Drugs - Uses and Abuses Seminar Held in Ledford Home Monday

Dr. Bill Robbins, professor of psychology at Howard Payne College, Brownwood, certified speaker for the Texas Alcohol Narcotic Education (TANE), directed the seminar.

Dr. Robbins discussed the effects of drugs used abusively on the vital organs of the body, using actual displays of damaged and healthy tissue of lung and liver segments. Dr. Robbins said "Drug used abusively leave permanent brain damage that is irreversible, including sniffing of glue, gasoline, paint thinner and other substances." Many of these substances are commonly found in any home.

A placebo of marijuana was burned, so that guests could identify the distinctive odor of this plant. Most hard drug users started on marijuana, then progress to stronger drugs, ever seeking an escape from life.

Our present epidemic of venereal disease is a culmination of factors but, drugs are very definitely a large part of the problem.

Dr. Lloyd Huff, of Clyde, Heads Hardin-Simmons University Faculty

ABILENE — Dr. Lloyd D. Huff, professor in English and head of the Department at Hardin-Simmons University, is filling a role that has not been played at H-SU since back in the 30's.

He is the faculty chairman, elected last August in a faculty meeting. The last time H-SU had a faculty chairman was over 30 years ago when Oscar Henry Cooper died in office.

"At first I wasn't sure what I was supposed to do, but I'm learning," commented Dr. Huff on his new role. "My colleagues are helping me."

"Actually the faculty chairman is in charge of faculty meetings and handling the business of the faculty," Dr. Huff explained. "I guess I'm sort of liaison between the faculty and administration."

Dr. Robert Hamner, assistant professor in English, is vice chairman, and Miss Emogene Emery, associate professor in speech, is secretary of the faculty.

Dr. Huff, who came to H-SU in July of 1967 as a professor, was made head of the English department in September of the same year. He has taught at McMurry and taught as a faculty assistant at Indiana University, where he received his doctorate in 1947.

He received his B.A. from Trinity University, his M.A. in English from Baylor and his M.A. in Bible from H-SU.

He served with the U. S. Air Force and belongs to the Abilene Mensa of West Texas, a club whose qualifications for membership is an extremely high IQ. In 1968 he was named to Who's Who in Texas Today and in 1970 and 1971 was chosen an Outstanding Educator of America.

He and his wife, Naomi, who received her M.A. degree from H-SU in 1971 and who is an English and speech teacher at Clyde High School, live in Clyde. They have two daughters, Ruth, an H-SU student, and Joy, a Clyde High student.

Dr. Huff is a Methodist lay speaker - not the usual image of a Baptist college professor, but he is right at home. "I feel very fortunate indeed to be surrounded by so many good Baptist friends," he said.

Your article on the years of Mr. South as Superintendent of Baird Schools, have been interesting. The article on the Homecoming events brought memories of the people, some who were in World War II. Some of these young folks with their families are now living in Baird.

Many of us who are not living there remain interested in the town and its people.

Sincerely,
Mrs. M. L. Stubblefield.

Baird Bears Take Slick Win Over Jim Ned Indians; After No. 6

By Lynn Godfrey

BAIRD—The Bears travel to Aspermont this Friday for their fourth district game of the season, and will be out to get the fourth district win. Game time is 7:30 p. m. in Hornet Stadium.

The Bears defeated Jim Ned 21-0 here last Friday night, and now have a 5-0-1 season record. The game led Jim Ned down to 2-4-1.

The first half of the game remained scoreless as wet cold weather prevailed over the field, which made hazardous field positions. However, in the 3rd quarter the Bears jumped out front when quarterback Jay Reeves hit Bill Hatchett with a six-yard touchdown pass. Jay was good for the extra point and the Bears had the first 7 on the board.

Jimmy Meador took it over the goal line in the 4th quarter, with Reeves adding one, bringing the score to 14-0.

The final minutes of the game, Reeves made contact with Meador with a 45-yard pass, and again booted the extra point.

The defensive line stands out on any team when the opponent remains scoreless as it happened in the Jim Ned game. Holding the Indians to only 12 yards in rushing means that a strong force is up front. These standouts include Bill Windham, Pud Jaggars, Tommy Neal, Brian Hughes and others on the line for the Bears.

Travel to Aspermont Friday and cheer the winning Bears to their 4th victory in district play. It's great to be a winner.
