A Special Law Must Be Passed Authorizing Hospital District

On December 12, 1966, the Commissioners' Court of Haskell County adopted a Resolution, which authorized the publishing of a Notice of Intention to have the present State Legislature pass a Special Law permitting the creation of a Haskell County Hospital District.

The Notice was published in the Haskell Free Press on December 15, 22, 29, 1966, and January 5, 1967. This was a legal requirement before a Special Law could be introduced in the Legislature.

In a joint meeting of the County Judge and Commissioners with the Hospital Business Manager and Board of Directors on January 19, the Hospital Board of Directors approved the action of the Commissioners' Court in having the above Notice published and adopted a resolution favoring and supporting the passage of the Special Law by the present session of the Legislature.

The Commissioners' Court, on January 24, passed an order to employ Gibson, Spence and Gibson, Municipal Bond Attorneys, Austin, to write the Special Law and to assist in having it passed by the Legislature.

The Special Law, if passed, would merely permit the calling of an election in the Hospital District to determine if a majority of the property owning voters favored its creation. All of Haskell County, except that part which is in the Stamford Independent School District, will be included in the proposed Hospital District.

A strip of property across the southern part of Haskell County is in the Stamford Independent School District and was included in the Stamford Hospital District which includes all of the property in the said School District. A Special Law was passed two years ago authorizing the Stamford Hospital District and approved by election. Consequently, unless a Special Law is passed this year authorizing a Haskell County Hospital District, other property in the

Haskell Well Represented At The Small Towns Task Force Session

State and Federal Agencies can be of great assistance to small towns in West Texas, according to C. L. Cooke, chairman of the Small Towns Task Force of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The manner in which this assistance can be obtained was explored Friday when Stamford hosted the fourth of a series of six meetings at the Cliff House.

Attending from Haskell were Mayor H. V. Woodard, Al Johannes, Dr. T. W. Williams, E. J. Stewart, Alvin Sherman, Mrs. Vance Abeldt, Mrs. Myron Biard, Mrs. Luther Burkett, Jetty V. Clure, Bob Greenroy, Bob Beauchamp, Clay Greenroy, Mrs. Viars Felker, Mrs. R. A. Lane and Mrs. Ed Hester.

Federal officials pointed out to the representatives of the small West Texas towns just how their agencies may furnish counsel or, in some cases, loans and grants to help in the solution of some of the problems facing the towns.

Balance of our County might be taken over or included in some other neighboring Hospital District.

A large number of Hospital Districts have been created throughout the State during the past 10 or 12 years. The 1965 Legislature passed about 27 Special Laws authorizing the creation of such districts.

Two neighboring counties, Stonewall and Wilbarger have found it necessary to create a Hospital District. Wichita County had a Special Law passed, but has not successfully voted to create one.

The purpose for the creation of so many Hospital Districts in the State has been the need for more revenue to provide for adequate and modern hospital facilities, and also provide for proper operation and maintenance costs.

All of the counties of Texas still have to operate on an 80-cent tax on $100 Valuation, which was provided by the State Constitution in 1907, whereas cities under 5,000 population can levy a $1.50 tax on $100 and cities over 5,000 population can levy $2.50. School Districts, by voting various provisions of law, can levy up to $2.00.

From the small 80-cent tax a county must pay all general operating cost, jury service cost, some road and bridge maintenance cost and the construction and maintenance cost of all public buildings, such as a courthouse, jail and county hospital.

Since other counties, or parts of counties, have found it necessary to create a Hospital District, it is practical to assume that Haskell county may feel the need in the future to create one. The Special Law authorizing the creation of a Haskell County Hospital District will make this possible. The legal authority will be available, should the citizens of Haskell county wish to take advantage of it and favorably vote to create a Hospital District.

205 Retailers, Wholesalers And Manufacturers In This Area

Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., international business information agency which has been celebrating its 125th Anniversary, has released latest statistics on the business population of Haskell County.

A. J. Hemphill, district manager of the Fort Worth office of Dun & Bradstreet, reports that figures obtained by a physical count of the D&B Reference Book for January, 1967, show that there are 205 retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers in this area.

Founded in 1841 in New York City, the Dun & Bradstreet organization now includes nearly 240 offices in the United States and abroad. The company was originally established to collect and report data on merchants on the Western frontier in order to promote trade, and has been gathering financial and credit data on firms of all types ever since.

Today, D&B lists nearly three million businesses and their current credit ratings in its Reference Book, which is continually being revised and is published six times a year.

Each year, all businesses, regardless of size, are asked to send copies of their financial statements to Dun & Bradstreet, whose reporters collect supplementary facts and profile each business in comprehensive credit reports widely used by suppliers, insurance companies, bankers, and service concerns.

Mrs. W. E. Payne, Assistant County Superintendent of Schools Retires

Mrs. W. E. Payne, assistant county superintendent of schools since August, 1947, retired from active service on February 1st. As a surprise for her, the Court-house personnel were invited to take their coffee break Tuesday afternoon, January 31, in the county school office, where they could have the occasion for a friendly chat and the expressing of "happy retirement" wishes.

Coffee and cookies were served to some forty well-wishers who came in. Sarah Hedge, Lois Jones and Adeline Glass served as co-hostesses with Jessie Vick.

Mrs. Payne will do occasional part-time work in the school office as the need arises, but her regular bookkeeping work for the rural schools has been taken over by Mrs. Glass, who has worked as a part-time assistant in the county school office for the past several months, keeping the second set of books required when the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 provided federal funds for the disadvantaged children in the schools.

"Town Topics" Discussed At Rotary Meeting

Dr. T. W. Williams was in charge of the program at last Thursday's noon-day luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at Felker's dining room.

Dr. Williams shared with the members of the club many ideas concerning this community and pointed out some things about a more stable economy. He also told of the need to cooperate with the various committees of the Chamber of Commerce in helping to make Haskell a more progressive city.
"There are many towns the size of ours that would like to have Chamber of Commerce managers, but were unable to obtain such because of the lack of personnel in this field," Dr. Williams said.

Dr. Williams related that the committees are carrying on an active program and would continue to do so to the best of their ability. He opened the meeting for discussion. Rotarian J. V. Patterson presented the idea of a vocational training program which has been under consideration for some time in which we would be able to give training that would help the common laborer to be better qualified for any job. The idea of on-the-job training was discussed by the group.
Vice-President Bob Greenroy presided over the meeting in the absence of the president, Bob Herren. Rev. J. V. Patterson gave the invocation; H. V. Woodard led the club in singing "Happy Birthday" to Tom Robertson, "The Four Way Test" and "America the Beautiful" with Mrs. Henry Withers at the piano.

R. C. Couch introduced the following visitors: Tommy Hester, guest of his father, Ira Hester, and Alton Richards of Rule.

HEMISFAIR 1968

Texas passenger car license plates for 1968 will carry an invitation to visit San Antonio's HemisFair.

The Texas Highway Commission today directed that the slogan, "HEMISFAIR '68," be included on the 1968 license plates, scheduled to go into production soon.

HemisFair will begin a 6-month run on April 6, 1968. Government, industry and business leaders have joined in helping develop and promote the event, planned as "Fair of the Americas."

Recently estimates by independent research agencies indicate that almost 11 million persons will visit the extravaganza.

Only HemisFair and the recent World's Fair at Seattle have been granted official designation as international exhibitions in this decade. HemisFair was approved by the official international sanctioning body for world fairs.

"The HemisFair will bring national and international recognition to Texas. A successful HemisFair will add millions of dollars to the Texas Economy from out-of-state and foreign visitors.

Our fair little city of Haskell will also profit from tourists as they travel to and from the HemisFair...but we must begin now to beautify our town and dress-it-up so to speak, and make it attractive in every way possible to make tourists want to stop and rest a spell.

The Highway Department already has made plans to devote one side of its 1968 Official State Highway Map to publicizing HemisFair.

The Department's Travel and Information Division is anticipating heavy additional requests for literature on Texas from prospective HemisFair visitors throughout the world.

Mrs. Jno. A. Couch left Wednesday for Waco where she will visit with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burleson and family.

Five members of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce will be guests at the annual banquet tonight of the Wichita Falls C. of C. in that city. The Haskell group will be composed of Dr. T. W. Williams, president of the local civic organization; Ralph Duncan, secretary; A. C. Pierson, Guy Collins, D. H. Pierson and Sam A. Roberts.

The home of J. W. Roberts, several blocks southwest of the square, was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday morning.

Albert Steiwert, 73, prominent Haskell County farmer and resident of the Irby community 12 miles east of Haskell for 30 years, met tragic death late Saturday afternoon when he was attacked and fatally injured by a vicious bull.

Dates for Interscholastic League athletic and literary events for Haskell County were announced this week by Superintendent U. U. Clark of Rule, director-general for the county. Sale of six tracts of county school land, located in Hockley County, at a price of $18.00 per acre, was approved by the Commissioners Court this week.

With slightly over 147 acres in each tract, approximately 900 acres were involved in the transaction. Contracts have been signed for two non-conference football games between the Haskell Indians and the Crowell High School team, to be played during the 1937-1938 football seasons. Principal George Wimbush announced.

Haskell's "Know Your West Texas" program to be broadcast over Station KRPC, Abilene, this afternoon at 5:00 o'clock will feature a variety of talent presented under sponsorship of the Haskell Lions Club. Rev. David L. Stitt, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, will be principal speaker and master of ceremonies.

40 YEARS AGO

(February 10, 1927)
Judge L. D. Ratliff, of this city, has been confined to his bed since Monday with injuries sustained when he fell while on his way home after the heavy rain Monday evening. His injuries, while necessarily very painful, are not thought to be serious, and no bones were broken, but he will probably be confined in bed for several days.

Jones Cox & Co., local distributors of the R.C.A. radio receiving sets, have been staging a novel demonstration this week. A large model loud speaker was hooked up with one of their receiving sets and placed on the sidewalk in front of the store, where the program can be heard by those passing by.

Ted Alexander of the firm of F. G. Alexander & Sons spent several days in Dallas last week attending the Texas and Oklahoma Shoe Dealers Convention.

Hancock & Co., local dry goods store has been closed the past few days, a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, having been filed by the firm early last week. Guss Cliff of this city, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cliff, received notice to report at Mineral Wells February 28th, at which time the Dallas Steers of the Texas League begin their spring training.

The majority of the students of the High School met Monday afternoon, January 31, for the purpose of organizing a "Little Theatre."

The new five-roof residence of Mr. and Mrs. Al Jordan two blocks west of the square is completed and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have moved in.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hanon entertained a large crowd of young people Saturday night with a party. After several games were played, the young people departed, expressing their thanks for a wonderful time.

A good rain fell over the Midway Community Monday evening.

60 YEARS AGO

(February 9, 1907)
Mr. F. G. Alexander has gone to St. Louis and Chicago to purchase the spring stock of dry-goods for the Alexander Mercantile Company's stores at Haskell, Munday and Rule.

The Haskell steam laundry is now in operation.

J. T. Strickland has retired from the management of the electric light plant and Mr. E. W. Berry has assumed the management.

Married on Tuesday, February 5th, Mr. W. E. Helmes and Miss Annie Riddle, Judge Joe Irby officiating in his best style.

On Tuesday, February 5th, J. A. Moon and Miss Nora Grayson were united in marriage with Rev. J. T. Nicholson officiating.

Messrs. Jno. L. Robertson and Jack Simmons left Thursday on a business trip to Motley county.

Frank Post and his son-in-law, W. W. Murray of Louisiana and Mr. Post of Stephens county are visiting relatives here.

W. H. Patterson is building a house on the south side. W. P. Foster, who purchased the Tudor residence in the east part of town last fall and moved here from Collin county, returned from a trip to Collin County, bringing up the remainder of his movable effects and some mules.

The Haskell Concert Band will give a minstrel performance at the courthouse on Friday, February 15th.

The Haskell Commandery held a session Monday when the orders of Red Cross and Knights Templar were conferred upon J. W. Meadors and Judge W. C. Jackson.

A cold wave from the north set in last Saturday night and Sunday and Monday nights were the coldest of the winter, and it has been quite cold all the week.

Mr. Emmett Robertson, who has been in New York for the past year, returned home Tuesday.

Proper Time To File For Medicare And Monthly Benefits Important

With the advent of medicare, it is now more important than ever that a person approaching retirement age know the proper time to sign up for his health insurance protection and for any monthly benefits he may have coming.

R. R. Tuley, Jr., district manager of social security in Abilene, explained that even if a person plans to work beyond age 65, he should make application to establish his eligibility under medicare sometime in the three months before the month he is 65. A delay means a loss of protection under medicare. Also, by not filing at the right time, the worker may also lose some monthly benefits.

Tuley pointed out that there is an initial 7-month enrollment period in which to elect medical insurance under medicare. This is the part of medicare which pays the doctor bills and involves a monthly premium of $3 a month from the beneficiary, matched by $3 from general Federal revenues. The initial enrollment period begins with the third month before the month the person turns 65 and extends through the third month after that month.

When a person applies will determine the date his medical insurance protection goes into effect. If he applies in one of the three months before the month of his 65th birthday, his protection begins as soon as he reaches 65. If he waits until the month of his birthday or the 3 remaining months in his enrollment period, his coverage will be delayed from one to three months.

If the person misses his initial enrollment period altogether, he won't have another opportunity until the last three months of the next odd-numbered year. Then, he will have to pay a higher premium for the same protection. Also, his coverage will not begin until six to nine months after he enrolls.

Hospital insurance, which is the other part of the medicare program, is effective as soon as a person reaches 65. There is no specific enrollment period for this part. For anyone receiving social security benefits prior to age 65, hospital insurance protection will be automatic the month age 65 is reached. These people will be notified automatically about signing up for the medical insurance if they want that protection to supplement their hospital insurance.

Tuley suggested that people now within 3 months of their 65th birthday plan to pay a visit to the social security office soon...bringing with them some proof of age, preferably a birth certificate or an early baptismal record. Other documents are usually acceptable. Generally speaking, the older the document, the better. For those who are at work, or for some other reason cannot come into their district offices, it is possible to start the application just by getting in touch with the district office by telephone or letter.

This is our first increase in subscription prices since 1956 and since that time costs, not only in our field, but almost every other, have increased tremendously. We had hoped that newsprint and other costs of producing a newspaper would reach its peak before we were forced to increase our subscription rate but as you probably know, newsprint as well as many of our costs took another jump last fall, increasing our cost beyond the point of intelligently maintaining our old prices and most other weeklies advanced their prices some two or three years ago.

Therefore in the interest of self preservation we are making the above advance.

New and renewal subscriptions will be accepted at the old rate, not to exceed three years, until March 1, 1967.

Mrs. Tom Barnett Tells Of Her Experience In Arriving "Home"

By MRS. TOM BARNETT

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Tom (Lee) Barnett, wife of Haskell's police chief, is back to her German homeland for the first visit since leaving there as a bride in 1953. This is the first of a series of articles she will write in her travels, for the Abilene Reporter-News.)

EISLINGEN, West Germany —The joy of coming home was saddened by the tragic news of the deaths of our astronauts. As I am sure is true of everyone back home, I am terribly upset over the accident.

Every German I've seen today has told me how sorry they are.

The Germans loved President John F. Kennedy more than we even think, and they are curious about Dallas.

Yesterday a part of the Berlin Wall collapsed and also two refugees were shot in the past few hours. No doubt the people in the United States have this news, but it feels different from here.

It Is Raining!
It is raining! In London, Frankfurt, Geopinger, Esslingen, Stuttgart and Kaiserslautern—anyway. Already I know what I most want to bring home to West Texas—this beautiful rain.

Of course, I cannot find it in my heart to complain about this moisture although it isn't what could be called ideal weather for a trip to Europe. However, I struggle with my umbrella and go right outdoors under it—walking and looking and then walking some more. It is indeed wonderful to be in my native country for a visit after fourteen years.

During a pleasant flight, at times 37,000 feet above the cloud-covered earth, I met Mrs. Marjory Pascal of 1141 Santos Street in Abilene going to her home in Liverpool, England, for a visit after 21 years of living in the States. London presented a beautiful picture of welcome to her in the early hours of the morning with mist and mosaic of orange, blue and red lights along the Thames River. Mrs. Pascal almost missed the plane in Dallas, which had given her a bit of a fright, but she arrived safely in London.

I feel like a stranger, and the things we can reminisce about are surely from another world. My mother reminds me of the time we were hiding in the attic of our apartment house in Berlin at the end of World War II—soldiers were searching every floor in the house. We were praying a grenade would hit us before the Russians could find us. Fortunately neither happened. I was 12.

Once my stepfather took a severe beating from several soldiers in the course of keeping them from finding seven of us hidden behind closed cellar windows; another time a friend and I hid in the loft where a round the turn of the century a pigeon lovers club had housed their birds. During the immediate days after the Russian occupation in Berlin, my grandfather passed away and kept us thereby from being molested for several days from the incessant searching of soldiers. There being no way to use a funeral parlor, he was lying in state in an empty room of our apartment on the ground. Superstition forbids a Russian to enter a house in mourning.

We talked of the 12, 13, 14 year old boys who died in the Magistrate's building a 10-minute walk from our house—by order of the Fuehrer, defending a fallen city, with the parents not strong enough to keep their children at home.

Looking around here in South Germany, building a p p p e a r s readily the most obvious industry. New Yorkers think their streets are more broken up than open for their intended use. Every one of the five big towns I've visited since Tuesday has its excavations in the middle of downtown streets, for the expressed purpose of modernization. I think secretly to reduce the pedestrian to a bundle of lost nerves. But this is progress which seems also to thrive on this beautiful soaking rain.

Aufwie-ersehen.

CAGE RESULTS

HASKELL INDIANS OUTLAST BLIZZARDS

The score constantly changed hands, but the Haskell Indians eventually pushed a nose ahead for a 59-56 win at Winters Friday over the Winters Blizzards.

The triumph raised Haskell's 5-AA record to 2-6 while the Blizzards only hung up an eighth defeat against no victories.

The Indians made the most of a big 17-point second quarter, the only one in which they actually outpointed their opponents. The Blizzards' scant nine points in that period was to cost them the game.

Haskell's Doug Bartley scored 23 points while Winters' Donny Killough scored 18.

Winters girls won 48-37. Ida Martin of Winters scored 19 points and Kathy Burson of Haskell 21.

In the B-team game, Haskell won 51-47.

RULE BOBCATS SKIN BENJAMIN MUSTANGS

TOTAL ELECTRIC LIVING
A CLEAN BREAK WITH THE PAST

Count the ways electricity benefits you

In your home alone, 166 electrical appliances are available to save time, reduce work and do a better job faster and more economically.

Small wonder that in the last 10 years the typical American family has nearly doubled its use of electricity. And at very low cost. While the cost-of-living has been spiraling upwards, the price of electricity has been coming down.

Here at WTU we keep pace with the increasing use of electricity in industry, in business and in the home. It is a way of life with us, for we know that electricity powers progress.

EPoxy RESINS HAVE BEEN USED IN MANY WIDELY SEPARATED FIELDS -- FROM PROTECTIVE COVERINGS FOR THE DEAD SEA SCROLLS TO THE WHEELS ON QUEEN ELIZABETH'S CORDONATION COACH.

THE USES OF EPOXY RESINS ARE VARIED AND ENDLESS. THEY ARE EQUALLY AT HOME IN SPACE TRAVEL OR UNDER THE SEA IN BATHYSPHERES.

NOW EPOXY RESINS AND FIBER GLASS HAVE BEEN COMBINED IN A CONTINUOUS PROCESS BY CIBA PRODUCTS CO. TO PRODUCE A REINFORCED PLASTIC PIPE FOR USE IN THE OIL AND GAS FIELDS. THE PIPE EXHIBITS SUPERIOR STRENGTH, WEIGHS ONLY 1/10 AS MUCH AS STEEL PIPE AND IS ELECTRICALLY AND THERMALLY INSULATING.

TIGHT MONEY & YOU??

Q: "If lendable dollars are short now— why not just increase the supply?"

A: Wouldn't all problems be solved if more lendable funds were made available?

Not necessarily. With many businesses already at full production, there is danger that more money would not so much increase production as it would prices. Then we might have general inflation — too many dollars chasing too few goods; and the purchasing power of your dollar would go down.

The Federal Reserve Board — our nation's credit-regulating agency — saw this threat of inflation a while back, and acted to restrain the growth of lendable funds.

So tight money has become even tighter.

This is Part 2 in the "tight money story"; Watch for the succeeding ad!

Postage stamps are mirrors reflecting our changing times. Every nation's history is represented on its stamps. The many new countries emerging around the world are issuing colorful and unusual postage.

"The issues provide a new and interesting dimension to stamp collecting," notes Ervin J. Felix, stamp editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis.

New nations aren't committed to conventional types or sizes of postage. For example, Burundi — one of the new African countries — keynoted its entrance on the world stage with a series of huge, brightly colored stamps measuring more than 2 1/4 inches long, and round ones measuring more than 2 1/4 inches in diameter.

Colorful new stamp packets now available at variety stores and stamp dealers across the nation furnish a starting point for collecting these issues.

You can obtain new issues from many countries by writing to the Bureau of Posts in the nation or nations of your interest, or by going to your local stamp dealer.

Getting them directly from the country of issue gives you the added benefit of collecting covers and correspondence as well as your new stamps. However, it's more time consuming. Six to eight weeks, even with air mail, is not unusual.

If you decide to request stamps from the country itself, be sure to enclose an international reply coupon, and ask the post office clerk if one coupon is enough for your return fee by ship or air. This coupon — available at your post office — serves as an international medium of exchange in the purchase of stamps.

CHEVY CAPTURES CUP—For turning in the best emergency braking stop among 77 passenger cars entered in the recent Union/Pure Oil Performance Trials, Chevrolet was awarded Popular Science Magazine's Gold Cup. The ability to make a high-speed emergency stop in a single lane of traffic even after severe brake usage was demonstrated by a full-sized Chevrolet Impala. It braked to a full stop in 166.8 feet from 65 miles an hour. Shown presenting the award to James G. Musser (left), Chevrolet's assistant chief engineer for passenger cars, is Hubert Luckett, executive editor of Popular Science Magazine. Several other Chevrolet cars also scored "first" in the trials at Daytona Beach, Fla. A Corvair 500 triumphed over all other entries in fuel economy with 26.045 miles per gallon. Two Chevilles were first and second in fuel economy in their class while two Camaros were first and second in acceleration tests in the class for sport compacts.

H. D. AGENT NEWS

BARBARA M. ELLIOTT
County H. D. Agent

The American Medical Association has developed some guidelines to help families or individuals in selecting a nursing home, says Barbara M. Elliott, County Home Demonstration Agent.

She adds that a quality nursing home makes every reasonable effort to restore patients to the maximum degree of independence and self-help possible. For many patients, a nursing home is only a step between the hospital and independent living at home.

You should first find out the level of care provided. Three classes of nursing homes are accredited: those offering intensive care under a registered professional nurse and a registered or licensed practical nurse with an attendant on duty at all times. Mrs. Elliott says an examination by the family physician is the best way to determine which type nursing home one should seek. The doctor can also give information about special needs of the patient which must be met, such as diet, therapy and medical supervision.

Visit the homes on your list to look at their facilities. Ask questions. Is the home licensed by state or local licensing agencies? Does the staff make periodic reports to the physician on the patient's condition? Is there a staff doctor who spends time in the home with the patients and nursing staff?

What is the number of nursing staff and their hours of duty? Are facilities provided for rehabilitation, such as walkers, hand rails, or exercise steps? Are high standards of food service maintained?

Check into cost. What are rates for nursing care, room and board? Is the fee on a monthly or weekly basis, payable in advance and will there be a refund if the patient leaves the home? Ask about special charges such as shampoo and haircuts.

Texas Is Making Preparations For HemisFair's 6-Month Run In 1968

Texas passenger car license plates for 1968 will carry an invitation to visit San Antonio's HemisFair.

The Texas Highway Commission has directed that the slogan "HEMISFAIR 68" be included on the 1968 license plates.

HemisFair will begin a six-month run on April 6, 1968. Government, industry and business leaders have joined in helping develop and promote the event, planned as a "Fair of the Americas."

Recent estimates by independent research agencies indicate that almost 11 million persons will visit the extravaganza.

Only HemisFair and the recent World's Fair at Seattle have been granted official designation as international exhibitions in this decade. HemisFair was approved by the official international sanctioning body for world fairs.

The Highway Commission in its action noted that the U. S. Congress has appropriated $6.75 million for construction of a U. S. pavilion. The Texas Legislature has set aside $4.5 million for a permanent Institute of Texan Cultures on the HemisFair site.

Foreign-nation exhibits in HemisFair will be official displays of the respective governments.

"The HemisFair will bring national and international recognition to Texas," the Commission order said. "A successful HemisFair will add millions of dollars to the Texas economy from out-of-state and foreign visitors."

The Highway Department already has made plans to devote one side of its 1968 Official Highway Map to publicizing the HemisFair.

The eight Tourist Information Bureaus operated at key highways and in the rotunda of the Capitol in Austin by the Texas Highway Department are expected to play host to many HemisFair visitors.

Three other Highway Department travel information facilities are expected to be in service during the half-year run of the exposition.

A new Tourist Information Bureau at Laredo, replacing an earlier facility closed temporarily during the development of Interstate Highway 35.

Plans are also underway for a visitor center at the Judge

Roy Bean Museum also operated by the Department.

The Department's Information Division is preparing heavy additional literature on the prospective HemisFair throughout the world.

More than three million travelers a year visit the Highway Department Bureaus each year. The Department also handles more than 225 thousand letters for literature and information about Texas, and uses more than 3.5 million pieces of literature.

Of this volume, more than a million pieces are part of the Department program.

The Good Earth

By Mrs. B. F. Cobb

My husband and I had the good fortune recently to see the interesting bottle collection of Mrs. Lee Roy O'Neal (Gladys). Although Gladys has been collecting bottles for only three or four years, she has already amassed 335 of many shapes, colors and kinds.

One whiskey bottle, in the shape of a man's face with a tall hat, is over one hundred years old.

The collection contains many old medicine bottles, many that are valuable. Gladys says blue medicine bottles with embossed lettering and odd shapes, are the most valuable, according to an expert on bottles.

There are huge bottles and bottles no larger than an inch square. Some are round, some are square and many are figures of people or other forms of life. One medium size bottle has a ship, complete with sails, mounted inside it. The ship is nearly as large as the bottle making one wonder how it was placed in it. One dark green fiddle-shaped bottle is very old. Not only does Mrs. O'Neal collect bottles as a hobby, she paints and collects antiques for pass time. They have an old button shoe, worn by Lee Roy's aunt some 120 years ago. Gladys painted a still life picture with the shoe as a center of interest; she entered the painting in the Haskell County Fair and won a blue ribbon on it. A beautiful carnival glass berry bowl set is priceless because they no longer make that kind of glass.

Two crock churns that are 45 years old, hold a place of prominence in the O'Neal kitchen.

A scene of ancient beauty is created in the dining area—A black iron corn sheller stands on the left side of a pot-bellied stove holding a black iron tea kettle. An iron bean pot and an iron coal shovel on the right of the stove finishes the picture.

Gladys has a cream pitcher that her mother (Mrs. Ed Fouts) started housekeeping with over 50 years ago.

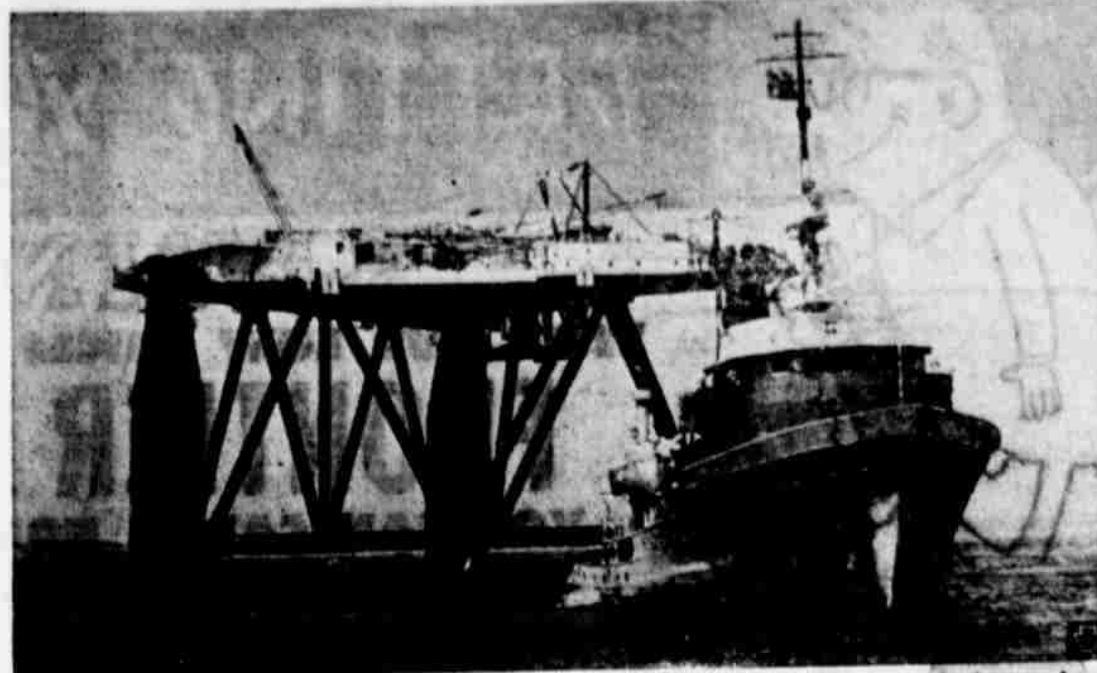

Lee Roy and Gladys are especially proud of an antique China cabinet. Lions heads, with long flowing mane, are carved on the circular front. Claws of the lion form the legs to the cabinet. This piece of furniture is very old and almost priceless.

A conk shell that has been in the family for 67 years is another prized possession of the O'Neals.

Last but not least is the dresser that is 300 years old. This is indeed a conversation piece. The glass, flanked on the left with three small circular front drawers and on the right with one circular drawer over a circular door, sits on a kidney-shaped bottom with one large drawer.

Mrs. O'Neal, who is a member of the Haskell Garden Club, applies her art in arranging flowers. Her many blue ribbons say that the method works.

Journey's End For A Giant

Two world records off the coast of Australia are captured in this photograph of the largest sea-going tug towing the most massive offshore drilling rig, over a rugged 5,200 mile voyage from Hiroshima, Japan. The grueling 3-month trip put both General Motors powered units to test through three slashing typhoons and several storms. The massive 8 million dollar drilling rig, called the SEDCO-135E, was brought to search for oil off the coast of Port Campbell, Victoria. The 9600 horsepower, sleek looking Alice L. Moran leaves the rig to begin her long journey back to the States.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Open Heart Surgery—these words are not uncommon ones but they always seem to apply to people far away and never right here at home.

Heart defects and diseases are the number one killer in children and young adults today. The next victim could be your child.

Nine years ago at Johns Hopkins in Baltimore, Maryland, Dr. Frank Spencer performed open heart surgery on me. The trouble it seemed was a hole in the upper chamber, but after that was repaired, the main artery had to be rerouted. After a year of recuperation I was as good as new. Now I am married and have a baby girl, neither of which would have been possible had it not been for surgery.

The techniques in heart surgery are far more advanced now than they were nine years ago. The only reason for this research can be done is with your help. Without your money to support this cause the reasons for heart defects and cures for them will not and cannot be found.

Please give your money to the Heart Association to combat this killer.

HOLY HABITS

One often hears it said that we are creatures of habit. We find that habits may take one form or another. Those which we cultivate become the activating force of our lives. Speaking of Holy Habits we could do no better than to pattern our lives after the One who became the Saviour of mankind. Jesus would not consider beginning upon any great task before consulting His Heavenly Father in conversation, if you please, prayer. Prayer is a means whereby we find the direction in which to go.

Another holy habit which is a blessing to us is the practice of the presence of Christ in our life. A good guide line is to ask ourselves this question, "What would Jesus have done?" Paul, in Philippians 4:8, told us of a way to think. "Whatever things are true... honest... just... pure... lovely... or of good report, if there be any praise, think on these things." When our minds are not cluttered with evil or idle thoughts we find that our moments are filled with Thanksgiving and those who watch us know that we are Christians by our attitudes and actions.

GERMANY STILL LAND OF SUPERFLUOUS LAWS

that is beautiful. The sun is also trying to appear through a thin haze to the tune of the birds singing, making it a lovely day in the old Bavarian capital.

By MRS. TOM BARNETT
MUNICH—I am overlooking the courtyard of the Columbia Hotel in Munich, whose numerous pine and leaf trees are taller than its five and six-story surrounding buildings. At the moment they are bare, even

"Fasching" (Mardi Gras) is presently nightly kings. Munich is the beer capital of the world at the mention of water, Mr. Feising, a genuine Bavarian, says: "Zum Teufel nochmal!" Which means: (I beg your pardon) "to the devil with that!" I did have the first impression that people are exclusively occupied with their station in life and the things they possess or want to possess to outdo the Jones' appears to be a bonafide sickness. However, overhearing a conversation between two young German gentlemen on a train ride disclosed they were witnessing to one another of their faith in God and the joy they had therein. That was truly a heartwarming experience—may I be forgiven for listening in.

German P.T.A. Attending a P-T.A. meeting of the elementary school in Geopingen the other night, I learned that teachers had to deal with classes of 50 to 60 pupils, non-coeducational, with relatively few difficulties.

The teacher is still rather an authoritarian figure, but I heard Mr. Munding, the principal, exhort the parents to allow their children more freedom of expression at home, so that they may feel free to speak out in class. A German child has traditionally been raised to be seen—may be—but not heard! Mr. Munding said he would rather the children were forward than too frightened to speak out. Twenty-five years ago that was a radical point of view.

Too Many Laws Germany is still a land of superfluous laws, regulating the personal behavior of its people. A shop may not open till 7 a. m. and must close at 7 p. m. However, for mothers who may need milk for babies at six in the morning (?) a shop may open from 6 a. m. to 6:30 a. m., close till 7 a. m. and during that early half hour he may sell nothing but milk. It is customary to close from 1 till 3 p. m., but not must.

For a person to move from one house to another the procedure is to register that move at the police station. My father says jokingly he would not be surprised should a law regulate the hours during which one may wash one's hands...

Money Short Money is very short, interest rates of 10 and 12 per cent are not uncommon should one be fortunate to find a bank able and willing to lend. The Kiesinger regime and the Coalition, between Christian Democrats and Socialists, is generally greeted hopefully and friendly—with a willingness to wait and see.

Frank Calhoun Reports

House of Representatives
Frank W. Calhoun
District 62-F

The 60th Legislature now knows all the rules of the game and the serious business has begun. Gov. Connally's message to a joint session of both the House and Senate last week is causing quite a stir all across the State. The Governor laid out his proposals for financing his program for the 1968-69 biennium, and some businesses got hit right in the pocketbook. Others breathed a temporary sigh of relief, knowing full well that there will be many alternative taxes suggested before the tax bill is finally approved.

The most dramatic step taken by the Governor was his recommendation that the Legislature legalize liquor-by-the-drink and impose a 5-cent per ounce tax. This alone would net $15-million in new tax money for the biennium. The limitation to present "wet" areas and a heavy ($2,000) annual bar license fee to be shared by the State, city and county, may have the effect of giving the measure the impetus that it needs to carry both Houses.

Representative Frank Calhoun of District 62-F has a full schedule of committee hearings this week on a number of measures that will soon reach the House floor for debate. Of particular interest is proposed revisions to
