Forty-six seniors will receive diplomas at the 79th annual graduation exercises of Haskell High School at the First Baptist Church here next Monday night, May 25, at 8 o'clock, High School Principal W. P. McCollum has announced.

At baccalaureate services at 8 p. m. Sunday, May 24, Mr. Jim Pennington, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ, will deliver the message. The graduating seniors will participate in professional and recreational played by their fellow classmates, Dollie Norton and Sue Long.

The scripture will be given by Wayne Perrin, president of the Senior Class. A prayer will be offered by Barry O'Neal, highest ranking boy in the Class of 1964. The invocation will be given by Rev. Town Will Close For Holiday On Saturday, May 30

Haskell will observe a town-wide closing of its stores on Saturday, May 30, Memorial Day, in accordance with prescribed holidays previously agreed upon by member business establishments of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

Abbe Turner, president of the chamber here, announced following the May meeting of the board of directors Tuesday.

Turner was somewhat surprised to report, "about merchants here closing, since the holiday falls on Saturday, but the board of directors agreed we should follow the holidays agreed upon at the first of the year, regardless of the day upon which the holiday falls," the chamber president added.

A similar situation exists on July 4, which also comes on Saturday this year, and Haskell merchants will observe this date as a holiday, Turner said.

In other action at the board meeting, Don Muenzler was named chairman of a committee to study the Chamber of Commerce dues payment scales of towns of comparable size to Haskell with a view toward adjusting the potential of financial support for the civic organization here. Other members of the fact-finding group are Howard Perry, Mrs. Opal Adkins, Mrs. Roy Johnson and Raja Hassen.

The chamber board also voted to hold two meetings a month in the future instead of one. The second session each month will be a night-time affair in the nature of a Town Hall get-together, Turner reported.

County's Second Traffic Fatality Of Year Recorded

Haskell County's second motor vehicle fatality of 1964 was recorded about 2:30 a. m. Sunday with the death of Leidon Doyle Locke, 27, of Rule, according to State Highway Patrolman Jesse Priest, headquartered here.

Locke's body was found about 6 a. m., Patrolman Priest said, by Ewell Lusk, of Rule. The accident victim was killed apparently instantly when the 1953 car he was driving went out of control on a curve a quarter of a mile east of the Rule city limits on State Highway 24, the Haskell-Rule road.

The body of the man was discovered in a bar ditch "about one hundred steps" from his wrecked automobile, which had overturned two times on the curve, Priest reported.

Funeral services were held from the Rochester Church of Christ at 10 a. m. Tuesday with Mr. Curtis Cox, minister, officiating. Burial was in Big Spring Cemetery, where graveside services were held at 3:00 p. m. Tuesday. Smith Funeral Home, of Rochester, was in charge of both services.

Born April 3, 1937 in Dawson County, Locke was an employee of the Southern Cross Gas Company.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Jimmy Best, who lives near Rule and with whom he made his home; a brother, Hershell; and a sister, Mrs. Carl Morris, both of Rule.

At Graduation Time . . . Grazing In A Verdant Pasture of Memory . . .

If observance of the 30th anniversary of his own high school graduation permits the issuance of a gift-edged editorial license, we hope we may be indulged a few nostalgic comments on the subject of commencement, a memorable experience through which 46 members of the "family" that is Haskell will be going next Monday.

For many, until they think of it, graduation is the end of something, an era in one's life, when, in reality, it, commencement, is just what the word denotes, a BEGINNING.

We feel particularly close to this superb bunch of Seniors who are expanding their horizons come Monday night. And feeling so, we ask their indulgence in a bit of philosophizing that won't hurt any of us. For, after all, as one to whom we have looked for counsel many times has said, we recall vividly, "You never stop trying to be a right guy until you draw your last breath."

The question we would put as neighbor, friend, parents, to our Seniors who stand on a thrilling threshold today is, "Who is Educated?" We, in reading, in seeing, in doing, in experiencing, and we still have a lot to learn on all these counts, have been told we are NOT EDUCATED, NOT REALLY, unless we can say YES to all these questions:

Has your education given you sympathy with all good causes and made you espouse them?

Has it made you public-spirited? Has it made you a brother to the weak? Have you learned how to make friends . . . and to keep them?

Do you know what it is to be a friend yourself? Can you look an honest man or a pure woman straight in the eye?

Do you see anything to love in a little child? Will a lonely dog follow you down the street?

Can you be high minded and happy in the meaner drudgeries of life?

Do you think washing dishes and hoeing cotton just as compatible with high thinking as piano playing or golf?

Are you good for anything to yourself? Can you be happy alone?

Can you look out on the world and see anything but dollars and cents?

Can you look into a mud puddle by the wayside and see anything in the puddle but mud? Can you look into the sky at night and see beyond the stars?

Can your soul claim relationship with the Creator?

In our business, and it has been a pleasure, we have been blessed with frequent association with Haskell High School's 46 Seniors sedate who are preparing to graduate. We believe they'll measure up, openmindedly asking themselves the questions posed here, and learning, by doing, to find the answer IS "Yes."

We pray they'll use the foregoing as guideposts along the highway of life. We know if they do, they'll always find a source of fuel to make another mile.

May the Seniors of '64 arrive safely, happily, at all their destinations, cognizant of the fact that, after all, manhood and womanhood, not scholarship, are the first aims of education. And long may they flourish.

Lest We Forget

"Wear A Poppy" will ring from street corners in Haskell Saturday, May 23, and across the nation in the time between now and Memorial Day a week from Saturday when all will be asked to don the bright red memorial blossoms in honor of those who gave their lives in three wars to protect and secure our freedom.

The annual Poppy Day sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary is a fitting tribute to those who died defending the way of life in which all true Americans believe so fervently.

We are thinking especially at this time of two of our very own, one a young hero who earned the Congressional Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for Valor; and the other, an old soldier who will never die so long as he lives in our memory, who served his fellow soldiers so faithfully through the years he was at his death the National Commander of the United Spanish War Veterans.

These two seemed to know as well as any of us what we have been, and are, fighting to preserve . . . a way of freedom that has been so dearly bought. They lie near each other in a cemetery not far from here and symbolize to us the thing about which we would speak here from our heart.

Every one of us, grateful for the privilege of our freedom of speech, our freedom to do as we believe best, our freedom to speak out against injustice, our freedom to declare our allegiance to those things in which we believe, should wear a poppy on this special day of tribute to our defenders of those freedoms.

It is appropriate that the symbol we wear as a visible token of our tribute to those who have given their lives for those ideals in which we all believe should be fashioned by disabled veterans who survived our mighty conflicts. The small red flowers carry a multi-faceted message of gratitude to those who have served so well in the past.

We know folks in this area can be counted upon to support Poppy Day, and contribute to this major source of support for a continuing program of rehabilitation and child welfare directed by the Legion Auxiliary.

We commend the American Legion Auxiliary for giving us this means to say "Thank you, with all our hearts," to the living . . . and to those who have gone on, who have fought to have, and to perpetuate, the American way.

A Pencil Pusher's Potpourri

By PORTER

For 79 years, they've been doing what they're going to do in Haskell next Monday night . . . sending a graduating class down the aisle to receive their diplomas. Sweet essence of nostalgia! "Commencement" is a word which rightfully belongs alongside the more memorable ones like "love" and "mother" in our language. Those who have been a tangible part of a commencement never forget it, no matter how long their lives.

By and large, it is a happy time, even though it has to be a pretty tough cooky with a heart of granite to keep the lump mobile that just will lodge in his or her "little red lane." And, these 46 great graduates . . . they belong to ALL of us in the "family" that is Haskell.

Speakin' of lumps, and all that, the annual Rainbow Concert of those precious Nine Teens, will be Sunday at 3:00 p. m. If you've been to one in the past, you'll know what we mean when we say it's guaranteed to be a two-handkerchief performance. We've been . . . seen . . . and done, but seldom have we seen a kick in the heart like a Nine Teens' Rainbow Concert. The sheer beauty of it all, the refreshing feeling those fine girls' singing provides, the "heart" they put into their performance, and the tangible tradition being perpetuated . . . all adds up to something real special. Don't you DARE MISS the Nine Teens' concert Sunday.

Did you see where a big jackrabbit bit one of the highly trained, and ferocious, sentry guard dogs at Sheppard Air Force Base the other day? Sure did make a believer out of the Yankee dog-tender, who never had placed much stock in those tall tales from Texas . . . until then.

We got it figured something like that must have happened to our Varmint, or Thang! He ain't been seen in about nine weeks, or if he has, who ever saw him has been reluctant to tell it. Maybe a jackrabbit like the one up Sheppard Field way has our monster at bay, treed, cowed, or something. Only thing near to a Varmint sign we've heard about lately is the cat track measuring 5 1/2 inches across which was found and "preserved" by Jack Neathery, who brought it into the Free Press where it may be seen in our front window. Jack found it about two miles east of Weimert, where we hear tell a number of things have been seen roamin' in the gloamin' of recent vintage. But we can't pin down anything "for sartin'." Leastwise, the owner of this imposing track!

Ever since midnight last Saturday, when we concluded writing about 48 straight hours of stories on rodeos and horse shows, we're told we've been heard muttering things like "Horsey, keep your tail up," "To Horse," "Wild horses couldn't stop me," and "Into the Valley . . . rode the 600." Must have gone crazy over horses.

There surely was a whole herd of high falutin' horsefish around here over the weekend. And that's no away-backed story. Our Sheriff's posse and Jaycee bunch brought credit to this community with their stellar shows.

Haskell County Judge James C. Alvis, who along with J. M. Crawford and other Haskell citizens, felt so strongly that Bobby was deserving and succeeded in getting the lad in Boys' Ranch, received one of the most cherished messages of an activity-packed life Thursday. It was an invitation to Boys' Ranch graduation, and along with it a neatly written, properly spelled and punctuated letter from Bobby. It said:

"You probably have forgotten all about me. . . our graduation is coming up on the 24th of this month, and I just want you to know you're invited, because it's all to you that I owe this privilege. If you hadn't sent me here, I probably would never have graduated in the first place. So if you can, I would sure appreciate your coming. . ."

"Today, I'm one of the four first class 'Junior Staff' here at the Ranch out of all the boys here, and I also would like for you to know that I will always remember you as long as I live. I may never see you again after I leave the Ranch this month, and if I don't, I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart, because you've helped give me a goal to shoot for in life and the opportunity to make something of myself."

work in their program, "the better off we will be." Henry Grace, Wichita Falls oil man and civic leader said counties should buy rights-of-way now and be ready for increased flow of traffic through the area expected to result from Oklahoma's new expressway.

J. C. Kennedy, former Oklahoma state highway commissioner, of Lawton, one of a delegation of four from that city, said, "You people sometimes consider us second class citizens (when it comes to roads), but we have an interstate highway waiting for you."

The only stretch of pavement now not four-laned between Abilene and Waterville, Maine, is 24 miles in two sections of Missouri, and the approximately 125 miles between Wichita Falls and Anson, through Seymour, Monday, Haskell and Stamford.

Coordinator Cooley told Chamber President Turner after the Tuesday meeting another session will be called here "within the next few days."

DR. J. G. VAUGHTER

Dr. J. G. Vaughter Cited For Service To His Profession

Dr. J. G. Vaughter, well-known Haskell dentist, was tapped for admission to the Honorable Order of Goodfellow of the Texas Dental Association at the annual convention of the TDA in Fort Worth recently.

The membership citation and a gold key were presented Dr. Vaughter for 25 years' service to his profession and "in recognition of loyalty and in appreciation of his service to his association."

Crawford A. McMurray, secretary of the TDA, made the presentation to Dr. Vaughter for "continuous service" from 1939 to 1964, a period of 25 years.

Dr. Vaughter, a native of Throckmorton, has been a practicing dentist in Haskell more than 30 years. He is a former officer in the U. S. Navy with which branch he served with distinction in World War II, is a former City Councilman in Haskell, and has been active as a member of the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church and of the Lions Club in Haskell.

CARD OF THANKS

The patients and staff of Rice Springs Care Home join me in expressing our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Hill Oates of Haskell for the very liberal contribution toward our lawn furniture. It was a most thoughtful gesture. The patients will enjoy these much through future days and years. Our thanks again. Mrs. W. C. Johnston, Adm. 21p

Barbara's Coming From Heart Of Germany to Ours

From the heart of Germany to the heart of America, and into the hearts of all Haskellites, they feel sure, will come a German girl on July 19 to live here among them for a year, and to graduate from high school here, under the International Christian Youth Exchange Program of the Methodist Church.

For the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the First Methodist Church of Haskell, the arrival of Barbara Thomas, foreign exchange student from near Hamburg, Germany, will be the culmination of more than a year's work during which the church youth here have sponsored various projects to earn money for underwriting Barbara's trip to the United States.

Barbara will live in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Walker in Haskell during her stay here.

She will be a senior in High School, is interested in history, government and art. She speaks French and English as well as her native German.

Barbara is a member of the Lutheran Church and her home town is Zegellhorn, Germany, a town of 28,000 population about 50 miles from Hamburg.

If Barbara's presence among them has the impact which the interest in her arrival indicates, Haskell's youth may become multi-lingual.

This is the Government's Title to their present urge to increase the sales of Series E and H Savings Bonds . . . To all who may read this letter, I want to emphasize to you that it has been a privilege and abiding joy to recommend to you through the years the advantages of Series E Bonds for your Savings account.

No person has ever lost a dollar on a U. S. Savings Bond held until maturity . . . They are the best recommendation you can have to increase your credit at the bank . . . They are positive evidence you can buy—College Bred—when held for that purpose . . . They are much better than sleeping pills to increase your rest at night . . . In case of an emergency they are quick cash items.

Let us consider why you might want to invest in U. S. Savings Bonds at a lesser rate of interest than you would get in other savings accounts.

U. S. Savings Bonds are an indispensable part of our Government's Finance Program . . . Our citizens now hold $47,000,000,000.00 in this program . . . The citizens of Haskell County have an income per month $11,000.00-plus, from their investment in U. S. Savings Bonds.

If you buy a Series E Bond today paying $750.00 for it, it will mature in seven years, nine months with a value of $1,000.00, a gain of $250.00 . . . If you can invest $750.00 in a savings account paying you four and a half percent, you will collect $261.68 as interest on your investment in the seven years and nine months . . . This shows a net gain in favor of the four and a half percent investment of $11.68, three cents per week, $1.50 per year.

I ask you, what would be the results if our citizenship should suddenly cash their forty-seven billion dollars in bonds and place the money in Savings accounts at the slightly higher rate of interest?

We have the best Government known to man today:

- Because we have less poverty;
- Because we have fewer illiterates;
- Because our senior citizens have more comforts of life;
- Because our working classes have better homes.
- Because we have more luxuries;
- Finally, because our Leadership has proven their interest in the general welfare and the common good of the masses. Let's keep it the best.

"THIS IS MY OWN, MY NATIVE LAND"

Series E Bonds are especially convenient for the laboring class on denominations from $18.75 up.

TELLS FAMOUS BEE STORY TO ROTARIANS DR. RICHARDSON WAS EARLY DAY 'DRUG STORE COWBOY'

Dr. Rupert N. Richardson, distinguished West Texas historian, president-emeritus of Hardin-Simmons University, and head of the Department of History there now, told his famous "bee story," one of his trademarks, to a highly entertained Rotary audience in Haskell Thursday. But that wasn't the only thing he told.

When his host, Roy Johnson, vice president of Haskell National Bank, the program chairman, introduced Dr. Richardson, he declared, "Dr. Richardson probably won't remember this, but he was my Commanding Officer 45 years ago during World War I."

Placed in a nostalgic frame of mind, perhaps by Johnson's remark, the prominent historian-educator from Abilene, opened his speech with the assertion, "None of you probably know this, but I associate Haskell with many rich memories. I belonged to the Spit 'n Whistle Club here, and probably was one of the earlier drug store cowboys."

Dr. Richardson went on to explain that "for nearly two years" he came to Haskell regularly to teach extension courses from then Simmons College, later H-SU. I joined the spit 'n whistle bunch while waiting for my colleague, who also taught a course here, and I well recall my Payne Drug Store days, too."

Haskell's spit 'n whistle "organization," and they ARE highly organized on some subjects, still exists, meeting in the shadow of the courthouse most of the year, and moving with the shade during the spring and summer.

Payne Drug Store, a fixture landmark on the Courthouse Square, finally passed from the Haskell scene but a few months ago after some 62 years of continuous existence. John P. and C. V. Payne, brothers, sold to Don Muenzler, of Abilene, the store their father established at the turn of the century.

In relating about his interest in "beesness," Dr. Richardson sharpened the memories of all his listeners on their own early lives, their own sidekick dogs, such as the story-teller's "Ring," and their own "Aunt Mary's, who knew everything," in Dr. Richardson's vernacular.

The bee tale spinner got the biggest laugh of the luncheon the hour Thursday when, in the light of recent events on the White House lawn, he declared, "My dog and I took a whale of a lot off each other. But I never held him up by his ears. He was very broad-minded, but he wouldn't have stood for that."

Later, in the course of his discussion of what makes bees swarm, and what one is supposed to do to make them return to the hive and get at their honey-making, Dr. Richardson, recalling the sources of his bee knowledge, declared, "Oh, I had lots of bringing up. I had four sisters, all older than I."

Commenting on the recently advanced medical theory that bees are good for arthritis, Dr. Richardson said that if one gets stung, "memories of the remedy are more bitter than the disease."

The most amazing characteristic of a bee, said Dr. Richardson, who still is a bee-keeper, is his power of communication. He then graphically and meticulously described how man had studied bees "for thousands of years, from the time of Aristotle," who was a known bee fancier himself. But no one could fathom how a bee conveyed to her fellow bees "a sense of direction with a purpose" until just 30 years ago when a German observer of bee-ology "cracked the code of the honey-bee," and deciphered the steps by which one bee could tell another where to go to get nectar. The angle of the bee's approach to the hive, its various movements in its "food dance," all add up to the queen bee saying, "Girls, about 3,000 feet east, north 15 degrees; there is a bed of prickly pear," Dr. Richardson recounted.

Summing up his dissertation on bees, the distinguished speaker said, "Behind a bee and a plant getting together for pollination purposes, there is a directing force. There is evidence of a design. Designs calls for a mind. And the mind employs the bee to do this work." Dr. Richardson said that he, the late Walter Prescott Webb, the late R. Bedichek and J. Frank Dobie, all of whose names are synonymous with great works of this era, were discussing insects after a Richardson report on bees.

"Bedichek said he dropped the study of insects as a hobby because 'they are too complex for me,'" recalled Dr. Richardson. "That is why I could never be an atheist, Bedichek told me."

There is just one answer to the "why" and the "how" of the honey bee, said Dr. Richardson, and he added fervently, "An I think you'd agree with me to call it 'God.'"

Students to Need SS Cards For Summer Work

Every student who is getting a summer job or graduating from school this year should obtain his social security card now, Don Austin, Haskell representative of the district Social Security office, said Monday.

Many employers will not hire a student unless he already has a social security card, R. R. Tuley, Jr., social security district manager in Abilene, points out. Students who do get jobs should show the card to the employer so that the name and number may be copied correctly. This is important, because social security tax money must be credited to the correct record.

Duplicate cards will be issued to students who have had cards, but have lost them.

Cards may be processed here on Thursdays when Austin is in Haskell at the Chamber of Commerce office. Students living in towns without social security offices can get application blanks from their local Post Offices, Austin reports.

Prattle

By AL HINDS

Do you want to save time and money? If so, take time to read the Haskell Free Press each week. The Free Press carries announcements of coming events, as well as complete coverage of all the local happenings. You will save time and money, too, if you read all the advertisements. Many bargains are offered every week by local merchants through their display advertising and the classified section offers a variety of items which will interest you.

A ranch hand from West Texas decided it was time for the eldest son to receive some cultural education. Going all out, he sent the steer-roping son to live with his uncle, a professor at a large university. About six months later the rancher telephoned the University to run a check on his offspring. "How's my son making out?" he inquired. "W-a-a-all, I reckon he's done right well up in this dad-burned school of our'n," answered the professor.

This is the Week That Was! This is the week each year when parents and friends extend congratulations to the graduates of our schools, and this scribe joins them in sincere good wishes. A highlight such as this will always remain in their memory.

Much is said of the opportunity that awaits the graduate and the thing we would like to say is... Opportunity in a large degree, depends upon what each individual graduate makes of it, and the future holds a rich store of rewards for those who strive and work for them.

For that reason Prattle urges each of you to continue your education beyond high school as far as possible in order that you may be better equipped to the challenges of the future.

Salad a'la pipe just ruins the taste of a well broken-in pipe. Last week at Lion's luncheon meeting... some scoundrel stole my pipe, and later "Shorty" the waitress came bringing it in to me mixed in with my bowl of tossed salad. I never did care for salad, and the pipe sure has a celery, lettuce, tomato, and peppery taste of late, and when I puff on it, small flakes of pepper filter through the stem.

Vance Abejdt says that when a woman admits she is 40... she is really 55.

Pipe smokers should drop by Bill Estep's office, courthouse, and sample his latest brand of tobacco. Bill may be looking out the window, or talking on the phone, when you enter his office... but the big can of fresh, sweet-smelling tobacco sets on his desk. Just go ahead and fill 'er up. I don't think Bill will mind. Next time I go over I am going to take along one of my bigger bowl pipes.

I was a guest of Vance Abejdt at the Baptist Brotherhood meeting last Thursday night, and I certainly enjoyed the fellowship, singing, fine program and steak dinner. Despite the fact a rodeo, recital and many other activities were going on the same night, more than a half-hundred men were on hand for the inspirational meeting. In introducing this scribe, President Joe Williams, remarked that I was a Methodist... but I still enjoy those Brotherhood invitations.

Lions Stage Successful Mop And Broom Sale

The Haskell Lions Club annual mop and broom sale last Friday, topped last year's sale by around $30.00, despite the fact less workers showed up than usual to carry out the project.

Lions sold $586.30 worth of merchandise Friday in comparison to $556.25 last year, and $512.37 in 1962. Out of the overall sale, local Lions netted $152.44 and this amount will be placed in the "Goodfellow Fund" to be used at Christmastime to help bring happiness to needy families.

President of the club, Wallace Cox, Jr., and Bill Reeves, chairman of the mop and broom sale project, expressed thanks to those persons who purchased items, and for members of the club who helped with the sale.

Tuesday's Meeting
Lions met Tuesday at the American Legion Hall for the Chamber of Commerce session. A complete story of that meeting will be found elsewhere in today's issue of the Free Press.

Included such eyeball appealers as Rule's "Cotton Pickers," washboard and Number 2 household-equipped group of housewives who have entertained civic groups far and wide this year with their rural antics; a line of antique cars in striking contrast with sleek new ones in the same line of march; two diminutive "coolies," Greg Thompson and Art Williams, pulling an authentic rickshaw in which rode a "princess" Mary Margaret Overton; the Aspermont Junior Riding Club, with its array of small-fry expert riders, several pint-sized buggies drawn by prancing Shetlands trained by Buster Shelton at his farm near here, among them a brother-and-sister team of Bobby and Jill Faires reminiscent of a Tom Thumb tintype; and a "Mobile Ranch Store," complete with a moving "tack room on wheels."

Watching powerful farm equipment sweep by, one old-timer observed, "It would take four mules to do that."

Maneuverability of the farm equipment was tangibly demonstrated in one parade element in which a girl not more than 8, with an adult nearby, was calmly "navigating" a big diesel-powered tractor.

One of Haskell's firetrucks filled with kindergarten children, Little League uniformed ball players, and cowboys galore completed the panorama that passed.

Sheriff Garth Garrett and Haskell Chamber of Commerce President Abe Turner, followed by the crack 71-piece Haskell High School Indian Band paced the parade.

C. G. Armstrong, E. B. Evans School Principal, Dies

Funeral services for Claudius G. Armstrong, principal of E. B. Evans Negro Elementary School in Haskell, who died last Wednesday at Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene, were held Sunday at the Antioch Missionary Baptist Church in Fort Worth. Burial was in Chambers Memorial Park in Cleburne, with Masonic graveside services conducted by Arnett Lodge 329, of Liberty, Texas.

Mr. Armstrong suffered a stroke on April 8, was in Haskell County Hospital for several weeks, and was later taken to the Abilene Hospital where he died.

A well-known Negro educator, he had been principal of the school here since last September. Hooper T. Wilkinson, superintendent of Haskell Schools, Mrs. Richard Ellis and Mrs. John Greer, teachers at the Evans School, and a large group of citizens of the Negro community of Haskell, including a number of Mr. Armstrong's students, attended the funeral in Fort Worth.

Mr. Armstrong began a long career in education at Taylor, Texas, where he was teacher and coach. He held principalships in Liberty, Brownwood, and Nacogdoches, Texas. He attended Guadalupe College, Seguin, and obtained a Bachelor of Science degree from Prairie View A&M College and a Master of Arts degree from Texas Southern University. He was a member of the Antioch Baptist Church in Fort Worth, where he was vice president of the Brotherhood. He was a Master Mason and a member of American Woodman.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Pauline Armstrong; an aunt, Mrs. Ella Ellis; and two uncles, Melvin and Emmitt Yoakum, all of Wichita Falls.

First Load Of Golden Grain Goes To Elevator Here

They have started harvesting amber waves of grain in this area.

Haskell County received its first load of wheat at 2 p. m. last Thursday delivered to the United Industries elevator in Haskell, T. J. Ballard, manager of the office here, reported.

The load of wheat, 130 bushels, was harvested on the Burson Brothers farm two and a half miles northeast of Haskell. It was cut and delivered by Bobby Howard.

Averaging 16 bushels to the acre, the load brought in Tuesday will have a $1.50 per bushel price basis.

Moisture content was 17.40. Haskell County Agent Frank Martin evaluated the 1964 wheat crop in Haskell County "similar to last year's." He estimated it would average 15 to 20 bushels per acre although he had "seen some dry, and wheat that will average better than 30 bushels."

Based on the minimum expected yield and with an allotment of 55,000 acres this year, the Haskell County wheat crop will total at least 825,000 bushels, Martin said.

Two men, one from Tahoka and the other of Stamford, who were arrested in connection with a break-in at the old J. C. Coleman home near Plainview School last week, have been released on bond and their cases on charges of burglary await grand jury action, Sheriff Garth Garrett announced Tuesday.

Jesse Sanchez, 25, of Stamford, and Gregory Diaz, 44, of Tahoka, were picked up by Sheriff Garrett about an hour and a half following the discovery of the theft of a large amount of furniture from the Coleman home the night of May 11.

The Jesse Sanchez who was arrested here last week, Sheriff Garrett pointed out, is 25 years old, has a Stamford address, and came to this area but a

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

When foliage turns pale yellow with dark green veins, the plants are starving for iron.

Some plants require more iron than others. Perennial phlox, hibiscus and roses are heavy feeders of iron; and often turn pale overnight because they lack this mineral.

Organic fertilizer is a good source of iron. Well rotted compost, manure, or leaf mold, slightly acidify the earth so the sweetness of alkali will unlock its iron content.

The use of natural fertilizer also causes soil to be porous and friable. A porous soil helps to preserve moisture; as the soft dirt keeps the wind from penetrating deeply into the surface of the garden, thus the roots of the plants do not dry out.

Commercial fertilizers that contain iron often give plants a quick boost, when applied correctly. Copperas is also a direct source of iron. It usually takes any plant food, organic or commercial, about two weeks to penetrate deep enough into the plant for the leaves to regain their color.

Like a sick person, trees, shrubs and flowers also require medicine, in the form of minerals, when they are ailing.

It takes a good bit of time-consuming work and a world of patience to combat wind, hail,

4-H LEADERS AT WORKSHOP, PLAN GIRLS' CAMP DAY JUNE 19

Seven communities were represented by adult 4-H leaders participating in an all day Clothing Workshop conducted last week in the Community Room of the Haskell National Bank here by Haskell County Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Mary Jo Leverett, and made plans for a 4-H Club Girls' County Camp Day, date for which was set June 19.

Use of clothing guidebooks with clothing project groups was discussed, and information distributed in anticipation of preparation of 4-H club members for a County Dress Revue in July and the District Revue which is set for August 7th in Vernon.

Details for the County Camp Day, in which all 4-H Club girls, adult leaders, and mothers of club members will take part, are being worked out, and an announcement concerning them is imminent, Mrs. Leverett said.

Three 4-H girls from Haskell County will be selected to attend the District 4-H Camp at Lueders June 15-17. Selections will be made among candidates at least 12 years of age who have been 4-H Club members one year or more, and who submit a page story on "Why I Would Like to Attend the Joint District 4-H Leadership Camp." A committee of Home Demonstration Club members in Haskell County will select the three girls from entries submitted.

Four-H adult leaders who attended the clothing workshop represented Rule, Paint Creek, O'Brien, Rochester, Mattson, Weinert and Sagerton.

Second Graders Give "Room Count" Prize to Air Conditioning Project

Her cheek was wet but not from the rains that came to this area, when Mrs. Hess Hartsfield left the Haskell Elementary School one morning this past week.

Dorothy Hartsfield, treasurer of the Elementary School P-TA, had been called to the schoolhouse by special invitation of the Second Grade Class of Mrs. Hooper T. Wilkinson, teacher.

Upon arrival there, she was presented a cash contribution of $2.50 representing the prize Mrs. Wilkinson's room had won for its victory at "room count" in the P-TA's April meeting.

Along with the cash were 17 carefully, neatly, meticulously written letters, each addressed to Mrs. Hartsfield, and all saying, in general, "We appreciate you. We appreciate the P-TA. We enjoy the air conditioner very much. And we will enjoy it all the time. It makes us do better work. We are going to give the money to help pay for the air conditioner. We think this is the best way to spend the money."

All seventeen hand-written letters were signed by every member of Mrs. Wilkinson's Class.

At the instance of Rev. Douglas Finch, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Haskell, and president of the P-TA, the organization initiated a project to install 16 evaporative air conditioners in the 16 rooms of the 600-student Haskell Elementary School at a cost of some $3,000, about half of which has been subscribed. The P-TA is working hard to erase the entire obligation, but wanted to get the units in so the children could have the advantage of their comfort this Spring.

Yes, Mrs. Hartsfield's cheek was wet again when she reported what had happened at school. It must have started raining again.

Gloria Darnell New Editor Of 'The War Whoop'

Gloria Darnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Darnell, will succeed graduating Senior Buford Abeldt as editor of "The War Whoop," Haskell High School Newspaper, Mrs. Hazel Weaver, faculty sponsor of the publication, has announced.

The new editor for the 1964-65 school year served as Abeldt's assistant editor during the school year now ending. Member of the National Honor Society and a selectee for the privilege of attending Bluebonnet Girls' State this summer, Gloria also recently was elected vice president of the Haskell Chapter, Future Homemakers of America.

Chosen to serve on her staff for the coming year were Betty Fouts, assistant editor; Jimmy Bynum and Brian Dulaney, associate sports editors; Jimmy Yearly, business manager; Gene Hester and Beverly Owens, circulation managers.

Mrs. Mary Jo Leverett
County Home Demonstration Agent

Don't know about everybody, but feel sure that 29 4-H'ers, their families, adult leaders and the County Extension Agents are breathing much easier now that District Round-Up Contests are over. There were over 500 at the event recently at Wichita Falls. Most of our group put in 12 good tiring hours that day away from home.

Working with the 4-H'ers and seeing their development and growth made the long hours of effort well worthwhile for the leaders, parents and agents, and we hope to the 4-H member, too. The ribbons and banners they brought home sort of soothed the numbness caused from the intensive concentration and loss of sleep.

We are thrilled that Haskell County qualified a team to participate in the contest at state level. This was in Vegetable Preparation and the team is Brenda Allison and Lynda Matysiak of Rule. Congratulations, girls — and to all the others, too. Mattson sent seven, O'Brien two, Rochester two,

Rule nine, and Weinert five. Just here I'd like to say a word of "Thanks" to all the many people who were in some way cooperative with this part of our county extension program. The schools were most cooperative in allowing the use of their facilities and in giving time for the students to work some on 4-H activities. We appreciate the use of the County Courthouse and Haskell Home Economics Cottage where the county eliminations were staged. Adult leaders spent much time and energy and there were a number of the ladies who worked even though they had no direct interest in any contestant. Thanks also to Mr. Oakes and the Haskell Free Press for the wonderful publicity.

GEORGE CORSE

believes that women who do the same jobs as men should receive the same pay as men.

The present congressman evidently does not think so, as he voted AGAINST H. Res. No. 362, which provided for consideration of equal pay for women for equal work. (May 23, 1963).

in Exercise WEST WIND, a joint Army-Navy-Marine Corps amphibious operation recently on the Hawaiian Island of Mokolai, according to word received here.

More than 4,000 troops of the 25th Infantry Division were landed on the island's Papohaku Beach from helicopters and landing ships. After establishing a beachhead, the men moved inland to conduct jungle warfare and counter-insurgency operations against 2,000 of the division's men who took the part of guerrillas previously established on the island.

Specialist Williams is a squad leader of Company B, 2d Battalion, of the division's 14th Infantry, regularly stationed at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. He entered the Army in April, 1961, and was stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C., before arriving at Schofield Barracks, in September, 1961.

Williams attended Haskell High School.

WTU Has Dinner And Safety Talk For Its "Family"

More than 100 employees of West Texas Utilities' Paint Creek Power Plant, the Haskell office of WTU, their families and guests were honored with a barbecue dinner at the American Legion Hall here last week.

In a safety session following the dinner, C. O. Holt, plant superintendent of the Paint Creek facility, introduced W. T. McLean, of WTU's insurance and safety department, who presented a demonstration of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. He used a life-size vinyl doll which compared with an adult in lung capacity.

McLean also presented a film, "Thunderstorm," produced and directed by the WTU Safety Department.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Martin and Molly, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Holt and family, and McLean.

There were 111 persons in attendance.

County Records 4 April Crashes With One Injury

Four traffic accidents on highways in Haskell County during April resulted in one injury and total property damage estimated at $2,825, State Highway Patrol Sergeant Frank Jircik, supervisor in this area and headquartered in Haskell, has reported.

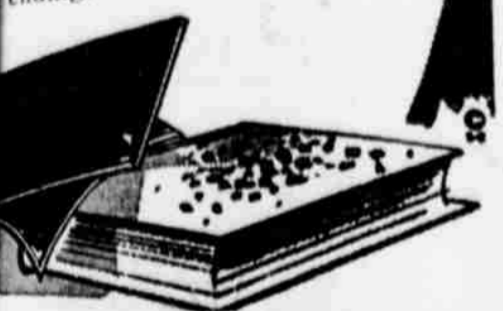

Sergeant Jircik said the rural accident summary for Haskell County from January through April of 1964, shows a total of 17 crashes resulting in one fatality, five persons injured and an estimated property damage of $10,185.

The sergeant reminded that schools soon will be out and "children will be popping out all directions." He cautioned about their darting across thoroughfares on foot, or on bicycles or other vehicles.

This means motorists "must be constantly on the alert during the summer months ahead, because children are unpredictable. So let every child be a warning sign for drivers to exercise care," Sgt. Jircik concluded.
