Morning blaze destroys home

An early morning fire today destroyed the 2611 37th St. home of Northeast Elementary School principal Wayne Kennedy and his family.

On perhaps the coldest morning yet this year, with 2-degree temperatures and a wind chill factor of more than 30 below, firemen were caked with ice and plainly suffering as their efforts lasted into mid-morning.

The blaze was reported at 4:25 a.m. by the Kennedys' 14-year-old son, Damon, who ran to the 2612 36th St. home of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hess to call for help after the family was awakened when the fire caused the doorbell to short out and start ringing.

"We got the kids out and us out, so that was the main thing," Kennedy said.

Kennedy and his wife, Peggy, have another son at home, 13-year-old Brett.

All three Snyder banks have established accounts to assist the family.

The principal said they have had "a house offered to us to stay in for a few days until we get some of our furniture back."

Firefighters got a large amount of the Kennedys' furniture out of the house and had it spread out over the front lawn before a moving truck came for it at mid-morning.

"Our insurance company wants to have everything cleaned to see what can be salvaged," he said.

A fire department spokesman said the cause had not been determined, although the fire may have started in the garage.

Kennedy said he was not sure if it originated in the garage or the attic.

"Most of the department," or more than 40 men, responded to the call and worked until after daybreak, with many of them finally having to leave to go to work, he said.

A major comfort was the First Christian Church's opening of its meeting hall to offer the frosty (see BLAZE, page 10)

Project Angel Tree provides gifts to children of inmates

Twelve local children whose fathers are state penitentiary inmates received presents this week from the First United Methodist Church as part of a statewide program in which the church decided to become involved.

Minister Buff Hearn and two church members had been going to the Price Daniel Unit on Sunday afternoons to minister to inmates, and the director of the program, Project Angel Tree, contacted Hearn last month to see if the church would participate.

Church member Bob Stewart headed the committee, which also included Tommy Aishman, Bob Womack and Rod Waller, to identify eligible children and get three presents for each of them.

Hearn said 19 children were identified, but seven of them, in two families, could not be located.

The gifts, delivered Wednesday, carry the "Project Angel Tree" sticker and are addressed so that they are from the fathers, who are in various penitentiary units around the state.

Hearn and church members Sam Robertson and Bob O'Day have been going to the prison on (see ANGEL, page 10)

Forecasters warning travelers to take extra precautions on roads

front local, wire reports There are warmer days on the horizon but Scurry County residents, like most of the rest of the state, will have to stay bundled up again today and tonight.

Meanwhile, forecasters are urging holiday travelers to take extra precautions when on the road. Blankets, flashlights and plenty of warm clothing are essential to safety in the event of a breakdown, considering the forecast of continued gusting winds which force the chill factor to as low as 35 degrees below zero.

Wind chill readings ranged from -40 in the Panhandle to -5 in Central Texas early today. A wind chill advisory was in effect for most sections of the state. Light snow was reported at Dalhart, Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland and San Angelo, snow showers were reported at Waco, ice pellets were falling at Killeen and College Station and freezing rain was reported at both Kingsville and Corpus Christi.

Locally, the temperature dipped to 2 degrees. It is expected to reach perhaps the low teens, then drop again for another bitterly cold night.

It will be mostly clear and slightly warmer Saturday.

DPS predicts 75 will perish on roadways

AUSTIN — Estimates from the Department of Public Safety indicate that 75 people may perish on Texas roadways during the upcoming Christmas and New Year's holiday periods.

"We expect there could be 40 traffic fatalities reported during the Yuletide watch and 35 more in the New Year's period," said DPS director Colonel Joe Milner. "Nothing would make us happier than to find out these numbers are much too high. We'll have additional troopers on duty during these hours to help hold down the (see FATALITIES, page 10)

Romania...

Communist leader Ceausescu ousted

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu, the last hard-line Communist leader in the Soviet bloc, was toppled from power today by an outraged populace that turned against his 24 years of oppressive rule.

There were numerous conflicting reports about the chaotic situation in the nation. Early reports said Ceausescu was captured trying to flee the country, but a later report said he had escaped his captors.

Fighting was reported between army units siding with protesters and forces loyal to Ceausescu, and there were conflicting reports about who was in power.

Ceausescu was forced to flee by a popular revolt that lasted less than a week but claimed the lives of hundreds of anti-government demonstrators killed by security forces. Hundreds of thousands of people filled the streets of Bucharest and other cities today as reports of Ceausescu's ouster spread.

The upheaval in Romania comes at the close of a remarkable year during which the hard-line leaderships of Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Bulgaria were ousted by massive protests and replaced by reformers.

Protesters seized state television to announce the ouster. But hours later, television broadcasts abruptly stopped and were replaced by recorded music.

Radio, still in the hands of demonstrators, said that this was because television transmitters — which under Ceausescu worked only two hours each weekday evening — were giving out.

But minutes earlier, an unidentified announcer said on radio that the demonstrators were "in danger" from security forces.

News reports said Ceausescu, 71, and his wife and second-in-command, Elena, fled their presidential palace in Bucharest by helicopter. Romanian television, urging everybody in the country to stop the ruler fleeing, said they landed at the Titu military airport outside Bucharest, then got into a red Dacia sedan.

Permits issued for November

Some $36,800 in construction permits were issued through the city building inspector's office in November.

Nine building permits — for billboard-type signs — were issued during the month. Six of the billboards are by Adco of Amarillo, including three on the U.S. 84 bypass and two on College Ave. Two other signs are by Martin Sign Co. of Sweetwater. A third is owned by Lyle Heating and Air Conditioning.

Fees for the permits totaled $45. Other fees collected included seven electrical permits for $132.96, 27 plumbing permits for $216 and a $5 moving fee. The fees totaled $398.96.

To date this year, some $226,884 in construction permits have been issued, compared to a figure of $160,589 in 1988. The fiscal year began in October.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The person who fears to suffer, suffers from fear."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors:

An old friend, George Dolan, is enjoying Christmas this year at the big newspaper in the sky. The late Fort Worth Star-Telegram columnist wrote this Christmas classic a few years ago:

That holiday season, in spite of all the usual hoopla—Christmas seemed to sneak up on a local couple. When Christmas cards started to arrive, they were appalled at how much they had to do in so little time.

"Wouldn't it be a relief," the wife murmured, "if we didn't have to send cards this Christmas?" The husband thought it was a great idea. "Think of all the time it'll save, and nobody will probably even notice."

After a little discussion, the couple made a firm decision not to send Yule cards. Not long afterwards, the wife began to feel pangs of conscience as she read cheerful cards from family and friends.

Each day, with the arrival of mail, the wife started to second-guess their earlier decision. The husband stood pat until a card arrived from his boss.

Using logic instead of emotion, he argued, "This is not a social exchange. Use your head woman!"

He bought a box of cards and addressed one to his boss. Then they went ahead and addressed the rest of the cards in the box to selected friends and relatives.

Some others were just as special, however, so the husband sighed, went out and bought another box of cards. Then another. And a third.

Christmas day came and went. Then one night as they sat cozily in front of a cheery fire, the wife asked, "Aren't you glad we went ahead and sent Christmas cards?"

He didn't reply. "Doesn't it give you a nice warm feeling..." she persisted.

"Uh, look," he said awkwardly, "I wasn't going to tell you, but those cards are still in the pocket of my brown overcoat. I forgot to mail them."

Q—If the temperature is zero and the wind is blowing 15 miles an hour...what would the wind chill factor be? What about a 20 mile an hour wind?

A—The answer to your first question is approximately 31 degrees below zero. A wind chill conversion chart is located on page 10 in today's issue of the paper.

In Brief

Perot's offer

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Billionaire industrialist H. Ross Perot is offering to pay travel expenses for families wishing to journey to the bedside of servicemen wounded in Panama.

The Dallas businessman has extended the offer to all families of the 191 servicemen being treated at Wilford Hall Medical Center and Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio, said Wilford Hall spokeswoman Sgt. Debra Morrison.

To buy home

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, who recently sold his farm on Virginia's Shenandoah River, confirmed Thursday that he is negotiating to buy a lot in Southern California where he hopes to build a vacation home.

Girl hurt in rescue allowed to go home

EL PASO — A nine-year-old girl hospitalized for nearly a week after falling 30 feet while being lifted to a rescue helicopter has gone home in time for the holidays.

Debbie Baisa needs several months of physical therapy, but Beaumont Army Medical Center doctors said they are optimistic she will not need to be hospitalized again.

Debbie sprained her ankle Dec. 9 while hiking with relatives in the Franklin Mountains. As an Army rescue helicopter attempted to hoist her, the airlift basket spun violently, throwing Debbie 30 feet to the ground. She suffered head and internal injuries in that fall.

The Army and the city of El Paso are conducting separate investigations into the accident. Both have said preliminary reports show their rescuers followed correct procedures during the failed rescue.

"Debbie is in a body cast because of her hip injuries, but is quickly learning to use a walker and wheel chair to get around," according to a statement released by Fort Bliss. "She and her family are pleased that they will be able to spend the holidays at home."

Debbie's grandfather, Manny Baisa, said earlier that his granddaughter was being treated at Beaumont Army Medical Center for a head injury, fractured ribs, a broken hip, a damaged lung and a damaged liver.

Family members asked Army officials to inform the media of the girl's release after she had left the hospital, said Lt. Col. Jim Lawson, spokesman for Fort Bliss.

Lost Dog Now Is Found, But at a Different Home

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1989 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Four weeks ago, our dog, George, mysteriously disappeared. He was wearing a collar with our telephone number on it. Last week a woman named Diane called, saying, "I have your dog." I was so relieved I could hardly talk.

I described George — a red retriever with a white star on his chest and a black mark on his tongue. Diane said she'd call me back as her boyfriend had become very attached to the dog and doesn't want to give him up.

Abby, we found that dog three years ago — a homeless, injured animal. We gladly spent $500 to make him healthy, happy dog he is today. We are heartbroken to know that he is out there somewhere and we may never see him again.

Maybe you can help us by publishing this letter. I keep waiting for Diane to call and say her boyfriend is willing to return George to us.
HEARTBROKEN IN LAS VEGAS

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: It was very kind of Diane to call and let you know that your dog is alive and well. When a pet disappears, it's owners are haunted by the thought that it might have been hit by a car and died a horrible death alone and in a ditch somewhere. I pray that George is returned to you soon.

DEAR ABBY: After I read the letter from the grandmother who was so thankful to her mother for the time and patience she spent teaching her how to sew, I had to write to you with my story.

At the age of 15, I spent the summer with my grandparents in Pittsburgh. Being from a small city in North Carolina, I found myself with very little to do.

My wise grandmother realized that I needed to meet people my age, and since my 16th birthday was coming up in August, she made a deal with me. If I would complete a six-week course in typing for teenagers at a local junior college, she would buy me a new typewriter as my present.

Thirty years later, I still cherish my typing skill. Furthermore, the typewriter that she bought for me in 1962 has been my companion through high school, college and in the business world.

If this letter inspires any parent or grandparent to make the same offer that my grandmother made to me, I guarantee the rewards will last a lifetime.

JACK STEVENSON JR.,
WINSTON-SALEM, N.C.

DEAR JACK: Your letter took me back to my junior high school days when my parents bought a sturdy rebuilt L.C. Smith typewriter for my twin sister and me. I'm sure that she will agree that the typewriter was one of the finest gifts we have ever received.

DEAR ABBY: There are two and sometimes three very fine ladies who exercise by walking briskly past our home every morning between 5:30 and 6 o'clock. They are to be commended for this healthful activity. However, these ladies talk quite loudly as they walk, and their voices carry through the open windows of our bedroom, waking us up long before our alarm goes off.

We know they do not do this intentionally — they just don't realize how far their voices carry when they are huffing and puffing.

If these ladies are unable to exercise later in the day or evening (as I do), I think they should keep their voices down when passing the homes of people who are trying to sleep. I read you in The Wilkes-Barre Times Leader. Please sign me...

LIGHT SLEEPER

DEAR LIGHT SLEEPER: Here's your letter. Your request is reasonable. Please write again and let me know if the noise level diminishes after this hits print.

P.S. The same can be said for neighbors who loudly call "Goodnight" as their guests depart at 2 a.m.

Dr. Gott
Peter Gott, M.D.

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 74-year-old male and have been taking Xanax for 2 1/2 years. My druggist tells me I'm addicted to it and should discontinue the medication, yet my doctor wants me to remain on it. What's your advice about Xanax?

DEAR READER: I side with your druggist.

Xanax, an anti-anxiety medicine, has an addiction potential, as do other mind-altering drugs. The manufacturer recommends that Xanax be used only for short periods; long-term effectiveness (more than four months) has not been proved by scientific studies.

I think you would be better off seeking other ways to cope with anxiety. For example, you might be helped by counseling. I don't believe continued use of Xanax is in anyone's best interests. If your doctor insists you remain on Xanax, consider changing doctors or seeking a second opinion.

Remember that, after 2 1/2 years of treatment, you should not stop Xanax without medical supervision. If the medicine is not tapered, you are at risk of having withdrawal symptoms, such as craving, nervousness and seizures.

I might add that your pharmacist has played an important role in protecting your health by informing you of the potential dangers of your medicine. Your doctor, who has continued to supply your prescription, is in error.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 74-year-old male who developed a collapsed lung and pneumonia a few weeks ago. What caused this condition, and how should I take care of myself to ensure that it will not happen again?

DEAR READER: A collapsed lung (pneumothorax) results when air leaks out of the lung and into the space within the chest cavity. Most specialists believe that a pneumothorax occurs when tiny blebs (weakened portions of the lung covering) burst, causing a defect through which air escapes. The situation is analogous to leakage of air from the inner tube of an old-fashioned tire.

Violent coughing is a common cause of this, because the sudden buildup of pressure within the lung can rupture a bleb.

Therefore, the cough from your pneumonia was probably a contributing factor to the pneumothorax. No one knows why blebs form on lungs; they appear to be related to asthma and emphysema in some patients. Fortunately, once a bleb bursts and the lung collapses, healing occurs, the lung re-expands with time and the pneumothorax resolves. Sometimes, doctors have to place a plastic tube into the chest cavity to remove the air and allow the lung to expand to its normal position.

I don't know whether you have more than one bleb. If you do, this can be determined by X-ray and may lead to another pneumothorax in the future. Your doctor can advise you about methods of preventing this. At the very least, you should use cough medicine to prevent strenuous coughing, should you develop upper respiratory infections, such as pneumonia, in the future. Also, if you smoke cigarettes, stop.

Finally, you should be given the pneumonia vaccine; this injection will protect you against pneumococcal pneumonia, the most prevalent type of pneumonia in the elderly.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Living With Chronic Lung Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 with their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

Governor... Mattox, Hance file for post

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox and Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance have shelled out $3,000 apiece to run for governor, while another gubernatorial hopeful, Clayton Williams, said he is donating 10 smoked turkeys to help feed the needy in Houston.

Mattox filed Thursday in the Democratic Party primary, saying he already has more than $3 million to spend on a campaign and a "winning team on the field."

Hance, a former Democratic congressman, filed as a Republican candidate.

Williams, a Midland businessman also running as a Republican, said he would donate turkeys Friday to the Citywide Club of Houston, which he said expects to feed 80,000 of Houston's needy during its annual Christmas dinner on Saturday.

Mattox submitted a $3,000 check for his filing fee at party headquarters, and also released a summary of a recent poll that showed him leading Democratic candidates Ann Richards and Mark White.

In 1866, Ulysses S. Grant was named general of the Army, the first officer to hold the rank.

Baker now sends many newsletters

ISSAQUAH, Wash. (AP) — Two years ago, Betsy Oppeneer mailed 1,500 Breadbasket catalogs to her friends and former breadbaking students. Her mailing list today, she says, includes over 13,000 breadbakers.

In addition to the catalog, which is available by mail ($1), Oppeneer now publishes a newsletter four times a year. She also travels throughout the United States teaching breadbaking courses. "There is a definite trend toward baking good nutritious bread," she says.

The October-November-December issue of "The Baking Sheet" newsletter features recipes for Oppeneer-Style Stuffing, Whole-Wheat Herb Bread, Cranberry Cornmeal Bread, Swiss Fruited Christmas Bread and Betsy's Stollen. Cooking tips are included.

ABWA group chats with Santa

Scurry Charter Chapter of American Business Women's Association met for their Christmas dinner Dec. 5 at Martha Ann Woman's Club. New member JoAnn Prince gave the invocation.

Vocational chairman Shirley Miller introduced Vera Pruitt who has been employed with Key Brothers for 7½ years as office clerk, computer assistant and bookkeeper.

She keeps books for three stores as well as carrying out other duties such as filing, deposits, general ledger, and any office job that needs to be done. She also occasionally helps customers in the parts department.

Carol Young was named member of the month for December and Barbara Langford was installed as a new member. Barbara, who is employed at Eddins-Walcher Company, was sponsored by Ruby Devers. Ruby Neves gave the benediction.

Members had a surprise ending for the evening when Santa arrived. Santa took Christmas gift requests from those who wanted to sit on his lap.

Altrurian Daughters donate toys

Altrurian Daughters Club met Dec. 13 for a luncheon at Snyder Country Club.

In lieu of exchanging gifts, each member brought a toy to be donated to the children of the Noah Project.

Emily Hataway provided entertainment for members with a medley of songs, accompanying herself on the guitar. One guest, Mendy O'Banion, was present for the luncheon.

President Virginia Clark presided over a short business session before the meeting was adjourned.

RB Bailey tabbed Little All-America

by The Associated Press
Johnny Bailey of Texas A&I, college football's career rushing leader, was named to The Associated Press Little All-America team for the fourth consecutive year today.

Bailey finished his career with 6,320 yards, breaking Tony Dorsett's mark by 238. He rushed for 1,269 yards and 15 touchdowns this season despite missing two games with a knee injury, and helped lead Texas A&I to a 10-1 record.

The 5-foot-9, 180-pound Houston native capped his career with a third straight Harlon Hill Trophy, given to the best player in NCAA Division II. The Little All-America team is composed of players from Divisions II and III of the NCAA and all NAIA schools.

Joining Bailey in the backfield are quarterback Kirk Baumgartner of Wisconsin-Stevens Point and running back Ricky Gales of Simpson College in Iowa.

Baumgartner, who passed for 3,692 yards and 39 touchdowns this season, ended his career with 13,028 passing yards and 110 TD passes — both second on the all-time list. His 1,696 career passes are the most by any college player.

IA title game set Saturday

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — The Class A championship football game between Thorndale and Sudan has been rescheduled from Friday night to Saturday afternoon because of freezing weather, school officials said.

The game will be played at 3 p.m. Saturday at Shotwell Stadium in Abilene, Thorndale High School spokeswoman Virginia Heine said.

A high of 10 degrees was forecast for Abilene Friday. A high in the 20s was predicted for Saturday.

QB Walsh expects an off-season deal

IRVING — Picking him in the supplemental draft has cost the Dallas Cowboys a cool $1 million and the No. 1 pick next year, but rookie quarterback Steve Walsh says he knows how the Cowboys could save some money: trade him before April.

Walsh said he anticipates a trade in the off-season, and his contract calls for the Cowboys to save $300,000 to $400,000 by sending him to another team before the NFL draft next April.

Walsh signed with the Cowboys weeks after the team made Troy Aikman of UCLA the No. 1 pick in the regular NFL draft.

Walsh said he thinks coach Jimmy Johnson is going to "treat me fairly, and that's why I think something's going to happen this off-season. I think he would be treating me unfairly by not doing anything."

The problem for the Cowboys is recapturing their investment, which is probably impossible because Walsh has cost them the No. 1 overall pick in the upcoming draft and nearly $1 million already.

"They're eventually going to have to pull the trigger," Walsh said. "To be honest with you, I don't think they can afford having both of us. They know it's not the best situation for Troy or me. I don't think either one of us feels great that we're both in this situation."

Walsh signed a $4.1 million contract; Aikman is making more than $11 million over five years.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram Thursday quoted unidentified sources as saying the team has opened preliminary trade discussions involving Walsh with the Minnesota Vikings, New England Patriots and San Francisco 49ers.

A source said the team's plan is to trade Walsh as close to the opening of the NFL's Feb. 5 trading period as possible to enable Johnson to know his needs in advance of the draft and early in the Plan B free-agency period.

The defense includes linemen John Levelis of C.W. Post, Terry Fleming of Mississippi College, Mike Estes of Central Washington and Murray Garrett of Eastern New Mexico; linebackers Steve Thompson of California-Davis, Chad Thorson of Wheaton, Ill., and Arthur Jimerson of Norfolk State, and backs Vince Buck of Central State, Ohio, Rick Bealer of Lycoming, Brett Whitestone of Tarkio and Jason Agee of Northwest Missouri State.

The punter is Eric Fadness of Fort Lewis, who averaged 45.4 yards per kick.

Fadness is the only freshman on the team. Agee is a sophomore, Garrett and Bealer are juniors and the rest are seniors.

By The Associated Press
The Texas Longhorns gave coach Tom Penders an early Christmas present, his 300th win as a college basketball coach.

The Longhorns defeated Virginia Military Institute, 98-74, Thursday night. In other non-conference games involving SWC teams, Texas A&M defeated Florida International, 114-90, in the championship game of the Golden Panther Holiday Classic. Rice defeated Prairie View A&M, 73-51, and Montana State defeated Texas Christian, 76-62.

"It's a real nice feeling," said Penders of his 300th win. "I didn't really think about it until someone said something about it before the game."

"It makes me feel old," he said. "I just hope I'm around for

Oilers face Cleveland

Try to come back from big loss last week

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oilers apparently are ideally equipped to rebound from devastating defeat.

Handling success is more difficult.

"I don't even think about things being any different," linebacker Johnny Meads said. "You can't make the personality of this team a big deal. You just have to live with it."

The split-personality Oilers have lived through losses of 34-0 and 61-7 in the last four games and still can win the AFC Central title if they beat the Cleveland Browns Saturday night.

"We win one, lose one, and it's usually when people think we're going to win that we lose," Meads said. "We've been conditioned that way."

The Oilers pride themselves on having not lost two games in a row since 1987.

They had not won more than two in a row until they had victories over Detroit, Cincinnati and the Los Angeles Raiders this season; all were in the Astrodome.

They responded to that success with a 34-0 loss at Kansas City, came back with victories over Pittsburgh and Tampa Bay before Sunday's franchise record 61-7 loss to Cincinnati.

"We're going to live by what got us here and die by what got us here," quarterback Warren Moon said. "Hopefully, we'll keep living a little longer."

The Oilers have played most heroically this season following their most numbing losses.

They lost in overtime to Buffalo and then dominated Miami; they lost to New England and then came back with a late victory over Chicago and shut out Pittsburgh.

Now they'll go into Saturday's showdown brim-full of confidence.

"Yeah, I honestly feel we're good enough that when we want to turn it on we can," cornerback Steve Brown said. "Everyone understands the importance of this game and we'll play well."

"We aren't supposed to lose games like that (Cincinnati). But the fact is, we are playing for the championship, no matter how bad we got beat."

Houston (9-6) is in a good position to get a wild card playoff berth even if they lose. The odds are longer on the Browns (8-6-1) making it as a wild card if they lose.

"Losing by one point, 50 points or 100 points, it doesn't matter," defensive end Sean Jones said. "A win is a win and a loss is a loss. It doesn't change what we have to do this week."

Cleveland also has shown resiliency in remaining alive for a fifth straight playoff appearance following a four-game span of three losses and a tie.

The Browns beat the Oilers 28-17 Oct. 29 with second half trick plays that included a touchdown pass by rookie running back Eric Metcalf and several effective end around plays.

UNLEADED GASOLINES

Astro-Graph By Bernice Bede Osol

Dec. 23, 1989

In the year ahead you will develop new strengths and qualities of character that will make you a stronger person. These attributes will greatly contribute to your success.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're now in a cycle where close, personal friends will start to play helpful roles in your affairs. Even if they participated previously, their new input will be greater. Capricorn, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send for your Astro-Graph prediction for the year ahead by mailing $1.25 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You should be at your best in competitive developments today, because in the back of your mind, you'll sense you have reserves upon which to draw they may lack.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) This is a good day to talk directly to friends who can help you achieve your hopes and expectations. They'll be eager to do whatever they can to assist you.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Don't be discouraged if the returns from a venture with which you are associated are less than your expectations at this time. They should become more ample later.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You might have to make a difficult decision today. However, once you make a judgment, stick to it, because it is likely to be the best for you as well as for the others involved.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Today you may begin to garner some rewards for your labors. If the returns aren't what you anticipated, let it be a lesson to you to try harder the next time.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A fun type of social gathering could turn out to be advantageous for you from a commercial standpoint today. Business and pleasure make a compatible blend.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) This is a good day to take care of things you've been wanting to do for your special people. You'll enjoy your efforts and they'll be appreciative of them later.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) This could be the appropriate day for you to get something important off your mind you've been anxious to discuss with a friend. A meeting of minds will result.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The bargains for which you've been looking are out there today. If you can ferret them out by shopping shrewdly, you'll be able to get more mileage from your dollars.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) When involved with others today don't let the reigns of leadership slip through your fingers. You're the one who will be better able to manage things, not your peers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Continue to let your compassionate qualities determine how you deal with others today. Your good deeds are sincerely appreciated and the recipients will reciprocate later.

Cold brings price gouging

McALLEN, Texas (AP) — City and state officials say they will penalize merchants in McAllen who try to take advantage of sub-freezing temperatures by raising prices on antifreeze, propane and other heating products.

Mayor Othal Brand said he decided on a freeze of his own — on retail prices of such products Thursday because several residents have complained about high costs.

The Texas attorney general's office has begun a preliminary investigation of auto supply stores, general merchandise stores, and propane and butane service centers in a 12 county area that includes the Rio Grande Valley and the Corpus Christi area.

Reports show retail prices of antifreeze are ranging from $5.27 to $13.95 per gallon, said Al Alvarez, assistant attorney general in charge of the Consumer Protection Division in McAllen.

It was there all the time

By James Jacoby

Although North's jump to three hearts was only game-invitational, South still made a slam try of four diamonds. That was a little aggressive, and North, with his balanced 11 high-card points and only three-card heart support, quietly signed off at the four-level. Few partnerships around the world would get to slam with 16 points opposite 11, but this time it makes, if played correctly. Even though the final contract was only four, it wouldn't hurt for declarer to make two overtricks. After all, the next time he might be in six.

But declarer, comfortable at the four-level, took a poor line of play for his overtricks. He ruffed the second spade and then drew two rounds of trumps. Then he played diamonds. His view was that perhaps the player who had the third heart would also hold four diamonds. If so, declarer could cash his fourth diamond, discarding a club from dummy, and then play K-A of clubs and ruff a club for 12 tricks. Alas, West ruffed the third diamond, holding declarer to 11 tricks.

AMOS AND THE CHRISTMAS COUCH™ by Howie Schneider and Susan Seligson

Soldier reunited with family after fighting in Panama

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Excessive heat plagued U.S. soldiers fighting in Panama, said a wounded Army private who was reunited with his family here and says he can't wait to see his fiancée again.

"I'm doing pretty good now. They're taking pretty good care of us," Pvt. Richard Turner Jr. said Thursday night in a telephone interview from his ward at Brooke Army Medical Center.

He was one of nearly 200 wounded military men brought to San Antonio by transport planes Wednesday and Thursday for treatment at Brooke and the Air Force's Wilford Hall Medical Center.

Turner, a 19-year-old with the 82nd Airborne Division headquartered at Fort Bragg, N.C., suffered a concussion when a bullet grazed his helmet. "It was a sniper. It was outside of Panama (City). We were trying to take a hill and there was a sniper in the village behind us," Turner said.

But the biggest problem for the soldiers, he said, was sweltering heat that caused many in the U.S. military — including Turner — to suffer heat exhaustion.

When Turner and his fellow troops left North Carolina they were in an 18-degree chill. In Panama they faced enemy forces in temperatures hotter than 105 degrees, he said.

Turner declined to discuss specifics of the military action, citing security concerns.

But he was quick to say that he can't wait to leave the Army hospital, where he is staying in a ward with about 20 other soldiers and was receiving medicine through an intravenous tube. First, Turner said, he will go home to DeSoto before traveling back to North Carolina. He predicted doctors would let him leave San Antonio within the next couple of days.

"I'm looking forward to getting back to (Fort) Bragg — I've got a fiancée out there," he said. Turner and his wife-to-be, Tosha, are planning to get married in January.

Turner's mother and father, Richard and Linda Turner, as well as a sister and grandmother, came to San Antonio Thursday to see him.

Despite their son's injury and the loss of more than 20 U.S. lives, the Turners said they support President Bush's attempt to oust Gen. Manuel Noriega as Panama's leader.

"I think we've got to do something about these drugs," Mrs. Turner said. "I definitely think that (Noriega) is one of the main runners of drugs. Because of this awful man, the drugs are so heavy in our country."

Though her son was in good physical condition, he was "shaken up quite a bit," Mrs. Turner said. "He saw one of his friends killed. He cried quite a bit."

The mood was upbeat among the soldiers in the Brooke ward where Turner was treated, he said.

"Everybody's got a real good attitude — a positive attitude," he said. "The doctors have taken real good care of us."

Turner comes from a family rich in military tradition. His father is a retired military man, and his grandfather also was in the 82nd Airborne Division.

The Turners said their son decided to join the division last February after his grandfather died the previous December.

Valley growers worry about cold weather

McALLEN, Texas (AP) - Temperatures plunged below freezing in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, threatening to seriously damage the area's multi-million dollar citrus and vegetable crop before the bitter cold weather tapers off late in the weekend.

Cold rain fell Thursday across the Valley as workers feverishly harvested oranges and grapefruit from trees in a race against the sub-freezing temperatures.

Workers also harvested some winter vegetables, but lettuce and cabbage are considered to be able to withstand more cold than some crops.

The mercury had dipped to 38 at McAllen in the heart of the citrus area by 2 a.m. today and forecasts called for a low in the upper 20s before daybreak. That reading would not be cold enough to cause serious damage.

But temperatures were forecast to reach into the upper teens by early Saturday and during Saturday night.

Joe Kutzenberger, who has a 450-acre grove near Harlingen, said the citrus industry was gravely concerned about the predicted freeze that could devastate Texas' $86 million a year citrus industry.

The National Weather Service said temperatures in citrus-growing regions would dip below freezing early Friday morning and stay below freezing for at least 34 hours. Temperatures on the western and northern fringes of the Valley were expected to drop into the high teens and lower 20s Saturday and Sunday morning.

There are about 35,000 acres of citrus in Hidalgo, Cameron and Willacy counties in the subtropical Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The citrus growers just this year were beginning to recover from the 1983 freeze — sending their first significant shipment of citrus in six years.

"This year is about the first year I consider we're almost back," Kutzenberger said.

The 1983 freeze killed or severely damaged virtually every citrus tree in the Rio Grande Valley, and commercial production the next year was zero. Orange and grapefruit production the year before the freeze had been worth $50.5 million.

The wholesale value of the state's citrus crop grew to $86 million for the 1988-89 season, up from $77 million the year before, according to figures from the Texas Valley Citrus Committee.

Preliminary industry projections have forecast as a slight drop from last year, said Ray Prewett, executive vice president of Texas Citrus Mutual, a McAllen-based growers' organization.

After freezing or drought-like conditions annihilate a crop, it takes at least four years for new orange and grapefruit trees to reach a significant production level.

"It's on the same magnitude as what happened in '83," said Jerry Walzel of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Association.

"When it gets down below 20, (citrus trees) just explode — they're evergreen trees and are full of water, and they split," Walzel said. "You can actually hear it — it sounds like a 30-30 rifle cracking."

The Treaty of Portsmouth ending the Russo-Japanese War was signed in 1905 in New Hampshire, President Theodore Roosevelt having mediated the settlement.

Samurai aphids rank among the most social of animals because of the altruism of their "soldiers," who devote their lives to protecting their colonies, says National Geographic.

27 meet for 2nd 'romp'

In spite of Tuesday night's cold temperatures, some 27 Snyder residents gathered at the Pavillion in Towle Park for the start of the second annual Reindeer Romp.

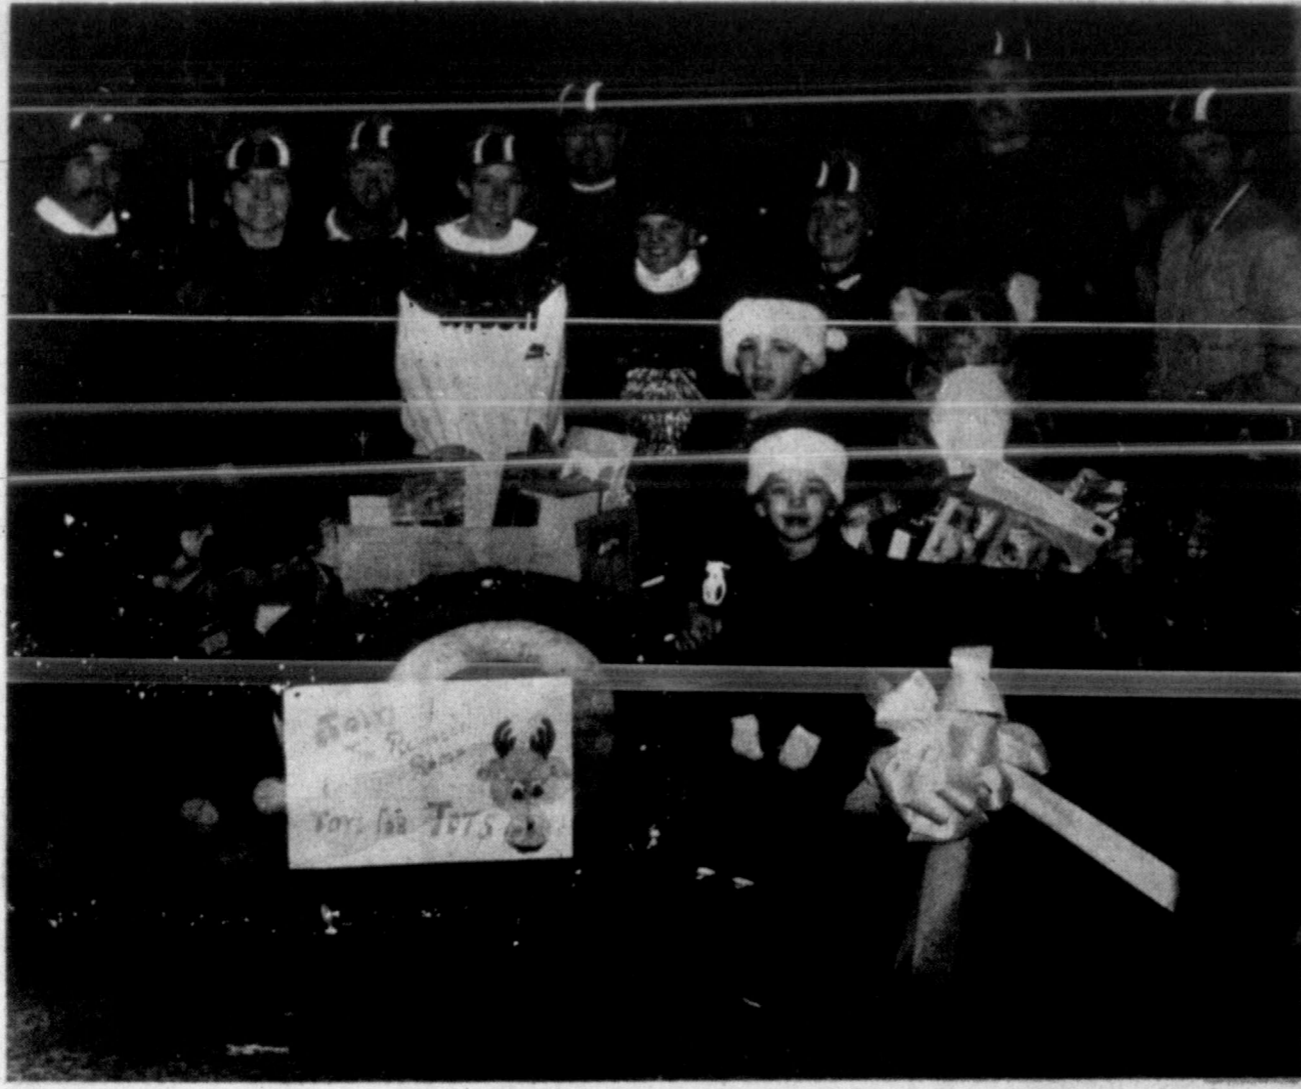

Participants either jogged or walked through a designated area in Snyder, viewing holiday decorations. Refreshments, courtesy of Furr's and IGA, were served at the conclusion.

Scurry County Sheriff's Department provided a squad car which accompanied the group on their journey.

In conjunction with the romp, organizers also promoted a toy drive which resulted in a sleigh and box full of toys being collected for Toys For Tots.

Travis Flowers provided the decorations for both the sleigh and box which at various times were placed at local banks: American State Bank, West Texas State Bank, and Snyder National Bank.

Organizers included Leslie and Bekky Butler and Lee Burke. The event was coordinated not only as a holiday activity but also as a means of participating in a healthful activity.

REINDEER ROMPERS—Some 27 Snyder residents braved cold temperatures Tuesday night in order to participate in the second annual Reindeer Romp. Organizers of the event also sponsored a toy drive which was held in conjunction with Toys for Tots. Several "rompers" are pictured with the sleigh and box full of toys collected during the past few weeks. They dressed festively for the occasion and carried flashlights which helped passing motorists to see them. (SDN Staff Photo)

Bush vows: Noriega hunt will continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush says the United States will hunt for deposed dictator Manuel Antonio Noriega for "as long as it takes" to bring him to justice, at the same time thousands of U.S. troops settle in on Panamanian soil to help restore order in a chaotic country.

"This operation is not over, but it's pretty well wrapped up," Bush said Thursday at a news conference that coincided with return of the first bodies of U.S. soldiers killed in the massive strike in Panama.

"General Noriega is no longer in power. He no longer commands the instruments of government or the forces of repression that he's used for so long to brutalize the Panamanian people," Bush said.

At the same time, the president said the U.S. military operation was "open-ended as far as going after Noriega, open-ended as far as restoration of order in Panama," where looters were hauling away goods from virtually every shop in Panama City. Defense Secretary Dick Cheney said a sizeable troop presence would remain until a "condition of normalcy" had returned.

The Pentagon said 21 troops were killed in the first two days of battle, 208 were wounded and one was missing. American military aircraft were bringing the bodies of the dead back to Dover Air Force Base in Delaware, their coffins draped with American flags.

Bush, Cheney and other key administration officials hastened to claim success for the military strike force at the same time the United States came under criticism from Latin American nations for its armed intervention. The Organization of American States held backstage meetings on a resolution condemning the action, and Peru withdrew its ambassador from Washington.

President preparing to lift government ban on sales to Iraq

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush is preparing to lift a ban on federal government loans to Iraq, a move expected to rile lawmakers opposed to the country's human rights abuses, heavy indebtedness and ballistic missile program, administration officials say.

Bush is expected to invoke a provision allowing him to lift the ban — imposed by Congress several months ago — on grounds of U.S. national interests, according to the officials who spoke Thursday on condition of anonymity.

The United States, which reestablished ties with Iraq in 1984, has been seeking to increase its influence over the government of strongman Saddam Hussein.

The administration is especially eager to expand trade with Hussein, who commands a powerful military force and the world's second largest proven oil reserves.

U.S. oil companies have sharply increased imports from Iraq over the past two years, jumping from a daily average of 83,000 barrels in 1987 to 345,000 barrels a day in 1988, according to Energy Department figures. The year-end figures for 1989 are expected to show about a 40 percent increase over 1988.

Deputy Energy Secretary Henry Moore, in particular, has been eager to improve opportunities in Iraq for U.S. oil and petroleum product companies, aides say.

But other American businesses, eager to profit from an anticipated boom following the end of the eight-year Persian Gulf war last summer, have had their plans thwarted by a lack of financing.

Iraq, emerging from the destructive war with neighboring Iran, has accumulated an estimated $30 billion in debt to governments and banks around the world.

With the world's second largest proven oil reserve, Iraq is considered a good long-term credit risk once it repairs the oil terminals damaged in the war and implements plans to increase its daily output from 2.5 million barrels to 4 million.

Each counting period is 78 hours in length. The Christmas watch starts at 6 p.m. today and ends at midnight Monday. The New Year's program begins at 6 p.m. on Dec. 29 and concludes at midnight on New Year's Day.

The final number of traffic deaths during the 1988 Christmas period was 42, with another 38 reported over the New Year's hours.

Col. Milner said the "many excellent programs to decrease the DWI problem" in Texas have made a difference. But he emphasized the fact that drinking and driving remains at the top of the list in factors causing fatal accidents.

"It is still the number one killer on our roads, in many cases combined with exceeding the speed limit. And it strikes with a ferocity and frequency that cannot be ignored," he stressed.

Obituaries

Morgan Estes

VAN — Services for Morgan Reid Estes, 86, of Chandler, formerly of Snyder, will be held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Hilliard Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Haven Garden Cemetery in Canton.

He was a former county surveyor and civil engineer in Scurry County and a member of the Presbyterian church.

Survivors include his wife, Dot, of the home; a daughter, Betty Taylor of Aztec, N.M.; two grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Wreck noted

A 1983 Lincoln Continental driven by Edna C. Harris of 3500 Austin Ave. was in collision with a 1977 Toyota Celica driven by Dorothy M. Hill of 2311 27th St. at 4:18 p.m. Thursday at 35th St. and Ave. V.

Jury recommends 16 years

CARROLLTON, Ky. (AP) — A jury today recommended a 16-year prison sentence for the man convicted of causing a fiery crash that killed 27 people on a church bus in the nation's worst drunken-driving accident.

Under Kentucky law, Larry Mahoney would have to spend eight years in prison before he could be considered for parole.

Mahoney, 36, had pleaded for a chance to atone, saying he could warn schoolchildren of the dangers of drinking and driving. He made the plea during a sentencing hearing hours after the jury convicted him Thursday.

Mahoney was charged with 27 counts of murder, which could bring up to a life sentence. But the jury opted for less serious convictions on 27 counts of second-degree manslaughter. Each count carries a prison sentence of five to 10 years.

"I accept your verdict," Mahoney later told jurors, and collapsed in tears.

"We got off to a late start, so we had to hustle to get it done," Hearn said.

Heating oil supplies decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The cold snap gripping much of the nation has drained heating oil supplies, causing temporary shortages in some areas and driving the price of the fuel sharply higher, industry officials said. Oil companies said Thursday they're taking steps to ensure there is enough heating oil for all their customers. But the increased demand has sent the price consumers pay for oil as high as $1 a gallon.

Exxon USA, Mobil Corp. and Star Enterprise, a Texaco Inc. affiliate, reported that some of their Northeastern terminals suffered temporary oil depletions and that customers have been sent to other facilities or forced to wait for new supplies to arrive.

"These outages ... have been maybe for a few hours," said Exxon spokesman Jim Davis, who said customers at the company's Everett, Mass., terminal were directed to nearby Waltham, where supplies were more plentiful.

At Mobil, spokesman John Lord estimated that some customers in the Northeast were kept waiting an hour for heating oil to arrive by barge or pipeline, but "that is not the norm. The norm is no outages."

The wait was longer at Star Enterprise's East Hartford, Conn., terminal, which ran out of oil Thursday and was hoping for a delivery today or Saturday, said Texaco spokesman Top Ingram.

KEITH LONGBOTHAM

Long completes basic training

Pvt. Michael D. Long has completed basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

He is the son of Cinda S. Long of Snyder.

He is also a 1987 graduate of Snyder High School.

Longbotham to sing

Keith Longbotham, singer and songwriter, will sing twice Sunday, Christmas Eve, at Union Baptist Church. The first appearance will be at the 11 a.m. worship service and again at a concert to begin at 2 p.m.

Longbotham, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Pearce of Snyder, has appeared locally many times.

Before entering music evangelism full-time in 1980, Longbotham served for four years as minister of music at the First Baptist Church in Crosbyton.

In 1982, he was selected to perform with "Country Grass," a Bluegrass group at Opryland USA in Nashville, and, at that time moved to Hendersonville, Tenn. where he resides today and is a member of Two Rivers Baptist Church.

Since 1982, Longbotham has performed on many TV programs including "the Nashville Network," and the world-famous Grand Ole Opry.

Rev. Lyles considers Ave. D as 'permanent'

At the age of 11, Rev. Terry Lyles had a strong desire to preach, and he saw himself as an evangelist, preaching open-air services.

According to Rev. Lyles, pastor of Ave. D Baptist Church, his pastor in seminary was used by God to show him that he was to be a pastor rather than an evangelist. He graduated from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1987, and through the placement office there, he was referred to his current church home.

Rev. Lyles was reared in Midland and attended Midland College for a few semesters. During this time, he was involved with the Midland International Evangelical Fellowship Church's partnership mission with a church in Holland. Those involved paid their own way to travel to Holland and be a part of the evangelistic crusade.

The crusade in Holland consisted of witnessing door-to-door and giving testimony. At the age of 20, in a foreign country, Rev. Lyles said his testimony ended up to be more like a sermon.

Before seminary, Rev. Lyles graduated from East Texas Baptist University with a major in religion and a minor in business. During college, he was a summer missionary on a tourist island in southern Louisiana. After the first summer, the church asked him to return a second time. The second summer he served in a similar capacity to associate pastor.

Missionary work has been a big part of Rev. Lyles' service, and he continues locally through the ministerial alliance, where he is secretary-treasurer and the Mitchell Scurry Association where he is Christian life chairperson. He also serves on the board for the Circle 6 Baptist Camp in Stanton.

Rev. Lyles works in modest surroundings, without a secretary, but is thankful for the closeness and openness he shares with the congregation. "The church told me that I must take one day a week and get away from the building to spend time with my family."

"Great," Rev. Lyles said, because he and his wife, Laurie, want to create a bond with their children, Kay, 6; Naomi, 4; and Jason, 18 months. "When we discussed marriage and children, we made a commitment that one of us would be at home with the children," he said.

While Rev. Lyles was in seminary, his wife would call him during the day with updates on their daughters. As pastor at Ave. D, he now has plenty of time to keep up with his family.

"I hope that I retire here, and I want to retire when I'm about 95. This is my permanent church home if they'll keep me," he said.
