Jones & Son Enlarging Sheet Metal Shop Here

Jones & Son Sheet Metal Shop, located at 106 South Avenue E in Haskell, is in the heart of a large expansion program. The establishment is enlarging their present 70x100 building to a 70x140 ft. addition, which will give them an additional 7000 sq. ft. of space to turn-out large sheets for sheet metal products for a wide area.

The service station, which was fronted by the establishment in 1923, has been torn-down, and in the future all activities will center around sheet metal products.

Jones said the Sheet Metal Shop, one of the largest industrial sheet metal shops in the state, has 50 turn-out sheet metal machines for cotton gins for an east and west of Woodson in the New Mexico line, as far as to Lubbock and south to Angelo. "Around 50 percent of our orders come from the Plains," David Jones said.

Jones sheet metal plant an investment of more than $100,000. "We have our seasons just most business," young Jones said. "When crop comes—then, of course, business is affected, but under normal conditions, we stay booked in advance."

Dr. Elwin Skiles Is Lions Ladies' Night Speaker; Officers Installed

"This is the day that the Lord has made and each day that comes is a fresh revelation of God," Dr. Elwin Skiles, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Abilene, told a large crowd at the annual Ladies' Night Banquet of the Lions Club of Haskell here Tuesday night, at Sam's Cafe.

"Fresh opportunities comes to each of us each day, new doors will open and each day is the time for fulfillment of action," Dr. Skiles told the attentive group of Lions and ladies.

"We must make each day count in our lives, and the way to do that is to give our love and service to others," the guest speaker said.

Dr. Skiles, who was accompanied to Haskell by his wife, touched briefly on some of his experiences of his travels. He has traveled extensively in Europe, the Near East and the Orient.

Dr. Skiles packed power and wisdom in his talk Tuesday night, and reminded those present that "this is the day that we make our lives count for God and service for mankind, because it is later than we think, and tomorrow may be too late."

Travis Smith lead the opening song and the invocation was given by Rev. W. L. Henry. President Frank Martin introduced the special guests, and Wallace Cox Jr., introduced the speaker.

Haskell County Has Had A Total Crude Output of 46,411 Barrels

Haskell County, which has had recorded production since 1925, has had a total crude oil output of 46,411 barrels up to the beginning of 1964.

Small, Enthusiastic Group Attend 'Town Hall' Meeting

Larry Milner, Community Coordinator for (West Texas), Texas Industrial Commission, and Walt Warner, Assistant Director, Texas Tourist Development Agency, of Austin, spoke to a small but enthusiastic and interested group of Haskell citizens in a "Town-Hall" meeting Thursday night in the District Courtroom, courthouse.

Milner presented several ideas on how Haskell might boost its payroll, and Warner explained how a community such as Haskell might gain new dollars through the promotion of tourist attractions.

Don Muenzer, president of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, presided, and introduced the speakers.

"Industrial development is creating job opportunity," Milner said.

"Texas is getting its share of new industries, and Haskell has just as good a chance to land some of these plants as any other community. Your neighbors, Olney, Winters, Big Lake, Brownwood and other towns, have moved-out in industrial development, and so can Haskell," Milner told the group.

"A town must be ready and prepared to get industry," Milner pointed out.

"Some important and essential factors in attracting industry are raw materials, transportation, geographical locations, and community attitude. We can not do very much about raw materials and geographical locations, but we can do something about our community attitude. All of us can be a booster, and speak a good word about our town, and not knock it," Milner said.

"Things which Haskell can do in preparation for laying the ground work to interest industry are: Research and Analysis, Community Financing, locating industrial sites and prospecting," Milner said.

"The future of Haskell lies in your hands," Milner concluded.

Tourist Development

"Tourism is an industry—in fact it is big business," Walt Warner pointed out.

"If just eight tourist cars a day stopped in Haskell, it would create a $100,000.00 per year industry," Warner said.

"Merchandise selling and telling other people what Haskell has to offer tourists such as the museum, camping grounds, you are now working on, would attract tourist dollars," Warner said.

"Don't knock your town, speak a good word for it, and develop what you have," Warner told the attentive group.

"Texas is badly in need of public camping grounds for tourists," Warner pointed out.

Several of those persons present at the "Town-Hall" meeting aired their views and fired questions from the floor to the guest speakers, and president, Don Muenzer.

A heavy cellar door weight fell on Karen's foot. It required several stitches to "sew-up" the young lady's toe.

Ossie Was Just Cookin' Meat

Firemen made a call to 1808 North Avenue A, just a little after 5:00 p. m., Wednesday of last week.

Ossie King, who lives alone in the little frame house, had put on some meat to cook, but in the meantime dropped off to sleep.

With the exception of some damage to the ceiling of the house, and Ossie's meat "all gone up in smoke," little damage resulted, as firemen soon had everything under control.

Ossie might have been trying to get a head start for the "Juneteenth" celebration. You didn't have to ask Ossie what was cookin'—because Ossie knew.

Anyway, Ossie had enough tobacco juice in his mouth when he was interviewed by the Haskell Free Press Editor, to have easily put out the fire.

FOOT IN THE DOOR

Some people seem to think that those who are critical of medicare are callously disinterested in health problems of the elderly.

That just isn't true. A great many who are deeply concerned with the health needs of that growing part of our population are extremely dubious of the principle which is at the heart of medicare — and of what the effect would be on the standards of care.

A thoughtful observation recently came from the Portland, Oregon, Journal, when it said: "There is a real need for a system to ease the financial burden of 'catastrophic illness' and old age ailments, but the public also has a major interest in seeing that any such system does not threaten the quality or the independence of the medical profession.

"Our medical treatment can only be as good as the ability and character of the men and women who are attracted to the medical and allied professions, and are willing to spend the long hours of study and training to obtain their goal. Any downgrading of the profession through government interference or red tape, even though unintended, will tend to channel much of this talent into other fields of endeavor."

The danger in the present medicare setup is that it is a political issue, a vote-getting vehicle.

Its proponents do not like to call it socialistic, but anytime government takes over an activity and you pay a compulsory assessment for its service, whether you use it or not, you have socialism, no matter what you call it.

Elder care, which combines government aid for those who need it with a voluntary health insurance plan for those who can pay some or all of the cost, is more in the U. S. tradition of choice rather than compulsion of the foreign brand.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Independence Day will soon be with us. And many a person will wistfully and nostalgically wonder, "Whatever became of the old-time Fourth of July?"

There are various answers. The urbanization of the country is one. Mobility which, whatever its attractions, makes for family rootlessness, is another. The enormous distraction of the present age are still another. And so is a preoccupation with material things which tends to obscure simpler and often more profound virtues.

At any rate, the Fourth our fathers knew was a special and unique observance. It was a happy combination of fun and reverence for the men and principles that make up our rich history. The flag flew everywhere. The speakers' stands in the town squares blazed with bunting, and the bands tirelessly played patriotic airs. Fireworks exploded endlessly, ranging from the ubiquitous firecracker to stunning set pieces celebrating great events of the past. It was a wonderful day for young and old.

Not the least of its attractions were the fiery addresses, made by well-known public figures of the time. Some of these, needless to say, were of a low oratorical level. But all of them had one thing in common. They paid tribute to freedom, and how it was won, and what was needed to maintain and defend it. The theme was patriotism—dedicated, unabashed. And every listener went away with a little better knowledge of our inheritance as a people and a little more determination to keep the spirit of the founders alive.

The old-time celebrations will be few and far between this year, but whatever we do, wherever we go on that day, let us take a moment to think what freedom and independence, in the fullest sense of those words, mean—and let us determine that our heritage shall never be lost.

Haskell County History

30 YEARS AGO
(June 13, 1925)

W. O. Walton has reopened his studio upstairs over Gholsion Grocery and is now ready to serve this section with high class photo service.

An election has been called in precinct 2 for Saturday, June 29, by members of the Commissioners Court at the request of 52 qualified voters who wish to again vote on whether or not legal beer can be sold in the precinct. The voters of precinct 2 have voted upon the question twice—once with the state as a whole, and again last year, with a majority of the voters balloting in favor of the sale both times.

The advisability of the erection of a County Hospital was discussed by a citizens committee with the Commissioner's Court here Monday afternoon, and it was decided to feel out the sentiment of the people in parts of the county regarding the proposition and report to the Commissioner's Court during the coming week.

Moving of the home office of the Pioneer Mutual Life Insurance Company from Haskell to Dallas was begun here Wednesday.

Placing first in the cross country riding and jumping contests, and tying for first in night riding, H. K. Henry, a first lieutenant reserve in the U. S. Army, and formerly vocational agriculture teacher in Haskell High School, scored one of the most outstanding records made recently at Fort Riley, Kansas. Mr. Henry also made a creditable showing in the mounted pistol and leading small unit events. The former Haskell instructor passed the examination for a captain's commission at San Antonio last week. Mr. and Mrs. Henry are in Haskell at present on a short leave, awaiting assignment.

Mrs. J. F. Kennedy returned to her home in this city Monday after a two weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Watson, of Wichita Falls, and her brother, R. L. Lowe and family of Electra.

The Haskell County Fair Association reports many entries coming in for their Motorcycle Speed Classic to be held July 4.

We are informed by Manager J. A. Gilstrap of the Farmers Gin Company that Leon Gilliam will keep books for the gin this coming season.

Last Tuesday morning, beginning about 2:00, .88 of an inch of rain fell here. The precipitation was reported very light at Weinert and parts of the county report good rains. The sandy section near Rochester and Rule had been blown out during the several days of winds preceding the rain, and some had just been replanted and the strong wind in front of the cloud which was reported in some localities to have almost reached damaging velocity, covered up many acres of the newly planted fields and the farmers are again busy planting their crops for the third time.

A dog belonging to John Kendall began acting strangely early in the week and Tuesday while a number of men were at the Duncan Gin, he became enraged and made repeated attempts to get to them; finally the dog was shot and killed by Dr. A. Q. Gentry, who happened to have a shotgun in his car. The men who saw the dog said it had gone mad.

The high school group will perform in two one-act plays

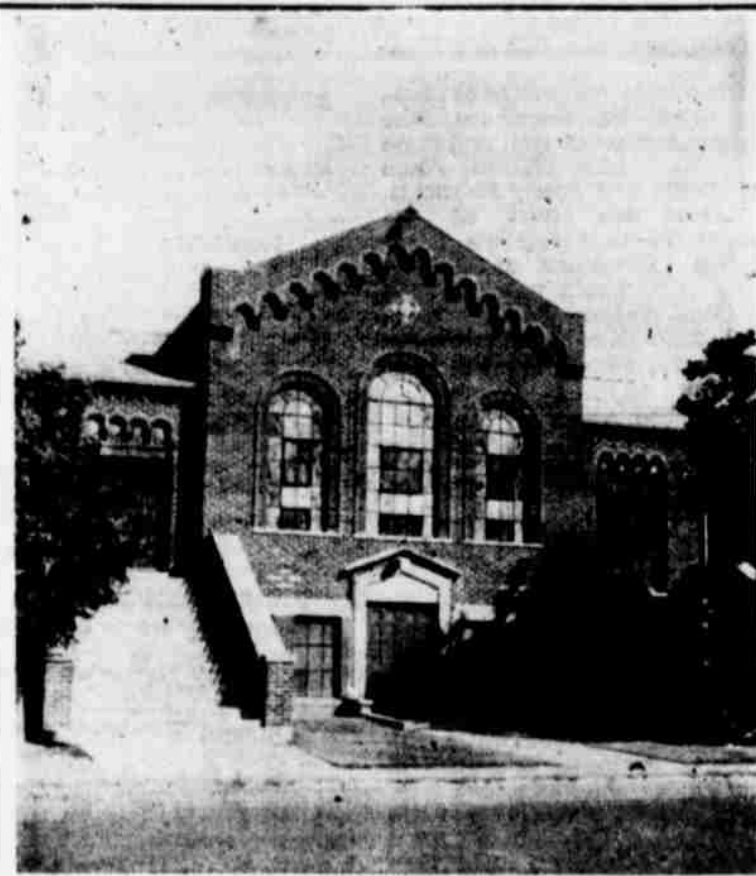

July 6-7 in the Laboratory Theater. The productions, open to the public without charge, will be presented at 8 p. m. on July 6 and at 2:30 p. m. on July 7.

SPACE CAPSULES

Doctors at the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston believe they have isolated a virus which causes "pink-eye" in cattle. They plan to use the virus in a vaccine which they hope will prevent the disease. If they are successful, it will mean a saving of millions of dollars annually to the beef and cattle industries all over the world. The scientists think the action of the "pink-eye" virus may be related to the development of "cancer-eye" in cattle. If this proves to be true, one vaccine could serve to wipe out two costly cattle diseases.

At the conclusion of the program, a short business session was held. Report was given on a trip made to Stephenville for a State meeting on June 5. Eight members from the Haskell Chapter attended this meeting, along with club sponsor, Mrs. W. P. McCollum.

Officers for the coming year were elected, as follows: Mrs. Janice Browning, president; Mrs. Jeanette Friarson, vice president; Mrs. Shirley Greenroy, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Ann Klose, treasurer; Mrs.

Mary Lee Sorrells, reporter, and Mrs. Mauryce Peiser, parliamentarian. A bake sale will be held Saturday, June 19, at Frazier's. Orders may be placed in advance with any club member.

VALUE OF 1964-'65 TEXAS COTTON CROP

Value of the 1964-'65 Texas cotton crop was about $650 million, representing a $150 million drop from the preceding year, University of Texas Cotton Economic Research reports. Texas ginned 4,053,030 bales for the 1964-'65 season by Jan. 16, 1965. The total was about 323,000 bales below the figure at the same date in the 1963-'64 season. The decrease was attributed to three factors: a smaller crop, a price decrease for lint and cottonseed, and a lower state average for grade and staple lengths.

The groom is the grandson of the late Mrs. Velma Sanderson of Haskell.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace over candlelight taffeta. The fitted lace bodice featured long sleeves, a pearl encrusted scalloped neckline and a wide cummerbund of peau de soie. Tiny seed covered buttons closed the back. The bouffant carpet length skirt was fashioned with four deep tiers of lace. Bride's shoulder-length veil of illusion was edged with wide lace and was attached to a crown of lace dramatized with pearls and was accented with circles of tulle. of pearls, gifts from the bride, and each carried a cascade bouquet of pink Sams carnations, pink miniature chrysanthemums, white gladioli florets with loops of shocking pink ribbon.

Barry Mashburn served as best man. Tommy Smith of Austin and Herbie Martin were groomsmen. Ushers were Ronnie Bagley, Doyle Choate of Boyd, cousin of the bridegroom, and Hal May of Fort Worth, cousin of the bride. Mark and Dennis Sanderson, brothers of the bridegroom, lighted candles.

Mother's Attire Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, wore an ivory silk linen suit with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink lace carnations and miniature chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's mother chose a two-piece dress of blue lace with white patina accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations and miniature chrysanthemums.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in fellowship hall. Musical selections were provided by Miss Judy Manning. Bride's table, laid with a floor-length cloth of white net over satin, was centered with an arrangement of pale pink and shocking pink carnations and candytuft. At each corner of the table were clusters of pink flowers holding a pink drape. Baskets of pink gladioli and palms with hurricane lights decorated the reception room.

House Party Mrs. John Hudgins served the tiered wedding cake which was decorated with pink roses and topped with a nosegay of pink carnations and candytuft. Miss Evelyn Thompson of Abilene, and Mrs. Ben May of Fort Worth, aunts of the bride, ladled pink punch from a silver punch bowl. Miss Londa Campbell and Mrs. Doyle Choate were also in the house party. Miss Sharon Fores presided at the register. An arrangement of pink carnations, candytuft and a pink taper decorated the register table.

For a short wedding trip, the bride chose a two-piece dress of pink linen. Her accessories were white. She wore a white orchid from her bouquet.

The couple is at home at 106 E. Second St., Del Rio, where the bridegroom is employed with a radio and television firm.

Early Control Of Grasshoppers Is Suggested

Grasshoppers are beginning to appear in many areas of the state, causing damage to rangeland as well as cultivated crops.
 Grasshopper control should start when hoppers become noticeably abundant, according to M. V. Meisch and W. H. Newton, Extension entomologists at Texas A&M University.
 Signs of threatening infestations of young hoppers to crop lands can be found along roadsides, canal and ditch banks, in idle land bordering cultivated fields and in the fields themselves.
 Field margins are usually the hatching places for grasshoppers that damage row crops. Early treatment of such areas before the young hoppers move from their hatching beds will reduce the acreage that might otherwise need treatment, say the entomologists.
 Insecticides in the form of sprays, dusts or baits can be used to control grasshoppers. Sprays give higher initial kills than dusts and continue to kill for a longer period of time.
 Sprays have largely replaced baits. Baits may still be used in situations where sprays cannot be used or when sprayed leaf surfaces are not sufficient to prevent migrations from nearby untreated vegetation.
 Bait should be spread uniformly, by hand or with a broadcasting machine, at the rate of 20 pounds per acre. It should never be stored on the ground and all that is spilled should be cleaned up. Bait should be stored where livestock cannot reach it.
 Meisch and Newton recommend MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Grain and Forage Crops," for current grasshopper controls. They suggest contacting the county agricultural agents office for a copy of the guide and other needed information.

June Is Dairy Month

June is a time of recognition by the nation of the dairy industry's vital contributions to the health and wealth of America. The month-long observance, now in its 29th year, continues to pick up promotional steam, says A. M. Meekma, Extension dairy specialist, Texas A&M University, and ranks as the biggest single food sales and information campaign in the food field.

June was elected as the time to tell the dairy industry story—production is at its peak during this season, explains Meekma. Businesses of all kinds endorse and cooperate with the American Dairy Association to sponsor it.

George J. Knigge, a well-known Harris county dairymen, is serving as Dairy Month chairman in Texas, according to Meekma. Knigge is currently vice-president of the ADA of Texas and president of the South Texas Producers Association.

Meekma and Knigge point out that dairies throughout Texas and the nation are holding an "open-house" during June and many special events ranging from milk drinking contests to county-wide dairy farm tours will help acquaint the public with the dairy industry and make dairymen better known to the public they serve.

Food editors, nutritionists and others concerned with the American diet are emphasizing milk as "nature's most nearly perfect food" during the month and are pointing out that a proper diet should include milk and milk products.

 The two dairy leaders extend an invitation to the public to take advantage of the open-house offer by dairymen and "try them a visit."

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

BY MRS. GENE OVERTON

Hot! Isn't it! But there is usually a good breeze, and the men on the tractors say it wouldn't be half bad if the insects would let them alone. Gnats and mosquitos are the worst. The weeds have grown so high that when the tractors go through, they disturb the homes of insect and animal. Our tractors scared a coyote out of that field by the highway. Wallar strapped on his pistol yesterday afternoon. He thought he might get in some good hunting as he plowed. But the land is in good shape if we can get the weeds out before they sap all the moisture.

The community extends our sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Gonzales. Their oldest son, Fred, was injured in an automobile accident near San Angelo Saturday night and died Sunday in a San Angelo hospital. Mrs. Ray Perry and Mrs. Hoyt Perry took Mrs. Gonzales to San Angelo, but Fred died before she got there.

The funeral was in St. Ann's Catholic Church in Stamford on Tuesday afternoon at 4:00. Fred was 20, and attended Paint Creek a year or two when his family worked for Paul Fischer. He had several half sisters and brothers. Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales lost another son, Rudy, last spring with a virus. They were afraid for several days, until the report came back from Austin, that Rudy might have had rabies. Rudy was a third grade student.

The Methodist Church members and their pastor, Rev. Patterson, had family night last Wednesday night and a meeting of the official board. Homemade ice cream and cake were served in fellowship hall, and afterward the class on Exodus, taught by Eric Bergstrom, was held in the sanctuary.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Cathey and daughter, Elizabeth, spent several days at their home here last week.

Mike Overton, senior at Texas A&M, next fall, left Wednesday for six weeks of ROTC training at Fort Bill, Oklahoma. Rev. and Mrs. D. S. Moore and family of Crossroads community spent the day Monday visiting in the community.

Debbie Sandefur of Fort Worth is spending this week with her grandmother and grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Kuentler and her cousin, Phyllis Middlebrook.

The Bill Wilson Ford Motor Co. needed two cars taken to Midland Tuesday, so Clara Ann Fischer and her mother, Mrs. Paul Fisher, drove them out there for them and visited their sister and daughter, Mrs. Sam Chaffin and Mr. Chaffin.

Draft Boards Called On For More Physicians

Physician interns not previously ordered to military duty through the draft, can now expect to receive induction orders in the near future, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said.

Colonel Schwartz said he had received official telegraphic instructions to have local draft boards order "all remaining physician interns" available.

He estimated "about two dozen interns, more or less," would be qualified for induction throughout the state "as soon as our processing of medical manpower is completed."

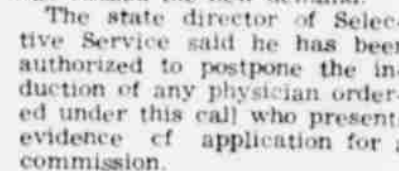

State draft boards were called on in the spring for 41 physicians for the armed forces, to enter on active duty in the summer. Increase in this call by the Department of Defense has caused the new demand.

The state director of Selective Service said he has been authorized to postpone the induction of any physician ordered under this call who presents evidence of application for a commission.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

Don't let light showers cause loss of flowers. Tiny roots reach up seeking moisture which is quickly dried out by high, hot winds. Moisture gone, the roots soon die, causing plants to lose their bottom leaves.

Scorched leaves at the base of a plant shows lack of deep moisture. When plants show damage, thoroughly soak the soil. This will prevent any further damage.

Many women in Haskell territory are more garden conscious than ever before. It seems, hail, high wind and adverse weather have been a challenge instead of a deterrent.

Gardens are flourishing throughout the county. Many new plants have been added to gardens this year.

Mrs. Ed Fouts' house is framed in ruffled pink petunias and many colored pansies.

The patio is graced by large white urns of portulaca, Shasta daisies border a backyard flower and vegetable garden. Many other flowers turn the yard into a gardener's paradise.

Nettie McCollum has enjoyed her climbing peace rose this spring. Several varieties of dahlias have added color and beauty to the yard.

Mrs. E. W. Pruitt has had real pleasure in dwarf yellow and French marigolds. Mrs. Pruitt (Joan) transplanted her marigolds during a rain. The flowers hardly knew that they had moved to a new home.

All is not well in the Pruitt yard. Once again leaf rollers have invaded their trees.

Leaf rollers are caterpillars which feed on rolled up leaves. These leaves act as a protection from the caterpillars natural enemies. They also act as a protection from insecticides, making it hard to completely eradicate the pests.

There are many types of leaf rollers. All are of the caterpillar variety. Fruit tree rollers are most prevalent in North America. They feed on many deciduous trees (leaf losing).

Lead arsenic or DDT sprayed early on trees will prevent an invasion of leaf rollers. Either of these chemicals are toxic and should be used with care.

Once leaf rollers are hidden in a leaf, hand picking is the best way to destroy the caterpillar. Hand picking and fall clean-up will cut down on leaf roller damage.

Mrs. Drey Lowe is having some difficulty with rose bushes turning yellow, with bright green veins. I am experimenting with soil acidifier. I'll write the results next week. I feel it is working well for this trouble.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Internal Revenue Service often gets a question, "What do you do after April 15?" The good folks at Internal Revenue collect a lot of other taxes besides income taxes. There are excise taxes on jewelry, automobiles, and many other things. These taxes are not paid on April 15 but are paid by the manufacturer or the place of business on a quarterly basis. The income tax may be the big tax, but the most talked about tax, but the tax folks work on hundreds of other taxes during the year. The tax calendar is loaded with filing dates and, of course, the tax returns have to be processed after they come in.

The two million surviving veterans of World War I average 70 years of age, according to the Veterans Administration.

A book is now nearing completion on the Foster family which traces the family history back to 837 A. D. in Germany.

Mrs. Foote is the former Maybelle Foster.

The motorist drove up to the filling station. "Five gallons," he said. The attendant took down the heavy hose that lifted the pump starter button. But nothing happened.

In her home a lady put on her apron and plugged in the electric cleaner. Nothing happened. In a store a salesgirl made a sale and pushed the button on the cash register. Nothing happened. In the Haskell Free Press, the printer threw a switch to start a press run, but nothing happened. The linotype machine would not turn a cam—the electric typewriter in the front office wouldn't hum a bit—you see, a transformer 'blew-out' at the West Texas Utilities sub-station here and left the town without electricity for nearly four hours—that happened on Friday, May 21. The power failure halted business far more effectively than any edict of a president or prince. Haskell and America itself may be a town or nation of freemen politically, but Nature still rules the world—for the power failure was attributed to a little bird which was building its nest, and in so doing, had picked up a tiny wire instead of a twig of grass.

The pipes lay cold upon my desk—no tempting cigars are in sight as this scribe put them all away six weeks ago. The days and nights are long "since they went away—the pipes and cigars, that is."

The aroma of sweet, cool, burning tobacco in Dr. Wm. J. Kemp's and Vance Abeld's pipes takes me back to dreamland. Have I quit smoking?—Don't dare ask me that question, I am just abstaining from day-to-day from the tobacco habit—and have joined the "PTA"—Pipe Tobacco Anonymous.

Had you ever noticed that Father's Day usually comes on, or near June 19th each year? Father's Day, this year, comes just one day after our Colored Brethren celebrate Emancipation—freedom from slavery.

Summertime is the time when it's too hot to do the chores around the house it was too cold to do last winter.

Be thankful for the problems on your job! If you didn't have them, you would not be there; and if they were less difficult, someone with less ability would have your job.

It is commendable to have ambition, but not the over-vaunting kind of which Shakespeare spoke. Do not set your goal so high as to discourage yourself when trying to achieve it. Those who hitch their wagon to a star seldom get off the ground, but instead, bump along the ground while being dragged. Your good intention, your resolution to succeed in a big way can be stretched to the limit and will snap when trying to make the long jump. Take it easy. One step at a time will get you there. Bear in mind the fable of the tortoise and the hare.

Take pleasure in the little things, in small gains, in gradual improvement. These are of the present, and are important today—now. Take time to do a good turn for someone who is not expecting it.

The man who works his way up is on a firm foundation. He knows the details on which efficiency is built. If he is likeable, which in a great measure is up to him, he will be given more responsibility, row by row, as the superstructure is built. Make a possible plan for success; have the persistence to work at it, and the patience to find satisfaction day by day.

In the newspaper work you don't have to go to work—you are surrounded by it all the time.

Truth is stranger than fiction, but it is because fiction is obliged to stick to possibilities; truth isn't—Mark Twain.

If there is anything that makes a husband angrier than his wife's refusal to tell him where the money goes, it is to tell him.

A talkative young woman sat at dinner beside Isaac Newton one day. "My dear Sir Isaac," she ventured, "how did you ever happen to discover the law of gravitation?" "By constantly thinking about it, madam," was

Cotton Farmers Are Opposed To Subsidy Scheme

Cotton farmers all over the Rolling Plains and throughout the Cotton Belt are alarmed about the apparent pell-mell dash to cram government payment down the throats of producers. These same farmers are tired of hearing non-farm groups say they know what the farmer wants. Cotton farmers are perfectly capable of presenting their own case. Cotton growers repeatedly have registered opposition as strongly as they know how to any change in the present skip-row planting measurement and to prevent direct payments from the government treasury which are closely scrutinized by the urban population.

The House Agriculture Committee, although it hasn't sent a cotton bill to Congress, now appears ready for an effort to cut the national allotment 2 million acres, drastically reduce the skip-row planting and get a direct farmer payment plan enacted into law.

A compensatory payment program would make cotton farmers wards of the federal government. It would, in fact, put them on the federal payroll without civil service status.

Cotton farmers aren't nearly as divided on the issue of compensatory payments as some non-farm groups and trade officials who have been wooed into the direct subsidy camp profess to have detected.

A direct subsidy plan, in its simplest terms, would involve dropping the government loan to around the so-called world price level and issuing supplemental subsidies directly to growers. The low loan level still would be set by the Government. The low loan level would act as an umbrella to the world market and other cotton exporting countries would continue to sell just under the price announced by the U. S. The low loan level would not sell any larger volumes of cotton.

Growers fear, among other things, that any compensatory payment plan inevitably would mean limitations on the payments any individual farmer may receive. A direct subsidy program would reward inferiority and inefficiency and would penalize foresight, ambition, and initiative. The inevitable limitations would put a ceiling on op-

Teenage Drinking Will Be Discussed At Annual Institute of Alcoholism

Professional workers throughout Texas who deal with problems of alcoholism will gather in Austin, Texas, June 27-July 2 for the Eighth Annual Institute on Alcoholism.

They will discuss teenage drinking and ways to prevent it from becoming middle-age alcoholism.

They will hear lectures by experts on the latest information and the newest medical and social methods available for use in the prevention and treatment of the illness.

They will seek better answers for the old question: What can the average Texas community do to combat alcoholism? What can the church do? What can the school do? What can the family do?

Some 200 participants expected for the institute on the University of Texas campus will include physicians, teachers, social workers, law enforcement officials, clergymen, health personnel and rehabilitation counselors.

The institute is being sponsored by the Texas Commission on Alcoholism and the University Extension Division, in cooperation with the Texas Education Agency.

Marion W. Freeman, executive director of the commission, said the program will be aimed at giving the participants some what-to-do and how-to-do information and ideas they can use back home.

"As in the past years, the main object of this institute is to foster follow-up activity by the participants in their own towns and cities," Freeman said.

As examples of this local follow-up activity, Freeman listed:

1. Local conferences on alcoholism for special groups such as teachers, clergymen, etc.
2. Enlisting or continuing the help of local news media in informing the people about alcoholism as an illness.

the prompt reply of the great scientist. Average men in great numbers achieve distinction. Often talented men fail. We are reminded that Lord Kitchener, the idol of England, was one of the dullest boys who ever entered school. Charles Darwin, the eminent naturalist, was so unpromising as a lad that his father prophesied that he would be a disgrace to the family.

These men overcame their handicaps; they were plodders, it may be, and not geniuses. But what have been the doers of important deeds? Geniuses? Yes, some of them, but not a majority, by all means.

Daffynition: A third grade youngster asked to describe the taste of chocolate, thought a moment, then replied: "Chocolate tastes the opposite of vanilla."

Some members keep their organization strong, while others join just to belong. Some dig right in—some serve with pride—some go along just for the ride!

"Troy Post" Award Winner Is Announced

Joseph John Kelly, III, of Texas City, has been named Young Texan of the month and winner of the Troy Post Award.

Post is a former Haskellite who left here in about 1936 to seek his fortune, and he did just that.

The 17-year-old high school senior is an honor student, star football and basketball player, and avid fisherman.

After graduation from high school, he plans to enter Baylor University as a pre-law student. The Troy Post Award is made monthly to a Texas teenager selected by a board of judges headed by U. S. Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark. At the end of the year, the twelve monthly winners will compete for the title of Teen-Ager of the Year, and a $2,000 college scholarship.

The Young Texan program has been active for seven years under the joint sponsorship of the Troy Post Foundation and the Optimist Clubs of Texas.

VA Questions And Answers

Q. Can World War II or Korean Conflict veterans get college or similar educational training under the law?

A. The educational programs for both World War II or Korean Conflict veterans have come to an end. The only educational program now being carried on by VA applied to the children of deceased or totally disabled veterans. NOTE: Vocational rehabilitation of veterans with service-connected disabilities is a permanent program still going on and is not to be confused with the educational programs.

Q. Are members of veterans' families admitted as patients to VA hospitals?

A. Not unless the members are also veterans in their own right. VA hospital care is for veterans only, except, naturally, in cases of emergency that happen in the vicinity of the hospital.

The largest number of living veterans in the United States are World War II veterans. They number 15 million and average 45.5 years of age, according to the Veterans Administration.
