SECOND MAJOR BLAZE IN NINE DAYS—

Valiant Fireboys Contain Crackling Flames On East Side Of The Square

Valiant volunteer firemen from Haskell, Stamford and Rule for more than two hours here Monday night battled a boiling blaze in a two-story 52-year-old landmark building on the east side of the square. They finally contained the billowing fire which endangered for a time at least six other business establishments. It was the second major fire here in nine days.

Haskell Fire Chief Tom Watson, who directed the almost superhuman efforts of his entire 32-member department manning four pieces of equipment, said the flames got their start on the second floor of the 35x120 foot brick building housing a 12-room small hotel. Only three of the rooms were occupied at the time, and no one was known to be in the building at the time the fire was discovered at 7:05 p. m.

Praise From Chief Watson
Fire Chief Watson, in a statement on Wednesday, said, "Of course, too much cannot be said in praise of our department, especially those boys who were up on the roofs. They deserve special recognition. But I also want to thank very sincerely the people out front who helped move the hoses around and particularly the Jaycees who stayed late and helped us load hose when it was all over and we were about given out. We shall never forget their

AN EDITORIAL

They Were Magnificent
"Magnificent" is the only word to describe the performance of Haskell's valiant Volunteer Fire Department in controlling, against the greatest odds, a ferocious fire on the east side of the Square Monday night.
No laudatory comment which could be expressed here would do justice to that which is deserved by our "Fire Boys," to a man, plus the many concerned and courageous citizens who pitched in and helped in what could well have been a real disaster in Haskell.
Only by valorous conduct on everyone's part, and that goes for the notable assist provided by the Stamford and Rule Fire Departments, Anson and Rule Fire Departments, was a major disaster here averted.
We cannot say too much in praise of the battle a host of the citizens of this town witnessed our firemen wage, and win, in the heart of Haskell three nights ago.
Praise be to each, and all, of them.

Coincidentally enough, the Haskell Fire Department was holding its weekly drill at the Fire Hall just across the alley and 100 feet north of the burning building. However, every foot of hose the department owned was laid out on nearby streets for practice at the time the alarm was given.

Chief Watson marshalled his forces quickly, and firemen scaled ladders at both front and rear of the walk-up hotel, while at the same time playing streams of water from the roofs of the Smith Cafe and Lyles Jewelry Store on either side of it.

So masterfully did the Haskell firemen perform, and they had a cheering section of fully 500 spectators who jammed the Courthouse Square, that neither the cafe nor the jewelry store suffered other than light smoke and water loss. A half-dozen firemen each from Rule and Stamford bringing their pumpers to Haskell from 10 to 14 miles away, provided a tremendous assist in controlling the raging fire.

Theron Cahill, Haskell businessman, who owns the gutter building, estimated his loss at $25,000, only partially covered by insurance.

The firemen were not without anxious moments for fully 90 minutes after flames and billowing smoke from 2x12 joists with which the sturdy old building was generously supported, seemed to envelop the entire east side of the Square. In addition to the jewelry, and cafe, the Slipper

Shoppe, C&E Clothing Store, a pool hall, and Barfield's Insurance Agency seemed for a while almost certain to go. But the ladder scaling firemen pouring four streams of water simultaneously into the inferno, gradually gained the upper hand.

Uniquely, a vertical wall of black smoke from the building, fanned by a small breeze in a northwesterly direction, sent many Haskell residents scurrying out of their homes as the smoke was sucked into window unit air conditioners over a wide area which were turned on full tilt after a searing 103-degree day here.

The first floor of the building until recently was occupied by Commercial Sales Company, a second-hand store. The fixtures had been sold to Lorraine Johnson here only Monday morning by Cahill. Johnson had no insurance on them.

So great was the concern of many of the occupants of businesses north of the fire scene that they evacuated their records and more valuable equipment. The Opal Rose Tax Service was emptied of almost all its contents.

A 50x100 foot brick building owned by Mrs. Frankie Atkinson was gutted by fire here a block and a half northwest of the square nine days earlier on Saturday, June 27.

Officers were elected for the recently formed U. S. 277 Highway Association and tentative plans were made for obtaining improvement of U. S. 277 between Abilene and Wichita Falls when 23 delegates and alternates from towns along the route met at the Haskell National Bank last Thursday morning.

Officers elected are Henry Grace, Wichita Falls oil man, chairman; County Judge Donald Dickson of Seymour vice chairman, and Porter Oakes, editor of the Haskell Free Press, secretary.

Grace succeeds Joe Cooley, manager of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, who served as interim chairman and was instrumental in naming the delegates from the towns along the route.

'Uphill Proposition'

Following his election, Grace told the delegates and alternates that they have an "uphill proposition" ahead of them and expressed the belief that the best way to get the program completed successfully is to "get your county commissioners working on it." After the various county judges and commissioners are convinced of the importance of the proposed expressway a delegation would present the plan to the State Highway Commission and ask for a designation as a four-lane, divided highway, Grace added. He pointed out that when and if the route is designated, right-of-way must be purchased, plans made and bonds voted.

Bailey Toliver Named Director Of Auto Dealers

Bailey Toliver, civic leader here and immediate past president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, has been honored with selection as an area director of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association. He is owner-operator of the Bailey Toliver Chevrolet Co.

His appointment was announced by Cecil H. Elder, of Midland, president of TADA, a statewide organization with a membership of more than 1,400 franchised car and truck dealers. As an area director, Toliver will advise with the TADA officers and board of directors on legislation, highway safety, and research designed to protect the motor vehicle buyers of Texas.

"These are important areas of our activity as an association," Elder declared in announcing the Haskell man's appointment. "We are fortunate to have men of Toliver's caliber working to strengthen laws affecting Texas motorists, and to help us provide maximum service and security for the motoring public."

Toliver will serve as an area director of TADA until the association's 1965 convention next May.

Garland Orr, 71, Here 43 Years, Dies Suddenly

Garland Orr, 71, a resident of Haskell 43 years, died at Haskell County Hospital here at 11 p. m. Saturday after a sudden illness struck him a few hours earlier.

Funeral services were held at the First Presbyterian Church of Haskell at 10 a. m. Monday with Dr. Ray Nobles, pastor of the First Baptist Church here, officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery under direction of Holden Funeral Home.

The longtime resident here was stricken in a car on the return trip to Haskell after attending the Saturday afternoon performance of the rodeo at Stamford's Texas Cowboy Reunion. He was admitted to the hospital at 10:25 p. m. and died 35 minutes later.

Born July 26, 1892, in Wise County, Orr, who was employed as a trucker before his retirement, moved to Oklahoma as a small child. He worked on a number of highway projects in this area and cowboied several years. He settled with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Alec Orr, in the Throckmorton County community known as "Forty-Two," southwest of the town of Throckmorton. The

YOUTH REVIVAL AT CHURCH HERE FRIDAY THRU SUNDAY

Haskell's First Baptist Church will hold a three-day youth revival here Friday through Sunday, July 10, 11, 12. Dr. B. R. Nobles, pastor, and Charles Merritt, director of youth activities, have announced.

Two outstanding youth leaders, young adults themselves, will be the leaders of the youth revival which is expected to attract young people from a wide area of Northwest and North Central Texas.

The evangelist will be John Tanner, 22, of Dallas, a ministerial student and senior at Baylor University, who attended Woodrow Wilson High School, Dallas, and played football and basketball there. He plans to go to Seminary after finishing Baylor. Tanner has been active in Baptist Student Union and Chamber of Commerce work while at Baylor, served as World Emphasis Week chairman and was president of his Freshman class. He has chosen the ministry as his life's work.

Joey Evans, 18, a resident of Willsboro, La., will be minister of music for the youth revival. He is a freshman at North Texas State University. At Willsboro High School, he was a mainstay in the choir and band, and worked on

INCLUDING 3 FATHER-SON TEAMS 13 AREA SCOUTERS RECIPIENTS CHERISHED ORDER OF ARROW

Thirteen Boy and Explorer Scouts and three adult leaders from the Haskell, Weimert, Rule and Paint Creek troops and posts were tapped for membership in Scouting's select Order of the Arrow in impressive firelighted ceremonies at Camp Tonkawa near Buffalo Gap last weekend.

Six of those tapped were father-son combinations, three sets of them being inducted simultaneously and undergoing the requirements for OA membership.

The Order of the Arrow rites, attended by a performance of the Fire Challenge ritual, were observed by a record crowd of guests numbering 850 persons who were visiting the 208 encamped Scouts. The Scouts broke camp Saturday after a week's stay climaxed by the OA ceremonies.

Guides dressed as Indians led the parents and guests who were observers, down a firelighted trail to the council ring preceding the ritual. They marked the trail with 12 signs denoting the 12 points of Scout law. Camp Director Ed Burnham gave the welcome.

Bob Roeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Roeder, of Abilene, danced the Eagle dance as a prelude to the tap out.

Warning Again Issued on False Chinch Bug

Haskell County Agent Frank Martin Monday afternoon reiterated a warning issued four days ago to area farmers to "keep a close watch for false chinch bugs in grain scirghs."

"These are small gnat-like bugs that feed in the head of the milo," reported the Haskell County agent, "and they eat the soft grain and suck the moisture out of the stalk. Due to the extreme hot weather, these bugs can do much damage in a short time," he added.

Martin said the "only insecticide recommended at this stage of our early-planted milo is Parathion (2 lbs. to gallon) and use 1 to 1½ pints per acre with water."

The county agent also recommended use of an airplane "as the safest method of application since Parathion is so poisonous."

Hey Day Queen To Reign Over Heritage Rich, Museum Boosting "Bonanza" Here

Haskell's second annual Hey Day calendar for Saturday, August 8, which heralds the heritage of the railroad and the part it played in the settlement, growth and development of West Texas, will feature a spectacular beauty pageant and launch a museum of "railroadiana," its planners announced Saturday.

The start on the museum, which is to be housed in Haskell's archaic depot, once restoration work on it is complete, will be tied into a fandanglotype production depicting the history of Haskell country climaxed this year's Hey Day celebration. Dr. Frank Cadenhead, Jr., and Mrs. Tom Barfield, co-general chairmen of the Haskell County-wide event, reported.

One of the aims and objects of Hey Day, in addition to building it into historical significance and affording fence-line to fence-line communication for the inhabitants of this county's seven towns, is to raise the funds to complete restoration of the old depot for use as a museum. With money obtained in the first Hey Day observance, citizens moved the dilapidated depot from the site of its erection in 1906 in downtown Haskell to an imposing spot overlooking Rice Springs Park here. Plans are to restore it for use as a museum and tourist attraction.

Mrs. Frank Cadenhead, Jr., author of the story portrayed in the original Hey Day production, issued an appeal Saturday for items possessed by area citizens who would allow them to be used on loan as the nucleus of the museum project underway. Particularly would Mrs. Cadenhead like the stories behind each item, how it was obtained, its origin, etc., in order to weave these reports into the sequence of the "grass-roots spectacular" being planned for staging the night of August 8. Mrs. Cadenhead may be reached at Phone 864-2020 in Haskell.

Plans also are crystallizing here to launch an authentic museum of "railroad memorabilia" in connection with the depot restoration. A display of railroad museum pieces on loan for the occasion is expected to be arrayed in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank here for the observance of Hey Day visitors.

Haskell's old depot was sold to the Chamber of Commerce here by the Fort Worth & Denver Railroad for $1 about 10 months ago through the efforts of Ellis L. Simmons, vice president of the FW&DRR, who reported to the rail line's board the enthusiasm of citizens here for preserving the rapidly vanishing heritage of the "hey day" of the "Iron Horse."

Chairman Cadenhead has designated Mrs. R. A. Lane and Mrs. Viars Felker to set up a county-wide organization for staging a beauty pageant during Hey Day to select a reigning queen. Area merchants and business establishments will be asked to sponsor contestants and to help furnish prizes and cash donations in connection with this phase of the celebration.

Mrs. Barfield enthusiastically endorsed the plan for securing items with interesting backgrounds for the museum start, and at the same time depicting their sources in this year's pageant. It is believed much impetus will be generated for the museum effort in this manner.

Haskell Jaycees under direction of President Pro Tem Bill Tomlinson will be in charge of the carnival type atmosphere (See Hey Day, Page 10)

Black And May Take Top Awards At Honor Court

Two Haskell civic leaders prominent in Scouting activities were principals in a Board of Review and Court of Honor climaxing one of Camp Tonkawa's best attended sessions Friday night, and two Haskell area Scouts were the recipients of the highest awards presented there.

Bobby Black, of Troop 36, Haskell, was awarded Scouting's Bronze Palm, and Ronnie May, of Troop 44, Rule, received the Gold Palm.

Black and May have earned 26 and 31 merit badges, respectively.

Dr. William J. Kemp, of Haskell, Boy Scout Northern District chairman, presided over a Camp Tonkawa Court of Honor at which 269 merit badges were presented. Harold Spain, postmaster here, and neighborhood commissioner from Haskell, was a member of the board of review and court of honor, along with Max Pollen, Hugh Colbert, Joe Chitwood, U. E. Horton and Marcus Mullins, all of Abilene.

Historic Example of Long Range Planning . . . In The National Interest

Twenty years ago, American GI's were consolidating their foothold in Normandy, battling north of Rome in Italy, pressing the South Pacific campaign against the Japanese. On June 22, 1944, President Roosevelt signed into law the "GI Bill of Rights," a measure approved unanimously by both houses of Congress and surely one of the most historic legislative measures ever enacted.

Its impact has been great on millions of veterans and their families, and on our very way of life in America.

More than 16,300,000 Americans eventually were under arms in World War II. Although the war was a long way from won in 1944, the people, their Congress, and leaders of veterans' organizations recognized the need to provide a program serving as a buffer against possible economic and social chaos in the post-war period.

In 1944, public opinion was almost unanimous in its support for the "Serviceman's Readjustment Act," as the GI Bill was formally titled. Americans could envision the prospect of a million men a month passing through separation centers and heading for home. It was apparent that the veterans would face an uncertain economy as industry retooled to peacetime production.

Could the post-war economy absorb them? It could . . . and it did. And the readjustment, loan, and educational benefits provided by the GI Bill helped the national conversion from war-time to peacetime in ways that historians and economists have not yet fully assessed.

The GI Bill is perhaps best known for the educational benefits provided. Nearly half of the World War II veterans who served took some form of training under the GI Bill. With the nation's high-gear economy still critically short in some areas of skills, and with our unemployment problems centered on workers who are primarily unskilled, it is interesting to speculate whether our economic advance could have been made without the enormous reservoir of manpower trained under the GI Bill.

One out of every five single-family houses built in the United States since the end of World War II has been financed by the GI loan program for either World War II or Korean War veterans. In all, our information is that more than five and a quarter million GI loans have been made to World War II veterans to purchase homes, farms, or business . . . and the record of repayment has been phenomenal.

The GI loan program has certainly made a vital contribution to home ownership in this country.

The GI Bill is certainly an historic example of long-range planning in the national interest.

And little did the man in uniform realize back there in 1944, and we should know . . . for we were one of them . . . that when he was ordered to "GI it," he was welcoming into the American vocabulary a phrase that was to become as common as mashed potatoes.

By "GI'ing" everything from homes and businesses to slide-rules and school-books, the American ex-serviceman, raised to the millionth degree in the logarithm of life, has been enabled to improve and stabilize our way of that life.

Therefore, the GI "Bill of Rights" may well some day take its place in history, alongside the Magna Charta, or THE BILL of Rights!

Farm Safety . . . A Full Time Job

The modern farm is a comparatively safe place to live. But it remains a dangerous place to work.

There were 8,700 farm residents killed in 1962, about the same as the year before. But there were three per cent fewer farmers.

Death rates increased in all accident classes but work, just as they did nationally, according to the National Safety Council. The farm work rate had a small decrease while the national rate was unchanged.

Farming continues to rank as the third most hazardous occupation. Only mining, including quarrying and petroleum drilling, and construction, have higher accidental death rates.

Motor vehicle, home, and public accidents affect farm residents about as severely as other Americans. But work accidents, the smallest classification nationally, on the farm remain second only to motor vehicle accidents.

Safety procedures, developed in other industries, are as necessary on the farm as in other work if farm safety is to be brought into line with the rest of the nation.

Supervision of employees is much more difficult on the farm than in a factory. The worker often works alone and an unsafe act may go unnoticed and uncorrected.

Frequently, the farm employee is temporary help—an itinerant worker, or a student working during the summer. Too often he lacks the proper training and knowledge to work safely.

The farm employer should make an extra effort to be sure that his workers understand their duties and the proper, safe way to operate equipment and handle the materials at their command. It cannot be assumed that a high school student can operate a tractor properly just because he has a driver's license—no matter how safe a driver he may be.

National Farm Safety Week is imminent. It is being observed July 19-25. It is a time when we examine the progress we are making.

And our conclusions . . . farm safety is a full-time job . . . at which we must work the year around.

Oakescripts A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

Well, here we are on the "back six," speaking of the calendar in golf language. After age 40, the old "pros" in this game of life seems to us, don't see much difference in the toughness of the "course." In trying to avoid the traps and roughs on the calendar. The "front six" January through June, and the "back six," July through December, are all about the same. 'Cept it is a whole lot colder in the winter, and a whole lot hotter in the summer than it used to be! Isn't it?

The Sage of Wild Horse Prairie, Juggernaut Jim Norman, the International Table-hopper, came up with a hot one to match the weather and dropped it right on the already crushed cranium of the Pencil Pusher the other day. "Serious" lookin' than usual, Norman shuffled into our sanctum, slid into the chair across the desk, swiveled, and said, "Some people forget other people are people, too. You know that?" Well, we didn't press him, but we'd bet Genial Jim had some sort of brush with life in the raw, and we, of all people, had full-blown sympathy.

Or, perhaps, perceiving the usual increase in our cranium, 'ol Needlin' Norman was just trying to feel his Oakes.

This is the season for travel folders that make one drool. They're what one might call the trip tease.

We knew it was bound to happen sooner or later. Because, many times we have "dry run" the same, identical situation, in make-believe. In fact, we always have made it a point to become personally acquainted with the Postmaster at all places we've been for any appreciable length of time. Because you never can tell when you might need him in a hurry.

What we're buildin' up to is the lady in Hollywood who mailed her poodle and patted her envelope in front of the corner mailbox in Hollywood.

Being in Hollywood, she was subjected, of course, to the usual whoop and holler; hue and cry, about "Publicity Gag."

We don't think so. We've been too precariously near the edge of that chasm ourselves with the acrophobia, or "makes you want to jump" feeling, ourselves, and come close to stuffin' that old mailbox with lots of things besides letters.

This gives us an idea. We MUST ask Scintillatin' Spain, father of Little League Luminary Hal (the homered off Lanny Ivy!) what he's ever found out of the ordinary in his postal receptacles. A Varmint, maybe?

Probably where Humble got the idea for "You've got a tiger in your tank." (No charge for plug, Mayor.) Spain probably said it first. This COULD happen in Haskell, you know. A varmint in a mailbox. Our late revered, remembered and respected predecessor, the much loved Lon Pate, once reported a mountain lion under a street light in the heart of Haskell. Probably trying to get into a mailbox. Or it could have been mailing a letter to the editor at Dude Gay's suggestion requesting a "no" vote on the trapper hiring. Our Varmints are smart. Where IS THE THANG? Anybody know?

In checking over the notes we wrote to ourselves on the recent trip to Houston and the press convention we see here that Max Thomas, the Kerrville publisher, who had one of newsdom's top honors this past year, the presidency of the National Editorial Association, got off a doozie at our parley. He said conventions are like nud-

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO
(July 12, 1934)

A political rally will be held at Sagerton Saturday night, at which time all district and county candidates will speak. A late entry in the county judge's race, George Proctor, has announced that he will "pry the lid off" county politics in his address at Sagerton.

T. P. Hughes of Georgetown was here several days this week looking after his ranch on Paint and California Creeks southeast of Haskell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Montgomery left Tuesday morning for Dallas to join a party of Ford dealers for a trip to the Century of Progress Exposition in Chicago.

Austin Taylor and family motored over from Eastland last week and spent the Fourth with his brother, Dr. L. F. Taylor, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frierson and sons, Byron and Roy, have returned from a visit with relatives in Amarillo and Dalhart. Frank Junell of Abilene spent the Fourth in Haskell visiting friends.

Miss Pauline Frierson has returned to West Texas State Teachers College after spending the 4th of July holidays with homefolks.

Miss Winnie Thompson of Dallas spent the weekend with Annie Maud Taylor and was accompanied home by Miss ist colonies. They are where people come to air their differences. (We'll go quietly.)

"Patience" Phelps, whose engaging smile brightens our corner daily here at the grist mill, has a coiffeure that is most interesting. You'd swear she's poured a little bleach on a wave or two up front, but she insists the contrasting patch of gray-almost-white is natural and describes it thusly: "It's a heavenly hairdo, with a touch of the Devil up front." Pretty pungent phraseology.

The Passing Show: Going through Gatesville recently, we landcrusers feasted our limpid eyes on a livin', practically breathin' covered ice wagon, horse-drawn vintage, with the rear running board, and the big towel-rack type rails to hang onto nailed to each end of the side panels of the wagon. We could just see an ice man, the leather "hod" strapped to his back, with an arm through one of those rails, peering at the sign in the window of the next house to see which figure was on top—12½, 25, 50, 100, so he could see how many pounds of ice to tote in as the team clippety-clopped to a stop.

And we also could see a bunch of little boys, among them ME, peering from behind a crepe myrtle bush, just waiting for the iceman to hit the screen door into the house . . . and then race for the hind end of that wagon, there to scoop up the odd pieces of ice that had been chipped off the main blocks.

And the older boys, if time permitted, and if they had the strength, grabbed the ice-pick firmly imbedded in the side of the wagon panel and slithered off a corner of a new block, then, barefooted, with its soft, hot black tar fillin' the cracks, darted for dear life . . . before the ice man cometh.

Those were the days . . . and they don't seem so long ago.

We read somewhere that a surfboard bolted atop a car is a status symbol these days. These Okies with their ironing boards tied to the bedsprings on top of the flivver have been in the vogue all the while.

Oakescript: It surely has been a comforting relief to find out if you're not being criticized . . . you just ain't been doing anything. By THAT yardstick, we've been mighty bizzzy.

Taylor, who will spend a week with friends in Dallas and Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cannon have returned to their home in San Antonio after visiting here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Post.

Miss Mattie Lee Thompson, of Terrell, Texas, has been made manager of the Western Union Telegraph office here.

She succeeds Mrs. Carrie Mosser, who has been manager of the Haskell office for the past 12 years.

Lee Pierson arrived Monday from San Diego, Calif., and will spend several weeks here looking after his business interests in this section. Mr. Pierson moved to California about four years ago.

Dr. Hugh Welsh of New York City arrived Wednesday afternoon for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Welsh. Dr. Welsh made the trip overland in his car in a little less than seven days.

R. A. Brown was in from his farm west of town Saturday, and says that 'hoppers are pretty thick out his way. He killed more of them this year than ever before, but believes he has saved his crop from them.

J. A. Mapes was in from his farm in the Roberts section on Thursday, and said he had finished harvesting one of the best grain crops he had ever made. He threshed 632 bushels of wheat from 30 acres, 517 bushels of barley from 10 acres, and 548 bushels of oats from 11 acres.

The large barn on the W. J. Coleman farm in the Plainview community southwest of Haskell burned early Monday morning, together with all contents. A new binder and some buggies and other vehicles were reported destroyed by flames, along with quite a lot of feed.

Miss Anita Grissom and Edward Grissom are visiting relatives in El Paso.

George Tyler, Commissioner of Precinct 2, was a visitor in the city Thursday. He reports being very busy with roadwork since the rains July 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis P. Ratliff visited relatives in Decatur and Fort Worth last week, returning the first of this week.

John P. Payne, exhibit manager of the Haskell County Fair, made a business trip to Mun-day to arrange for coops for the coming fair.

60 YEARS AGO
(July 13, 1904)

Hollis Fields left several days ago for Howe, Texas, where he has accepted a position with his brothers, who are in the grain business there.

J. A. Smith, who recently completed a course at the Draughton's Business College in Fort Worth, has accepted a position as assistant in the Haskell Post Office.

W. B. Anthony, our old time citizen and Sheriff for several terms, accompanied by his family, arrived here Monday night for a visit of a week or ten days with relatives and old friends. Mr. Anthony is now an official in the General Land office in Austin.

The trustees of the Pleasant Valley School have chosen Alvy Couch as teacher for the next term.

Our job department turned out 5,000 copies of a neat 8-page descriptive folder on Haskell County which carried a list of lands offered for sale by the West Texas Development Co.

J. U. Fields made a business trip to Sherman this week. Quite a party of young folks took an outing Tuesday and enjoyed the day picnicking on Mule Creek. They were: Messrs. C. M. Porter, Hall Chambliss, Emmett Robertson, Joe Irby, Fred Sanders, and Misses Ethel Alexander, Willie Chambliss, Reulah Chambliss, Jestany Ellis, Annie Ellis, and Misses Strickland and LeVoe, guests of the Misses Chambliss.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Garrett, Ed Whitaker and family, and Mrs. Buchanan and family spent several days this week fishing on Elm Creek.

W. O. Orr, a first class horse shoer and buggy workman from Baird, arrived here this week and will be connected with the B. Stuart blacksmith shop.

Judge H. R. Jones is holding a term of district court at Anson this week and will probably continue there during next week. A murder case is set for trial Monday.

Don Cook, of Wichita Falls, had an identical bird-breaking total to win the Class B singles. The Haskell Gun Club record in the handicap division, set by Bill Womack, of Olney last year, was tied Sunday by Jim Sours, of Vernon, who popped 50 straight pigeons for a perfect 5x50 score.

Members of the Haskell County Hospital Women's Auxiliary are reminded by their president, Mrs. R. L. Foote, that it is time to pay dues to the organization.

Dues payments should be sent to Mrs. Victor Lowrey, the secretary-treasurer, at the earliest possible moment.

Officers of the Haskell Cemetery Association, which operates Willow Cemetery here, expressed appreciation to the members who have paid 1964 dues and issued an urgent appeal here Monday for prompt support from those who have not yet discharged the obligation.

They reminded that revenue from this source is the only means of paying the caretaker for upkeep on cemetery lots not endowed under the association's perpetual care plan.

There are many unsightly plots in Willow Cemetery which belong to owners of lots who are not dues-paying members, it was pointed out. The untended beauty of the cemetery and area residents who own lots, but do not pay dues, nor have endowment, are requested to exercise their responsibility as citizens and harness their civic pride in cleaning these lots of weeds and high grass.

Cemetery officials said they would be "very grateful" for this action by owners of cemetery property who have not made arrangements for this care.

Two Infants In One Family Die Hours Apart Here

Two Haskell women, mother and daughter, saw their infant children, ages 3 1/2 and four months, die less than 48 hours apart here last Wednesday and Friday. The dead infants were the daughter and grandson of one woman, and the son and brother of the other.

Both infants, Benancio Medellin and Dora Medellin, died from complications developed from whooping cough, officials reported. Benancio, a baby boy, born March 19 in DeLeon, to Janie Medellin, died at 6:30 a. m. last Wednesday at the home of the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Medellin here.

At 4:15 p. m. Wednesday, Dora, an infant girl born Feb. 23 at Gorman, Texas, to the Manuel Medellins, was taken critically ill to Haskell County Hospital suffering with a malady similar to that which had taken the life of their grandchild, Benancio. Dora died at 1:06 a. m. Friday in the hospital here.

Graveside services for Dora, under direction of Holden Funeral Home here, were conducted by Rev. Father Patrick O'Connor, of the Stamford-Haskell parish, at 11 a. m. Saturday in Willow Cemetery. Burial was beside the grave of Benancio, for whom services were held at 3 p. m. Thursday with Father O'Connor officiating.

Dora Medellin is survived by her parents; the sister, Janie, 17; another sister, Esther, and five brothers, Lupe, Rudy, Albert, Jimmy and Ray Medellin.

The Medellins moved to Haskell from DeLeon a few months ago. Manuel is a former resident of Rule.

Plans Jell . . .

In the opinion of the Wichita Falls man, the road could become a reality within from 3 to 5 years, but added that it could be sooner. Even a program over from 7 to 10 years would not be too long to wait, he indicated.

Grace has been the key activator of the Red River Expressway from Wichita Falls to the Oklahoma state line now nearing completion.
 The new chairman advised the delegates to do a lot of "missionary" work back in their home counties. He told how certain highway problems have been overcome in Wichita Falls. He added, "We should have started on our current highway program in Wichita Falls 10 years before we did. The project we have at hand here is being tackled on time, and we must keep pace."

"Just how quickly we complete this task depends on the action of the people present at this meeting," Grace said.
 Several of those attending the meeting made comments during the morning session at which Abe Turner, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, was host.

Judge Dickson, of Seymour, said Baylor County has long been highway-minded and people are becoming more highway conscious all the time. He added that the commissioners and the people are sympathetic to the construction of an expressway type highway between Abilene and Wichita Falls. At the latter point the road would connect with a route that extends all the way to Waterville, Maine, and would extend over 2,203 miles of highways, virtually all of which is four-lane.

Traffic Count High
 E. E. Starkey, of Seymour, said the traffic count between Seymour and Wichita Falls is almost high enough now to justify construction of the expressway and suggested that might be the first sector that could be built.

Rex Jennings, Chamber of Commerce manager at Wichita Falls, suggested that the first step of the organization be in asking the Highway Commission for a designation of the route.

L. E. Million Jr., Stamford, noted that the Abilene-Anson stretch along the road is already in operation and that soon the State Highway Commission will ask for bids for the construction of the stretch between Anson and Stamford.

V. E. Moore, of Munday, said that although the traffic count is low along the highway in his area, the people are favorable and will support construction of the highway. Thirteen miles in Knox County are located in the Childress highway district.

County Judge James C. Alvis of Haskell believes it will be necessary to put on a strong advertising campaign in Haskell county if the program is "sold" there and pointed out that about 400 acres of land will have to be purchased as right-of-way. He feels that access on the right-of-way purchases should await the request of the highway department.

Col. A. V. (Blue) Womack, of the Anson Chamber of Commerce advised the delegates to emphasize the projection of the traffic count in discussing the highway with county and state road officials.

When Mayor Oscar Lewis, of Goree, asked about the possibility of some towns being bypassed should the expressway be built, Grace said that the road will be built for the people and for best use to which it can be put. Grace believes the county judges, county commissioners and highway officials will do what the people want done. However, he added that "we will meet problems as we come to them."

Other remarks were made by Cooley, Darrell Knight, of Abilene, and J. C. Kennedy, of Lawton.

Grace is to set up committees through which the organization will operate.
 Present at the meeting were L. A. Parker, Benjamin county judge; Dickson; Starkey; Million; V. E. Moore, of Munday; County Commissioner George Nix, of Goree; Mayor Lewis, of Goree; Mayor Jim Reeves, of Munday; Jesse F. Winters, Darrell Knight and Cooley, all of Abilene.

Milton Keating, Wyatt Hendrick and Kennedy, all of Lawton; Harold R. Spain, Judge Alvis, Turner, and Oakes, all of Haskell; Jennings and Grace, both of Wichita Falls, and Womack of Anson.

Delegates and alternate delegates of the organization include: Abilene, Winters, Grover Nelson; Knight and Cooley; Anson, Womack, Leon Thurman; Haskell, Alvis and Oakes; Munday, Moore, Reeves and Judge L. A. Parker; Seymour, Starkey, Curtis Mathews, Jim Richerson, and Judge Dickson; Stamford, Million and Pete

Elected by the 201-member Legion post here to serve with Oakes were Fred Boon, cleaning establishment owner-operator, first vice commander; Bobby Dulaine, insurance man and theater owner, 2nd vice commander; and Jim Sampson, owner-operator of a White's Auto Store here, adjutant.

Other officers named include Wood Anthony, finance officer; Herbert Fischer, chaplain; Charles M. Conner, historian; Herbert Ray, service officer; County Judge James C. Alvis, child welfare officer; and Billy Ray Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

Commander-Elect Oakes and his staff will be installed Thursday night, August 6, by a district or state official of the American Legion to be designated.

The new American Legion post commander here has been identified with both military and Legion activities for many years. He holds 11 military awards and decorations, and was a charter member of Thomas Fowler Post 169 in Wichita Falls, named in honor and memory of his brother-in-law, posthumous recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for valor.

Several members of the Legion post here, including the commander-elect, Service Officer Ray, retiring Adjutant Truett Parsons, indicated they would be among the eight official delegates from this post to the state American Legion convention in San Antonio July 23-26.

Texas will host the national American Legion convention in Dallas this year Sept. 17-20.

Jesse Priest Is Doing Well After Major Surgery

Jesse Priest, president of the Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce, and a state highway patrolman headquartered in Haskell for the past seven years, was reported resting comfortably Monday following lengthy spinal surgery at Scott-White Hospital in Temple.

Priest will be in the Temple Hospital 10 days to two weeks, and his period of recuperation is expected to continue for another six weeks.

Jaycee Vice President Bill Tomlinson, printer at the Haskell Free Press, has been named President Pro Tem of the civic organization here, and will direct the group's numerous community service projects until Priest's return here.

One of the imminent main items on the Haskell Jaycees' activity agenda will be cooperation with the local Chamber of Commerce in staging the annual Hey Day celebration here on August 8. Tomlinson already had been named general chairman in charge of the Jaycees' participation in this event.

McKelvain Visitors

Mrs. Janice Garrett and her daughter, Meichel, were recent visitors for two weeks in the home here of Mrs. Grace McKelvain. Mrs. Garrett, an employee of the Dunlap Store in Midland, had just returned from a buying trip for the stores in New York. She attended the World's Fair while there. While visiting here, Mrs. Garrett, her daughter, Mrs. McKelvain, Garland and Belinda McKelvain, vacationed together at Carlsbad, N. Mexico, where they toured the Caverns.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE ON MARR FARM THE 'THANG' HAS RETURNED TO ITS OLD PAINT CREEK HAUNTS

That Haskell Rascal, Varmint, Thang, believed to be a mountain-lion type, waist high to a tall man, lithe, low jawed and hungry, pounced Saturday on a fat calf weighing 250 pounds on the J. B. Marr farm 5 miles southeast of here, skinning and skeletoning the bovine "in nothing flat."

The cat came back to precisely the same area it stalked a year ago this week, according to records of its preying here, when it devoured a 350 pound yearling exactly 400 yards east of where Saturday's victim was found, according to Marr, the owner.

Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett, investigating the latest calf killing in this county, said "There's no doubt but what the same cagey creature has struck again." The method of kill leaves no doubt about it, the Sheriff added.

Kenneth Marr, 20-year-old son of the owner of the half-section spread southeast of here, found the partially eaten 2 1/2-month-old calf on the bank of a creek at 4:30 p. m. Saturday while riding a tractor some 400 yards north of his father's home place. "About 10 buzzards hovered overhead, but I know that calf hadn't been dead over an hour and a half before I came upon it," young Marr reported.

There were 33 cows and 31 other calves in the same pasture at the time the Thang apparently attacked its 250-lb victim head-on, hitting for the jugular vein, and destroying the front portion of the calf, laying bare the rib bones after the kill. The hefty calf had been dragged some 30 feet west toward the creek bank, and beneath the bottom strand of a barbed wire fence, Sheriff Garrett said.

On June 20, 1963, a 350-pound calf on the Marr farm was similarly killed in the same pasture. Both incidents have been in the same Paint Creek vicinity where Paul Fischer, long-time area farmer, lost three calves and had the unique experience of a 900-pound cow having a portion of its tail

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

With temperatures soaring, there is a great desire to find a cool shady nook and relax. If we are to have fall flowers and vegetables, there should be much activity from the 15th to the 20th of July; preparing the soil and sowing the seed for a fall crop, will keep us busy for a few days.

Zinnias planted from the 12th to the 15th will bring color for the fall flower show. A new planting of many annuals will reward one with fresh cut flowers, during September and October.

Dahlias can be pruned by the 20th of July, never later, to produce a new crop of blossoms this autumn.

Vegetables to plant from the 15th to the 20th, are beets, beans, blackeyed peas, cantaloupe, carrots and both summer and winter squash. We planted all these vegetables in July of last year and reaped a bountiful crop, except for the beans; the hail beat them into the ground just after we gathered our first meal from them.

Tender shoots from tomato vines can be rooted in large paper cups of rich soil. They should be set where no sun can reach them until the roots grow enough for strong vigorous plants. After the plants begin to show signs of growth, gently remove the cup from around the dirt, then place the tomato vine, dirt and all, into the soil. Water thoroughly, give them partial shade for two or three days. Tomatoes rooted this way, will often grow bountiful crops of fruit for the cool fall months.

It is wise to do outdoor work in the early morning and the late cool hours of the afternoon. With temperatures so high, it is very easy for one to become over-heated during the hottest part of the day.

If roses look brown and scorched after they have been opened for a short time, pull one of the blossoms and look for the presence of thrip. Should the tiny yellow insects be in the rose, give the bush a good spraying of black leaf 40 or a good dusting of some commercial rose dust.

Do not lose heart during the hot summer months for with cool weather, the "good earth" will once more burst forth in a glorious splash of color.

Community Survey can chart the road to community development

Community development is one of the fastest growing activities in America today. Many communities, both large and small, are attacking the problems of new vigor and vitality.

There is no easy road to success, no simple formula to follow, one must start with a community must start with a thoughtfully planned and soundly developed Community Survey. It assesses and evaluates both favorable and unfavorable economic and civic factors which affect community growth, and discloses factors which can be used to solicit new business and industry.

The fully effective it must be a continuing study, since conditions change economic handicaps are eliminated and economic advantages multiply. They have the added value of helping to clarify a community's aims and activities in the field of improvement, growth and development.

A community survey then becomes the PATTERN FOR PROGRESS.

Community development representatives will assist growth-conscious communities in planning a continuing community survey for economic development. This service is available on request through your WTU local manager.

By AL HINDS

HATS OFF to the Haskell volunteer fire department for the fine job turned-in Monday night in fighting the stubborn fire on the East side of the Square. It looked for awhile as if the entire east side might go up in flames, but the gallant Haskell firemen assisted by the Stamford and Rule "fire boys," with their lungs full of smoke and blistered faces, literally fought their hearts out, and held the blaze to the old east side hotel building.

Too few people take the time to be sad any more, a noted Swiss psychiatrist asserted recently in Dallas.

"If we look at the world as it is today, I don't think there is anything especially funny about it," said Dr. Dieter Baumann, analytical psychiatrist.

GEORGE CORSE, JR.

for CONGRESS

"He Kept His Word"

from Zurich. "We are educated to thinking that mental depression is something to be fought. We don't often consider that it might have a value."

Let your hair down, from a little. Being sad at the proper time equips a person to be truly happy at the proper time, Dr. Baumann contends.

"Society seems to be in too much of a hurry... trying to skim over any sadness that appears. If something makes us sad, we too often fail to allow ourselves enough time to be alone and just be said," the noted psychiatrist pointed out.

So, according to that information, look a little sad now and then, and maybe shed a salty tear or two.

Seen at Gilmore Implement Company, a cartoon which reads: "Things that used to cost $10.00 now cost $35.00 to repair."

It is just as easy to expect the best as to look for the worst! So many people expect the worst that they create an unfavorable situation just because of their attitude.

Perhaps things do look black at times, but why expect a storm? Why not look for the sun to break through? Why not expect the best to happen. Your thinking is magnetic... your thoughts will attract the best or the worst... it is up to you.

How do you see people? You can look upon them as crooks or as good people. If you make it a practice to look for the best in men, you will seldom be disappointed. They will really come through for you.

Successful men are optimists... they look for, and expect, the best from their associates... and that is what they get and why they are leaders in their field.

If your thinking is right on the inside it helps tremendously to make things go right on the outside. Look for the best!

Don't be fooled... every thing that is done well is hard work.

Your day goes the way the corners of your mouth turn.

The $2-bill is on the way back! The U. S. Treasury is starting a campaign to revive and circulate the $2 bill as potentially the most useful of any denomination in use today. The next time you make a purchase, just note the cost. More than likely it's $1.98, $1.76 or $1.49... instead of less than a dollar.

"In the modern economy," says U. S. Treasurer Mrs. Kathryn O'Hay Granahan, "and especially in retail trade, so many items are priced at a dollar and a fraction that it just makes more common sense to give one bill than to use two $1-bills."

Sylvia Porter pointed out that common sense is not the most important reason for the Treasury's move. The main reason is printing expense. It costs a penny to print either a $1 or $2 bill. So obvious printing costs would be cut in half for every $2 bill printed in place of a one. That can mount into big-time money, considering the fact that the Treasury prints 4,600,000 $1-bills every day, and the life-span of the $1-bill is only 18 months.

As an illustration, just by withdrawing 500,000,000 $1-bills... a fraction of the number now circulating... and printing 250,000,000 $2-bills to take their place, printing costs would be reduced in one shot by $2,500,000. "That's a tidy sum," says Mrs. Granahan.

One of the big hurdles would be convincing the nation of the $2-bills usefulness. A lot of people are superstitious about the $2-bill. I remember years ago when I was just a "young fellow," I carried a $2-bill in my billfold, and attempted to pass it to the "shoe shine boy" on many occasions, but he would not accept it as legal tender... due to superstition.

The beautiful tree stood with wide, wide boughs, like hands out-stretched to greet; And when the branches stirred, I caught this word, "Be a friend to all you meet!"

David Middleton Lions Speaker Tuesday Noon

David Middleton spoke to members of the Haskell Lions Club, Tuesday noon, and showed a film strip, "You, the Car and the Road."

Rayce Adkins was program chairman for the day, and introduced the guest speaker.

Middleton, who teaches driver education in the local schools, told Lions of his work this summer in which his students had 30 hours of classroom work and six hours of behind-the-wheel driving.

Middleton, who is a firm believer in the driver education program, emphasized, however, that driving example set by the parent was one of the best teachers.

"Attitude of drivers are getting worse and worse in our country and that is a major problem facing us today," Middleton said.

Alfred Pierson, who was unable to attend the Lions Ladies Night program last week was presented a 35-year, "Old Monarch Pin," by immediate past president, Wallace Cox Jr.

Glenn Pogue was a guest at Tuesday's meeting.

Frank Martin, recently installed president, presided over his first meeting of the new Lions Club year, Tuesday noon, and spoke to members about taking stock of our club. "The tangible asset of any service organization is its deeds and good will," Martin pointed out.

Lions adopted the "Buddy System" for July and August membership campaign.
