Buddy Herren Star Salesman In December

Buddy Herren, Pension Consultant for Davenport-Dillard, Inc., Washington, D. C., was named "Star Salesman" of the company during the month of December. The following excerpt was from the January issue of Davenport-Dillard, Inc., "Double-D Doings" fact sheet:

"Star Salesman for the month of December, 1965, is Buddy Herren, who is working in Chicago. Buddy joined the company about the first of November and almost immediately ran into obstacles that would have quelled a lesser man. Through his persistence and doggedness, the obstacles dissolved almost as quickly as they had arisen, as evidenced by the fact that he led the company for the month. Add to this, generous amounts of co-operation and proper attention to detail, and it adds up to a star salesman."

Buddy, who is a graduate of Haskell High School and North Texas State University, Denton, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Herren, of Haskell. The Buddy Herrens' have a two-year-old daughter, Angela. They reside in Chicago, Ill.

EPITOME OF THE AIR AGE

We take the air age for granted. We are no longer amazed by the fact that, in a matter of hours, we can fly in perfect comfort and at great speeds, to almost any place in the civilized world.

Yet the air age is very young. As an article in Parade magazine reminds us, only 30 years ago a new era was launched. On November 22, 1935, a flying boat named the China Clipper took off from San Francisco Bay after elaborate ceremonies which included a special message from the President of the United States. The occasion marked the beginning, by Pan American World Airways, of scheduled flights from the bay city to Manila. As Parade says, "When the big Martin M-130 flying boat touched down in Manila Harbor six and one-half days later, it marked the first time a major ocean had been spanned by commercial aviation. The flight was widely hailed as being the epitome of the Air Age. It ushered in new concepts of air travel and opened a new area of the world to modern commerce and industry. It even inspired a rash of Hollywood movies."

Now that same flight can be made in 18 hours ... as against the 59 hours and 48 minutes taken by the China Clipper. The clipper would seem hopelessly obsolete now. But it made history ... thanks to American vision and enterprise.

THE DAY OF RECKONING

Probably comparatively few of us realize the extent to which federal spending and debt have risen in a very few years.

The publication Washington Report tells the story briefly. In 1963, appropriations were $1.2 billion greater than in 1962. In 1964 they were $3.4 billion greater. And in 1965, they were up $16.7 billion over the 1962 figure.

The national debt followed this trend. In 1963, it rose $7.9 billion over the 1962 level. In 1964, it was $13.9 billion above level. And in 1965, it was higher by a staggering $19 billion. Just the cost of interest in 1964 on the existing debt was $11.6 billion.

Moreover, as Washington Report observes, new programs enacted this year will generate calls for even larger appropriations in 1966. And it is the general rule that estimates of the ultimate cost of such programs are commonly too low.

A family or a business that continually spends more than it earns, winds up in the bankruptcy court. Government, with its power to tax and appropriate and defer, can last a long time before the day of reckoning must be faced. But can it last indefinitely?

WE SHOULD TAKE STOCK

We talk a lot these days about freedom for other peoples, but at the beginning of this new year we should take stock of the status of our own freedom. Is it a quality of freedom that rings true? Hardly! In one way or another, more people each day are being required to do what they are told to do by some authority, and more and more frequently that authority has its source in Washington. The growing voice of authority is inevitable because authority, federal authority, holds the purse strings. The existing prosperity of countless industries, businessmen, farmers, whole communities, is at the absolute mercy of those who ward the contracts, the subsidies, the matching funds, or whatever you wish to call them.

At the beginning of this new year, there is one resolve that should be taken by all. A resolve that would end the spectacle of a great nation riding a crest of unparalleled power on one hand and on the other beset by a deepening morass of controls, inflation and a war that has no foreseeable end. We should resolve that the constitutional system of government... a government of checks and balances as laid down by the founders of the nation... is the best kind of a government to live under; that the rights of private property and persons are to be held inviolate.

The political liberty of the individual is our most precious heritage. With that as a foundation, there are no obstacles that cannot be overcome... in peace or in war... in space or on earth.

Al Cousins, City Marshall of Haskell, was the winner with a reported nine and a half out of a possible 10. The Sheriff, Giles Kemp, was second with a nine and Mart Clifton was third with an eight and a half. The argument will be resumed on the first windless day, as some of the boys claim they can't compete with the gales.

The marble machine vendor who has had his ups and downs lately in the local courts, has been in Haskell since last Wednesday trying to get around the ordinances of the marble machines. According to County Attorney, Ben Charlie Chapman, he will not be allowed to install any more of the machines, inasmuch as they are a violation of the law and the cases will be prosecuted as soon as one is put in operation.

Haskell people were somewhat surprised on Wednesday morning when they arose from their beds to find the earth covered with about two inches of snow. The surprise was the greater from the fact that on the previous evening there was little or no indication of a snow fall and the wind was from the south... and was still there the next morning. The sun shone most of the day Wednesday and by night the snow was all gone. Wednesday night was clear and crisp and Thursday morning there was on the ground one of the heaviest frosts we ever saw.

On Wednesday night at 7:30 the Lindell Hotel, Haskell, Mr. Carl F. Shaw of Jones County and Miss Cecil Florence Morgan of Stephens County were joined in wedlock. Elder J. H. Shepard performed the ceremony.

Mr. Oliver Williams and wife have returned from Fort Worth and will make their permanent home in this county.

Mrs. E. L. Adams left Thursday to visit her mother in the northern part of the county.

The W. V. Railroad Company has informed the local railroad committee that the grading forces would soon be ready to take up the work on the division between Haskell and Munday and requested that all the rest of the right-of-way be secured by the committee so that there would be no delay in the work. Acting upon this, the committee took the matter up and is actively at work. Mr. S. W. Scott and County Surveyor H. M. Rike, acting for the committee, went up the line Friday to see the parties whose lands are affected.

Haskell Chapter of Young Homemakers Learn Helpful Hints On Fire Prevention

The Haskell Chapter of Young Homemakers met for their regular January meeting, Tuesday, January 18, in the home economics cottage.

A most helpful and interesting program was brought by Tom Watson and E. J. Stewart. After showing a film on fire hazards, Mr. Watson and Mr. Stewart gave the Young Homemakers some helpful hints on fire prevention. Mr. Watson told the members that when going on a trip they should always shut every door in the house and in this way a fire might easily be confined to one room. He also commented that Haskell people were very conscientious about fires as indicated by the fact that there was only one major residential fire in 1965. Mr. Stewart closed by emphasizing, "Don't wait too long to call us." He said that the first few minutes can make the difference in the control of a fire.

Immediately following this program, Mrs. David Frierson presented the inspirational followed by roll call and reading of the minutes by Mrs. Bob Greenway. Mrs. Joe Jameson, chairman, Club and Community Service, reported on the "adopted family" project. Mrs. Jameson expressed her wish that the whole club could have been present when the children received their gifts. She said the entire family were most appreciative.

Mrs. Darward Campbell reported that the next social for the Young Homemakers and their husbands will be a bingo party on Saturday, Jan. 22, at 7:30 p. m., in the home economics cottage.

Mrs. A. G. Peiser reported that her team lost in the membership contest and that she and her team would treat the winners in the very near future.

President, Mrs. Jimmy Brownning, asked that members be thinking along the lines of a workshop in the month of March. The type of workshop and dates will be decided at the next meeting in February.

Members planning to attend the State Convention told the club about plans for the Friday night game night in which the Haskell Chapter is responsible. This is to be one of the highlights of the convention. Attending the convention will be Mrs. Jimmy Brownning, Mrs. Bob Greenway, Mrs. Chris Hager, Mrs. Jimmy Brownning, Mrs. W. H. McMillan, Mrs. Joe Jameson and Mrs. W. P. McMillan.

Next regular meeting of the club will be February 8. The program will be brought by Mrs. Franka Martin on Music in the Home.

Refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. Chris Hager and Mrs. Roger Weatherford.

Haskell To Be Well Represented At State Young Homemakers Convention

Haskell will be well represented at the Fourth Annual State Convention of Young Homemakers in Austin tomorrow, Friday, January 14th and Saturday.

Attending the convention from Haskell will be Misses Jimmy Brownning, Bob Greenway, W. H. McMillan, Joe Jameson, Ray Bertrand, Chris Hager, Jimmy Hamner, David Frierson, and W. P. McMillan. Mrs. Brownning and Mrs. Greenway are the voting delegates from the local chapter.

Highlighting the convention will be a joint luncheon with the Young Farmer State Meeting at the Terrace Motor Hotel. Guest speaker for the luncheon will be Governor John Connally. Following the speech by the governor awards for excellence will be presented to Young Homemakers chapters. The chapters will be competing in outstanding chapter, outstanding new chapter, publicity and Lottie Suter categories.

Also highlighting the two-day meeting is a fun night sponsored by the Haskell Chapter of Young Homemakers. Meeting simultaneously will be the Young Farmer Awards Banquet, which will host some of the young homemakers.

Beginning with a coffee honoring past state officers on Friday morning, the homemakers will proceed to the first general session in the Commodore Perry Hotel. Members will be welcome by Dr. Robert E. Ledbetter, marriage and family counselor of Austin.

Opening ceremonies and recognition of the chapters and guests will precede the introduction of candidates for state president. Those vying for the post will be Mrs. Joy Lynn Lester, Gonzales Young Home-maker Chapter and Mrs. Gayle Fortenberry, Lockney Young Home-maker Chapter.

Drawings for door prizes will close each session. Each chapter attending will bring to the convention a door prize and the lucky individuals whose names are chosen will take an extra bonus from the convention.

A second general session will follow the awards luncheon. Guest speaker for the session is Mrs. Maurine Amis, who is speech therapist at the University of Texas. Mrs. Amis will talk on the "Communications in the Heart of the Home."

Winding up the festivities will be a final general session on Saturday morning. Convention business will be taken up at that time. The election of president will climax the convention agenda. The new president and area state officers will be installed at that time.

Cemetery Association Requests That Endowments Be Taken for New Year

Veterans Must Complete Income Questionnaire

Howard Sloan, Haskell County Veterans Service Officer, announced today that all persons receiving Veterans Administration disability or death pension benefits must complete and return the annual income questionnaire card prior to January 31, 1966.

Sloan stated that all such persons received the annual income questionnaire card with their pension checks on or about Dec. 1, 1965. On these cards, the claimants should report to the Veterans Administration, their total annual income for the calendar year of 1965 and the total income they expect to receive during the calendar year of 1966.

Membership in the Haskell Cemetery Association has grown to about 800 families now holding endowments, but only about 100 are paying dues, officers of the Association said this week.

"The membership should be about 2,000, but it is not," the officials pointed out. "This means that only one out of three or four is shouldering the load for the Cemetery care."

Although enrollment continues gaining, which is most encouraging, an Association spokesman said, some dues payments are in arrears. An urgent request has been made for patrons to take out the endowment.

Amplifying his statement, the Association official declared: "We ask you to make a visit to the Cemetery and take note of the clean appearance that you will find. When Springtime comes, this cannot continue as the paying members we have are not able to contribute enough to care for 2,000 lots that are in use."

"We urge you to take out the endowment at once so as to get an even start with the year we are just entering. When the endowment reaches $100,000, one half of the Cemetery can be kept in order the year around. But we must get another $100,000 or double the amount we almost have, so that full coverage can be given to this work. We feel that you would like to do your part, so please do so."

"In the event you cannot take the endowment, please pay your dues this month so that our records can be made for the year."

The Good Earth

As we take a backward look at the 'Haskell Garden Clubs' activity we see a very interesting and educational year. One that has been filled both with work and with fun.

Mrs. W. T. Bryant, a national judge from Stamford, started our season off with a very interesting lesson on color and design in landscaping. We learned to study our color scheme thoroughly before we landscape a yard. Take the color of the house and all vegetation into consideration before the plants are set out. Then flowers, house or shrubs will not clash. We also had a seed and plant exchange.

Mrs. Jack Watson, a national judge from Stamford, taught us the modern way of arranging flowers. Her arrangements were based on our space age and its changing moods.

Mrs. Emmet Wyche brought us an interesting tour of Tahiti via slides depicting life on the island. It was very informative and educational. Mrs. Wyche is also a national flower show judge.

We ended our 1965 year with a most interesting and fun-filled Christmas party at Mrs. Ed Hester's. Mrs. Gene Overton, our president, gave a very informative program on native birds. Each member made two arrangements to be presented to our local rest homes.

Now, let's take a look at what is on the agenda for '66. We plan on waging war on the litter bug. Let's thank our highway department for helping in this campaign, by putting litter barrels on the road between here and Stamford.

One project for the coming year is to beautify the depot yards. We eagerly await the word "go" from those in charge of the job so we can begin to carry out our landscaping plans.

We planted a redbud tree at the Captain Marcy monument last year. This historical marker is located about four miles out on the Stamford road. Adverse conditions of weather caused the tree to die. We plan on planting another some time this year.

We also plan on planting three more shrubs on the hospital park grounds.

In January, Mrs. Paul Kuentler brings us a lesson on how to grow African violets. She should be a good authority as her plants are strong and vigorous, constantly blooming and growing.

February brings a workshop by Mrs. T. J. Finley. Mrs. Finley (Gwen) is very talented. We should learn many things at the workshop.

We will have our spring flower show in April. Also the installation of new officers for the club.

As I said before, the Haskell Garden Club is a happy mixture of social life and work. Refreshments are served at each meeting.

Fuel Supply Never A Problem Thanks To Cavalry's POL Team

EDITOR'S NOTE: Captain Thurman W. Brasher, who has been in Viet Nam for the past six months, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boggs, of Haskell.

AN KHE, Vietnam—The 1st Air Cavalry Division may run into occasional problems but making sure their more than 400 helicopters have fuel isn't one of them.

Capt. Thurman W. Brasher, division petroleum, oil and lubricant officer, said they've successfully transported by air more than 1,400,000 gallons of aviation fuel in 20 days to combat elements of the Cavalry cut off from land supply routes.

It is poured into 500-gallon collapsible drums and slung beneath First Team choppers before it is airlifted to Cavalry units in the field.

Capt. Brasher said that in this kind of war taking fuel overland would be costly and in some cases impossible. "We could never deliver as much fuel as we now do, if we had to rely on land routes," the Captain said.

He said that in one 24-hour period they carried 120,000 gallons of fuel to units tactically deployed. The captain said, "I shudder to think what would have happened if we had to depend on a land route."

Capt. Brasher said one of the advantages of the system is that they can establish a refueling point in just about any location or situation.

"Regardless of any action the enemy might take they can't stop us from getting the fuel delivered," the Captain said. "If we can't fly over them, we'll just fly around them and get to our destination."

"Aviation fuel is the life blood of this division and we're going to see they get it."

The following letter was received last week by Mr. and Mrs. Boggs from Capt. Brasher:

"Dear Papa and Grandma: I received your letter yesterday and was glad to hear from you. I am going to spend Christmas in Tokyo, Japan. It's about 2,000 miles from Viet Nam. I will fly in an Air Force plane and will return to Viet Nam January 2. "It's winter over here in Viet Nam now, but it's still just as hot as summertime. "I would love to be home for Christmas, but it's just about 12,000 miles too far. Being here gets old, but I really believe that it is necessary. "My tour over here is about half over now. Be glad when the rest of the time passes."

The new medicare bill requires employers to withhold Social Security and Federal income taxes from all tips reported to them by their employees. The employer, however does not have to match the employee's Social Security contribution. A good tip is to withhold on tips this year.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

Throughout the year we have preached our sermon on records. The day of judgment is here. It is time to get out those records and put them in shape to file that tax return. Now is the time to look over your records instead of midnight April 15. You may find that a lot of your receipts are missing. You may have to do some checking or get new copies of receipts before you file. The fellow who checks his records in January until April 15 doesn't have time to save.

Some Do And Don't Reminders For 1966 On Social Security

As 1966 gets underway, many people make mental New Year's resolutions on a wide variety of subjects—smoking, driving habits, smiles at home as well as at work, dieting, better this and better that, according to R. R. Tuley, Jr., Abilene district manager for the Social Security Administration.

He goes on to say that there are some things about social security in 1966 that almost every family might want to keep in mind all year, perhaps by clipping out this part of the Haskell Free Press.

1. Everyone over age 65 before 1966 has only until March 31, 1966, to make up his mind about Medicare. Get the free booklet No. 2 from a social security office for complete details.

2. Children receiving social security benefits should notify the social security office about three months before age 18 if they plan to continue in school; benefits continue until age 22 for full-time students, as long as they remain unmarried.

3. Persons reaching age 65 in 1966 should discuss their situation on Medicare with a social security representative 2 or 3 months before their 65th birthday; later action defers their coverage.

4. Persons in service businesses where tips are a portion of their income, need free leaflet No. 6 for full information on how tip income is now creditable (and taxable) for social security purposes.

5. Persons becoming disabled should get in touch with a social security representative two or three months after such disability begins; benefits are now payable for disability that can be expected to last at least 12 months, beginning with the 7th month.

6. Clergymen, physicians and farmers should get the free booklet designed for each such profession, showing how the 1965 Amendments affect them.

7. Social Security beneficiaries need to find out about the liberalized earnings test that starts this month; they may earn $1500 and keep all their checks; they can be paid regardless of annual earnings for any months in which they do not earn over $125 or render "substantial services" in self-employment. Free booklet No. 1 gives the details.

8. Employers need to get the new tax deduction tables from Internal Revenue Service; new rates (4.2%) apply on wages paid in 1966, and up to $6600 is now taxable for social security purposes.

9. Widows who were previously told they could not be paid monthly benefits until they reached age 62 should now consider filing at age 60 for slightly reduced amounts. Widows who remarry after age 60 may now be paid either on their former or present husband's social security account, whichever will bring them the higher amount.

10. All social security beneficiaries who had earnings of over $1200 (do not count interest, rentals, dividends, etc.) in 1965 must make their annual report of earnings before April 15, 1966; otherwise penalty deductions can be imposed.

Tuley concludes by reminding everyone that the best bet on social security questions or problems is to discuss them with a social security representative for factual and official answers; friends and neighbors may not know how special circumstances bring special answers. The mailing address for the Abilene social security office is Box 3258, Abilene, Texas 79604. Over nine of every ten families have a direct stake in social security matters and should keep informed to avoid losses due to oversights.

VA Questions And Answers

Editor's Note: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—Will my son, now serving in Korea, be able to obtain the new GI insurance?

A—A new law provides insurance coverage for servicemen. This insurance is automatic, unless the serviceman signifies in writing that he does not desire the insurance. A small monthly sum will be deducted from his pay.

Q—Will the Veterans Administration give families of veterans the right to make purchases at military commissaries?

A—The Veterans Administration has no connection with military commissaries and cannot grant purchase privileges.

Q—My husband is receiving a non-service connected pension from the VA. I would like to know if I start working would it have any effect on the amount of the pension that my husband now receives.

A—In determining the veteran's income for a non-service connected pension, none of the earned income (wages, salaries, etc. of a veteran's spouse will be counted as the veteran's income.

Haskell County Attorney Advised Fee Is Unchanged

County tax assessor-collectors may keep but one-half of one per cent in collecting taxes for a rural high school district, the attorney general's offices said Thursday.

In an opinion issued to Haskell County Attorney Bill Ratliff, Attorney General Waggoner Carr said collection fees are unchanged in regard to rural high school districts. The 59th Legislature did revise limits for fees for independent school districts and common school districts.

"We find no specific reference made...which would evidence the intention of the legislature to change in any manner the statute governing fees for rural high school districts," Carr's opinion read in part.

CORRECTION

In last week's issue of the Free Press in E. C. Collins' statement to voters of Precinct 4, it said: "Being acquainted with county clerk work for nine and one-half years, I realize the importance of this position."

It should have read: "Being acquainted with county work."

Jones-Fischer County Singing Set Sunday

The Jones-Fischer County Singing will be held at the Foursquare Church in Hamlin, Sunday, Jan. 16, at 2:00 p. m. "We have our new books and a large number of singers are expected to attend," Ollie Cochran, president, announced. Invitation is extended everyone to attend.

State Draft Boards May Have To Go Up To The 26-35 Age Range

State draft boards may have to go up to the 26-to-35 age range in the near future to help fill quotas for the armed forces.

Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said recently in a letter to Texas college and university registrars that this is being considered.

The state Selective Service director, in his letter to the college and university officials, asked them to let Selective Service know "at the earliest possible moment" when draft-age male students drop out of school, as "the nation can provide useful occupation for the perennial student who shows no progress."

Col. Schwartz also asked the registrars to report "rapidly" the male students whose academic load drops below full time.

"This does not mean that each student who drops under full time will be selected automatically for the armed forces," the state draft director wrote. "His local board is going to want to ask him why he has dropped some of his work."

Col. Schwartz doesn't think authorizing boards to go up to the 26-35 age range will produce many men under present circumstances. He estimated there are less than 3,000 in that age range available for consideration in Texas because most men in that age group "qualify for deferents on the basis of dependent children, or for other reasons."

Draft boards are currently deferring more men to attend state colleges and universities than ever before, a total of more than 105,000, Col. Schwartz told the registrars.

"We want to do everything we can to leave the serious, dedicated student in school to complete his work," Colonel Schwartz wrote. "Reporting the dropout and the man who drops below full-time immediately will help us to achieve that end."
