BITS OF THIS-N-THAT

By BETTY BOYD

Congratulations to the winners in the recent elections.

The new anticancer treatment I mentioned last week, which apparently cured 9-year-old Frankie Hayes, of Dallas, has caused quite a stir among research scientists.

Called — L Asparaginase — (Whew!) —, the new drug is to be thoroughly tested.

What a great piece of news if it proves a permanent cure for, not only leukemia, but other types of this killer disease.

Do you suffer from broken sleep — waking in the middle of the night, unable to return to dreamland?

Here's a possible remedy used by Ben Franklin. He blamed twisted, uncomfortable bed covers for his problem, so he bought another bed. When his problem plagued him, he would climb into the sweet, cool, clean sheets of the other bed and soon would be asleep once more.

Just couldn't let anyone miss this, taken from Ann Landers — A mother wrote telling Ann about her son-in-law saying he was going to divorce her daughter for reasons of illness. She asked Miss Landers how this sounded to her. The reply: It sounds like he is sick of her. I'm still laughing!

Over 2 million people in the U.S. own poodles. I am one of them. Any others out there?

How many aches, pains and other unpleasant things does aspirin relieve? Here is a possible new one.

A test has shown that aspirin may protect us from sunburn. Researchers theorize it effects the skin-tissue enzymes. It is to be further tested.

Marvelous, common, uncommon aspirin!

If it is such a small world, why the continuing postal rate hikes?

Texas rates second to California only, as the state in which to retire, by Air Force men. Still tops!

Based on statistics from U.S. Department of Commerce, there are 108,200 persons in Texas, 2 out every 100, who are diabetic and unaware of it.

You are most apt to contact diabetes if you have relatives who have it, are overweight or over 40 — especially women. However, anyone may become diabetic.

There is no cure, but it can be controlled. A visit to a doctor on a simple test could prolong your life if you suspect you might be a diabetic.

U.S. law permits a man to make up to 200 gallons of wine per year — but he had better not try to sell it.

Another Texan was in the White House recently. A boy from Denison, selected from thousands, he is Boy of the Year, and got to shake the hand of the President.

A happy boy and a proud mother. (His father is deceased.)

The University of Wisconsin offers doctors an unusual program, called dial-a-program. Doctors anywhere may phone the school library to hear five minutes of tape on a specific problem.

Requested most is one called "Marriage On The Rocks." Others of the 88 tapes, prepared by the faculty, are treatment of bee stings, pregnancies with negative RH factors and treatment of a charley horse.

The phone bill is the only fee. If your doctor hasn't the cure for you, perhaps the U of W has it.

LAUGH, IT'S GOOD FOR YOU:

Spagetti Supper Set For Thursday

The Wichita County Farm Bureau will hold a spaghetti supper Thursday, April 13th at the Iowa Park High School Cafeteria beginning at 6:30 p.m. for Farm Bureau members and their families. Membership in the farm organization includes the entire family and all are invited to be the guests of the local Farm Bureau for the supper.

Carl Moeller, Ed Foster, Jr., and Carl Barnhill are in charge of the meal arrangements.

Following the supper the Iowa Park High School girls' sextet will render several numbers under the direction of Miss Joan Graves, choir director.

Mr. W. C. Wedemeyer, director of Research and Promotion for Texas Farm Bureau, will be the speaker. Mr. Wedemeyer has been head of the Research and Promotion Department since 1957 and is an outstanding analyst of the current farm situation and will speak on new proposed farm program as introduced in Congress as well as current legislative issues before the Texas legislature.

J. W. Tole, president of the local organization, urges every Farm Bureau family to be present for the evening's activities.

Youth Center Auction Total Nearly $1000

An auction of assorted articles, donated by citizens of Burkburnett, raised approximately $1,000 to aid in financing the remodeling of the Youth Center.

The many people who gave donations and organizations who contributed to this worthy effort included: Mr. Gene Robertson, who donated the use of his building in which to hold the sale; Mr. J. R. Ray and associates, auctioneers, who conducted the auction gratis; the Burkburnett Jaycees, who gave of their time to pick up the articles for sale and the women's clubs which gave their assistance.

The Youth Eoard and Mr. A. R. Hill, chairman of the Youth Committee of the Community Council wish to express their most sincere appreciation.

Jaycees Host Foreign Students

The world is getting smaller. Burkburnett now has citizens—honorary—from Thailand, Korea and Ethiopia.

The Burkburnett Jaycees hosted four foreign students from Sheppard AFB at their last Tuesday meeting, in the National Room of the First National Bank, President Adrean Dunn presided.

He introduced Mayor C. J. Lippard who welcomed the students and presented each with a certificate proclaiming them honorary citizens of Burkburnett.

"Now that you're Texans, you may legally go buy cowboy boots and ten gallon hats," he said.

MSgt. W. S. Tarkington, Ret. Administrative Supervisor of the Foreign Training Command Office at SAFE, gave a short talk about the program for showing these foreign friends how Americans live, work and play, which is his main job.

This program originated shortly after the end of WWII and is followed throughout the Training Command.

In their countries, the students volunteer to come to the states to attend AF schools. The ones selected are required to have a good command of the English language, good character, and other attributes of a gentleman. It is sometimes more than a year before they actually leave to come to the U.S.

To date, Tarkington has taken them to visit a court house, where they met and talked to a judge; a TV station, at which time they were taped in color and shown the results; a newspaper plant, to illustrate the way of our press; a radio station; and to see some of the local terrain, which amazed them because of its flatness.

Tarkington said that he is arranging for them to visit a ranch and learn how it operates; a zoo; an industry, to acquaint them with our economy and system of free enterprise; schools, so that they may compare ours to theirs; and the Red Cross.

There are 30 foreign men at SAFB, he said, from 20 nations. Recently, 11 students from Iran graduated as honor roll members.

The students honored at the Jaycee meeting were: AIC Snoh Chaloy, Thailand; SSGT. Dima Daba, Ethiopia; Capt. Ho Jae Lee and 1st Lt. E. Chol Lee, both of Korea.

Other guests were Joe Salter, past President of C of C; and Jack Aaron, President of the Burkburnett Bank.

Northwest Texas Council Plans Two Scout-O-Ramas For 1967

This year the Northwest Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America will be having two Scout-O-Ramas. The first show will be held in Vernon, April 28th and 29th at the National Guard Armory. The second show will be held in Wichita Falls, May 5th and 6th at the 4-H Barn on Hampstead Lane. Units all over the Council will have the opportunity to take part in one or both of the shows if they wish.

Tickets for the shows go on sale March 24th at 5:00 P.M., and units all across the Council will be selling tickets to the Scout-O-Rama. The cost of the tickets is fifty cents.

The theme for this year's Scout-O-Rama is "Scouting Rounds A Guy Out," which is the Nationwide theme of the Boy Scout Program for 1967. This theme has been chosen because of the far reaching nature of the Scouting movement and the wide areas of interest of Scouts all over the nation.

What is Scout-O-Rama? Scout-O-Rama is a show put on by scouts and dedicated to Scouting's goal of more Scouts, better programs, and more and improved camps and camping.

Scouting can and does put on the best show in town! We have unlimited potential in program, manpower, and showmanship. We feature the most appealing of all subjects—boys—forty-seven hundred of them. We have the largest and best group of actors in town, all complete with costumes—Cub Scout, Eoy Scout, and Explorer uniforms set a stage that even Barnum and Bailey couldn't afford.

Why Have A Scout-O-Rama? There are two main reasons for having a Scout-O-Rama.

1. To point out to citizens of our council area just what we are doing, mainly, to sell Scouting, for what it is.
2. It is an effort on the part of boys to help themselves by providing money so our council can have the finest camping facilities possible.

Theme is "Scouting Rounds A Guy Out" country, but there has been no finer activity than the current program.

There is no question that Scouting and its special emphasis on heritage makes a constructive difference in the life of a boy. A good Scout is able to explain to anyone what he believes his heritage to be, who created it, who preserved it, who defends it, and how.

It is the responsibility of every true American personally to understand and maintain the American way of life, to honor it by his own exemplary conduct, and to pass it intact to succeeding generations.

Over 4,700 Scouts in the Northwest Texas Council are working in an active way to Strengthen American Heritage.

Instructor Chosen For March At Sheppard Base

T/SGT. McCULLOUGH

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — The Instructor for the Month for the Medical Service School was recognized recently by Colonel Geoffrey P. Wiedeman, School Commander, during the Dining In at Sheppard Air Force Base. Colonel Wiedeman named T Sgt. Samuel J. McCullough as the Instructor for March.

Sergeant McCullough, an instructor in the Medical Administrative Specialist Course, was selected on the basis of his inward drive, self motivation, desire to teach, and his vast knowledge of his career field, according to his letter of recommendation.

A graduate of Handley High School in Roanoke, Ala., Sergeant McCullough received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Business Administration from Troy State College, Troy, Ala., while on "Operation Boot-strap." While at the college, he was on the Dean's list for maintaining a high academic standing.

The sergeant and his wife, the former Miss Joyce Brown, have one child, Joy.

ANOTHER BIG HEADACHE

CREATING MORE PROBLEMS

The proposed "Air Quality Act of 1967" (S-780), by Senator Muskie (D-Me.), and twenty other anti-pollution bills now pending in Congress, would create more problems than they would solve and would not assure any appreciable results.

The Muskie bill would give sweeping powers to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to establish nationwide pollutant emission standards for various industries. It would set up regional air quality commissions, which could establish regional standards; issue cease and desist orders; subpoena witnesses and records; inspect manufacturing plants, processes and records without safeguards as to confidentiality; and impose civil penalties of $1,000 per day for refusal to obey cease and desist orders.

This "on the scene" enforcement of air emission standards would require the services of untold thousands of federal inspectors, plus a tremendous legal and technical staff.

And the fact that the Secretary could exempt any industry or establishment for the purpose of research, investigation, studies, demonstration, or training, or for reasons of national security, could very well lead to punitive enforcement at one plant while others were bypassed.

The proposal seeks out only one source of emission for further regulations; it does not include other substantial buildings, incinerators and trash fires whether in the backyard or at the local dump.

There is ample federal legislation already on the books to protect the public, without adding to the complications. What really is needed is cooperation at the regional and local level to solve the problem — free from a federal snoop force.

ADVANCING TO THE REAR

According to U. S. News and World Report, a wide array of businesses and their employees are now feeling the effects of the new minimum wage law. Under the new law, the minimum wage level rose on February 1 to $1.40 an hour from $1.25 and is scheduled to go to $1.60 next year. Results of a survey by U. S. News show that the latest changes in the minimum wage are speeding mechanization and resulting in layoffs, mostly among unskilled or least productive workers. Another publication, the Los Angeles Times, reports: "President Johnson is expected to announce soon a crash program in poverty areas of big cities."

Thus, we have one branch of government legislating jobs out of existence and undermining taxpaying private enterprise, while another branch of government pours out taxfunds to create jobs in its war on poverty.

"It is an age-old Washington and bureaucratic axiom," says Senator Wallace F. Bennett of Utah, "that there is nothing quite so permanent as a 'temporary' government program."

AMERICA'S LEADERS . . . by Thompson

LEON N. WEINER, new President of the National Association of Home Builders, has been a leader in devising new approaches to community development and instrumental in NAHB's progress in educating builders, developers, and local government officials throughout the nation on the latest concepts of land use and development.

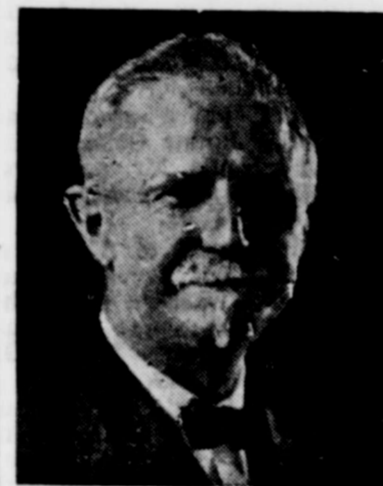

A THIRD GENERATION HOME BUILDER, Mr. Weiner has been active in urban renewal projects and a leader in the recent movement to Keep America Beautiful.

ONE OF HIS OUTSTANDING RECENT PROJECTS is Compton Park Square, a 34-unit townhouse development in an urban renewal area in downtown Wilmington, Delaware.

IN A KEYNOTE MESSAGE, the NAHB's Leon Weiner stated: "The industry pledges itself to utilize new and advanced technological building techniques, the better building materials which are coming on the market, and the refined land planning program to the end that it will deliver the best possible environment for better living."

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

Babson's Point Of View On— MINERALS UNDER THE SEA

Babson Park, Mass. — Once the Vietnam War is out of the way, hopefully Uncle Sam will turn his time, attention, and money toward more effective development and use of our natural resources. These include the land itself and its produce, the minerals under the land . . . and also the minerals under the sea.

Matter Of Self-Preservation

We have set many records in the field of agricultural production and have built up a promising chemurgic industry. Yet there is so much more we need to do to make our land still more fruitful and to use our agricultural wastes to better advantage. We possess vast mineral resources. Yet there is a great deal more we could do by way of research, development and extraction.

Still we have at least been aware of the potential of our land and mineral resources. By comparison, we have sadly neglected the mineral wealth that lies at the doorstep of our long coastal borders. The small beginnings made by us so far in this field must be greatly expanded—and soon—for the economic pressures of the coming years will be greater than those we are now encountering and we shall need our ocean wealth to keep us a strong and self-reliant nation.

Future of Oceanography

As we look back over the two decades that have passed since the end of World War I, we can see the many changes that have occurred in our everyday life. Our nation has become more highly industrialized. Our metals and chemicals industries have expanded far beyond our expectations. Vast markets have opened up as new uses have been found for traditional raw materials and as new materials have been introduced.

There is a very good chance that a breakthrough resulting from oceanographic studies and explorations will open up a marine minerals industry of huge potential. Within the next ten or fifteen years, we may well have a government-sponsored National Oceanographic Agency to rival the National Aeronautics & Space Agency. Before the year 2000, we could be extracting from our offshore areas commercially valuable deposits of minerals, including precious metals.

Deep-Sea Floor Studies

First, we must prepare to penetrate the secrets of the sea. Steps are already being taken on both the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts of continental U. S., and in Hawaii. In the New York area, local capital is financing the construction and the ultimate voyage of a deep submergence vessel in which Swiss oceanographer, Dr. Jacques Piccard, will make a six-week, 1,500-mile observation journey beneath the Gulf Stream. Dr. Piccard plans to submerge to a depth of about 300 feet off the Miami coast, drifting with the current to Nova Scotia and descending to depths of as much as 2000 feet.

In California, a somewhat similar project is under way, sponsored jointly by a Bureau of Mines Marine Technology Center and the Coast and Geodetic Survey. There the emphasis will be more on exploring and mapping the continental

By Mary Whitman

Four and five year olds have their own ways. The young go-go set likes action. Stories that move — in which they can join — appeal to them. So when Daphne Hogstrom was doing volunteer reading to kindergarteners she relied on pantomime plays. When the children were urged to act out a plot — stamping, clapping, even with arm and finger movements — their attention was held.

The result of her work is Little Boy Blue, illustrated by Alice Schlesinger, a book with verses old and new and pictures of motions to go with them.

Daphne herself, who has written other books, finds that children like to imitate sound effects too — bells, fire-trucks, storms, trains. She does her best writing in the sunshine in her Pennsylvania garden while her own two growing youngsters and their playmates whoop it up in a portable pool. Like many writers of children's books, she'd "like to live in a house in a dell with flowers and streams," but settles for one on a school bus route.

The verse-play book is part of a new series, Small World Library books, written especially for 4-to-5-year-olds for Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wis. The new books, done by many writers and checked with psychologists and educators, speak to preschoolers about things they know. Who Are You is about a child's individuality. The Magic Friend-Maker is about meeting new people. There is This Room Is Mine, about how to share space, and there are more. Children like the just-for-them stories. Parents will find the books just right for fledglings who are about to hatch out into a bigger world.

shelf with a view to minerals exploitation, while Dr. Piccard's journey will perhaps concentrate more on observing marine life.

Economic Prospects

Of course, we know so little about the sea and her secrets that there are bound to be disappointments and setbacks in the effort to discover the extent of the ocean's wealth and how best to extract it.

Right now any minerals taken from the sea would be costly to haul up and to transport to refineries and ultimate markets. But one day we shall learn to make them truly competitive with land minerals. In the process we shall also learn a great deal about marine life and its vital potential as food for man.

Scout-A-Rama Tickets On Sale By Local Boys

April is the month for the annual Scout-A-Rama ticket sales and usually a rain which we have not had this year. The show is to be held in May at the 4-H Barn on Hampstead Lane and every unit will set up a booth with a display or some groups make things to give away.

The cost of a ticket is 50c and the unit that sells it gets to keep 15c and the remainder is for the rent of the building, lights, water etc. No one makes money at this show and there is competition for the best display with a blue ribbon for the highest award.

Throughout April the tickets will be sold and since there are more Scouts in Burkburnett than ever before, you will see them everywhere. Two Mystery Houses have been selected in our town and the lucky boy who finds this will get a free dinner at Underwood's and a chance at the drawing of these prizes: bicycle, camera, radio, scout uniform, rod and reel, savings bond, bed roll, watch, compass and a mystery gift. Small wonder if Scouts are seen in the residential area selling tickets.

The aim of the program is to provide finances, interest the public in the skills of Scouting, and to point out to citizens what the Scout program is doing for the boys in our area. It will make the public aware of what an asset a Scout is to the community.

If you have a ticket, plan on using it and see a show that is boy made. Many hours go into the fabrication of the booths and preparation of material and every scout is justifiably proud of being a scout. If you need a ticket, ask the first boy you see, he may have one.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. I hear that Americans have individually been putting a lot more money into annuities other than pension plans. Is this true — and, if so, how do you explain it?

A. It's true. A big milestone was reached during 1965 when — for the first time in a single year — families put more than a half billion dollars into individual annuities with the nation's life insurance companies. A record total of $548 million was invested in these income plans during the year, mainly by older people seeking guaranteed financial security. This total ran $103 million or 23 per cent higher than in 1964 — by far the largest dollar increase in history.

The yearly income payable to holders of individual annuities reached $669 million at the end of 1965, or about $65 million more than at the end of 1964 — also by far the largest increase in any year.

While some of these annuities are purchased for employees under insured pension plans, most are bought by individuals to guarantee themselves a life-long income.

An executive of one of the largest life companies says the sharp increase was part of "a nationwide awakening to the problems of retirement."

Another leading spokesman says, "Americans are becoming more aware of the practical value and peace-of-mind offered by fixed-dollar investments."

They also point out that, despite some increases in longevity among older people in recent decades, higher yields on life companies' investments have made it possible for many companies to reduce the cost of their annuities.

The Cruel Illusion

RUNNING like a scarlet thread through the comment of many sincere people who would like to improve the hard lot of the poor, is the basic assumption, often eloquently expressed in words, that this can be done by gaining and using political power. This is the assumption behind the "black power" movement in our country. It is the rallying cry that has forced the writing of much harmful legislation on our statute books.

Does any competent observer who has some knowledge of history believe that economic and social gains can be achieved by the exercise of political powers? People who were obsessed with this type of thinking gained control of Saskatchewan, Canada, from 1944 to 1964, with the result that stagnation and hard times plagued that province far more severely than in the neighboring provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba. Industrial activity declined, new businesses were not organized, many were discontinued, and there was a general exit of industrial and professional leadership. No doubt many Cubans thought that by gaining political power under the leadership of Fidel Castro, they could solve the economic problems of their country. They have been much hungrier and more deprived ever since they realized their dream.

The hard facts are that economic and social gains cannot be achieved by the coercive exercise of the power of government. That's why the people in all communist lands are short of food, housing, clothing and many of the amenities that most of the poorest people in our country enjoy. The fact of the matter is that far more will be achieved toward relieving poverty and raising the standard of living for our poor people by seeking to help them become more productive.

If we wish to be free, we must stick to the system of rewarding men in proportion to their contribution to the wealth of our country. If one is not earning enough to live comfortably, he should strive to improve his skills and increase his output. That is the sure way to bring him the goods and services he needs and wants. That may appear to be a slow, hard way, but experience shows that it will work. Likewise, experience shows that the political power method which might seem to be faster, is a cruel illusion. Instead of improving the lot of our needy people, it will further impoverish them.

We need an all-out good will effort to help our lower paid workers increase their knowledge and their skills. That may not be spectacular, and it does not greatly arouse emotions, but it will produce the desired results.

Reindeer and caribou are the only members of the deer family in which both sexes have horns.

Wall Panels Safeguard Play Room

Children's rooms take a lot of punishment, and an ounce of prevention at the time of planning is worth a pound of cure later on.

If your remodeling plans include the youngsters' bedroom or playroom, be sure to use materials that can withstand the hard abuse they're certain to get. It will save you time, work and money for years to come.

Walls in children's rooms generally take the worst beating. They get scuffed and scratched, rammed with wagons and tricycles, and collect an assortment of stains and grubby finger marks. The best defense is a tough wall covering such as factory-finished hardboard paneling.

Hardboard resists mars and dents, so it can take the daily onslaught of energetic youngsters without showing the strain. You can even damp-wipe hardboard panels clean of finger prints, grime, even pencil and crayon marks.

The panels — prefinished, plastic-surfaced or ready to paint — are easily installed over studs or furring strips. Prefinished and color-matched metal or wood moldings and matching putty and nails give the job a professionally-finished look.

To prevent the whole house from being turned into toyland, create a "working storage wall" of perforated hardboard to hold toys and clothes. The perforations accept hooks and brackets from which the children can hang everything from cowboy hats to a model of the latest Atlas rocket. You can even get perforated hardboard prefinished to match the other hardboard walls.

Another storage idea is to use perforated hardboard in children's closets.

Huge fortunes are being made every day in the music business by newly-discovered songwriters. Here, at last, is a truly valuable book that reveals step-by-step how you can become wealthy even if you have never written a song and have no musical training.

How To Make A Fortune Writing Songs

How 1 song can earn $30,000 and more • Why a music education is not needed • Auditions by mail • The 5 approaches to songwriting • Advice from top writers • No special training • How much money you can earn • Song construction • Pop, rhythm and blues, country and western • Lyrics, rhyme and melody • "The Nashville System" — Why it is not necessary that you read music • Submitting your song to a publisher • Getting the songs recorded — The "Doo" and "Doo's" • All about copyrights • Songwriter contracts • Avoid the song shark • Demo records • How to reach the artist, the record companies, the publishers • Advance payments • How you get paid • Should you join BMI, ASCAP, or SESAC • Mechanical and performance royalties • Building a catalog • The tape recorder • Using your natural talent • Case histories of successful writers . . . and much more!

USING YOUR NATURAL TALENT

"How To Make A Fortune Writing Songs" is a book that could change your life and show you the road to financial success and happiness. In the next 60 seconds I will tell you the most important step — the step you must take — to open the door to songwriting success.

Every day, hundreds of people from all walks of life are making thousands of dollars by writing songs. Only a few years ago, a young man with practically no musical education was a bellhop just barely making a living in Nashville, Tennessee. Today, that former bellhop is a wealthy young man because he used his natural talent to succeed as a songwriter.

Housewives, drivers, lawyers, factory workers, students, salesmen, laborers, teachers, secretaries, clerks and people from virtually every imaginable situation have reaped fantastic rewards for their songwriting efforts. They had no special training and most had no musical education. They simply used their natural talent. Here, at last, is a highly valuable book that reveals step-by-step the secrets of earning big money as a songwriter.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKING

Just about everyone at one time or another has written a song. Maybe it was while singing in the shower, or while washing the dishes, or driving the car. Perhaps after realizing that we just made up a song of our own we said to ourselves, "Hey, that's pretty good . . . I ought to do this for a living." Probably then you did nothing more about it.

Strangely enough, that song might have been worth a fortune to you in money, and a fortune in contentment knowing you are doing the work you always dreamed of doing, but you thought it was for other "special" people. The "special" people, however, are not special at all. They are just people like you and your neighbor, and your neighbor. The only thing special about songwriters is that they do something about the songs that they write. They applied their ability, and you let it pass. It might surprise you that some of the top professional songwriters get their ideas for songs while singing in the shower, washing the dishes, or driving the car. Professional songwriters then are not special other than the fact that they do not let opportunities go by. They say that Opportunity knocks only once. This is not true in songwriting. It knocks many times. Every time we think of a title, a melody, a catch phrase, an idea . . . this is opportunity knocking.

Medical School Transfer To SAFB Is Completed

Sheppard AFB — The transfer of the Medical Service School to Sheppard Air Force Base was concluded Friday, as that day marks the end of the MSS rear echelon operations at Gunter AFB, Ala.

First advance elements of the school arrived at Sheppard Technical Training Center in March, 1966 to begin its transfer from Gunter where it had been in operation since September, 1950. The last class of medical laboratory technicians was graduated there Feb. 2, 1967.

Col. Geoffrey P. Wiedeman, Medical Service School commander, and 5 other officers and noncommissioned officers who have played unique roles in its history will fly to Gunter Friday. Air Force Communication Medals will be presented to Col. Rupert S. Lewis, commander of rear echelon personnel, and to two members of his staff who are retiring from military service.

Colonel Lewis will remain at Gunter in the office of the 14th Air Force surgeon. Retirement orders will be read for Capt. L. J. Morton, director of rear echelon personnel and Chief Warrant officer R. W. Walker, the colonel's administrative assistant.

Following the awards and retirement ceremonies, Colonel Wiedeman will pay his respects to Lt. Gen. J. W. Carpenter III, commandant of Air University.

Accompanying Colonel Wiedeman to Gunter will be Lt. Col. D. E. Callaghan, Chief of Evaluations Division, MSS; Lt. Col. Mary A. Goddard, chief, Department of Nursing; Maj. E. J. McBride, assistant to the commander; Capt. H. L. Blair, instructor, Basic Officer Course; Capt. H. E. Herrod, Training Division, Military Medicine; CMSgt. R. N. Area Man Donates His Airplane For Handicapped Children's Cause

TEMPLE, Okla. (Special) — The dreams of a few Cotton county residents may be given a big boost toward reality within the next several weeks if the efforts of one of these citizens bears fruit.

The dream is that an eight-county area of southern Oklahoma may have a sheltered workshop for mentally and physically handicapped children. The dream started more than a decade ago with the housing of a special education class in the Temple high school. These limited facilities were improved when the Walters school system offered a modern classroom capable of training ten children per year. The three school districts in the county, Walters, Temple and Big Pasture, finance the special class.

The Cotton County Retarded Children's Association has supplied needed materials for the class, while county civil groups have donated funds for audio-visual aids, making the classroom facilities among the best in the state for teaching the mentally retarded.

But children do grow older, and as they do, they pass the maximum age for attending these special education classes in Oklahoma. Interested people of the county saw a need for further training of the handicapped, and through the efforts of a few, a building for a proposed sheltered workshop was purchased in Walters a few weeks ago, bringing the project, at first thought to be an unattainable dream, a little closer.

With this obstacle hurdled, another big problem faces this determined group—that of obtaining fixtures and equipment for the workshop, set up to aid the handicapped of Jefferson, Stephens, Cotton, Comanche, Caddo, Tillman and Harmon counties in Oklahoma, and Wichita Falls and Burkburnett in Texas.

All this requires money, and this is what Eddie Laxton, Temple, is attempting to provide.

Laxton, an electronics instructor at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., has always loved working with children. He is a former school teacher, teaches a Sunday school class, and has worked with various youth groups of the area, including the Boy Scouts. Eddie has always had a soft spot in his huge heart for the handicapped, possibly because he is the father of a retarded child.

Laxton, past president of the county retarded children's association, and now secretary of the group, has racked his brain since the inception of the county association, for a plan to raise the necessary funds to help get the eight county workshop underway.

"We have had food sales, rummage sales, etc.," Laxton says, "and they have raised some money, but not fast enough. These kids need help now."

Some weeks ago, an idea which he had kicked around for sometime, jelled, and the generous man believes it may give the handicapped children a big boost.

Laxton has decided to donate his airplane to the cause.

Having been a pilot for years, flying is second nature to Eddie. If there is anything he had rather do than work with children, it would be flying. Many a child has been whirled through southern Oklahoma skies by Laxton. Giving up his airplane, lovingly called "The Kittyhawk," is like a boy parting with his dog, but Eddie is going to do it anyway.

At first Laxton thought to sell the trim craft, a Taylorcraft EC12-65, and donate the money to the workshop. But that would add only $1200 to the funds, and the project will require many times that amount.

Then came the thought that probably many people all over the state might like to help the handicapped and at the same time get a chance to get something in return for their money. So during the past few weeks Laxton has contacted many organizations throughout the area, and almost without fail they have offered to solicit one-dollar donations, on a commission basis for the workshop fund. For each one-dollar donation, a numbered coupon, will be issued, entitling the holder to a chance of becoming the proud owner of an airplane.

Of course, there is a chance that the holder of the winning coupon might not want an airplane. Laxton has made a provision for this. The winner will be given a choice of the airplane, a Zenta color television set, or $500 cash. W. O. Teakell, proprietor of the Wester Auto Store, Walters, will furnish the TV at his cost, should that be the winner's choice. Teakell is a staunch backer of the handicapped movement, being handicapped by poor vision.

These demonstrators are planning and developing home improvements for their individual homes.

The beauty and durability of rugs and carpets depend on their basic structure and regular care, explains Thelma Wirges.

Dirt is the greatest enemy of rugs and carpets. Fortunately, most of it can be removed by home methods as long as it remains on or near the surface. However, when the dirt has worked down into the pile, professional carpet cleaners are necessary.

A daily once-over lightly with the vacuum cleaner, using around three strokes over each area, will remove loose dirt, lint, and litter. Thorough vacuuming at least once (preferably twice) a week not only brushes and freshens carpets and rugs, but prevents the dirt from sifting into the pile. When dirt filters down, it chops and cuts the pile and backing. Seven strokes over each area should prevent this, Miss Wirges says. You cannot over vacuum your carpets, she adds.

Even though the vacuum cleaner is used regularly, the surface of carpets and rugs often becomes soiled and dull. Two methods of cleaning help to correct this condition, but even these cannot replace professional cleaning at regular intervals.

Dry cleaning is the use of solvent-saturated, inert material sprinkled liberally over a large area and brushed in slightly. Directions should be carefully followed. Avoid letting the cleaner get down to the backing if it is made of latex because solvents degrade rubber.

Wet cleaning is suitable for all carpets and rugs. A non-alkaline synthetic detergent with water is a safe cleaning solution. It should be applied sparingly with a sponge or cloth, wetting only the surface with a gentle motion. Then remove as much of the solution as possible with a shampoo machine, cloth, or sponge rinsed in clear water. Always allow the carpet to dry quickly. Too frequently the over use of the solution may cause more rapid soiling since carpets cannot be rinsed thoroughly on the floor.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL-BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

"Scam" is a term used in the P. T. Barnum "carny" world, best defined as fleecing the public, or in Barnum's own words, "There's a sucker born every minute."

But then, the patron of a show of excitement, or a game of chance knows, if he possesses normal intelligence and sophistication, that his prospects of winning aren't very high.

The new "Scam" operators, however, pursue their "congame" as legitimate business. C. W. Harder and are responsible for having bilked honest American business of some $60 million so far.

Behind these "con" operators lurks the familiar shadow of the Cosa Nostra, known as the syndicate, and Mafia.

The Wall St. Journal recently ran a revealing expose of these "fraudulent failures" who are milking smaller areas as well as the country's metropolitan capitals. These "Scam" operators move innocently into an area, open a seemingly legit business, and proceed to request credit for all they are worth. The merchandise thus obtained is sold fast on a strictly cash basis, or in some cases secreted away to other locations. Soon, the inevitable bankruptcy is declared, and, of course, the creditors hardly know what hit them.

How are such shady operators able to obtain such extensive credit?

A case in point occurred in the West where a group of operators bought control of an unpretentious furniture retail store, and proceeded to order appliances and furniture totaling $125,000 on the previous owner's credit, acting as agents for the former owner.

In a particularly brazen case of fraud, the Wall St. Journal tells of another group of operators who bought out the capital stock of a lumber firm for a small amount, and began purchasing in small amounts and paying cash. Then came "D" day: on Saturday the operators ordered $12,000 worth of door units from a wholesaler. Although a credit check was run on the store the following Monday, the operators called the wholesaler at daybreak demanding immediate need for the lumber, and sent the store van over to the lumber yard to pick-up the goods. About half the ordered doors were loaded onto the truck.

The Better Business Bureau offers advice on spotting "scam" operators. Beware of any sudden acceleration of orders from little-known operations demanding immediate delivery. This may signal that the firm is not legit, and is attempting to rush the supplier into settling for a superficial credit check so as to grab the goods and run.

Prosecution is difficult, as the Syndicate operates as many legitimate businesses as illegal and tracing the "black hand" is difficult. And in the case of the immediate proprietors filing bankruptcy, it is difficult to pin the goods on them unless violation of Federal bankruptcy laws can be proven on basis of fraud perpetration.

MISS CHERRY KOLTER BECOMES BRIDE OF DR. SANFORD GLAZER

Miss Cherry Lynne Kolter became the bride of Dr. Sanford Allen Glazer in Philadelphia, Pa. in vows exchanged at the Naval Base Chapel last Sunday evening. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Kolter of Wichita Falls, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Louis A. Glazer, Lima, Ohio. Mrs. Glazer is a Lieutenant Commander in the Medical Service Corps, U. S. Navy, and Dr. Glazer is a Lieutenant Commander, Dental Corps, U. S. Navy. Rabbi Herbert M. Yarish of Cherry Hill, N. J. performed the ceremony.

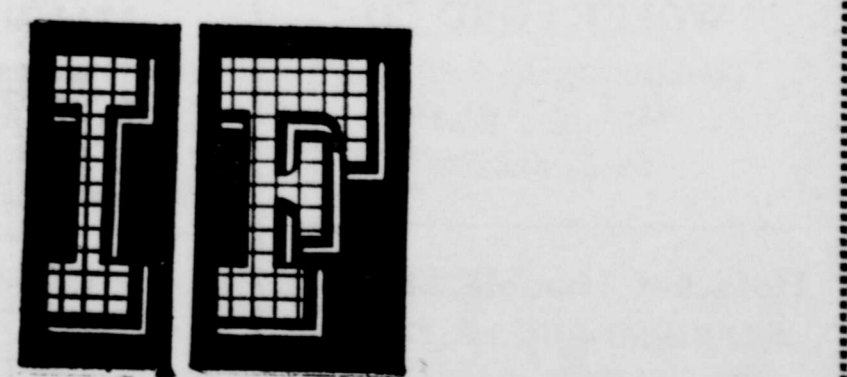

Those attending were: Mmes. Cordie Lawrence, Mary Cecil, W. J. Bingham, R. L. Gragg, Vernon Kemp, Jim Lawley, George Bellamy, Thelma Bridwell, Bertha Lynch and the hostess, Mrs. F. F. Turner. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Thelma Eridwell. Mrs. Bertha Lynch will be in charge of the program.

The chapel decorations were two large vases of white gladioli banked by brass candelabra with white tapers. Mrs. Emma Eutler provided wedding music. The bride wore a formal gown of white silk re-embroidered galloon lace over tangerine taffeta with a white peau de soie coat. The coat was open from the waist and extended into a full chapel train. Her headpiece was a white illusion and lace snood held by a white pearl and lace-trimmed satin A-frame. She carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and baby's breath.

Li. Anne H. Baumhofer of San Diego, Calif. was maid of honor. She wore a tangerine silk gown of re-embroidered galloon lace over tangerine taffeta and carried orange Talisman roses and elegance. Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Kevoorkian and LCDr. Jane Hincney of Great Lakes, Ill., and LCDr. Jean Heath of New York. They were dressed identically to the maid of honor.

Stephen Levy was best man. Ushers were Dr. Harvey Gralnick, Dr. Howard Chazen, and Michael Adler. Susan Cox was flower girl. A reception was held in the United States Room of the Naval Base Officers Club with the bride's parents as hosts. The buffet table featured a floral centerpiece. Miss Ruth I

The couple have returned to Philadelphia from a honeymoon in San Juan, Puerto Rico and will go to Holy Loch, Scotland, in June, where Dr. Glazer will be stationed aboard the USS Simon Lake. If you're right-handed, which most of us are, sew a couple of loops on the back of your left-hand glove for carrying two spare shotgun shells. This will permit fast reloading. It eliminates trouble getting another shell out of your pocket while wearing gloves in cold weather. Of course, if you shoot from the left shoulder, sew the loops on the right hand glove.

“For Me to Live is Christ”

“And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in draught, and make fat thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not.”
 Isaiah 58:11.

“For me to live is Christ” is to be living for a purpose—to serve God by drawing out my soul to the poor, lonely, hungry, and lost. “For me to live is Christ” is to lead men everywhere to Jesus Christ who is the fountain of the water of life. And He has promised that when I am in His service He will guide me, and satisfy me, and I shall be like the flowers in this picture, like a watered garden, sustained by Him.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
 THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Jaycees Install Welcome Signs

The Burkburnett Jaycees have installed "Welcome to Boomtown" signs at three strategic entrance locations to our city. The large circular signs are colorful greetings to the visitors and travelers through our city and serve to remind citizens of the friendliness of our community.

Local Resident Is Chosen Instructor Of Month At Base

Lonnie Bruce Sheperd

Sheperd AFB — Lonnie Bruce Sheperd was named Instructor of the Month for March by the Department of Civil Engineering Training in 3750th Technical School according to the Department chief, Col. Robert D. Stephens.

Sheperd, a civilian instructor, was chosen for the honor because of his initiative, knowledge, and outstanding duty performance as an instructor in the Refrigeration Branch.

He teaches general maintenance mechanic, Aleutian Dew Line electrician and water supply and sanitation courses.

Sheperd resides with his wife, LaDonna, and two daughters, Terri and Tammi, at 711 Pecan Street in Burkburnett. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Cooper of Spring Lake, Texas and Mrs. Sheperd's mother is Mrs. W. A. Stutzman of Cordell, Okla.

He was graduated from Cordell High School in Cordell, Okla., and received a Bachelor of Science Degree in education from Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla.

He began his civil service work at Sheperd AFB in 1956, having previously served in the United States Army at Fort Eustice, Va.; Lawton, Washington and in Alaska.

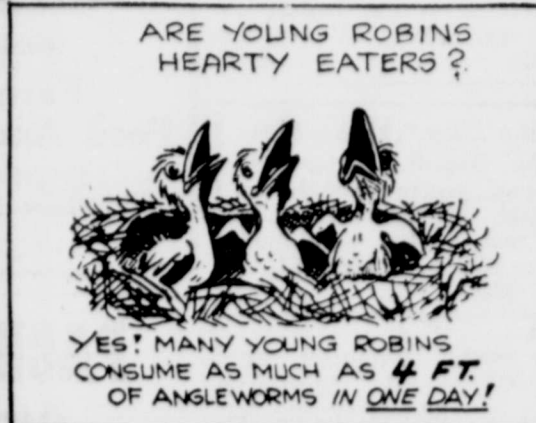

In the letter to Sheperd, Colonel Stephens stated: "You have definitely made an outstanding contribution to the operation of this department and it is a pleasure to know that we have instructors with your professional standards assigned to this organization."

Jaycees Need Shovels, Hoes

In an intense effort to get full representation from the Burkburnett area for their Texas Partners of the Alliance with Peru project, the Burkburnett Jaycees are requesting the assistance of all residents for the donations of shovels, hoes, rakes, or other vocational tools. These tools will be sent to the citizens of Peru where they are in desperate need and will be used in their fight to improve their standard of living and way of life. Tools do not have to be new or in complete repair. You are urged to check your garage, tool shed, etc. today and contact Eddie Reed or Lynn Postelwait, project co-chairman, or call 569-2704 and your tools will be picked up.

Texans Urged To Review Plans In Case Tornado Hits

AUSTIN, Texas — Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today urged Texans to review tornado safety precautions.

"While tornadoes can occur any time of the year," Garrison said, "April, May, and June are the peak months." U. S. Weather Bureau records indicate that Texas leads the nation in total number of tornadoes per year. The annual average of 80.7 is based on a record of 1,210 confirmed tornadoes from 1951 thru 1965.

"It is especially important for every school, church, hospital, hotel, business house, and industry to establish an emergency plan," Garrison said. "To know what to do when a tornado is approaching may mean the difference between life and death."

A circular on tornado safety is available from most local Civil Defense offices.

A Closed-in Porch Opens New Vistas

If your house is feeling the pinch of tight living space, widen your horizons by bringing the outdoors indoors.

An enclosed porch will not only extend your living area, it will let you enjoy the outdoors all year round.

If you already have an open porch, the job will be simplified; walls, windows, screens, heat and insulation will be your main concerns. But even building a porch from scratch is not a major undertaking. Here are some considerations to keep in mind:

LOCATION — If you have a choice, don't build the porch on the west, because the afternoon sun can make it uncomfortably warm. A southern or southwestern exposure is considered best.

FLOOR — No basement is required — just a slab floor of poured concrete with a sufficient footing to meet local codes. If part of the porch will be below grade, lay masonry blocks to bring the walls above grade. One of your last jobs will be to tile over the concrete floor with asphalt or vinyl asbestos. Rubber tile can be used over concrete if the floor is above grade.

ROOF — To avoid that added-on look, be sure the roof matches the architectural style of the house. This may mean repeating the main gable, or using a shed-type or flat roof.

INSULATION — Insulating batts in the roof and walls will make the home more comfortable winter and summer. Use full-thick batts in the roof, the main source of heat loss.

ELECTRICAL — Wiring for electrical outlets and lighting must be completed before the finish walls go up. While you're at it, provide exterior lighting and an outside outlet for extra backyard convenience.

WINDOWS and WALLS — Walls of windows will give greatest visibility and comfort. Awning or hopper style windows are probably best since they permit 100 percent ventilation and keep bad weather out at the same time. Another idea is insulating glass, available in stock windows of ponderosa pine, which eliminates the necessity of storm sash in winter.

Prefinished hardboard paneling available in a wide range of wood-grains, colors and textures is a wise choice for surfacing the interior walls. It creates a distinctive porch interior with minimum maintenance.

Outside, use hardboard siding in a lap or panel style that matches your existing siding. It's attractive, extremely durable, weathers well, and is immune to dents.

HEATING — The sun can heat a glassed-in, weathertight porch even in winter. But auxiliary heat is usually needed too. Check the location of heating pipes and ducts and the capacity of your furnace to see if extending your present system is feasible. Other heating hints: a heat pump that heats in winter and cools in summer, portable or permanent electric baseboard heating, gas or electric space heaters or a wood-burning fireplace.

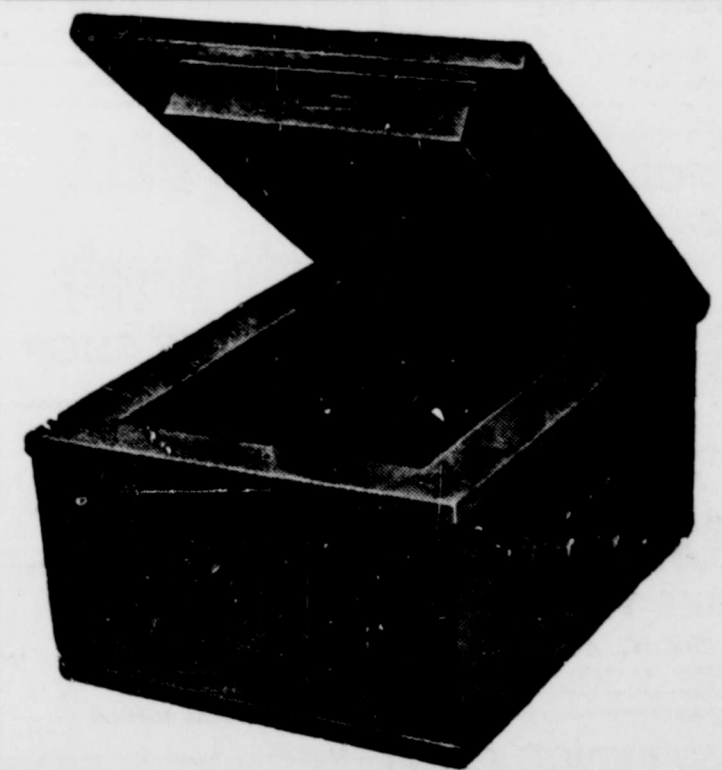

For ideas and advice on porch enclosures and other home remodeling projects, send 10 cents to SR & A, Dept. HP, Box 3498, Grand Central Station, New York, N.Y. 10017.

PACK 151 NEWS

Cub Scout Pack 151 held their monthly pack meeting on Thursday night, March 30, at St. John the Divine Church. Opening game was a nail-hammering relay race, led by Mrs. Pendley's Den No. 2. The race was won by Den 5.

Opening the meeting was the Flag Ceremony, given by Mrs. Allen's Den 4. Mrs. Bill Warren, Assistant Cubmaster was master of ceremonies for the evening, due to the absence of Mr. Powers, the Cubmaster, who was temporarily on duty in California.

Mr. Warren gave the welcome to the pack and made announcements. The Scout-O-Rama will be held in Wichita Falls on May 5-6, in the 4-H Barn on Hampstead Lane from 6:30 to 9 p.m. All our boys will be selling tickets at 50c each, and part of the proceeds will go to our pack, so please, all you parents buy tickets, and try to get out and see the show, as it will be very worthwhile.

The theme for this month was "How To Use Tools" and was carried out in a very good spirit by Mrs. Satour's Den 5. The Den Chief narrated and each boy demonstrated how to use a different tool. Jerry Beckett showed the correct way to use the saw. David Weathered showed the knife. Ronnie Satour, the pliers. Robert Briggs, the hammer, and Mark Robinson, the screwdriver. The boys were very careful, and there was no cut or mashed fingers!! Thanks a lot for a nice skit.

Next on the program was the presentation of awards. Mr. Chartier acted as Advanceman for the evening, and presented awards to the following boys and parents by Dens:

DEN 1 John Welch and Dean Dorsey. Bobcat Award.

DEN 2 Mario Guzman, Wolf Badge; Archie Pendley, Gold Arrow; Victor Powers, Gold and Silver Arrows; Kevin Warren, Silver Arrow; Mrs. June Warren, Asst. Den Mother's Pin.

DEN 3 David Miller, Wolf Badge Gold and Silver Arrows; Jeffrey Shadd, Wolf Badge, Gold and Silver Arrows; Scott Owens, Wolf Badge, Gold and Silver Arrows, 1 year pin; Michael Martel, Gold and Silver Arrows; Mrs. Pheobe Shadd, Asst. Den Mother's Pin.

DEN 4 Michael Earhart, Wolf Badge, Gold and Silver Arrows, Denner Bar; Randy Allen, Wolf Badge, Gold and Silver Arrows; Jerry Wilson, Asst. Denner Bar; Stephen Boiaroff, Wolf Badge; Mrs. Roy Cheney, Asst. Den Mother's Pin.

DEN 5 Mark Robinson, Bobcat, Wolf Badge, Denner Bar; Ronald Satour, Wolf Badge, Asst. Denner Bar; Robert Briggs, Bobcat Award; Mrs. Ralph Beckett, Asst. Den Mother's Pin.

After the awards were given out, many loud D.Y.B. yells were given by the Cub Scouts for the advancements made by all the boys.

A new Awards Flag was purchased to be given to the Den that has the most parents present at the pack meetings. It was a close race, since there was a total of 48 parents present in addition to many grandparents, friends, and brothers and sisters. The honor was won by Den 1. Jeff Gatten, Tony Rozell, John Welch, Dean Dorsey, Jessie Dickson and Mitchell Cox. They were really

Ben McDonald Jr. Is ROTC Cadet

Ben L. McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. McDonald, Jr., of Burkburnett, is presently enrolled in the Army ROTC at Midwestern University in Wichita Falls. Ben, a freshman, is majoring in history and minoring in government. He graduated from Burkburnett High School in 1966 where he was active in the Debate Team and the band.

As a prospective graduate of the Army ROTC Program, Cadet McDonald will be qualifying himself for a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army while concurrently earning an academic degree in a field of his choice. While participating in the program he will receive extensive leadership training and will have the opportunity of competing for an ROTC scholarship. If he participates in the ROTC Advanced Course during his junior and senior years of college he will receive a subsistence allowance and will have the opportunity of earning a private pilots license through the Army ROTC Flight Training Program. Following graduation, he will be able to fulfill his military obligation as a commissioned officer in challenging assignments while further developing his leadership capabilities and enjoying substantial financial benefits in comparison to his non-ROTC contemporaries.

Best In Class

Burkburnett Star,

Dear Sirs:

Due to the excellent ratings of the Burkburnett Junior High Band in the Ninth Annual Castleberry Band Festival, they have been awarded the best in Class C. The band received the following ratings: in concert, a 1, and in sight-reading, a 1. Sincerely yours, Castleberry Lion Band

THANK YOU

James Frye, Chairman of the Burkburnett Easter Seal Appeal held here recently, wishes to express his appreciation and gratitude to all the workers and everyone who helped to make the drive a success. Burkburnett residents contributed a total of $942.89 to the support of the rehabilitation center in Wichita Falls. Co-Chairman of the drive were Jack Mathis and Mrs. W. T. Zimmerman.

The Kremlin praised a U. S. appeals court for ruling in favor of the Communist Party. This shows that it really pays to give into the Commies.

proud to accept the flag, and happy to be able to keep it until the next pack meeting. Two cakes were made by Den 2 for the raffle, and a total of $10.05 was donated to the pack. The first cake, chocolate, was won by Mr. Robinson, the second was a lovely German chocolate, and won by Cathy Powers.

The program was concluded with the singing of songs. Den 2 sang "We're A Cub Scout Pack" and Jeffrey Shadd, Michael Martel and David Miller of Den 3, sang "We're A Pack of Happy Cub Scouts."

Displays for the evening were: Den 1, Bar-E-Que or paint aprons; Den 2, Tool Boxes; Den 3, Tool Boxes; Den 4, Moulded Plaques; and Den 5, Wooden Scrapbooks. The boys all worked very hard on these projects all month, and received many compliments on their handiwork.

Delicious refreshments were served by Den 3, thanks to Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Shadd, and all parents of the boys in this den. Next pack meeting will be April 27th, Thursday, at 7:00 p.m. at St. John's Church, all parents, please attend. Those boys want to win the Parent's Attendance Award!! See you there.

RABBIT SAVED

This little fellow, or little miss, narrowly escaped death last weekend from the teeth of a large mower. He was rescued by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ward, 708 East 3rd, who fed him milk from the doll bottle, bread, grass and other rabbit food, which he greedily devours. If he survives, he could become an interesting pet.

IT'S A FACT! . . . by THOMPSON

UPLAND COTTON WAS GROWN AND PROCESSED AS FAR BACK AS 2,000 YEARS AGO.

THE COTTON GIN -- INVENTED BY ELI WHITNEY IN 1793 -- REVOLUTIONIZED SOUTHERN FARMING BY MAKING COTTON A CASH CROP! INCREDIBLY, WHITNEY -- AT THE TIME HE STARTED HIS INVENTION -- HAD NEVER SEEN COTTON!

COTTON SEEDLINGS ARE SUBJECT TO ATTACK BY SEVERAL FUNGI -- SUCH AS RHIZOCTONIA, PHYTHUM, FUSARIUM AND THELAVIOPSIS. MANY FARMERS FIND THAT A SINGLE APPLICATION OF OLIN'S TERRACLOX SUPER-X WILL PROTECT THEIR CROP.
