Cotton Insect Report No. 10

EMORY P. BORING
Area Entomologist
Texas Agricultural Extension Service

During the past week rain reported in a large part of the Rolling Plains Area. In areas where boll weevils and worms have not been controlled, populations should continue to increase due to the increased moisture. Populations of boll weevils and bollworms increased in some areas and decreased in others. This is probably due to the use of control measures and the decreased emergence of boll weevils from pupae.

Bollworm activity has increased in several counties, decreasing in others. Bollworm damage to green squares was heavy (4% to 6%) in one or more fields in Garber, Hardeman, Cottle, Jones, Fisher, Scurry, Bell, Runnels, Tom Green and Knox counties.

Damage of 2% to 4% was reported in one or more fields in Ward, Shackelford, Callahan, Haskell, Taylor, Coleman and Baylor counties. Control measures for bollworms should begin when bollworms are found per 100 terminals or 5% of the small squares and bolls have injured small bollworms. Control measures should be applied at 2 to 3 day intervals, or less. Fields should be checked closely 2 to 3 times following each application to insure effective control.

Populations of boll weevils ranging from 1000 to 7200 per acre were observed in Wilbarger, Wichita, Jones, Shackelford, Callahan, Stonewall, Fisher, No. 10 and Knox counties. Populations ranging from 100 to 981 were observed in Cottle, Garber, Hardeman, Foard, Cottle, King, Mitchell and Bell counties. The estimated green square infestation of 25% to over 50% was observed in one or more fields in Collingsworth, Wilbarger, Wichita, Clay, Childress, Callahan, Tom Green and Schell counties. Boll weevils are capable of causing significant losses if left unchecked. Growers should check fields regularly and apply insecticide application if infestation is 25% or more punctures are found.

An H-19 Maintenance expedition, Sergeant Moss drives a pick-up truck in his duties with the 3630th Flying Training Wing at Sheppard.

From Dike, Texas, Sergeant Moss entered military service in September 1942 and served one year in England during World War II and was in Japan for one year during the Korean Conflict. He came to Sheppard from Stead AFB, Nev., where he was assigned to 3638th Maintenance and Supply Group.

Sergeant and Mrs. Moss reside at 822 Chestnut Street in Burkburnett, Texas. She is the former Miss Janie Marie Hataway of Dallas.

MSgt. B. H. Moss Awarded Driver Of The Month

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — MSgt. B. H. Moss of 3639th Consolidated Maintenance Squadron at Sheppard Technical Training Center, received the Driver of the Month award for July during ceremonies conducted Monday at Sheppard.

Col. John C. McCurnin, special assistant to the commander, made the presentation at the ground safety meeting. The sergeant received a $25 savings bond and pen and pencil set, and an award signed by Brig. Gen. Edward H. Nigro, center commander. The inscription stated: "Safe Driver of the Month Program Top Driver Award, presented to Sergeant E. H. Moss, selected for best Air Force vehicle operator for July."

Burk High School To Add New Courses

Vocational office education will be added to the curriculum of the Burkburnett High School for the coming year. This program emphasizes the career objectives of the student. Students enrolled in the program have occupational objectives in one or more of the following employment categories: stenographic-secretarial, bookkeeping, office machines operation, and general office clerical.

Training is conducted through cooperation of local schools with local establishments having office occupational employment opportunities. Students receive practical, supervised on-the-job training in their chosen occupation by working each school afternoon. Each morning the school provides individual instruction directly related to the job of each student in a regularly scheduled cooperative part-time class conducted by the teacher who also has the responsibility of selecting students for instruction, placing them in employment according to their interests and abilities and correlating their work experiences on the job with the cooperative part-time classroom instruction directly related to the job of each student.

The student may earn two credits upon satisfactorily completing 175 clock hours of related classroom instruction and 525 hours of supervised work experience during his senior school year. High school students 16 years of age or older who are of senior classification are eligible to enter the program provided they have an interest in and a vocational need for such training.

German is to be added to the language instruction of the school. Students who have an interest in German will have an opportunity to enroll in the class and receive one credit for successful completion of the class.

Burkburnett Man Is New Lieutenant

Harry C. Small, Jr. of Burkburnett was among 77 new second lieutenants who received their gold bars Tuesday morning in graduation ceremonies for Officer Candidate School Class 20-66 at Ft. Sill, Okla. The graduation parade was held Saturday.

Burk School Budget Okayed

A $1 1/2-million school budget for the Burkburnett Independent School district was presented at an open meeting of the school board Tuesday night by I. C. Evans, superintendent, and unanimously approved by the board.

The budget for 1966-67, as presented by Evans, calls for estimated expenditures of $1,432,823. This amount includes $59,969 for administration, $898,343 for instruction, $30,415 for transportation, $106,080 for operation, $79,810 for maintenance of plant, $12,260 for fixed charges, $10,465 for student body activities, $35,917 for capital outlay and $60,721 for debt service.

The budget anticipates total revenues of $1,511,830, of which $195,005 would be from local taxes, $816,824 from state appointment, $449,913 from federal sources and $88 from county sources.

Revenue from federal sources includes $298,583 for maintenance and operation, $62,370 for head-start projects and $138,960 for National Youth Corps program.

The tax rate will remain at $1.50. The Burkburnett Independent School District has an assessed valuation of $12,834,100.

An estimated athletic budget of $18,000, also was approved, the largest anticipated expenditure being $7,000 for new equipment.

Contracts for furnishing gas and oil for school buses were awarded to Mobil Oil Co. and Owen's Service Station on a rotation basis.

Charles Gregory, Jr. Named Junior High Band Director

New director of the Burkburnett Junior High School Band, effective August 30 will be 30-year-old Charles F. Gregory, Jr.

Mr. Gregory received the Bachelor of Music Education Degree from Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, Texas in May, 1958. He is currently working toward the Master of Music Education Degree also at Midwestern.

After serving in the United States Army Band in Fort Chaffee, Ark., and Fort Benning, Ga., Gregory entered his teaching career in August 1960 at Nocona, Texas (AA). Mr. Gregory taught four years in Nocona as the Junior High and Senior High School Band Director. He also was director of the First Methodist Chancel Choir of Nocona.

AFAS Lends Helping Hand To Air Force Personnel Of MSS

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas—The Air Force Aid Society (AFAS), helping hand to Air Force personnel, has received an enormous boost from the airmen at the Medical Service School's 3794th Student Squadron at Sheppard Technical Training Center.

Thirty-three students of the squadron are donating at least $50 to become life members in the AFAS.

First Lt. Charles R. Terry, Medical Service School project officer for the drive, stated that since it was not necessary to pay the $50 immediately, the airmen paid an initial $10 and are completing their donation through allotment.

SSgts. Johnny Wade, Jr., and Buford Woods, training instructors of the 3794th, briefed the students on the AFAS and what it accomplishes in programs for handicapped children, military assistance, and scholarships. No government funds are received or used by the AFAS for assistance purposes, so these programs are carried out by voluntary contributions throughout the Air Force.

Instead of ignoring the issue or contributing the usual dollar, nine airmen asked for life memberships. The next day, 21 students followed suit.

The students responsible for this accomplishment are Airmen third class William G. Wilson, Steven C. Madden, Charles E. Fraudy, David G. Whistler, Frank M. Browne III, John A. Thomas, Gerald D. Nicklen, John P. Quinn Jr., Gary L. Floyd, Allyn Tekhaar, Dale C. Alverson, Ernest R. Shankles, R. S. Schoonover, Tommy R. Tedder, Clarence E. Edwards, Thomas R. Benson, Leonard Longo, James E. Griffin, Robert C. Tomshack, Thomas J. Milne, John W. McMullen, Daniel Paul Zachary, William Cleff, James Jorgensen Jr., Ronald A. Hinkley, Donald G. Hamilton, Homer M. Cassidy Jr., Frederick L. Wedel Jr., Larry E. Burnworth, James E. Jones, Clyde Grady, Ronald Ferguson, and Kenneth Freeman.

Second Lt. James E. Estes is squadron commander and the first sergeant is Chief Master Sergeant Johnny Murdock.

The fund drive at Sheppard closed Monday, Aug. 15. Results are pending official notification.

Burk Teams Gain Two Titles

Burk Mill Grain won the Mid-Red League Championship in the Red River Invitational Baseball Tournament by edging the Enco All-Stars 5-4 Thursday night at Scotland Park.

The Burk team was behind 4-2 going into the bottom of the sixth inning when they began rallying. Shortstop Jerry Patton poked a homer, his second of the night, to make the score 4-3. Then Ricky Reasoner drove in the tying and winning runs with a single.

The Iowa Park Hawks won the third-place game 4-1 from the Wichita Falls Bears, despite Glen Tackett's 11-strikeout performance.

Burk Preston Dairy won the Pee Wee championship at Kiwanis Park by edging the Wichita Falls Cougars 5-4.

David Todd hurled a three-hitter for the winners, striking out nine and putting down a last-minute rally.

The Little Elks rapped the Holiday Mudcats 9-5 to take third place. Eddie Andrews had 2-for-2 for the winners, who put together a four-run uprising in the top half the fifth to put the game on ice.

In AAA, the Gumbo Twins took the title by edging Iowa Park with two runs in the last half of the last inning, 6-5, at Spudder Park.

Iowa Park had scored twice in the top half of the fifth to go ahead 5-4, but the Gumbo Twins came back with two in the bottom half for the win.

Holt's took third place with a 9-5 victory over the Sharks.

CAP Composite Squadron Organized In Burkburnett

A Civil Air Patrol Composite Squadron is being organized in Burkburnett. The cadet program is open to boys and girls 13 to 18 years of age and the Senior program to adults 18 and over.

An organizational meeting will be held Aug. 25, 7:30 p.m. at the Texas Electric Reddy Room and everyone interested in this aerospace program is invited to attend this meeting. Guest speakers will be CAP Lt. Murray and Sgt. Burgess and Bill Ressler, a private pilot and member of the Experimental Aircraft Association. Ressler will show film.

For further information concerning the Civil Air Patrol program, call Sam Robertson, 569-2957.

Jimmie McClain Is Named High School Band Director

Assuming duties as the new high school band director in Burkburnett is Jimmie McClain, formerly Burkburnett's junior high band director. McClain completed the Bachelor of Music Degree in 1959 at East Texas State College. At that time he also received a commission as second lieutenant in the Air Force and served 3 1/2 years at Sheppard Air Force Base.

McClain, his wife Tharon, and daughter Lori, reside at 606 Hazel Street.

During his four years as director of the Burkburnett Junior High Band, the band has received eight first division ratings in interscholastic league competition, including the sweepstakes award in 1964. In 1966, this group was named best band in class C competition at the Castberry Band Festival.

McClain, his wife Tharon, and daughter Lori, reside at 606 Hazel Street.

NO GUNS FOR WRONG PERSONS

"Quick enactment" of federal gun-control laws has again been urged by President Johnson in the immediate aftermath of a shooting in his home state. The object, so he said, is to "help prevent the wrong persons from obtaining firearms." There's no denying that the wild spree of an apparently demented gunman at Texas University was grim and sorrowful event. But by what stretch of whose imagination can it therefore be concluded that a federal laws covering the sale of rifles, shotguns and handguns would have prevented it, or that passage of such a law now will really prevent similar tragedies in the future?

The primarily emotional character of this new surge of "anti-gun" activity — in other places besides the White House — is demonstrated by both the similarities to and differences from that which followed the assassination of President Kennedy in Mr. Johnson's home state three years ago. The chief target, or focal point of the anti-gun crusaders then was "mail-order guns. (Remember all those pictures and cartoons?) This time the picture is of several weapons and the comments generally stress the fact that the sniper had veritable arsenal with him; without nearly so much emphasis on how he obtained the weapons. Which really proves, when logic prevails over emotion, that how or from whom a gun is obtained has nothing at all to do with how or to what purpose it will be used.

We realize that from his standpoint as a politician, Mr. Johnson may be quite shrewd in trying to ride the crest of this new wave of anti-gun emotionalism. But we think it demeaning of his present office that he would do so. And as a former member of what has sometimes been called "the greatest deliberative body in the world" (the U. S. Congress), the President surely realize the dangers to long range national interests and to constitutional government when laws are passed hurriedly in an atmosphere of emotionalism.

We do approve the President's expressed desire to "help prevent the wrong persons from obtaining firearms." But we think this could be done ON THE HOME FRONT by lesser officials than, through better enforcement — in the courts as well as in the streets — of the many federal, state and local statutes already in existence. That would allow Mr. Johnson, in his capacity as Commander-in-Chief of our Armed Forces, to concentrate his thoughts and efforts toward that same worthy purpose in places like Viet Nam.

THE RIGHT TO SAY NO

In their unceasing desire to placate, appease and appeal to blocs of voters, politicians are prone to do irrational or downright silly things. In this case we are not thinking of the vote hungry politico who stuffs himself with pizza, corn pone, blintzes and other delicacies to demonstrate his great love for the minorities. We're thinking of the promoters of the Civil Rights Act of 1966 which requires the seller of property to convey it to anyone who happens to have the price.

The basic issue here, we think, has been clouded by racial considerations, made paramount by the politicians. Maybe we can make our point if we forget for a moment whether the prospective buyer of property is white or black, Italian or Turk, Methodist or Mohammedan. Instead, let's consider what kind of person he is: Is he likely to make a good neighbor and become an asset to the community?

We know a man who owns a tract of undeveloped timberland, and he is anxious to sell it. Yet he is fearful of advertising it in the big city press because he is afraid of the kind of neighbors he might attract. His concern is not over race, religion or place of origin. What he is worried about is attracting the kind of fellow who will build a shanty next door and surround it with the hulks of wrecked automobiles. Or make it a gathering place for those sociable types who live it up day and night and never pick up the can and bottles when the party's over. Or cut down the fine stand of timber on the property which now beautifies the entire countryside.

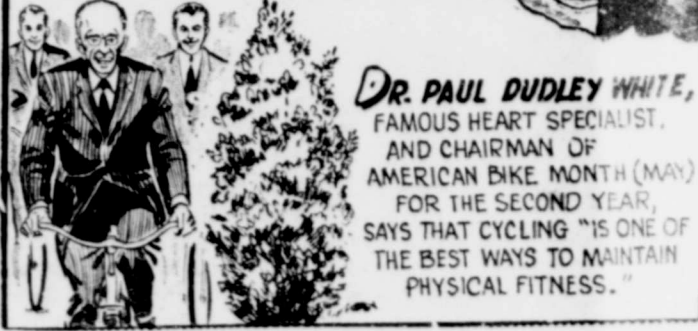

Unfortunately, there are a lot of people who do things like this. They are selfish and irresponsible; they make terrible neighbors, and it doesn't take them long to ruin any place in which they live. There's a short, descriptive word for such characters — slob — and race, religion, and place of origin have nothing to do with it.

Since even a politician is likely to concede the truth of this, we think the Civil Rights Act should permit a property owner the right to say no to such people who want to buy the land or the house he wants to sell. This isn't bigotry; it's just common sense.

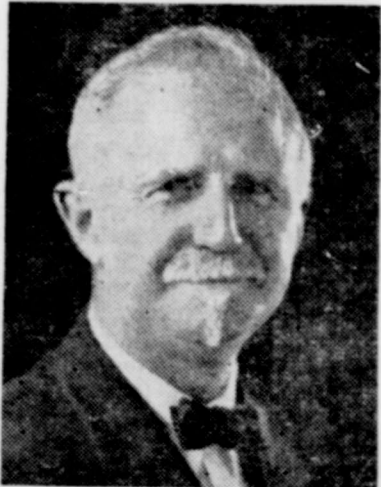

IT'S A FACT!

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

THE OVER-55 MARKET

Babson Park, Mass. — They are a minority, but quite a massive one. They are not heard from very often as a group, but they represent a huge and stable market for retailers and service dispensers of all kinds. Distributors, ad men, clothiers, food marketers, TV programmers, and a host of other commercial entrepreneurs would do well to give them more attention. We refer to the approximately 19 million men and women over 65 now living in the U.S.

Retired People No Longer "Old"

In days gone by, it was popularly assumed that those over 65 were about ready for pasture. But healthier living, medical breakthroughs, and more intelligent over-all personal care have laid that myth away. The retired population is to an amazing degree lively, mobile, and interested in everything that is going on. It is tomfoolery to ignore this responsible, responsive group and act as though only the young were worth soliciting in selling, entertainment, recreation, and promoting our wares.

Only one TV station, for example, has come to our attention as directing a program series beamed toward the older viewers, catering specifically to their interests and needs. This New York channel has joined forces with the N.Y. State University to bring retired men and women a wealth of seasoned suggestions on such widely diversified topics as keeping trim by exercise, selective purchasing, drawing up wills to avoid exaggerated probate costs, tips on home repair, saving money on staples, and part-time jobs.

Social Security Bolstering Buying Power

While many folk are able to retire with at least a moderate nest egg to smooth their later years, many are not. It is here that social security and other forms of public assistance contribute importantly to the economic stability of this group. During 1966 alone, just about $20 billion will be paid out under the Old-Age, Survivors' and Disability Insurance System, the core of the federal social security program. Much of this money will go to about 11 million retired workers. The rest will help support our economy through its distribution to 8.7 million dependents of retired, disabled, or deceased workers, and to one million disabled who are under 65.

Added Effects of Medicare

Even though many fear Medicare as a first step toward total socialized medicine, its effects will be favorable in terms of maintaining the purchase power of retirees. As of this last July, most persons over 65 came under the protection of hospital-cost provisions. And it is estimated that some 95% of these have signed up for the additional coverage of doctors' bills and services under the voluntary insurance plan. This means, of course, that our over-65 big minority will feel less reluctant to spend money for travel, pleasant extras, and even occasional "luxuries" than they did before. The impact of this radical innovation may not be especially spectacular at any given time, but it will add to the fundamental purchasing strength of our older citizens. As long as consumer prices take a continually larger chunk out of personal income, the buying psychology of those no longer working is inclined to become steadily more cautious. This will still be true to a considerable extent, but the knowledge that health costs will be taken care of in case of trouble will make many more willing to spend for other purposes.

Built-In Stabilizers

There are other significant cushions for the economy brought about under the broad coverage of the Social Security Act of 1935. Joint federal-states Public Assistance programs are giving benefits to better than 8 million persons at the present time. Even with unemployment low as it is, it is thought that some 3 million or more people will have received jobless payments in the course of 1966. When you also take into consideration the enormous number of federal, state, municipal, and industrial pensions now functioning, it is not surprising that consumer sales hold so well even when the stock market and international events advise "caution."

Space and Medicine Produce Heart Aid

Everett, Mass.—(HK)—What Adrian Kantowitz, the medical doctor, once said to his older brother, Arthur, the space scientist, may eventually save tens of thousands of lives.

No one is sure of the exact words that the younger brother used but in essence they may have gone like this: "Let's figure out a way to develop a 'heart booster' that will give permanent help to the failing heart."

As a result of this conversation, a mechanical auxiliary ventricle was developed by the medical-space team and used successfully to aid the failing heart of a 63-Louise Ceraso, who had been bed-ridden for more than six years.

Dr. Kantowitz, 47, director of Surgical Services at Maimonides Hospital, Brooklyn, New York, implanted the ventricle in the chest of Mrs. Ceraso at Maimonides Hospital. The woman, unfortunately, died 13 days later from causes unrelated to the heart. She suffered a stroke.

JOINT DEVELOPMENT

The mechanical auxiliary heart was developed jointly at Maimonides Hospital and the Avco Everett Research Laboratory in Everett.

The scientist brother, Dr. Arthur Kantowitz, 52, is director of the Avco Everett Research Laboratory, a division of Avco Corporation. He is noted for his work in high temperature gas dynamics, which brought to Avco Laboratory the major responsibility for solving re-entry problems for aerospace missiles and vehicles.

The medical half of the brother team is a pioneer in the field of bioelectronics—the use of electrical systems to replace impaired physiologic functions. He also was an early developer of an implantable cardiac pacemaker, which has now become a routine clinical tool in the treatment of certain heart conditions.

Dr. Arthur Kantowitz, faced with the problems posed by his geonic brother, assigned to the project a group of Avco scientists who had worked in the field of fluid dynamics. This knowledge was essential if the "heart pump" was to be successful, because the blood must be kept flowing through the artificial device without clotting or breaking down the blood cells.

Accelerated research on the ventricle began at Avco Everett in 1962, when a team of scientists which had been instrumental in solving the re-entry problems of intercontinental ballistic missiles went to work.

Heading the research was Robert P. Jones, who is credited with developing the theory for space wing aircraft, which made possible speeds in the area of Mach 1—more than 600 miles per hour.

Using aerospace skills, the "heart pump" was designed from a circuitry so sensitive that from all the hundreds of minute electrical signals the heart sends out, the device can select, and react to, the one that signals that the heart is contracting—the so-called "R-wave."

Keep Out of Rhodesia

It would be one of the great tragedies of these tragic times if outside intervention should occur in Rhodesia. Here is a country where both whites and blacks enjoy one of the highest standards of living in Africa. Here the qualifications for a black citizen to vote are exactly the same as for a white citizen, and an estimated 14,000 black citizens are on the "A" voting roll and 120,000 to 150,000 are on the "B" roll. With one person in six in schools in Rhodesia, there is every reason to expect a rapid increase in the number of native African citizens who can qualify to exercise the franchise.

The qualifications for voting in Rhodesia are very low.

1. One must earn at least $700 per month, or
2. One must have completed at least four years of common school education, or
3. One must hold a very minimum amount of property.

These qualifications apply equally to both whites and blacks. There is no discrimination. The number in school, one in six in this country, where Africans are said to be "oppressed," should be compared with the one in school in Ethiopia, where one out of each one hundred sixty-one is in school. (Incidentally, Ethiopia has never had a colonial relationship to a European country.) Other African countries have one in sixty, one in forty, one in twenty in school.

The Smith Government of Rhodesia has made, and is making, an extraordinary effort to bring education facilities within the grasp of all Rhodesian children. It is very significant that 650 African-Rhodesian chiefs are supporting the Smith Government, and that two-thirds or more of the police force and the army are native black Africans. It finds a surprisingly small amount of tension between the blacks and the whites in Rhodesia. Evidently they have found that it seems to be a far more satisfactory policy of living and working together than exists in their own country. We ought to learn from them, rather than assuming the right to dictate to them.

Military intervention in Rhodesia would set the country back generations, probably returning a large portion of it to the state and imposing upon the remainder a savage dictatorship. Those who would like to do something for the black citizens of Rhodesia would do well to join the growing chorus of voices protesting in Washington and in the United Nations against any outside intervention in that land.

Summer Auto Safety

The "good old summertime" brings delightful opportunities for freedom and play to children, but to drivers summer adds hazards. For safer summer driving, Sentry Insurance makes these recommendations:

Watch out for children playing on drives and in streets. Last year more than 300 children were struck and killed on their own driveways. In a split second a child running across a hall may become a liability statistic.

Drive slow in areas where children are at play. They're concentrating on games, not on traffic.

Don't let children play in the car. Lock doors, if necessary. When the car is parked, set the parking brake and put the gear in "Park" (or reverse, if your car has a standard shift). Never leave keys in the ignition when the car is not in gear.

Be getting into the car, check in front and back to make sure the path is clear of children and toys. Wear sunglasses while driving during the day, but never see sundown.

Don't be misled into thinking that roads are only a winter problem. Oily streets, during or after a rain, can be very slippery.

Drive defensively. During summer there are more accidents on the streets than any other season. Your being in the right won't keep you from having an accident. Expect the worst of other motorists. . . . anticipate trouble and you'll prevent it.

DEFENSIVE DRIVING

In the era of steadily increasing auto accidents with their consequent deaths and injuries, the safety experts have coined a new phrase to help us survive in traffic—"defensive driving." What is defensive driving? Basically, it is keeping full control of your car at all times, so that you can avoid an accident no matter what the other fellow does.

Some of the fundamentals of defensive driving are outlined in TODAY'S HEALTH, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

—Never "tailgate." This practice of following too closely the vehicle ahead has been found to be a common cause of accidents. Stay back one car length for each 10 miles of speed.

—When you have a driver tailgating you, slow down and encourage him to pass.

—Expect the driver ahead of you to brake without warning. Watch especially for situations which will cause him to slow down or stop.

—Stop smoothly and gradually when there is a vehicle behind you. Signal your intentions of stopping, slowing down or turning.

—Look to the left, look to the right when approaching an intersection. Never assume the other driver will yield the right-of-way, even if you have the green light.

—When in doubt, never pass.

Before you change lanes check your rearview mirror and glance to be sure your blind spot is clear. Use your turn signals when passing. Make certain someone behind you is not trying to pass you at the same time. When passing, sound horn or flick your lights to let the driver ahead know. Accelerate and pass quickly. Get back quickly after you can clearly see the car in your rearview mirror.

The expert driver follows some basic common-sense rules, TODAY'S HEALTH says.

—He keeps his eyes moving, thus avoiding eye-holding situations while his car moves blindly into an accident-producing situation.

—The expert takes in the whole picture. He trains himself to scan the entire driving scene for a full city block or a half mile on rural roads.

—The expert leaves an out for himself by maintaining a "space cushion" for maneuvering.

—The expert signals others his intentions early while he still has time and space to avoid them if they do not respond.

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. What kind of life insurance program would you recommend for my son, who is a young man of average means, just graduating from high school and planning to go on to college? I'd like to get him started on a program he could add to later on.

A. Your letter indicates that your son does not have any particular financial responsibilities right now. But life insurance bought at this stage of life will give him the advantage of the low premium rates available at younger ages.

As a general rule, the best all-around policy for a young man in your son's situation would be a straight life plan, providing life-long coverage at no increase in premiums as he gets older. It probably should include a "guaranteed insurability" provision, under which he could buy additional insurance later on at standard premium rates based on his age then, regardless of whether he was still insurable.

While your son's insurance needs may not be unusual or complex, there are certainly some individual factors to consider.

For example, you will likely have to meet heavy additional expenses during his college years. If his education depends on the continuation of your income, then perhaps your own insurance should be reexamined. It might even be wise to forego insuring your son right now in order to increase your own coverage.

A life insurance agent can give you more specific advice right now, as well as later on when insurance needs increase.

Q. I am 35 years old, married, with two young children. I earn $10,000 a year, have $20,000 group and $30,000 individual life insurance. Is that enough?

A. Experts in financial planning say that, as a general rule of thumb, families usually should have enough life insurance to cover at least four-to-five times their annual income. But this would not be nearly enough for some families. Other families might need less protection.

Parents Are Urged To Keep Children Away From Elevator

Parents who live in the vicinity of Mills Grain Company are asked to please keep their children away from the elevator. It is feared that a great tragedy might happen at any time to one or more little children. The management does its best to watch out for the safety of others, but there are many hours when there are no attendants on hand. Wednesday morning the outside man hoist (or elevator) was run to the top. Luckily no one was in the elevator.

On other days dozens of big trucks come in and out, loading and unloading. Attendants are alert for the safety of everyone, but their regular duties demand all their time.

School will begin in a few short weeks. Parents, please detour your children around the elevator to and from school. Traffic around our place is very heavy at times and we certainly do not want anyone injured.

Thank you. HARLIN MILLS GRAIN CO.

Fencing Adds Right Touché to House

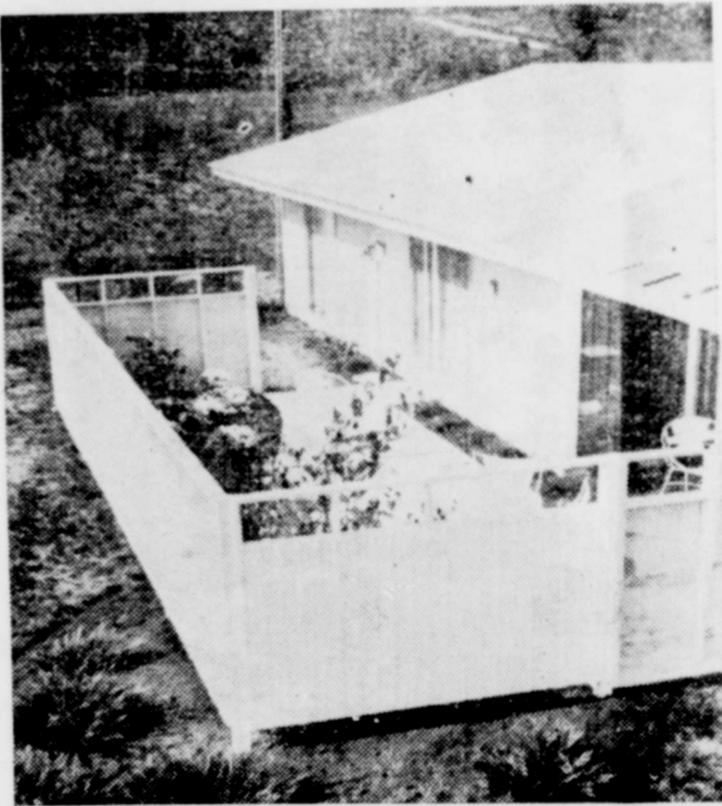

Fences do more than keep children and pets from wandering. They add a good deal to the finished appearance of a house, integrate it with the site and provide the desired degree of privacy.

Enclosing a patio or building a privacy fence is an easy do-it-yourself project for the home handyman.

To erect an attractive and serviceable fence, build a framework of 2 by 4 or 4 by 4 lumber that has been treated with wood preservative for protection against termites and moisture. Sink posts into concrete at eight-foot intervals and frame with treated 2 by 2 or 2 by 4 lumber.

Nail strips of tempered hardboard or 4-by-8-foot panels of hardboard exterior siding to the frame using rust-proof nails. The hardboard, which is engineered and tempered for strength, resists scuffing, cracks and dents. It also is moisture resistant to withstand the abuse of all weather conditions. Local building materials dealers offer a wide selection of tempered hardboard.

Since hardboard is lightweight, it can be handled by one man and is easily cut, shaped and drilled with ordinary carpentry tools. The absence of grains and knots lets it take paint or stain easily.

It's easy to enjoy outdoor privacy for sun bathing or entertaining, even in a new housing development with few shrubs and small sites. A privacy fence, such as this, can be erected around your patio with moisture-resistant tempered hardboard on a wooden frame.

For an unusual effect, paint rough hardboard finishes which the panels in alternating colors. has a deep-textured lap and Or choose one of the rugged, looks like hand-hewn wood.

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"

BY C. WILSON HARDER

It is doubtful that anyone, following a heated argument with the wife at the breakfast table, rushes out and throws rocks through the windows of all the houses down the block.

This would be considered as quite an unwarranted action, and would lead to some grave consequences. The judge would undoubtedly hold that your domestic problem is not one that is shared by the neighbors.

C. W. Harder

In essence, this explains the resolution before the Congress by Rep. Craig Hosmer of California which is supported by the nation's independent business proprietors by a majority of 72 per cent in a poll by the National Federation of Independent Business.

Congressman Hosmer's resolution would put the Congress on record as asserting that the right of society in general, and the individual in particular, has a right to protection of property and life that is paramount to all other rights.

Unless this basic right is reaffirmed, the Great Society could well turn into the Disastrous Society.

So far, mankind has found no substitute for law and order, and it has been the experience of history that whenever law and order breaks down, no matter how the reason for such infringement is rationalized, chaos and anarchy results.

One of the grave manifestations of the times is the reported fact that in the localities around Watts, Rochester, and other places where riots have occurred, there has been a phenomenal jump in the sale of firearms.

No one can blame any person for taking such precautions for protecting life and property. But it is quite significant, and not pleasantly so, that hundreds and perhaps thousands of people who would not normally have a gun in the house now feel it is essential.

Thus, the Great Society is transforming into the Shaky Society, where decent, law abiding citizens feel they can no longer depend on forces of law and order to protect them.

This is, without doubt, one of the most serious problems, if not the most serious, to ever face the American Republic.

In the storied old West, the principle of every man for himself was the law. One only has to visit the "Boot Hill" cemetery in Tucson, Arizona, where there was buried the losers in countless altercations, to note that justice depended on who could draw fastest and shoot the straightest.

It seems high time that the Congress recognize Congressman Hosmer's effort to establish that there are no excuses for violating law and order.

News From The County Agent

Fleahoppers, boll worms, and boll weevils are being found in cotton fields in the county. Farmers are urged to check their cotton weekly and spray when necessary. Cotton is fruiting and some fields are looking good in the county.

Inventory soils now for fertilizer needs, and plan the fall fertilization program, says county agent B. T. Haws.

A soil sample, properly taken, should be sent in for testing. Mid-summer is a good time to take that sample and learn the nutrients the land will need.

Fertilization recommendations will be no better than the soil sample taken, Haws adds. That is, a poorly taken sample can cause an inaccurate test. Consequently, fertilizer recommendations may be off.

For information on obtaining good soil samples, see your county agent, concludes Haws.

Range and pasture conditions that cause pounds of calf per acre to be average or lower include:

1. Pasturing poorly adapted or low-producing plants.
2. Overgrazing that has resulted in weak, low-producing plants and weed invasion.
3. Poor grazing management that may cause the same damage as overgrazing.
4. Invasion of trees, brush and weeds that shade grass and use available moisture.
5. Poor establishment practices that result in poor stands or growth.
6. Improper fertilization.
7. Lack of planning for ample grazing at all seasons.
8. Lack of adequate temporary pastures to rest or supplement permanent pastures in seasons of low productivity. 9. Lack of hay, silage or other feed to supplement pastures as needed.

Be not the first by whom the new are tried. Not yet the last to lay the old aside. — Alexander Pope.

this rent income, you can deduct depreciation not allowed when you are living in the house.

The deductible depreciation includes interest, taxes, insurance premiums, maintenance costs or repairs and any utilities if you pay for them. You also deduct the depreciation of furniture if the house is rented furnished.

These deductions are for only that portion of the year the house is rented out. For example, if you rented from June 15 to September 15, you could deduct one-quarter of your annual expenses and depreciation.

For a summer house, you can deduct the entire maintenance cost and depreciation, if it's strictly a summer house. If you use the summer house for part of the season, your expenses and depreciation are proportioned in the ratio of how much you use it in relation to the total summer season. Even if you do not itemize deductions, you can still take these expenses, because they are deductible from the rent that you report on the rent schedule. However, interest and taxes on your own residence can be deducted only by itemizing them.

Training for retired citizens is being planned by the Wichita County Home Improvement Committee for another year. This training will aid the retired citizen in qualifications for employment and adding enjoyment to retirement years. Mrs. John Jones is chairman of the committee.

How's your IQ when it comes to borrowing money? Here are ten money tips which may help you become more adept. They're suggested by Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent. The tips are from the National Association of Credit Unions:

1. First, no matter how good the interest rate sounds, find out what the credit or loan will actually cost you in money.

2. Before you sign any papers, make sure all the figures are entered correctly. Never leave any blank spaces to be filled in later.

3. Question all insurance charges. Find out what kind of insurance you are buying, and exactly what it covers. Many different insurance "load on" practices have been reported.

4. On installment purchases you may owe the payments to some other firm, not the dealer. Find out who it is, and if it is a reputable firm. If you have any doubts, check.

5. Read the note or contract to see what penalties are imposed for late payments. Some penalties are exorbitant.

6. See if there are any other extra charges specified in the note or contract. Don't skip the fine print or you may be sorry.

7. Read what is said about repossession in a time-payment contract. Do you get a fair notice before the item is repossessed? What repossession charges can be levied against you? This is important.

8. Understand clearly what security you are giving. On a purchase, find out if it includes other merchandise you have bought previously. Above all, look to see if the note or contract gives your creditor the right to collect your salary.

9. Make sure you do not sign away any of your legal rights or guarantees, such as the right to refuse merchandise that is not as promised.

10. See if there is a provision for a refund of interest or carrying charge if you complete the payments ahead of schedule.

IN WAR AS WELL AS PEACE

Southern Pine has served this nation well in war as well as peacetime.

One of the first and most famous uses was for masts and decks of the early fleet of fighting frigates.

The species successively served in the War of the American Revolution, the War of 1812, the War Between the States, the Spanish - American War, World Wars I and II, Korea — and now Viet Nam.

During World War II, an amazing 20 billion board feet of Southern Pine lumber moved to the armed forces. Timbers, heavy planking and decking went into the construction of ships, barges and PT boats. Dunnage requirements were enormous as was the demand for boxing and crating. Lumber built the landing craft and port facilities for invasion points and helped restore devastated areas.

It was also used for munition plants, barracks, ship repair, field hospitals and scores of other war necessities.

The Southern Pine Association coordinated the flow and received the top award of American Trade Association Executives for outstanding achievement by industry during the war years, 1943-44.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1966. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 1 proposing an Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of Texas by adding thereto a new Section 12; authorizing the Legislature to provide by law for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of Airport Authorities composed of one or more counties; authorizing the creation of a board of directors by appointment or election; providing that the membership of the board shall be based upon the proportionate part of the population of each county, with no county having less than one member; providing for the necessary election; authorizing the levy of an annual tax not to exceed Seventy-Five Cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation; provided, however, that the property of state regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets shall not be subject to taxation by the Authority; authorizing the Authority to employ or appoint an assessor and collector of taxes whose duty it shall be to assess and collect the taxes on the tax rolls approved by the Board of Directors of said Authority, said taxes to be assessed equally and uniformly throughout the county or counties, comprising the Authority, as required by the Constitution; granting to such Authority the power to acquire by purchase, or through eminent domain proceedings existing publicly financed airport properties or other sites necessary to have and to improve the same, power to issue and sell general obligation bonds and revenue bonds, or either of them; authorizing the assumption of outstanding indebtedness secured by general obligation bonds and assuming the obligations of the city or cities under ordinances which revenue bonds have been issued and sold; to enact zoning regulations and other measures to protect the airport facilities from hazards and obstructions; providing for the adding of an additional county or counties to the Authority.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 12, reading as follows:

"Section 12. The Legislature may by law provide for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of thereon vote in favor thereof; provided, however, that an Airport Authority may be created and be composed of the county or counties that vote in favor of its creation if separate propositions are submitted to the voters of each county so that they may vote for a two or more county Authority or a single county Authority; provide for the appointment by the Board of Directors of an Assessor and Collector of Taxes in the Authority, whether constituted of one or more counties, whose duty it shall be to assess all taxable property, both real and personal, and collect the taxes thereon, based upon the tax rolls approved by the Board of Directors, the tax to be levied not to exceed Seventy-Five Cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollars ($100) assessed valuation of the property, provided, however, that the property of state regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets shall not be subject to taxation by the Authority, said taxable property shall be assessed on a valuation not to exceed the market value and shall be equal and uniform throughout the Authority as is otherwise provided by the Constitution; the Legislature shall authorize the purchase or acquisition by the Authority of any existing airport facility publicly owned and financed and served by certificated airlines, in fee or of any interest therein, or to enter into any lease agreement therefor, upon such terms and conditions as may be mutually agreed to by the Authority and the owner of such facilities; or authorize the acquisition of same through the exercise of the power of eminent domain, and in the event of such acquisition, if there are any general obligation bonds that the owner of the publicly owned airport facility has outstanding, the same shall be fully assumed by the Authority and sufficient taxes levied by the Authority to discharge said outstanding indebtedness; and likewise any city or owner that has outstanding revenue bonds where the revenues of the airport have been pledged or said bonds constitute a lien against the airport facilities, the Authority shall assume and discharge all the obligations of the city under the ordinances and bond indentures under which said revenue bonds have been issued and sold. Any city which owns airport facilities not serving certificated airlines which are not purchased or acquired or taken over as herein provided by such Authority, shall have the power to operate the same under the existing laws or as the same may hereafter be amended. Any such Authority when created may be granted the power and authority to promulgate, adopt and enforce appropriate zoning regulations to protect the airport from hazards and obstructions which would interfere with the use of the airport and its facilities for landing and take-off; an additional county or counties may be added to an existing Authority if a petition of five per cent (5%) of the qualified taxpayer voters is filed with and an election is called by the Commissioners Court of the county or counties seeking admission to an Authority and the vote is favorable, then admission may be granted to such county or counties by the Board of Directors of the then existing Authority upon such terms and conditions as they may agree upon and evidenced by a resolution approved by two-thirds (2/3rds) of the then existing Board of Directors, provided, however, the county or counties that may be so added to the then existing Authority shall be given representation on the Board of Directors by adding additional directors in proportion to their population according to the last preceding Federal Census."

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the addition of Section 12 of Article IX of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to provide by law for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of Airport Authorities composed of one or more counties, and authorizing the levy of a tax not to exceed Seventy-Five Cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation of all taxable property within such Airport Authority except the property of state regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets, after approval of its voters."

"AGAINST the addition of Section 12 of Article IX of the Constitution, authorizing the Legislature to provide by law for the creation, establishment, maintenance and operation of Airport Authorities composed of one or more counties, and authorizing the levy of a tax not to exceed Seventy-Five Cents (75c) per One Hundred Dollars ($100) valuation of all taxable property within such Airport Authority except the property of state regulated common carriers required by law to pay a tax upon intangible assets, after approval of its voters."

Sec. 3. The Governor of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election, and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

HERBICIDES REPLACED CULTIVATION
At Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center, McGregor, cotton that was not cultivated yielded as high and higher than cotton cultivated twice. The A&M researchers are experimenting to see if cotton or other row crops will produce high yields—using herbicides instead of cultivation.

NEVER DOUBT THE APPEAL OF A HEEL.

Danny Fargo is an arrogant, independent male whose principal attraction to women is his indifference.

With a perpetual sneer on his thin lips, rudely selfish, Fargo is an individual who makes sense to television viewers across the country.

As portrayed by Anthony Ponzini in "Another World," televised in color on NBC-TV weekdays at 3:00-3:30 PM ET, Fargo is midway between the characters often portrayed by Humphrey Bogart and Richard Burton.

Certainly, he is a far cry from the melodrama romantic lead who meets the heroine by rescuing her from a team of runaway horses.

Danny Fargo meets Melissa Palmer, a runaway heiress in "Another World," after hitting her with an automobile!

Only after checking for other cars and possible witnesses does he go to the stricken girl.

When Missy, dazed but unhurt, hears Danny's voice for the first time through a semi-conscious mist, a new era in boy-meets-girl dialogue begins. "Look, I have enough trouble without some dame walking out right in front of my car just looking to be hit," he says.

If Fargo's wiles ensnared only Missy on "Another World," most viewers would ascribe his success to her youthful naivete. But, Fargo also entraps the affections of Flo, a more mature, warm hearted waitress, who has both eyes open for fakers but is hopelessly drawn to Danny.

Both Missy and Flo could be loved by men whose lives would be dedicated to their happiness. Neither Missy nor Flo could ever be loved by Danny Fargo. Maybe that's what makes him different.

Kitchen Decor Takes on Color

The bulky old refrigerator-freezer has gone the way of the icebox and the wood-burning stove. In its place is the high-style, streamlined refrigerator-freezer that has become a focal point of kitchen decor.

An indication of the modern refrigerator-freezer's increasing importance as an appliance that's decorative as well as practical is the styling emphasis shown in new models. In addition to wide color ranges, new refrigerator-freezers are available in a variety of exterior patterns and textures.

Some manufacturers, for instance, are featuring washable finishes that look like linen. Others are showing patterned front panels that come with matching wallpaper and duplicate panels for ranges and dishwashers. Some come with trimming kits that let you coordinate the refrigerator-freezer finish with kitchen cabinets or curtains.

Although white appliances still are the top sellers, the kitchen picture is getting more and more colorful. Most refrigerator-freezers are available in copper, turquoise, and a variety of beige tones from light sandy shades to deep warm wood-colors.

TIGER IN THE TANKER—The U.S.S. Navasota, oiler which has adopted Humble Oil & Refining Co. advertising slogan, "Put A Tiger in Your Tank," is showing her tiger flag during the refueling of a Navy fighting supporting the action in Viet Nam. According to the skipper, the flag, which was especially made for the ship by Humble, is flown during refueling operations "to the delight of our crew and the crews of the ships we see."

Former Residents Take England Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis, Yvonne Davis and Beverly Horton, a niece, have just returned from a three-week visit in England. They visited Ralph's brother and family in Hiram, Sussex, England. While there they toured Paris, France, Lucerne, Switzerland, Venice, Florence and Rome, Italy. They report the scenery was beautiful.

The Davises are former residents of Burkburnett. Ralph is now Assistant Superintendent of Business in the Wichita Falls School System. Mrs. Davis is Elementary Librarian in Fain Elementary School.

U. S. Census Bureau reports indicate that approximately 6,000 sawmills planing mills — nearly the nation's total — are concentrated in the South. The age output of Southern lumber, per mill, is more than doubled during the past seven years.

Mrs. Samuel F. Ferson, Bobby of Beaumont, spent several days visiting her parents, Mrs. B. H. Alexander, before returning home. Mrs. Ferson also visited her twin son, Glen S. McCurley, of Midland, Texas.
