Haskell's Needy Families May Have A Dreary Christmas

Many needy families in Haskell face the prospect of a dreary Christmas unless donations to the Goodfellows are speeded up during the time remaining until Christmas.

Although several generous gifts have been received this week, donations are lagging.

In past years, the Goodfellows have been able to meet their goal of providing Christmas baskets of food, candy, toys and fruit for the underprivileged families of Haskell.

The number of deserving families on the gift rolls of the Goodfellows this year is expected to be as large, or perhaps even larger than last year, a survey reveals.

"This means that we are several hundred dollars short of our goals," Royce Adkins, the Goodfellow chairman, said.

In order to carry out the Goodfellows project we are going to need around $1100.00 and we are far short of that amount," Adkins said.

Donations in any amount from $1.00 up are needed, and may be sent to Goodfellows, in care of the Haskell Free Press, Haskell. All donations will be acknowledged through the columns of this newspaper.

Good Used Toys And Clothing Needed

Royce Adkins, chairman of Goodfellows, states that good usable toys and clothing are needed, but please do not bring toys which are broken or parts of a puzzle.

Toys and clothing may be left at the fire station...but time is running out and we need action now, Adkins pointed out.

Contributions to date include the following:

- Previously acknowledged $40.00
- Mrs. Frank Spencer $15.00
- Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Ratliff $15.00
- Haskell IOOF Lodge 525 $25.00
- Mrs. John Pace $10.00
- Florence Darden $ 5.00
- Fidelist Class of the First Baptist Church $ 5.00
- Menefee Bible Class of the First Methodist Church $10.00
- Philathea Class of the First Methodist Church $25.00

Information Is Needed For Insect Study

Cotton producers that are cooperating with the Rolling Plains Cotton Insect survey are urged to complete and send in the questionnaire on production yields, moisture and insecticide use records.

These forms should be sent to the County Agent's office, P. O. Box 456, Haskell, Texas 79521, advises County Agent R. W. Schumann.

Schumann says that this information is urgently needed to complete the study on cotton insects in this area. More forms are available from the County Agent's office if the producer has lost his.

Vononselen told of the unique experience that he had during his stay in America and remarked there are many comparisons however, in the two countries. He pointed out that South Africa was discovered by Europeans and of Dutch Ancestry... thus the two countries have much of the same background.

Whereas, South Africa has, or produces two-thirds of the world's gold, America depends a great deal upon its oil industry. He said that 32 percent of the goods exported to Africa from America goes to South Africa.

The guest speaker told of many customs that we have that are foreign to his country. Television, he said is not known in Africa and that even though it fascinates him and that he finds himself sitting in front of it for hours at a time he feels like kicking himself for wasting so much time.

Drinking fountains are another of the new things for him, he said. He related a story of how he and some other new comers were waiting for a plane and

Friday Is Final Day For Farmers To Vote On Very Important Issues

Friday, December 9, 1966, is the final day for Rolling Plains cotton farmers to vote on two important issues, the Research and Promotion Act, and Marketing Quotas. Balloting is by mail and farmers are urged to take time out and vote their convictions.

The Research and Promotion Act is a way cotton producers can cooperate in strengthening cotton's competitive position with other fibers by expanding domestic and foreign markets and uses for U. S. cotton through research and promotion. If 2/3 of the producers voting or 2/3 of the cotton production plus a majority of those voting favor the Act, a one-dollar assessment will be charged every bale produced in 1967 to help improve the market through research and promotion. Anyone not wishing to participate may request and receive his dollar back.

In the Marketing Quota referendum, at least 2/3 of the farmers voting must favor quotas before the 1967 cotton program can go into effect. Some of the essential features of the 1967 program include: (1) price support loan of 20.25 cents (middle 1 inch); (2) price support payments date of 11.53 cents per pound; (3) diversion payments of 10.78 cents per pound.

Price support and diversion payments are based on projected yield. Growers may divert any amount between 12.5 and 35 per cent to participate.

The Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., urges all producers who have not already done so to take time and mail in their ballot. Be sure and follow instructions in balloting so your vote will be sure and count.

A BALEFUL COTTON KITTY

The nation's cotton farmers are voting this week on whether or not to contribute a dollar for every bale they produce to a kitty to finance cotton research and promotion. And the cotton market and especially the export side of it, certainly would not be hurt by some sound research and heads-up promotion.

The referendum's real issue, though, is not the desirability of such an assessment, which, on the basis of estimated 1967 production (would total about $15 million. It is who would spend it, and how.

Now you'd think that either the growers themselves or already existing cotton organizations would be the ones to determine what should be done with the money. But no; the Cotton Research and Promotion Act . . . it barely squeaked through the last session of Congress . . . provides that if the growers approve the proposed dollar-a-bale checkoff, the decisions on how the funds will be spent will rest with the Secretary of Agriculture.

To be sure, the act authorizes a Cotton Board to develop research and promotion plans, with nominees submitted by producers, but the Secretary is free to pick and choose among the nominees submitted. Also, the Cotton Board is empowered to enter into contract with organizations which will develop promotional programs, but the Secretary has the power to approve, or disapprove, any programs developed. The growers, in short, would have no final control over their funds.

The Government's own cotton program largely has been instrumental in costing the growers, over the past five years, about 13 million bales in exports. Strange subsidy ventures have not kept cotton's price out of touch with its market and, at times, impaired its quality. So the Federal farm planners hardly seem eminently qualified to spend effectively $15 million on cotton-producing programs.

The evidence, in fact, suggests that what really needs research is how to promote the Government out of its deadly interventions.

The real issue is government control of your dollar!

News from Weinert . . .

By Mrs. O. W. Vaughn (Substituting for Mrs. Mildred Guess)

Weather and Crops

The farmers are watching the clouds, hoping for moisture as much as they did back last of August through September . . . hoping then for clear weather.

The wheat fields are in dire need of rain or snow, although it is early to hope for snow. Farmers have been blessed with beautiful weather for the past 6 to 7 weeks in gathering their cotton and milo. Still a few are not finished gathering, but the rush and big part of it is over for this season.

Weinert Gin reports ginning 4,293 bales and Paymaster 3,954 up to this date.

W. M. U.

Weinert Baptist W.M.U. members are observing Lottie Moon Week of Prayer this week. The theme is, "Behold, the Lamb of God." Time is 9:00 a. m. Prayer chairman, Mrs. Eddie Sanders, is in charge.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Griffin and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Griffin and children and Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Alexander and Terry celebrated Mr. H. Griffin's 63rd birthday Sunday by going to Abilene and having lunch at Lavender's.

Mrs. J. A. Driggers, Mrs. Melvin Vojkuika and Melanie attended a gift tea honoring Nan Vaughn at Anson Saturday night in the Honeycutt home, 5 miles south of Anson.

Mr. and Mrs. Truett Wren and son, Danny, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wren.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Vaughn, of Abilene visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Vaughn, Sunday afternoon and night.

Mrs. Edna Hix of Hurst visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Strickland and attended services at the Foursquare Church, Sunday.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

While bulbs are still on the market, plan on making an indoor garden, for fragrance as well as beauty and color.

Paper white Nareissus planted on pebbles, in a bowl of water, send up shoots of flower buds, that open into fragrant clusters of snowy white blossoms.

Tulip bulbs, planted in a pot of earth, can bring much color into a room. There are so many in this interesting flower.

Unlike Amaryllis, tulips must be completely covered with the soil. Any good potting medium will do. Watering from the bottom where it is needed . . . at the roots of the plants. About four bulbs can be planted to each 8-inch pot.

Amaryllis are very rewarding when grown indoors. Their large colorful blossoms stay open from one to one and a half weeks.

Fill a pot with good, rich soil. Scoop out a hole in the center large enough to bury half the Amaryllis bulb. Never completely bury the bulb. Water . . . then let alone until the soil is just slightly moist before giving the bulb more moisture.

Children find growing bulbs indoors very fascinating and rewarding. This is also a way to keep youngsters interested and at the same time teach them the wonders of nature. One will find the child will make a bee-line to his little garden plot each morning to check on the growth of the bud stem through the night. They will watch each bud as it unfolds into a beautiful, trumpet-like blossom.

Another interesting plant for children to grow in water, is a carrot. Cut a carrot off about two inches from the top and put the top half in a glass or dish. Fill with water nearly to the top of the carrot. (Use water that has set over night.) Soon lacy green leaves will begin to emerge. Sometimes four or five leaves send up their lacy, fern-like tendrils before the plant has finally reached its peak in growing.

It would be nice if each Haskell Garden Club member would grow some kind of bulb this fall and display it at one of our meetings. This would prove most interesting. Gladiolas can also be grown indoors.

PAINT CREEK . . . COMMUNITY NEWS

By Mrs. Gene Overton

Cotton harvest is almost over. The Haskell gins are catching up, and one does not have to wait but about 24 hours for a trailer. Stamford gins and the Ericksdahl gin are still swamped, and it takes two days or more to get trailers empty. It has been a wonderful crop and some farmers in Paint Creek have made two bales to the acre on dry land cotton. They received an extra rain just when the cotton needed it most, and it was as if they had planned their watering like an irrigation farmer can. Anyway, the farms along the Paint Creek road from the Stamford highway to the lake simply turned to cotton. We're all glad for them, and though it slowed up ginning some, to have so much cotton this year, it was wonderful. The beautiful weather had a lot to do with our being able to get out so much cotton all at once.

I can remember when we were gathering cotton until late in January. But our fight against the boll weevil has made it necessary to get the cotton out, shred and plow under the stalks as quickly as possible so Mr. Boll Weevil can't find his home. As the song says, Farmers have learned that clean barrow ditches also ruin his chances at a home. Weavels can spend the winter in weeds as well as old cotton stalks. Anyway, the cotton is almost out, the wheat is green and growing, cattle and hog prices are good, and we can all get down to getting ready for Christmas, getting ready to pay income taxes, and getting the land ready for another crop, and getting ready for a bright, shiny new year.

Jeff Smith's address overseas is: Jefferson Scott Smith, H.N. 920 13 92, Headquarters Battery B.A.S., 3rd Battalion, 12th Marines, FPO San Francisco, California 96062.

He is with a field hospital right near the fighting in Viet Nam, and will love to get lots of Christmas mail from Paint Creek homefolks. The last time I heard from his folks, he had written that they were living in the lap of luxury that week. They were set up near a tank of water and had been talked to take a bath. If you have talked to any of the kids from Viet Nam, you know those men are doing a good job over there, and they are proud of what they are doing. But they get homesick and need homefolks to tell them all the news, and of how proud we are of them.

Paint Creek folks were saddened by the death of Tom Baker this past weekend. Mr. Baker often fished in the stock tanks of our community, and had a host of friends out here.

Eddie Thane and Waller Overton refereed a basketball game at Leuders Monday night. In the Rule basketball game last weekend, the Paint Creek boys and girls won third place. They lost to Rule and Girard, and beat O'Brien, Janice Isbell was on the all-tournament team. The tournament was set up in such a way that a team played a designated team whether they won or lost. It was a sort of round robin type tournament, and was good practice for all the teams entered. Conference play begins next week.

The Christmas play presented by the grade school, will be at 1:30 p. m. Friday, Dec. 16. Mrs. Annie Peiser of Mattson, mother of Mrs. Paul Fischer, has been quite seriously ill in the Haskell Hospital for the past three weeks. She was somewhat improved last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Brock and son of Lubbock spent the weekend with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Davis and Mrs. Bob Brock. They attended services at the Paint Creek Methodist church Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Moberley of Dallas spent last weekend with his brother's family. Mr. and Mrs. Pat Moberley and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John

Cotton Grading Report

The Munday Cotton Grading Office, of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, classified over 13,703 samples during the week ending Dec. 2. This brings the total for the season to over 57,000 samples, according to A. D. Peebles, in charge of the office.

Consumer and Marketing Service statistics for the week show grades averaging a little lower than the previous week, with 1 per cent of the cotton in the White grades; 70 per cent in the Light Spotted grades, 26 per cent in Spotted grades and 2 per cent in the Tinged grades. Leading grades for the week were: Middling Light Spotted, 37 per cent and Strict Low Middling Spotted, 13 per cent. Peebles said the biggest change during the week was the increase in the amount of cotton reduced in grade because of bark or grass. Thirty-two per cent of the cotton was reduced in grade because of bark or grass compared to 19 per cent the previous week.

Staple lengths averaged a little longer than the previous week. The range was as follows: 7/8 inch and shorter, 2%; 29/32, 27%; 15/16, 63%; 31/32, 5%; and 1 inch and longer, 3%.

Micronaire readings, a measure of fiber fineness and maturity, show more cotton in the lower "mike" ranges with less in the high ranges, and about the same amount in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium range. About 16% was in the 3.4 or lower range; 75% in the 3.5 to 4.9 range; and 9% 5.0 and higher.

Volume of cotton selling at most points continued rather moderate, with little change in prices. Cotton Division summaries show prices mostly ranging from 35 to 65 points above loan value for Light Spotted grades, which were selling in greatest volume.

Average selling prices during the week for the predominate grades were: Mid Lt. Sp. 15/16, 18.85 cents per pound, Sim Lt. Sp. 15/16, 17.90 cents per pound, and Mid Sp. 15/16, 17.65 cents per pound.

Farmers are urged to study the provisions of the Cotton Research and Promotion Referendum and exercise their right to vote Dec. 5 through Dec. 9.

WINTER TIME IS ACCIDENT TIME

Home fires. Falls. Sports accidents. All increase shockingly during the winter months.

Much of this suffering and loss isn't necessary, say our Junior Fire Marshals. They're at work on the little causes of big trouble — frayed electrical cords, toys on the steps, carelessness at play.

As local sponsors of the Junior Fire Marshal program, we urge you to take a tip from these youngsters. Their efforts plus yours can help make this a safer and happier winter season.
