Anniversary Celebration Scenes

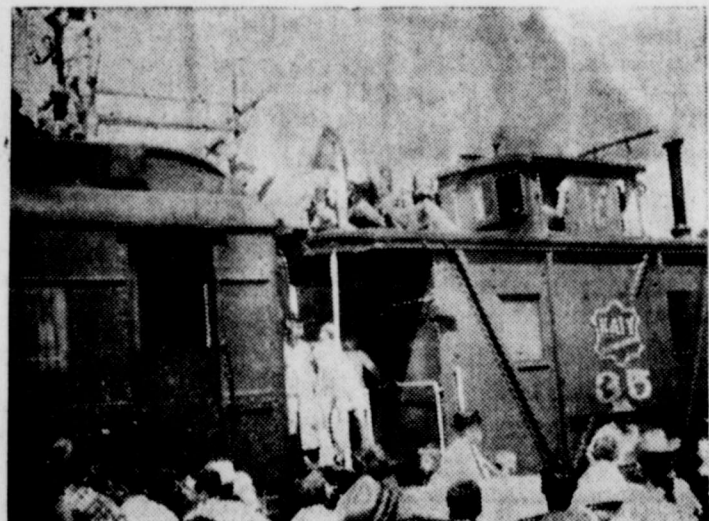

THE KATY train pulls into the Burkburnett station June 15, to begin the three-day celebration of Rodeo and 60th Anniversary. Hundreds of people were on hand to welcome the dignitaries and city officials on board.

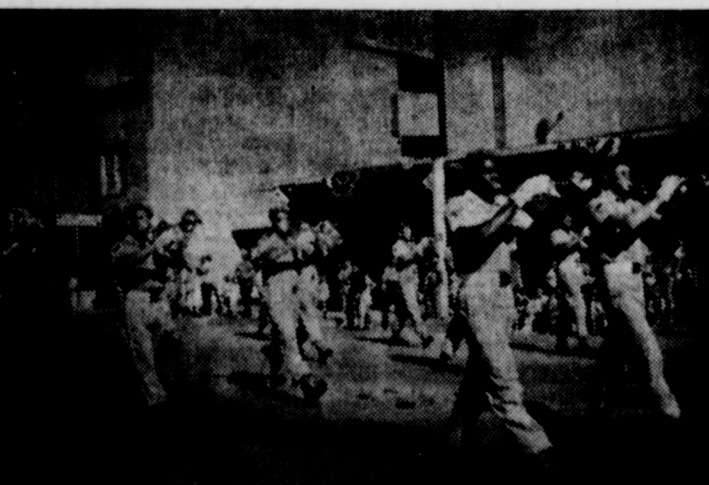

ARRIVING ON THE MKT were, from the left, State Rep. Dave Allred, State Senator Jack Hightower, R. B. George, vice president of the MKT, Mrs. J. C. Adams, Sr., who holds a card stating she arrived on this very train June 15, 1918 in the same costume, and Mr. Robbins, MKT executive vice president.

THE JOHN GILL FAMILY wore right out of the past as they waited to greet the MKT train.

WHEN THE TRAIN had stopped, children immediately swarmed over the caboose and had a fine time.

ONE OF S.A.F.B. BANDS, the Drum and Bugle Corp., perform in the opening day parade of Burkburnett's big Celebration of June 15-16 and 17.

HORSES were much a part of the parade and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone.

ONE OF THE FLOATS in the parade was this very attractive girl with the enormous skirt, which covered a Volkswagen. With her are members of her family. The girl on the right is really a boy.

BOOMTOWN'S SPECIAL GUESTS sit on the MKT station platform, waiting to take part in the program.

PART OF THE FUN on the first day of the Rodeo festivities, was a staged bank robbery by some of the members of the Jaycees. The unfortunate bank is the Burkburnett Bank. In the background is President of the establishment, Jack Aaron, with his hands high.

IKE DOWDY, employee of Katy railroad, waits for the message that the MKT is on its way to town with its special passengers.

As I write this, the Rodeo and 60th anniversary celebration are in the third day.

The first day was a vast success, with the special guests, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and other dignitaries, arriving on the MKT train and receiving a rousing welcome.

One of the largest crowds ever, attended the first night of the rodeo, which was one of the most exciting in recent years. There are two nights more of the same entertainment left to enjoy, so see you at the rodeo.

Many, many dogs are yet running free in Burkburnett, over lawns and on the highways. It is difficult for the police to enforce the ordinance prohibiting this, unless citizens cooperate.

When I saw a Chihuahua lying dead, in the road by the Sheppard Expressway one day recently, I felt very sad for it and angered at the owners who so heartlessly let it run free so that it could become one of the many dogs who die on our streets and highways.

I cannot feel sympathy for them, the owners, as it was a sad accident which could so easily have been prevented.

PLEASE, keep your pets at home where they will be safe.

My deepest sympathy goes to Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Slusser who recently lost their soldier son in Vietnam.

Yesterday, June 15, was really air-conditioner weather and there is bound to be more of the same. It seems to be longer getting here this year, though.

The weather, thus far this month, has made me feel back home in New England; rainy one day, hot the next. Not like the Texas summers I've become accustomed to during the past few years.

Have you taken a fling at dunking the man off the plank on Avenue C for 25c? He sits perched over a large tub of water and personally, I think he enjoys it, since it has been so hot the past two days.

If you have good aim, 'ave a go at it.

The manager of the Chamber of Commerce really gives his all when he sets out to do something for the town, and he has a badge of honor to prove it.

While setting up a loud speaker on the reviewing stand, yesterday, the darn thing got away and fought back. It broke one of his thumbs in two places.

Seriously, I hope it isn't very painful to him.

I have recently been eating some luscious caramels, and I have learned that it is necessary to keep them out of reach of a friend of mine. Boy, oh boy! Does she dig that flavor!

The Methodist Church has been undergoing a face-lifting recently. It certainly is beginning to look stately and very beautiful. Its members may be very proud of the building in which they worship the Lord.

This afternoon I went to the Methodist parking lot and watched many boys try to climb to the top of a pole. They were after one of the silver dollars which were attached to the top. Some of them made it and came down one dollar richer.

One boy would make a wonderful tree-topper. He went up that pole as though he was part cat.

Mrs. Weldon Nix went to the hospital recently to undergo surgery and I hope she is doing well. I know her family will be happy when she is able to return to them.

Get well soon, Mrs. Nix.

I recently read that young persons seeking jobs through the Employment Agency were required to not be of military or civilian parents.

That is what I call a real hard qualification to fill!

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Don Williams, 118½ W. College, have a new daughter, Dee Ann was born Friday at 11:36, weighing in at 7 pounds 1 ounce.

Grandparents are: maternal, Mr. and Mrs. Buck McClurken, of Devol and paternal, Mrs. Nora Williams of 118 W. College, Burkburnett.

Congratulations to all of these happy people.

LAUGH, IT'S GOOD FOR YOU—

The typical successful American businessman was born in the country, where he worked like hell so he could live in the city, where he worked like hell so he could live in the country.—Don Marquis

See you at the rodeo.

Love, B.B.

JOBS FOR YOUTH

As the school year comes to a close, more young Americans will be searching for work than ever before. It's estimated that over 12 million 16-to-21 year olds will be knocking on office and factory doors, and that some two million of them will fail to find a job unless something is done to help them.

That helping hand is already taking shape again in the form of the Youth Opportunity-Summer Jobs campaign. In the past two years, the Youth Opportunity campaigns were successful in finding needed extra jobs for young people through the wholehearted support and cooperation of business, labor and government. Civic and religious organizations also joined in the national drive.

This summer the challenge is even greater. Employers are being asked to hire as many young people for the summer months as they possibly can. Many of the youths will be looking for permanent jobs.

For some, not finding a job will mean not returning to college; for others, unemployment may mean the beginning of a long, frustrating effort to become self-sufficient.

Let's make 1967 the year we help young people to help themselves.

Some Consumer Protection Please

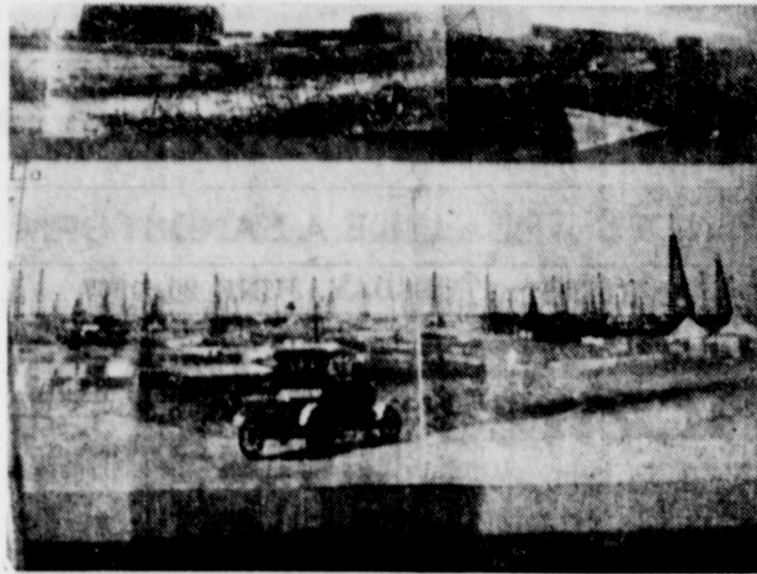

Spokesmen for the antitrust division of the Department of Justice have indicated that they do not envision a broad scale program imposing limitations on advertising. But, at the same time, there continues in official circles the underlying belief that advertising results in higher prices. Nothing could be further from the truth. Advertising builds sales volume and lowers unit costs. Consumers benefit in lower prices, abundance and variety in the marketplace.

Despite fine-spun theories to the contrary, excessive federal straitjacketing of the merchandising process would guarantee scarcity, higher prices, disruption of production and employment and bankruptcy for a good many of our newspapers and periodicals. With this type of thinking in official circles, consumers may need protection, but it certainly isn't from advertising.

Sullivan, Ill., Progress: "Since our government demands such a strict accounting of every penny handled by every citizen, for taxing purposes, those taxpayers, by the same right, should be entitled to a strict accounting of how all those tax dollars are being spent."

Boom Days Scene

This is an example of one type keepsake it is hoped will be available 50 years from now. This is one of the many scenes, with part of another, taken during Burkburnett's boom days. Everyone knows that our town is now in a real growing boom, so save all pictures and items which will preserve our times for future heritage displays.

Heritage Week Displays

Many items have been saved from other years, as one can see in this photograph, but many have been lost forever. It is hoped everyone, from now on, will heed the sign in this window and save these future treasures and records of our times. Then in the 100th anniversary celebration, it will be easier to recollect the happenings of today.

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Health Insurance Institute 277 Park Ave., N.Y., N.Y., 10017

Q. Do insurance companies recognize chiropractic bills as legitimate medical expenses? A friend of mine who has health insurance where he works has not been claiming his chiropractic bills for insurance purposes. I told him he was losing money. Am I right?

A. You probably are — which means he probably is.

The general practice of insurance companies writing group health insurance is to regard the chiropractor's services in the same way they would a physician's. In most cases, however, the health insurer will reimburse you for a chiropractor's treatment, only when it is confined to the art of chiropractic.

Under individual and family hospital-surgical and major medical policies, while few policies actually mention the chiropractor, most will honor his bills. Why doesn't your friend ask his insurance company or his agent if chiropractic benefits are available?

Q. Is it wise to own more than one health insurance policy? Mine seems adequate. If I purchase another I'm afraid I'll be spending too much for what I'll get.

A. Though some people do go overboard and feel compelled to insure themselves against anything and everything, it usually is wise to have more than one health insurance policy. Most Americans do. In fact, you might be under the protection of more than one and not even know it. For instance, besides your present health plan you might have job sick pay or salary continuation, group health insurance, life insurance disability income benefits, etc.

But don't undertake to have too much of one type of protection and not enough of the other. For example, if you have two hospital plans and cannot afford a disability insurance policy you would do well to drop one hospital plan in favor of the disability protection. The same, of course, holds true if you have two disability policies and no hospital plan. A rule to remember is this: it's bad to parallel coverage, but it's good to supplement.

THREE FROM SHEPPARD RECEIVE DEGREES IN M.U.'s GRADUATION CEREMONIES

SMSgt. Joseph D. Henderson

Mrs. Georgia Flanagan

Sheppard AFB — One civilian employee and two sergeants at Sheppard Air Force Base received degrees during commencement exercises held recently at Midwestern University.

The civilian employee, Mrs. Georgia Flanagan received a Master of Education degree with a major in counseling. The military men were CMSgt. Alfred E. Keeler whose degree was a Bachelor of Business Administration, and SMSgt. Joseph D. Henderson who graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Music Education degree.

The two military men had completed their degree requirements through Operation Bootstrap program conducted by the United States Air Force. In this program, they attend college full-time to complete the last hours of their degrees.

Registrar for the Base Education office at Sheppard Air Force Base, Mrs. Flanagan received her Bachelor of Science degree in 1953 from North Texas University in Denton. Her major was in education and the teaching fields in history and English.

She came to Sheppard in December in 1958 and worked for Food Service at the U. S. Air Force Hospital and Supply of 3750th Maintenance and Supply Group before transferring to the Education Office in August 1960 as test administrator.

Mrs. Flanagan was the first one to major in counselling with a Master of Education degree at Midwestern University and in doing so achieved a 3.85 grade point average.

She was graduated from high school in Frisco, Texas, and taught school for five years prior to entering civil service. She taught history at Lancaster and physical education in the Iowa Park school system. She now resides at 911 Van Horn Street in Iowa Park.

She earned all of the credits for the master degree while working full-time at Sheppard. Sergeant Keeler, noncommissioned officer in charge of the Category Test Branch of Headquarters 3750th Technical School, earned his degree after only one semester of full-time study under Operation Bootstrap.

He began work on his degree at Midwestern during his off-duty time in 1961. His first tour at Sheppard was from 1959 to 1962 when he was with the Departments of Intelligence and Missile Training.

He continued his work for the baccalaureate degree at Alan Hancock College in Santa Maria, and the University of California in Los Angeles, both in California while assigned to Vandenberg AFB.

Even though he lost some credit hours by transfer, Sergeant Keeler was able to complete his degree in a minimum of time as he had good counseling on how to schedule his courses as they were offered. For instance, in his last semester, he took a sophomore and a freshman course as he knew they would be offered each semester and some of the more specialized courses are offered only occasionally.

His oldest daughter, Ellen, was a sophomore student at that time, but he was sure to avoid the courses in which she was enrolled.

He has had 23 years of military service, serving first with the United States Navy during World War II. He entered the service after completing high school in Lawton, Okla., in 1943.

Enthusiastic about the educational opportunities in the Air Force, Sergeant Keeler plans to begin work on a master's degree in September.

The sergeant, his wife, Mary, and three daughters reside at 4408 Hughes Drive in Wichita Falls. The other two daughters are Cheryl, a senior at Rider and Debra, a seventh grader at Barwise.

Graduating Cum Laude with a Bachelor of Music Education was SMSgt. Joseph D. Henderson, band superintendent of the 761st Air Force Band at Sheppard AFB. He has been assigned to the Sheppard band, known as the Band of the Oilbelt, for seven years and plays the French horn.

Prior to beginning his work at Midwestern University in the Spring of 1962 as a freshman, Sergeant Henderson had taken some courses through the University of Maryland in England

Buy Bonds where you work.

They do. Sometimes it seems the job is 50% walking, 50% waiting, and 50% fighting. It's tough, tiring work. But these brave men believe in it. A majority of our servicemen overseas are helping to pay the bill for freedom through regular purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds. Would you like to show these men their sacrifice is appreciated? You do it—and you walk a bit taller—when you buy Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work.

U.S. Savings Bonds

Bond facts: Savings Bonds pay you back $4 for every $3 at maturity in only seven years... are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen... have special tax advantages... can be redeemed whenever the need arises.

FOUNDATION

Our nation is witnessing a building boom, such as has never before been seen. Every day new foundations are being dug and laid. Any builder will tell you that it takes a firm foundation to support today's skyscraper.

Our Lord, in His sermon on the mount, compared those that heed His word, to the wise man that built his house upon a rock, and those that did not heed His word to the foolish man that built his house upon sand and it was washed away.

Build your house upon a rock... Attend church regularly.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

County H-D Agent News

Refrigerators often develop odors because of poor house-keeping practices or food spoilage. The best odor eliminator is preventive care, according to Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Refrigerators give better and longer service if they are kept immaculately clean, if food is wrapped or covered, and if manufacturer's use and care instructions are followed.

Odors may develop if food is kept too long. Any food will decay if its neglected for long periods of time. A refrigerator which is operated at too warm a setting will hasten food spoilage and result in strong odors. The cold temperature control should be set at the proper temperature for preserving food (for example, 28 degrees for milk).

Odors can develop from spoiled food which has not been completely cleaned up. It always seems that spills occur at the most inconvenient time, but taking a few minutes then may save a hard scrub job later.

Sometimes sales claims state that food may be stored in refrigerators in open containers.

However, most manufacturers urge covering or wrapping to prevent transfer of odors, to slow spoilage, and help prevent spills.

Frost-free doesn't mean clean-free. All refrigerators should be cleaned thoroughly with warm water and mild detergent, then washed with a solution of warm water and baking soda. Harsh abrasives or solvents should never be used on any refrigerator surface.

Once an odor has developed, there are several "home remedies" for eliminating it. One is to place an open container of ground coffee in a freshly cleaned refrigerator for a few days. Another deodorizer help is charcoal—a few lumps left uncovered in a clean refrigerator often will do the trick.

There are many commercial aids, such as ozone lamps and activated charcoal.

The use of sheets for window treatment, table skirts and flounces has a number of advantages. They come in an assortment of colors and patterns, and they are durable and inexpensive. Also, they save you work, since at least half your hemming is already done.

If your wooden salad bowls are dry and rough from continuous washing rub a little salad oil into the grain of the wood until the bowls regain their glossy finish.

Home Economics subcommittees for the Wichita County program Building Committees are planning work for the Wichita County Home Demonstration program. This planning is for work with any and all county homemakers. The chairman are Mrs. John Jones, home improvement; Mrs. Jim Roberts, clothing; Mrs. J. A. Fouts, foods and nutrition; and they welcome all suggestions.

Easy care foam rubber is serving in more places in homes today, says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Foam rubber is easily and safely cleaned with suds and water. Solvents and cleaning fluids will cause deterioration of foam rubber and should not be used in cleaning.

Wash rubber mats often by squeezing them in soap or detergent suds. Rinse in clear water and hang over parallel lines to dry. Occasionally clean foam fleece mattress pads in the same manner; this treatment keeps them light and airy and helps retain their shape and elasticity.

Foam rubber pillows may be washed either by hand or in the automatic washer. Put each pillow in an old pillow case. Baste up the open end with long stitches to allow space for the soiled water to be released. Set the automatic washer for five minutes, plus the spin cycle. Dry rubber pillows in the air, but never in the dryer or in strong direct sunlight.

When washing pillows by hand, squeeze the suds and warm water through them and rinse in clear water. Take a couple of clean towels and press and knead out as much water as possible. Dry in a breezy spot away from sunshine or heat. It will take some time to dry pillows in this manner.

Always protect foam rubber pillows with a covering which can be removed for laundering.

Spot-sponge foam mattresses with thick suds of detergent or soap when needed. Many foam mattresses have removable damask or ticking covers which should be laundered periodically.
