

From all accounts the question of whether there will be a tax increase is academic. The question really is, "How much?"

Did Tornado Strike Burkburnett?

Wind, rain, hail and tornadoes (?) hit Burkburnett last Tuesday. Damage, though minor in most parts of town, was extensive in others. Fortunately, there were no injuries.

Early Tuesday evening, the rain came down in such driving density, that it was impossible to see across the street. The trees bent before the power of the wind and branches were lopped off and thrown to the road. Water flowed like small rivers in over-flowing gutters along the streets.

Some trees fell beneath the weight of the wind and rain, as did fences—even a cement block wall. Windows were blown from their frames, roofs were lifted like bits of fluff and tossed away, a full-size mobile home was left with its wheels spinning in the air, oil tanks, weighing from 1500-1800 pounds, were lifted from their bases and slammed to the ground and a barn was completely demolished.

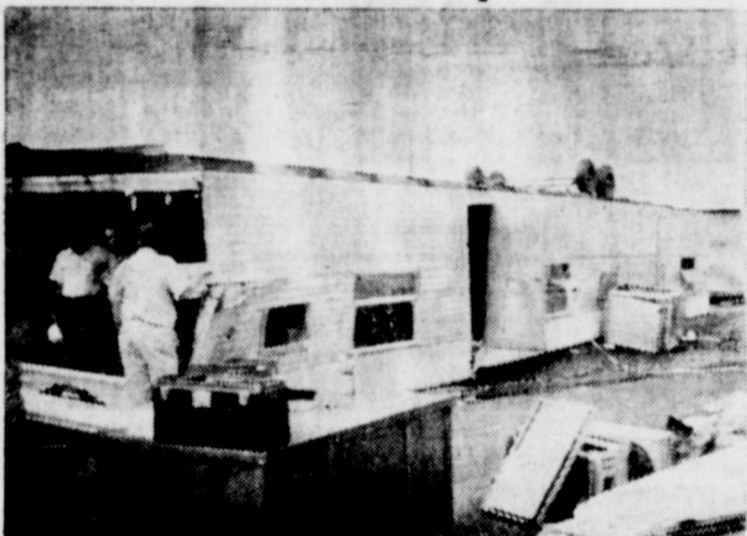

Did two tornadoes touch down in Burkburnett? Those hardest hit would tell you it was so, though there has been much debate about the question.

Hail the size of golf balls was reported in some areas. Chief of Police Buck Abbott said that though he had the windows of the cruiser rolled tight, he still got wet from driving wind and rain.

Did Burkburnett get hit by tornadoes? Ask the owner of the house whose roof is completely gone, or the man who made his home in the upside down, completely ruined house trailer.

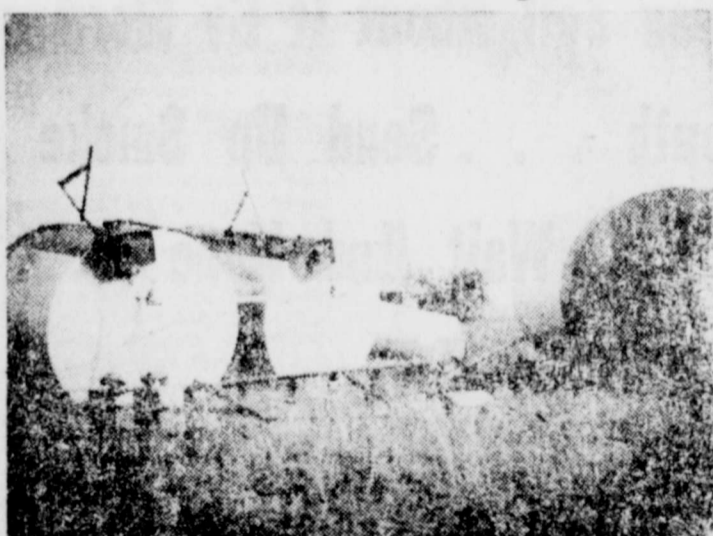

There were many small claims and a few larger ones with an approximate total of $30,000 reported from the various insurance offices. Most of the small areas of damage were caused by the high winds. Tornadoes?

CIBA Trailer Upped

This was the temporary home of the Field Representative of CIBA Products Pipe Company, on Kramer Road, after the strong winds, or a tornado, flipped it from its wheels to its topside. It was a complete loss, though some of the furnishings were rescued. Luckily, there was no one home at the time.

Oil Tanks Destroyed

F. T. Felty needs to replace these three oil tanks, which each cost about $500, since a very strong wind, or was it a tornado, turned them over. The ladder, which is now in the foreground, was once standing in back of the tanks. The pipe connections were bent over but still attached to the huge vats. Each tank weighs approximately 1800 pounds. Strong wind.

Tree Is Uprooted

Leaning on the toppled redwood fence, this large cottonwood tree just gave up to the strength of the wind and laid down. It is still attached to some of the roots in the ground. There was no apparent damage to the small building next to it.

Residence Loses Roof

Try to tell the Ted Smalley family that they were not the victims of a tornado. Their entire roof was removed and scattered over their backyard and beyond. Though the tarp was placed over the uncovered rooms, the weight of the rain water which collected inside it, caused the ceiling of the kitchen to give away leaving a large hole. In other rooms, there were large cracks in the ceilings, which were ready to give way at any moment.

Schroeder Residence Damage

A large house, the reporter climbed to the top of an adjoining garage to get this shot of the yawning hole in the roof of the Clarence Schroeder house. Not visible, a chimney on the side of the house was toppled also.

MAYOR PROCLAIMS JUNE 5-11 AS CLEAN-UP WEEK IN BURK

The Mayor has signed a proclamation designating the week of June 5-11 as CLEAN-UP WEEK.

Now is the time to prune those bushes, shrubs and trees; clean out the attic and garage; get rid of all the tall weeds on your vacant lots, which are breeding places for poisonous spiders and other forms of life, harmful to humans; unload the broken toys and old newspapers piling up in the garage and just plain CLEAN-UP all those things you could not give to the regular trash haulers.

The Jaycees, with their usual eagerness to help, are giving a hand in this year's program. Help make it a big success. Make Burkburnett the cleanest, prettiest city in this part of the country.

City and county trucks will pick up your trash. Some trucks picked up yesterday and today they will go east and north of the railroad tracks.

Please stack your trash in the back alley, or if there is none, in the front within easy access of the pick up men.

If you need a special pick up, call one of the following numbers: 569-3412 — 569-2704 — 569-3815.

BLOODMOBILE TO VISIT IN BURK WEDNESDAY, JUNE 7

THE RED CROSS BLOODMOBILE will arrive in Burkburnett again Wednesday, June 7, at the Burkburnett Bank. Donors may give blood from 12:30 to 6:30 p.m.

The Red River Red Cross Center states that there is a shortage of blood for victims of accidents and seriously ill patients who require transfusions to survive.

Blood donations in the 19 counties served by the Red River Center, have dropped more than 50% during the last three weeks. All types are needed.

Need for blood is greater in the summer, as there are more people traveling, thus more accidents; there is more holiday travel, thus more accidents; and of course, there is always someone ill in need of the life preserving fluid.

The demand for harvest laborers and an unawareness of the critical need for blood are the main reasons, says the Center, that there has been a decline in donations.

It does not hurt to give blood, nor does it leave you with an ill feeling. In fact, after becoming a donor, you will feel better than you have ever felt before, just because you have tried to save a life.

The Contemporary Study Club will assist the two typists. Continued on Back Page

NOTED AND PASSED

In Re Ike, FYI: Someone called our attention recently to what is probably the briefest biography extant of the Eisenhowers: Here's the way it appears in something called the National Social Directory: "Eisenhower, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight David (Mamie G. Dowd) Gettysburg, Pa. USMA '15. Univ. Chev. Bnt. Sul. Mww. Met. Un Ulg. Cent. Rhc. Kni. Ngl. Crk. Gege. Pl. A-N Shc. Pilg. Mfw. Wash. Cny. Li."

That isn't likely to kick up the kind of storm raised by Manchester's "Death of a President," do you think?

The Call of Duty: In New York City 12,000 telephone workers went on strike because the telephone company refused to supply protection for two workers dispatched to make some repairs in a high-crime area of the Fun City. They should be ashamed. Who needs protection? Neither rain nor snow no sleet nor muggers keeps Hizzoner Mayor Lindsay from his job. Not once has he failed to show up whenever and wherever a TV camera was ready and aimed.

Ba Bret: Those who think that our greatest health menaces are cancer and heart disease obviously don't own television sets. The absolute worst of all, as all TV viewers know, is that scourge called Ba Bret. Even the most vigorous and most handsome men, and the loveliest women become obnoxious and repel each other. They stand looking mournfully at each other swishing Brand X about their mouths, the mating instinct suffocated. Clearly there'll be no population explosion while Ba Bret survives. We wish somebody would start pre-empting those Ba Taste commercials before it is too late.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Health Insurance Institute 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. I'm the head of a growing family. That is, I'm not yet 30, I'm the father of three children — and we're planning to have more. Could you fix clearly in my mind just who is covered under medical expense policies?

A. Generally, you and your wife and dependent children. Any other children who come along can be added if they are not added automatically. A family policy is usually bought by the husband but may be taken out by a wife with coverage for her husband and children. Coverage usually terminates on your youngsters at a specific age, usually 19, in some cases as old as 23 or when they marry or cease to be dependent on you if prior to that age. Family policies will always provide coverage for dependents while today most group policies will also include this added protection.

Q. As the owner of a small business I'm interested in starting a group health insurance plan for my employees. The cost of the plan, however, is an important consideration. Will I have to foot the entire bill if I set up this insurance?

A. Not at all. Plans have a wide range, from 100 per cent payment by the employer to 100 per cent payment by the employee. When the employer pays all, the plan becomes a uniform part of the plant or office working conditions program and is given equally to all; where the employees pay part or all of the cost, they have the option of participating or refusing.

The advantage of your providing group insurance protection for your employees, either on a contributory or non-contributory basis, is that your contributions would be tax deductible, while allowing you to provide greater benefits for your employees and thus remain competitive in the labor market.

Contributory plans have the added advantage of providing larger benefits than the employer could cover himself. They usually result in better employee understanding of the plan and the cost, making him aware of the quality and utilization of benefits.

SHOWERING THE BRIDE-TO-BE

For a perfect shower, this buffet table blends form and good taste. A turquoise-blue cloth with appliqued scrolls is a lovely background for a Double Wedding Ring Salad, punch and petits-fours.

Royal Ham Aspic

- 2 packages lime gelatin
- 2 cups boiling water
- 2 cups cold water
- 1 TBS. dry white wine
- 1 TBS. salt
- 2 TBS. prepared horseradish
- Dash Worcestershire
- 1/2 cup sour-sweet pickles
- 2 cups diced ham

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add cold water and seasonings. Cool. When aspic is about ready to set, pour 1/2 into 9" ring mold and arrange ham cubes and pickles decoratively. Chill layer quickly, then add remaining aspic into which ham and pickle relish have been mixed. Chill till firm.

Make your favorite vegetable salad in a 9" ring mold. The two rings, when entwined, will serve 10-12.

Offer two types of punch — one tart, one sweet — in twin pitchers. For the sweet one, use your favorite recipe for fruit punch. Here's a tasty tart punch.

Sparkling Bride's Punch

- 2 cans (6 oz. each) frozen lemonade concentrate
- 1 bottle (1 qt.) your favorite whiskey
- 1 orange, sliced thin w/peel
- 1 cup orange juice, strained
- 1 jar (8 oz.) red maraschino cherries
- 2 large bottles (28 oz. each) ginger ale

Stir lemonade concentrate, orange juice and whiskey in a 1-gallon punch bowl. Add cherries and their juice. At serving time, add ice cubes, stir, add ginger ale. Garnish with orange slices. Makes about 26 punch cup servings—repeat as necessary.

By Mary Whitman

This is a big year for our neighbor to the North, Canada. It's the 100th anniversary of the founding of Canada as a nation - and highlighting the event is Expo '67, the world's fair at Montreal.

In honor of the occasion, the Canadian government has issued a newly designed set of coins for all denominations from one cent through the silver dollar. The one dollar bill has also been redesigned.

It marks the first time Canada has issued new designs for each denomination of coinage to commemorate an event, points out Ken Bressett, numismatic editor at Whitman Publishing Company, Racine, Wis.

The coins depict wild life native to Canada, ranging from the mackeral to the Canadian goose.

You can obtain uncirculated sets of the new coins (limit - 5 sets per person) by writing to: Coins Uncirculated, Post Office Box 470, Ottawa 2, Ontario, Canada.

Your order should be accompanied by a certified check or money order made out to the Receiver General of Canada. Each set costs $4.00.

One of the main reasons for increasing popularity of Canadian coin collecting here is the similarity between U.S. coinage and that of Canada. With the exception of a few rare issues, Canadian coins are readily available from American numismatic dealers at reasonable prices.

All Canadian monies are listed, priced and described in Whitman's 1967 Standard Catalogue of Canadian Coins, Tokens and Paper Money, by J. E. Charlton. This volume is regarded as the most authoritative reference on current retail values of Canadian coins.

Old Stadium Is Damaged By Fire

Bulldog stadium, in the process of being torn down, nearly burned down, Thursday morning.

At the sound of the siren, volunteer firemen hurried to the fire station, jumped on a truck and rushed to the Junior High School, where flames were leaping from the old dressing room and licking at the bleachers.

The school, too, was in danger when the firemen arrived, but it was not long before there was only a trace of smoke and a strong, charred smell.

Several of the top bleacher seats were burned black and part of the brick wall of the school building bore a trail of smoke.

The efficient firemen, all volunteers, are to be commended for their fine fire fighting. Without them, there might not yet be a Burkburnett Junior High School.

PRAISE BE TO ALLAH

Jedda, Saudi Arabia—(HK)—In the dawn of the Gregorian New Year of 1967, at a place called Turaba in the Great Nefud Desert to the north, a few Bedouin herdsmen praised Allah and celebrated by allowing their animals all the water they could drink.

The welcome bounty gushed from a deep artesian well just brought in by a drilling crew of the Los Angeles-based Ralph M. Parsons Company. In a vast area of shifting sands and sparse desert foliage larger than the size of Arizona, where rain falls once every two or three years, water has been a curiosity throughout recorded time.

It comes from the Saq sandstone at a depth of 7,400 feet. When brought in, the well flowed at the rate of 500 gallons a minute inside 9 5/8-inch casing.

Through a 3-inch pipe the water had a 22-foot head at the rate of 430 gallons a minute. It is of good quality, with a temperature of 145° F, and may be 25,000 years old.

The well was drilled as a "dope" hole for exploring geologic formations and potential sources of water by means of various logging or survey methods. This information correlated with that of deep exploratory wells to be drilled is part of a $7.5 million water and agricultural development project being conducted for the Government of Saudi Arabia.

Although the well was not scheduled for use in production, King Faisal requested it be allowed to flow. The Monarch wanted it available for the Bedouins and their livestock while they searched for grazing land.

Early in the Spring of 1965 the Ministry of Agriculture and Water awarded the four-year development contract, embracing this area of about 115 thousand square miles in northern Saudi Arabia, to the California company.

Four emergency districts in the Basin are under intensive study and early development to correct water wastage, inundation from a rising water table due to inadequate drainage, and inefficient irrigation practices. Agricultural and water development recommendations for the remainder of the area are being based upon scientific studies of soils, agronomy, topography, hydrogeology, meteorology, geophysics, range management and social and economic studies.

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. Do life insurance companies find that cigarette smoking has caused an increase in deaths due to lung cancer?

A. The industrywide statistics of the life insurance business show a sharp, tragic increase in the proportion of policyholder deaths due to cancer. Although lung cancer is definitely an important factor, there is no sure way to determine whether or not the trend is directly related to cigarettes.

The biggest increase in cancer deaths has been among men, particularly those beyond their early 50s, and it has been due mainly to a marked increase in fatal cancer of the lungs and respiratory system.

Until 1944, the cancer death rate for women had been higher than for men. Now the rate for men runs about 10 per cent higher than for women. Recent studies have shown that respiratory cancer causes one in every five cancer deaths among men, but less than one in 20 cancer deaths among women.

The cancer death rate has increased among younger women, but has declined somewhat among middle-to-older-age women. The latter trend has been due partly to a decline in women's deaths due to cancer of the digestive system and reproductive organs.

Cancer is the only major cause of death that has shown a substantial rise over the past three decades among men between the ages of 65 and 85.

Fresh Apples Complement Corned Beef

The emphasis is on flavor rather than frills in this tasteful pairing of favorite family foods. Hearty and homely, the Fresh Apples and Corned Beef Platter features tart and tangy all-purpose Washington Winesap apples as the perfect taste complement to savory corned beef with cabbage wedges. The Washington Winesap, a late-harvested, rosy-red apple, with a tangy flavor, and crisp, fine-grained flesh, will keep both flavor and shape as it's being cooked with the meat and cabbage. The addition of crunchy seeds adds a pungent touch to this easy-quick dinner.

Fresh Apple-Corned Beef Platter

- |                           |   |
|---------------------------|---|
| 4 lbs. corned beef        | 1 tsp. caraway seeds                                |
| 1 stalk celery and leaves | 4 Washington Winesap apples, cut in 3/4 inch rounds |
| 1 carrot, thinly sliced   |   |
| 1 small onion, quartered  |   |
| sprigs of parsley         | 1 medium cabbage, cut in wedges                     |

Cover corned beef with cold water, add celery-stalk and leaves, finely sliced carrot, quartered onion and parsley sprigs. Bring to boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer until meat is tender (about 4 or 5 hours.) About 15 minutes before serving time increase heat, add caraway seeds, apple rounds and cabbage wedges (secured with picks.) Bring to boil, cook 5 minutes, reduce heat to simmer and continue cooking about 5 minutes more or until apples and cabbage are tender. Place corned beef on a platter, and surround with cabbage wedges and apple slices. Serves 6.

What's new in hobbies? Hundreds of things and you'll be seeing them in the stores in the months ahead. Exciting new ideas and equipment were previewed by hobby manufacturers at the annual Hobby Industry Association of America trade show in Chicago.

Monogram Models, Inc. attracted attention with a series of three boats of the kind backing up U. S. forces in Vietnam. One is a dramatic-looking Vietnamese Command Junk with two huge sails. Another is a Swift Patrol Boat used by the U. S. Navy and the third is a River Assault Boat, also used by our Navy. All are in 1/48 scale with moving parts and a complete complement of armament.

Classic car collectors will watch for Monogram's 1941 Lincoln Continental Cabriolet in 1/24 scale. The model has complete engine and other underhood details and the interior is highly detailed, too, with dashboard and simulated leather upholstery. The model can be assembled with the top up or down and the hood is removable to display the engine. The car is authentic blue in color. A chrome trim side strip molded as a separate piece eliminates the need for tedious hand-painting.

Among new model racing cars seen at the hobby show was Monogram's Chaparral 2-D Coupe in 1/24 scale. It has the popular Tiger Super X-220-S sidewinder motor and Tiger Traction Sponge Slicks. Unusually detailed for a racing model, it has a complete cockpit interior and a sculptured, full-length driver.

LA SALLE MONUMENT Navasota

SIEUR de LA SALLE: "His was the restless spirit, the inquisitive urge to explore strange lands and uncharted seas . . ."

He set out to reach far horizons which held more lure than the glint of gold. Tossing aside a life of wealth and ease, he chose the wild, adventurous, unexplored New World.

On his third voyage to establish a fortified post on the Gulf of Mexico, he met death at the hands of mutinous men of his own party.

The La Salle monument was erected at Navasota near the site where many believe the assassination took place.

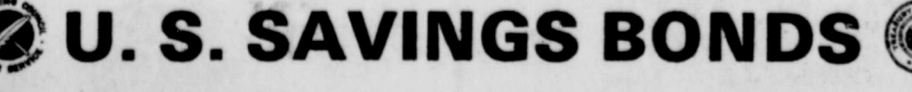

Thus, though the enterprise ended in failure and death, it strengthened France's claim to a greater part in the New World.

WE CAN SHARE IN NEW HORIZONS!

The TIE that Binds...

Man and woman began their married life in church and according to God's holy word are joined together. With the Bible as the basis for the beginning of a new life together, it seems only reasonable that a continued study of God's word would strengthen and serve as a guide to any couple. The Bible can truly serve as a tie that will bind two together in accord. The church as God's agency on earth can help you in Bible study, and with the guidance of the Holy Spirit can help you to understand God's will in your life.

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in drought, and make fat thy bones; and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58-11

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long survive and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should support and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and eternal life, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Lions Club Hears Dixie-Land Jazz

The last meeting, Tuesday, May 30, of the Lions Club, was a real swinger. After singing "My Country 'Tis Of Thee" and the invocation, all sat down to a delicious dinner of southern fried chicken, with all the usual goodies that go with it.

Then the president, Tommy Hubbard, called on Roy Magers, to introduce the entertainment for the evening. He did just that and then the Town Hall began to really swing.

The Mad Medics and Three, from Wichita Falls, were a really hip dixieland band, which had everyone tapping their toes or clapping their hands to their fine music.

Dressed in black trousers, white shirts, bow ties and bowler hats, each wore a colorful vest. Some were red and white stripes, some were stripes of all colors, one was solid red and the other was a splash of flowers.

The songs they played were of years gone by, with one or two of today. All were very excellently played and thoroughly enjoyed by those listening.

"Bill Bailey" and "When The Saints Go Marching In," made it hard to keep ones feet still, while "Westminster Abbey," "Lazy River" and "Nobody's Sweetheart" took one back to other times.

Erting this fine entertainment to the Lions Club were: Dr. Nolan Simmons, clarinet; Dr. V. C. Saied, trumpet; Herb Wagon, trombone; Dr. Ed Bebb, banjo; Ed Baggett, piano; Dr. John Worthen, bass fiddle and Tom Arnhold, on the drums.

President of the Iowa Park Lions Club, with two other members, were guests.

JAZZ BAND AT LIONS' MEET

The Lions Club enjoyed the music of this Dixieland band at their last meeting, Tuesday, May 30, at the Town Hall. All professional men from Wichita Falls, they are: Herb Wagon, trombone; Tom Arnhold, drums; Dr. Nolan Simmons, clarinet; Dr. Ed Bebb, banjo; Dr. John Worthen, bass; Ed Baggett, piano; and Dr. V. C. Saied, trumpet.

Smalley Residence Damaged

This is the rear of the house belonging to the Smalleys. Insulation clutters the backyard, the roof gapes like the mouth of a fish and branches lie about. A portion of the roof is visible leaning against an also leaning tree and the remainder of the house.

House Loses Roof

Blown from the rear of the house, here lies the front of the Schroeder residence, in pieces at the front. Fence was destroyed, the gate may be seen to lean and this is what was left after one load of debris was carried off. At the very top of the roof which remains, a board was thrust into the solid wood like a toothpick.

BLOODMOBILE TO VISIT WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Edyth Key, an employe of Bell Oil and Gas and Mrs. Loma Wood, a city employe. They will also furnish refreshments for the donors and handle kitchen duties.

Clyde Conway is local Blood Chairman for Burkburnett, and he urges everyone to help make this the Bloodmobile's most successful visit to our city. Give a pint of blood. You won't miss it and it MAY BE THE PINT TO SAVE THE LIFE OF A LOVED ONE.

Here are some of the fine people who have donated one gallon or more of blood, thus far, to the bloodmobile. J. B. Riley, Jr., Rt. 1, a rancher. He belongs to the Methodist Church, is married to Beverly and they have two children, Kenda 8 and Kayonne 5. Riley spent 2½ years in the Air Force and is now in the reserves. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club.

A two gallon donor, I. R. Reagan, Box 235, is a welder and Marion is his wife's name. They have four sons, Kenneth, Robert, Jerry and Charles, and belong to the Methodist Church. Riley's hobby is fishing. Nelson Boyte, 700 Meadow Dr., is another gallon donor. A construction estimator. Boyle is married to Estelline and they have no children at home. Colette. Sharon and Shirley are all grown.

Boyle spent two years in the Army. Won't you become one of these gallon donors? Begin with a pint on June 7, at the Burkburnett Bank.

R for Health

The Health Team

The United States enjoys the highest standard of health in history for a very good reason: we have the finest medicines and the largest, best-trained health team in the world.

This health team—a community's front-line defense against disease—includes the doctor, dentist, pharmacist and nurse, all professionally trained.

The pharmacist's role in this team is unique in that he provides a product as well as a professional service. Thousands of years ago, physicians, such as Hippocrates, compounded their own medicines, mostly from plants. In time, the preparation of these drugs came to be a scientific specialty. Today's pharmacist must study at least five years in a college of pharmacy.

Just as the doctor, the pharmacist must pass a state examination after graduation; just as the doctor, the pharmacist must serve an internship before he is licensed to practice. The pharmacist is, in fact, the only person in retailing who is required by law to have a college education.

A government health agency has described the pharmacist as "... a member of the team of experts who has been scientifically trained to provide medical care to the people. As a consultant to the prescriber and the custodian of drugs for the community, he is licensed by law to dispense them according to the prescriber's instructions and the requirements of law. If we did not have the pharmacist, it would be necessary to invent him."

The proper reading, interpretation, filling, labeling and recording of a prescription are very important to a patient's health. Only a registered pharmacist can do these things for the community.
