With the President's new plan at reducing the cost of meat at the supermarkets, and the complaint that farmers and ranchers are getting rich over the high prices, I thought the following might be of interest to our readers. The article appeared in "Today's Farmer" magazine.

"With all the beef about high meat prices, I decided to run an official study of the situation at our local grocery store.

I parked myself at the check-out counter first. Presently, a lady shopper shoved her cart into the slot by the cash register. I watched her unload a giant-sized box of washing powder, a family-size tube of toothpaste, a tablecloth (our grocery store sells about everything), a carton of cigarettes, a six pack of beer, a four-pack of toilet tissue, a loaf of bread, a half-gallon of milk, a pound of bacon and a package of lunch meat.

"I'll swear, I don't know how we're going to eat if food prices get any higher," said the lady shopper. She waved the package of lunchmeat in the air. "I have to feed my family this stuff," she said. "We just can't afford to eat steaks and chops and roasts anymore."

I got a quick look at the label on the package and went to the meat counter to check it out. The package contained six ounces of lunch meat, and sold for 45 cents. That comes to $1.20 a pound, if my arithmetic isn't acting up on me.

In the same meat case, chuck steak was 79¢ a pound. Loin pork chops were the same price. And a special on Choice T-bone had them at $1.39 a pound. That gave me something to think about.

While I was thinking, another lady came to the meat case. I was acquainted with her. Her husband is a mechanic at the garage where they charge me $7.50 an hour to work on my pick-up.

"Meat's awfully high, isn't it?" the lady said.

"Compared with what?"

"Well...compared with just six months ago," she said, surprised like. "The government ought to do something about it."

I sensed that it would do no good to explain that six months ago cattle feeders were just starting to make a little profit and pork producers were barely breaking even.

"You're right," I said. I think they ought to roll prices back to what they were 20 years ago."

"Now you're talking," said Mrs. Mechanic. She paused a moment, then asked: "What were meat prices 20 years ago?"

"About the same as now," I said. "In fact, in 1951, farmers got a little more for Choice steers than they got this year. "What were mechanics' wages 20 years ago?"

"I...uh...well, I don't remember, exactly," she said. "Are you sure farmers aren't getting any more for their beef now than they were 20 years ago?"

"I didn't know that," she said, wheeling her cart toward the dairy case.

"Too many people don't," I called after her.

I felt so good about having educated a "consumer" that I looked around for another one. A young lady was aiming her cart in my general direction.

"How do you feel about meat prices, ma'am?"

"Oh, I don't mind high meat prices so much, since I've hit on a system," she said.

"What kind of system?"

"Well, when meat prices go up, I just shift my menu planning to other dishes," she explained, angling toward the frozen fish section.

ONE OF TOP DONORS--Francis Beavers, above, was one of the leaders in total pints given at the recent Bloodmobile visit.

Beavers, Sheperd Lead Blood Donors Thursday

The Bloodmobile Drive last Thursday proved to be extremely successful, according to Mrs. A.R. Hill, chairman. A total of 77 donors came to the National Room during the afternoon and they included two 4-gallon donors, three 2-gallon donors, and one 1-gallon donor.

Francis Beaver, owner of Beaver Furniture and Appliance, made his thirty-second donation. He and his wife, Bobbie, reside at 204 Mockingbird and are the parents of two children. He is the secretary-treasurer of the Boomtown Lions Club.

Bruce Sheperd of 711 Pecan is also a 4-gallon donor. Sheperd is a training supervisor at Sheppard Air Force Base and he and his wife, LaDonna are the parents of two teenage children.

Clarence J. Bryant, 820 Mimosa, is a lineman for the Texas Electric Service Company and made his sixteenth donation to the Bloodmobile. Agnes Amanda Shaw of Randlett is a 2-gallon donor. Mrs. Shaw has two children and 9 grandchildren.

The third 2-gallon donor was Loren M. Wooton, 201 Mesquite. She is the wife of Joseph R. Wooton and the mother of three children.

Eugene Goettman, 814 Mimosa, made his eighth donation to become a one-gallon donor.

Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Ivy Smith, co-chairman, expressed thanks to the donors, the business concerns who sponsored the publicity, and to the workers who volunteered their time: Mmes. Fannie Baker, Diana Barnes, Wes Beard, Lee Beckham, Louis Brocker, Blake Browning, Bob Carter, Bill Cauthorn, Allie Chatham, George Counter, See Donors, Pg. 2

Hot Weather Triggers 2 Million Gallon Mark

Although low pressure in water lines in the south portion of Burk Burnett has existed the last few days, the underground water supply for Burk Burnett is good, according to Gary Bean, city manager.

With the record temperatures of this area reaching the 110 degree mark water consumption for the city of Burk Burnett jumped up to the two million gallons a day mark during the first part of this week.

"Our underground supply of water is holding well," stated Bean, referring to the level of the water table which isn't dropping. "The only problem we've experienced thus far is that the water line into the south storage tower is under size and therefore we can't get enough water going into the tower to maintain the proper water pressure for persons in that area," he continued.

When asked about the possibility of rationing water, Bean replied that as long as the storage towers were able to re-fill during the night, there would not be a water rationing program.

Persons in Burk Burnett can help the 123 water wells catch up in filling the storage if they would be careful not to waste water and not to water after 9:00 p.m. and then not begin again until after 7:00 a.m.

In reporting to the regular meeting of the Burk Burnett City Council Monday night, Bean stated that two new garbage trucks are due to be received in the next few weeks. The present three collection routes will be consolidated into two routes.

The new sewer line is progressing well with three weeks probably as the completion date. The blinking light at E. Third Street and Ave. B has been installed by the Texas Highway Department. A new head (flashing unit) will be installed later by the Department, which will be the more modern type.

Bean also reported that a new

Cookietown Lake Report "Interesting" For Many

(EDITOR'S NOTE -- Many persons in the Burk Burnett area have been wondering about the proposed Cookietown Lake. The following information concerning the lake is taken from a Cache Creek reconnaissance report by the bureau of reclamation in April, 1971. The text of this article is taken from a well written report by Keith White, of Grandfield, Okla. Associations to work both for and against the proposed lake are being formed by interested persons in that area.)

Cookietown will be larger, more expensive and have more varied uses than expected by an Oklahoma water resources board appraisal in 1968, according to an April 1971 report by the bureau of reclamation.

Although the lake will not usually occupy more than 13,098 acres with a capacity of 230,189 acre-feet, allowances for flood control and future storage in connection with the state water plan will push the land purchases for the lake to 21,790 acres. At maximum capacity, Cookietown lake will hold 448,938 acre-feet of water.

And the price tag has risen by just less than $6 million since October 1967. Based on April 1970 prices, Cookietown will now cost $30,248,000 with a complete price tag of $42,094,000 once a Lawton pipeline system, recreation projects and expenditures for fish and wildlife program is spent.

Cookietown would realize $3,621,200 in benefits annually for the area, returning $1.25 in benefits for each $1 that is spent on the project. Over 50 years, Cookietown lake could pump nearly $36 million into the area economy.

Benefits are itemized as: municipal and industrial, $3,343,700; recreation, $348,000; fish and wildlife, $60,800 and flood control, $168,700.

The present floodplain (Deep Red run and Cache creek) below the prospective dam sites suffers average annual losses of $179,250. By January 1968 prices, average annual flood damages destroy $95,960 worth of structures and damage $83,270 worth of crops.

Approximately 85 percent of the overflow area from the Cookietown and a proposed Temple dam site is under cultivation with an estimated crop value of $765,300. Physical property subject to overflow damages totals $8,317,000.

Total benefits of Cookietown lake in stopping periodical flood losses would be $165,210. From the aspect of presenting annual losses would be $104,540.

The bureau of reclamation is not the only government agency with its eyes on the Cookietown project. The bureau of outdoor recreation has already picked out 2,002 acres surrounding the lake site for recreation areas. Almost all of the sites are located around the eastern part of the lake, one each north and south of the dam, and one more on each side of the lake west of the dam site.

Cookietown lake would be of "fair quality" for fishing purposes, according to the bureau sport fisheries and wildlife, but it should be popular because of the absence of alternative fishing sites. Largemouth bass, white bass, crappie, channel catfish, fathead catfish, bullheads, various sunfishes, carp and buffalo fishes could be expected as game fishes.

Production of non-game fishers could produce 51,000 pounds of species annually, although the production of non-game fishers in other state lakes has been slowed or halted by technological or economic shortcomings.

But the bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife has the most "enthusiastic" plans for developing land control around See Lake, Pg. 2

Local School Board Changes School Policies

School regulations and Policy changes for the Burk Burnett schools was the main topic on the agenda during Monday night's six-hour special school board meeting.

Almost one-third of the meeting was devoted to the Leave of Absence and the "Pregnancy Policy" of the schools.

Board members elected to eliminate the maternity leave section of the policy and to let that part come under the regular Leave of Absence policy. They also elected to make all teachers eligible for a leave of absence. Prior to this action, a teacher must have been in the Burk Burnett school system for three years before they would be eligible for a leave of absence.

Teachers wishing a Leave of Absence must have their principal recommend the leave to the school board which then must approve the leave. A leave of absence can be from a period of time of one week to a maximum of 52 weeks.

The teaching performance of a teacher will be the key factor as to when a teacher should begin their leave of absence as well as when they will be able to resume teaching following the leave. The board used for an example a teacher granted a leave of absence for medical reasons should not resume teaching until their teaching performance is back to normal.

Of special interest to teachers taking a leave of absence is that a job will be guaranteed them following the leave of absence as long as their teaching performance is as it should be. Prior to this, teachers on a leave of absence were not guaranteed a job, but were given first consideration if an opening became available.

In other action on policies, the board amended the leave policy of teachers adding three days leave per year accumulative without limit as long as the teacher is employed by the Burk Burnett Independent School District. The day leave is in addition to the five days provided in the State Sick Leave program. The three day leave can be used when illness in a teachers immediate family makes attendance to duties impossible. This is not covered under the State Sick Leave program.

In addition to this, teachers will be granted two days per year to attend to personal or professional business. This time is not accumulative from one year to the next and must be approved in advance by the local administration.

The board also adopted the policy that all students attending the Burk Burnett schools must live with their parents or legal guardian. This past year, according to high school principal Bill Darland, there were See School, Pg. 2

IT WAS HOT! -- Temperatures rose in the Burk Burnett area to the 111 degree mark Sunday and again almost to that point Monday and Tuesday. The First National Bank time and temperature clock showed 109 as late as 5:00 Monday afternoon.

fire siren has been installed on West Third. Tax officer Thomas Colley reported collections of $2,236 in delinquent taxes in May. Corporation report for the same period showed fines of $780 including 46 traffic and nine liquor violations.

The council also approved the purchase of a new Burroughs Billing Machine for the water department at a cost of $4,857.

July 17 was set as the date for the next regular council meeting.

Fireworks Law Observance

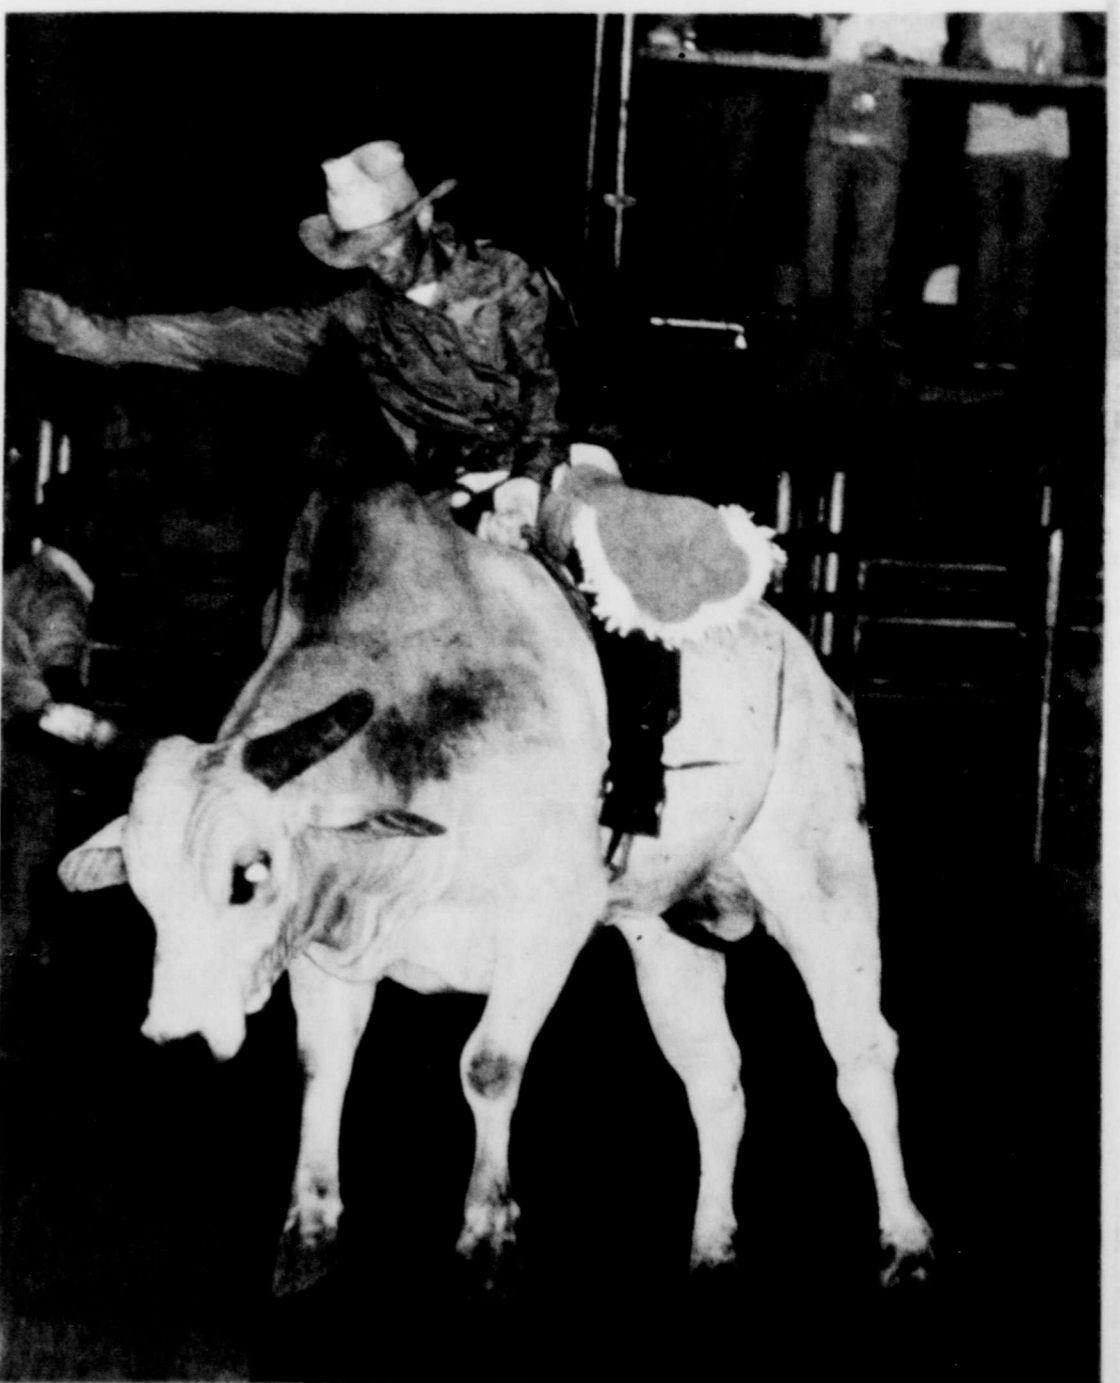

Chief of Police Buck Abbott Tuesday stressed the observance of the local city ordinance pertaining to the sale and use of fireworks within the Burk Burnett city limits. No fireworks may be used or sold in the city limits, according to See Police, Pg. 2

One small girl has already been injured this week as one firework exploded about her face. The girl wasn't seriously injured, but serious injury could result from fireworks, states Abbott.

One pair of prescription glasses for a small child has been found and turned into the local police department.

Police are currently investigating the burglary of a trailer located at 833 E. 3rd. The incident occurred Saturday night.

A 1966 Mercury, driven by Arthur R. Starling of Mobile Home Manor, was hit as he attempted to make a left hand turn into a driveway. The other auto involved in the accident was a 1969 Javelin, driven by Larry J. Martin of 206 Preston.

The accident occurred Thursday afternoon approximately 250 feet east of Berry Street.

approximately 70 students that were not living with their parents or a legal guardian and attending the local schools due to their parents moving before school was out as well as various other reasons.

In discussion of the student dress code, the board urged that students avoid extremes of any grooming fads.

The board scratched the current policy concerning married students attending the local school, thus allowing married students to compete in all events and extra-curricular activities. They are requested to meet with the Dean of Girls for counseling prior to the school year if they are married at that time or during the year if they become married.

In other action, the board awarded the low bid of $4,380 to Browning Electric of Wichita Falls for the wiring of Hardin Grade and Primary buildings.

Board members elected to change the school calendar and to let school out on Memorial Day of next year. Students will go to school until Friday, June 1 when they will receive their report cards.

This action will give the students a four-day weekend since the Friday prior to Memorial Day will also be a non-school day due to a teacher work day.

Maintenance Superintendent Bud Ramsey was given a one year contract renewal by board members. The board also approved the purchase of a new copy machine at a cost of $1,600, one-half of which will be paid by the state.

A boxing clinic also sponsored by the department, will begin July 10 with Pete Chavez of Wichita Falls introducing the techniques and fundamentals of boxing. More information concerning the clinic will be available at a later date.

The plans for the "Battle of the Bands" to be held July 21 at the Oki Park, are making lots of progress with the exception that more bands are needed to compete for the $100 first prize.

4TH OF JULY

Lake

Cookletown lake. For $64,000 the bureau wants to build four boat-launching ramps, which by their estimate could mean an income of $15,000 a year from use by fishermen.

Retaining brush and trees could increase fishing man days by 3,000 fishermen and $3,000. And if that is not enough, the bureau suggests that White's lake be turned into a high quality fishery to realize a yearly profit of $2,000 and fully recoup fishing losses caused by the construction of the lake.

To regain the loss of 800 hunting man days, the bureau proposes to purchase 10,500 acres of land upstream from SH 36 to develop into a public hunting area at a cost of $73,000.

Maintenance costs were estimated by $1,500 for hunting areas and $2,000 for fishing areas by the bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife.

To satisfy the municipal and industrial needs of Lawton, another supplementary project is scheduled to be built along with the Cookletown dam. An adueducy system, 22.7 miles in length, will be built from the north end of the Cookletown dam to Lawton, where it will deliver 28.6 million gallons of water per day.

A $561,000 pumping plant will be built to operate the 22.7 miles of 48" and 60" concrete pipeline. Four pumping units and one standby unit will be installed at the damsite pumping plant to be powered by electric power.

According to the Cache creek project report, the bureau of reclamation would rank a Temple lake project, to be built at the intersection of Deep Red Run and Cache creek ahead of Cookletown.

The hangup is Cotton county's $4.1 million petroleum, sand and gravel and natural gas business. Eight oilfields of approximately 636 wells producing 871,000 barrels stand in the way of Temple lake. Bureau planners are also afraid Lawton's sewage affluent might affect the Temple damsite and they have tentatively abandoned it until Cotton county's mineral deposits are depleted.

8 ways to save money on air conditioning.

- 1 Set thermostat between 76 and 78 degrees—the lower the setting the more electricity the unit uses.
- 2 Replace disposable or clean permanent type filters as required—clogged filters make the unit work harder and use more electricity.
- 3 Provide adequate attic ventilation—helps reduce heat buildup.
- 4 Install proper duct ceiling and wall insulation and weather-strip windows and doors—keep hot air out, cool air in. (Helps reduce winter heating costs too!)
- 5 Shade the outdoor unit from the sun.
- 6 Keep windows and fireplace dampers closed—prevents excessive loss of cool air and infiltration of hot air.
- 7 Shade windows from direct sunlight with awnings, blinds or draperies—reduces the load on the unit.
- 8 Have the unit checked by a qualified air conditioning serviceman. Do this in the spring, prior to your need for cooling.

Three Members Chosen 1972 Delegates

Three Wichita County 4-H members have been chosen as delegates to the 1972 National 4-H Citizenship Short Course and Heritage Tour in Washington, D.C. July 5-18, along with 50 other Texas 4-H Club members. The tour is under the direction of the State 4-H Club office.

Brenda Swinford, Friberg 4-H Club member, and John and James Bentley, from the Burkburnett 4-H Club, will represent Wichita County. They will leave College Station on July 5 and tour many interesting places, such as Andrew Jackson's home, Grand Ole Opera, Oak Ridge Nuclear Reactor Center, Oak Ridge, Tennessee, and Monticello. While in Washington, D.C. they will take part in citizenship workshops at the National 4-H center with 4-H club members from over the United States. They are also scheduled to visit many points of historical interest and will hold a reception on Capitol Hill for their Congressmen.

The trip back will take them to Williamsburg, Virginia, Stone Mountain in Georgia, and the Vicksburg Battlefield. The trip and short course is a most rewarding experience.

Brenda, James and John attend the Burkburnett High School and all three have been outstanding 4-H club members for a number of years.

LAURA ALLISON and MANDY BALCH are pictured with State Representative Vernon Stewart as they are employed by his office during the special session of the legislature. Four Burkburnett Students At Summer Workshop

Four Burkburnett students are among some 120 Texas high school student leaders attending the Texas Association of Student Councils' summer leadership workshop this week (June 18-23) at North Texas State University.

Representing Burkburnett High School are Dwight Caldwell, 102 Rose; Sherry Key, 819 Mimosa; Cindy Long, 120 B Jupiter St., Sheppard AFB; and Chris Strayhorn, 603 Meadow Drive. Their sponsor is M. Jan Horky.

Began in 1951 at NTSU, then known as North Texas State Teachers College, the Texas Association of Student Councils' summer program has grown from a single workshop to the seven to be conducted this summer.

Following the NTSU workshop, TASC will also host programs at Trinity University in San Antonio, Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches, the University of Houston, West Texas State University and at Hardin-Simmons in Abilene.

The group at NTSU, representing 20 different Texas cities, is spending its week in activities which include the development of a hypothetical community, with the students determining population, industry, average family income, number of schools and the city's history for the past five years.

Within those limitations, the student council officers then set up a hypothetical school, listing its characteristics, and a student council to fit its needs. Smith Markham, principal of L. V. Berkner High School in Richardson is directing the workshop; and the assistant director is Ivory Moore, assistant principal of Hirschi High School in Wichita Falls.

Workshop consultants are Jim Davis of Austin, assistant executive secretary of the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals, and his assistant, Mrs. Kathy Koska, student council sponsor at Spring High School near Houston.

After being served brunch, hosted by Mrs. Gray, the club held the installation of club officers for the 1972-73 year. Installed as new officers for the club were: Mrs. Eddie Reed, president; Mrs. Gary Owen, vice - president; Mrs. Mickey Cornelius, secretary; Mrs. Jimmy Lindsey, treasurer; Mrs. Gen Veach, reporter; Mrs. Buster Pruett, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Glen Harwell, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Randy Clement, historian.

Adjournment of the meeting was made after some discussion of plans for the coming year.

The cooler the home, the warmer the marriage.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but it's hard to keep them heavenly when it's hotter than blazes.

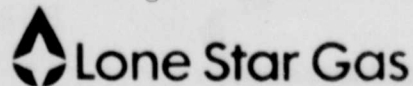

That's where central gas air conditioning comes in. It can bring you together. All summer long. As close as you want. All summer long.

And it won't cost you much either. In fact, if you have gas heating in your home, you could easily have half a central air conditioning system already. Because you may be able to use the duct work and furnace blower you already have. That saves about fifty percent on installation costs.

That's just part of the savings. Gas costs less to operate than electricity. And gas air conditioning owners get special low rates during the long hot summer months.

But you'll save more than money with gas. You'll save time and energy, too. Because with central gas air conditioning there are fewer moving parts. Fewer breakdowns. Fewer repairs.

This summer, have central gas air conditioning installed. For loves sake.

Library Corner

It was announced this week that the Friends of the Library will not hold its annual Book Fair this year, but hope to have a really large fair next spring.

It was pointed out that the library is still accepting books and anyone wishing to donate books may do so at the library or by calling Mrs. Frank Miller to pick them up. All types of books are accepted, especially reference books with duplicate copies being sold to raise funds for the facility.

Books are also now being offered for sale in a special section of the library with all proceeds going to purchase needed equipment and supplies.

300,000 Boats Now Registered In Texas

The Texas Parks and Wildlife's Boat Registration Branch reports that 300,000 boats have been currently registered as of May 23, 1972.

Although the common expiration date of March 31, 1972 has passed, transactions are still at a level of 1,000 to 2,000 per day.

Future registrations will not create the same volume problems, however, since the staggered registration program is now underway.

The first expiration date under the program is September 30, 1972. At that time 13,300 registrations will expire.

Renewal notices will be mailed at a first class rate to these applicable boat owners during July. Each subsequent month shows expirations of 13,000 to 18,000 registrations.

Renewal notices will be mailed during a period of 60 but not more than 90 days preceding each expiration date.

The department reminds registered boat owners that changes of ownership must be reported within 15 days of the transaction according to the Texas Water Safety Act. Failure to do so may result in difficulty in renewing registrations.

The renewal fee and respective notice should be mailed to Austin not later than three weeks prior to the expiration date to facilitate processing.

New or original registration numbers can be obtained without delay by visiting any one of the department's 31 sales offices throughout the state.

Other important improvements have been made in the registration process. The old paper certificate of number has been replaced by a more durable plastic card.

Color coded decals, which remind boat owners of their expiration dates, must now be placed on both the port and starboard sides of the boat three inches to the right of the numbers.

Registration records are now computerized which increases access speed and insures greater accuracy.

By June 30 the department anticipates a 10-working-day processing period for boat registrations.

The overall improved program will result in fast, accurate service at no additional cost to Texas boat owners.

New Love Grass Told By U.S.C.S.

A new grass selection adapted to the North and West Central Texas area--Mason sandhill love grass--has been released jointly by the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station, a local conservation leader said today.

Gary Batte, district conservationist for SCS at Iowa Park, said the new selection greens up earlier in the spring and produces more forage than sand lovegrass now available from commercial sources.

Certified seed should be available for planting in 1973, Batte said.

Mason sandhill lovegrass is a strain of native and lovegrass. It starts growing three to four weeks earlier than most native warm season grasses and two to three weeks earlier than common sand lovegrass. Grazing trials show it is very palatable to livestock, especially in the late winter and early spring when it is making rapid growth.

Batte said it is less palatable when seed heads form in the late summer and fall.

The grass frequently has short leaves near the base which stay green during the winter. This trait, combined with its ability to green up early, makes it highly desirable for use in range seeding mixtures.

The plant is adapted to sandy and medium textured soils in the Southern High Plains, Rolling Red Plains, Cross Timbers, and Edwards Plateau.

Batte said stockmen south of Lubbock need a grass such as sand lovegrass to include in range seeding mixtures. However sand love grass seed available from commercial sources is usually seed combined from native stands in the Northern Texas Panhandle or New Mexico. Native sand lovegrass from this region is not adapted to areas south of Lubbock so Mason sandhill lovegrass was selected to fill this need.

The grass was first found growing near Mason, Texas by SCS employees who noticed it had more vigor than other sand lovegrass plants. The seed was sent to the SCS plant materials center at Knox City where they were grown for observation and comparison with other sand lovegrass selections.

After SCS range conservationists and plant specialists agreed the strain appeared superior to other sand lovegrass selections, it was grown under irrigation for maximum seed production. When sufficient seed were available, the grass was field tested by several soil and water conservation district cooperators at widely scattered locations.

The new selection should normally be planted in mixtures with other adapted grasses such as indiangrass, sideoats grama, and little bluestem, Batte stressed. The grass does not respond as well to fertilization and tame pasture management as other commonly used tame pasture grasses such as weeping lovegrass or bermudagrass.

Seed production from Mason sandhill lovegrass can be expected to range from 50 to 200 pounds per acre dryland. Under irrigation, yields of 300 to 500 pounds per acre can be expected with proper management. Although the seed are extremely small (0.5 million per pound), they can be harvested with a combine if airflow is reduced and cracks or holes in the combine are closed.

Planting rate is two pounds per acre, pure live seed, drilled or broadcast. For row plantings, recommended only for seed production, the planting rate is 0.8 pounds per acre.

Sand lovegrass seed are slow to germinate and the seedlings develop slowly. In fact, some seed do not germinate until the second year. For this reason, SCS range specialists stress the need to defer grazing of sandhill lovegrass for two growing seasons after seeding.

Mason sandhill lovegrass has been approved by the State Seed and Plant Board as an officially recognized variety under the Texas Seed Certification Program administered by the Texas Department of Agriculture. Batte said stockmen should buy only certified Mason sandhill lovegrass seed if they want to be certain they are buying the new improved strain.

Other improved grasses released through the SCS plant materials work in Texas include King Ranch bluestem; Uvalde and El Reno sideoats grama; Blackwell and Greenville switchgrass; and Selection 75 Kleingrass.

Beef Prices Low Says F.B. Pres.

Texas Farm Bureau President J. T. (Red) Woodson said that the American consumer needs to understand that beef prices are not high in relation to other consumer items.

"As a matter of fact, the remarkable efficiency of the American cattlemen has helped hold down the price of beef to the consumer," Woodson said. He pointed out that farmers and ranchers have increased beef production by 2 1/2 times in the past 20 years--this at a time when the population was increasing by about a third.

"Normally, this situation would have depressed beef prices, except for the extraordinary demand for beef--particularly good American beef," the farm leader said. "In the past two decades, beef consumption per capita in this country has doubled."

Woodson, who raises purebred Hereford cattle on his livestock, grain and cotton farm in Fannin County, said there are several factors for this increase in per capita consumption. He said major factors are:

1. The rising standard of living of the American family.
2. Substantial increases in the Food Stamp Program.
3. Widespread boosts in welfare payments.

Woodson pointed out the beef prices to the producer are up to about the same level of the early 1950s. The difference in price at the retail level is a result of the inflation of the past 20 years, he said.

The farm leader said that only a fair price will keep an adequate supply of beef coming to the meat counters in the stores.

current trends--higher prices, more sales and increasing land to continue in the years just ahead.

Rural land also will experience greater recreational use and more large tracts will be cut up for developmental purposes.

Rural real estate loans are shifting from a land base to a man base. That is, lending agencies are taking a closer look at the person applying for a loan. Appraisal methods are also changing rapidly. Increased land demand will probably build to even greater pressure if three and four-day work weeks become widespread. The result would be more leisure time and commuting, as people flock to the country and buy and live on small acreages.

Hot, dry summer weather can be a big pain in the face for cattle. The reason is pink-eye. Pink-eye is an infectious eye disease of cattle of all ages and breeds. However, younger animals under two years of age appear to be more susceptible than older ones.

The eye inflammation occurs most often in the summer and fall and is generally more prevalent in white-faced animals. Dry, dusty conditions, bright sunlight, feeding in tall grass and the presence of flies all tend to aggravate the condition. The disease is caused primarily by bacteria. The eyelids swell and a watery discharge increases and thickens. The white of the eye becomes inflamed and a white or gray spot appears in the center of the eye.

Isolate the affected animals as soon as possible, and protect them from wind, dust and sunlight. Bathe the eye with a lukewarm, mild borax solution and dust with an antibiotic powder at least twice a day. This prevents a secondary infection and allows the eye to recover without complications. Although no specific drug is available to treat pink-eye, injections of Vitamin A and a cortisone product have helped in some cases.

Scratch a big dent in food costs by converting to bargain shopping.

To be a bargain shopper, read food ads in your local newspaper.

Look at the "Loss Leaders", usually the weekend specials at high savings to you and no profit to the stores. Remember that prepared foods cost more than those you prepare.

Frozen dinners and vegetables, ready-made desserts or easy-to-prepare casseroles charge for their convenience. Preparing these same items from scratch at home helps you save on your food bill.

Unit pricing also drags down food costs. Figure unit prices by checking those the local store has posted or by determining the cost per ounce or pound yourself. Comparing these to competing prices will prove that significant savings can be earned.

Another budget saver is buying in bulk quantities. Generally, a 10 pound bag of potatoes costs more than a 5-pound bag, but less per pound. The consumer, then, is spending more initially yet saving over the long run.

Curb expensive impulse by making a well-planned list of only what you need and sticking to that list.

Buying on impulse can ruin a food budget.

Speckled Trout In Texas Waters

Bass fisherman scratched their heads in amazement to see Parks and Wildlife biologists pull a saltwater speckled trout from the saline West Texas Red Bluff Reservoir.

A 20-inch, 3-pound ripe male was caught in an experimental net and the scale rings showed it to be more than seven years old.

It must be one of the original six trout which were stocked along with 378 redfish, 15 flounder and 23 pinfish back in 1964 to determine if such species could live in a saline inland lake.

Little has been heard of the pioneer transplants.

The catch is important because it indicates that a saltwater fish can reach maturity and survive in inland water.

There also exists the remote possibility that it may be able to spawn but department biologists note that should spawning activities take place, there is no assurance that the eggs would be fertile or that any young fish would survive should the eggs develop and hatch.

Reward Offered To Protect Eagle

--Reward-- $500 for information leading to the conviction of any person shooting a bald eagle in Texas or any other state.

The National Wildlife Federation started the bounty program in 1971 and one such reward has already been paid, according to an article in NWF's Conservation News.

The reward is paid upon verification that the claimant assisted in obtaining a conviction in the shooting of a bald eagle.

The claimant must request the reward in writing to the National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036, within six months after conviction.

National outlook for the bald eagle is bleak. As few as 3,000 to 4,000 birds are estimated to live in the contiguous 48 states.

Hard pesticides and diminishing habitat continue to take their toll. The southern species of bald eagle found in the eastern half of the United States is classified as an endangered species by the United States Interior Department.

According to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, information on the status of the bald eagle in Texas will soon be available to the public.

Back in March of this year, the department initiated a survey of the bald eagle and the osprey.

Questionnaire cards were sent out across the state requesting assistance from those having knowledge of nesting eagle or osprey activity.

The survey will be invaluable as a barometer for the Texas' eagle population.

Texas Number One Again...Beef Cattle Still Not At Full Parity...Milk Production Remains Steady...Egg-Type Chick Hatch Down, Broiler and Turkey Hatches Increase...Hogs Sold Through Auctions Are Up...DDT Ban Analyzed.

TEXAS is number one again in cattle feeding. The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes that 2,045,000 head of cattle were on feed in Texas as of June 1. This is 22 per cent above a year ago and 11 per cent above the 1,848,000 on feed a month ago.

Texas replaces Iowa as the number one cattle feeding state in the nation. For the six-state cattle on feed—Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, and Nebraska—cattle on feed total 7,925,000 head.

BEEF cattle prices, although at new highs, are still not on an equal financing rating with the rest of the economy. Beef prices are now at 93 per cent of parity; calf prices are at 96 per cent of parity. In reality, cattle prices are only slightly higher than levels of 20 years ago, yet cattle production costs have more than doubled during that time.

Throughout the six-state cattle on feed report, numbers of cattle on feed increased. The 7,925,000 head as of June 1 is 12 per cent more than a year ago.

MILK production in Texas during May totaled 293,000,000 pounds. This is the same as in May, 1971, but one per cent below the previous month's production.

Milk production per cow kept for milk averaged 825 pounds per cow for the month of May. This is the same as a year earlier but five pounds below the previous month. Preliminary price for all wholesale milk for May was estimated at $6.65 per hundredweight.

Nationwide, milk production is estimated during May at one per cent above a year earlier.

HATCH of egg-type chickens in Texas totaled 2,009,000, down 10 per cent from a year ago. The May hatch of broiler chicks increased five per cent from a year ago. The total of 18,163,000 was four per cent above the preceding month. The total turkey poult hatch for May at 1,436,000 increased nine per cent from a year ago.

Egg production totaled 240 million compared with 225 million a year ago. The 12.3 million layers averaged 62.8 eggs daily per 100 hens. Layers on hand were up four per cent from a year ago, two per cent below April.

Nationwide, egg production declined two per cent from a year ago. The daily egg production per 100 layers was slightly higher than for Texas at 63.7.

SALES for cattle and calves, sheep and goats were below year-ago levels while hog sales showed an increase.

Cattle and calves marketed through auctions during May numbered 567,000 head, 13 per cent below a year ago. Sheep sales at livestock auctions totaled 167,000 head, 24 per cent below a year ago.

Hogs sold during May totaled 54,000 head, four per cent above a year ago.

NO SERIOUS problems for Texas are in prospect with the banning of most uses of DDT at the end of this year, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said. The use of DDT in agriculture has declined drastically in recent years throughout the state.

COTTON season is underway with the first bale of cotton of the 1972 crop having been ginned recently at San Juan in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Indications are the Valley crop is a good one.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, TEX.--Legislators are moving along methodically toward completing work on a $3.8 billion 1973 state budget and trying to stay within revenue available.

Presiding officers set a "before-July 4" adjournment target date, but whether they could make it or not remained to be seen.

Gov. Preston Smith stuck by his pledge--to submit no additional business to the special session until the appropriations act is agreed on.

A representative's effort--via resolution -- to persuade Smith to "open the call" was rejected, when the House failed to suspend rules (on a 62-55 vote) and permit consideration. Proponents of the resolution argued the session is costing taxpayers $34,000 a day, but nothing could be accomplished while committees continued to process the appropriations act.

Progress was possible toward better legislative rules as both houses marked time before the budget landed on members' desks.

The senate adopted a new set of procedures, providing for fewer and smaller committees and permitting, for the first time, open floor debate on appointments matters.

The house also took a look at further rules amendments designed to reform the committee structure and improve legislative machinery.

Meanwhile, the Senate waded through confirmations of hundreds of interim appointments by the governor, occasionally finding one to reject.

COURTS SPEAK--Sentences of 250 years given three Dallas men in shootings during robberies were upheld by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The court also upheld the 10-year sentence of a Houston man in the fatal shooting of a pregnant woman.

A federal court suit charging discrimination against minorities at the University of Texas at El Paso has been moved to El Paso for trial.

DRAFT CALL SET--About 500 young Texans will be inducted into the Army during August, State Selective Service Melvin Glantz predicted.

Men in the first priority group with numbers of 75 or lower are subject to induction.

Those in this range were born in 1952 or before, have lost a draft deferment during 1972 and are now classified 1-A, 1-A-O or 1-O.

There is no quota for Texas, but Glantz noted an increase of 25 in the lottery number for induction from the July draft call. August induction orders will be issued between July 3 and July 28.

LIVESTOCK EXPORT HALT THREATENED--The Mexican government, unhappy with quarantine facilities, threatens to halt export of Texas livestock through major border cities, Agriculture Commissioner John White said.

White said the state faces possible closing of border gates to Texas cattle at El Paso, Laredo, and Brownsville, with re-routing of valuable state export market shipments through Miami, Fla.

Mexican officials insist on "adequate quarantine corrals." Such facilities are under construction at Del Rio and Eagle Pass. White said Texas has not had time and money to build the corrals elsewhere. He said the export halt would have a "serious impact" on a multi-million-dollar program.

AG OPINIONS--The University of Houston may not collect a voluntary fee from students to finance the Texas Public Interest Research Group, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

* A driver who operates his car in a negligent, but not "grossly negligent" manner not in violation of a law or ordinance may be tried under negligent homicide statutes if he causes death. But one who causes death by "gross negligence" while violating a law or ordinance may not be tried for negligent homicide.

* The State Comptroller is not authorized to issue a warrant for overpayments of salaries to state agencies when he has knowledge the claim is in excess of the lawful maximum. Neither does he have authority to issue a warrant for an amount greater than that requested by another department head.

* The Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation can make payment in cash to its employees who are subject to the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act for authorized overtime.

* A court clerk or reporter is not required to prepare and furnish any portion of the record to individuals confined in state and federal penitentiaries under a pauper's oath in the absence of a court order.

* Texas Water Development Board and Texas Water Quality Board cannot amend joint rules to authorize purchase of certificates of obligation except for purposes outlined in statutes.

* The estate of a state employee is entitled to, as death benefit, accumulated vacation time accrued in two prior years, plus that in year of death.

REVACCINATION URGED--Revaccination of horses immunized during the Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis outbreak in 1971 was advised by Texas Veterinary Medical Association and Texas Animal Health Commission.

TAHC and TVMA officials said, although no epidemic is eminent, revaccination is good insurance against the deadly form of sleeping sickness in horses. About 2,000 horses died in Texas during last year's epidemic, and 90 cases of VEE in humans was reported.

APPOINTMENTS--Governor Smith reappointed James Matthew Syler of Newton to the Sabine River Compact Commission.

Smith named Julian O. Crooke of Beaumont, William Francis Fredeman of Port Arthur, William Madison Monroe of Port Arthur, William Putnam Sexton of Orange and Lee Blanchette Wheat of Beaumont as pilot commissioners for the Sabine Bar, Pass and Tributaries.

NEW VETERANS AID MAKES DEBUT -- A new national program to help veterans make a smooth transition to civilian life was initiated here last week.

Mobile vans staffed by six specialists in veterans' services offer information on education, training, jobs, loans and medical care available to veterans. The vans later moved on to San Marcos and scheduled visits to New Braunfels, Seguin, Victoria, Corpus Christi, Kingsville, Galveston, Lufkin, Beaumont and Houston.

REFUNDS AVAILABLE--Income tax refunds are available for prisoners of war, those missing in action and their families, Internal Revenue Service District Director R. L. Phinney announced.

Phinney said new law provides that military or government pay may be excluded while servicemen or civilian employees of the government are imprisoned or missing, retroactive to Feb. 28, 1961.

Short Snorts Democratic officials will meet in Abilene Friday (June 30) to pick a new District 61 nominee for state representative to replace David W. Ratliff of Stamford who declined the nomination after legal troubles.

The first bale of cotton in the U.S. was ginned June 20 at San Juan in the Rio Grande Valley.

Twenty five nominees from among 275 highway department maintenance foreman will compete for the third annual Lady Bird Johnson Award for highway beautification.

More than 1,700 Texans who violated game, fish and boating laws last month paid about $38, 000 in fines. Most of them fished without a license--and paid fines from $5 to $50.

Thirty-one applications to sell more than $1.8 million in securities were filed with the State Securities Board last week.

Waste control regulations for the turkey growing industry have been prepared for Texas Water Quality Board consideration.

Plans to establish 154 new manufacturing plants in Texas and to expand 115 others were reported during the first six months of 1972, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Russell H. Perry of Dallas was named president of Texas Good Roads Association, succeeding Callan Graham of Austin. Wade Lorenz of Freepport is first vice-president.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

By Crawford C. Martin
Attorney General of Texas

It's time to pay bills again. And there's a bill from the department store for a whopping $520! What do you do? Begin to grill each family member ruthlessly to find the culprit? Maybe, but it could be that a computer's the one to blame.

In our electronic age, computer billing is becoming more and more frequent--and so are the billing mix-ups. Computers are fussy and one small human error can cause them to overreact and batch up thousands of accounts.

Some of the things that can go wrong in the course of a transaction are: mistakes in the credit office when a girl reads off the wrong charge card number for a customer who forgot his card; salesman inserting a "5" on a bill and the billing clerk reading "1" instead; or, the alteration and billing departments not getting together and charging a customer for clothes that haven't even been delivered yet.

Another mix-up can occur when a customer pays part of a purchase in cash and charges the rest. With the billing forms used, it is easy for a key punch operator to misread a statement and charge the customer for the full purchase instead of just what is owed.

The worst mix-up is when new mistakes are made while trying to correct old ones. A customer who tires to stop billing on an account until it is put in order often can wind up with a service charge and his name on a delinquent payment list.

A consumer can do some things to protect himself from the computer's tantrums, however. Make sure to use a credit card plate whenever possible. Check and make sure the figures on your sales slips are clear and correct. Save those duplicate sales invoices and compare them with the month's statement. Always return the bill form or punch card with the check to insure you get the credit for paying.

If you do come up with errors on your account, notify the bill sender as soon as possible. If you phone in your complaint, know and remember who you talk to so you can find them again if the situation isn't solved. If you write, don't further confuse the issue by enclosing a bill payment or other correspondence. Don't pay for any part of an incorrect bill or merchandise you didn't get.

Allow enough time for a mistake to clear up. It can take two billing cycles for the adjusters to track down a mistake and correct it. But remember, you have a legal right not to be harassed over bills that aren't yours. So be on the lookout for mistakes and speak up if you find them.

NEA Announce Certification Of Three Burk Technicians

The National Electronics Association announced recently the certification of three Burk Burnett electronic technicians, Harold Oakley of Harold Oakley of Harold's T.V., Joe Pugliese of J & L Electronics, and Jim Watson of Bills T.V.

These men completed a 125-question test June 1 on the theory of electronics and practical repairs. They are the only repairmen in Burk Burnett with this life-time certification, three out of twelve repairmen in the county, and 290 in the state.

These men are now Certified Electronic Technicians and will display the nationally recognized CET certificate in their place of business.

Guidelines of Life

By Ed Morris, Church of Christ

Counted Your Blessings Lately? How is your health these days? Are you getting plenty to eat? I am so sorry your second family car is in the garage. It sure does work a hardship on your family I know. Do you mean to tell me that the T.V. repair man didn't show up and you had to do without your "Boob tube" for one whole evening? You had surgery on your eye and now you have 100% vision? Wonderful! Seriously folks have you counted your blessings lately? Did you know that Fanny Crosby lived in darkness for 95 years? What a beautiful person she must have been. I think of the lovely words of one of her songs,

"And I shall see him face to face,
And tell the story saved by grace."

Ah, yes, we have so much to be thankful for. And when some of you modern housewives get to feeling sorry for yourselves, hang this little "reecet" in your washroom: (It was written by Nadine Mills Coleman)

Years ago when my Kentucky grandmother was a bride, her mother gave her her "reecet" for washing clothes. This treasured bit of writing now hangs above my gleaming automatic washer and dryer:

1. build fire in the back yard to het kettle of rain water.
2. set tubs so smoke won't blow in eyes if wind is peart.
3. shave 1 hole cake lie sope in bilin water.
4. sort things, make 3 piles, 1 pile white, 1 pile cullard, and 1 pile work briches and rags.
5. stur flour in cold water to smooth, then thin down with bilin water for starch.
6. rub dirty spots on board, scrub hard, then bile, rub cullard but don't bile, just rench and starch.
7. take white things out of kettle with broom stick handel and rench, blew and starch.
8. spred tee towels on grass.
9. hand old rags on fence.
10. pore rench water in flower beds.
11. scrub porch with hot soapy water.
12. go put on clean dress--smooth hair with side combs - brew cup of tea - set and rest and rock a spell and count blessings.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE

Self-Service Gasoline Pumps Now Opened At Sheppard's Gate 2

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The grand opening of new self-service gasoline pumps at the Gate 2 (north) service station at Sheppard AFB was held Thursday morning with Col. S.D. Berman, base commander, officiating at the ceremony.

The pumps on one island at the north station, dispensing regular, high test and low lead gasoline, were converted, while the remaining island will continue to provide full service as usual.

Recommended by Harold A. Epting, general manager of the Sheppard Base Exchange in February 1972, the project was approved by the Army - Air Force Exchange Service in April. According to Mr. Epting, the self-service facility will provide the military community here with speedier service and a savings of 2¢ per gallon.

Colonel Berman authorized the new facility in May, providing for the conversion at the north station, and a subsequent conversion of one island at the south service station, near the main gate, at a later date.

"The introduction of the self-service method is not a temporary idea," said Mr. Epting. "It has been well accepted in this area and is obviously here to stay."

Degree Black Belt Claimed By Tsgt Samuel Palmer At SAFB

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The word karate means "empty hands" in Japanese, but to an observer in Tsgt. Samuel Palmer's class, "concentration" might be a more apt description.

As the students warm up and then do their "katas" or formal exercises, there is a singularity of purpose in their faces, a total disregard for the hot, steamy air of the basement room.

"To 'sensei' Palmer, though, that discipline and dedication is utterly essential. A dental laboratory instructor with the School of Health Care Sciences at Sheppard, he learned karate while stationed in Okinawa. There, he studied Shorin-ryu, an Okinawan form of karate. He began slowly, emerging himself first in Okinawan culture and language and then beginning with karate itself. By the time he left the island two and a half years later, he had earned a third degree black belt. Only one other caucasian has this honor.

When he returned to the United States, he started a karate school wherever he was stationed: First in Belleville, Ill., near Scott AFB, then Panama City, Fla., near Tyndall AFB, and now Wichita Falls. But in all his teaching he has not accepted any pay, preferring instead to instruct karate as a means to self-confidence and self discipline.

Discipline seems to be the main factor in Sergeant Palmer's class. Sergeant Palmer is the only one who speaks unless there is an advanced student learning the drills. There is also a rigorous ritual that must be maintained such as the bowing and commands in Japanese. Although it looks unnecessary, perhaps even contrived, it is an integral part of karate, contributing to the discipline and mental attitude that is so important.

Shorin-ryu, and all karate, is a fighting art, but one that stresses self-defense, as Sergeant points out. More than a means of combat, though, it is a means of molding personality. It is as much a mental process as a physical one. And throughout the drills and exercises, it is apparent that dedication and perseverance, particularly when beginning, are necessary to the "shiro-oh," or white belt.

There are of course definite benefits to learning karate. There is the obvious ability to defend oneself; but beyond this there is an increase in self-confidence and health. Perhaps most interesting is that hand-capped people can practice karate since discipline and determination mean more than physical strength and power.

Sergeant Palmer presently gives lessons at the Wichita Falls YMCA four nights a week. Anyone is welcome to come and observe and, if interested, take lessons. At first the entire atmosphere seems intimidating, but the quiet enthusiasm and dedication are catching and intriguing, as is the patience and helpfulness of Sergeant Palmer and his instructors.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--NEW NURSES--First Lieutenants Raymond J. Glodek and Loren D. Newman, both recent graduates of the Officers Basic Military Training - Medical Course of the School of Health Care Sciences at Sheppard, listen as their role as newly commissioned officers is explained. Both men have prior service as noncommissioned officers and received their degrees and commissions through the Airman's Education and Commissioning Program. (OFFICIAL USAF PHOTO)

Two Men Nurses First To Enter Air Force After Receiving Diploma

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Two of the nurses in the Officers Basic Military Training Medical course at the School of Health Care Sciences at Sheppard Air Force Base were the first to enter the Air Force after receiving their degrees through the Airman Education and Commissioning Program.

They were first lieutenants Raymond J. Glodek and Loren D. Newman, who went to Travis AFB, Calif., after completing the two-week orientation program at Sheppard Friday.

Both former "Noncoms" were able to start the program within a year of the day they submitted their application. "I was really surprised when I was selected for the program," Lieutenant Newman said. "I hope everyone interested in AECP won't hesitate to apply." Lieutenant Newman was pharmacist specialist for eight years before becoming a nurse.

Lieutenant Glodek, a surgical technician previously stationed at Castle AFB, Calif., had 12 years of prior service before his commission. "I was afraid my grades would prevent my selection for the program, but more is considered than just your grades," he stated.

The two lieutenants were among five individuals receiving their degrees and commissions marking the first time a nurse has received his bars through AECP. Eleven NCO's started school, with the remaining six expected to earn their degrees this fall.

The new nurses by-passed the rank of second lieutenant as a result of a new regulation that went into effect in February of this year. This states that nurses with a baccalaureate background will be commissioned as first lieutenants.

Both lieutenants received their bachelor of science degree from Chico State College, Chico, Calif.

Anyone who may be interested in the AECP program should contact their Base Information Office for details and requirements.

New Award Given Second Lieutenant Donald Parker

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Second Lieutenant Donald J. Parker received a new award, the Outstanding Lieutenant award, during the United States Air Force German Air Force Undergraduate Pilot Training Program at Sheppard Air Force Base Saturday morning.

This award, presented by Col. Elmer K. Follis, deputy commander for operations, 3630th Flying Training Wing, was set up to recognize the second lieutenant in the class who contributed most to the morale, esprit de corps and the overall program for UPT students.

All award recipients were members of the United States Air Force. Capt. Gerard W. Stalnaker received the Air Training Command Commander's trophy and a distinguished graduate letter. 1st Lt. Jack S. Isaminger was the other distinguished graduate and he also earned the flying trophy. Recipient of the academic trophy was 2nd Lt. Dennis A. Jeck.

Col. Robert W. Cunningham, commander of the 3630th Flying Training Wing, presented the ATC commander's trophy, the distinguished graduate letters and the U.S. Air Force wings and diplomas. Lt. Col. Hans J. Kuprat, commander of the 1st German Student Squadron, presented the academic and flying trophies and the German wings and diplomas to the German students.

Following the graduation, a change of command ceremony was held. Col. Robert G. Liotta, former commander of the 338th Pilot Training Squadron at Keesler AFB, accepted the command of the organization from Colonel Cunningham, who is going to Keesler as commander of the Maintenance and Supply Group there.

Speaker for the graduation ceremonies was Col. Daniel O. Walsh, assistant director of operations, 1st Tactical Fighter Wing at MacDill AFB, Fla.

Gen. Page To Be Inducted

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Maj. Gen. Jerry D. Page, former commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, will be inducted into the Air Training Command's Order of the Sword in ceremonies at Sheppard July 27.

Members of Sheppard's Top Three Council composed of Sergeants at Chief Master, Senior Master and Master Sergeant grades, discussed plans leading to the induction during a recent meeting at the Noncommissioned Officers Club.

General Page will be the second person so honored by ATC's sergeants. The first one to be honored was Congressman F. Edward Herbert (D-La) in ceremonies at Randolph AFB, Texas, last year.

The Order of the Sword was established by the command's NCOs as a means of recognizing and honoring individuals both military and civilian, for outstanding and significant contributions to the welfare and prestige of the NCO corps and the military establishment.

All ATC center and wing commanders as well as Headquarters ATC deputy chiefs of staff have been invited to attend. Uniform for the evening will be Class A blues with a white shirt and black bowtie for NCOs and white summer messidress for attending officers.

All NCOs from sergeant through chief master sergeant are eligible to attend the event in the NCO Club on a first-come, first-served basis. The ceremonies will begin with a cocktail hour at 6:30 p.m., July 27, followed by a 7:40 dinner, special entertainment by the "Airmen of Note" at 8:30 and the Order of the Sword induction at 9 p.m.

Cost for the evening is $10 per person, which includes dinner, refreshments, service charge and a special memento. For more information concerning the evening, contact Sgt. Richard Tappley at ext. 2177.

Page Gets Aircraft Contract

By Sgt. James Bernstein SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--The 348 Serv-Air maintenance and custodial employees at Sheppard AFB will be given first priority in filing Page Aircraft Maintenance Inc. of Lawton, Okla., employment vacancies when Page begins its new contract here July 1, according to Mr. Ed Storie, Page's phase-in project manager.

Announced last week, the new contract calls for Page to provide aircraft maintenance and related services to the Undergraduate Pilot Training Program, 3630th Flying Training Wing here.

The new contract, estimated at $3,091,412 for the first year with two one-year government renewal options, ends the six-year affiliation of Serv-Air Inc. with Sheppard.

Page officials anticipate that approximately the same number of jobs will be available as before, but added that there will be no increase in the number of employees. Serv-Air's payroll for FY 1972 will be about $3 million.

Storie said that no radical changes in maintenance operation are contemplated and that "changes will be made as necessary for operational improvement as we proceed into the contract." No details were given as to what those changes may be.

Page won the contract in competition with Serv-Air and one other corporation after Air-Training Command screened out other bidders that were deemed incapable of providing the technical operation expected.

Final negotiations were conducted with all three bidders, and Page was awarded the contract on their low bid for service. "It was strictly a cost consideration," said Storie. "We offered the best possible service at the lowest cost to the Air Force after meeting the technical requirements."

Mr. Glenn Ladd, administrative contracting officer for the German Air Force program at the 3630th Flying Training Wing at Sheppard outlined the basic tenants of the contract.

"It covers primarily the furnishing of equipment, management, qualified maintenance people and service necessary to maintain T-37 and T-38 aircraft in support of the flying training mission on Sheppard."

"It also includes re-fueling and de-fueling services, transportation of flying training students and providing wing area custodial service."

"The $3,091,412 figure is the first year of the contract. At government option, that figure will be re-negotiated each year when the contract is renewed."

Serv-Air's current general manager, Ralph Walker, is being retained by the Page Corp. in the same capacity.

The new contractor is presently co-ordinating with Serv-Air on work schedules and administrative details in preparation for the July switch.

Page is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Northrop Corp. and employs more than 2,100 people. Founded in 1957, they have just acquired the aircraft maintenance contract at Vance AFB, Okla. and also provide the same service to the Army fixed and rotary aircraft center at Ft. Rucker, Ala.

Page will occupy the same facilities currently used by Serv-Air on the flight line at the wing.

Father Administers Oath of Enlistment To Son In Ceremonies

By Sgt. John Clark SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Richard S. Adams, son of Lt. Col. Richard J. Adams, the flight commander of the Department of Field Training, 3750th Technical School at Sheppard AFB, is now "Airman Basic" Adams.

The change of title occurred on June 13, when Colonel Adams administered the oath of enlistment to his son in ceremonies at the Consolidated Base Personnel Office at Sheppard.

"I really loved having my father swear me into the Air Force," said Richard. "I'm pleased he was able to do it."

Having graduated from Burk Burnett High School this year, Richard signed up for a six-year hitch in the Air Force Reserve so that he could attend the U.S. Air Force Academy Preparatory School in Colorado Springs, Colo.

"To apply for the school, a prospective student must pass physical and mental tests, as well as submitting a transcript of high school studies," he commented. "Appointment to the regular Air Force Academy is based on the student's performance in the prep school."

Excited about his prospects at the school, Richard has already decided that he would like to major in math or science with a career in flying uppermost in his mind.

"I've always wanted to be a pilot," he said. "I thought this would be the best way to achieve that goal."

Richard will report to Lackland AFB, Tex. in July to undergo four weeks of basic military training, prior to journeying to the academy in August.

"I've been thinking about, and planning for this for the last two years," reflected the airman. "I know I can make it."

National Guard To Help Texas DPS

Gov. Preston Smith this week announced he was again calling on the Texas National Guard to assist the Department of Public Safety in maintaining traffic safety.

He said Guardsmen will be employed in a 12-county area around Dallas and Fort Worth during the long July Fourth holiday weekend. Guardsmen were employed during the Memorial Day holiday weekend in the Austin and San Antonio areas.

Gov. Smith emphasized that the Guard would be utilized in support of the DPS. "They will not be empowered to make arrests or perform other law enforcement duties," he said.

"The terrible toll of holiday traffic continues to reach emergency proportions," Gov. Smith said. "Accordingly, we feel that it is essential that we try every appropriate measure within the resources of the state to cut this toll of tragedy."

Gov. Smith said the use of Guardsmen during the Memorial weekend appeared to be helpful to the driving public of Texas. "The utilization of Guardsmen to assist the highway patrol in the heavily congested Dallas-Fort Worth area during the July Fourth holiday period will give us the opportunity to observe this traffic safety effort under a different set of circumstances," the Governor said.

"Because the Guard belongs to the communities of Texas," said Major Gen. Ross Ayers, adjutant general of Texas, "we feel this is an appropriate opportunity for the National Guard. One of the important missions of the Guard is to provide assistance to the citizens of the state during emergency situations," he said. "This is what we will be doing during the July Fourth weekend."

He said Guardsmen performed many varied duties in the Austin and San Antonio areas during Memorial Day. "A Guardsman accompanied DPS patrolmen, thereby enabling the DPS to operate with just one of its personnel in each patrol car," Gen. Ayers said.

"In addition, Guardsmen assisted stalled motorists by changing flat tires, starting autos with jumper cables and summoning wreckers," he said. Guardsmen also flew helicopter reconnaissance over heavily traveled routes, assisted in traffic control at the scene of several minor traffic incidents, provided communications magnifying the DPS's equipment, and performed other duties related to traffic safety.

Gov. Smith said the presence of the many National Guard vehicles, including helicopters, and the additional DPS vehicles that the Guard assistance made possible "apparently acted as a great psychological deterrent, preventing some reckless driving."

He also said the use of the National Guard in Texas to assist in highway safety has attracted national attention.

"Several requests for detailed information have been received from other states which are interested in similar use of their state military forces," Gov. Smith said.

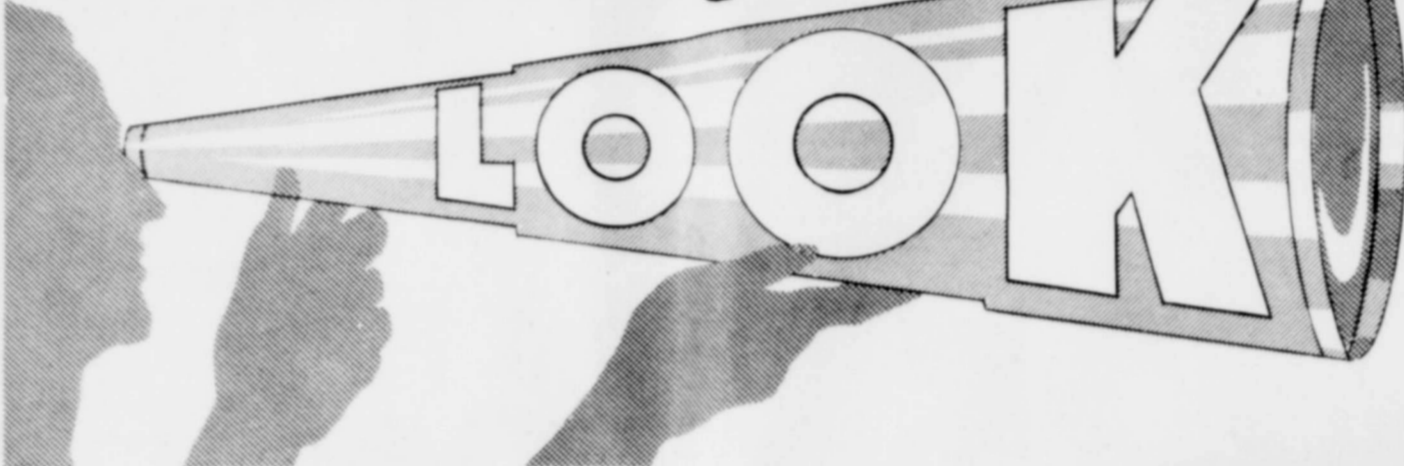

Rep. Stewart Urges Automobile Rates Lowered For Officers

Representative Vernon Stewart today co-authored a bill providing State payments for all hospitalization costs for peace officers who are permanently incapacitated in the line of duty.

Stewart said, "Many Texas cities and counties make no provisions at all for paying the hospitalization costs of their police officers or sheriff's deputies who are injured in the line of duty and require hospitalization for the rest of their lives. These officers are left to bear the entire burden of a lifetime of hospital expenses themselves. This bill will remedy this unfortunate omission in our statutes. It gives the Texas Employees Retirement System a mandate to pick up the tab for hospital confinement when cities and counties do not do so for such peace officers."

Although the Governor has not opened the call of this Special Session to additional subjects, Representative Stewart said he hoped the Governor would do so, and that this important matter would be included.
