Stay safe this Thanksgiving

Special to the Herald
Editor's note: The Big Spring Herald received the following tips on Thanksgiving safety courtesy of the City of Big Spring.
 Thanksgiving and the Holiday season are quickly approaching, and the Big Spring Fire Department wants to make sure the citizens of Big Spring are prepared to safely celebrate the holiday season. We've included a few hazards and safety tips for Thanksgiving and the holiday season:
Turkey Fryer Hazards
 • Many units easily tip over, spilling the hot oil from the cooking pot.
 • If the cooking pot is overfilled with oil, the oil may spill out of the unit when the turkey is placed into the cooking pot. Oil may hit the burner or flames, causing a fire to engulf the entire unit.
 • Partially frozen turkeys placed into the fryer can cause a spillover effect. This too may result in an extensive fire.
 • With no thermostat controls, the units also have the potential to overheat the oil to the point of combustion.
 • The lid and handles on the sides of the cooking pot get dangerously hot, posing severe burn hazards.
Important Safety Information
 If you use a turkey fryer, please use the following tips.
 • Turkey fryers should always be used outdoors a safe distance from buildings and any other flammable materials.
 • Never use turkey fryers in a garage or on a wooden deck.
 • Make sure the fryers are used on a flat surface to reduce accidental tipping.
 • Never leave the fryer unattended. Most units do not have thermostat controls. If you do not watch the fryer carefully, the oil will continue to heat until it catches

Jay Leno suffers burns in gasoline fire

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jay Leno suffered "serious burns" but said Monday that he was doing OK, according to reports.

"I got some serious burns from a gasoline fire," Leno said in a statement to Variety. "I am ok. Just need a week or two to get back on my feet."

The cause and time of the fire wasn't immediately clear.

The former "Tonight Show" host is known for his famed car collection, which is housed at a garage in Burbank, north of Los Angeles.

Leno's publicist and production company did not immediately return email and phone requests from The Associated Press.

Leno, 72, had been set to appear at a financial conference in Las Vegas on Sunday but canceled because of a "serious medical emergency," People magazine reported earlier Monday, citing an email sent to those attending the conference. The comedian took over NBC's "Tonight" when longtime host Johnny Carson retired in 1992. Leno was succeeded by Conan O'Brien in 2009, but NBC got cold feet when the show's ratings dropped and brought Leno back as host in 2010. He remained in the job until Jimmy Fallon took over in 2014.

Leno turned his love of cars into a CNBC series, "Jay Leno's Garage," and now hosts a revival of the game show "You Bet Your Life."

"I'm just so proud of all the participants, the singers and the musicians, and that we can honor the veterans and their families," Garcia said following the performance. "I really want our students to learn to appreciate these veterans and just our freedoms here in the country. I was very proud of tonight, and just very grateful that we had a good crowd show up as well."

Big Spring Area Community Foundation Director George Bancroft, a former BSISD teacher and assistant superintendent, credited Garcia with organizing a stellar tribute to veterans.

"It went very well. I was just honored to be a part of it," Bancroft said. "Mr. Garcia, he did the lion's share of the work to put this together. It's a fantastic performance in honor of our veterans. The best part of the program is the veterans, that they're here to receive what the community wants to offer them as a gift, and that's our deepest appreciation."

Bancroft, who performs under the moniker The Texas Tunesmith, gave a rendition of Woody Guthrie's well-known folk anthem This Land is Your Land during the concert.

The event was the debut of the new community chamber choir organized by Garcia, Vox Cordis.

"I'm so proud of them, and so blessed that their are singers in the community that wanted to put this choir together with me, and we're looking forward to our Christmas concert coming up in December," Garcia said. "But for tonight, I was so pleased with their performance. And of course, Robert Fierro... his solo was just exquisite."

The concert began with a welcome by BSISD Superintendent Jay McWilliams, pledges to the flags led by Ty Cochrane, an invocation by Big Spring High School Principal Mike Ritchey and the National Anthem sung by the combined choirs.

The BSHS Choir sang Krista Branch's I Am America followed by Bancroft's performance.

Next, Nathan Taylor performed the Johnny Cash spoken piece Ragged Old Flag, backed by the choir.

Armed forces veterans present in the audience were honored with the Armed Forces Salute, performed by the choir, and soloist Robert Fierro and Vox Cordis sang The Dying Soldier.

Vox Cordis also performed We Remember Them. Trumpeter Dan Kiley played Taps.

To wrap up the program, Taylor and the choir performed the Lee Greenwood hit God Bless the USA, followed by God Bless America, sung by the choir.

SAFETY

- Never let children or pets near the fryer even if it is not in use. The oil inside the cooking pot can remain dangerously hot hours after use.
- To avoid oil spillover, do not overfill the fryer.
- Use well-insulated potholders or oven mitts when touching pot or lid handles. If possible, wear safety goggles to protect your eyes from oil splatter.
- Make sure the turkey is completely thawed and be careful with marinades. Oil and water do not mix, and water causes oil to spill over causing a fire or even an explosion hazard.
- The National Turkey Federation (NTF) recommends thawing the turkey in the refrigerator approximately 24 hours for every five pounds in weight.
- Keep an all-purpose fire extinguisher nearby. Never use water to extinguish a grease fire. If the fire is manageable, use your all-purpose fire extinguisher. If the fire increases, immediately call the fire department for help.

Always follow the manufacture directions and safety recommendations

Roasting Your Turkey

- Set your oven temperature no lower than 325 °F.
- Place the turkey on a rack in a shallow roasting pan.
- For more even cooking, it is recommended that you cook your stuffing outside the bird in a casserole dish. Use a food thermometer to check the internal temperature of the stuffing. The center should reach at least 165°F.
- If you choose to stuff your turkey, fill the cavity just before cooking. Fill the cavities loosely. Use a food thermometer to check the internal temperature of the stuffing. The center should reach at least 165°F.

- To check the doneness of a whole turkey, insert a food thermometer in the thickest part of the inner thigh without touching the bone. A whole turkey should be cooked to 165°F.
- To check the doneness of a turkey breast, insert a food thermometer in the thickest part of the breast. A turkey breast should be cooked to 165°F.
- If your turkey has a pop-up temperature indicator, it is recommended that you also check the internal temperature of the turkey and the stuffing.
- Let the turkey stand for 20 minutes after cooking. It will carve more easily.
- Remove all stuffing from the turkey cavities.

REMEMBER : Always wash (with soap and water) hands, utensils, the sink, and anything else that comes in contact with raw turkey and its juices.

Storing Leftover Turkey

- Throw away turkey, stuffing, and gravy left out at room temperature longer than 2 hours (1 hour in temperatures above 90 °F).
- Divide leftovers into small portions. Refrigerate or freeze in covered shallow containers for quicker cooling.
- Use refrigerated turkey and stuffing within 3 to 4 days. Use gravy within 1 to 2 days.
- If freezing, use leftovers within 2 to 6 months for best quality.

Reheating Leftovers

- Reheat turkey, stuffing, and gravy to 165°F.

Have a Happy and Safe Thanksgiving and Holiday from the City of Big Spring and Big Spring Fire Department.

space just before impact.

A World War II-era bomber and a fighter plane collided and crashed to the ground in a ball of flames on Saturday, leaving crumpled wreckage in a grassy area inside the Dallas Executive Airport perimeter, about 10 miles (16 kilometers) from the city's downtown. Several videos posted on social media showed the fighter plane flying into the bomber.

"One of the things we would probably most likely be trying to determine is why those aircraft were co-altitude in the same air space at the same time," Michael Graham, a member of the National Transportation Safety Board, said at a news conference.

The crash came three years after the crash of a bomber in Connecticut that killed seven, and amid ongoing concern about the safety of air shows involving older warplanes. The company that owned the planes flying in the Wings Over Dallas show has had other crashes in its more than 60-year history.

The crash claimed six lives, Dallas County Judge Clay Jenkins tweeted Sunday, citing the county medical examiner. Authorities are continuing work to identify the victims, he said. Dallas Fire-Rescue said there were no reports of injuries on the ground.

Armin Mizani, the mayor of Keller, Texas, said Terry Barker, a retired pilot who lived in Keller, was in the B-17 bomber that crashed. Mizani said he learned of Barker's death from his family.

Mizani said Barker's death has been difficult for his town of 50,000, where many of the residents know each other.

"It's definitely a big loss in our community," he said. "We're grieving."

Barker was an Army veteran who flew helicopters during his military service. He later worked for American Airlines for 36 years before retiring in 2020, Mizani said.

Maj. Curtis J. Rowe, a member of the Ohio Wing Civil Air Patrol, was a crew chief on the B-17, his brother-in-law Andy Keller told The Associated Press on Sunday. Rowe, of Hilliard, Ohio, did air shows several times a year because he fell in love with WWII aircraft, Keller said.

The Federal Aviation Administration also was going to investigate, officials said. The planes collided and crashed about 1:20 p.m., the FAA said.

Graham said five people were in the B-17 Flying Fortress bomber and a pilot was the only person in the P-63 Kingcobra fighter plane. The aircraft are owned by Commemorative Air Force, the company that put on the air show. The aircraft are flown by highly trained volunteers, often retired pilots, said Hank Coates, president of Commemorative Air Force.

John Cudahy is president of the International Council of Air Shows, a trade group that sets the standards air shows follow and oversees the training of pilots and "air bosses," who serve as the flight controller for an event. Cudahy said that typically at air shows there is a Friday rehearsal where the pilots fly through the entire show to practice, so the Saturday show is actually the second time the pilots have flown the show. There are also detailed briefings each day to go over the plan for the air show and cover exactly where each pilot will be and their roles in the show.

"It's still to early to figure out what happened yesterday. I've watched the tape several times and I can't figure it out and I've been doing this for 25 years," Cudahy said.

Investigators will examine the wreckage from both aircraft, conduct interviews of crews present at the air show and obtain pilot training and aircraft maintenance records.

"We'll look at everything that we can and we'll let the evidence basically lead us to the appropriate conclusions. At this point, we will not speculate" on the cause, Graham said.

A preliminary report from the NTSB is expected in four to six weeks, while a final report will take up to 18 months to complete.

Air shows must obtain special waivers from the FAA and all of the pilots have to demonstrate their skills in low flying and other maneuvers used in air shows, said John Cox, a former airline captain with more than 50 years' experience. Cox is also founder of Safety Operating Systems, a company that helps smaller airlines and corporate flight services from around the world with safety planning.

Each air show is overseen by an air boss, Cox said.

"If there's any adjustments that have to be made, it's the air boss that makes those calls and the pilots comply with that," he said. In addition, any pilot with a mechanical problem would announce it to the air boss, he said.

Air shows typically rely on extremely detailed plans, including contingencies for emergencies, Cox said. For example, any pilot who ran into trouble could break out of formation and go to a designated area free of other planes that is identified by a landmark of some kind.

The B-17, a cornerstone of U.S. air power during World War II, is an immense four-engine bomber used in daylight raids against Germany. The Kingcobra, a U.S. fighter plane, was used mostly by Soviet forces during the war. Most B-17s were scrapped at the end of World War II and only a handful remain today, largely featured at museums and air shows, according to Boeing.

The Commemorative Air Force has had previous crashes during its more than 60-year history, including a deadly 1995 crash near Odessa, Texas, involving a B-26 bomber that killed five crewmembers, according to an NTSB report. The plane crashed while practicing for an air show. The NTSB determined that the probable cause was the failure of the pilot to maintain minimum airspeed for flight.

In 2001, two separate West Texas crashes involving planes owned by the group — one in April and one in May — killed three people. In June 2005, two people were killed when a single-engine plane owned by the group crashed in Williamson, Georgia.

The Commemorative Air Force, previously called the Confederate Air Force until members changed its name in 2001 to avoid any association with the Civil War, had been headquartered in Midland, Texas, but relocated to Dallas in 2014.

Wings Over Dallas bills itself as "America's Premier World War II Airshow," according to a website advertising the event. The show was scheduled for Nov. 11-13, Veterans Day weekend, and guests were to see more than 40 World War II-era aircraft. Its Saturday afternoon schedule of flying demonstrations included the "bomber parade" and "fighter escorts" that featured the B-17 and P-63.

Right, Forsan receiver Brooks Wright walks it in for a 63 yard touchdown pass with 48 seconds left in the game to put the Buffaloes up 21-14. Forsan would go on to beat the Stamford Bulldogs 21-14 to claim the Bi-District Championship. BROWNWOOD – Friday night's playoff game between the Forsan Buffaloes and the Stamford Bulldogs is what Texas high school football playoffs is all about. Low scoring, stout defenses, and just a good ole fashioned ground and pound running game.

Forsan and Stamford are no strangers to one another heading into Friday's mathcup. In fact, they were district rivals last year, where the Buffaloes got the best of the Bulldogs in a 30-6 district win. Both teams made the big plays in the final seconds of the game, but in the end Forsan's last offensive play was the one that made the difference.

With just a little over a minute left in the game, Forsan was leading Stamford 13-6. However, the Bulldogs put together a 13 play drive that was capped off with a 4 yard rushing touchdown. The Bulldogs led with the two extra point attempt and were successful giving them a 14-13 lead with just 54 seconds left in the game.

After the ensuing kickoff, Forsan took over on their own 38 yard line with 48 seconds left in the game. One play was all that was needed as Forsan quarterback Cade Wallis connected with Forsan receiver Brooks Wright for a 63 yard touchdown pass to put the Buffaloes back on top. The extra point attempt was good thanks to Forsan running back Kevin Kligora who punched it in for the two extra points to put the Buffaloes up 21-14.

Stamford would get the ball back in the final seconds of the game but were unable to muster any offensive momentum as the Buffaloes would go on to win 21-14 at Gordon Wood Stadium in Brownwood.

Per Forsan head coach Jason Phillips, the goal for his team in those last seconds of the game was just to get in field goal range and give Nolan Park a shot at a great field goal attempt. "All we needed was just a field goal and we have a great field goal kicker." Phillips said after the game.

In the end, Park's leg was not needed as Stamford's defense blew its coverage allowing Wright to get past them for the walk in touchdown. "At first we were just going to see how their coverage played out on what we did. They got up, and we thought we could get right by them. Brooks did a great job, Wallis made a great throw, and our line did its job protecting. It was set up perfectly for us." Phillips said about Forsan's winning touchdown play.

Coach Phillips went on to add that having a great kicker in Park may have played into Forsan's hand with their last scoring touchdown. "I think they knew what he could do. He's made a 54-yard field goal this year, and they knew they couldn't give up too many yards. They knew we had him in our back pocket with his strong leg and that helped us in the end." Phillips added.

Both teams played a hard fought physical game Friday night as both teams utilized their running game in attempt to wear down one another. The difference was Forsan's passing game which proved to be difference maker. "We're definitely a run first team and they (Stamford) are too. But we have also shown that we can be kind of explosive with our passing game as well." Phillips said.

From start to finish both the Buffaloes and Bulldogs pounded it out on the ground as Forsan finished the night with 208 yards of rushing and 89 yards of passing. Stamford would outrush the Buffaloes as they finished the game with 314 yards of rushing and 104 yards of passing. However penalties would plague the Bulldogs all night as they finished the game with 12 penalties for a loss of 93 yards.

The first half was all defense as both Forsan and Stamford made some huge defensive plays. On the Buffaloes first possession of the game, Forsan quarterback Cade Wallis threw an interception within the 15 yard line ending an early potential scoring drive for Forsan. Both teams would go scoreless in the first quarter.

Late in the second quarter, the Buffaloes would make a huge defensive play of its own thanks to Forsan's Joshua Rios. Stamford, facing a fourth and goal on Forsan's 5 yard line, threw a pass that was intercepted by Rios. Thirteen plays and 80 yards later, the Buffaloes finally got on the board thanks to Forsan running back Kevin Kligora who capped off the drive with a 4-yard rushing touchdown.

The extra point attempt was good as the Buffaloes would take a 7-0 lead to end the first half. Forsan would receive the ball to start the second half and started their drive with some offensive momentum. The Buffaloes were able to drive it down to Stamford's own 15 yard line but could not come up with a touchdown.

Coach Phillips opted for the 22 yard field goal attempt and got it thanks to Park. Forsan increased its lead by 3 making the score 10-0 with a little over 9 minutes left in the third quarter.

Stamford responded back with a scoring drive of its own as the Bulldogs marched 75 yards down the field in 12 plays to get on the board with its first touchdown of the game. The Bulldogs failed to convert on the two extra point attempt leaving the score at 10-6 with about four and half minutes left in the third quarter.

Stamford seemed to have the momentum going its way in the fourth quarter as they were able to hold the Buffaloes to just one field goal at the start of the fourth quarter.

Forsan kicker Nolan Park booted a 40 yard field goal to help increase the Buffaloes lead by 7 early in the fourth quarter. The Buffaloes had another chance to increase their lead midway through the quarter with another field goal attempt but were unsuccessful. Park attempted a 49 yard field goal but the kick just fell short of the goal post.

Stamford would go on to score its second touchdown to give the Bulldogs its first lead of the game thanks to a 69 yard, 13 play drive. The Bulldogs opted for the two extra point attempt and were successful to give Stamford a 14-13 lead with just 54 seconds left in the game.

Forsan's offense responded quickly on the first play after the ensuing kickoff. Stamford blew its coverage and it cost them dearly as Wallis connected with Brooks Wright for the 63 yard game winning touchdown pass. The Buffaloes opted for the two extra point attempt and were successful thanks to Forsan running back Kevin Kligora.

In the last 48 seconds of the game, Stamford marched 59 yards down the field but it wasn't enough as Forsan's defense held on to secure the win. Forsan quarterback Cade Wallis finished the night completing 5-10 pass attempts for 89 yards, one interception, and one touchdown. Wallis also rushed 72 yards on 10 carries.

Forsan junior running backs Grant Roman and Kevin Kligora were not far behind Wallis in rushing. Roman finished the night with 72 yards on 12 carries, while Kligora finished the night with 56 yards on 18 carries and one touchdown. Forsan junior receiver Brooks Wright who made the huge key play late in the fourth quarter, finished the night with 63 yards on 1 catch and one touchdown.

Forsan kicker Nolan Park finished the night completing 1-1 extra point attempts and 2-3 field goal attempts. Parks longest field goal of the night was a 40 yard field goal early in the fourth quarter.

With the win, Forsan now advances to Area round of the playoffs where they are set to face the New Deal Lions in rematch of last years playoff game. The Lions narrowly came away with the win in last years Area round matchup as the Lions beat the Buffaloes 28-24.

Game will take place in Denver City at Mustang Stadium Thursday night. Kickoff is set for 7 p.m.

A perfect dish for a New Year's Day brunch

The late-night revelry of New Year's Eve has made New Year's Day brunch a go-to tradition for millions of people. Staying up until the calendar officially turns from one year to the next at the stroke of midnight can make it harder to get out of bed on the morning of January 1, so there may be no better day to plan a brunch than the first day of the calendar year. Many restaurants offer brunch specials on New Year's Day, but people need not leave home to ensure their first meal of the new year is delicious. This recipe for "Pan-Fried Eggs and Mixed Mushroom Sauté on Toasted Sourdough Slices" from "Sunday Brunch" (Chronicle Books) by Betty Rosbottom can be just the dish to begin a new year.

Pan-Fried Eggs and Mixed Mushroom Sauté on Toasted Sourdough Slices
 Serves 4

Mushroom Sauté
 1 1/4 ounces mixed dried mushrooms
 1 1/2 cups boiling water
 3 tablespoons olive oil
 8 ounces sliced brown mushrooms
 2 teaspoons minced garlic
 1 teaspoon dried crushed rosemary (see tip)

Kosher

salt
 Freshly ground black pepper
Toast and Eggs
 4 1/2-inch thick sourdough slices
 Olive oil
 2 tablespoons unsalted butter
 4 eggs
 Kosher salt
 Freshly ground black pepper
 Rosemary sprigs for garnish (optional)

1. For the Mushroom Sauté: Place the dried mushrooms in a medium bowl and cover with the boiling water. Let stand until softened, 20 minutes. Strain in a sieve lined with a double thickness of paper towels and reserve the soaking liquid. Coarsely chop the mushrooms.
 2. Heat the olive oil in a medium, heavy frying pan set over medium heat. When hot, add the brown mushrooms and sauté, stirring often, for 6 minutes. Add the reserved mushrooms, garlic, rosemary, and 1/2 teaspoon salt; stir for 1 minute. Add the mushroom liquid and cook, stirring, until it has evaporated, 4 to 7 minutes. Season with salt and several grinds of pepper. Remove the frying pan from the heat and cover with foil to keep warm. (The mushrooms can be prepared 1 day ahead; cool, cover and refrigerate. Reheat, stirring, over medium heat.)
 3. For the toast and eggs: Brush both sides of the bread slices generously with olive oil. Set a 10- to 11-inch nonstick frying pan over medium-high heat, and, when hot, add the bread and cook until lightly browned, about 2 minutes per side. Remove the toast and cover loosely with foil. When pan is cool enough to handle, wipe it out with clean paper towels.

 4. Add the butter to the frying pan and set it over medium heat. When the butter starts to foam, break an egg into a saucer, being careful to remove any shell fragments, and gently slide it into the frying pan. Repeat with the remaining eggs. Immediately reduce the heat to low and cook, basting the eggs with some of the butter in the pan frequently, until the whites are firm and the yolks are still soft and runny, 3 minutes.
 5. While the eggs are cooking, arrange a toasted bread slice on each of four plates. Mound the mushrooms evenly over the toast.
 6. Remove each egg with a spatula and arrange on top of the mushrooms. Season with salt and pepper and, if desired, garnish each serving with a rosemary sprig. Serve immediately.
 Tip: If you can't find dried crushed rosemary, crush regular dried rosemary in an electric spice mill, or place it in a self-sealing plastic bag and roll over it with a rolling pin.

Opening lead — king of spades.
The art of falsecarding is a study in itself. Most falsecards are well-known to the experienced player, but some of them are so rare that they are almost never seen. Today's deal features an exceptional falsecard that enabled declarer to make a contract that otherwise would have failed.

West led the king of spades, and South saw immediately that if West had the king of diamonds, a simple finesse would yield five diamond tricks and the contract. So South had to consider what might happen if East had the king of diamonds. It was clear that if he won the spade king with the ace and took the diamond finesse, he would go down if the finesse lost and East had a spade to return. South also realized that if he refused to win the first trick, West would almost surely shift to a heart rather than continue a spade after he saw East's discouraging signal. In the actual deal, had South ducked the king of spades, West would have shifted to the king of hearts, and the contract would have been doomed.

And so, fully cognizant of the danger of playing the ace of spades at trick one and the futility of playing the deuce, South played the jack instead!

This extraordinary falsecard produced the desired result. West naturally assumed that South had started with the A-J doubleton and therefore continued with the queen of spades. Declarer won, led the queen of diamonds and finessed. East took the king but did not have a spade to return, so South wound up with nine tricks.

Note that if East had had a third spade to return — which would mean West started with only four spades — South would have made the contract anyway, since West would have had only two more spades to cash.

The winter solstice occurs each year during the month of December in the northern hemisphere. In 2022, the winter solstice will take place on December 21 at 4:48 p.m. EST. Solstices are significant events that occur twice per year. One occurs in the winter and one in the summer. The winter solstice also is known as the first day of winter and occurs when the Earth's pole reaches its maximum tilt away from the sun. During the winter solstice, people will experience the shortest period of daylight and the longest period of nighttime of the year. Here are 14 fascinating facts about the winter solstice.

1. Depending on the hemisphere, the north or south pole will experience continuous darkness or twilight around its winter solstice.

2. The winter solstice sometimes is referred to by the term midwinter.
3. Even though the solstice is marked by a whole day on the calendar, it actually is just the brief moment of time when the sun is exactly over the Tropic of Capricorn.
4. The word "solstice" can be translated from Latin and means "sun stand still."
5. The Tropic of Capricorn is located at 23.5 degrees south of the equator.
6. Tourists flock to Stonehenge to track the movement of the sun. The stones will frame the sunset on the winter solstice and the sunrise on the summer solstice.

7. Ancient cultures viewed the winter solstice as a time of death and rebirth.
8. Important events in history have taken place on winter solstices. The Apollo 8 spacecraft launched on the solstice in 1968. Pilgrims also arrived at Plymouth on the winter solstice in 1620.
9. Each planet in the Earth's solar system has its own solstices and equinoxes.
10. The southern hemisphere experiences the winter solstice in June each year.
11. A full moon on a solstice is even more rare than a blue moon. The last full moon to occur on the winter solstice was in 2010 and the next one won't happen until 2094.

12. Earth is closer to the sun around the winter solstice in December. However, the northern hemisphere receives less sunlight and has cooler temperatures because it is tilted away from the sun during winter.
13. Even though the winter solstice features the shortest amount of daylight of any day during the year, it does not have the earliest sunset. That takes place roughly two weeks prior. In 2021 in New York, the winter solstice took place on December 21, but the earliest sunset occurred on December 7 at 4:28 p.m.
14. Meteorological winter begins on December 1 rather than December 21.

TUESDAY NOVEMBER 15, 2022 Venus Change

When Venus changes to Sagittarius, she reminds us that love is a unique form of travel. In the tourism of love, we see another world and see our own world differently, too. Venus in Sagittarius shows us contrast. It's an astral aspect to embolden us to broaden ourselves by extending our understanding and being willing to get a little uncomfortable in the process.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Maybe you overlooked someone who wanted more attention from you. It happens. Even if you don't have an opportunity to correct this with the same individual, you'll pay it forward.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). This is a good day to accept invitations, regardless of the details. What you do will end up being much more interesting than what brought you there in the first place.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). When a thing doesn't feel right, you'll step back and leave it alone for a moment. You'll carefully separate your identity from another person's idea of who you should be.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). There are portals that bring you back to the place and time where a feeling was born -- symbols, images, smells... Suddenly, you're transported back to your first experience of the thing and all the promise wrapped inside it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Before you put too much energy into solving problems, you make sure they're worth the effort. Negativity will pass. Play the long game. If you're unlikely to care about a thing in an hour or a week, then why care now?

VRIGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Your love of routine will lead you back to the activities, meals, people -- and it works until it doesn't. You realize when the restlessness sets in that it's time to introduce new elements. Don't wait until it's a rut.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You and a friend will occupy the same moment and have a vastly different experience of it. Investigate. Push your empathy into the scene. Words are inferior indicators of all you're learning through silent observation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). As you tune into the people around you and take in all the humor, interest and beauty that's going on in your surroundings right now, you'll get the very accurate sneaking suspicion that these are the good ol' days.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You don't understand why someone did what they did, but you're willing to consider that these actions might make perfect sense from a different point of view. No one can completely know all circumstances at work in the lives of all.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Your teamwork is impressive and effective. What you accomplish in the group will be more satisfying and meaningful than what you accomplish alone.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb.

18). Many things can be bought with various currencies, but love will not be one of them. You shouldn't and don't have to earn love with accomplishments. You were not born to serve another person's agenda.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). There is no guarantee that after you've checked, double-checked, asked around and read the fine print that you'll make a better decision. But at least you'll have the peace of knowing you did all you could to make the right choice.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Nov. 15). Quite simply, there's something you need to accomplish, and you'll do it. Political success will be yours and will come together through a number of efforts. There's the sense that you are part of an elegant design. More highlights: a work trip that expands your reach and tender moments with someone younger who looks up to you. Pisces and Taurus adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 7, 10, 22, 14 and 17.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: "You understand the elements that create that particular person, and you create borders for that," said Shailene Woodley describing her creative process. We'll see it next in the thriller "Misanthrope." Woodley was born when the sun, Mars and Pluto were all in charismatic Scorpio. Her moon is in Pisces, a boon for actors, as it lends a kind of emotional shapeshifting ability, helpful for getting into character.

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
