Tubb awarded first ever Derek W. Griffith Memorial Scholarship

Editor's note: These photos and story were provided to the Herald by Howard College.

Special to the Herald

It is always a beautiful day when we can share the value of education with our students. Today, Jayden Tubb, was recognized as the first recipient of the Derek Wayne Griffith Memorial Endowed Scholarship.

The scholarship was established this year by Steve and Jo Stone in memory of their son Derek. Tubb is the son of Theron Tubb and Michelle Moore. Grandparents are David and Cindy Tubb.

The scholarship will be given each year to a choir student at Howard College.

Derek passed away in January 2020. He played baseball and sang in the choir and in Rhapsody at Big Spring High School and was the first freshman to be selected for Meistersingers at that time. After graduating in 1990, he then attended Howard College and while there, he toured across the country, singing with the Joe Whitten Prison Ministries. He loved singing the National Anthem, unaccompanied, at the Howard College Hawks basketball games.

We are very grateful to the family for entrusting Howard College with the scholarship fund and look forward to watching it change lives and help make dreams real for generations to come. #makingdreamsreal

A Moment in History Monkey Ward

By TAMMY SCHRECENGOST

Heritage Museum of Big Spring

"Monkey Ward" was a popular nickname that the company tried unsuccessfully to discourage. The nickname was used by competitors and was a play on the Montgomery Ward name.

In the Spring of 1929, plans were being drawn by a local architect firm for a 100-foot x 140-foot building to be built at Third and Gregg streets. The new structure was named the Willcox-Ellis Building after the owners. The structure was deep and narrow with three divided areas for business. Each two-story building had a basement and an elevator. The first renter of the building was United Dry Goods Mercantile. Their space was on the west side of the building. Montgomery Ward opened their store in the fall of 1929.

Shoppers were excited to have two three-level department stores in Big Spring! Customers had shopped in the Montgomery Ward catalog since 1872, but now they had an actual store with bargains and sales.

Once Montgomery Ward signed on to rent the space on the far west side of the building, United quickly took lease on the available empty section that was between their store and Montgomery Ward.

The stores both opened right at the beginning of the Depression; however, oil had been discovered in Howard County and the community was rapidly growing, as was the department stores' business. Both department stores were so successful that the owners of the building made a complete renovation, including painting the interior walls seafoam green. The columns and pillar were finished in silver, and a new front was applied to the building. The windows were replaced with a black Carrera glass with silver trim, and a new oak floor was installed throughout. Numerous mirrors were added to both stores along with lighting and fixtures. Several modern thinkers wanted to shake off the pioneer mercantile image and move to the more modern "Art Deco/ Nouveau" style.

Both stores had new grand openings and offered bargain prices. The mezzanine or top floor was reserved for fashion. The basement held small appliances, auto parts, and hardware. The main floor was called the Home-makers Floor, and had anything a housewife needed to keep her home in perfect condition, from vacuum cleaners to electrical washing machines and refrigerators. United Dry Goods Store closed their doors in 1946 and Montgomery Ward rented the entire building.

Readmond also served as a Reserve Deputy with the Hudspeth County Sheriff's Office since September 2015.

"Deputy Lorin Readmond was a Chief Petty Officer in the United States Navy Reserve where she served as an Intelligence Specialist from 2006 until 2018

In August 1965, Montgomery Ward moved to the new Highland Mall. The new Ward store had 42 departments that included, hunting and fishing gear, auto repair, large catalog department, appliances small and large, shoes, clothing, paint, television and stereos, tools, an 8-stall auto service center, wide isles to shop in and a snack bar. The building was cooled and heated with central air, something that was lacking in the old store. There was another incentive for moving to the mall, parking for "1800 cars," something downtown did not have. The new store was an excellent opportunity for employment as it offered paid insurance and pension plans along with the security of a steady salary and stable company for the employee's future.

The old Wolcott-Ellis building was torn down in 1970 after the owners bailed and did not meet their tax obligations.

March of 1985, Montgomery Ward announced they would be closing the Big Spring Highland Mall location. They gave the excuse that it was due to the oil bust and poor economy in the area however, Montgomery Ward Corporation was suffering their own losses. It was a huge blow to the local economy and to the owner of Highland Mall, Kent Morgan. The popular catalog had also been suspended in 1985.

By 1990, the low-price competitors such as Walmart and Target, were edging out the department store. Montgomery Ward filed Chapter 11 Bankruptcy in 1997. On December 28, 2000, Montgomery Ward ceased to exist.

The Big Spring Lady Steers were a little sluggish at the start of their game against San Angelo Lake View Friday night. But once they got into gear Big Spring smashed the Chieftains 53-30 at Steer Gym. The win enabled Big Spring to remain in second place in district play behind Levelland.

It was tough going for Big Spring in the first quarter. Lake View's zone defense caused a few problems. Big Spring was four of 14 from the floor and led 10-6 after the first thanks to a layup by Tristan Smith and a three-pointer by Alex Enriquez.

In the second quarter Big Spring went to full court pressure and it made a world of difference. Lake View started turning the ball over and Smith heated up from the outside for Big Spring.

They (Lake View) packed in on that zone and it kind of confused us," said Big Spring coach Eric Tuttle. They played us man-to-man the first time we met. It was tough, we couldn't hit any shots. So we started to put pressure on the ball to speed things up. We don't like to play slow, we want to get out and run."

That's exactly what they did as big Spring scored 20 points in the second quarter, limiting Lake View to one free throw by Amber Garivy. Big Spring had the game in control, leading 30-7 at intermission. Smith scored 10 points in the quarter and Ryen Terrazas controlled the boards all night leading Big Spring to a 32-16 advantage. Terrazas stood above the rest, making five of 10 field goal attempts to go along with 18 rebounds, many coming on the offensive end. She also blocked three shots.

Smith shot the ball well also, making eight of 14 field goals for a gamehigh 21 points.

Lake View's only offensive threat was Makayla Wagner who led all scorers with 23 points.

"In the second half i thought we controlled the tempo well. We hit a few shots from the outside and then we started to get some layups," Tuttle said.

By STEVE BLEVIN

The San Angelo Lake View Chiefs never had a chance from the start. The Big Spring Steers made sure of that as they jumped on the visitors quick, fast and in a hurry on their way to a 83-22 walloping Friday night at Steer Gym.

The win keeps Big Spring (5-1) in second place in district play behind unbeaten Lubbock Estacado, who beat Big Spring 70-54 on Tuesday. Friday's game was about as lopsided as you could get. Big Spring started quickly with a three-pointer by point guard Gavin Greathouse and a steal and layup by Kaegen Mitchell. Big Spring led 17-7 after the first quarter. That's when the rout really started.

The Steers went to their full court press and the Chiefs really fell apart. Big Spring stretched its lead to 28-7 in two-and-a-half minutes. The Chiefs turned the ball over time after time as Greathouse, Mitchell, Chris Martinez and Sa'quan Fizer caused havoc on Lake View ball handlers. "We wanted to press them and get the steal and that's exactly what we did," said Big Spring coach Bobby Cash.

That was putting it mildly as Big Spring came up with 20 steals, causing 31 turnovers. Not many times a team has more turnovers than points, but that's what happened to the overmatched Chiefs.

By halftime Big Spring had racked up 48 points, holding Lake View scoreless in the second quarter. The game gave Cash to empty his bench, giving his reserves lot of game time. Reserves Derrick Ford, who was 3 of 3 from the field for seven points, along with Kadyn Kitchens and Malachi Renteria all contributed nicely.

Martinez and Greathouse paced Big Spring with 24 and 17 points respectively. Isaiah Holloway turned in another strong game with 12 points and seven rebounds. Big Spring could do very little wrong it shot 55 per18 - 83.

Famous Hand

would be for South to bid four spades directly over one club. In the play, West leads a club, and East promptly collects the Q-K-A. It is West's discards on the second and third clubs that determine the outcome.

If West throws two diamonds, or a heart and a diamond, on the high clubs, South will inevitably score seven spades and three diamonds for 10 tricks. The only way for West to defeat the contract is to discard the six and ace of hearts! East then returns a heart at trick four, assuring West of a spade trick regardless of how declarer proceeds. While it is highly unusual for a th defender to toss an ace away, West should reason that he has nothing to lose and possibly much to gain by discarding both of his hearts. If South is void in hearts, the heart discards are necessary to promote a trump trick. Even if declarer has a heart, West will be able to ruff East's heart return at trick four as South follows suit. Thus. West should conclude that discarding both hearts cannot fail to set the contract no matter what declarer's hand actually is. Though this conclusion necessitates throwing an ace to the winds, the deed must be done.

Warm up the crowd at this year's playoff tailgate

Tailgating at the big game is a time-honored and beloved tradition for millions of football fans. Tailgates tend to be parties in parking lots, and no party is complete without food.

The best teams in the National Football League will battle it out on the year's tailgate. Better yet, it makes excellent use of leftover Texas-style beef brisket, giving football fans a great reason to smoke some brisket in the days before the big game.

4. Season with salt. Stir in the tomato paste. Close the grill lid and cook for 1 minute or until bright red.

Close the grill lid and bring to a simmer. Cook for 1 hour or until thickened. Serve immediately. 1. Trim off any hard fat from the brisket and square off the edges. Trim the fat cap down to an even 1/4-inch thickness. Sprinkle evenly on all sides with the salt and pepper. Refrigerate overnight.

2. Prepare the grill for smoking at 250 F to 275 F.

This deal appeared in a British par contest many years ago. The par for North-South was to reach four spades; the par for East-West was to defeat the contract.

The bidding shown, which includes a strong jump-overcall by South, was the popular route to four spades at the time. Since most players now use the jump overcall as preemptive, the spade game would be reached today by a different sequence of bids. One possibility gridiron in their quest for a championship this January and February. Despite chilly temperatures, fans of those teams will undoubtedly be tailgating outside the stadium before and after the games. A hearty dish that sticks to the ribs can make it easier to withstand winter weather at this year's playoff tailgate.

This recipe for "Brisket Chili" from Will Budiaman's "The Essential Kamado Grill Cookbook" (Rockridge Press) can be just what football fans need to stay warm at this paste 2 teaspoons cayenne pepper

1 28-ounce can diced tomatoes 2 15-ounce cans kidney beans, rinsed and drained 1 pound Texas-style beef brisket (see below), chopped

1. Bring the grill to 500 F with the cooking grate installed, then preheat a 5-quart cast iron Dutch oven on the grate with the lid closed.

5. Rest the brisket, wrapped in foil, for 1 to 2 hours before serving. Cut across the grain into 1/4-inch-thick slices. Pour over as much of the drippings from the pan as you like, and serve.

A Call to Aquarian Altruism

Like a dog in a panda suit, emotions have a way of disguising themselves as other emotions. In today's costume party of feelings, pride goes as anger; anger gŏes as depression; arrogance goes as insecurity; disappointment goes as stoicism. Challenge yourself to think the best of others as we are all prone to the deception of feelings. ARIES (March 21-April 19). To honor your fire, give yourself permission to be as intense as you want to be about certain things within particular boundaries outlined by you. Direct your own constellar powers of communication. It's easy to get frustrated by those who won't say what they mean or mean what they say. Finding patience is a worthwhile challenge. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). It's rare, but it happens. Sometimes you really do feel like the world is one big, welcoming community. Just liking to be around people is a contribution that lifts spirits

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Things get overwhelming when you take them too seriously. To relax, try letting your thoughts pass through your mind like water, as though there's nothing to grab onto and if you tried, it would only slip through your fingers.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Jan. 31). You'll rack up achievements big and small but no matter what happens you'll remember your roots, credit your team and appreciate your good fortune. Helping family solve problems lends a strong sense of purpose and many unexpected joys. New hobbies are favored to connect you with fresh sources of inspiration. Taurus and Virgo adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 8, 10, 4, 33 and 9.

COSMIC QUESTION:

"I'm a Taurus and I've met the man of my dreams -- a Sagittarius. The only problem is, he doesn't seem as into me as I am into him. He does seem to like me, but the intensity isn't evenly matched. What should I do?"

Stay in control and self-contained. Don't gush or let him know that you've lost your heart to him. Part of love is learning who the other person is and what he needs and accepting that. A Sagittarius man requires lots of unexpected excite-ment from the girl of his dreams, so don't stay on one note. Taurus gals can be stubborn. Once you realize what works for you, you may try to press that button until the cows (or bulls, as the case may be) come home. But what's working will cease working if it's overdone. Change it up. Be artful. One week, you're the supportive cheerleader who calls to rally him. the mysterious goddess instead; you Greta-Garbo him. Then what's next? Maybe nothing at all. Maybe something thrilling. Only you know. Keep him suspended in wonder.

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
