HASSEL E. HUNTER

Hassel E. Hunter, Drilling Management Engineer, Engineering and Construction Division, Nevada Operation Office, U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, spoke to members of the Rotary Club and showed a film, "Big Hole Drilling On Pahute Mesa," at the Thursday noon-day luncheon meeting of Rotarians, at Felker's restaurant dining room. Roy Johnson was in charge of the program.

The guest speaker, was introduced by his father, Gene Hunter, owner-operator of Hunter's Men's Wear, in Haskell, and a member of the Rotary Club. Hassel Hunter is a graduate of Haskell High School, served as a radio-operator on a bomber during World War II, is a graduate of A&I, and spent 16 years in Abilene, Texas, with Rhoades Drilling Company. The film shown by Hunter was an official documentary film of the Atomic Energy Commission.

"Since 1962, all nuclear tests have been underground and most of the holes are made by drilling methods, similar to those used in off-shore drilling, but much more on a larger scale," Hunter said.

"There are two nuclear testing areas—one on flat desert area, the Yucca flats, and the other in the mountainous region on the 7,500 ft. Plateau known as Pahute Plateau," the speaker said.

The film showed the drilling of deep holes, some of which are as much as 6 ft. in diameter and up to 4,800 feet deep. It also showed the drilling rigs, bits and tools, actual drilling operations, how the casing is run and welded, and how the casing is cemented with oil well type methods. The film also showed some of the different problems overcome in drilling the holes.

"It takes about 200 days drilling time on a 4,000 ft. hole and costs one and a half million dollars. Two and a half tons of rock are removed from each foot drilled," Hunter said.

"Of course, the prime reason for underground tests is because of the radiation fall-out," the guest speaker said.

Following showing of the film, a number of questions were fired to Hunter from the floor in regard to nuclear test-hole drilling operation.

President H. V. (Woody) Woodard presided over the luncheon-program meeting. It was reported that the Haskell Club was third in attendance for the past year, with 94.25 per cent in the district.

Ira Hester gave some interesting Rotary information and pointed out that members should know their national president and should keep well informed as to club activities. Jetty V. Clare was a guest at the Thursday noon meeting.

Two Cars Are Damaged In Wreck, Friday

A 1958 Plymouth, driven by Raymond Duke Overby, of Haskell, and a 1965 Galaxie 500, belonging to the Bill Wilson Motor Company, driven by Harmon Franklin Mathis, 33, an employee of Bill Wilson Motor Company, collided just a few minutes after 8:00 a. m., Friday at the intersection of south avenue E and south 7th street.

Police Chief Tom Paul Barnett, investigating officer, said that Overby was driving east, attempting to cross the highway, and Mathis was traveling south at the time of the mishap.

It is believed the blaze originated in the hot water closet. The heat and smoke did heavy damage.

Members of the Haskell Fire Department expressed thanks to Mr. Jimmy Pollan, of the El Cusero Drilling Company of Abilene, who stood by with a 700-gallon capacity water truck, and for his offer of lending a helping hand.

HASKELL-MUNDAY

The score was zero-to-zero until the bottom of the second inning when Roy Isbell knocked a roaring home run over the lights to give Haskell Little League All-Stars a one-run lead in the area tournament Saturday night. The Munday shortstop, struck, made a great play for the third out of that inning. Final score, Haskell 3, Munday 2.

During the third inning, one of Munday's batters hit a hard line drive that bounced off the pitcher's glove and the third baseman, Keith Everett, came in and threw to first for a great play and an out. At the bottom of the third, Haskell made two more runs, giving them a 3-to-0 score. Wayne Davis got one of the hits bringing in Bill Cox for one of the two runs made that inning.

Ford, of Munday, bounced one off of the right field fence for a single. The next batter, Boggs, got on by an error on the shortstop. The next batter grounded to the third baseman, Everett, then Everett touched third base forcing out the runner and throwing to first, making an outstanding double play to retire the side.

Statement By Secretary Freeman On Pending Cotton Legislation

"This is in response to numerous inquiries on cotton legislation received by the Department of Agriculture as a result of my testimony before the Senate Committee on agriculture and forestry last Thursday, as a result of the approval by the House Agriculture Committee of the Farm Bill, H. R. 9811. It is essential that the public be fully aware of this important bill.

The major provisions of the House Bill are:

- A. The cotton law would continue the one-price approach that has increased the use of cotton in the United States this year and give cotton farmers greater freedom of choice.
- B. The Feed Grain Program which has added $3 billion to farm income the past four years would be extended and improved.
- C. An improved wheat program would boost wheat farmers' incomes by $150 million a year while reducing government costs and providing more freedom in the marketing system.
- D. A new cropland adjustment program would help farmers shift a part of their allotted acreage out of crops into conservation and recreation uses—if they wanted to—and be paid for it.
- E. In addition, the Wool Program would be continued.

In order for farmers to have the benefit of any one of these programs, congressional approval of H. R. 9811 will be required. It is already late in the season, and there is much opposition from non-farm, anti-farm, and some farm groups.

The proposed cotton legislation, if passed by the Congress, would not only extend the one-price idea that is in effect this year, it would help the Government to bring under control the high costs which otherwise could wreck the entire program. We have too much cotton for our markets—our 16 million acre allotment will produce from 3 to 4 million bales more than it produced when first established by law in 1959. Growers would have maximum freedom of choice in making use of the new program."

HAND IN HAND

One of the bright phenomena of the times has been the growth in the number of shareholders in American industry.

The New York Exchange recently made a new count of shareowners and found the number to be an astonishing $20,120,000 as against 6,490,000 in 1952. Looking into the future, the Exchange foresees that by 1980, if present trends continue, the stockholders population will total 35 million people.

This is a reflection of the American people's faith in our economic future and in the enterprises which provide our almost limitless flood of goods and services. The head of a leading New York counseling firm, (Carl Byoir & Associates, Inc.), writing in Public Relations Journal, cites some thought-provoking figures. In the 10-year period, 1954-'64, capital needed for new plant and equipment for industry came to about $300 billion, of which at least $120 billion was to come from new money. For the 1964-'74 decade, the need is estimated at $425 billion, of which at least $185 billion must come as new money. In his words, "... it is necessary and desirable for U. S. industry to generate more positive and better-informed participation by shareholders and investors generally."

GLOBAL CONVEYOR BELT

Back in June, 1947, Pan American World Airways introduced the first round-the-world air passenger service. Just the other day, on July 1, it recorded another aviation "first," by inaugurating round-the-world all-cargo jet service tying 27 of the world's major industrial centers to what in effect is a global freight conveyor belt.

These cargo flights crisscross the globe both eastbound and westbound. A New York distributor can place his goods on one of the Pan Am jets and have them delivered in far-off New Delhi 33 hours and five minutes later. The San Francisco buyer is just 35 hours and 40 minutes away from the Karachi businessman.

The significance of this has been expressed by an officer of the airline in these words: "Round-the-world jet freighter flights will open up new opportunities for promotion of American exports to the world's major industrial centers and will serve as an important tool in the nation's efforts to ease the balance of payments problem."

The jet age has shrunk the world to an amazing degree for the traveler. Now it is doing just that for the shippers of goods.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO

(July 25, 1935)

The completion of the highway work from Haskell to Rule on 120 is expected either tonight or Friday, according to county officials, and work will then be commenced on highway 18 south of Rule to connect with 18 between Sagerton and Stamford.

Haskell is well represented this week at the annual Jamboree of the Chisholm Trail Council of the Boy Scouts of America at Buffalo Gap. Those in attendance from Troop 35 are Paul Crawford, Joe Maples, Paul Roberts, Ralph Bernard and T. J. Watson. Those representing Troop 36 are J. C. Allen, Robert McNulty, Hugh Lowe, Arch Lee Jones and Milam Jones. Three members of Troop 35 attended the camp last week. They were Henry Stanton, Jack Simmons and Eugene Rogers.

Miss Madge Leon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Leon, Haskell, won all-star honors at Camp Waldemar for the first term which closed July 20.

Newest edition to Haskell's growing list of business enterprises will be a "Ben Franklin Store" which will open around August 15th in the Alexander building on the south side of the square. Owners of the venture will be Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Atekison and Mrs. Carrie Williams, all of Haskell.

Plans for the organization of a Junior Chamber of Commerce of Haskell will be made tonight at 8 o'clock when interested young men convene in the basement of the Hotel Tonkawa.

The three-room farm home of Quitman Gentry, located near the city limits southwest of Haskell, was destroyed by fire of undetermined origin last Thursday night.

Revamped, rejuvenated and literally spooling for a battle, the Haskell Braves will tangle with the Hamlin Pied Pipers here Sunday afternoon and will make a desperate attempt to knock the present league leaders off the perch.

(July 24, 1925)

F. N. Clifford of Yoakum, Texas, who has accepted the position as manager of the Board of City Development and secretary of the Haskell Fair Association, has arrived with his family and took charge of his duties this week.

A few close friends of Miss Helen Harbison honored her with a picnic and swimming party at Bledsoe's Lake just prior to her leaving for her vacation trip to her home in Fayetteville, Arkansas. They were Mr. and Mrs. Jno. P. Payne, Miss Nettie McCollum, Helen Harbison, Messrs. Trice and D. Hughes.

The following Haskellites are enjoying a delightful outing at the Concho River: Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Hunt, Mrs. Mamie Barron, Misses Madeline Hunt, Mary Helen Barron, May Fields and Curren Hunt of Dallas.

Uncle Tom Lemmons, with his wife and son, T. J., Jr., returned last Saturday from an extended tour of the great divide of the Rockies.

The web worms made their appearance in the Sayles community and are reported to have destroyed more than 20 acres of cotton for W. B. Lindley last week. Others report slight damage from the worms in different sections of the community.

The best investment Haskell county can make will be to vote the Good Roads Bond issue at the election set for August 15.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the English Park Corporation Saturday, Mr. Turner E. Campe, the late and successful manager of the Haskell County Fair and the Board of City Development was unanimously chosen and employed to take entire charge of this new and most beautiful park to succeed Mr. J. E. Bernard, president and manager, who has been called back to his cotton business, which will require all of his time and attention.

60 YEARS AGO

(July 29, 1905)

Mr. Robert Hollis is the first man to demonstrate that onions of fine size can be grown successfully here from the seed. He has growing on his place a mile north of town, two or three acres of seedling onions, and in order to convince the doubting Thomases, brought in about a peck of the onions the other day. They were convincing, and ranged in size from 2 1/2 to 3 3/4 inches in diameter. There were two kinds, white and red, both equally fine.

Sagerton is building up right along. There are three new houses in course of construction and Messrs. Clark and Allen are receiving the new machinery for their gin, which will be fitted up with four 70-saw stands and modern conveniences. From present prospect of the cotton crop, they will have all the work they can do.

Pursuant to call, delegates from Haskell, Jones, Stonewall, Knox and Baylor counties met in Haskell last Saturday to complete the work of organizing a District Farmers' Union composed of the counties named.

The 3.06 inches of rain here since the 21st of July means a fine crop of summer grass, plenty of stock water on all the ranges and fat stock. It also means the filling out in the best possible condition, the thousands of acres of corn, milo maize and kaffir corn now in the process of maturing.

The Baptist protracted meeting will begin in Haskell Friday night, August 4.

Messrs. Marshall and Sam Pierson returned last Friday from a brief sojourn at Mineral Wells for their health's sake. However, neither of them looks to be a subject for a hospital.

Quite a company of prospectors from Bell county have been here looking over the country for the past several days. They are intelligent, substantial looking men. We hope they will find the country to their liking and cast their lot amongst us.

The six are Bryan W. Swaim, Moore County; Hood G. Willis, Hardeman County; Weldon B. Morris, Marion County; Sterling Lindsey, Coke County; Felix J. Burton, Rusk County; and Edgar M. Berry said the awards are made annually to a select group of the nation's county agents who have, over a period of 10 or more years, made outstanding contributions to agriculture and rural living. In addition to their distinguished service to agriculture, each is active in church, civic and community affairs in their home towns and counties. Each has demonstrated his abilities as a leader, organizer and educator on many occasions both

Driver Burned Saving Truck

Elton L. Crow, 41, of 1806 North Nelson St., Amarillo, son of Mrs. H. L. Crow, 901 North Avenue G, Haskell, is recovering nicely from burns he received on his right arm and shoulder Thursday of last week near Lefors, Texas, as he pulled his gasoline truck away from a burning 8,000 gallon cylindrical tank.

A truck driver for "Transport Company of Texas," Crow escaped serious injury. He was treated at Highland General Hospital in Pampa.

Officers said Crow was delivering a load of gasoline at a gravel pit on the Billy Davis Ranch near Lefors, when a spark from the engine apparently ignited fumes from the tank and it burst into flames.

Crow then moved his truck from the burning tank before the vehicle was damaged heavily.

in 4-H and adult Extension work.

They will draw special recognition during the annual state association meeting to be held in McAllen, August 8-11, but will receive their awards in Pittsburgh, Pa., during the national association meeting, October 31-Nov. 4.

Berry said the award is the highest honor which the national organization provides for its members.

"We have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love, dwelleth in God, and God in him."

This verse from I John will be included in the Christian Science Lesson - Sermon on "Love" this Sunday. A number of illustrations from the Bible will also be used to show the nature and power of God's love.

Mankind's need to bear witness to this love will be emphasized in this passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Simply asking that we may love God will never make us love Him; but the longing to be better and holier, expressed in daily watchfulness and in striving to assimilate the divine character, will awake in His likeness." Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 41.

Cattle Outlook For Months Ahead Explained

Cattle prices during the last few months have averaged well above those of the same period a year ago, reveals John G. McHane, Extension economist of Texas A&M University.

With few exceptions, range and pasture grasses are in good condition in Texas, and grazing prospects through the early part of the summer are excellent," he explains. "Range feed is generally showing good growth over the Western range area of the United States."

This is favorable from a price standpoint because it permits producers to hold feeder cattle in the range longer. This promotes orderly marketing. Although feeder cattle prices remained low through February, they increased in March and April. The recent rise of feeder cattle prices can be attributed to the increase of fed cattle prices, strong demand and a smaller seasonal supply.

McHane says that feeder cattle prices will likely stay above year-earlier levels through the rest of the second quarter and into the summer of 1965.

During this period, it is anticipated that cattle feeders will continue to place large numbers of cattle on feed. At the same time, good grazing conditions will enable ranchers to hold more feeder cattle on the ranges. This will restrict available supplies of feedlot replacements and will tend to strengthen feeder cattle prices.

A further increase of feeder cattle prices would probably curtail the slaughter of non-fed animals as feedlot operators would compete strongly with packers for these cattle, the economist explains.

Feeder cattle prices in the fall and early winter of 1965 will depend largely upon range conditions at that time, McHane adds.

He points out that fed cattle prices were steady through the winter, averaging $2 to $3 above those recorded a year earlier. In late April, they were about $4 above prices in the early spring of last year.

These prices may decline slightly about mid-year 1965, but in the third quarter, July, August and September, they are expected to average about the same as those of a year earlier.

If you've heard that GAS central air is out of your reach, don't believe it!

Get the facts. Call Lone Star Gas for a free estimate!

Don't be fooled by "horseback estimates" on costs! Get a bona fide air conditioning price from Lone Star Gas and compare with the price of the same size electric unit. You'll find the little extra per month to buy a gas unit buys you a lot more air conditioning over the years.

There are two types of gas systems for homes: a combination cooling and heating system and an add-on cooling system.

LOW DOWN PAYMENT, AS LITTLE AS $25/MO. FOR 2-TON UNIT

This new gas unit for medium-size homes both cools and heats... puts the world's finest year-around air conditioning in reach of everyone.

WHY GAS UNITS OUTLAST ELECTRIC COMPRESSOR TYPES

Gas cooling for homes has no compressor. A simple gas flame is the heart of the cooling cycle... with few moving parts to wear or need repair. No wonder you can expect gas air conditioning to outlast electric!

SPECIAL SUMMER GAS AIR CONDITIONING RATES

Owners of gas air conditioners get reduced gas rates for cooling during the hot summer months. This makes for even more economy from an efficient gas unit!

GAS ECONOMY PAYS OFF YEAR AFTER YEAR

You save in operating efficiency, low maintenance, amazingly long service. Combined heating and cooling costs with gas are substantially lower than for electric heating and cooling. Add to that the savings in maintenance and electric compressor replacements and you'll see why gas is your best home air conditioning investment.

Small Business Administration Will Lend Up To $100,000

Effective July 1, the Lubbock office of the U. S. Small Business Administration has full authority to approve direct loans of up to $100,000 and loans in participation with banks of up to $350,000, according to SBA Regional Director, Jack Teddlie.

The regional office also has authority to handle servicing of accounts, including extension of terms or other actions necessary, Mr. Teddlie explained.

"This is the result of decentralization of SBA to bring the decision-making closer to the businesses being aided and to speed service," Mr. Teddlie explained. "In addition, the agenare in close touch with their field offices and can quickly shift personnel to eliminate impending bottlenecks and give speedier service."

Another benefit is the authority of the area administrators and regional directors to tailor their small business and related programs to the needs of communities.

SBA is charged with helping small firms to obtain financing, to overcome the effects of disasters, to buy from or sell to the Federal Government and to strengthen their management and production capabilities.

And where communities need new job opportunities, SBA, through its local development program, is able to provide assistance to help finance business projects creating jobs.

C Board of Directors Hear Progress Report On "Hey-Day"

Former Sagerton Outstanding Young Lawyer

Phyllis Sampson, 31, of Lubbock, the wife of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Sagerton, has been named outstanding young lawyer for 1964-65 by a committee of the Lubbock County Bar Association. Fouts' name will be submitted to the State Junior Bar Association for consideration as the "Outstanding Young Lawyer of 1965."

Fouts, employed by the law firm of Key, Carr and Clark, is a member of the Lubbock County, Texas Bar Association and has been very active in civic affairs in Lubbock.

Fouts is the former Adolph Lehrmann, daughter of Mrs. Otto Lehrmann, and Sagerton. They have two daughters.

Tea Honors Side-Elect Miss Phyllis Sampson

A light tea honoring Miss Linda Sampson, bride-elect of Curtis Burson, was held Tuesday, July 20, from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m., at the community room, Haskell National Center.

The bride's colors of blue and white were carried out in decorations. Misses Phyllis and Linda Sampson, sisters of the bride, presided at the punch table. The table was covered with a white lace cloth over a white center-piece was and white carnations. The table was decorated with white bells with streamers of white satin and pale blue ribbons.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Phyllis Sampson and the groom's mother, Mrs. Linda Burson and the honoree presented corsages of white and blue. Miss Lochie presided at the bride's table.

Guests were Meses, Carl and Mrs. Clarence Taylor, J. and Mrs. Thurman Howeth, J. and Mrs. Paul Cothron, L. and Mrs. Larned, Thurman Howeth, A. and Mrs. T. Ballard, A. and Mrs. E. C. Collins, Jay Trusler, A. and Mrs. Lynn Pace Jr., and Mrs. Anderson and Frances.

The Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors met Tuesday morning at Felker's Restaurant dining room, with eight members and three committee chairmen present. President Don Muenzler presided.

A report on progress of 'Hey-Day' was given by E. J. Stewart, and plans are moving along according to schedule. Opal Adkins in concluding the report, stated that everything concerning the Queen's contest was up to date for that event.

A "Flea" Market will be the promotion for August for the Retail Merchants.

President Muenzler, in reporting on the depot, said the museum was now ready for exhibits. The railroad company has items on the way which will be displayed. It was estimated that cost of painting the depot would be $900, but because of volunteer labor, this figure was cut to approximately $200.

Rev. Douglas Finch, industrial chairman, and his committee, are working with James Glenn, a representative of West Texas Utilities Company, in an attempt to locate industry in Haskell. A clothing manufacturing company is interested in Haskell, the committee reported.

Dr. T. W. Williams told members that work being done by the W.T.C.C., indirectly affected Haskell. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is working at all times to interest industry in Texas, but each community must also do for itself.

Don Muenzler, in the absence of the Jaycee president, Alton Peiser, reported proceeds from the Donkey ballgame Monday night was around $150.00.

The Chamber of Commerce has rented the Corral building from Jaycees for the 'Hey-Day' fiddlers' contest this year.

The highway sign, recently erected between Aspermont and Old Glory, is being painted this week.

West Texas Utilities Company Has Extended Street Lighting Service

Delegates From Haskell Attend Jehovah Assembly

Thirteen delegates from the Haskell Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses returned home this week after almost a week's stay in Lubbock and Odessa, attending the "Word of Truth" District Assembly sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society.

Those attending from Haskell were Wanda Simpson, Stevie Simpson, Bertha Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Norman, and three children, Debra, Mark and Larry, Minnie Stewart, Mrs. Sarah Wilkerson and Lillian Reeves.

W. Clayton Short, presiding minister of the Haskell congregation reports that 5,011 Bible students from 27 states and two foreign countries convened for the four-day assembly.

Refreshed by the scriptural information received during the four-day program, the Haskell Witnesses are better equipped to meet the needs of interested ones locally. Mr. Short said all regular meetings at the local Kingdom Hall will resume this week.

As an additional service to the communities, towns and cities it serves, West Texas Utilities Company has extended its street lighting services. The new street lighting schedules provide for mercury-vapor street lights in ratings of 8,000 lumen, 21,500 lumen and 43,000 lumen (two lights per pole).

Mercury-vapor lamps, Henry Withers, local manager said, are more efficient than incandescent lamps and are considered by authorities as the desirable primary source of illumination for modern street lighting. This new service is designed to help communities improve the quality of their street lighting.

He said, "the cost of new mercury-vapor street lights on either conventional wood poles or standard steel poles is low and compares very favorably with rates of other Texas companies."

Withers pointed out that this new street lighting service would be extended to all communities and towns the Company serves. The Company is eager to assist the progressive, "up-and-coming" communities it serves in having and maintaining good street lighting. Good street lighting is an important plus for a community in attracting new industry. A well lighted town is considered to be one of the sure indicators of a progressive, wide-awake community.

In addition to the deserved civic pride of a well-lighted community, Withers pointed out, modern street lighting contributes substantially to crime reduction. It is a positive deterrent to vandalism and hoodlums.

Another benefit of modern street lighting is improved public safety. Statistics clearly show that well-lighted arterial streets and main thoroughfares reduce the number of traffic accidents and fatalities.

1966 License Plates Are Now Being Manufactured At The State Prison

Most Texas motorists have "bought" their 1965 motor vehicle registrations... better known as auto "license plates."

And while they blithely motor over the 66,000-mile state-maintained highway system, they probably are not aware—nor even care—that the 1966 license plates now are being manufactured at the State prison at Huntsville.

They probably would be more concerned if they knew that within the next few weeks computations will begin to determine not only what kind of cars motorists will drive in 1967—but also where they will live.

Experts in the Motor Vehicle Division of the Texas Highway Department must determine some 18 months in advance of sale how many plates of each different kind will be required in each of the State's 254 counties.

To complicate the problem, there are 33 different kinds of license plates—plus the new "personalized" plates approved by the Legislature at the session just ended.

Generally, it requires about six months to make the actual allocation estimate, and another year for production of the plates. However, studies are underway to determine if the allocation estimates can be made by computers, thus greatly reducing the time required and permitting the use of later data for the determination.

There are approximately six million registered vehicles in Texas. For the last decade this number has been increasing at a steady rate each year. This will mean that by 1967 more than 6.5 million sets of license plates will be needed.

This poses many problems. Will motorists be driving more "compacts"—or will the trend be reversed toward heavier vehicles? Will the new "deep water" barge canal at Victoria create another industrial boom in that coastal area, and pose the need for thousands more plates—and if so, what kind? Will the population movement from the rural areas to the cities be continued; and, if so, which counties will lose population and which cities will gain the most?

Arriving at allocation estimates for each county is an art. Economy-minded, the Department shies away from overstocking ("This runs into money"). At the same time the Department tries to avoid understocking the counties, too.

One Department official, who is closely associated with the problem, asserts that so far—during the 16 years he's been involved in the allocation estimate—the Department never has exhausted the total plate supply produced.

"But I'll tell you this," he confided, "we've come pretty close to it."

Estimates are based on the previous year's estimate, although this may be some 18 months in advance of the registration period. Besides registration figures, Department personnel consider any pertinent information available—such as possible population changes in an area.

If the Department doesn't learn of an anticipated major population change in time, a county may have either a surplus or fall short of its needed plate supply. Because of such unpredictables it is difficult to be certain that each county has the needed number of plates—or the utopian goal of "no more, no less."

And since a set of plates costs the Department about 13 cents to manufacture, the importance of having a minimum surplus of plates in each county is readily apparent. A surplus of just one of each of the 33 kinds of plates in each of the 254 counties would represent nearly $1,100 of the taxpayers' money. However, this obviously would be "skinning the cat" too close, and some surplus is inevitable.

Provision is made for the possibility that a county may exhaust its plate supplies. In this event, additional plates usually are forwarded from one of six stock points in the state—Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Austin, Houston, Dallas and Odessa.

It has been said that there is nothing more worthless than yesterday's newspaper—unless it is an obsolete license plate. Field investigators of the Motor Vehicle Division inventory surplus plates in each county.

Then they are sent to Highway Department District Offices where most are sold to the highest bidder for scrap metal.

Although 1967, and sale of license plates for that year are many months away, one thing is certain: Some county will need at least one license plate of a particular kind. The incumbent governor always gets number "501" State Office One), which is issued in the county of legal residence.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 2, 1965. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 24 proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas by amending Article VII, Section 17, providing a method of payment for the acquiring, constructing and equipping of buildings and other permanent improvements at certain state institutions of higher learning; providing for allocation of funds therefor; authorizing the issuance of bonds or notes and the pledging of allotted funds for the payment of same; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 17 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the state ad valorem tax on property of Seven Cents (7¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation heretofore provided to be levied by Section 51 of Article III, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Ten Cents (10¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the continuing payment of Confederate pensions as provided under Section 51, Article III, and for the establishment and continued maintenance of the State Building Fund as provided in Section 51b, Article III, of the Constitution.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Ten Cents (10¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning provided that none of the proceeds of this tax shall be used for auxiliary enterprises; and the governing board of each such institution of higher learning is fully authorized to pledge all or any part of said funds allotted to such institution as hereinafter provided, to secure bonds or notes issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping such buildings or other permanent improvements at said respective institutions. Such bonds or notes shall be issued in such amounts as may be determined by the governing boards of said respective institutions, shall bear interest not to exceed four per cent (4%) per annum and shall mature serially or otherwise in not more than ten (10) years; provided further, that the state tax on property as heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 9 of Article VIII, as amended, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed Thirty Cents (30¢) on the One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) valuation. All bonds shall be examined and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, and when so approved shall be incontestable; and all approved bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. Said bonds shall be sold only through competitive bids and shall never be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest.

"The following state institutions then in existence shall be eligible to receive funds raised from said Ten Cent (10¢) tax levy for the twelve-year period beginning January 1, 1966, and for the succeeding ten-year period:

Anyone desiring bullet holes in their living room floor should contact Jetty V. Clare, publisher of the Haskell Free Press. The holes are perfect for ventilation purposes, or they make good exits for troublesome mice. Any size hole can be shot in your floor at any time... but preferably around midnight.

Oh, my gosh! What a squash! Yep, Vance Abeldt, Haskell Free Press mechanical superintendent, brought in a squash Saturday morning that was shaped like a "horse-collar," and it weighed 7 1/2 lbs.

The unusually large and odd-shaped squash was grown in the Abeldt's garden at their home, 806 N. 19th St. 'Yal!' come up for Christmas dinner, as it looks as if the Prattler's will be eating squash when the snow flies.

HOLD THAT TIGER: County Clerk Bill Reeves telephoned me Friday afternoon and said: "Say, Al, do you now what the mama tiger said to the papa tiger?"

Of course I bit, hook, line and sinker and told Brother Bill I did not know... to which he quipped: "The mama tiger said to the papa tiger... where have you been, I smell gasoline on your breath?"

Thirteen ways you can ruin Haskell:

(1). Don't pay taxes. Let the other fellow pay his. Vote against taxes, then fuss because the streets are not kept up.

(2). Never attend any of the meetings called for the good of the town. If you do, don't have anything to say. Wait until you get outside then cuss those who made suggestions. Find fault with everything that was done.

(3). Get all the city will give you, and don't give anything in return. Write unsigned letters demanding more for your tax dollar.

(4). Talk cooperation, but don't do any work for your city unless you get paid for it. And by all means refuse to serve unless they make you chairman.

(5). Never accept an office. It's easier to criticize than to do things. Accuse anybody who serves in an elected office of being a publicity seeker.

(6). Don't do any more than you have to. When others willingly and unselfishly give their time to make a better town, howl because that town is run by a clique.

(7). Don't back your fire department or your police department. Don't thank them for endangering their lives that you might have a safer town in which to live. Demand special treatment, raise Cain if anybody expects to obey traffic and parking laws.

(8). Look at every proposition in a selfish way. If you are not the one who gets the most good out of it, vote against it. Never consider what it will do for the town as a whole.

(9). Don't do anything for the youth of your town. Criticize them as potential delinquents. Keep your feet on them. Encourage them to move away when they grow up.

(10). If you have good town leaders, don't follow them. Take a jealous attitude, and talk down anything they say.

(11). Don't work on any committee. Tell them, "I'm too busy."

(12). Don't say anything good about your town. Be the first to point up its shortcomings. Pretend that if trouble comes your way, it will be residents of some other town who will visit you while you are ill; bring in the fire department if your home is burning; comfort you if you lose a dear one; stand back of you in disaster.

(13). And don't support your local retail stores and industries. Claim the prices and services in the stores in other towns are better. Claim industry and its payroll hurts the town. But if you need a donation, ask the local stores. Expect them to back you, but don't back them.

The Donkey ballgame Monday night, sponsored by the Haskell Jaycees, was a crowd-pleaser, and the roar of approval from the spectators could be heard several blocks away. An estimated crowd of between 250 and 400 persons viewed the contest... which pitted man against beast.

Alvin Richardson and Don Muenzier took hard spills, and a number of other Jaycees hit the dust more than once when they were dumped from the backs of the stubborn critters (the donkeys' backs).

They grow 'em big in Haskell County!

Mrs. B. F. Cobb, who writes "The Good Earth" column for the Free Press, called at this office Monday and brought in an 8-lb. cantaloupe that she had grown.

bases with two outs. The center fielder made an error attempting to catch a high fly, allowing the runner at third, Sosa, to score. Ford, the next batter, got a good hit into right field bringing in Crawford for another big run for Munday. The runner at third tried to steal home on a passed ball through the catcher, Cox, but was not successful as Cox regained possession of the ball to throw to pitcher Reeves. Reeves tagged the runner, making the third out.

RULE-MUNDAY

In the top of the first inning, Munday made three of their runs in the Little League area tournament Friday night. Rule's shortstop, Struck, was responsible for two of the outs to retire the side. Final score, Munday 4, Rule 0.

Rule made two substitutions in the top of the fourth. Andrus came in for Macias at third base, and Norwood came in for the catching position. Rule also made two more substitutions in the bottom of the fourth. Reneau for All in right field, and Haway for Smith in left field. The shortstop, Struck, made another great catch to make the second out.

In the top of the fifth Munday made another run. Ford got a double bringing a runner to third and Rule's second baseman made an error, bringing in a run.

Munday's center fielder, Crawford, made a spectacular diving catch in shallow centered to make a big out.

At the bottom of the sixth, things began to roll for Rule. There was one out and a man on first. The next batter got on by an error which was followed by a hit to load the bases. The next batter grounded to second, the second baseman threw to home forcing out the runner, and threw to third, tagging out the runner at third which retired the side and the ball game.

Neglect And Abuse of Children May Be Reported To Child Welfare Office

Since Haskell, Throckmorton, Stonevall, Jones, Fisher, Callahan and Shackelford Counties have had Child Welfare services available for some time through the Haskell Child Welfare Office (located on the third floor of the courthouse), neglect and abuse cases can be reported directly there.

Of course any honest citizen, not necessarily a doctor, knowing of any severe mistreatment of a child may discuss the situation with Child Welfare. Reporting of this kind will not of itself mean a threat

Tanner Grocery Suffers Heavy Fire Damage

The Pete Tanner Grocery, of Rochester, suffered heavy damage in an early morning fire Sunday. Owner Pete Tanner estimated damages at between $45,000 and $50,000.

The 4:30 a. m. blaze was believed to have started near a hot water heater at the rear of the building.

Rochester firemen fought the blaze an hour after cutting through the roof before fire-fighting units from Rule, O'Brien, Haskell, Knox City and Munday helped bring it under control at 7:30 a. m.

The rear of the building was heavily damaged and most of the grocery stock ruined from smoke and water.

The owner, Pete Tanner, said he had been by the building at 1:30 a. m. before leaving town and had checked the air conditioner. All had seemed well at the time, he said.

Tanner, a grocer since 1941, who also owns a store in Rule, had moved into his present location in 1959 after completely redecorating the building.

with one out. Wiseman followed with a hit to bring in Ratliff for a one-run lead. Pippin stole home to give them another run. Davis also walked to bring in another run, giving them three runs for that inning.

Anyone bringing a sincere concern about a child's neglect to the attention of Child Welfare will be talking to people who seek to determine the exact and underlying causes, and then work with the parents toward a solution. The result most hoped for will be for the child to remain in his own home, and that the home will become a happier one.

Confidentiality of individuals the office works with and hears complaints from, will be strictly maintained at all times.

Other functions of the Child Welfare office are helping parents plan for a child who may be mentally or physically handicapped. Information on adoption and foster care is available. The office also works with children who are behavior problems and delinquents.

Financial assistance is available only through the Public Assistance office, State Department of Public Welfare, on the first floor of the courthouse.
