J. E. Biggs Jr., consulting engineer of Wichita Falls, met with some fifty interested Haskell citizens last Thursday evening in the community room of the Haskell National Bank and outlined general plans for the construction of total family recreation facilities to be constructed at the site of the present Haskell Country Club.

TIME TO TAKE STOCK

When a nation is up to its ears in debt, and taking some one-third of the income of its people for taxes, and running deficits, you would think its managers (the elected public officials) would welcome and encourage taxpaying private industry that provides revenue for federal, state and local governments. But, many political proposals today restrict the operation of the taxpaying private enterprise system ... the foundation of a free society.

The impression given is that political management can in some manner serve the people better than can private management. The proponents of tax-exempt government competition with citizens never point out that such policies kill taxpaying industries that provide jobs and support government. They never show that under such policies, government puts some of its best customers (taxpaying enterprise) out of business. It is as senseless for government to harass and discourage business by such practices as it would be for managers of industry to promote policies to put their customers out of business. We have spent billions of tax dollars and thousands of lives opposing the spread of totalitarian government philosophy in two world wars and other conflicts. But our politicians go merrily on promoting its inroads in our own land. Is it not reasonable to ask ... where are we headed?

Freedom dies without resistance to political forces working to restrict free enterprise.

The Good Earth

by MRS. B. F. COBB

Many use mistletoe as a Christmas decoration. Caution should be taken to keep the berries out of reach of youngsters. Both young and old have died from eating mistletoe berries. The toxicity of these berries is lethal.

If you grow dutchman's breeches or bleeding heart and raise cattle, be sure one doesn't wander into the yard, for both of these plants have been known to kill cows.

One leaf of a poinsettia can kill a child. A safe procedure is to keep all house plants out of reach of children. The bright red flowers of the poinsettia would attract a little tot like sugar draws flies.

Foxglove (digitalis) one of the direct sources of a heart stimulant is often a killer. Should a child chew a leaf of this plant it could end in his death. Some of the symptoms of foxglove poisoning are irregular pulse, mental confusion, digestive upsets and often death.

If you have black locust at your house, caution the youngsters not to chew the twigs or seed. Though not as toxic as most plants, the black locust can cause such discomforts as severe nausea, weakness and depression.

The foliage of the common yew if chewed, can prove fatal. So toxic is this plant death can come without warning.

All azaleas, rhododendron and laurels are poison. Often the toxin can prove fatal. Here again, do not nibble on a twig or leave a plant where a youngster might be tempted to eat a flower. Difficulty in breathing, followed by prostration and coma are the results of poisoning from any of these plants.

The bulb of the alumin crocus or Star-of-Bethlehem, if eaten, can cause vomiting and excitement.

If the leaves of the lily-of-the-valley are eaten, they can cause irregular heart beat, digestive disorders and mental confusion.

The U. S. Public Health Service said just lately, that 12,000 children have eaten poisonous plants each year.

Many of us have jimson weed in our gardens (often called angle trumpet because of large, white trumpet-shaped flowers). This plant is toxic in its entirety. Often children chew on the prickly seedpods and are poisoned. Excessive thirst, distorted vision, delirium and coma are symptoms of jimson weed poisoning. Datura is the botanical name for this plant.

If the foliage of perennial sweet peas is chewed it can cause paralysis.

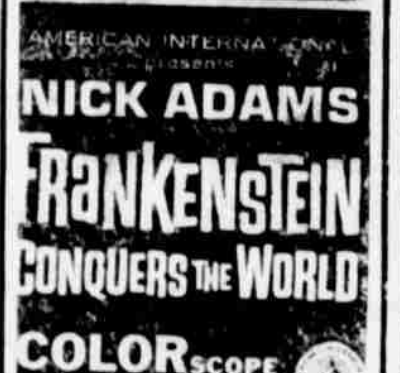

We can continue to grow these lovely plants, but we should watch little ones and warn older children of the danger of chewing twigs or eating an unknown berry.

I did not write this to scare anyone, but to familiarize everyone on the toxicity of our common garden plants.

Haskell Garden Club will stage a flower show in connection with the fair this fall. There will be a division that non-members of the Haskell Garden Club show can participate in. It will be called the Haskell County show case.

Her elbow length veil of self-illusion with lace appliques was attached to a princess style crown of seed pearls.

COTTON INSECTS

Emory P. Boring, Area Entomologist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service

During the past week rain was reported in a large part of the Rolling Plains Area. In fields where boll weevils and bollworms have not been controlled, populations should continue to increase due to the increased moisture. Populations of boll weevils and bollworms increased in some areas and decreased in others. This is probably due to the use of control measures and the decreased emergence of boll weevils from squares. Bollworm activity has increased in several counties while decreasing in others. Bollworm damage to green squares and bolls was heavy (4% to over 6%) in one or more fields in Wilbarger, Hardeman, Cottle, King, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Mitchell, Runnels, Tom Green and Knox counties. Damage of 2% to 4% was observed in one or more fields in Foard, Shackelford, Callahan, Haskell, Taylor, Coleman, Concho and Baylor counties. Control measures for bollworms should begin when bollworm eggs and 4 to 5 young worms are found per 100 terminals, or 5% of small squares and bolls have been injured by small bollworms. Control measures should be applied at 5 day intervals, or less. Fields should be checked closely 2 to 3 days following each application to insure effective control. Populations of boll weevils ranging from 1,000 to 7,200 per acre were observed in Wilbarger, Wichita, Jones, Shackelford, Haskell, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan and Knox counties. Populations ranging from 100 to 981 per acre were observed in Collingsworth, Hardeman, Foard, Clay, Cottle, King, Mitchell and Runnels counties. Medium infestations of plant bugs (lygus, stinkbugs and rapid plant bugs) were observed in several fields in Haskell, Stone-

T. J. Finley Attending Work Shop At Abilene

T. J. FINLEY
 T. J. Finley, minister of Haskell Church of Christ, is one of more than 500 participants attending the third annual Herald of Truth Workshop in Abilene, August 17-18. The workshop was designed to make a progress report on the growth and activities of the internationally-broadcast radio and television program over the past year and outline new opportunities that have developed for the program.

A special emphasis was placed on the importance of color programming on television. Since the Herald of Truth television program adopted full color filming, demands for the program have exceeded the supply of prints available.

Another feature of the workshop was the adoption of the goal to place the Herald of Truth Radio Program on an additional 1100 stations in towns of 5,000 population and over that do not presently carry the program.

This workshop is another landmark in the amazing growth of the Herald of Truth Program. When the first broadcast was made on radio, February 10, 1952, it was carried on 31 stations of the ABC network. Today, the programs are carried on almost 600 stations in 14 different countries.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Each year thousands of taxpayers file tax returns with a refund due. Internal Revenue can't find many of these people when they finish processing the tax return and mail out the refund check. These refund checks are returned to the District Director. Most of the returned refund checks come back because the taxpayer has moved. If you moved since you filed your return, send your new address in to your District Director. Be sure to include your correct social security number with your name and new address so the Internal Revenue folks can identify you. If you are a lost taxpayer, help the good tax folks find you.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1966.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 79 proposing an amendment to Article VIII, Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding Section 1-d to provide that all land owned by natural persons designated for agricultural use shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article VIII, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended by adding Section 1-d to read as follows:

"Section 1-d. (a) All land owned by natural persons which is designated for agricultural use in accordance with the provisions of this Section shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use. 'Agricultural use' means the raising of livestock or growing of crops, fruit, flowers, and other products of the soil under natural conditions as a business venture for profit, which business is the primary occupation and source of income of the owner.

(b) For each assessment year the owner wishes to qualify his land under provisions of this Section as designated for agricultural use he shall file with the local tax assessor a sworn statement in writing describing the use to which the land is devoted.

(c) Upon receipt of the sworn statement in writing the local tax assessor shall determine whether or not such land qualifies for the designation as to agricultural use as defined herein and in the event it so qualifies he shall designate such land as being for agricultural use and assess the land accordingly.

(d) Such local tax assessor may inspect the land and require such evidence of use and source of income as may be necessary or useful in determining whether or not the agricultural use provision of this article applies.

(e) No land may qualify for the designation provided for in this Act unless for at least three (3) successive years immediately preceding the assessment date the land has been devoted exclusively for agricultural use, or unless the land has been continuously developed for agriculture during such time.

(f) Each year during which the land is designated for agricultural use, the local tax assessor shall note on his records the valuation which would have been made had the land not qualified for such designation under this Section. If designated land is subsequently diverted to a purpose other than that of agricultural use, or is sold, the land shall be subject to an additional tax. The additional tax shall equal the difference between taxes paid or payable, hereunder, and the amount of tax payable for the preceding three years had the land been otherwise assessed. Until paid, there shall be a lien for additional taxes and interest on land assessed under the provisions of this Section.

(g) The valuation and assessment of any minerals or subsurface rights to minerals shall not come within the provisions of this Section."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment to provide that all land owned by natural persons designated for agricultural use shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment to provide that all land owned by natural persons designated for agricultural use shall be assessed for all tax purposes on the consideration of only those factors relative to such agricultural use."

Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the constitution and laws of this state.

Haskell Man Honored For Volunteer Work

Dr. William J. Kemp of Haskell was honored for his volunteer work as a member of the Dental Examiners Board at a dinner last Thursday night...

The recognition dinner, sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, was held at 6:30 p. m. at the Coronado Inn.

West Texas is represented on 80 of the 139 official bodies of the Government of the State of Texas.

"This is the first time formal recognition has been accorded these hard working and dedicated men and women," Shepperd added.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce presented Dr. Kemp a Certificate of Appreciation. In addition, a souvenir program, giving the history and purpose of each board and listing the West Texas members was presented.

America's "The Beautiful"

For the past few months the entire country has been the scene of over 2,500 college and community Pageants—all pre-lims for the Miss America Pageant in Atlantic City this September 5th through 10th.

Seventy thousand girls have participated in these events, and now only the chosen few are left... the Miss America hopefuls.

Soon 50 radiant smiles, shining hair-do's and glowing complexions will be seen by millions of people on coast-to-coast television in the gala event as traditional as the American hot dog—the Miss America Pageant.

Why does a girl want to be Miss America? Often her reasons are surprisingly unselfish. This year's Miss America, Debbie Bryant of Kansas, desired both the honor of Kansas and also the opportunity to further her education and become a pediatrician, so she could help children "grow to full adulthood and a full life." Since 1945, thousands of dollars in educational scholarships have been awarded to Pageant participants; last year Pepsi-Cola Bottlers contributed over $250,000.

To America's "The Beautiful," then, who dream of capturing the crown, the goal is not a moment of September glory. For them, the Pageant is the stepping stone to a more fulfilled and fulfilling future.

Frank Knight Rotary Speaker Thursday Noon

Frank Knight of the General Telephone Company, Memphis, Texas, spoke to members of the Rotary Club last Thursday noon on the proper method of dialing long distance and the importance of using the area code plus the seven digits to prevent mix-up in charging out the bill.

The method of recording information was shown on the screen and gave Rotarians an insight into some of the greater advances which will be made in the future concerning the placing of long distance calls.

Bob Greenroy was program chairman for the day and introduced Jack Shelley of Seymour, who in turn introduced Mr. Knight.

A letter from the Rotary club in Rio de Janeiro was read concerning a fair which they are planning and asked members of the club to send some article or donation to be used in building a hospital for their community which would offer hospitalization to a greater number of their people who need the care.

President Herren read a list of the open classification for the Rotary club and asked that each member try to find someone that would be eligible to fill these vacancies.

Rotarians donated $25.00 to help defray expenses of the Junior Teen-Age Baseball team, the Mustangs, in the state play-offs.

Special recognition was given to the committee responsible for the Anderson Park the past week, congratulating them on benefits. Normal plow-up time for winter peas is about March 15, but due to weather conditions, the Paces did not get to plow them up until the middle of May.

Austrian Winter Peas Crop Proves Profitable To The Pace Farm Land

Lynn and Riley Pace, cooperating with the California Creek Soil Conservation District, produced a crop of Austrian winter peas this past season that returned the equivalent of 80 pounds of pure nitrogen per acre to the soil.

The Paces drilled peas on the land last fall for two purposes, to improve the fertility of the soil and to comply with provisions of the diverted acres program.

According to the Pace brothers, the land will be used for cotton production during the 1967 cropping year. They plan to continue using winter peas on all their land for protection of the land during the winter and spring months, as well as for soil improvement.
