A Big Spring woman was killed in a wreck in Midland County this past weekend, according to a statement released by the Texas Department of Public Safety.

According to the statement, Emily Nicole Crawford, 23, of Big Spring was parked on the north shoulder of Interstate 20 near Mile Marker 148, about nine miles east of Midland, after her 2017 Buick Encore ran out of fuel. Willie Daniel, 61, of Laurel, Miss., was traveling west on Interstate 20 when his 2006 Dodge Dakota veered onto the shoulder and struck Crawford's vehicle from the rear.

> Crawford was pronounced dead by a Midland Fire and EMS investigator. Daniel was treated and released from Midland Memorial Hospital.

> According to the report, weather at the time of the accident was clear and the road was dry. Neither Daniel nor Crawford were wearing a safety belt at the time of the wreck.

The accident was investigated by Midland Highway Patrol Trooper Levi Wilcox, assisted by Highway Patrol Sgt. Molly Hinojosa, also of Midland.

Council approves "Good Samaritan" landfill fee waiver at Tuesday meeting

Big Spring citizens interested in cleaning up the city's public areas will no longer be on the hook for landfill fees, after the city council approved a "Good Samaritan Ordinance" at its meeting Tuesday evening.

The ordinance creates a section of the city's Solid Waste code named "Persons against litter and illegal dumping," which reads "The City Manager is authorized to waive landfill disposal fees upon application of a person or disposal of matter collected from public rights-of-way, easements, and property."

The ordinance goes on to note

An applicant shall provide the location and general description of the matter to be removed and disposed of," the ordinance reads. "The person shall provide written proof to the City that the landowner consents to the removal of the litter or illegal dumping."

The ordinance also specifically directs the City Manager to approve such applications if he determines "...that the matter poses a threat or danger to the public health, safety, and welfare as defined by the City Council...".

During consideration of the ordinance, Big Spring's Scott Emerson addressed the council, suggesting that they also institute fee-free days at the landfill to encourage citizens to clean up the city. At the end of the meeting, Councilman Cody Hughes (District 3)

"People thought I was this doll that came to life, so I would have different people just treating me very strangely as far as I was concerned. They wanted to see if I was real."

Big Spring ISD board of trustees to discuss upcoming school board election

By ROGER CLINE Herald Staff Writer

At their meeting Thursday, March 10 at 5:15 p.m., Big Spring ISD trustees will consider issues related to the upcoming General Election, scheduled May 7. With three seats on the school board up for election, two candidates are running unopposed, leaving only contested one race.

The contest is for the District 6 seat currently held by trustee Amy Baeza. Baeza, however, has opted not to run for re-election. As a result, two other candidates have stepped up to vie for the seat: Bryan Stokes and Krystal Borggren. Stokes is Director of Institutional Effectiveness is the owner of Texas Baker at Howard College. Borggren re-election. Trent-Allan Trinidad is running unopposed for the seat Wash will vacate. In District 7, board member Fabian Serrano, Workforce and Community Development Officer at Howard College, is running unopposed for reelection.

During the meeting, board members will certify unopposed the candidates and consider canceling the two elecwithout tions opposition. Assuming the elections are canceled, board members will declare the unopposed candidates elected.

Board members will also give official notice of the one remaining election.

The meeting will begin with prayer, Pledge of Allegiance, and public comments, followed by special recognition of the district's Skills USA State Qualifiers and regional qualifiers in powerlifting.

Board members will next consider approval of minutes of the February 10 regular meeting and the February 17 special meeting, as well as financial reports.

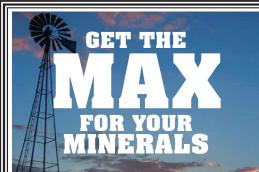

In Action Items, following the items related to the election noted previously, board members will consider a budget amendment and expenditure more than $150,000 for improvements to the High School Auditorium.

Board members will also consider selecting an architect/engineer for ionization, electrical, and HVAC improvement projects during 2022.

The board will consider employment recommendations and personnel issues.

Superintendent Jay McWilliams will offer his regular report, including resignations and retirements, enrollment report, an update on the status of COVID-19 in the district, and other district updates.

Following McWilliams report, the meeting will be adjourned.

Obituaries Betty Lou Pearson

Born to John Henry & Lonie Mae McClary of Braman, Oklahoma, April 11, 1929, Betty Lou was brought into this world, and the world would never be the same. She grew up in Odonnell and graduated high school in Big Spring, where she would reside most of her life.

Betty Lou led such a full and colorful life; it's hard to know where to begin. Betty and her first husband, Wesley Martin, started the first Haliburton Camp in Big Spring. He proceeded her in death, but her ties to the oil field would last her lifetime. In her fifties, she became the owner of D & R Casing Services, and it still operates to date. As most of you know, she owned Betty Lou's Bar for over 60 years & became the Queen of Jones Valley. One of the hardest working women you'd ever meet, she was also kind and generous. She'd give you a meal, a place to stay, loan you money, just about anything you needed; and she was glad to do it. But you better be ready to work if she called you, and if for some reason you didn't answer when she called, she just might make a 5 a.m. trip to your house to make sure you did answer. She would always say, she had told many a husband, "It's the lunch pail or the suitcase." Whether you knew her as a Mother, Maw, Granny, or Wife, Betty Lou's personality was bigger than life, and she will be deeply missed by everyone who knew her.

Betty Lou was preceded in death by her parents, husband: Levi, and grandson: Brandon Martin.

Betty Lou is survived by three sons: John Wesley Martin & Karen of Big Spring, Rodney Glen Martin of McAllen, & David Lee Altom & Michelle of Plano; 4 grandchildren: Ava Blair & Tyson, Channing Martin & Kyle Conley, Colby Altom, & Melanie Mauldin; 4 great-grandchildren: James Blair, Nick Mauldin, Jake Mauldin, & Dylan Martin.

Visitation will be 9 a.m. until 9 p.m. Wednesday with the family receiving friends from 5 p.m. until 7 p.m. at Myers & Smith Funeral Home. Funeral service will be 2 p.m. Thursday at Myers & Smith Chapel.

Arrangements are by Myers & Smith Funeral Home. Pay your respects online at www.myersandsmith.com.

applauded Emerson's suggestion, offering other suggestions such as public recognition for citizens who do the most to clean up the city.

Following the invocation and Pledges at the start of the meeting, Jessica Bailey addressed the council on behalf of the local business Fruit Paradise. Bailey asked the council why the city denied the business' request to locate a commercial building at 1108 E. Fourth Street. City staff took Ms. Bailey's phone number to discuss the matter with her outside of the City Council meeting format.

Following the public comment section of the meeting, Mayor Shannon Thomason opened a public hearing regarding a Tax Increment Reinvestment Zone (TIRZ) to be located in downtown Big Spring between First and Sixth Streets, and from Gregg Street to Goliad Street.

The item was also discussed later during the New Business portion of the meeting, when Maher Maso of Dallas-based Ryan, the company headed by Big Spring benefactor Brint Ryan, addressed the issue, explaining the purpose of a TIRZ.

"This is not any new taxes. It does not raise taxes. It does not impact property taxes. It is a way to reinvest certain property taxes that are growing," Maso said. "The state legislature created the legislation with that intent. It really is to jump-start development. Jump-start economic development – speed it up, and ultimately, really, generate new property taxes for the city to use to grow and provide services."

Maso told the council that property on the city's tax roll prior to the creation of the TIRZ will not be impacted by the program. As the value of property within the zone increases, or new property in the zone is added to the tax roll, a portion of taxes on the new value will be placed into a special fund to reinvest in projects designed to raise property values in the zone."

"Grow economic development, making public improvements – sidewalks, water, sewer, facades, and many other things you can do with it," he said. "Some people hear property taxes – you're not raising property taxes. You're actually doing the opposite. You're trying to create economic growth to grow your property taxes and provide services."

The council approved the downtown TIRZ unanimously, setting the reinvestment percentage at 50 percent, meaning 50 percent of property taxes on new value within the TIRZ will go into the reinvestment fund, while 50 percent will go into the city's General Fund.

In other business, the council unanimously approved vouchers for Feb. 24 in the amount of $812,296.46; and for March 3 in the amount of $194,094.41.

The council approved an interlocal agreement with Howard College for the 2022 seal coat project, allowing the college to join with the city to have its on-campus streets sealcoated.

The board approved by acclimation the nomination by Councilwoman Gloria McDonald (District 4) to place Jay Patel on the Convention and Visitors Bureau Board. Councilwoman Diane Yanez (District 2) withdrew her nomination of Jeremy Longoria Sanchez to the Zoning Board of Adjustment.

At the end of the meeting, the agenda indicated that the council would adjourn into executive session to discuss litigation and/or real property with City Attorney Andrew Hagen. However, when Mayor Shannon Thomason called for a motion to adjourn into the closed session, no council member offered such a motion. Finally, Councilman Maury Smith (District 6) moved to table the item. The motion was quickly seconded by Mayor Thomason, and the motion was approved 4-2, with Councilman Nick Ornelas (District 1) and Councilwoman Diane Yanez (District 2) dissenting. Councilman Troy Tompkins (District 5) abstained from the vote.

Following the vote to table the closed session, Mayor Thomason adjourned the meeting.

Today is Wednesday, March 9, the 68th day of 2022. There are 297 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On March 9, 1933, Congress, called into special session by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, began its "hundred days" of enacting New Deal legislation.

On this date:

In 1796, the future emperor of the French, Napoleon Bonaparte, married Josephine de Beauharnais (boh-ahr-NAY'). (The couple later divorced.) War II, U.S. B-29 bombers began launching incendiary bomb attacks against Tokyo, resulting in an estimated 100,000 deaths.

in Histo

In 1964, the U.S. Supreme Court, in New York Times Co. v. Sullivan, raised the standard for public officials to prove they'd been libeled in their official capacity by news organizations.

In 1976, a cable car in the Italian ski resort of Cavalese fell some 700 feet to the ground when a supporting line snapped, killing 43 people.

In 1987, Chrysler Corp. announced it had Gore.

In 2020, global stock markets and oil prices plunged, reflecting mounting alarm over the impact of the coronavirus. An alarmingly sharp slide at the opening bell on Wall Street triggered the first automatic halt in trading in more than two decades; the Dow industrials finished nearly 8% lower.

Ten years ago: A high-profile international mission to end the Syrian crisis stumbled before it began as the opposition rejected calls by U.N. envoy Kofi Annan for dialogue with President Bashar Assad as pointless and out of touch after a year of violence. Lindsey Vonn of the Opening lead — jack	of club	DS.

Declarer often encounters a situation where it is more dangerous to have one defender on lead than the other and must do all he can to prevent this from happening. Here is an unusual case where South applied the principle twice in the same hand.

West led the jack of clubs, and declarer counted his potential losers. He realized that he might lose a trump trick (if he misguessed the trump situation), a club trick and two spade tricks. The only way he could lose two spade tricks, though, was if East gained the lead and returned a spade through the king and West had the ace. Otherwise, South could eventually discard two spades on dummy's diamonds. South therefore embarked on a South therefore embarked on a line of play that was designed to keep East off lead. His first step was not to play the queen of clubs from dummy at trick one. This eliminated all chance of East ever obtaining the lead with a club.

After the jack held, West led another club to South's ace, and declarer now pursued his overall plan by leading a trump to the king and finessing the ten on the way back.

When the finesse succeeded, South drew the last trump and claimed 11 tricks. But note that he would have been on equally firm ground had the trump finesse lost to the doubleton queen in West's hand. In that case, he would have finished with only 10 tricks, but still would have made the contract.

In tackling the trumps as he did, declarer was not so much interested in guessing the location of the queen as he was in making sure that if he lost a trump trick, it would be to West, not East. With West on lead, the contract was secure. In 1841, the U.S. Supreme Court, in United States v. The Amistad, ruled 7-1 in favor of a group of illegally enslaved Africans who were captured off the U.S. coast after seizing control of a Spanish schooner, La Amistad; the justices ruled that the Africans should be set free.

In 1862, during the Civil War, the ironclads USS Monitor and CSS Virginia (formerly USS Merrimac) clashed for five hours to a draw at Hampton Roads, Virginia.

In 1916, more than 400 Mexican raiders led by Pancho Villa (VEE'-uh) attacked Columbus, New Mexico, killing 18 Americans. During the First World War, Germany declared war on Portugal.

In 1989, the Senate rejected President George H.W. Bush's nomination of John Tower to be defense secretary by a vote of 53-47. (The next day, Bush tapped Wyoming Rep. Dick Cheney, who went on to win unanimous Senate approval.)

In 1997, gangsta rapper The Notorious B.I.G. (Christopher Wallace) was killed in a still-unsolved drive-by shooting in Los Angeles; he was 24.

In 2000, John McCain suspended his presidential campaign, conceding the Republican nomination to George W. Bush. Bill Bradley ended his presidential bid, conceding the Democratic nomination to Vice President Al

United States won the World Cup giant slalom race in Are, Sweden to clinch her fourth overall title.

Five years ago: Human rights lawyer Amal Clooney urged Iraq and the world's nations not to let the Islamic State extremist group "get away with genocide," telling a U.N. meeting that what was "shocking" was not just the group's brutality but the "passive" response by the world's nations.

One year ago: Buckingham Palace said allegations of racism made earlier in the week by Prince Harry and Meghan, the Duchess of Sussex, were "concerning" and would be addressed privately by the royal family. Longtime NBC and CBS correspondent and television anchor Roger Mudd died at his Virginia home at the age of 93.

Mercury Turns Up Sensitivity

To be grateful for circumstances you do not prefer may seem as nonsensical as tipping well for bad service, yet there is an advantage to finding something to appreciate. As Mercury crosses into sensitive Pisces, the power move is one of acceptance and inclusion. People will be eager for the comfort a little encouragement can provide.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You'll see the end of a struggle. This could pertain to something you do for money versus something you do for love. Neither side of your conflict will be a clear winner, but the situation will resolve

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Time bends. When you're waiting, the minutes stretch through eternity. When you're in the flow, time blurs. And in vour dreams, time is irrelevant. As you master this day, you'll seem to have control over the flow of time

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You may pretend you don't know something because it helps the other person save face, or focus your attention on what others need even though it's silly. In the end, diplomacy benefits you

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Today there's a whimsical world playing inside your head, while the outside world is rather routine. Your creativity will grow as you try to reconcile these two experiences

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22).

You know money doesn't buy happiness, but that doesn't make you satisfied with less money. So, you'll do emotional work for personal fulfillment and professional work for dollars

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Your critical thinking skills are on point. You'll make keen observations and articulate them well. This benefits you best when strategically paired with the spirit of diplomacy

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You know what it's like to say the wrong thing at the wrong moment, so you react with compassion when someone else makes this mistake. The goodwill you generate helping someone save face is karma in the bank. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-

Nov. 21). Fear is energy; it is therefore directable. Fear can give you the fuel to run, think fast or fight. If you know where you'll run to, what problem you'll solve or what's worth fighting, you'll have a good place to direct the energy

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). The tools used to create will be a focus. But don't be fooled; the tools do not make the creation. Creativity is in the head and heart. Fancy, expensive tools can actually work against the art.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You're confident in your abilities, but a loved one is even more so, talking you up behind your back and paving the way for your next opportunity

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). A conversation has stretched on and on and will continue to do so until someone walks away. Since no agreement will be reached, you must decide whether the conversation is intrinsically rewarding to stick with PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). There's a decision to make about a relationship. It's not something you'll make together. Think about what you want and what you won't have and make some plans about what you'll do when and if your boundaries are crossed.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (March 9). Your specialty this year is delighting people. You'll build on past work to create what no one is expecting. You'll be paid well for taking on some unusual responsibilities. Fun dates and travel will be summer highlights. Your empathy and compassion attract quality people. Together, you'll make a difference in the world. Sagittarius and Leo adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 12, 44, 8, CELEBRITY PRO-FILES: Pisces is the sign of dreamy imagination, blithe spirit and deep empathy -- qualities that Pisces actress Juliette Binoche brings to every project from "The English Patient" to "Godzilla" and bevond. Binoche has natal Mercury and Mars in Pisces, too, adding to the ethereal innocence she radiates at every age.
