in second position in district rushing with 362 yards on just 30 carries. That comes to a staggering 12.1 yard average. The Big Spring defense has carried their portion of the load, too, giving up just 224 yards per contest. That average has the Steers ranked second in team defense.

They have allowed only 23 completions of 71 enemy passes and pulled down three interceptions

Pecos at Sweetwater

The Eagles are coming of a 39-14 whipping of hapless Ft. Stockton while the Mustangs are bound to be mad as they were thoroughly pounded by Big Spring 36-15 a week ago in Sweetwater. Pecos brings a team rated about the middle of the field statistically in District 4-4A, gaining an average of just under 250 yards per game offensively, and allowing 257 on the defensive side of the football.

SS pay increase biggest in years

nation's 38.9 million Social period in the previous year. Security recipients will get a 4.7 percent benefit increase in January, the biggest boost in 7½ years, the government said to-

The increase promises an extra $25 a month for the average retired worker, who now receives $541 a month, the Social Security Administration said. The maximum monthly benefit for a worker retiring in 1989 at age 65 will rise by $76 to $975.

The benefit increase, a cost-ofliving adjustment designed to offset the effects of inflation over the past year, will be the biggest since benefits rose 7.4 percent in 7.65 percent in 1990. July 1982. Benefits jumped 4.0 percent in 1989.

Since 1975, benefits have risen automatically each year along with advances in the Consumer Price Index, except for six months in 1983 that were skipped to help Social Security avert a financial crisis. In earlier years, benefits were increased sporadically by Congress.

The size of next year's benefit increase became official today when the Labor Department released the consumer price report for September. The annual change in benefits is calculated by taking increases in the CPI for urban wage earners and clerical workers for the July-September

Smith said the unit uses 24 to 40 one-gallon cans of canned goods per day.

It serves three meals a day, breakfast from 4 to 6 a.m., lunch from 10 a.m. to noon and dinner from 4 to 6 p.m.

Inmates are limited to three to four ounces of meat per meal but may have as many vegetables as they want, in one helping. They are allowed 20 minutes to eat.

Smith spent two years in the Marine Corps and six in the Air Force, serving in the 1958 Lebanon crisis as a Marine and spending much of his Air Force tenure as a radioman in Morocco.

He was an officer with the San Marcos and Lake Jackson police departments and the Travis County Sheriff's Office after his discharge from military service, and he operated a hog and produce farm at Brazoria, specializing in Chester White and crossbred hogs, for three years before joining the TDCJ five years ago.

He earned an advanced certificate in law enforcement and accumulated 39 hours of academic credit at Central Texas College in Killeen.

Smith started as a correctional officer at the Ramsey I Unit at Rosharon, where he worked for eight months before being promoted to sergeant and being assigned to food service. He was promoted to captain with his assignment here. He has retained his interest in stock-raising and has been visiting Jimmy Beck at his sheep ranch near Snyder, with plans to get involved in the ranch's work later this fall. He has a tractor that he left on the Gulf Coast, and he hopes to acquire some farmland in Scurry County. Smith's favorite hobby, besides stock-raising, is deer hunting. He has six children, four daughters and two sons, and seven grandchildren.

Michael and Denise Squires are the parents of a baby girl, Tamara Kay, born at 1:19 a.m. Wednesday at Lubbook Methodist Hospital. She weighs 8 begin Friday and continue pounds, 9 ounces.

Tamara is welcomed home by a three-year-old brother, Justin. Her grandparents are Bonnie and Laverne Fry of Snyder and Helen Squires of ElPaso.

The increase will show up in checks delivered Jan. 3, representing benefits earned for December.

The government also announced today that the maximum amount of wages subject to the payroll tax that finances Social Security benefits will climb from the current $48,000 to $50,400 in

Even those workers unaffected by the higher wage cap, which is adjusted each year to offset inflation, will see their Social Security taxes go up next year because the tax rate rises from 7.51 percent to

The two changes mean the maximum tax on employees will jump by $250.80 to $3,855.60 in 1990 for workers earning over $50,400 annually. Employers match their workers' contribu-

Tax rates for the self-employed rise from 13.02 percent this year to 15.30 percent in 1990, when half of the taxes can be deducted as a business expense. The first $50,400 of earnings is subject to taxation, the same as for other

The payroll tax was 1 percent of income up to $3,000 when Social Security started in 1937. It stayed there until 1950 and has risen gradually since then. The 1990 tax increase will be the 21st; no further increases are schedul-

The Social Security Administration gave the following examples of how the 4.7 percent benefit increase will affect average monthly benefits.

-Aged couple, both getting benefits: up $43 to $966. -Widowed mother and two children: up $53 to $1,173. -Aged widow living alone: up

$24 to $522. -Disabled worker, spouse and children: up $44 to $975. -All disabled workers: up $24

The 4.7 percent benefit increase also applies to the nation's 4.5 million recipients of Supplemental Security Income, which provides a minimum income floor for poor people who are aged, blind or disabled. The maximum federal SSI payment will rise by $18 to $386 for an individual, and by $26 to $579 for a couple.

Of the 38.9 million people receiving monthly Social Security benefits, 62 percent are retired workers, 7 percent are disabled workers and 31 percent are spouses or children of retired, disabled or deceased workers.

Benefit payments, which now total about $230 billion a year, are expected to rise by $11 billion in 1990 because of the cost-of-living increase.

Other changes for 1990 announced today include:

-Beneficiaries aged 65-69 will be able to earn up to $9,360 a year without losing some or all of their Social Security benefits, up from $8,880 this year.

-Beneficiaries under 65 will be able to earn $6,840 a year without penalty, up from $6,480. -Workers will need to earn $520 for a quarter of coverage, up from $500. For the elderly and disabled, the increase in Social Security benefits will be partially offset by an extra $2 a month in Medicare premiums, which rise to $33.90 in 1990. Medicare premiums are deducted directly from Social Security checks. Benefit checks are rounded down to the next dollar, which means most people wind up with an increase slightly smaller than the exact inflation rate.

Federal help planned for victims

WASHINGTON (AP) - Federal officials are rushing to help victims of California's earthquake, with President Bush declaring his administration will "take every step and make every effort" to aid the San Francisco area.

But some members of Congress said Wednesday the federal government doesn't have enough money in its disaster relief fund to handle the catastrophe and hasn't concentrated enough on controlling damage from earthquakes.

Bush, who wants to visit the Bay area, possibly at the end of the week, declared seven counties disaster areas on Wednesday. opening the way for the federal government to play a major role in relief and recovery efforts.

The White House said an initial $273 million will be available for the area from a pool of $1.1 billion that Congress appropriated after the devastation caused by Hurricane Hugo.

But Rep. Vic Fazio, D-Calif., a member of the House Appropriations Committee, said $1.1 billion isn't enough. The Bush administration will have to cooperate to find more money, he

"I want to do whatever it would take to make those dollars available," he said. "No question we would want to take them (funds) out of existing programs."

The day after Tuesday's earthquake, Bush visited the headquarters of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, the office responsible for coordinating 25 departments brought in to handle the disaster.

Current oil prices are little affected

By The Associated Press

A devastating earthquake in California failed to move the U.S. oil futures market despite reports of major pipeline shutdowns. Late Wednesday, inspectors examined gasoline pipelines in Northern California for possible leaks or ruptures while major oil companies made contingency plans to avoid supply disrup-

Officials said the pipelines were closed as a precaution following Tuesday's earthquake.

On the New York Mercantile Exchange, the November contract for West Texas Intermediate, the benchmark U.S. crude, fell 19 cents to finish at $20.56 cents a barrel after a brief earthquake-related rally at the opening.

Wholesale unleaded gasoline for November delivery closed at 54.58 cents a gallon, down 1.26 cents from Tuesday, and November heating oil dipped 0.45 cent to settle at 60.60 cents a

Energy brokers said weekly inventory statistics that showed a 5.7-million-barrel rise in crude oil last week helped weaken the market once earthquake news was absorbed.

Reputation for good life tarnished

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — This week's earthquake didn't damage just bridges and buildings. It ripped into a California Dream already frayed by smog, crowding and soaring real estate costs.

Experts have warned for years that the Bay area would be hit someday by "The Big One." Even the telephone book has instructions on what to do in the event of an earthquake.

But the warnings did little to slow a population explosion fueled by California's famous sunny weather and a healthy economy.

"You hear about Californians being so blase about earthquakes. Well, they have been," said Karen Anderson, a Berkeley native who recently returned to the area after 10 years in In-

"But this is different," she said. "The weather's really nice here, but something like this makes you question whether it's worth it. I've thought about leaving this area because of the ris ing cost of real estate and congestion. I guess this is one more

If she goes, she'll be in the minority, said real estate agents: The quake produced a temporary lull Wednesday in residential sales. "People had other things on their minds," said Oakland real estate agent Jon Shahoian.

But he predicted sales will be brisk again by next week in this overheated market, where a typical, three-bedroom house costs more than $250,000.

"It's not as if people have been unaware of the potential for earthquakes here," Shahoian said.

18 die in northern China quakes

BEIJING (AP) — A series of major earthquakes shook a largely rural area of northern China before dawn today, killing at least 18 people and flattening about 8,000 homes.

Officials of the State Seismological Bureau said the quakes, which injured at least 28 people and struck less than 24 hours after the devastating quake in northern California, were not related to that tremor.

The temblors — registering between 5.0 and 6.0 on the Richter scale - hit an area along the Shanxi-Hebei provincial border and at least one was felt in Beijing, the official Xinhua News Agency quoted the bureau as saying.

The stricken area is a flat and dusty region about 135 miles west of the capital where farmers grow wheat and other grains and many live in one-story unfired clay-brick homes with dirt floors that easily collapse in major quakes.

Shanxi is also China's major coal-producing province and the stark brown land is pocked with coal mines.

The first quake, measuring 5.7, shook areas of Shanxi and Hebei provinces late Wednesday. It was felt in the capital, but there were no reports of damage and the bureau said there was no need to take safety measures in the city.

There were at least four other quakes registering 5 or above in the next six hours, including one of 6.0 magnitude. Such tremors are capable of doing considerable damage in a populated area.

Sting keeps on stinging and gets a tax collector

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas agency. (AP) - It was a case of a sting that wouldn't die.

Federal agents posed as criminals capable of sneaking millions of dollars in military hardware, weapons and aircraft parts of Iran in an attempt to catch drug smugglers and illegal arms exporters.

The sting involved the establishment of a bogus business, Plane Things Inc., at Corpus Christi International Air-

Eventually the sting resulted in the arrest and eventual indictments of a Canadian couple and a resident of Sweden on charges of attempting to smuggle aircraft parts to Iran.

So the U.S. Customs agents closed down the business, but the sting kept on stinging until it netted Nueces County Tax Assessor-Collector Ronnie Canales. The tax collector didn't realize until Wednesday that he had been trying to collect $3,337 in property

When opening their bogus corporation two years ago, Customs agents deliberately used fake names and a phony address. The company's taxable personal property, a Cessna aircraft, was owned by the federal government but was deliberately registered under a false name.

After arresting the trio, the undercover agents closed their local Customs offices in downtown Corpus Christi.

The government has refused to register New Forum.

The far-left Greens Party in West Germany called the leadership change "old wine in new bottles.'

Krenz has a reputation as a conservative opposed to reforms such as those under way in Hungary and Poland.

West German politicians and news commentators suggested the choice of Krenz was transitional, until next year's East German Communist Party congress considers the nation's future course.

During a recent visit to Beijing. Krenz expressed support for the way Chinese leaders had troops crush the student-led prodemocracy movement in June, killing hundreds of unarmed civilians.

However, party sources also said it was Krenz who asked police to stop attacking demonstrators in East Germany this month. Police had beat protesters during demonstrations that coincided with the Oct. 6-7 visit of Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev to mark East Germany's 40th anniversary.

Gorbachev called for reforms during the visit, saying leaders who do not react to the times are later punished. But Honecker resisted change.

Krenz is not expected to stray from that hard-line course, but he did say that "problems in recent months had not been sufficiently assessed" and that timely solutions had not been found.

He hinted that rigid restrictions on travel abroad could be modified or lifted. The difficulty of getting permission to travel outside the country has been a PARIS (AP) - French chief complaint.

peals opinion said. Genene denied parole

AUSTIN (AP) — The prosecutor who won the conviction of ex-nurse Genene Jones, sentenced to 99 years in prison for killing a baby girl, says he's happy she was denied parole.

'I'm pleased with the actions of the Board of Pardons and Paroles. She still maintains her total innocence. She still thinks she's a savior. She's dangerous,' Kerr County District Attorney Ron Sutton said.

The State Board of Pardons and Paroles voted 3-0 Wednesday to deny parole to Ms. Jones, whose case sparked more than 1,000 letters to the board, said spokeswoman Karin Armstrong.

The board scheduled Ms. Jones' next review for February 1993, Ms. Armstrong said.

This was the first time Ms. Jones was eligible for parole since being sentenced in 1984 to 99 years in prison for killing 15month-old Chelsea McClellan by lethal injection.

Chelsea died Sept. 17, 1982, after suffering mysterious seizures while in the care of Ms. Jones, who worked as a nurse in a Kerrville pediatrician's office. The case was publicized last letters had been received," Ms. Armstrong said.

She said the board considers protests from prosecutors and others, but that is only one factor in determining whether to grant parole. The sentence, seriousness of the crime, how well a prisoner is adapting and other factors also are considered.
