JAYCEES MAKING PLANS FOR ANNUAL RICE SPRINGS RODEO

The Haskell Junior Chamber of Commerce is hard at work on preparations for their annual rodeo, which will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, May 19, 20 and 21. Great progress is being made in the work they are doing in making the Rice Springs rodeo grounds ready for the event. However, they are in need of some welding help, and any other assistance would be appreciated, James Franklin, president, said.

Tickets for the rodeo performances and others for the barbecue are now on sale. Rodeo tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75c for students, and may be purchased from any of the Jaycees or from the contestants for rodeo queen. The queen is to be selected according to the one who sells the most tickets, and will be crowned on Saturday night, May 21.

A big barbecue will be held at the Corral building on the evening of the first performance. Tickets for that event can be obtained from any of the Jaycees, at $1.50 each. The meal will be catered by the Double-A Drive-In.

Posters have been distributed throughout the area and still others are being printed in order to make the rodeo a well-advertised Jaycee affair.

Shaving permits, in conjunction with the beard-growing contest, will soon go on sale by the Jaycee "deputies," for 50c. Jaycees will set-up their stall on the courthouse square during Rodeo Week, and the Jaycee Sheriff and his deputies will be busy throwing local outlaws into it (men who have neither grown a beard for rodeo week nor have purchased a shaving permit).

REPORT FROM CITY HALL

By Douglas B. Finch

The City Council met Tuesday night, April 28th, and conducted its business in the city offices while the Chamber of Commerce sponsored sales course was being conducted in the Council rooms.

Your council spent much time discussing water problems with Mr. Roy Oliphant, City Water Superintendent. On the morning prior to the meeting, I had made application on behalf of the City of Haskell for a grant in the amount of $35,000.00 through the Farmer's Home Administration, to pay for 50 per cent of the currently considered water reservoir project and new water mains. This will entail another delay in beginning the project— to see if we receive the grant.

The Council passed a Weed and Public Nuisance Ordinance which has been handed to the newspaper for publication.

Plans were made to expedite and facilitate the repair of city streets following the heavy rains... and prices for private use of city equipment for certain jobs were reviewed and approved.

A raise in salary of 14.2% was granted Mrs. Ora Shovall, employee of the city water office. Salary bases of other city employees were reviewed, but no further action was taken.

It was agreed that Mr. T. J. Arbuckle would be kept on the city payroll for one additional month in view of his continuing cooperation with the new office personnel, and in view of his long tenure of service to the City of Haskell. Further consideration would be given to honoring Mr. Arbuckle further at a later date.

A plan for fair distribution of city oil, gas and diesel fuel business among all of the city distributors was approved.

A contract was let to Hager-Pest Control Service of Haskell for the servicing of the city hall against rodents, pests and insects.

Federal Control of Education

State and local governments have abdicated, willingly or otherwise, all manner of responsibilities to the federal government. The result has been to put the non-federal governments in much the position of mendicants, going hand in hand to Washington for more and more of their needs and wants.

A particularly alarming trend is found in the field of education. The proposed federal budget for the next fiscal year contains appropriations totaling an astonishing $20 billion for education. According to the Portland Oregonian, not long ago only about $1 in each $100 spent for education at local levels came from the federal government. Now the figure approaches $10 in each $100.

This caused the paper to say "...the state should not leave the doing to the federal government. The states and localities must remain the senior partner in education unless they are willing to acquiesce in a fundamental change in American education in which central control is substituted for local control...an arrangement which is not recommended by its practice in many other countries."

When the federal government pays, the federal government controls and orders. If the present trend continues, it won't be long until Washington is the almost absolute boss of education everywhere in this country, and local authorities are virtually powerless administrative agencies through which federal funds are siphoned for purposes and programs decided upon by federal agencies. One can hardly conceive of a less appealing situation than that.

NEW CLASSES OF POOR

Authoritative voices warning of the dangers of more and perhaps heavier inflation are coming from almost all directions these days. One of the most recent was raised by the American Bankers Association...an organization whose most profound concerns lie in the realm of fiscal policy and in the value of the dollar as purchasing agent.

It will be extremely difficult, the statement said, to prevent inflation this year. It offered two primary reasons: "Utilization of plant capacity in many industries is above or close to the designed range." Further, "Unemployment has fallen to an eight-year low, and labor shortages of some specific goods are reported, and shortages may spread if the war in Viet Nam intensifies further."

Then the Association came to what may well be the heart of the matter. It said it would support any necessary increases in taxes, but added, "We believe strongly...that no request for an emergency tax increase should be made or granted without firm accompanying efforts to cut back on domestic spending proposals."

This, it is clear, is a reference to the government's effort to fight a major war and at the same time pursue welfare programs of unimpeachable scope and cost. Under these conditions, inflation is not only probable but inevitable. And, ironically, every time the value of the dollar declines, we automatically create new classes of poor...while a war on poverty is a primary government objective!

Bert E. Ratliff Passes Away At Ada, Oklahoma

Bert E. Ratliff, 79, a former resident of Jones County, and a longtime rural mail carrier and Justice of the Peace, died at Ada, Oklahoma, Tuesday morning, April 26. He was a brother of the late Judge L. D. Ratliff of Haskell. Services were held Thursday afternoon, April 28, in Ada, and burial was in Rosedale Cemetery beside his wife, the former Willie Stegall, who preceded him in death, June 10, 1959. A daughter preceded him in death.

Mr. Ratliff was born in Hickman County, Tenn., the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ratliff, who were residents of Jones County at the time of their death. The family came to Texas in 1892 and settled in Cooke County. As a young man, he worked on ranches in the Fort Stockton area, and later farmed in the Corinth community south of Stamford. In 1918 he moved to Roff, Okla., and then to Ada, and was a rural mail carrier for 37 years, until his retirement April 1, 1955. He was appointed Justice of the Peace on April 2, 1956, which office he held continuously until his death.

Survivors are his daughter, Mrs. James Bradford, Lawton, Oklahoma; his son, Bert E. Ratliff, Jr., Hurst, Texas; four grandchildren, and two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Jeffress, Amarillo, Texas, and Mrs. R. W. Campbell, Canton, Texas.

Mr. Ratliff visited in Haskell on many occasions. Two of his nephews, Sen. David Ratliff of Stamford and W. P. Ratliff of Haskell, attended the funeral.

VISITS HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Larned and daughter, Tracie, of Bradley, Florida, after visiting his mother, May Larned, of Haskell and other relatives and friends here, drove on to Big Spring for a visit with his brother, Bud Larned and wife and daughter, Roxene.

He was joined at Big Spring by another brother, Mather Larned, of Las Cruces, New Mexico for a weekend visit. After visiting in Big Spring, Joe motored to San Antonio and visited another brother, Lt. Jack Larned and wife and baby, prior to returning to his home in Florida. Joe remarked that he still loves Texas... especially Haskell, as he was raised here. It has been 8 or 9 years since his last visit to Haskell.

Nov. General Election Ballot To Be Heavy

Texans will have a heavier general election ballot next November than usual with the appearance of 16 proposed Constitutional Amendments on the voting agenda.

In a public drawing in Austin, Secretary of State Crawford C. Martin drew numbers from a hat to determine the sequence in which the amendments will appear on the November 8 ballot.

At the top of the ballot, getting the Number One designation, is the amendment "to provide that all land owned by natural persons designated for agricultural use shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use."

Other proposed amendments are less confusing in their text. Some of the others, and their number on the ballot, are: Abolishment of the poll tax (No. 7), allowing members of the Armed Forces who are residents of Texas to vote (No. 14) and $200-million in water development bonds (No. 11). All together, the proposed amendments contain about 14,300 words.

To help Texans understand the proposed Amendments, they will be published in Texas newspapers beginning in August.

I, R. A. Coburn, Haskell County Auditor do hereby certify that the figures above are true and correct as shown by the audit reports for the years 1954 and 1965.

R. A. Coburn, County Auditor, Haskell County, Texas

The above recap of 1954 and 1965 precinct four income shows an increase of $4,650.58. To many of our citizens this may seem like a sizeable increase in income but it amounts to less than 1 per cent a year increase on the total income. This will not begin to cover the increase in cost of operating the precinct. Cost of labor, gasoline, materials, repairs, parts and almost anything we use as you all know has increased tremendously. So here is the question—No one wants to increase valuations or taxes, yet all, including myself, want good roads, county bills paid and county business properly taken care of—so what is the solution? Better management and more economical operation, to be prudent in all things we are concerned with. Experience gives a person knowledge and better equips him to do a job. I have made mistakes, which is only human, but I have tried to profit by them and felt that I am better qualified to do a good job for my precinct now than when I was first elected. The commissioners Court handled $1,168,668.27 last year. That's more than just a road grading job. You wouldn't want to turn this kind of business over to just any one if it was your own personal business, and it is yours—every taxpayer in the county is a stockholder in this business. And I want to assure you that I have put forth every effort to get the most for your tax dollar, be fair and honest in my dealing and invite your inspection of my record as your commissioner.

Upon my record I solicit your support and influence in the May 7th Primary for your commission of Precinct 4.

Many Farmers In California Creek,
Wichita-Brazos SCD Turning to Guar

Vernon L. Speck, who farms in the Rochester community, says he has produced up to 800 pounds per acre of guar on dry-land in recent years.

Speck stated that improved varieties of guar should boost dry land yields. He also added that a guar crop can be produced on two inches of rain. This is, providing a good underground season is present at planting time, and rainfall comes during the summer growing season.

Speck, a cooperator with the Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District, plants several acres of guar each year. He grows guar not only for a cash crop, but also for the purpose of improving fertility of the land. Cotton grows off faster following guar, according to Speck's personal observation and experience. He plants some of his cotton on guar land every year.

Speck concluded that in most years he has his guar out of the field a month before the first frosts.

Hinds McGowen Jr., Soil Conservationist for the Haskell Soil Conservation Service stated that

Many farmers in the California Creek and Wichita Brazos Soil and Water Conservation Districts have already planned guar as a cash crop for this year. Guar and other legumes such as peas should be considered by other farmers with "diverted acres" to be planted this summer. These crops are very good for improving soil fertility. McGowen concluded.

Fashion World Split Down the Middle

Structured and geometrical is Vidal Sassoon's way to hair beauty (left). John Garrison's coiffures are lacy and soft.

NEW YORK (CFN)—Two opposing hairdresser camps are going at each other at the moment with scissors and comb! The controversy concerns the architectural versus the soft look in hair design.

The Clairol Institute of Hair-coloring recently clarified the issues in a show called, "Beauty and the Upbeats" presented for the nation's press. The leading exponents of both schools of hairstyling were on hand to inform and entice the audience to their way of thinking.

Vidal Sassoon, front-rank advocate of today's stark, geometrical hairstyles, showed his coiffeur designs in contrast with those of John Garrison, a hold-out for the soft and feminine in hairstyling and raiment.

The results were dramatic. Some editors gasped as the short-haired Sassoon models came on stage. These same women greeted the Garrison models, sporting soft, loopy coils, with a burst of applause.

It was another story, however, where the younger members of the press were concerned. The curly, feminine coils received polite applause, but the real enthusiasm was accorded the structured, chiselled hairdos.

Innovations in hairstyling are matched by these in haircoloring. Quick shampoo-in colorings like Nice 'n Easy make it so simple to accept one's natural hair color. Both Mr. Laurence, Vidal Sassoon's chief haircolorist, and John Garrison used the haircolorings to more clearly define a young woman's type or personality, by lightening, brightening, or deepening her own hairshade. Even covering gray hairs.

Apparently, age is the key to the fashion-world split. The young adult seems to favor the new and streamlined, while the over-30's take a more traditional approach to fashion. It is unlikely that the two opposition forces will compromise in the near future, since the "way-out" set, as their elders like to call it, is gaining new members every day.

Population experts tell us that, by 1970, 76 per cent of our citizenry will be between 20 and 25 years old. And that makes a lot of supporters for the "Upbeat" look.

The one thing that may change their views will be boredom with the fashion, in a few years.

To The Voters Of Haskell County . . .

I want to thank all my friends and supporters for their encouragement and support given me in the past and it has been a pleasure serving you as your County Clerk. If given a second term, I will give the same honest and courteous attention to the affairs of the County Clerk's office as I have in the past. I am 47 years of age, married, and have two children, both teenagers. I have lived in Haskell County practically all of my life, graduating from Haskell High School in 1936. I also attended Texas Tech and Howard Payne Colleges. Due to having a heart attack on March 18th of this year it has been impossible for me to see many of the voters, but I wish you would take this as a personal solicitation for your vote. If you can support me for a second term, my family and I will certainly appreciate it and will consider it an honor to serve you again as your County Clerk. Thank you. W. W. (Bill) Reeves

DON'T MOW YOUR LAWN TOO CLOSE

Don't ruin your lawn by mowing it too close, cautions County Agent F. W. Martin. Mowing too close or "scalping" encourages a thinning of the turf and shallow rooting. This lowers the resistance of your lawn to drought and disease. It also makes it easier for weeds to invade and take over the lawn. Mowing too close allows the soil to dry out and literally bake - this causes heat damage to grass during the summer. Mowing too high can cause many of the same problems. For best results, Bermuda grass should be mowed at a height of 1 to 1 1/2 inches. St. Augustine, buffalo, zoysia, bluegrass and ryegrass should be mowed to 1 1/2 to 2 inches. The grass should be mowed often enough that not more than 1 inch of the leaf tip is removed at any one clipping. Many home owners want a dense mat of turf on their lawn, but the buildup of stems and leaves (thatch) can lead to trouble. This is especially true with St. Augustine and Bermuda. Mowing these grasses too high for long periods causes a thatch buildup. The thatch acts as insulation and new roots must penetrate it to get into the soil. The thatch increases the disease hazard, too. Proper mowing requires a sharp, well-adjusted lawn mower. The mower should be sharp enough to cut the tips of leaves and not bruise or brush them. Most mowers can be adjusted to the correct height. Pay close attention to your mowing practices and you will be rewarded with a more attractive lawn.

Four or more servings from the bread group (enriched or whole grain) should be included in each day's diet. This does not mean that the servings should always be bread as such, for the bread group includes, noodles, spaghetti and cereals. Nutrients furnished by the bread group are B vitamins, iron, a small amount of protein and a large amount of starch. It is the starch which furnishes a cheap source of energy, but which also contributes a large portion of calories. One slice of bread, however, is not particularly high in calories, Mrs. Elliott points out, unless butter and jelly are added. One slice of white bread (average slice) contains about 63 calories, while one slice of whole wheat bread has 55 calories. By adding one pat of butter (51 calories) and one level tablespoon of jelly (50) calories, the caloric count value of the bread is increased by 101 calories. Thus one slice of white bread becomes 164 calories and one slice of whole wheat bread becomes 156 calories.

The plain white potato need not be such a terrible offender for the weight watcher, either, if it is eaten plain without butter, sour cream or mayonnaise. In many instances, it is the dressing (sauces, salad dressings, gravies) or seasonings (butter, fats or oils) served with the vegetables that increase the caloric value of the food. The weight watcher would do well to select a balanced diet including foods such as meat, milk or milk products, breads and cereals, vegetables and fruits, says Mrs. Elliott. Bread and potatoes aren't necessarily the "culprits."

Health Insuror Attacks Old Saw; Gives Tips On Battling Colds

If you've been applying the adage "feed the cold and starve a fever," to your colds and other minor winter ailments, forget it. It's sometimes better, in fact, to do the opposite, say medical specialists at Aetna Life and Casualty, one of the nation's largest health insurance writers. When you have a cold and aren't hungry, they advise, do not eat excessively; your condition is particularly conducive to stomach upset. And don't be afraid of taking extra nourishment when you have a fever. You'll be replacing calories burned up by high body temperatures. Your best bet, says Aetna Life & Casualty's medical department, is to eat well-balanced meals at all times. That will help you maintain the good general health that gives you an edge in combating the cold, a malady that plagues some 20-million Americans on any given winter day. In a public service pamphlet titled "Cold Facts About the Common Cold," the insurance company doctors offer these tips to help prevent colds and minimize their discomfort:

1. To reduce chances of getting a cold, steer clear of cold sufferers and don't use their towels, drinking glasses or eating utensils. Avoid cold drafts, wet feet and fatigue.
2. Practice good personal hygiene. Always wash your hands before preparing or eating food.
3. Maintain sufficient humidity in your home and, if possible, in your office, especially during the winter heating season. A dry nose and throat contributes to infection.
4. If a cold strikes, don't experiment with pills and medicines remaining from previous illnesses or with remedies recommended by friends. Many serious illnesses will imitate the early symptoms of a cold. All colds are not alike and what is right for one may not be so

5. Blot, don't blow your nose.
6. Get extra rest as necessary.
7. If cold symptoms longer than a few days, fever develops, call your doctor.

WANTED 10 Homes In Need of Painting

Haskell County home owners in this general area whose homes are in need of painting will be given an opportunity to examine a new exterior paneling just being introduced, and if desired, applied to their home at a very low cost. It will be of special interest to home owners who are fed up with constant painting and other maintenance costs. This brand new material, developed after 1 1/2 years of testing and research, is especially recommended for use in Texas climate due to the extra tough surface bonded to the basic panel. It carries a 30-year written guarantee by one of the largest and most respected names in the industry. With the dead air space provided between this panel and an underlayer of protective coating and insulation, it is said to reduce heating and cooling cost as much as 30%. This product can be used over every type of construction, including frame, brick, stucco, etc. Home owners who act now will save substantially over those who delay to take advantage of this offer, and will be provided the services of an experienced exterior decorator at no additional cost. Those interested should write to our area representative, Marlin Battles, 1250 Butternut St., Abilene, Texas. An appointment will be made to see your home without obligation and explain this new product to you. Please act at once as this is a limited offer. 15-21p

I am deeply grateful for your continued confidence. I hope that I may merit your support again on May 7th—both at the polls and at your precinct convention, to continue the important progress we are making together.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

Several have called me about rosebuds turning brown before they open. Thrip, a tiny yellow insect, enters the bud of a rose and literally sucks the life blood from the petals. Often the bud will not open at all or if it does, the rose won't stay pretty a day, but seems to burn up on the bush.

Take your roses and hit the blossom gently in the palm of your hand. If thrips are present, they will crawl out onto your hand.

Blackleaf 40 and soap suds are good to control thrip as well as aphids.

There are several kind of aphids, both brown and green and some that are almost microscopic. Others are larger than fleas.

There is a systemic rose food that is already being tried in this county. Not only does the food give the nutrients that the plants need, but it also carries an insecticide through the roots into the foliage. Sucking insects are supposed to be destroyed without spraying. I have yet to try this new food, but hope to do so as soon as we get moved back.

Soon squash will begin to put on large leaves and our old pests, the "squash bugs" will be back once more. My husband and I dusted Sevin on squash bugs last year and they curled up and died almost at once. Never before had we seen such a quick destruction of these pests. It beats Sabadilla dust.

There is one drawback to using Sevin. It kills our good insects, too. Last year, cucumber beetles, squash bugs, lady bugs and even bees curled up and died when they came in contact with Sevin. When this chemical is used be careful to not dust the blossoms of squash, cucumbers or cantaloupe. Bees and wasps usually inhabit the blossoms until they wing for home.

I fear a real invasion of cucumber beetles this year, as they came in swarms last fall. There must have been thousands of eggs hatched out this spring. Maybe because of the cool weather, many insects crawled into cracks in the ground, then when our prolonged rains came, the cracks were sealed, destroying many harmful insects. Let's hope, anyway.

Haskell Garden Club members should set out lots of bedding plants such as verbena, snapdragon, petunia, moss, periwinkle and the like, so we can yet present a good show to Haskell. Plant zinnias, marigolds, coxcomb, bachelor buttons and other annuals for quick blossoms.

Be sure to sow lettuce, carrots, radishes and mustard for quick vegetables.

With such good soaking rains, despite the hail, we should have a real good year for growing and showing what the good earth can produce.

Mrs. J. P. Perrin has beautiful white and red rose bushes that are literally covered with buds. She was disappointed to find aphids inhabiting her white roses. She said she would get some Blackleaf 40 and get busy. Aphids prefer white, yellow or pink roses to the darker red ones.

O'Brien Girl Reigns Over H-SU Rodeo

Miss Sandra Lynn Ellis, 21-year-old graduate of O'Brien High School, was named Rodeo Sweetheart for Hardin-Simmons University's 20th annual Inter-scholastic Rodeo, which was held Thursday through Saturday of last week. She led the big western parade through downtown Abilene.

Miss Ellis was picked by H-SU student body in a campus-wide election. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Ellis of O'Brien and was picked over three other sweetheart nominees.

Place Protecting Guard On Every Exposed Irrigation Well Drive Shaft

One of the most dangerous omissions that an irrigation farmer can be guilty of is that of leaving the driveshaft between his irrigation pump and engine exposed.

J. C. Yeary, Work Unit Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service of Haskell reported that, to his knowledge, in his work unit area, not one irrigation pump drive shaft is guarded. With the irrigation season upon us, Yeary stated, each irrigation farmer that has an exposed or unguarded drive shaft on an irrigation pump should make the supreme effort to install some type of guard.

Yeary related several grim instances of farmers and members of farm families having been severely injured as the result of clothing become entangled with a moving drive shaft. Yeary cautions all who must work around such machinery when it is in operation to take extra precautions, see that loose clothing is tucked in or removed if possible, if guards are not installed.

If any model, of the many guards that are manufactured to cover exposed drive shafts, was expensive, Yeary pointed out, an irrigator would perhaps have an excuse for not having one on each well that he operates, but all are probably under $10.00 in price. Expense, then, is not a factor.

What is the reason for these many drive shafts remaining exposed?

Probably the principal reason, Yeary said, can be traced back to our old friend 'complacency.' He can be a bitter foe. Most of us simply cannot feature tragic things happening to us. Oh, sure, these things occur every day, but always to someone else.

Don't shrug your shoulders and say to yourself that this is a one chance in a million occurrence. You have children who are looking to you for the proper decision in this matter. Consider them—their very lives may depend on your decision. Consider also the adult friends who come by the farm to watch and visit. Or the farm hired-hand that is likely to be working near the machinery, should be thought of. Their safety, too, may well depend upon your decision.

Your Board of Supervisors of the Wichita-Brazos and California Creek Soil and Water Conservation districts urges that today you place a protecting guard on every irrigation well drive shaft that is exposed on your farm. It might well be one of the wisest things that you will ever have an opportunity to do.

Local Banker At Meeting In Nevada

R. W. Herren, director of the Haskell National Bank, and wife, Anita; her aunt, Mrs. Mullins and husband, R. L. Mullins, president of the Wolfe City National Bank, Wolf City, and a past president of the IBA, are attending the 32nd annual convention of the Independent Bankers Association of America in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The convention got underway Tuesday and continues through today (Thursday), May 5th.

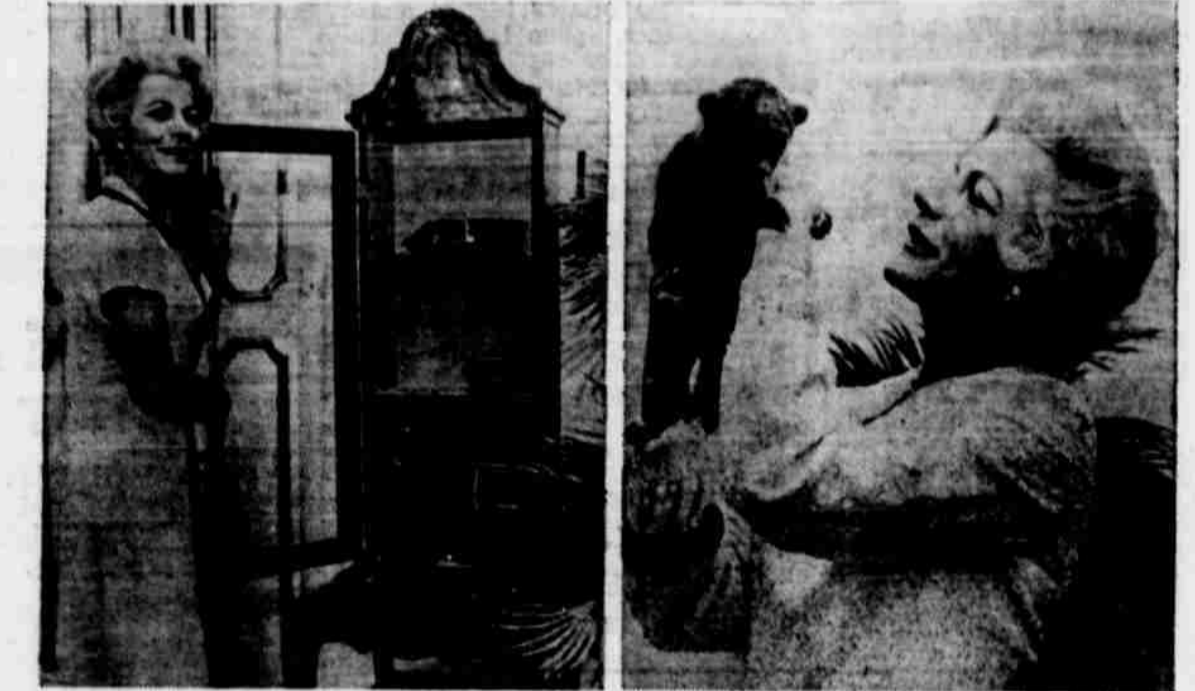

Speakers at the convention sessions in the Dunes Hotel include Gov. W. Mitchell of the Federal Reserve Board, J. Stanley Baughman, head of the FNWA, the federal housing and finance agency; Professor Geo. Donohue, University of Minnesota rural sociologist, and Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin.

The bankers and their wives and guests will visit Hoover Dam and Lake Mead national recreation area, and will dine at a theatre casino.

More than 1,500 persons registered in advance for the convention. The Independent Bankers Association of America has more than 6,400 member banks in 40 states. Ralph L. Zaun, a banker from Grafton, Wis., is president this year.

Central America filled with History and the unusual

Mrs. Ray T. Coffin, Jr., Vice Consul of El Salvador in Dallas, Texas, shows some of the artifacts reflecting the historical heritage of Central America. The Gold and Jade jewelry is from the tombs of the ancient Mayan and other Indian cultures of this area. Central America was the meeting place and the crossroads for the interchange of trade and knowledge of the Mayan, Aztec, and Inca civilizations. The pre-Columbian pottery as well as gigantic stone-works are found throughout this area. With the Spanish colonization came the teachers and missionaries, and the little "Santos" is from this period. The "Pieces of Eight" are reminiscent of the buried treasure hidden along the Caribbean and Pacific coasts by Captain Morgan and his fellow pirates. Much of this pirate's booty is still to be found. The sea, the lakes, and the mountains are filled with beautiful and exotic birds and animals, and Mrs. Coffin enjoys the love and affection of her little "honey bear," a native of this region.

Uniform Cotton Planting Program Is Beneficial To The Area Farmers

As the time for early planting of cotton draws near, there is much activity by community farm leaders in the 31 counties of the Rolling Plains of Texas to discuss the advantages of a uniform planting date for their particular communities. While there is some difference of opinion as to delaying planting until May 23, the majority of farmers are agreeing to May 23 or later for cotton planting this year. Seventeen counties thus far have had called-meetings for the purpose of selecting a uniform date for planting.

The boll weevil control program as progressing under the leadership of the Rolling Plains

Cotton Growers, is highly dependent on a uniform planting date for cotton. Where all growers in a community or area plant about the same time, the total length of the boll weevil's reproductive period will be reduced to a minimum.

The second factor of importance to boll weevil control is to plant as late as is agronomically sound. This practice denies the weevil early food and egg-laying sites. Cotton planted at this time will generally make the most rapid growth, mature out and can be harvested in a shorter time.

It is recognized by all that weather cannot be predicted precisely. Rainfall will vary from one community to another and one county to another. Each community must act according to its own local conditions. But a careful study of weather data patterns for your local community can help you with your decision. Use this new tool that has just been made available to you. It may help you stay in the cotton production business.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

On May 7th is the time for us voters to correct our mistakes at the ballot box, if we use our heads. Last year we lost over one million for an unusual, special election to keep the lawmaker for four years as well as other state officials. The people had acted wisely and turned it down. This is the time to check these boys over and itemize them, return the good and defeat the other.

The worst part of this failure is the fault of the presiding officers of both houses, because neither the Speaker nor the Lt. Governor had very much knowledge of law, nor in the Constitution, which was needed when the point of order is raised or the constitutionality in doubt. This would save plenty of time, money and trouble, when Criminal Code Legislation was before them. It was unenforceable or practical. For the Attorney General's office we have three men asking for this important job. I am not personally acquainted with any of them, except I was honored to have served in the Legislature with Franklin Spear's father, and met his good mother when Franklin was a little fellow. There are no better people in

Herren Reports Savings Bond Sales In County

Savings Bond sales for the first three months of 1966 in Haskell County totaled $75,549.00. Of this amount $47,591.00 was purchased during March, according to a report released by R. W. Herren, chairman of the Haskell County Savings Bonds Committee.

Sales in Texas for the first quarter of 1966 amounted to $38,640,799, which represents 26 per cent of the state's goal of $147.5 million.

"We are delighted to report that Series E and H Bond sales during the month of March were 12.5 per cent greater than March 1965. This fine sales increase can be contributed to the fact that the interest rate on Savings Bonds was raised recently to 4.15 per cent, compounded semi annually when held to maturity. Also, more American citizens are putting part of their savings in Savings Bonds to help support our fighting men in Viet Nam," chairman Herren said.

The land is our capital; its products are our dividends. Do not burn the interest. Help keep Texas green.

To The People Of Haskell County ...

JIM ALVIS

It has been a pleasure to serve you these past several years. I feel my knowledge of the office and the work it pertains to makes me more qualified to be your County Judge now than ever before.

I have enjoyed my work very much and I appreciate all the visits that have been made to this, your office. I am just the caretaker for your office. I wish each and everyone would drop by and visit. The office is always open to any of you and any questions you might have regarding any operations in the County. At the present our County is financially in good shape.

I will not be able to make a house-to-house canvass. Many of you I've seen on the streets and in the stores. Time does not permit me to make a more intensive campaign, and at the same time carry on the work in your County Judge's office.

I know there have been times I have been criticized, justly and unjustly, but after all has been said and done, I've done the very best that I possibly could under all the circumstances.

I take this method of soliciting your vote and influence in the coming May 7th Primary. Probably I will see a good many of you between now and election day. If not, remember I am your public servant and wish to remain so for another term.

You have my heartfelt "THANKS" for all past favors. Again, I say, "THANK YOU." PLEASE VOTE!

I received my education from Haskell Public Schools, and I was married to the former Doris (Dan) Miller of Haskell County and we have three children and two grandchildren. We reside at 406 South H, Haskell.

My wife and I are both active members of the Methodist Church of Haskell. We also take part in the civic life of our community and county.

As for qualifications, I have had four years experience as commissioner and have spent eleven years calling on commissioner's courts in 37 of our surrounding counties. I have sat in meetings with commissioner's courts where every kind of problem has been discussed and have heard rulings from the attorney general's office read pertaining to the problem under discussion. Due to my long association with commissioner's courts and my broad knowledge of their many problems, I feel that I am qualified to make you a competent commissioner.

For what ever reason it might be, I would like to vote to close our hospital because I believe we need for it and it is of great service to the people of our county. Nor will I vote for or against any other candidate because I do not want to face up to and attempt to solve unpleasant problems.

I also want to assure you that county funds will be spent judiciously when and where needed.

ACCORDING TO THE AUDITOR'S STATEMENT
AS OF DECEMBER 31, 1965:

TOTAL Receipts for Prec. 4 were ..... $40,000

TOTAL Disbursements for same time ..... 41,000

A Deficit of ..... 1,000

If a personal business was being operated at the time of the election, some adjustment would be made. If elected, I will make that adjustment.

All citizens will be welcome at any meeting of the court. I will always be available and willing to discuss anything for the betterment of our county.

If you want an administration conducted as if it were a personal business, vote for—

Jobs Become More Scarce For Dropouts

Mrs. Barbara Elliott, County Home Demonstration Agent, says that high school dropouts, who continue to leave school are having a harder time than ever.

The measure of youngsters remaining to graduate from high school is rapidly approaching 80 per cent, based on recent reports from the National Education Association. That's an almost 11-point increase from what it was just five years ago.

Things are not as bright as they appear, however. For example, two years ago the Department of Labor reported that the proportion of dropouts in the nation's work force has been shrinking consistently since 1940. This means that fewer and fewer dropouts are able to find jobs.

What makes matters worse is that the number of young persons in the population today is bound to represent a larger, absolute number of dropouts who will be hunting jobs during the remainder of the 1960's. In fact, 7.5 million young people—or nearly 30 per cent of their age group—will enter the work force during the decade, according to predictions.

Texas is third in the nation in the number of children under 18 years of age residing within a state. Therefore, many Texas youths will be a part of this flood to the labor market, emphasizes Mrs. Barbara Elliott.

Jobs open to the dropout are becoming less desirable, and even those jobs have become increasingly scarce. Additionally, the dropout, hampered by lack of education and his younger age, finds himself competing more than ever with the graduate who is better educated and older with more job experience. The end result is that the dropout continues to suffer from a greater degree of unemployment than do high school graduates and young people with higher education.

HALLIE CHAPMAN

Candidate for COUNTY JUDGE

Presents Some

FACTS

I have lived in the county for fifty-six years, coming here with my parents at the age of four. My formal education was received in the Haskell schools.

In 1923 Tillie Atchison and I were married and we have two daughters and six grandchildren. We are both active members of the First Baptist Church of Haskell and also active in civic affairs. We are and have always been proud to be a part of Haskell County and its people.

I have had twenty-seven years of varied business experience. Four years of this experience was Administrator of the Haskell County Hospital. During that time the Commissioners Court was never asked for a dime; $25,000.00 worth of equipment was purchased and paid for out of hospital funds.

I have always been diligent and energetic in everything I have undertaken. And if elected your County Judge you can be sure I will fulfill the many and varied duties of the office to the best of my ability and be fair and impartial to one and all alike.

I promise no miracles, but if elected I believe with all my heart, I can make you the kind of Judge you would like.

I have tried to see as many of you as possible... However, it has been impossible to see everyone, but it has been a pleasure to meet and discuss my campaign with those of you I have seen. Those of you I have not been able to see, please consider this a sincere and personal solicitation for your vote and influence in Saturday's election.

VOTE FOR A RECORD — NOT A PROMISE — Seniority in Congress is an INVESTMENT

This represents the RECORD — the FACTS — about OMAR BURLESON, a Democrat 20th year in Congress. There are 435 members of the House and there are 20 Standing Committees, 4 of which have Texas Chairmen. OMAR BURLESON is one of the 4 Texas Chairmen and is 3rd ranking Democrat on another, the powerful House Foreign Affairs Committee Vice-Chairman of two Joint Senate-House Committees of the Congress.

Facts, figures and details are often insignificant as the means toward an end, but this "shell" report might be of interest to you.

There were 383 roll calls in the House in the last session — a modern-day record. The passed about 86 bills during the session which might be considered major bills. There were 1000 bills introduced and less than 500 of them became law—actually were passed. The great volume of legislation, some of it good and some of it bad in the judgment of Congressmen, was passed. He voted for some of it and opposed some of it. The recent session will go down in the record books as a historic session and whether for good or ill, the impact felt for generations.

OMAR BURLESON has supported many legislative proposals considered by him to be sound and fiscally responsible. He supports Democratic Administration proposals when they are needed and are economically sound and feasible.

To mention a few of the more important legislative measures which he has supported and voted for in the last three sessions of the Congress:

- The Defense Appropriations and Authorization Bills...
- The Omnibus Farm Bill of 1965...
- The Excise Tax Reduction Act in 1965...
- The Viet Nam Supplemental Appropriations Bill...
- House Un-American Activities Committee Appropriations...
- Passage in the House of the Higher Education Act of 1965...
- Manpower Development and Training Act...
- Water Pollution Controls Act...
- Rural Water and Sewage Loans Program...
- The Military Pay Raise Bill of 1965...
- Retirements Payment Increase...
- Vocational Student Loan Act...
- The Mental Health Bill...
- Highway Trust Fund Apportionment...
- Railroad Retirement (for Widows)...
- Final passage of the Postal and Classified Employees Pay Raise (After the amount reduced when President Johnson threatened to Veto the Bill)...
- Reduction and Reform in Personal and Corporate Income Taxes...
- Measure Requiring President to Impose Quotas on Import of Beef...
- National Defense Education Act (Loans to Students for College Education)...
- Land and Water Conservation Fund Act...
- Social Security increase of 5%...
- Legislative Reapportionment Barring Federal Court Jurisdiction in the Matter of South Carolina Reapportionment...
- Military Construction Appropriations (Facilities and Family Housing)...
- Supporting the President's Actions in Viet Nam...
- Extending the Bracero Labor Law (Migrant Farm Labor)...
- Increase of Certain Veterans Pensions...
- Health, Education and Welfare Appropriations Bill...
- United Nations Assessments Being Collected or Vote Denied...
- Cotton Textile Mill Act...
- Limiting Funds for Congressional Travel and Require Detailed Accounting...
- Equal Pay Act of 1963 (Women's Rights to Equal Pay for Equal Work)...

Almost without exception, the foregoing legislative proposals were requested by and/or supported by the Democratic Administration. Congressman Burleson voted for and supported all of them.

On the other side of the ledger, Congressman Omar Burleson has opposed a number of proposals proposed by the Administration because he felt they were not needed, unsound or economically not feasible. He has consistently voted what he thinks is in the best interest of the people of the 17th District and the nation as a whole, regardless of political pressures from either the Democratic or Republican leadership in Washington.

To mention a few of the major legislative proposals which Congressman Burleson has opposed and voted against during the past three sessions:

- The Highway Beautification Act (impossible to estimate cost)...
- Home Rule for District of Columbia (removes another authority of Congress)...
- Increasing Public Debt Limit (should work toward decreasing public debt)...
- Medicare under Social Security (impossible to estimate ultimate cost)...
- Public Works and Economic Development ($3.25 billion mostly for big cities)...
- Aid Elementary and Secondary Education ($1.3 billion cost first year)...
- Housing and Urban Development Act ($7.8 billion including rent subsidies)...
- Creating Housing and Urban Affairs Department (no estimate of cost)...
- Repeal of Right-to-Work Law (14B)...
- Immigration Reform Bill (increase immigrants three-fold)...
- Arts and Humanities Act of 1965 ($20 million appropriation)...
- Pay increase for Supreme Court Judges...
- Changing House Rules Committee Authority...
- Anti-Poverty Program ($947 million authorization)...
- Foreign Aid Authorization ($2.04 billion for one year)...
- Urban Mass Transportation Act of 1964 ($375 million first installment)...
- Packing the House Rules Committee in 1963...
- Appalachian Regional Development Act...
- Foreign Aid 1965 (Authorizing $3.36 billion for one year)...

I think you will agree that the voting record of OMAR BURLESON in the Congress is a sound judgment and fiscal responsibility. Congressman Burleson is quick to respond to the need, whether for the military defense of the country, in the interest of helping the aging, poor, or elsewhere. As the foregoing will confirm, he is a consistent Democrat, representing the best interests of the people of the 17th District and the nation as a whole.

NOTE: OMAR BURLESON has consistently supported the 27 1/2% oil depletion allowance and restriction of oil imports.

THE MOST EFFECTIVE REPRESENTATION THIS DISTRICT CAN HAVE IN THE CONGRESS IS A MAN WHO, THROUGH 20 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE AND SENIORITY, CAN USE HIS POWER AND INFLUENCE IN THE BEST INTEREST OF ECONOMY AND GOOD GOVERNMENT WITHOUT HAVING TO SACRIFICE PRINCIPLE BY YIELDING TO PRESSURE FROM ANY ANGLE...

SO, WHEN YOU VOTE FOR A RECORD—NOT JUST A PROMISE, YOU MAINTAIN YOUR DISTRICT SENIORITY IN THE CONGRESS WHICH IS AN INVESTMENT IN GOOD GOVERNMENT. OMAR BURLESON REPRESENTS THAT INVESTMENT FOR YOU.
