Prominent Attorney, Official Here, Dies

Tom Davis, 73, one of this area's most accomplished lawyers, former 39th Judicial District attorney and former Haskell County attorney widely known for his integrity and ability in the practice of both civil and criminal law in West Texas for 50 years, died suddenly of a heart attack at his home, 407 North Avenue F, here, shortly before 12:30 p. m. Tuesday.

He had been in his office just off the Square here Tuesday morning, seemed quite well, his associates reported, and was to have an appointment with a fellow attorney at 3:00 p. m. to work on a case. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Clifford Williams, pastor of Ridgela Presbyterian Church, Fort Worth, former pastor of the church here, officiating. Burial was in Willow Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Shelly Royall, Jack Watson, Royce Adkins, Ed Wilfong, Dr. William J. Kemp, Wallace Boone, Wallace Cox, Jr., Bob Cousins, and Raja Hassen. Honorary pallbearers were longtime associates and fellow members of the legal profession.

Highly regarded among his fellow attorneys for his exercise of an unflinching sense of integrity and fair play, Davis, because of his outstanding ability in the legal profession, is said by longtime associates to have been remembered by opposing attorneys, "even though they may never have been in the courtroom with him but on one occasion."

He handled some of the most outstanding cases, both civil and criminal, ever tried in this territory.

Orville Thomas (Tom) Davis was born near Waynesville, N. C., on October 1, 1890. He graduated from the University of North Carolina Law School at Chapel Hill and was licensed to practice law in North Carolina on Jan. 8, 1914. After practicing a brief time at Waynesville, he came to Texas late in 1914, settling at Sagerton, then a railroad town in southwestern Haskell County.

The new attorney came to this area at the instance of an uncle, Dr. J. C. Davis, now 90, who is still living at Rule. Soon after establishing himself in Haskell County, Mr. Davis went to the University of Texas Law School at Austin, and was licensed to practice law in the State of Texas after having made the highest grade on his bar examination of any one taking the exam at that time.

He was elected county attorney of Haskell County prior to World War I, and resigned to enter the U. S. Army in 1917. He was a Cavalryman while in the service, and returned to Haskell after the war to establish private practice here.

In 1921, he was elected district attorney of the 39th Judicial District, which then comprised six counties, Throckmorton, Haskell, Stonewall, Kent, Fisher and Jones. After serving for several years with distinction in this important post, he again resigned from public office to enter into private practice with W. H. Murchison, a colorful trial lawyer, and with whom, oldtimers recall, "he made a great team for many years."

Mr. Davis also was associated in later years in two additional law partnerships with two cousins, Foster Davis, the present Foad County Attorney, and J. C. Davis, Jr., a member of the Attorney General's staff in Austin for more than 20 years, sons of Dr. Davis. of Rule.

He married Frances Sherrill, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Sherrill, pioneer Haskell family, on March 12, 1923. In addition to his law practice, he was most active in farming and ranching in this area with a son, Tommy.

At the time of his death, Mr. Davis was president of the West Texas Legal Society, comprised of attorneys in the counties which formerly were included in the judicial district he served as district attorney.

He was a longtime member of the First Presbyterian Church here, and a Mason. Survivors in addition to the wife, of Haskell, include a daughter, Mrs. Phil Schultz, of Richardson; the son, Tommy, of Haskell; a twin sister, Mrs. Folsom Woody, Canton, N. C.; two brothers, Thurmon Davis, Waynesville, N. C., and V. H. Davis, Canton, N. C.; and two grandsons. The family has requested that tributes to Mr. Davis' memory be in the form of contributions to the First Presbyterian Church here.

SALUTE TO SENIOR DEMOCRATS—Two longtime area Democrats, formerly of Haskell, had seats of honor at a special table for "Senior Democrats" at a dinner saluting U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough at the Women's Forum in Wichita Falls Saturday night. Mrs. H. R. (Connie Kay) Jones, right, widow of the late District Judge H. R. Jones, of Haskell, who now lives in Wichita Falls, and her companion, Mrs. D. Scott, left, were honored at the event along with C. C. McDonald, longtime Democratic Party leader in Northwest-North Central Texas, and others. Approximately 1,000 people attended the dinner.

Rochester Man Found Dead In House At Ranch

William Dell Penman, 45, Rochester butane and appliance dealer, was found shot to death at his ranch west of the northwestern Haskell County community Tuesday.

Justice of the Peace Pete Huntsman ruled death from self-inflicted gunshot wounds.

Funeral services were held at 5 p. m. Wednesday in the First Methodist Church of Rochester with the Rev. Gene Louder, Methodist pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Rodney Williams, of Lubbock, and the Rev. Jarrill Sharp, of Knox City. Smith Funeral Home, of Rochester, was in charge of arrangements.

Penman was found dead in a bed at a three-room house on his ranch by Junior Posey, who works for him. Penman had been shot in the chest with a .30-.30 carbine, which was found leaning against the head of a bed.

Several notes written by Penman were found in the house and turned over to his mother, Mrs. Gussie Buckner, who is postmaster at Rochester.

He was born Nov. 4, 1918, in Meers, Okla., and had lived in Rochester most of his life. He married Ione Allen on May 10, 1940, at Rule.

Survivors include his wife, mother, one daughter, Linda, of Texas Tech; two sons, William, Jr., and Robert Paul, both of Rochester; one sister, Mrs. Bernard Bue, of Stamford; and a brother, Monte, of Knox City.

Six From County At State Demo Meet In Houston

Six Haskell County Democratic standard-bearers left here Sunday and early Monday for Houston and the state Democratic convention arena.

All six were expecting to be on hand for the late afternoon caucus of their congressional district delegation, which in the case of Haskell County, is the 13th Congressional District, the leader for which among Connally forces is Marvin Pierce, of Wichita Falls.

Going from this area were Mr. and Mrs. R. W. (Bob) Herren, of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Knippling, of Sagerton; Mrs. R. F. Herring, and Mrs. R. A. Shaver, Jr., both of Rochester.

Herren is the chairman of the Haskell County delegation. Porter Oakes is secretary.

Haskell Co-Op Gin Company is rebuilding its entire 8,000 square foot plant and completely streamlining its operation with new construction outward and upward in a $300,000 expansion program, Wes Lockett, etl, manager, announced on Thursday.

The new $300,000 facility, for which concrete already is being poured, will be a three-story, 119 saws to the stand, with 13-foot settings, and is expected to be finished "ready to gin" between August 1 and 10, Lockett reported.

The expanded Haskell Co-Op Gin, going up on the same site, on N. Ave. B, East, used by the present facility since 1951, will have a capacity increase of some seven bales per hour.

New high-capacity machinery being installed by the Continental Gin Machinery Company, some of the units coming from Lubbock and others from Louisiana, will enable the Co-Op here to turn out a maximum of 15 bales per hour.

Two plants located in the same building with two crews have been turning out an average of eight bales per hour together in recent years, Lockett said. Streamlining of the facility with the new machinery will provide baling in one central operation, he added.

Haskell Co-Op Gin here turned out 4400 bales of cotton last season, and its goal with the expanded plant is 6,000 bales.

Included in the "expansion out and up," Lockett reported, are new individual lint cleaners behind the stands, natural gas dryers, and all other accessories that will go with a 1190 horsepower operation.

Gin Manager Lockett came to Haskell April 1 from Burk Burnett, where he had managed a gin for four years. Prior to (See Haskell Co-Op, Page 10)

J. B. Gipson Cited By Ford Company For Achievement

J. B. Gipson, vice president and general manager of the Bill Wilson Motor Company in Haskell, received for his firm the Ford Motor Company's Distinguished Achievement Award as one of the nation's outstanding Ford dealerships in ceremonies last weekend in Dallas.

The Haskell firm was one of some 40 dealerships so honored in the Southwest at a banquet held in the Conquistador Room of the Marriott Motor Hotel near downtown Dallas.

Jack Mendel, district sales manager, presented the award to Gipson "in recognition of progressive management, modern sales and service facilities, sound merchandising practices, high quality standards, and continuing interest in rendering superior service to Ford owners." Gipson has been with the Bill Wilson Motor Company here for 19 years, since 1945.

PICNIC, PAGEANTRY QUATE PRAIRIE FESTIVAL

Rule, population 1378, had that many people, and that many more, at its first annual Wild Horse Prairie Fun Festival Saturday afternoon and evening.

The way folks kept milling the premises into the night indicated the Chamber of Commerce was absolutely right in hanging out its shingle at the city limits declaring, "Welcome to Rule. When You Stop, You Stay."

Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the newly-organized Lions Club there under the leadership of Clyde Grice and A. T. Kutch, presidents of the two civic organizations, the first event of what is anticipated as a traditional annual affair was healthily launched through community-wide cooperation in staging a carnival-type calendar of entertainment.

Bingo, group singing and a ducking board on which sat many of Rule's leading citizens who hit the water in their best duds, provided diversionary raids on the crowd as spotlight grabbers.

But the biggest four rings of the fun circus at the Rule School grounds Saturday were an old fiddlers' contest for bow-and-arrow boys over 50, lively square dancing sets for hours on end, a bountiful barbecue, beef for which was prepared by widely known Chef John Williams, and a zippy fandango-type variety show, "Rule Through the Years," directed by Mrs. C. W. Dunnam.

E. E. Glenn, 59, of Throckmorton, won $25 as the best "old" fiddler. A fellow-townsmen, R. O. Burkhalter, 68, was second, and received $15. Sam Highsmith, 76, of Chillicothe, took third and $10. Jim Lewis, 70, of Memphis, finished fourth, and it was worth $5.

But the show-stealer was S. H. Mays, of Anson, 86 years young, who told the folks about him afterwards he had been "fiddling around a long time." The spry octogenarian displayed with pride a fiddle with a startlingly abbreviated "neck" which he bought 71 years ago at the age of 15, and "I've been playing it ever since." Nestled in a wooden violin case, the violin, said to have been manufactured in the 18th century, was purchased "for only eight dollars from a fellow who was broke in 1893," Mays said.

Bogan Rhea, a fiddler of note himself from Haskell, directed the fiddlers' contest.

Mrs. Dunnam's "Rule Through the Years" in the high school auditorium Saturday night was an enchanting depiction of the frontier-steeped community. Brent Davis was the articulate narrator.

A typical family group portrayed by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fouts, and family, real pioneers of the area, opened the production, followed by a narration of the cowboy period in

Robert R. King Rotary Ladies' Night Speaker

Robert R. (Bob) King, superintendent of schools at Vernon, and past district governor of Rotary District 579, of which the Rotary Club of Haskell is a part, will be the principal speaker at the annual Ladies' Night Banquet of the club here Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the Elementary School cafeteria here. Installation of new officers will be held at the banquet event.

King was school superintendent in Haskell for six years, coming here from a similar post in Rochester. He became superintendent at Vernon last summer. He has held many key committee chairmanships in Rotary International's 41-club District 579 in Northwest-North Central Texas. He is a past president of the Rotary Club of Haskell.

Serving with Johnson during the 1964-65 Rotary year from July 1 to June 30 next year will be Woody Woodard, vice president. (See Robert R. King, Page 10)

May Traffic Toll Was Quite High In Haskell County

Six accidents on highways of Haskell County in May resulted in one fatality, six injuries, and an estimated property damage of $2,350, Sgt. Frank Jirik, area highway patrol supervisor headquartered in Haskell, reported Friday.

The toll for the first five months of 1964 in Haskell County shows a total of 33 crashes, with two persons killed, ten injured and property damage estimated at $12,535, Sgt. Jirik said.

The highway patrol sergeant here, in releasing the statistics for last month and the year to date, expressed serious concern over the increase in fatal motor vehicle accidents and deaths throughout the state.

"For the first five months of 1964, 1025 persons died in traffic, compared to 871 for the same period in 1963," Sgt. Jirik said. "This 18 per cent increase is very alarming and when you realize our heavy volume traffic months are still ahead, we must anticipate increasing problems in the accident picture."

"This merits our greatest concern. Otherwise, our death count at the end of the year will far exceed the record number of 2,729 deaths in Texas traffic in 1963," Sgt. Jirik added, imploring increased vigilance on streets and highways.

And To Think... Mrs. Sam Herren Used To "Arrest" His Attention!

Three Indicted By Grand Jury; Two No-Billed

Haskell County's Grand Jury, in session here all day Friday, considered five cases, heard 18 witnesses, returned three indictments on burglary and check swindling, and returned two no-bills in a kidnapping case. District Attorney Royce Adkins reported.

Jesse Sanchez, 25, who lives on a farm in southwest Haskell County, and Gregory Diaz, 44, of Tahoka, each was indicted on a charge of burglary in connection with the theft of a pickup load of furniture from the farm home of J. C. Coleman near the Plainview School some five miles southwest of Haskell.

The pair were picked up by Haskell County Sheriff Garth Garrett an hour and a half after the furniture was removed from the Coleman home.

A third indictment was returned against a man listed as Edward Pitman, 35, for repetition of swindling by check. He was taken into custody by Sheriff Garrett on June 5 in Colorado City after allegedly having given a worthless Haskell National Bank check for wine, beer and cigarettes.

Pitman, using the name of D. E. Pitman, twice had been arrested and convicted on misdemeanor check charges in this county, according to District Attorney William P. Ratliff, once in November 29, 1960, and again in July, 1962.

A 26-year-old man and a 29-year-old woman, returned here Friday by Texas Ranger Homer T. Melton, of Benjamin, and Sheriff Garrett, from Hobbs, N. M., where they were picked up late Thursday, each was no-billed on charges of kidnapping. They were reported to have taken a 14-year-old girl and a 16-year-old girl from Haskell to Hobbs.

Defensive Driving Is What It Takes ... To Stay Mobile

Over the years, June, July and August have been the most popular vacation months, and dozens of families of Haskell and surrounding communities will be taking off for destinations unlimited.

As we join the mad rush over congested highways to our favorite vacation spots, we should seriously consider our responsibilities for safe driving.

In today's traffic conditions, with high-powered automobiles, one must bring his driving up to date to survive...for there are too many "offensive" (a word that can be used two ways) drivers on the road.

Driving "defensively" is our greatest protection—by being alert to accident producing situations before they materialize. Defensive driving, we figure, might be construed to be the technique used to avoid traffic accidents by anticipating hazardous actions or acts of others, and by recognizing adverse traffic and weather conditions.

To be axiomatic about it: The defensive driver makes allowances for the other fellow's carelessness and lack of skill or knowledge.

He assumes the other drivers on the road will make the wrong move each time an emergency arises.

He studies the traffic picture ahead to avoid potentially risky situations.

He looks ahead and around, thinks ahead, stays alert, paces his driving to changing conditions.

He assumes every other vehicle and pedestrian has the right of way over him and is ready to yield without an argument. He is willing to forego a few seconds involved to avoid a collision.

He exhibits emotional maturity and doesn't let his emotions get out of control, as will his vehicle if he does.

By these axioms can we live in a car...longer.

Salute to The Unsung

Last week this area was set awash by close to five inches of rain in a comparatively brief period of time, and the situation created a rash of road hazards in every direction from Haskell.

Particularly on State Highway 24 between here and Rule, and on U. S. 277 between Haskell and Stamford, high water running out of the fields in the former case, and creeks out of banks in the latter, rushed in torrents at times across the pavement, or stood several inches deep on the much traveled thoroughfares.

Through it all, a vigilant and alert crew of State Highway Department personnel headquartered here fanned out through the territory, around the clock, repairing roads where it was possible to give them first echelon maintenance, and posting signs and markers on approaches to the water hazards caused by flooding.

Flares and "guidons" to show where pavement stopped and shoulder started on inundated rights-of-way also were posted as tangible aids to the passing motorist.

We wonder if the average guy behind the wheel thinks, or realizes, the effort expended, or the arrangements meticulously made for his safety and convenience when unusual weather sets up these hazards.

Therefore, we doff our favorite community fedora to our dedicated public servants, the safety-conscious corps of State Highway Department personnel directed by Ray Lusk "and Company." We understand there are some 10 or 12 of them based here. They are our neighbors, all of them.

So, here's a heart full of thanks, Neighbors, for a thankless job, quietly, efficiently, SAFELY, and superbly, done.

By PORTER

That cavortin' cowpuncher cosmopolitan, George Dolan, wrote a piece the other day in that paper in that town "Where The West Begins" about the Cow Callin' up in Miami, in the Panhandle in Roberts County. He was tellin' how horn honkin' pickups have sorta downgraded cow callin' as a "perfection" these days.

Now take my Mother-in-Law. I took her, Once Removed, for better-or-worse, for richer-or-poorer (there wasn't any question about that—I KNEW what I was gettin' into—the latter!). I just suddenly remembered how come she speaks to me with such authority. She just lives a few miles from Miami and hasn't missed a Cow Callin' in half-a-hunnert years. (She ain't but half-a-hunnert and ONE NOW!)

Boy, when she calls, I YUMP. Now I ain't no cow, but as has been inferred publicly, there is a lot of BEEFY about me. Kinda on the BEEFY side, too, you know.

We were up Panhandle way just before the annual Cow Callin', an institution, you know. And Miss Maye was goin', of course. We suggested she take our recently graduated and "degreed" speech therapist daughter, Betty, to have her try her hand...er, lungs...on them cows.

Wonder if the cows would take that speech therapy with a block of salt. Probably have to be a pretty dedicated cow to be taught how to pronounce "moo" more distinctly.

Ol' Gatlin' Gun Glenn Shelton, the word wizard up north of here, who propels verbal pellets all over the place in a scattershot sort of way, wrote one last week about the observance (that's a good word, George Yancey, my dictionary toin' toady—but it won't fit in a headline) of stoves today. Come to think of it, central heating is about to erase 'em from the family scene.

Glenn was mentioning how a lady he knew walked into the room, and talkin' all the time, used to make a bedline for the stove, back up to it, and "heist" her skirt. His story reminds of this one:

When Noah and his entourage were good and afloat in the Ark, it sprang a leak. Being an itty-bitty leak, Noah called a dog and put the dog's nose in the hole. But the leak got bigger, so Noah stuck his hand in there, like the Dutch boy in the dike (a few years later) to hold back the water. Still the aperture became larger, so Noah beckoned Mrs. Noah to him, and she sat in the opening.

Eye-n-bye, land was sighted, the Ark went aground, everyone scrambled out and all was saved.

That's why a dog's nose is always wet...and a man's hands are always cold, and a woman always backs up to the fire and hoists her skirt.

After those two, we are sure, dear readers, if you're still with us, you're more certain than ever that not only does P. O. NOT stand for Edgar Allen Porter (with apologies to O. Henry) doesn't stand for William Sydney, either!

Did you see the telecast of Billy Graham's stirring meeting in Balboa Stadium, San Diego, the other night? If you did, not only did you hear a moving message that sticks with you, but you witnessed some of the most spontaneous, unrehearsed, Candid Camera Classics yet put on the celluloid! Evangelist Billy, Bible in hand, was talking about the importance of the family and quoting the Scripture about "putting thy house in order."

The TV camera was recording the reactions in the audience, and from the looks on some of those husbands' faces and the way they cut their eyes at their wives beside them while still trying to look straight ahead...when Billy was laying it on the line about some of man's shortcomings...they were dead giveaways! But some of those ol' boys wish there were such things as ejection seats in that stadium, like in a jet airplane, to get 'em the heck out of there! It was hilarious!

Mrs. Bobby Gibson, nee Martha Jane Bynum, who has been accepted for a responsible teaching post in the Wichita Falls school system starting next fall, was interviewed recently when applying for the job by Dr. Joe B. McNeil, superintendent of schools there. Joe, a stickler for scholarship, also is known afar as a sports lover (particularly those AAAA Coyotes!) and for his athletic mindedness. Mrs. Mary Jo Leverett
County Home Demonstration Agent

Brenda Allison and Mary Ann Anders, of Rule, report there were 16 teams at state level competition in the Vegetable Preparation Contest. These girls had a wonderful trip and even though they did not place in the top three, they represented Haskell County and District Three in an admirable manner. Their mothers, Mrs. Wallace Allison and Mrs. Norris Anders, coached them and accompanied them to the State 4-H Round-up last week at College Station. We hope that Haskell County will have more teams to go to state next year and 4-H members should start now to plan toward the contest event interested in. These girls and their mothers thank those who contributed to the Bake Sale which netted nearly enough for their expenses while there. The Women's Home Demonstration Council helped on the expenses also.

The Women's Home Demonstration Council of Haskell County will meet on Wednesday, June 24, instead of June 17 because of the District Camp. This involves club presidents, vice presidents, delegates and alternates and others on committees. They should make note of this date change.

The Girl's 4-H All-Day Camp will be held on Friday, June 19. It will be at the Haskell Park and will start at 9 a. m. The pool will be reserved for swimming from 10 until 12 noon. Lunch will be spread together and will feature fried chicken brought by each club group plus potato chips, a relish plate to be prepared by the food group, and cookies. Each person or club will provide his or their own beverage. A registration fee of 50c will be charged each person to pay for the crafts material and any surplus will go into a county fund. Each person who swims will pay extra for that. Crafts, skits, games, songs, relays and other planned activity will be featured during the day. Club members and adult leaders are urged to attend.

Do you ever wonder what to send to a bridal shower? Since June is the traditional month of brides you may be receptive to some ideas or suggestions. How about some items seldom seen at a bridal shower display? Measuring cups and spoons, rubber spatulas, strainers of assorted sizes, a rolling pin, can opener, cookie sheet, or wooden spoons or vegetable peeler. Basic tools, and pots and pans are sometimes neglected and the more "glamorous" items sent. They are nice, but practical and useful gifts certainly have their place as they can be used immediately instead of being packed away.

Homemakers should make sure that winter woollens are moth free before putting them away for the summer. They should be dry-cleaned. Unless a special moth-proofing treatment is applied then you still have no assurance that the moths won't find the clothes and have a field day. Careful storage is necessary, and it is best to store woollens in a tight chest or trunk along with naphthalene flakes or paradichlorobenzene (PDB) crystals.

Theme of the Women's Division of the State Fair of Texas, October 10-25 in Dallas, will be "Exposition of Lights and Flowers." An attractive show catalogue listing exhibit classes, departments and premium lists, is just off the press and a copy may be obtained by writing Mr. Leah Jarrett, Director

Dave Middleton "Tests" Rotary On Driver Info

What types of information do the different shapes of the yellow signs on Texas highways denote?
How far back of the car in front should you be driving at 50 m.p.h.?
Considering a car's steering wheel as the face of a clock, at what "o'clock" is considered the safest position for a driver's hands to grip it?
These three and 20 more questions were given to Haskell Rotarians Thursday noon in a "test" administered by Dave Middleton, Haskell High School faculty member, who is teaching a driver education course to 24 boys and 22 girls from the high school here this summer.

If any Rotarian made a 100 on the test, he didn't speak up, indicating the need for a "refresher" information for neophytes as well as the "old" drivers to whom Middleton is giving it in his driving classes.
The HHS faculty member, who also is assistant football coach and head girls' basketball coach here, told his audience after the "exam" that "the average American's indifference to accidents, to which he pays less attention in reading his daily newspaper than he does sports, the stock market, comic pages, and other interests, is alarming."
A serious attitude about the consequences of faulty driving is the "ingredient" most desired and needed in drivers to lessen risks and accidents today, the speaker emphasized.

Guests at the Rotary weekly luncheon included Rotarians Hollis Haynes and Jack Watson of Stamford, J. A. Hudson of Stamford, and T. E. Beason of Rochester; and Charles Campbell of Haskell, and Bill Calhoun of San Angelo, Bill Ratliff and Brian Dulancy also attended the meeting as guests of their Rotarian fathers, W. P. Ratliff and Desmond Dulane.

Two Contribute To Mary Jane Brown Fund; Aid Needed

Two contributions were received this week in support of the Mary Jane Brown Fund to give desperately needed financial assistance to one of Haskell's very own who is stricken with lateral sclerosis.
Abe Turner, cashier of Haskell National Bank and custodian of the fund, said $5 contributions were received from Sheriff Garth Garrett and Ray Lusk.
More funds are needed for Mary Jane Brown, long suffering and seriously stricken, and those desiring to help may mail or take their contributions to Turner at the bank here.

Rev. Roderiguez Accepts Call To Calvary Mission

Antonio Roderiguez, a recent graduate of a Baptist seminary in Cuba, and currently preaching in Abilene, has accepted a call to the pulpit of the Calvary Baptist Mission of Haskell, sponsored by the First Baptist Church here.

Brother Roderiguez was ordained as a Southern Baptist pastor last week in a ceremony arranged by Dr. L. L. Trot, of Abilene, Missions Secretary of the Baptist Church in this area, before assuming his responsibility here on June 15.
Men of Calvary Mission here have been busy painting the pastor's home next to the church here, and the sponsoring First Baptist Church is furnishing it in preparation for the arrival of the new mission pastor, his wife and two boys.

"We've Found Our Crowd," Say Old-Timers Of Jaycees

An announcement read by Bill Tomlinson, president pro tem of the Haskell Jaycees at that organization's meeting on Tuesday night here, prompted a couple of Haskell citizens to exclaim, "It looks like we've found our crowd."
The word was from the "Dallas Roost of Exhausted Roosters," an organization of Jaycees "Old-Timers," declaring that group is planning hospitality for "exhausted roosters" in connection with the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce national convention in Dallas June 21-26.
Dee Larned and Porter Oakes, past presidents of the Haskell and Wichita Falls Junior Chambers of Commerce, respectively, agreed that "the Dallas Roost has us properly pegged."

The Jaycee Old Timer organization headed by David Walton in Dallas will have a hospitality room at the Hotel Adolphus opening at 12 noon on June 24, followed by a host of activities the remainder of the day, according to Tomlinson's announcement.
All Jaycee Old Timers in Dallas on that day are invited to come to the Adolphus and renew fellowships of past years.

Assembly of God Pastors Will Be Trading Pulpits

Two Assembly of God pastors, one here and one in Abilene, traded both pulpits and their homes on Monday, June 15th, church officials in the two congregations have announced.
Rev. Ira A. Burns, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church of Haskell, and Rev. S. M. Malone, pastor of the Mission Assembly of God Church in Abilene, both preached farewell sermons to their congregations Sunday, June 14. Rev. Malone and his family came to Haskell, while Rev. Burns and his family moved to Abilene the next day. Each is moving into the home formerly occupied by the other.
Rev. Malone has served the Haskell church previously, having left here in 1954. Since that time, he has held pastorates in Jacksboro and Electra before going to Abilene a year ago.
Rev. Burns was an Assembly of God pastor in Winters and South Louisiana before coming to Haskell four years ago.

Durhams Leave For Reunion In Council Bluffs

Rev. and Mrs. Rogers Durham and their small son left here Monday for Council Bluffs, Iowa, where they will attend a 10th anniversary reunion of the Haskell minister's high school graduating class.
The minister of the First Christian Church of Haskell graduated from Abraham Lincoln High School in Council Bluffs in 1954. His wife, Janice, was a 1955 graduate of the same school.

The only member of his class of 220 students who entered the ministry, Rev. Durham will have charge of the devotional and worship on the anniversary banquet program.
The Durhams will be away until June 25. Young people of the church will have charge of the worship services here Sunday, June 21, and will announce their guest minister.

Big June 'Teenth Observance Here All Day Friday

Baseball and barbecue, both in the main entertainment fare in the observance by Haskell's Negro community of Emancipation Day, June 19, here Friday, Albert Sharpe, coordinator for the day's program, has announced.

From 11:30 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., an old fashioned pit barbecue feed will be served at the Negro Recreation Park at the end of 14th Street in North Haskell. The barbecue is being prepared by an old-timer at the barbecue game, J. W. Williams, Sharpe reported.
There will be two additional events in the afternoon following the barbecue, a baseball game between youngsters and old-timers, in which anyone can play, and the climax of the observance, a regulation diamond duel between the hometown Haskell Braves, managed by Martin Randel, and the visiting Shamrock Oilers.

"Play ball" call goes out at 4 p. m., and baseball fans in the area are urged to attend.

61 Take Part In Trinity Lutheran Vacation School

An average of 43 pupils a day have been attending the vacation church school of Trinity Lutheran Church here which began Monday, June 1, and was completed last Friday.
Together with teachers and adult leaders, a total of 61 persons have participated in this year's school, according to Mrs. James F. Schaefer, wife of the church pastor and superintendent of the vacation school.
The Nursery Department, supervised by Mrs. Rufus Schmidt, has been studying the theme, "My God, My Country, and I." Other departments have been learning the underlying meanings of the Ten Commandments and "Trust and Obey." Other department supervisors are Mrs. Walter Brodthauer, kindergarten; Mrs. Willie Piser, primary; and Mrs. Wilton Weise, junior.
Music has been directed by Miss Carolyn Fischer and Mrs. Elton Klose.
A closing program for the school was held in exercises with a worship service on Sunday.

The seminar, held in the Carnegie School at O'Brien, with Bill Baker, superintendent, as host, was taught by M. S. Martin, of Austin, came last with the School Plant Division of the TEA.
Administrators and custodians in the schools of the two counties were advised on the latest methods of maintenance of most of the facilities, upkeep for which all share a similar responsibility, particularly floor maintenance.
Attending from Haskell were School Superintendent Hooper T. Wilkinson, High School Principal W. P. McCollum, Junior High Principal Hubert Bell, Barney Swenson, Edmund Medford, Alvin Hall, Paul Cothron, Eldon Culbert and Marion Strickland.

Tigers, Rams, Hawks Chalk Up Imposing Wins

Haskell Little League's tenacious Tigers continued their torrid pace Monday night lacing the Lions 25-3 to take their 11th straight win without a loss in a 16-game schedule.

A large group of school administrators and custodians in the school system of Haskell and Knox Counties attended a workshop two days last week on maintenance supervision of schools taught by a representative of the Texas Education Agency.

Both Darrel Crouch, of the Hawks, and Frank Paul Jirick, of the Rams, had pitched their hearts out in arriving at a 1-1 deadlock in the regulation six innings.
Keith Everett, Hawk moundsman, blunted the Rams' horns, holding them off in the top of the seventh. In the bottom of the 7th, Crouch, who had switched to 2nd baseman from the mound, crashed a liner over the 3rd sacker's head to reach first, stole 2nd and 3rd, then beat the throw home after Gibbs had hit to the infield to "Hawk" the ball game.
Everett, who also scored the tying run in the 6th, got credit for the win, while Wayne Davis, Ram reliever, was charged with the loss.

Former Pastor At Rochester Killed In Alaskan Crash

Rev. Aubrey Short, former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Rochester, was killed in a recent plane crash at Anchorage, Alaska, according to word received here Friday.
He was pastor of the Spencard, Alaska, Baptist Church at the time of his death.
Funeral services were held the First Baptist Church of Pinnacle, La., with burial in an Alexandria, La., cemetery.

Roy David Pitman, stellar reliever for the Tigers, had a field day at bat and afield with five for six, including a homer, three assists and no miscues.
Wiseman was five for five himself at bat, for a perfect day, and Lanny Ivy added a circuit wallop, his 10th of the year, to aid the Tiger cause.
Jesse Sanchez had two hits in three times up in the Lions' loss.
The Tigers' 5.0 victory Friday night over the Cubs, in which Lanny Ivy pitched his third no-hitter of the season, is recorded elsewhere in this edition of the Free Press.

Last Thursday, the Hawks annihilated the Lions 7-0 behind the masterful hurling of Keith Everett and Terry Pringle. Keith gave up nary hit in the three innings he worked. Gibbs was the catcher.
Darrel Crouch was the Hawks' big gun, bashing two hits for three times at bat and driving in four of his team's seven tallies. Everett to Kemp accounted for one twin killing.
Saturday night, the rampaging Rams, still in second place behind the Tigers, took the measure of the Lions, 5 to 2. Gary Mayfield was the stingy winning hurler, allowing one hit and no runs in four innings. Wayne Davis also tolled two innings. Forrest Mayfield and Randy Foster were the backstops for the Rams' two pitchers.
Lee Pippin was a power at the plate with a perfect night, two for two to be a Ram ram-rod.

Tigers Pressed By Rams, But Win 1-0 Thriller

(Delayed)

Bill Reeves' rambunctious Rams, acting as if they just were not to be denied, finally succumbed to Volley Ivy's tough Tigers 1-to-0 in a sizzling Little League scrap here Tuesday night before several hundred screaming fans.

The Rams, behind the lone run, and with two ducks on the pond, looked like a winner in the sixth and last inning until Lanny Ivy, the pitching wizard, was called in cold from shortstop to pitch. "Poison" Ivy struck out two men to stem the tide.

Wayne Davis, son of the Tommy Davises, pitched a masterful game, and deserves tremendous credit. The Tigers got but three bingles. Velton Moore, Jr. likewise hurled his heart out in keeping the usually powerful Rams at bay, letting them down with one hit until he was relieved by Ivy.

Through Tuesday night, the Tigers had notched 8 victories against no losses to lead the league, and the Rams had a 5-2 record in second place. Then came the Cubs with 4-3. The Hawks have won one and lost 7 and the Lions have one win and six losses.

Minor league teams play every Monday through Saturday at 5:15 p. m.

In other major league games during the past week, the Cubs edged the Hawks behind Wooten's slants, 2-to-1, and grabbed another game from the same club 9-to-6 with Clifton turning in the win.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

Summer is a good time to dry or treat materials for winter arrangements. Photinea, magnolia, loquat, oak and many other trees and shrubs, make lasting foliage when treated with glycerine and water.

The leaves usually turn a dark velvety brown when they are treated with this solution.

Loquat leaves turn a deep burgandy if treated in the summer, and a dark brown if treated in the winter.

One part glycerine, two parts water in a container, suitable for holding small branches, is all that is needed to make this beautiful foliage. Have the water 110 degrees or hot enough that you can hold your hand in, but feel slightly uncomfortable. Cut young twigs or limbs not over 12 inches long. Examine the leaves, be sure they are not damaged. Make the cut on the slant so the material can drink the glycerine-water solution. If the limbs have been cut from the tree, more than five minutes make a fresh cut. Air seals the pores very quickly. Peel about 2 inches of bark from the bottom of the twig or limb.

Place in the container of glycerine and water and put aside for a week. Then examine the leaves to see how deep the color is. When they are as dark as you like, remove from the solution. There is often some glycerine left. This can be re-used.

Foliage treated in this way, often lasts for years. The leaves are soft and pliable. They can be used in arrangements as though they were fresh material.

Arranging dried and treated materials is very rewarding. During the long winter months tensions usually run pretty high when one is shut in because of weather, day after day. Working with dried and treated materials becomes so absorbing, tensions ease and

Certificates Are Awarded to Drs. Robinson, Stone

Two Haskell chiropractors last weekend were presented certificates for having successfully completed a refresher course now required annually by state law for chiropractors to obtain renewals of their license to practice.

Dr. Gertrude B. Robinson and Dr. A. D. Stone received their certificates at the 49th annual convention of the Texas State Chiropractic Association in Dallas June 11-13.

Most of the discussions during the recent convention, Drs. Robinson and Stone reported, centered around disabilities originating in the spine and successful methods for their correction.

Major chiropractic speakers were Dr. J. R. Lasky, of Miami, Fla., an international authority on evaluating spinal disabilities, and Dr. William N.

Continuing of the president of a college. Other speakers included Texas' Attorney General Carr. The two Haskell graduates were among 200 from all over the state attending the three-day convention.

Many of the participants at the reunion were descendants of the late Wiley Sanders and his wife, who had 27 children, most of them early day settlers of Haskell County. The Simion Sanders, founders of the Texas branch of the Sanders family tree, had 21 children, one of whom was Wiley.

Among the past presidents of the reunion have been the late A. J. Sanders, of Weinert; the late Gusie Sanders, of Albany; Andrew Way, Snyder; Fred Jones, Plainview; Oman

The old saying... "Every dog has his day..." must hold true, because a look at the calendar reveals that Sunday, June 21, is Father's Day.

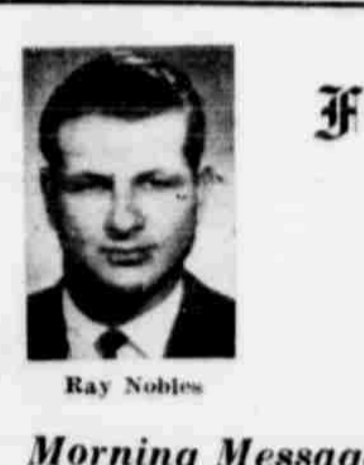

"You can't have your cake and eat it, too," but on Father's Day, Dad may puff a potent cigar, sport a flashy tie or shirt, but when the first of the month rolls around...

Father's Day this year falls just 2 days after "Juneteenth"... the day our Colored Brethren celebrate freedom from slavery.

Father's Day may be officially 54 years old, "come June 21," but tributes to Dad are an ancient tradition.

According to an article written by Jay Dee in the June issue of "The Lion," the first known tribute to fatherhood was made by Elmesu of Babylon.
