DAV discussed events, fundraising at meeting but also focuses on highlight-By AMANDA DUFORAT

Contributing Writer

Comrades gathered together with one focus ... to help veterans. The Big Spring Chapter 47 Disabled American Veterans met this past week for the monthly meeting. While the meeting may have been short it served it's purpose as upcoming events and opportunities for fundraising were discussed.

"Everything we do is focused on one thing, making sure local veterans are not forgotten and when the time comes we can offer a hand up," Senior Vice Commander Mike Tarpley said. "There are times veterans, like anyone else, fall on hard times or are in need of finding resources, and because of the support from the community we are able to provide that help and direct them in the right direction."

As part of agenda items, more information and planning to place regarding the annual fundraiser Bikes Across Big Spring. The event is focused on raising awareness for motorcycle safety, ing local attractions and scenery offered across Howard County. For the past couple of years, an additional focus has been added - supporting veterans and providing an opportunity for those wanting to find out how to support local veterans an opportunity

"Our community has a lot of history that deserves to be highlighted and Bikes Across Big Spring provides an opportunity to do that. Our veterans hold a lot of history that deserves to not only be shared but honored as well, and what better combination than a nice ride and a conversation that holds history," Tabitha Clark, event organizer and Star Dodge Public Relations Manager, said.

Bikes Across Big Spring will include seven stops Across Howard County. The ride will begin at Hangar 25 Air Museum and conclude at Crossroads Saloon, with another opportunity to support the DAV with a silent and live auction. Members of the local D.A.V. will be on hand at registration and at the end

AAA Texas: 3.5 Million Texans to Travel this Independence Day

Special to the Herald

Summer travel is already in full swing and this Independence Day holiday period will be a busy one as AAA Texas predicts 3.5 million Texans will travel 50 miles or more from home over the holiday weekend. This will be an increase of 3% over 2021, bringing overall Texas travel volumes less than one percent of those seen in 2019. The biggest surprise – car travel - will set a new record despite historically high gas prices with 3.1 million people hitting the road in Texas. With crowded roads and busy airports, AAA Texas wants to prepare travelers so they can have a stress-free July 4th celebra-

"Summer travel is in high gear with more Texans than ever expected to travel by car this Independence Day," said Kent Livesay, Vice President and General Manager, AAA Texas. "Travel demand has been on the rise since the beginning of this year and is not letting up. Texans are ready for a break and despite things costing more, they are still ready to take that much needed vacation."

Despite record gas prices, automobile travel volume will break previous records on a state and national level. Across the U.S., AAA predicts nearly 48 million people will travel for Independence Day. Of those traveling, 88% will do so by car. Just as in Texas, this will also be a new record of automobile travelers across the country for 4th of July with 42 million people driving to their destination. Recent issues with air travel and ongoing concerns of cancelations and delays may be driving this increase. In fact, the share of people traveling by air will be the lowest since 2011. Independence Day will be the second busiest since 2000, as travel volumes continue to trend upwards with no sign of slowing down. It is important travelers are prepared and flexible to minimize stress and enjoy the holiday. AAA offers the following advice: Have a plan A, B and C. Flights, car rentals, accommodations, tours, cruises and other activities are in high demand and availability may be limited, which will impact pricing.

County offices to close July 4 Special to the Herald

According to a press release issued by the office of County Judge Kathryn Wiseman, Howard County will close all offices on Monday, July 4, in observation of Independence Day. County offices will reopen for business on Tuesday, July 5.

While the Howard County Sheriff's administrative offices will be closed in observation of the holiday, law enforcement services will continue to operate as normal. Wiseman encourages residents to have a safe and happy Fourth, and urges everyone to remember there is a burn ban and fireworks ban in place countywide.

Finding last-minute deals is unlikely so it's recommended to look for discounts and rewards, usually available through a membership like AAA. This is also another time when travel advisors are a great resource since they may know of a deal that may not be readily available to the public.

Air—AAA finds that the average lowest airfare is 14% more than last year coming in at $201/ticket.

Hotels—Mid-range hotel rates have increased about 23%, with the average lowest nightly rates coming in at $244/night for AAA Approved Hotels.

Car Rentals— Since last year, the average daily rate for car rentals have continued to increase. With more people traveling, these prices remain on the rise due to continued supply chain issues coupled with growing demand. While daily car rental rates have decreased 34% compared to last year, with the average lowest rate coming in at $110/day, rates are $40 more/day on average than in 2019.

B-E-T on a breakdown-free trip. AAA Texas expects to respond to over 21,000 calls for roadside assistance over the Independence Day holiday weekend. Across the country, AAA will respond to more than 446,000 calls. Make sure to get a full vehicle inspection ahead of any long trip but especially for components like a vehicle's battery, engine and tires. Even a vehicle in top shape can run into an issue so it's a good idea to pack a well-stocked emergency kit and have roadside assistance just in case.

Beat the rush. Travel on off-peak times or days or pick a hidden gem closer to home. Based on AAA booking data, Friday, July 1 is shaping up to be the busiest day for air travel during the holiday weekend (June 30 – July 4) with Monday, July 4 being the lightest. For those hitting the road, the Thursday and Friday before the holiday are anticipated to be peak traffic days.

AAA booking data reveals that big cities and international classics are top destinations this Independence Day. AAA data shows that booking volumes for air, car rentals, cruise, hotel, and tours are up 60% over last year for the top domestic Independence Day destinations and up 252% for international. According to AAA, top U.S. destinations include Orlando, Fla., Seatttle, Wash., New York, N.Y., Anaheim, Calif., Anchorage, Alaska, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., Las Vegas, Nev., Honolulu, Hawaii, Denver, Colo., and Chicago, Ill.; while top international destinations include Vancouver, Paris, London, Rome, Amsterdam, Dublin, Calgary, Punta Cana, Cancun and Nassau.

Drivers should expect the longest travel delays heading into the holiday weekend, particularly during the afternoons on Thursday, June 30 and Friday, July 1 as commuters leave work early and mix with holiday travelers. Drivers in major U.S. metros could experience double the travel times compared to a normal trip.

For purposes of this forecast, the Independence Day holiday travel period is

For purposes of this forecast, the Independence Day holiday travel period is defined as the five days from Thursday, June 30 to Monday, July 4. The five-day holiday length is consistent with previous holiday periods.

Dallas Stars hire veteran coach Peter DeBoer

By STEPHEN HAWKINS

AP Sports Writer

Peter DeBoer has twice gone to the Stanley Cup Final in his first season with a new team. Now he is the new coach of the Dallas Stars, who were there two summers ago.

"Every team that he has taken over has not only shown immediate improvement but has been ultra-competitive in the Stanley Cup playoffs," Stars general manager Jim Nill said. "His resume displays the high standards he sets and his ability to get his team to play up to that level consistently."

The Stars announced DeBoer's hiring on Tuesday, a month after he was fired by the Vegas Golden Knights. An introductory news conference was scheduled Wednesday.

DeBoer, who previously led New Jersey and San Jose to the Stanley Cup Final in his first season with those clubs, was let go by the Knights after they missed the playoffs for the first time in the franchise's five-season history. He had been their coach for $2\frac{1}{2}$ seasons after replacing Gerard Gallant, who took Vegas to the final in its inaugural 2017-18 season and back to the playoffs in 2019.

Dallas made it to the 2020 final with Rick Bowness as their interim head coach before he got a two-year contract that went through this season. Bowness was 89-62-26 with two playoff appearances in his nearly three seasons.

This will be the fifth head coaching job for DeBoer, who has a 513-379-123 record in 1,015 regular-season games over the past 14 seasons with Florida (2008-11), New Jersey (2011-15), San Jose (2015-20) and Vegas. His 68-55 playoff record includes those two final appearances, with the Devils in 2012 and four years later with the Sharks.

Joe Pavelski was the Sharks captain for their Western Conference title, and for the three seasons after that before going to Dallas in free agency in the summer of 2019. Pavelski, who turns 38 next month, signed a one-year extension in March that keeps him with the Stars through next season after joining two young skaters on one of the highest-scoring top lines in team history.

"Over the last few seasons, I have seen firsthand what the Stars are building with a mix of dynamic young players and established leaders," DeBoer said. "The chance to become this team's next head coach was an opportunity that I couldn't pass up."

DeBoer is the fifth Stars coach since Nill became their GM manager in April 2013, and the 10th for the franchise since moving from Minnesota 29 summers ago. Nill initially went with veteran coaches Lindy Ruff (2013-17) and Ken Hitchcock (2017-18) before hiring Jim Montgomery from the University of Denver for his first NHL head coaching job.

Bowness, then an assistant, became the interim head coach in December 2019 after Montgomery was fired early in his second season because of off-ice issues. The Stars made the Stanley Cup Final that season in the pandemic bubble in Canada and they beat the DeBoer-coached Knights in a five-game Western Conference final.

With his contract up, the 67-year-old Bowness said days after this season ended that he was stepping away. His 2,562 regular-season games as a head coach or an assistant over nearly four decades are an NHL record.

The Stars are coming off a 98-point season that ended with an overtime loss at Calgary in Game 7 of the first round. But they were the only of the 16 playoff teams this season outscored during the regular season, even with their high-scoring top line.

Pavelski, Roope Hintz and Jason Robertson combined for 232 points, the second-most in franchise history for a trio. Robertson became only the fourth 40-goal scorer in Stars history.

Stars captain Jamie Benn had only 18 goals (46 points), and a minus-13 rating that was the worst in his 13 NHL seasons. Six-time All-Star forward Tyler Seguin, who missed all but three games in 2020-21 because of a torn hip labrum and knee surgery, was minus-21 with 24 goals (49 points), but played the end of this season and against Calgary with a fractured bone in his left foot.

Jake Oettinger, their 23-year-old goalie, had 64 saves in the final game. He had 272 saves overall in the seven playoff games against Calgary before Johnny Gaudreau's series-ending goal in overtime.

Alvarez, Tucker help Astros to 8-2 interleague win over Mets

By KRISTIE RIEKEN

AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Astros manager Dusty Baker considered giving Yordan Álvarez another day off after he sat out one game with a minor hand injury.

But the slugger told Baker he was ready so Álva-

But the slugger told Baker he was ready, so Álvarez was penciled into the lineup Tuesday night.

"And ready he was," Baker said.

Álvarez hit a two-run homer and Kyle Tucker had three RBIs to give Houston an 8-2 win over the New York Mets in an interleague matchup between two of the top teams in the majors.

The Astros trail only the Yankees in the American League, and the Mets top the National League standings.

Jose Altuve and José Siri added solo home runs for Houston in the first meeting between the teams since the Astros swept a three-game series in September 2017.

It was the first of nine straight games against the Mets and Yankees for the Astros, with visits to both New York teams on deck during their road trip that follows Wednesday's series finale. After that, Houston hosts the Yankees for one game June 30 to help make up a series scrapped because of the lockout.

Houston led 3-0 after Altuve and Álvarez, who missed Sunday's game with a hand injury, connected off starter Trevor Williams in the third inning. Tucker's three-run double highlighted a fourrun fifth that extended the lead to 7-0.

José Urquidy (6-3) allowed four hits and a run in six innings for the win. Urquidy, who walked one, threw a career-high 104 pitches.

"The location was good, and he had a very good breaking ball and changeup," Baker said. "And the location is the key."

Pete Alonso hit his NL-leading 20th home run in the sixth and Eduardo Escobar added a solo shot in the seventh for the Mets, who went 0 for 6 with runners in scoring position.

Williams (1-4) yielded four hits and three runs over four innings in his sixth start of the season and first since June 5.

There was one out in the third when Altuve launched his homer into the second row of left-field seats to make it 1-0. Williams walked Alex Bregman before Álvarez connected on a shot to right to extend the lead to 3-0.

Álvarez was asked how his hand was feeling after the game.

"You guys saw the game," he said in Spanish through a translator. "No discomfort there."

Álvarez's homer came on an 83 mph curveball, giving him a .373 batting average and 12 home runs this season on all pitches besides fastballs.

Alonso and Mark Canha hit consecutive singles with one out in the fourth before the Mets loaded the bases when Luis Guillorme reached on an error by first baseman Yuli Gurriel. Urquidy settled down after that, striking out Escobar and J.D. Davis to escape the jam.

There were two outs in the fifth when Chasen Shreve walked Álvarez to load the bases. Tucker lined a double to right-center to clear the bases and make it 6-0.

"I couldn't locate my fastball," Shreve said.

"They're a good hitting team and I didn't have it today."

Tucker stole third before Shreve walked Gurriel. Mauricio Dubón singled to put Houston up 7-0.

Siri snapped an 0-for-10 slump with a solo homer to the train tracks above left field in the eighth inning. He admired the shot for a few seconds before trotting to first base, a sequence Baker was not happy with.

"He should have ran," Baker said. "Back in our day the next guy would have gotten drilled."

TRAINER'S ROOM

Mets: 2B Jeff McNeil sat out after leaving Monday's game against Miami with right hamstring tightness. Manager Buck Showalter said tests didn't reveal anything serious, and McNeil is day-to-day. ... RHP Max Scherzer (oblique strain) allowed three hits and two runs with six strikeouts over 3 1/3 innings in his first rehabilitation start with Double-A Binghamton. He threw 65 pitches. ... RHP Jacob deGrom (right shoulder injury) faced batters at the team's complex in Florida.

Astros: RHP Jake Odorizzi, out since May 16 with a left leg injury, will begin a rehab assignment Friday with Triple-A Sugar Land. He is expected to pitch in two games there before coming off the injured list. ... SS Aledmys Díaz missed a second straight game with discomfort in his left shoulder.

... SS Jeremy Peña took swings in the batting cage for the first time since injuring his thumb about a week ago. There's no timetable for his return.

LEADING OFF: Harper healing, Ohtani on mound, Anderson 8-0

By The Associated Press

A look at what's happening around the majors today: BACK FROM BLISTER?

Philadelphia slugger Bryce Harper could return to the lineup for the finale of a two-game series at Texas after an infected blister on his left index finger sidelined him for two games last weekend at Washington.

Phillies interim manager Rob Thomson said the infection had improved enough for Harper to be available off the bench in the opener against the Rangers. A six-time All-Star and this year's

A six-time All-Star and this year's leader in voting for National League DH, Harper entered Tuesday hitting a team-best .326, and his OPS (1.013) was second in the NL to St. Louis' Paul Goldschmidt.

"When guys DH, they tend to take a lot more swings," Thomson said. "I just want to make sure we weren't going to irritate it."

SHOHEI STREAK

Shohei Ohtani tries to win three straight starts for the first time this season when the Los Angeles Angels host the Royals.

The reigning AL MVP is 5-4 with a 3.28 ERA in 11 starts, striking out 77 and walking 15 in 60 1/3 innings. The 27-year-old right-hander is coming off a 5-2 win over Boston on June 9 and a 4-1 victory at Seattle last Thursday, when he pitched six shutout innings for his first scoreless outing in a month.

Ohtani has allowed two runs or fewer in eight of 11 starts. His only previous outing against the Royals was on June 6, 2018, when he gave up one run over four innings.

The two-way star had a huge game

The two-way star had a huge game at the plate Tuesday night, hitting two three-run homers and driving in a career-high eight runs. Still, the Royals hung on for a 12-11 victory in 11 innings.

Ohtani crushed a 423-foot homer in the sixth and a tying, 438-foot shot in the ninth, giving him the biggest RBI game of his five-year stateside career. The AL MVP then set the single-game major league record for RBIs by a Japanese-born player with a sacrifice fly in the 11th.

Left-hander Daniel Lynch (3-6, 5.19) will be on the mound for Kansas City. He was 0-5 in his previous eight starts before winning at Oakland on Friday, when he gave up one run in five innings. CENTRAL SHOWDOWN

The top two teams in the AL Central square off again when José Ramírez and the surging Cleveland Guardians visit Byron Buxton, Carlos Correa and the Minnesota Twins.

Triston McKenzie (4-5, 2.96 ERA) pitches for the Guardians against Sonny Gray (3-1, 2.09) in the middle game of the series. Gray threw five shutout innings last Wednesday at Seattle, his first appearance since going on the injured list June 2 with a strained pectoral muscle.

ENCORE

Tyler Anderson (8-0, 2.82 ERA) tries to follow up a sensational start in a breakthrough season when he pitches for the Los Angeles Dodgers at Cincinnati against Luis Castillo (2-4, 3.33) and the struggling Reds.

With his fifth team in seven major league seasons, Anderson nearly threw a no-hitter last Wednesday night. He shut down the Los Angeles Angels until Shohei Ohtani tripled with one out in the ninth inning for their first hit. The 32-year-old lefty was lifted after 123 pitches. His previous career high was 109 in 2018 with

Colorado. GOLD STANDARD

The Cardinals hope to have star first baseman Paul Goldschmidt back in the lineup soon after he missed a start because of back tightness.

Goldschmidt won the most recent NL player of the week award. He leads the NL in batting average (.339), on-base percentage (.417) and OPS (1.031).

Goldschmidt didn't start Tuesday night at Milwaukee. The top two teams in the NL Central have two more games left in the series.

"He'll experience it from time to time," St. Louis manager Oliver Marmol said. "Usually he takes a day, it loosens up, he'll get treatment and be back at it. That's our hope."

Opening lead — jack of spades.

Some deals have a lot more to them than at first meets the eye. Take this case, which occurred in a knockout team event.

North-South reached six notrump after South opened two clubs and rebid two notrump, showing a balanced hand of 22 to 24 points. Declarer won the spade lead with dummy's queen and could count 12 easy tricks if the opposing hearts were divided 3-3.

So he led a heart to the king at trick two and returned a heart toward dummy, planning to duck whatever West played. But when West showed out, discarding a spade, South took the ace and had to revise his plan.

He began by cashing four rounds of clubs, West discarding another spade on the fourth club. A spade was then led to the ace, and when East showed out, West's hand became an open book. He was known to be holding two spades and three diamonds at this point, so South played the king and another spade, forcing West to win and lead a diamond from the queen, handing declarer his 12th trick.

South did well to find the endplay and make the slam, but West has to be given a very large assist. He could have presented declarer with a very difficult problem if he had given the matter a bit more thought.

West virtually signed his own death warrant when he discarded a spade on the last club. Had he discarded a diamond instead, South could not have afforded to throw him in with a spade, since West would have scored two spade tricks. Declarer would then have been left with the choice of taking a diamond finesse against East or playing for the diamond queen to fall under the A-K.

Since West was known to have started with six spades, one heard and three clubs — and therefore only three of the seven missing diamonds — there is a good chance that South would have opted for the finesse and gone down two.

Today in History

In 1972, President Richard Nixon signed Title IX barring discrimination on the basis of sex for "any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance." (On the same day, Nixon and White House chief of staff H.R. Haldeman discussed using the CIA to obstruct the FBI's Watergate investigation. Revelation of the tape recording of this conversation sparked Nixon's resignation in 1974.)

In 1985, all 329 people aboard an Air India Boeing 747 were killed when the plane crashed into the Atlantic Ocean near Ireland because of a bomb authorities believe was planted by Sikh separatists.

In 1994, the movie "Forrest Gump," starring Tom Hanks as a simple yet kindhearted soul and his serendipitous brushes with greatness, was released by Paramount Pictures.

In 1995, Dr. Jonas Salk, the medical pioneer who developed the first vaccine to halt the crippling rampage of polio, died in La Jolla (HOY'-ah), California, at age 80.

In 2016, Britain voted to leave the European Union after a bitterly divisive referendum campaign, toppling Prime Minister David Cameron, who had led the campaign to keep Britain in the EU.

In 2020, the Louisville police department fired an officer involved in the fatal shooting of Breonna Taylor more than three months earlier, saying Brett Hankison had shown "extreme indifference to the value of human life" when he fired ten rounds into Taylor's apartment. (A second officer was also fired; Hankison was found not guilty on charges that he endangered neighbors.)

An Obstinate Lunar Square to Pluto

There's a fine line between an independent spirit and someone who's just being stubborn. The lunar square to Pluto recalls a quote from the 19th-century evangelist Henry Ward Beecher: "The difference between perseverance and obstinacy is that one comes from a strong will, and the other from a strong

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Worry won't do you any good and could in fact wear on your immune system. On a spiritual level, worry restricts the flow of good fortune. Stress dissipates when you have a plan on paper that makes sense to you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). So few people are patient these days and so many rely on patience from others and would be left behind or run over without it. The world desperately needs your patience today.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). An idea is likely to roll out in full regalia and seduce you with its glamour. You'll allow yourself to be entertained without going all-in with your belief, as fuzzy logic prevails.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Seek the right level. Ask any bird: higher is not always better. Too high an altitude poses problems of pressure and heat, and besides, when you're way up there, no one can hear your song.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). It's natural to be emotional about money, though this approach is not particularly helpful. Buy and sell based on data. Moods will come and go, but the facts will remain.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Lighthearted fun is good for relationships of all kinds, including professional. Your quick wit and active life will be a magnet for new friends. Tonight, you'll be torn between two sides of an issue.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Some things you believed at age 5 still hold true today. Some. Not all. Since then, you've trended toward greater accuracy. This is a perfect time for a review. What do you know to be true now?

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Look back and investigate where the progress stopped and precisely what stopped it. It was fear, perhaps vague or hidden at the time in other things that were going on. New realizations help you solve it for next time.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). While puzzles and mysteries seem fun, troubles and inconveniences don't. Both could describe the same scenario. You'll reframe and rename. Your winning attitude will attract an admirer.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). In new circumstances it may take you a moment to get in step with what's going on around you, and you wouldn't dream of skipping this step. Without orientation, even the best map can't help.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb.

18). How could anyone know more than what they've learned? Give yourself a break. You're doing your best with your current understanding. When you know better, you'll do better.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You feel suspended between worlds, unable to fully inhabit either. You are not the only one. Feet on the earth/head in the clouds is an apt description of the human condi-

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 23). Your ability to discover and nurture talent allows you to lift and develop a community. More highlights: a goal that is slightly out of character for you ends up being among your favorite accomplishments. You'll be paid for your part in a huge operation. Your inclusiveness has unforeseen beneficial repercussions. Taurus and Aquarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 30, 33, 1 and 17.

PROFILES: CELEBRITY Born on the cusp of Gemini and Cancer, Frances McDormand has astral influences in both signs. Mercury, her communication planet, is expressed in the versatile sign of the twins. Sun and moon in soulful Cancer emphasize nurturing instincts and psychic acuity. Venus in Taurus is the grounded energy that brings normalcy to the life of this celebrated artist. Her role as Lady Macbeth in "The Tragedy of Macbeth" was much anticipated.

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it
