City Tax Rebate Check Has Increased

Around Muleshoe

Four area girls participated in a practice meet on Saturday, July 13, at R.P. Fuller Track on the Texas Tech campus in Lubbock.

Amy McGehee, a state qualifier, was first in the 100m at 12.8; and was third in the long jump at 14 feet, six and one half inches.

Lisa Noble took first place in the 100m at 29.5 and was third in the 100m with 13.5; and Monica Swint was third in the 200m at 23.4; while Jill Noble was fourth in the 200m with 34.3.

Cleta Williams and Maud Young drove to Amarillo Saturday morning, and returned Myrtle Creamer to her home in Muleshoe, to finish recuperating from heart attacks in June.

Her daughter, Cleta Williams, will be staying in Mrs. Creamer's home for the time being to be with her mother at night.

During a recent meeting, members of the Muleshoe Fire Department voted to name the fire station under construction, "Earl M. Ladd Fire Station."

Signs will be erected on the building in the near future.

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees for the Muleshoe Independent School District is scheduled for 8 p.m. on Monday, July 22, according to H. John Fuller, superintendent.

The only item on the agenda is "Budget Review for 6400 and 6600 categories."

Doctors will conduct athletic physicals for all junior high and high school boys who plan to participate in the athletic programs at the schools in Muleshoe and the surrounding area on Sunday, August 11, at 1 p.m.

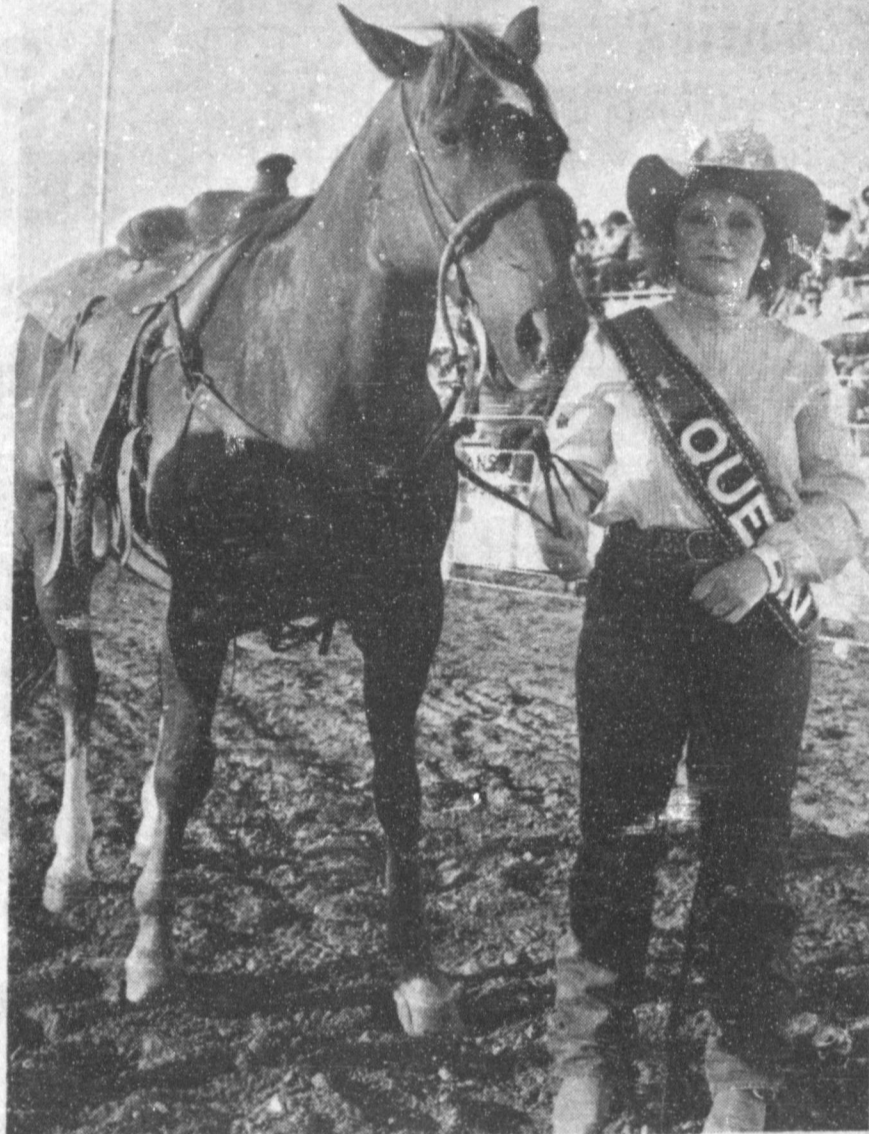

Physicals will be done at the Muleshoe High School gym.

On August 18, athletic physicals for all girls in junior high and high school in Muleshoe and surrounding area schools will be conducted at 1 p.m. in the high school gym.

First day of workout for the football players will be Monday, August 12, and boys will play in shorts for four days. The first day in pads will be Friday, August 16.

Mrs. Lucy Faye Smith, Muleshoe High School teacher, attended the Federal Forum June 22-29 in Washington, D.C.

The Federal Forum is a one-week entree to the halls of power and the nation's leaders in Washington, sponsored by Presidential Classroom in cooperation with the Muleshoe High School.

MEET THE NEW QUEEN--Prior to the first night of action at the annual Earth Rodeo, the Rodeo Queen contest was held with Lacy Laymon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Truman Laymon being named the 1985 Rodeo Queen. She was crowned by last year's queen, Mitzi Dutton.

School Board Adopts Drug Abuse Program

One item received much attention from members of the Board of Trustees of the Muleshoe Independent School District during their meeting last week.

During the meeting, the trustees passed a resolution supporting the eradication of drug abuse and supporting strong educational programs as proposed by the State Board of Education.

As to recommendations, the board accepted the following:

To appoint the superintendent of schools as the Drug Program Coordinator for the school district, and to designate the school counselors as building facilitators on each campus.

Give support to the Drug Education Program by providing funds for educational materials, assembly presenters and other programs deemed necessary by the administration and trustees. Specifically for the 1985-86 school year:

- Elementary School: $2,000 for McGuffey series;
- Junior High School: $500 for assemblies and supplementary materials;
- High School: $5,000 for assemblies and supplemental materials and District-wide: $5,000 for canine program if deemed necessary by administration and trustees; $1,000 for additional inservice and staff development and $1,000 for coordinator and facilitator training.

Superintendent H. John Fuller said the $10,000 represents .2 percent of the school's total budget.

Another item would require an annual evaluation report to be presented by the coordinator and facilitators with the following minimum information to be presented:

Programmatic Improvements; Local Surveys; Statistical reports in number and instances of known abuse; Inservice Activities; Recommendations for Improvement and Recommendations for the following year's budget.

Designate two early dismissal days as Drug Abuse Staff development days and explore the possibility of utilizing the same consultant for student and parent training sessions on the same days.

Provide assistance to students and parents having drug related problems as to where to seek professional help.

Develop a Drug Awareness Library available to teachers, parents, and to students. It was further recommended that a brochure be developed explaining the districts' Drug Awareness Efforts and providing information on the various sources available for free and inexpensive help and information on Drug Abuse. This brochure and other pertinent drug abuse information will be available throughout the school year with emphasis planned on distribution during Drug Awareness Week and at the registration tables at open house.

Recommend a minimum of two Drug Awareness Programs to be presented to the secondary schools every year.

Sponsor a Drug Awareness Week within the School System this coming year and explore the possibility of expanding this program to a community wide program.

Cooperate with all governmental agencies and local concerned citizens to promote abstaining from substance abuses.

Girl Scout Hut Renovation Getting More Interest, Help

The Muleshoe Girl Scout Little Hut is sporting a BRAND-NEW LOOK!!!

Charles Harvey, a local painter and contractor, donated several evenings of work to completely repaint the Little Hut, said Nelda Merriott, Coordinator for the Renovation of the Girl Scout Little Hut. He recruited some workers to scrape the trim and replace broken window panes.

One evening, he even recruited his wife, Dolores, to help him work by car lights to finish the primer coat on the eaves and have it ready to receive paint the next day. He painted the building white with haze green trim (with the paint donated by Edwin Cox, Fry and Cox, Inc.).

"This was followed by Kenneth King, who stopped by, picked up the Girl Scout sign, and replaced it with an all new, beautiful-lettered, metal sign," added Mrs. Merriott. "Then, Pat Patterson picked up the sagging screen doors to repair and is also furnishing an additional screen door."

Mrs. Jim (Ruby) Cox called to donate an eight-piece set of flatware for the kitchen.

The Rebekah Lodge and Muleshoe Roadriders stepped up to give very welcome donations to the Girl Scouts to help them with many needed items, added Mrs. Merriott, who also said, their generosity is sincerely appreciated.

Friday morning, Mrs. Merriott, met again with the Kiwanis Club to give them a progress report. She brought pictures of the interior of the Hut and its proposed renovation, which includes moving the old inoperative bathroom from the center of the building to a back room, removing ruined carpet, repairing broken sheet rock, paneling, installing a hail screen, painting and other needed improvements.

Kiwanian Kirby Rankin gave a special gift to the Girl Scouts. Two lambs! He said he will

Ag Amendment To Allow Study On Water Supply

Congressman Larry Combest (R-Texas) announced today that the House Agriculture Committee has agreed to an amendment which would allow the residents of Deaf Smith County to ask the Department of Agriculture to study whether a proposed nuclear waste depository would damage the underground water supply.

The provision states that USDA is authorized to provide technical assistance to property owners to protect the quality and quantity of subsurface water including water in the nation's aquifers.

During committee testimony, Congressman Combest specifically questioned whether the amendment would allow USDA to assess the impact of potential pollution to the underground water supply by proposed nuclear waste. Combest stated, "There is consideration of an underground nuclear waste depository in the 19th District of Texas which would penetrate a water supply that stretches into several States. It is our only underground water supply. USDA would not be prevented from assessing the potential pollution or the consideration of potential pollution of that underground water supply by the proposed nuclear waste repository, would it?"

Congressman Edward Madigan (R-Ill.), who offered the amendment, stated that, "No, in fact this amendment would allow -- in effect, would invite an individual or a small community in your district -- to ask the Secretary for technical assistance in determining what exactly the consequences to the rural water supply would be..."

Combest later said, "I wholeheartedly support the amendment and will work toward its passage in both the House and Senate. The provision allows the citizens of the Texas Panhandle to obtain an independent analysis of all potential nuclear waste hazards associated with the proposed repository."

Upon final drafting of the 1985 Farm Bill, the provision must be approved by the House and Senate.

Texas melons safe to eat, official says

(AUSTIN)--"The only way someone could get hurt eating a Texas watermelon is if they got hit in a seed-spitting contest," Texas Department of Agriculture Assistant Commissioner for Marketing Susan DeMarco has said.

"Texas has been marketing watermelon commercially for 50 years, with half of the 220,000-ton annual crop shipped out of state, largely to the Midwest. We know of no health problems ever associated with eating Texas melons," said DeMarco.

"Every year Texas harvests over 42,000 acres of watermelon. It's a $34 million-a-year crop for our farmers. The recent pesticide contamination problems associated with California-grown melons have hurt consumer sales nationwide. To help ensure the marketability of Texas-grown watermelon, TDA will make special use of its Taste of Texas logo," DeMarco said. "Taste of Texas price cards will be available to Texas melon growers/shippers and produce buyers for use by retail stores in both Texas and in other states. The purpose of the price cards is to help consumers identify Texas-grown melons."

"The red-white-and-blue Taste of Texas logo is a trademark of TDA that Texas food processors and retail stores now use in their individual marketing and sales strategies. By special use of the Taste of Texas logo, Texas melon growers and shippers can reassure consumers that when purchasing a Texas watermelon, they are buying the freshest, sweetest and safest melons grown in the United States."

IRS Auto Records Reflect Rule Change

Recent tax legislation changes recordkeeping rules for vehicles used in business operations, including farming and ranching. Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reviews these new rules which are effective with the 1985 tax year.

Adequate records or sufficient evidence to corroborate the taxpayer's own statement must be kept, says Lovell. This means that the IRS cannot require daily contemporaneous logs of the use of automobiles. It also means that taxpayers are not required to maintain trip-by-trip logs and records that include each element of substantiation standards for justifying deductions.

Recordkeeping requirements for cars and pickups for the '85 tax year are the same as before the stringent requirements of the 1984 Tax Reform Act, notes the economist. In some instances, uncorroborated statements by taxpayers have been permitted to support business deductions. However, recordkeeping requirements refer to an account book, diary, statement of expenses or similar record in which the information as to each element of expense is recorded at or near the time of the expense.

According to Lovell, records completed close in time to when the expense is incurred have much more credibility than evidence created years later, such as in preparation for an audit.

For the 1986 tax year, a taxpayer will have to have adequate records or sufficient evidence corroborating his or her statement to support credits or deductions for "listed" property, including automobiles. The records must substantiate not just the amount of expense, but also the time and place of travel or use of the property and business purpose.

Beginning with the current tax year, taxpayers will be required to answer a series of questions on the appropriate income tax form or schedule regarding business use of vehicles and other listed property, adds Lovell. Even though most questions will be in a "yes" or "no" format, some will require numerical information such as mileage and percentage of business use.

The Treasury Department is required to issue new regulations about provisions of this tax legislation no later than Oct. 1. Specific questions regarding various provisions of the new law should be directed to a tax accountant or CPA, advises Lovell.

Quilt for Project Tejas up for bid

(AUSTIN)--A queen-size red, white and blue quilt is being offered for silent bids to raise funds for Project Tejas, the farmer-organized program to send surplus Texas grain and powdered milk to the starving people of Africa.

The Project Tejas Commemorative Quilt is made of 35 panels, which were made by employees of the Texas Education Agency. Eight members of the Senior Lunch Program at the Rosewood-Zaragoza Center in Austin put the blocks on backing and added strips of royal blue material between them.

Bids will be accepted through Aug. 23, with the highest bidder to be announced on Aug. 26. A minimum bid of $325 is required.

Social Security News & Views

SOCIAL SECURITY AT FIFTY

Social Security reaches a major milestone on August 14. It was just 50 years ago that the Social Security Act was signed into law. It set into motion a major institution that is just as much a part of America for people who have grown up since the depression as public education or the post office. Just about everyone is affected by Social Security. Over 9 out of 10 workers pay into the program. And well over 36 million people--more than one in seven persons--receive monthly disability, survivors and retirement benefits.

About $1.54 trillion in retirement and survivors payments were made from 1940 through June 1985, and about $191 billion in disability benefits were paid from 1957 through June. The current value of just the survivor protection under Social Security is worth nearly as much as the face value of all private insurance in force.

Under a pay-as-you-go system, Social Security taxes from today's workers finance benefits for current beneficiaries. Using Social Security as a mechanism, it's a way for one generation to care for another.

The impact of Social Security on the lives of our citizens has been nothing short of revolutionary. Benefits provide a modest base of income for most retirees who are able to live more independent lives. Millions of children can count on benefits should a parent die or start getting retirement or disability checks. And four out of five workers are insured for disability benefits and can get payments if they are unable to work for at least 12 months.

Social Security has come a long way in five decades. The program works because it reflects the needs of the people. Social Security is sensitive to needed changes and responsive to challenges. It is a program all Americans can be proud of as it starts its second half century of providing service.

you and the LAW

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My husband and I have no children. If he dies without a will, do I inherit all community property? What about property owned before our marriage?

A: If your husband dies without a will and without any surviving children, you will inherit his half of the community estate.

The property owned before marriage, which is separate property, passes in a different manner. You as surviving wife receive all his personal separate property and half of the real estate. Your husband's parents or his descendants inherit the other half.

Q: My husband and I are considering selling our house, but I am confused by some of the terminology. For example, what is meant by the term, "Points?"

A: A point is one percent of the loan, and it is usually assessed by the lender as a cost of the loan. In this manner, the lender makes more money from the loan, but the interest rate stays competitive with other loans in the market. Usually, a buyer and seller will negotiate who will pay the points at closing, thus increasing the cost to the buyer or reducing your profit.

Q: Is a marriage considered valid in Texas if the woman marries under a false name? Also, does a judge ask for a marriage certificate in cases of divorce or probate?

A: Yes, a marriage even under a false name will be valid, unless there are other reasons the marriage might be void. Therefore, the license is valid.

Ordinarily, neither the divorce court nor the probate court will require a copy of the marriage license, unless there is some question whether the marriage was valid.

Q: I am 14 years old. Can I get a Texas driver's license?

A: No. A 14-year-old may take a driver training course, and receive a provisional driver's license, but cannot be fully licensed. At age 15, if the youngster can show that not driving creates a family hardship, a license can be issued. All persons 16 or older can be licensed once they have passed the required examinations.

Q: My husband has beaten me throughout our marriage, but I am afraid to leave. If I take our child and some of our possessions, he will be furious. What should I do?

A: You do have choices under the law. Even if you do not file for divorce, sections of the Family Code permit the court to enter orders protecting the family against violence. Without notice to your husband, the court can even issue orders that continue for 20 days, preserving your safety and your child's, setting the case for hearing, even finding your husband must pay attorney fees.

In addition, under the laws, city and county law enforcement officials must keep the protective orders on file so you can call for help if your husband harasses you.

This chili cook-off is designed specifically to determine WHO makes the BEST CHILI IN TEXAS.

In order to assure that the event is a TEXAS sized event, they are putting up $25,000 in prize money, including $10,000 to the Chili Cook judged "best in Texas." In addition, the winner will represent the honor of Texas in the World Championship Chili Cook-off held at the Tropic Gold Mine near Lancaster, California.

The Lone Star State Chili Cook-off, sanctioned by the International Chili Society (ICS), will be held in the historic Fort Worth Stockyards, less than a block from Billy Bob's Texas, on Saturday, September 14, 1985.

To compete in The Lone Star State Chili Championship, contestants must be winners of district or regional Chili Cook-Offs, sanctioned by ICS (contestants will not be accepted by application.) Anyone interested in sponsoring a local ICS sanctioned Cook-Off or in getting additional information, should contact Mr. Jim West, Executive Director, International Chili Society, at (714) 631-1780 or P.O. Box 2966, Newport Beach, California 92663; Susan Fine at Billy Bob's Texas (817) 625-2706, or your local Stroh's Beer distributor.

The first place Chili Team will receive $10,000 in CASH. Second place will receive $2,500; third place $1,500; fourth place $1,000; and fifth place, $500. Sixth through tenth place teams will each receive $100. There are also big money prizes for Showmanship teams, with $2,500 for first prize winners; $2,000 for second place; $1,500 for third; $1,000 for fourth and $500 for fifth place.

In addition, ladies are invited to compete for the title of Miss Chili Pepper, surely the prettiest gal in Texas, who will receive $1,000 in cash! The first runner-up will receive $500 in cash.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR FOR A GREAT WEEKEND! Festivities begin Friday, September 13th, at Billy Bob's Texas when cooks and their teams will have an introductory contest meeting and party in the big honky tonk's rodeo arena. After the party, contestants and the public will enjoy the entertainment of Eddie Rabbitt, singer of such hits as "I Love A Rainy Night", "Drivin' My Life Away", "Every Which Way But Loose," and many, many more popular country songs. All cooks and teams will receive free admission to the Rabbitt concert.

Saturday, September 14th, the competition, complete with celebrities, is underway for the best Chili Cook in the best state in the U.S.A. In addition, there will be contests for the best show teams, Miss Chili Pepper, street dancing, live entertainment, games and contests, and great food. In short, a fabulous day of exciting entertainment for the entire family!

Then Saturday night, winners and non-winners, are invited to Billy Bob's Texas to see the dynamic Shelly West of "Jose Cuervo" fame in concert.

This is one of the biggest, most exciting chili events in the world, and Barnett and Shelby encourage every town and/or region in Texas to participate. Says Barnett, "Carroll and I are willing to put up $25,000 in cash prizes to find the best chili in Texas! And we want to show the world that Texas has the chili on earth at the World Championship Chili Cook-off in Tropic."

The Creative Woman

By Sheryl Borden

Information on image consulting, making cookies with oats and a sewing tip from Stretch & Sew, Inc. will be presented on "The Creative Woman" show on July 23 and 27.

Maggie Gregory is a wardrobe, color and image consultant from Albuquerque, and she will discuss image and explain what different images convey to other people. Another part of her discussion will be on a wardrobe survey she conducted and she will share the results with us.

Nina Swan, home economist with the National Oats Co. from Cedar Rapids, Iowa will share a recipe for butterscotch chipper bars. The bars can be prepared in minutes and has some interesting substitutions that can be made to the basic recipe.

Ann Person, President and founder of Stretch & Sew, Inc. will demonstrate making a double-folded facing on a shirt or blouse. This technique is especially good to give extra body to garments made from sheer fabrics. It adds stability without the stiffness of interfacing.

On July 25 the topics will be pork cutting tips, consumer research and helping children gain self-confidence.

Merle Ellis has been on the show before and his topic will be on pork cutting and buying tips. He'll show how to cut up a pork loin roast and get more meat for the money. Merle will also talk about meat prices and explain why they fluctuate.

Do you ever wonder if consumer's complaints are heard by companies? Debra Block is with Toshiba, Inc. from Wayne, N.J., and she will explain how a company gathers information from consumers, and how it is used to help consumers or to better products. She stresses that consumers should let manufacturers know how they feel. It can benefit both parties.

Ann Hurt is a designer and author of a book entitled "Country Samplers" and she will explain what is involved in creating a beautiful sampler from materials to motifs. Ms. Hurt is from New York.

"The Creative Woman" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show airs on KENW-TV, Channel 3 in Portales at 12 noon on Tuesday and Thursday and at 2:00 p.m. on Saturday. (All times are Mountain Standard). Viewers can request copies of printed materials offered on the show by calling on KENW-TV's toll-free telephone lines. Heat Illness Risk Higher For Children

During summer weather children playing outside run the risk of heat exhaustion.

Children run a higher risk for several reasons, says Dr. Mary Ann Heussner, a health education specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

Children are prone to heat illnesses because they have more skin surface for each pound they weigh than adults, so they absorb more heat, she says.

Because children's sweat glands don't work as well as adults until after puberty, their bodies don't regulate temperature as well either. Children also take almost twice as long as adults to get accustomed to different temperatures, explains the specialist.

When children get involved in playing, they may ignore thirst, become overheated, fatigued and dizzy.

To avoid problems with heat illnesses, Heussner recommends that children, and active adults, follow these guidelines:

- *Drink at least eight cups of plain water each day.
- *Drink at least half a cup of cool water every 15 minutes during the activity. The body absorbs cool water faster than warm.
- *Weigh before and after the activity. Drink two cups of water for every pound lost during the activity.
- *Drink water, since it is absorbed faster than electrolyte drinks, sodas and juices.
- *Avoid salt tablets.

Christian Cowboy Camp Set For Mesa Redondo

The Eighth Annual Mesa Redondo Cowboy Camp Meeting is scheduled for Thursday, July 25, through Sunday noon, July 28, 1985. Final plans are being made by the various committees under the leadership of Buddy Cortese, President, of Fort Sumner.

The campsite is located on the Bove-Farmer Ranch near Tucumcari, New Mexico. From Tucumcari, go eleven miles south on Highway 18, or from Ragland, go fourteen miles north on Highway 18. Turn east at the big sign and travel 2 1/2 miles southeast to the camp. It sets at the foot of the historic and majestic Mesa Redondo in a secluded canyon.

Camp pastors for this year are Don Forsman and Leonard

Malone. Forsman is currently District Superintendent of the Odessa, Texas District for the Methodist Churches. He was born in Tulsa, Oklahoma and has pastored churches in various parts of the southwest.

Leonard Malone grew up in Dalhart, Texas and is a former pastor of the Tucumcari First Baptist Church. He is currently pastoring in Lewisville, Texas and returns to Mesa Redondo. Malone served as a camp pastor for one year and two years as Bible Study Pastor.

The Fourth Annual Youth Roundup will be held in conjunction with the camp. It will begin at 3:00 PM on Saturday, July 27. Buddy and Mary Ann Cortese invite all area young people to attend. Assisting with the youth activities will be Colt and Debbie Harrelson of Tucumcari.

The first activities of the camp will begin at 5:00 PM on Thursday, July 25 with prayer meeting; supper will be served at 6:30 and the evening worship service will begin at 8:00 PM. A campfire fellowship under the leadership of Wesley Grau of Grady, will follow the evening services each night. Bible studies are taught twice daily, and there are worship services both morning and night. Classes are taught and activities are planned for the various age groups of children. A nursery is available during the worship services. Three meals a day are served 'chuckwagon style' on Friday and Saturday, and breakfast and dinner on Sunday.

Mesa Redondo is a member of the Ranchmen's Camp Meeting Association in the Southwest. The association now has eight camps in five states during the summer circuit. It is an interdenominational outreach and provides "A Christian Camping Experience For All Ages." Many committee members from the communities of Tucumcari, San Jon, Quay, Melrose, Grady, Fort Sumner, and Clovis are involved in planning and working during the annual camp. In 1984, some 771 area persons attended the entire camp. Camp Manager is Rick Steele of Alamo, Illinois. Rick annually takes leave from his pastorate to return to the southwest and provide leadership for the circuit.

Everyone is welcome to attend the camp activities. For those who camp, there is ample space. For those who drive out for any of the services and meals, they will find this a unique experience and well worth the drive.

For further information, you may contact any of the following: Buddy Cortese, President, of Fort Sumner, ph. 505-355-7218; Darrell Farmer, Vice-President, of Tucumcari, ph. 458-6205; Abby Hofman, Treasurer, of Bell Ranch, ph. 868-2207; and Wilma Fulgham, Secretary of Clovis, ph. 763-6262.

'Phobia' Victim Devotes Life To Helping Others

Do you know the definition of a 'phobia'? Would you believe a phobia is a fear in which an inappropriately intense body reaction is triggered by some stimulus which appears to be small or innocuous to others. The stimulus produces severe physiological reactions which are sufficient to prevent proper functioning during the attack and immediately following it. This reaction can be so severe that a PHOBAPHOBIA (fear of the reaction) develops. This reaction sets up an avoidance pattern, and makes it difficult for the person to seek help or tell others about his problem.

Shirley Neugebauer, co-director of TERRAP, a self-help program for the treatment of anxiety, fears and phobias, knows full well the effects of a phobia. She has successfully undergone treatment for Agoraphobia, the feat of public places, and has committed her life to helping other persons laden with phobias, to overcome their own fears.

She told the Journal that several years ago, after several deaths in her family in a short time, along with other trauma, she walked into her house one day, threw down the car keys and said, "this is it. I'm not going outside the house again until I find out what is wrong with me." It took three years of staying inside, fearing to venture outside and a lot of therapy and visits to doctors for her to regain her lost confidence.

When Agoraphobia first took over Shirley Neugebauer's life, she had lived a successful life, held her share of responsibilities, and responded to them well, traveled freely and in general, had lived a good life. Then suddenly, for no apparent reason, she became a victim of fear. She said she would begin to tremble like a leaf at the prospect of having to make a short journey. As soon as she would get outside her garden gate, she would feel dizzy and faint. Her legs turned to jelly, and she retreated in panic into the safety of her home.

Agoraphobia is one of the phobias to be the most feared, according to the thousands of people, mostly women, who suffer from this phobia. It can be one of the most devastating to the victim of all phobias, and the most difficult to treat. It can be characterized by butterflies in the stomach, a lump in the throat, sweaty palms, weak legs, a dry mouth, stiff neck, a feeling of doom, dizziness, nausea, panic and/or disorientation.

Mrs. Neugebauer told The Journal that the causes of the phobia are believed to be physical and/or psychological. The fear reaction, however, is learned, she explained. Once fear has been aroused, many things associated with the initial fear-inducing situation have the power to trigger the fear reaction. Fortunately, since the phobia's recognition in the 1950's, treatment through medication, therapy and self-help programs have given relief to victims of the affliction.

TERRAP, a contraction for territorial apprehensiveness, is designed to teach the individual how to "unlearn" the fear reaction. "Through gradual exposure, the individual becomes desensitized to fear producing stimuli," said Mrs. Neugebauer. The program last 12 weeks and costs $1,250, which is covered by insurance. "After being housebound for three years, I can tell you that the program works," the co-director said. "TERRAP has enabled me to reduce my medication."

After the initial session, students may repeat all or part of the program at no additional charge. "Our job is not finished until the person is functioning again, and back into the mainstream of life," she said. "Like our (TERRAP) motto says, "Out of the shell...Into the world again..."

Mrs. Neugebauer said the next program is scheduled to begin August 13, and classes are limited to 8-10 persons. For additional information, contact her at 5009-54th St., Lubbock, Tx 79414, phone 806/792-8177 or Judy Mayfield, administrator, Route Three, Box 393, Lubbock, TX 79423, phone 806/745-7493.

Principals' Center provides training for Texas principals

COLLEGE STATION — The principal — the individual believed to be the key to a quality school — is the focus of a new center established at Texas A&M University.

The Principals' Center is designed to provide training and preparation for prospective principals as well as provide skills development and technical assistance to practicing principals, said Dr. David Hinojosa, director of the center. The self-supporting center will also sponsor research in the area of principalship, he said.

"Most studies in the last 10 to 15 years say the key to a quality, effective school and high student achievement is a strong principal," said Hinojosa, an associate professor of educational administration.

In an effort to provide quality leadership for Texas schools, Texas A&M has already put into operation several programs designed to prepare better principals and to provide a "renewal" experience for active principals, he said.

Support has also been given directly to area schools through Texas A&M faculty who have traveled to nearby districts to help with in-service training for principals, he said.

Thank You

held about the possibility of the use of the Girl Scout Hut by other local youth and civic groups, with some financial aid to be furnished by the groups to help with utility costs and upkeep, making it an entire community endeavor, explained Mrs. Merriott. This possibility was met with the approval of the Girl Scout leaders, Betty Ashford and Linda Tucker, as the Girl Scouts only meet on Friday afternoon after school, at least at this time.

A work night has been set for every Monday night by Mrs. Merriott and Mrs. Ashford for the rest of the summer in an effort to finish this project by September when a membership drive and open house is planned.

Wayne Holmes has volunteered to set aside a night at the Mule Putt Miniature Golf Course for all proceeds to go toward the Girl Scout Project. A tentative date is Wednesday, August 22.

Excitement is continuing to run high as work continues at the Girl Scout Little Hut, concluded Mrs. Merriott.

'Air Ambulance' New For The South Plains

In response to the growing medical needs of the South Plains, Lubbock General Hospital recently inaugurated the first formal air ambulance service based in West Texas that includes a comprehensive flight team.

"To such a vast area, fixed-wing is the most efficient and time-saving mode of transportation," said Jim Courtney, Associate Director of Lubbock

General Hospital. The twin-engine Cessna 402B bears the name REACT (Regional Emergency Air Care Transport).

REACT provides safe and rapid transport for patients requiring emergency or urgent specialty medical care. REACT is also available for the transport of patients to and from other area hospitals.

REACT is equipped to function as an advanced life support air unit including cardiac monitoring and defibrillation equipment, oxygen, suction, endotracheal intubation and ventilation supplies, complete emergency medications and splinting equipment.

REACT is staffed with a minimum of two medical persons from the following categories for emergency transports: physician, paramedic, registered nurse, respiratory therapist or paramedic.

Emergency Medical Services paramedics attending each flight are required to complete an in-service training course in flight physiology, including plane safety.

Courtney expects that the routine operations will be in the area of 125-175 miles.

"It is a great addition to the health care of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico," said Don McInturff, Chairman of the Board, Lubbock County Hospital District.

The primary flight pilot of REACT, Mike Spradling, was licensed in 1966 and was later certified as a flight, instrument and multi-engine instructor.

The Cessna 402B cruises at approximately 200 miles per hour, depending on the weight of the cargo.

Area physicians are invited to call for more information on REACT at 1-806-743-4444.

Know Your Chamber Of Commerce

Tom Bagte, Mgr.

Recently I had the pleasure of attending a week's Institute for Organization Management at Southern Methodist University in Dallas. I must say it was one of the most rewarding experiences of my first year as manager of the Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

I was given the opportunity because people believed in me enough to help with finances. First I was awarded a scholarship for my tuition by the South Plains Association of Chamber Executives. The Muleshoe Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture paid for my meal ticket and the Jennisippers paid for my hotel room. My plane ticket was purchased by an individual. I must again say "Thank You!" for everything, for without them I would not have been able to attend.

This was my first year and hopefully I will return to Institute one week out of every year for five more years to come. At that time I will have my certificate in Organization Management.

Institute curriculum included coursework in management philosophy, interpersonal processes, government, law and organization structure. I also took courses in industrial development and attracting tourists and conventions. The classes were most interesting and helpful. Along with all the knowledge, you also begin your "network." This refers to the new contacts you make with people all across the United States. If you ever have a problem or question, all you do is pick up the phone and call someone who can help.

The class I started this year, one of the biggest in the history of Institute, will be kept together for our six year course. These classmates are good friends, all in my line of work, who are willing to help with anything. They are supportive and encouraging.

It was also a week of fun and excitement. The first night at SMU, they gave us a Texas style welcome with tons of Texas food. On Tuesday evening they had the "Olympiad," which is more fun than trying to sort black-eyed peas. My class was the only first year class to place in this athletic competition in the history of Institute. We came in second in a grueling competition which involved volleyball, golf, basketball, soccer, Reese ball, tennis and tug-of-war. On Wednesday they put on a dinner show that was truly entertaining. A young man named Roger Vee and his band performed hits from the past years.

All together it was a most rewarding week. I feel more confident and excited about my job and I am looking forward to the upcoming year. Again I wish to say "Thank You!" to all the people who were responsible for my week at Institute.

Crime Fight 'Night Out' Is Planned

If you're fed up with crime, why not plan now to join in the 1985 National Night Out on Aug. 18.

That's the night neighborhoods across the country will "light up" against crime.

The nation's "Night Out" against crime begins at 8 p.m. and is a time when families and friends light up their neighborhoods and sit out on lawns and front porches of their homes and apartments to keep an eye and ears of local law enforcement agencies.

"This will be the nation's second annual Night Out as part of a nationwide crime prevention project," points out Dr. Fred Cross of Stephenville, community development specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

According to Cross, the project is designed to highlight the importance, value and effectiveness of law enforcement-community crime prevention programs and to promote support for, and participation in, local crime watch efforts. It also is aimed at helping neighborhoods overcome the "after dark fear of crime" and at sending a message to the criminal community to let them know that neighborhoods across the U.S. are watching.

"National Night Out is an excellent project for all communities because it is inexpensive, relatively simple and easy to participate in, and it generates neighborhood spirit and support for local crime prevention programs," notes Cross.

Community leaders interested in having their town or city as an official participant in the program should contact the National Town Watch Night Out, P.O. Box 769, Havertown, PA 19083.

Local county Extension offices can provide additional information on neighborhood or community crime watch programs, adds Cross.

Which Are You?

According to a popular magazine, there are three kinds of drivers: "urban, suburban and bourbon."

Astros Baseball Report

The Sudan Astros baseball season started out with a bang, as they defeated the Mets in the opening game 8-7 on May 27. The scoring was well distributed with Grant Gatewood, Brodie Miller, Everett Williams, Rudy Valenzuela, Kessie Kinzie, Justin Harrison, Kris Humphreys and Alicia Seymore, each member of the team, all making one point.

On Thursday, May 30, they hosted the Amherst Reds on a very dusty afternoon and pulled out a victory. The score was 18-9. G. Gatewood, B. Miller and E. Williams each had 2 points; R. Neerland 3; Valenzuela, J. Harrison and V. Williams each 1 as did K. Kinzie.

On Monday, June 3, the Astros hosted Melcher team from Amherst, and played a very offensive game and won 18-2. Gatewood, R. Peterson, R. Valenzuela, each had 3; K. Kinzie, J. Harrison, K. Humphreys, A. Seymore, V. Williams, B. Phipps, R. Neerland and Williams each had 1.

June 6, the Astros suffered their first defeat as the Mets defeated them 12-7. Scoring one for the Astros were Gatewood, Miller, Valenzuela, Peterson, Kinzie and Humphreys.

On Monday, June 10, they traveled to Amherst and defeated the Amherst Reds 13-2 with Gatewood and E. Williams and Valenzuela leading the scorers with 3 each; Miller, Neerland 2 and Kinzie 1.

They were back in Amherst on June 13 to play with the Melcher team again and came out victors in a come from behind win of 18-6. Gatewood, Williams each had 3; Neerland, Kinzie, Phipps 1 each and Miller 2.

On June 21 they ended their regular season with an ice cream and coke picnic in the park. Players and their families gathered for a time of eating and fun. All players received baseballs and said they were ready for the tournament.

On June 25, they journeyed once more to Amherst to start play in the tourney. Their first opponents were the Amherst Reds and even though they had a week off they came out the winners 14-2. They will be playing the winner between the Mets and Melcher Blues. The scoring in the first game was Gatewood, E. Williams, B. Miller each 3; Neerland and Valenzuela 2 each and Kinzie 1.

Bendy Miller, spokesperson for the group stated: "Whether we win or lose the tournament, we feel we have had a good year. Everyone has tried hard and even gave up Saturday morning cartoons to practice. Good luck to the boys who move up to Little League next year, to the ones who stay on the Astros for a few more years. We wish you good luck for another good year."
