ONE THIRD WILL STAY HOME—

Now Is NOT The Time... For Complacency

But now IS the time... to come to the aid of our country by exercising your right of franchise, your right to vote, which all too often is so lightly regarded, but which is one of the most cherished privileges and a priceless trademark of freedom in this world.

The Bureau of the Census, one of the key agencies of the U. S. Department of Commerce, estimates that 114 million Americans will be voting age next Tuesday, General Election Day. Ten million of these will be persons who have reached voting age since 1960, who will be old enough to cast their first ballot as citizens of a free land.

But how many of these 114 million will vote next Tuesday? According to the American Heritage Foundation, 40 million, OVER ONE THIRD of the electorate, will not make their voice heard at the polls. They will not vote.

This is a phenomenon that baffles the experts. Brave people have died to obtain the right which MILLIONS of Americans decline to exercise as a privilege.

We in America are the fortunate heirs of men who fought, and fought hard, for the freedom to elect leaders who WERE RESPONSIVE TO THE NEEDS AND ASPIRATIONS OF THE PEOPLE. Because of them, we have the opportunity to decide policies affecting our own way of life and that of future generations.

Yet, in recent presidential elections in this country, more than one out of every three eligible voters were not heard on what kind of government he, or she, wants. Most people simply won't vote because they think their vote won't make any difference in the outcome.

This is the farthest thing from the truth. American democracy is founded on our faith in the INDIVIDUAL—our belief that each man's choice is equally important, and our confidence that in a free, educated society, the majority of the people will rule with intelligence and justice. Throughout our history, momentous decisions have been made by a majority of ONE—one presidential elector, one senator, one representative—and they are elected by ONE AVERAGE CITIZEN... YOU!

President Kennedy won election by a margin of 112,253 popular votes—LESS THAN ONE VOTE for each precinct in the United States. Altogether, the ELIGIBLE CITIZENS who DID NOT vote could have elected a THIRD MAN PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

Social scientists, examining the spirit of America, fear that we are becoming a nation of detached spectators. They cite the recent epidemic of crimes, committed while others looked on... and did nothing. Remember what Edmund Burke said? "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing."

Truly, politics is EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS. If you leave it to others, you in effect disenfranchise yourself.

Win or lose, no vote is wasted. Because it represents the opinion of an American citizen, YOUR vote is a matter of concern to the President of the United States, and to YOUR Congressman.

Each of us needs to have a greater sense of his own importance in our democracy. A person's OWN conviction of his OWN worth to society is a vital factor, perhaps THE factor, in responsible citizenship.

Whatever his color, whatever his bank balance... EVERY American citizen possesses THE MOST PRECIOUS ASSET in the world... A SHARE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Your trip to the polls next Tuesday will safeguard that share and insure its lasting value.

Your vote DOES count... but only when you go to the polls and cast it. Pre-election canvasses, surveys, polls DON'T COUNT. Complacency doesn't count.

You REALLY count, as a citizen, with a stake in the nation's affairs, when you exercise that precious privilege on Election Day.

Democrats, 80 strong, representing the county campaign organization, working their hearts out in behalf of a whopping majority for the LBJ-HHH and straight party tickets, thought perhaps they might have had one case of sabotage at the gathering in Sam's Cafe last Thursday night. Because one of the party faithful complained of being served a "Goldwater sandwich" at the Demo "hamburger banquet."

There was no meat in it. Speaking of sabotage, it has been learned reliably that the GOP, convinced they can't win the pre-election polls, decided some time ago to sabotage the pollsters, insofar as possible, in an attempt to lull Democratic voters into false security.

The closely guarded Republican strategy aimed at Goldwatering down the poll results works this way:

The party line is for the Goldwater "poll-cats" if interviewed by a pollster, to say he plans to vote for LBJ. This gives the Democrats an even bigger edge. The GOP hopes these results will lull the Democrats into stay-at-home complacency on Election Day. The Republicans are confident they will get ALL THEIR VOTE out and the poll-pollsters know it won't be enough UNLESS a sizeable number of Democrats stay at home.

Guess this counterinsurgency can take its place in the "lash" category... poll-lash.

Since next Tuesday IS general election day, and it comes but once every four years, we hope we may be indulged some more observations on the sidebars to political life as they have been waited back and forth across the nation these past several weeks. The "Nawthern" reporters aboard the Lady Bird Special train of 19 cars which recently made its swing through the deep South were supplied a "Dixie Dictionary" in conversational English. It included these items:

Yawl—not a boat, but more than one Democrat; Tall Cotton—what Southerners walk in, due to Johnson prosperity; Honey Chile—Young Citizens for Johnson; Kissin' Kin—anyone who'll come to the depot; Fat Back—Republican and is now returning to the Democratic fold; Yankee—object of good neighbor policy; High On The Hog—the gross national product under the Democrats; and Whole Hawg—all the way with LBJ.

Display of the old steam locomotive bell in the Courthouse lobby has caused quite a stir of conversation and reminiscence here. Mike Campbell, ex-railroader himself, endorses the "tone" of this "ding" of a ringer for which we are indebted to the thoughtfulness of E. L. Simmons, vice president; H. E. Moyer, district superintendent, and our own Gene Shackelford, man-about-the-depot here, all of the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad.

Mike and others here are anxious for the day to come when the bell can be permanently located where it can "ring out."

We agree with that, and the fact that the PEAL really has APPEAL.

The intense desire to ring that bell recalls days of our youth in Wichita Falls when a stray tawny bull-dog who found himself a home in No. 1 fire station at 8th and Ohio Streets, across the street from the Old Post Office, was taught by Fire Chief McClure and others to grab a leather rope which swung the bell on the biggest truck in the department.

For years, that smart dog jumped to his place beside the Tom Mapes, county commissioner in Precinct 2, and P. G. Kendrick, Precinct 3 commissioner, received injuries and bruises Saturday afternoon when the car in which they were returning from Haskell to Fort Worth, collided with a trailer on the highway several miles east of Throckmorton.

John Kimbrough, husky back of the Haskell Indians, crossed the goal line of the Rotan Yellowhammers four times here on Friday night and led his teammates to a 28-0 victory over the invaders. Haskell's hard-plunging youngster also made every kick good, even on the third touchdown, when he had to kick over because Haskell was off-side when the first try was made.

Mrs. Giles Kemp and sons, Billy and Giles Marion, spent the weekend at Bellevue visiting sister, Mrs. R. E. Cox and family.

H. T. Sullivan, a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, has been selected by the Haskell School Board for the position of vocational agriculture teacher in the local schools. He succeeds H. K. Henry, who resigned.

City officials have announced, effective with the last reading, the rate of $1.75 for 4,000 gallons of water each month will go into effect. During summer months, the City has allowed 7,000 gallons at the minimum rate.

George Moeller and daughter, Edna, and Alton Peiser, accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Jones left on every run the truck made and clanged the clapper for dear life. It was a sight to behold. And it was a sad day for folks all over the territory, for whom the dog had become "an institution," when he had to be "retired," having lived a dog's "three score and ten," and finally departed this world. We know he went to Dog Heaven.

If ever there was a Citizen Kane among us, we'll put in our oar for Gerald McCoy, an always-prepared Minute Man working in behalf of the welfare of his fellow Haskellites. We've heard a number of specific cases of the wrongs this fellow citizen has wrought. He always seems to be there when needed. At the Stamford ball game, amid the throngs there, he overheard a young lady say her car had coughed and sputtered just as she parked it near the stadium. She feared it was out of gas. It was, Our Gerald, "just happened to have" a five-gallon can of petrol in his car. He's the REAL McCoy.

Reported double-feature sign on area drive-in movie: Heavy Bodies and "Ask The Man Who Owns One." Tch. Tch.

Did we tell you about the return address legend on the Republican campaign material mailed recently from Abilene? It said, "Goldwater For President, Go GOP, Third Class."

Judging by the number of chest-fallen people we've seen lately, the Pencil Pusher not excepted, lots of folks must be living off the fat of the land.

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

Prior to the introduction of the 1965 Fords, the country's leading automotive writers drove the new models at Dearborn. Most of these experts remarked about the extraordinary quietness and smoothness of the Ford ride. An automotive writer, in Mechanix Illustrated, said, "If there is a quieter car made in this country, I haven't driven it."

Quiet Means Quality... Since quiet is a traditional measure of car quality, Ford engineers designed the '65 Ford for maximum quietness. To illustrate this quality achievement, Ford chose to make a documented test against the world's finest luxury car—Rolls-Royce.

Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., world's leading acoustic consultants to government and industry, conducted the tests under supervision of the authoritative United States Auto Club. All cars were tuned to factory specifications.

The Result... The Fords proved to be slightly quieter at all speeds. The official test report reads, in part: "At all moving speeds, on both courses, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royces."

The Difference... The sound level difference, to be sure, is small—but it is there. At 60 miles an hour, Ford was actually 2.8 decibels* quieter than Rolls-Royce. At 40, Ford was 5.5 decibels* quieter. At 20, Ford was 4.9 decibels* quieter. However small these advantages over Rolls-Royce may be, they are significant evidence of quality—important to anyone buying a car in Ford's class.

Take A Test Drive... A key—and a warm welcome—await you at your Ford Dealer's. The key, incidentally, fits in the lock no matter which side is up—symbolic of the hundreds of advances you'll find in any Ford you road-test. Come in and see for yourself.

*Decibels are the volume of sound units for measuring the intensity of sound.

TEST CONDITIONS: Dry, level, moderately smooth concrete divided highway; light, quartering wind. All cars operated at steady 20, 40 and 60 mph with all windows and vents closed. TEST EQUIPMENT: Bruel & Kjaer precision octave band analyzer, recording through direct observation and through Nagra precision tape recorder. Data expressed in Perceived Noise decibels. TEST CONDUCTED ON September 24, 1964, by Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., the world's largest acoustic consulting firm.

TEST CERTIFIED BY United States Auto Club. TEST CAR: new Rolls-Royce Phantom III sedan, 5.0 liter engine, 500 LTD Galaxie 500 XL and Galaxie 500 4 door sedan.

C. B. RHEAS FIND ALASKA TO BE AN INTRIGUING LAST FRONTIER

The frontier that is Alaska will not long be, in the opinion of a Haskell couple who recently returned from a leisurely sojourn to a part of America which "will be swept away forever with the onrush of civilization tomorrow."

This is the estimate made by Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Rhea, of Haskell, who systematically surveyed the Alaskan "commonwealth" in all its virgin glory during a visit to their son, Bob, and his family, and the Dr. Carroll Bledsoe and Rheas. They were particularly impressed by a trip to Valdez, a little community that lost so many of its men and homes during the earthquake. It is called "Little Switzerland," with its wooden buildings and wooden sidewalks nestled in the shadow of towering peaks.

Valdez and other earthquake stricken towns are repairing their ramparts with lightning speed, the Rheas said.

Veterans now of 1523 miles of Alcan Highway, "the most scenic road you will find," and the Yukon Territory, the Rheas are still exclaiming over "canyons so deep the bottoms are black."

Dawson City created another indelible impression on the West Texans, especially the 20 daylight hours in this Klondike Gold Rush area. "One morning, the sun high in the sky, we were hurriedly breaking camp rushing to get on the road. Climbing into the car, I asked what time it was," recalled Mrs. Rhea. "Three o'clock," my husband said. We found ourselves having mid-morning coffee at 7 a. m., and lunch at 10 o'clock. We soon found this would never do."

In Yukon "land of the midnight sun" on June 21, date of the equinox, the first day of summer, from the summit of Steese Highway, "you can watch the sun dip down to the horizon at midnight and then slowly mount in the sky again without disappearing from view," an enchanted Mrs. Rhea detailed.

The town of Homer, known as "where the trail ends and the sea begins," was literally that after the devastating earthquake had depressed the road there "as much as eight feet in places" and destroyed 17 bridges in the immediate areas, the Haskellites reported.

It was an out-of-this-world visit to the "top of the world" for the Rheas, whose secret hope is that civilization will "let Alaska be."

WITH INTRIGUING SPEECH TO ROTARIANS—BARBARA THOMAS IN PRACTICE FOR DIPLOMATIC SERVICE GOAL

Barbara Thomas, a winsome and engaging exchange student from northern Germany, announced to Rotarians in her adopted "home town" of Haskell Thursday her goal is a career in the diplomatic service, then went on to prove she's most likely to succeed.

Master of six languages, the First Methodist Church-sponsored student, who is making her home this school year with her Haskell "parents," Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Walker, spoke flawless English, though she has been here but three months, and admitted she experienced difficulty for awhile comprehending the West Texas drawl of her "father" and "mother," the Walkers.

Barbara, who is spending her senior high school year with the Walkers in a project of the Methodist Youth Fellowship in Haskell, qualified for the opportunity by competitive examination. Her plans are to return to Germany to study law in college, enter the diplomatic service, and she spoke softly in an almost reverent tone, "return some day to America."

The ingratiating German girl with a most contagious smile described to the Rotarians' delight and amusement some of the contrasts of her country and nation. She said football, to which the entire family goes here, is a "men only" sport in Germany, indicating that although women sometimes are invited, it's too rough a spectacle for them to enjoy.

West German men, Barbara said, usually get out one night a week to pursue her principal hobby, bowling, where again there are no women. But the women frequently have "hen parties," where talk is the principal item of "business," and "men have to leave the house" in a sort of reciprocal trade agreement, she explained.

Where the United States has many church denominations Germany has but two, Lutheran, among whom she is one, and Catholic.

Church-goers make up a very small minority of the members, who pay for the maintenance of the church with a type of taxation for all members, she said. Only about 100 members go regularly in her church which has some 5,000 members, Barbara said, and even they don't seem as dedicated or interested as church-goers here.

German schools have four years of elementary and about nine years of high school, for which one qualifies by exam after the first four, reported Barbara. No subjects are elective, and you take them "whether you like it or not," she declared. A basic course consists of chemistry, physics, and usually three foreign languages. The

Dear Sir:

I am enclosing check subscription renewal. This is the amount you have listed in the paper under rates. Hope it is correct.

I enjoy reading the paper every week, and especially the Haskell County History column, and also about the way Haskell citizens are forging ahead progressively in a lot of things.

In fact, everything except water supply. Whatever happened to that little kicked-around problem? Don't hear any more about it.

By being in the water utility business for the past 25 years, I am interested, and happen to know as a fact that no town, in past history, has ever gone very far progressively and expansively without an adequate and safe water supply. I believe a lot of your citizenry realize this, but some won't, or don't care.

I personally do not think Lake Stamford is the answer at this time. Maybe at one time, but not now.

Why am I sticking my two cents into this?

Well, as I have stated, I am interested and I happen to have been born and reared in Has-

Flameless Electric Cooking is all it could be

During the winter months when the house is closed up, a flameless electric range is almost a necessity. Only an electric range can prevent the ugly, oily film on windows, walls, cabinets...everything in the kitchen and adjacent rooms, because there's no combustion. Since heat is delivered directly by metal-to-metal contact with the bottom of the utensils, you don't have to clean soot from pots and pans. There's no doubt about it...electric cooking is clean, accurate, fast, and by putting the heat into the food, not into the air...you don't have to pay for dissipated heat.

Visit an electric appliance dealer soon and bring home an electric range so you, too, can have a bright and shiny kitchen.

FREE WIRING - An extra for WTU customers. If you are a customer of WTU and purchase your flameless electric range from a local appliance dealer, WTU will install the wiring at no charge to you.

Mrs. Burkett Is Speaker At B&PW District Meeting

Mrs. Luther Burkett, of Haskell, had a key role in the program at the district seven conference of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Snyder last weekend.

The meeting was interrupted by an announcement of tragic news involving three of the delegates from Brownwood who were killed en route to Snyder. Mrs. Burkett delivered the response to an address of welcome by Snyder's Chamber of Commerce manager, Woody Forrester.

Mrs. Carol Haberman, an attorney of San Antonio, president-elect of the state federation, was the principal speaker at the conference, challenging her audience to work to elevate the standards of all women in the professions and business world. She cited stability, wisdom and leadership as keystones of responsible citizenship in a community.

Proper programming, Mrs. Haberman said, builds quantity as well as quality in a B&PW Club.

MATTHEWS HAS QUALITIES TO MATCH STATE LAND JOB

It is too little understood how important the State Land Commissioner is in the Texas government.

He is in charge of the General Land Office. As such his responsibilities are widespread and awesome.

He collects and audits the oil and gas royalties, rentals and cash bonus income from the state school lands, which goes into the permanent school fund.

He does the same for the income from the University of Texas lands, which goes into the university's permanent fund.

He is chairman of the School Land Board which includes himself, the governor, and a citizen appointed by the governor.

He is chairman of all the boards for leasing school, university, prison and state hospital lands, serving with two members from the boards of each state agency involved.

The Records Division within the Land Office, with some 10 million records on file, is the basis for the titles of all lands in Texas.

He is chairman of the Veterans Land Board and administers that program involving purchase and resale of land and collection of payments in the veterans' land program.

In 1963 the Land Office took in a total of $36,904,000 in all funds, with the Land Commissioner administering and supervising this. This included $29-million from state school lands, nearly $18-million from University of Texas lands, and $6,900,000 in principal and $7,293,000 in interest payments in the veterans' land program.

This is the office for which John Matthews of Abilene is running as a Republican candidate.

Matthews is the man whom The Reporter-News wholeheartedly endorses.

We do this not because Matthews is perhaps the only Abilene man ever to make a serious campaign for state office in any party. This is of no significance, except that by his record as a citizen here, we know him and can commend him to the voters statewide in both parties.

Matthews is a member of one of this area's oldest and best-respected families, long prominent and successful in Shackelford County ranching. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Matthews of Albany, and was reared on his family's ranch near there.

At 45, he has a successful record of his own as a citizen and in his business interests of ranching, investments and banking.

His leadership is attested by the offices he holds in ranching circles. He is vice chairman of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and chairman of the Texas Experimental Ranch Committee which, through the Texas A&M Extension Service, conducts a test ranching operation in Throckmorton County. He also is a director of the First National Bank of Abilene.

John Matthews' integrity and abilities are unquestioned. He can bring to the office of State Land Commissioner the qualities needed to match its responsibilities. With the earnest support of his friends in this area, and those who know him in ranching, banking and business circles over the state, he can win victory on Nov. 3.

LIVING LANDMARK BEGINS 10TH DECADE OF SELFLESS SERVICE

MISS MAY FIELDS... NO TIME TO "PRETTY UP"

Miss May Fields, nonagenarian, nimble of mind and body, and the surprised honoree at a birthday party at her home here, exclaimed after it was all over, "I declare, I wish they had given me time to pretty up a little, especially since they took my picture."

The Haskell "school marm," one of the grand dames of them all, and a living tribute to the teaching profession, passed her 90th milestone on life's highway

Mrs. Wheatley Has Unique Program At Magazine Club

A unique program, "The Wheel of Time Turns to the Thirteenth Grade," was engagingly presented Friday at the Magazine Club by Mrs. Robert Wheatley, director.

Mrs. J. G. Vaughter discussed "Changing Educational Patterns in Our Culture," and Mrs. Lee Roy O'Neal posed the thought-provoking question, "Why Art in Education?"

The Penny Art Fund and Penny Music Fund activities also were discussed.

A coffee session concluded the fellowship, with Miss Nettie McCollum and Mrs. Elmer Turner as hostesses.

just the other day, and was honored with a party given by two ladies' classes of the First Christian Church, one of which is named for her, the "May Fields Class."

Mrs. Dennis P. Ratliff and Mrs. J. M. Glass made all the arrangements, including preparation of a cake which was inscribed, "Happy 90th Birthday, Miss May," and the surprise was absolute.

"Never had such a great day," declared Miss May. And she has had some banner ones. Most of them were connected with the teaching profession about which she recently "revealed all," after 70 years.

Filling in a data sheet at the instance of the historical survey committee of two of the more than 30 country schools that dated Haskell County at one time or the other, Miss May recently wrote of her first teaching experience. "I know now I could have made as all-supper if I had tried harder, but I was inexperienced and had a sweetheart in town."

This is a current reflection on her first year of teaching, 1893-94, 70 years ago, at Fairview, more often called Tanner School, at the extreme west end of Haskell County near the Brazos River on the old Raynor Road.

Even though she considered her beginning of a sterling teaching career inauspicious, Miss May went on to actively teach more than half a century during a continuing period that bridged four generations of many families.

A year ago this month, Miss May was one of the featured speakers, reporting for her class—the Class of 1893—in Haskell High School at this community's biennial Homecoming. When she finished, Homecoming President Clay Smith asked those present whom Miss May had taught to stand up. More than 50 ex-students, part of the crowd that converged on Haskell from three continents and 12 of the United States, rose to their feet. At least 45 years separated the age of the youngest from the oldest.

Another classic moment set down by Miss May in her history gathering assistance requested by R. C. Couch, Sr., chairman of the archives committee of the historical survey, was that, "It was such a lonesome time (when she first began teaching in the '90s) I decided I wasn't cut out to be a teacher."

Anyone entering the sanctuary of the Christian Church here on Sunday morning until just a few months ago, would be hard put to believe what Miss Fields said... because she was still teaching, 70 years later! Only recently did Miss May "retire" in favor of Mrs. Courtney Hunt and Mrs. Luther Burkett, present teacher of the May Fields Class. Miss Fields didn't miss a Sunday while substituting for her last year, Mrs. Hunt, who was ill, from last June until the end of the year.

And, at 90, she still is in Sunday School and church every Sunday morning.

The dedication of this remarkable nonagenarian to her career as a school teacher in the Haskell area is outdistanced only by a similar, and longer, devotion to her church. She became a member of the Christian Church here in 1890, 74 years ago, only two years after its founding in 1888, and has been there with amazingly few exceptions practically every time the doors opened throughout the years.

Talk of school days telegraphs to Miss May's active mind a myriad of memories, and particularly one other "great day" which should be recorded for posterity.

It is connected with a teaching position she had at "Four Corners," near Old Marcy, now Rochester, in 1908. She recalled "only one problem of discipline while there." And a visit not long ago with one of her pupils while there, now living at Quemada, Texas, recalled it.

Miss May said the boys in one of the classes had been acting "rambunctious." She sent them all out for switches, and when they returned with such "lethal weapons," she laid them on the desk. Notice enough had been served. Order was restored. She didn't use the switches.

"That former pupil said he'd always honored me for the way I solved this crisis," Miss May glowed.

And in Haskell County, every last citizen honors her, too, as Miss May enters her tenth decade of fruitful living, which always has been the exemplification of service above self.

VOTERS PONDER 3 AMENDMENT CHANGES TO CONSTITUTION

Voters decide Nov. 3 on three changes in the state Constitution.

On the ballot, as "for" or "against" propositions, are what could be the 156th, 157th and 158th amendments to the 1876 Constitution.

None has stirred up much debate. In their order, the amendments would:

1. Remove the legislature's authority to transfer up to 1 per cent of the permanent school fund annually to the available school fund.

2. Require notice to the public and to the Texas Water Commission of intent to introduce legislation creating or substantially altering a conservation and reclamation district.

3. Authorize the legislature to enact a program, under the federal Kerr-Mills Act, of financial help for Texans 65 and older who are on the old age assistance rolls but who can't pay for medical services.

Longtime precedent

Since 1891 the legislature has had power to shift not more than 1 per cent a year of the permanent school fund into the available school fund for current state school aid expenses. It has used this authority 12 times.

The permanent school fund of $535-million is invested in government bonds and some corporate stocks and bonds. The interest and dividends go into the available school fund. Increases in the investments' value and mineral income—such as oil and gas royalties from school lands—are not subject to automatic transfer to the available fund. They increase the permanent fund, which has been growing since 1948 at an average of $26 million a year.

Advocates of the proposed amendment say it will prevent depletion of the permanent fund by removing from legislators the temptation to dip in the fund to avoid new or higher taxes, which might be politically unpopular. They argue that mineral income is declining and the day may come when the fund will no longer be growing.

Opponents contend the legislature has used prudently and reluctantly its authority to draw on the permanent fund. They say the lawmakers should be allowed to retain the power for emergency use and such revenues as oil and gas royalties should be used as income for the available school fund anyway.

The second amendment, obscure in its wording on the ballot, requires newspaper publication of a legislator's intent to introduce a bill creating a conservation and reclamation district 30 to 90 days before the measure is submitted.

Also required would be delivery of the proposed bill to the eleven months, for the first time in our history, a native son has led the free world. And every Texan can take pride that President Johnson has borne the awesome burdens of the office with courage, wisdom and restraint.

THE QUESTION TUESDAY IS SIMPLE: WHO CAN BEST LEAD THE NATION IN A TIME OF CHALLENGE AND PERIL?

Who do you feel most comfortable entrusting the security and well being of our country and your children for the next four years—

A man who wants to turn back the clock of achievement... a man who has worked consistently against progressive measures in the Senate... a man virtually untested in a time of crisis?

Or a man who has dedicated his entire life to public service... who has demonstrated, under five administrations, progressive leadership in working for a better way of life for all Americans. A man who has proved his courage under fire... has demonstrated his unwavering strength to meet any aggressor with firmness, yet restraint?

PRESIDENT JOHNSON HAS PROVIDED RESPONSIBLE LEADERSHIP FOR MORE THAN A QUARTER OF A CENTURY

Three decades, President Johnson has been a pillar of strength for Texas. As Congressman, as Senator, as Majority Leader, as Vice President, as Chief Executive, he has written a proud record of progress.

In September, the Haskell youth was elected president of the Lawyers' Club at the college and will direct its activities through the year. He also is a member of Young Democrats for Johnson, Baptist Student Union and United Church Council.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Owens here, the Kilgore College sophomore plans to obtain a law degree and return to Haskell to establish a practice in his profession.

Kilgore College, the home of the nationally famous Rangerettes, has a record attendance of 3200 students this year. Last month was celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Rangerette organization.

gain because it helped me to feel better to show a little courtesy to the fairer sex... even tho' the woman ignored the little act of courtesy.

The above incident reminds me of the little woman who complained to her husband that before they were married he would open doors for her, walk on the outside, and show many little courtesies. "Why don't you still do that?" the wife asked. To which hubby replied, "Well, it's like this... did you ever hear of a fellow who fed bait to a fish after he had caught it?"

Don Alley, the friendly undertaker, must have been trying to drum-up some business. I was crossing the street near Haskell Auto Parts the other day and Alley, in his car, almost "ran me down on purpose." I knew a new business was pretty rough, but I didn't know it was that bad.

Down at M-System, Steve Stephens asked me if I would like to know what the weather was like in Los Angeles, Calif. Of course, I said, "yes," and Steve turned on his Aircraft Receiver set and had a complete report on the weather from the west coast in less than five minutes. John M. Edwards pilots his own plane in looking after his chain of M-System stores, and Steve can contact him over the aircraft receiver set.

I don't want to seem "sticky," but did you know this week, October 26-31, is "Honey Week." I am talking about the kind of honey that bees produce.

Each year during the last week in October, National Honey Week is celebrated in the United States and Canada. At this time, we are reminded of all the culinary creations which may be achieved from honey. I really didn't know that this week was "Honey Week," until I took a look at the calendar, but I had suspected it because over the weekend the Missus said to me, "Honey do this"...

Vote as you PLEASE... but PLEASE vote in the General Election next Tuesday, Nov. 3.

This scribe really doesn't know what Barry Goldwater stands for... all that I have read and all that I have seen on T-V is that he has blasted the Democrats. That's not much of a platform... and in your heart you know he is wrong.

Had you noticed the improvements on the North Side of the Square? All of the buildings, from Haskell Auto Parts north to Lyles Jewelry, have had a new "face lifting" and, of course, the Theron Cahill building is all new... inside and out.

The Lions chili supper last Friday night was very successful. Everyone seemed to enjoy the evening of food and fellowship. This scribe had a very efficient helper (Rev. J. V. Patterson, First Methodist Church pastor in the coffee-making department. Travis Smith remarked that the coffee of Prattle turned out last year was so strong, thick and black, it had to be sliced before serving...

Guests, other than the District Governor at Tuesday's meeting, were T. C. Williams, Cisco, and Tom Parker, Midland.

Chili Supper Success

The chili supper staged by Lions last Friday night was a "huge success," with a large turn-out for the evening of food and fellowship.

Harold Spain, secretary, reported $267.25 in ticket sales, and when bills are paid the club will net more than $200 from the project.

Money from the chili supper will be placed in the Lions Goodfellow Fund to help less fortunate families at Christmas time.

and the drippings from the coffee urn left pock marks on the floor. Purcell the vote that could be closer in other areas of the state. "Personally, I think the President will carry every county in Texas, except perhaps Dallas," declared Purcell.

Introduced at a "hamburger banquet" by Former District Judge and former State Representative Dennis P. Ratliff, Purcell pounded home the need for getting out the vote by reminding that Republican John Tower was elected to the U. S. Senate by some 10,000 votes while 260,000 fewer Democrats went to the polls than had gone in any recent election year.

39th District Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, who has been on the bench here more than 20 years and a leader in area politics for longer than that, paid glowing tribute to the Congressman's stature as a statesman in the second meeting of the night, a rally attended by more than 200 in the Courthouse.

After Horany spoke in behalf of Senator Ralph Yarborough's candidacy, Purcell reiterated the need for returning the senior senator from Texas to Washington "to help the President." "Texas with two Republican senators would be a ridiculous thing, and I can name many things that would not take place if we have two Republicans in the U. S. Senate," Purcell warned.

Reviewing the record of President Johnson, the Congressman said, "Our President was raised in a town smaller than Haskell, or Archer City where I came from, and is a man who came up the typical American way, more so than any President in recent history. He was selected a leader among leaders as majority leader of the Senate, and when you impress men who aspire to that same leadership themselves, you prove the real mettle of the man, Lyndon Johnson," Purcell emphasized.

The Congressman reminded that LBJ and Mr. Sam Rayburn perpetuated the Eisenhower administration through their control of both houses of Congress. "This country would have gone to a halt without the two Texans, and President Eisenhower knew it," said Purcell. "Not one time has he criticized Johnson or his dedication," he added.

"If you want the government to get out of agriculture, as the Republicans propose, all the Hasskells, the Throckmortons, and the Seymours of our nation would be in utter chaos," he reiterated, "and the farmers, two thirds of them, would be broke in two years."

Congressman Purcell closed with the frank statement, "For the first time in my life I have developed a genuine fear for the future of our country if Mr. Goldwater, a man with absolutely no program, is elected. Let's keep Texas and America secure with the leadership of a man who has more down-to-earth training and background than any President who has been in the White House in the last 100 years."

Haskell County Democratic Chairman Clay Smith, and Mrs. Smith, chairman of women's activities; Co-Campaign Chairmen R. W. Herren and Porter Oakes, Mrs. Herren and Mrs. Oakes arranged the two events here. Oakes was master of ceremonies for both occasions.

Roy L. Petrich Is Promoted To Staff Sergeant

Sgt. Petrich, who recently was named "Airman of the Year" at Minot AFB, is an administrative specialist in a unit that supports the Strategic Air Command mission of keeping the nation's intercontinental missiles and jet bombers on constant alert.

A graduate of Paint Creek High School, he attended Plattburgh (N. Y.) State Teachers College and Minot State Teachers College. His wife, Wanda, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Donaldson, of Knox City.

Mrs. W. P. Trice, visiting school nurse in Haskell, was appointed educational chairman for the Haskell county unit for 1964-65, and will make available to all interested schools and organizations films, educational pamphlets, and other material pertaining to the fight against cancer.

November 16 is the date set for the next meeting of the cancer unit in the Community Room of the bank here. At that time, the Special Service Chairman and co-workers will present the program, Mrs. Herren said.

Contributions of this type will be received at the Haskell Cancer Center on Thursday afternoon or at the Haskell County Welfare Office in the Courthouse any day of the week.

Mrs. Hester announced the state convention of the American Society will meet in San Antonio Nov. 18, 19 and 20.

Horse Sale Set Next Wednesday At Ring Here

Several registered horses, Apollos, grade horses and Shetland ponies already have been consigned, and more are desired, for a special horse sale to be held at the Haskell Livestock Auction Company's trim facilities less than a mile south of Haskell city limits on U. S. Highway 277, the Stamford highway, next Wednesday, Nov. 4, at 7 p. m.

Owner-operator Tommy Ray Foster reports that several out-of-state buyers will be on hand for the special sale which will be handled by well-known auctioneer Alfred Green, of Cisco.

The public is invited to attend the horse auction at which registered horses will be sold first, Foster said.

Next Wednesday's special horse auction will be held at the same ring where cattle and hog sales are regularly held each Saturday at 1 p. m. in the comparatively new facilities here, which were built and opened 15 months ago by Foster, a native Haskell rancher-farmer and stock raiser.
