An official of Burk's Little League Program asked if there was any way that the mothers of Little Leaguers could be thanked for the tremendous job that they have done all year long in helping with all activities? On behalf of the entire Little League Program, we, the people of Burk, and Little League program officials do thank all mothers very much for their hard work. Especially during the recent Hotdog Feed and for the candy sales used for raising money for the Little League Fund.

Two businesses in Burkburnett have relocated this week and one new business has opened in town. We're proud to tell you about them. First there is Bill's Auto Parts on Sheppard Road. Bill's has now moved into an all new, ultra modern building just north of Mathis Chevrolet and is open for business. The Burk Sweet Shop has also relocated on Sheppard Road and will be open for business today, Thursday, with their grand opening. On the Oklahoma Cut-off the B-E-E Ceramic Shop opened its doors for business Tuesday at 2:00 p.m. We wish these three businesses every success and good luck in the future.

Speeches are like steer horns, a point here, a point there, and a lot of bull in between.

Personal Opinion

Out of nine calls to managers and owners of gas stations in Burkburnett Tuesday afternoon, not a single one said that he was so low on gas that he wouldn't help out any harvesters that needed gas. Most of the station operators did say that they couldn't handle 20 to 30 trucks or combines a day but said that they have not refused gas to anyone to this date. These nine stations were called using the yellow pages of the Burkburnett phone book. There were nine other stations in town not called but all or near all are more than likely in the same position.

Granted, there definitely is a gas shortage in the area and in the nation, but from what information that can be gathered from Burk gas men, there is no reason for any wheat field to go unharvested. A farmer or harvester may find it necessary to pay a few cents more per gallon than he did last year but what choice has he got if his wheat is withering in the fields like past news stories have stated.

The fuel situation is surely serious but is it as serious as we have made it sound? Probably all gas distributors all over the country are put on a quota, but in this area most stations are not out of gas and are willing to sell at retail price.

One station owner stated that he had 20,000 gallons in the ground. Another said he had 17,000 gallons in the ground. Others said that they were on schedule with their quota. Not one has refused a harvester gas.

The apparent fact is that there is gas in the area and the wheat harvest hasn't slowed one bit. And really there is no reason why it should.

Water Line Contract Awarded Okla. Firm

All-state Utilities Company of Tulsa, Oklahoma was awarded contract for the construction of 8.2 miles of water transmission lines by the Burkburnett City Council Monday night. The contract price of $369,159.63 includes 3.5 miles of 18 inch pipe and 4.7 miles of 16 inch line. Wichita Falls which has contracted to sell water to Burkburnett, will pay a total of $78,500.00 on the project.

According to Burk City Manager Gary Bean, "Work will probably commence on the project in approximately 45 days. Once actual work is started, the contract states that completion will be within 165 days."

During Monday night's meeting, the City Council also approved the sale of $700,000 in water and sewer revenue bonds to Kirschner, Moore and Company and Associates of Denver, Colorado at an average interest rate of 4.986526 on a 20-year basis.

Five sealed bids were submitted to the Council for the bonds. Each of the other bids averaged over 5%.

In other businesses, purchase of one tree chipper at the bid price of $4,217 to be used by the garbage department also was approved by the Council.

Bids will be opened at 10:00 a.m. Friday, June 15 on the construction of 8,000 feet of waterline within the City limits. Contracts for the job will be let at the regular council meeting on June 25.

School Personnel Employment Approved

In the regular meeting of the Burkburnett School Board Monday night, employment of three teachers and 31 auxiliary personnel for 1973-74 was approved.

The three teachers approved were J.B. Darland, Jr., high school physical education teacher and coach; Diane Martinson, speech therapy, and Carolyn Paskus, third grade teacher for Hardin Elementary School.

Hiring of school custodians was tabled by the board until a later date. Nine school secretaries and 22 cafeteria workers were approved as auxiliary personnel.

The resignations of Linda Froman, Opal Kennedy, Anna Lawless, Cecil McCoy, Jane McCoy, Judith Mandigo, Roy Sitzman and Rita Stowe were accepted by the Board of Trustees.

In other business the board authorized the purchase of two new '72 passenger school buses but tabled consideration of an extension of the auto mechanics building at the high school. The board set the date of June 25 for the opening of bids on the installation of new ceilings, electrical fixtures and tile flooring at Hardin Elementary School.

Tax collections for the month were $873.32. This brings the total collections of the year to date to $244,712.77.

The decision was made by board members to receive Regional Media Services again this year. Regional Media Services is a branch of the Texas Agency that supplies teaching aides.

Workmen are shown salvaging three carloads of wheat following a three car derailment between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett last weekend. The three cars left the tracks at approximately 7:00 p.m. Saturday night.

Wheat Cars Derail In Mishap Saturday

Three carloads of wheat derailed and crashed last Saturday night at approximately 7:00 p.m. just outside the Burkburnett city limits. The load of wheat was enroute to Wichita Falls when the mishap occurred.

The estimated 30 car train, owned and operated by MKT (Missouri, Kansas & Texas) Railroad Company of Dallas apparently hit a weak spot in the tracks and caused the three wheat laden cars near the middle of the train to derail, with two of the cars overturning.

Erway Salvage Company of Dallas, headed by Bill Grimes, was sent to the scene to salvage the wheat. According to Grimes, near all of the wheat was salvaged from the wreck. Possibly a thousand pounds of wheat was lost due to the accident. A spokesman at the MKT office stated that the major loss from the accident will be contributed to the damaged cars and equipment and the transferring of the wheat from the cars to Wichita Falls.

This particular segment of the MKT Railroad runs from Altus, Oklahoma to Wichita Falls. The wheat involved in the accident was loaded onto the railroad cars at Grandfield.

Workers from MKT quickly started work to open the railroad back up. A shoofly, a piece of track built around the damaged cars, was constructed and the track was back in operation by 4:00 p.m. Sunday.

The camp will be held July 30 through August 3 in Permian Park beside Burkburnett Swimming Pool from 9:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. Activities will include swimming, hiking, cycling, outdoor skills, music and crafts.

The training will be to instruct volunteer workers in basic outdoor skills, camp procedure and program activities. Volunteers are still needed to assist unit leaders and help supervise camp activities.

Any girl wishing to attend camp and adults volunteering to assist should immediately contact Mrs. Louise Newton, 569-1621, Mrs. Betty Holcomb, 569-0668 or Mrs. Jeanette Mooney, 569-1508. Heritage Week Slated For June 25-30

Heritage Week sponsored annually by the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce will be celebrated June 25-30, according to Loretta Hunt, committee chairman.

Many of the store windows in Burkburnett will be lined with old photographs and other historic relics of Burkburnett's past. Numerous civic clubs in Burkburnett have each decided to sponsor a window.

A square dance exhibition in the street and music of the past from country and western bands will also be on tap for the week's entertainment.

Watch the newspaper for further details on the week's activities, and then make plans to attend.

Possible Theft Ring Broken

According to Sgt. Scott Newton of the Burkburnett Police Department, a possible motorcycle theft ring was broken up last week with the arrest of one man and the confiscation of three stolen motorcycles in Burkburnett.

The arrest was made after a tip from the Wichita Falls Police Department said that a man in Burk had stolen motorcycles in his garage. The tip was received Saturday afternoon at approximately 1:30 p.m. At 2:30 p.m., a Burk citizen called the Police Department and reported that motorcycles were racing on the Oklahoma cutoff.

Two Burkburnett officers responded to the call and stopped two young men on unlicensed motorcycles, both riding without helmets, which is a violation of the law in itself. The officers made a routine check of the cycles, took the registration numbers from the cycles and turned the numbers over to the dispatcher. The boys were warned and let go. The dispatcher sent the information to the NCIC (National Crime Information Center) in Washington, D.C.

Meanwhile, the boys were kept under surveillance. They loaded up their cycles and took them to the house that the earlier tip had said was housing stolen bikes. This time the boys put the cycles inside the house, instead of in the garage.

At this same time the police dispatcher received word from Washington D.C. that the motorcycles were stolen.

Harry B. Sanders was then arrested when he came out of the house. After obtaining a search warrant, three motorcycles were found inside the house and confiscated by police and confirmed as stolen.

Another suspect is being sought at this time.

According to Sgt. Newton, the motorcycles were apparently being stolen in Oklahoma and brought into Texas.

The Burkburnett Junior High Cheerleaders for the 1973-74 year just completed a week at National Cheerleading Association Camp at Harrell School in Wichita Falls. Each day evaluation was held and the Burk girls won 3 "excellent" and 2 "superior" ribbons--the highest given. The spirited stick is a coveted award and the Burk group won it 3 times including Friday, so it will be proudly displayed at the Junior High in the fall. The cheerleaders are from left (kneeling): Janet Lax, head cheerleader, 8th grade; Mickey Arthur, 8th grade; Fred Anderson, 7th grade; (standing) Krista Grant, 7th grade; (top) Lolly Hatcher, 8th grade.

INTRODUCING
MICHAEL REED WINTER, 8 1/2 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Winter of Kenner, Louisiana. His mother is the former Kathie Reed of Burk Burnett.
Michael is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jack N. Reed of Burk Burnett and Mrs. Ruth Bain of Titusville, Penn.

Grace Lutheran Receives Nine By Confirmation

Through the rite of confirmation nine teenagers were recently received into communicant membership in Grace Lutheran.

The Lutheran practice of confirmation helps the home and the church to focalize for the child what an important gift God has given him in the Lord's Supper. The child is made more keenly aware of the concern which his parents and fellow Christians have for his spiritual welfare. Furthermore, the ceremony gives the catechumen the opportunity to make a personal, formal confession of faith, not as though this is either the first or the last time that he will acknowledge the baptismal covenant but rather as one of a new series of such witnesses that he will make every time he partakes of the Lord's Supper.

Confirmation represents a tremendous dedication and discipline of study. In preparing for confirmation the young candidate engages in a two-year prescribed course of Bible study that includes the chief doctrines of the Christian faith. In this way the church provides for the strengthening of baptismal faith and prepares the recipient for an intelligent and responsible participation in the church's life and mission.

*Guidelines

by Rev. Ed Newhouse, Cashion Baptist Church

The ever increasing technology and scientific achievement of this age has given many men a proud outlook. There are many who would look at man on the moon and say, "There I have finally reached the point where I no longer need God". It only takes a slight lowering of our gaze from the moon to our own earth to realize that, far from no longer needing God, man has placed himself in a position where he needs God more than ever. God is still able to ask man as he asked Job: "Where wast thou when I laid the foundations of the earth? declare if thou hast understanding." Job 38:4

While man's technology has made life somewhat more comfortable it has in no way made it better, on the contrary it has in many areas made life much worse than before.

The answer to man's problems today still lies in his relationship to his Creator. Man without Jesus Christ is a creation totally alienated from and war with his Creator. Because of this condition he is condemned to a fruitless existence in this life and eternal damnation in the next. Because of God's mercy, He has provided a way that man can escape the punishment he is justly due. That way is Jesus Christ and through His sacrifice on the cross He took man's place. The Bible clearly states this promise in Romans 3:23, "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." This gift is offered to you, why not accept it by repenting of your sins and asking Jesus to be your Lord.

Devol News

Harvest had just got off to a good start on the Bob Farmer farm 4 miles north of Devol when a devastating fire swept through the ripe wheat leaving in a few minutes a black smoldering field. Combines were in the field cutting at the time and it is believed the fire was started from the exhaust of a pickup. Combines say the extra tall wheat stubble ignites very easily as truck and combines pass over it with hot manifolds. A hay barn and about 200 bales of hay were also lost in the fire.

The Devol Fire Department was called out. The Grandfield Fire Department also came to assist in fighting the blaze.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Farmer wish to express their thanks to the fire departments, and to friends and neighbors who came and fought the fire. They especially want to thank Eugene Josefy who came with his plow and stopped the spread of the fire.

First Baptist Church of Devol will begin its Vacation Bible School Monday, June 18-29th and will hold sessions from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Bible study will be the main object. Preparation Day will be Saturday, June 16 at 9:00 a.m. At this time enrollment and adjustment to the general routine of activities of the program will be explained. There will be classes for 4 year olds through the eighth grade.

Grace McClurkin will be director of the school.

Custer Rides Again

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas--- Master Sergeant George Armstrong Custer III, an air traffic controller with the 2054th Communications Squadron at Sheppard, has a name that brings instant reaction from most people. It is a family name. He was named for a great, great grand uncle, the long-haired general who lost a large portion of his regiment--and his own life--in an Indian battle. Although Sergeant Custer is not a student of his famous relative, their common name has had an influence on Sergeant Custer. He was in the Army before entering the Air Force. He says he spent more time in the Information Office being interviewed than he did at his job. Four years later, he came into the Air Force, but the pressure from military journalists did not abate. Now, when asked about his name, he pulls out a sheaf of past articles kept conveniently at hand and lets them tell the story. General Custer had his battles with Indians. Sergeant Custer has his skirmishes with information offices. Hopefully, the bill pencil will prove less damaging than the sharp arrow.

CHAP Picnic Set For Sunday, June 24

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- A CHAP (Children Have A Potential) picnic, for families with children in the CHAP program, is scheduled for Sunday, June 24th at Cottonwood Acres. It will begin at noon and continue to 3 p.m. Families are to bring their own food. The picnic area may be reached by going west on Old Lee Park Road, and turning right on City View to Cottonwood Acres.

SHEPPARD AIR FORCE BASE

Male Domain Infiltrated

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas--- Continuing a trend that has swept other sections of Sheppard, women have broken into another male domain and become members of the Sheppard AFB Drill Team. Airmen Becky Eberhardt of Crystal Lake, Ill.; Jo Ann Vorhees of Muncie, Ind.; Vicki Barton of Jacksonville, Ark.; and Rosemarie Franco of New York City have become active participants of the Blue Knights. All four women are students in the Communications Specialist course of the Department of Communications and Missile Training, School of Applied Aerospace Sciences at Sheppard. They became interested in the team, while talking to Staff Sergeant Dwayne Adams, team director, during a class session. To become members, the women had to perform the basic facing movements they learned in basic training. Their membership was then voted on by the male members of the team. The female members have instigated some changes on the team. Seemingly, the most radical change would have been the acceptance of the women by the other members, but this was slight. Rather, the changes have been more manageable. First, the members of the team carry rifles which weigh nine pounds and seem to get heavier the longer they are held. Consequently, the women do not carry rifles but march as squad leaders, standing at the side as the men perform routines with rifles. Another change involved a new system of classification for female members. The members of the Blue Knights work for different levels of achievement based on their marching ability. For the men there are pages, squires, and knights. The new corresponding ranks for the women are Miss, Lady-in-Waiting, and Lady.

Some similarities remain, however. All members of the team wear the distinctive red and white braid around their shoulder, and all must meet the same rigid standards for promotion. When asked why they like the team, all four women give a similar answer. Simply put, they like to march. Membership on the team has certain benefits--travel for instance--but they still enjoy performing as a team in intricate maneuvers.

Although the present four will leave for other assignments in July, Sergeant Adams is looking for more women to perform with the team.

But for all the fun, there is also hard work. Members practice six days a week and often march in parades at Sheppard and in the area.

Although not all bases in the Air Force have drill teams, each has an honor guard. The women drill team members at Sheppard hope to join an honor guard after they graduate.

4 H Ecology Conference Set

LEAKEY --- About 100 4-H boys and girls and adult leaders will take a closer look at ecology and the use of natural resources when they gather at the H. E. Butt Foundation Camp at Leakey June 19-22.

The event is the seventh annual Texas 4-H Ecology Conference.

"Purpose of the conference is to provide participants an opportunity to get closer to nature, to develop a better understanding of our natural resources, and to discuss and learn ways to utilize these resources more effectively and efficiently," says Tom Davison, conference coordinator and 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. Group discussions throughout the three-and-a-half day conference will center around environmental quality, forestry, outdoor recreation, range, soil and water, and wildlife.

County Agent News

We have a new bulletin "Suggestions for Weed Control With Chemicals" MP-1059, for weeds in crops, perennial weeds, fence rows, and non-cropped areas. This is a free bulletin and may be picked up at the County Extension Agent-Agriculture office, 304 Federal Building, Wichita Falls. Weeds this year are a real problem on crop land and in pastures.

The Wichita County 4-H Horse Club playday will be Saturday, June 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the Mounted Patrol Arena in Wichita Falls. Due to the hot weather, the playdays will be held at night. All 4-H members and their parents are urged to attend.

The June 28 meeting of the Farm and Ranch Club will be a tour of the Vegetable Research Station at Munday, Texas. This should be a program and tour that you will not want to miss. They do have a lot to show at the station. The club is chartering a bus and Jim Schur, president of the club, says it will be "air-conditioned". The tour will cost you $5.00 per person which does include the meal.

If you have questions, please call Jim Schur at 322-4468.

A group of specialists will be on hand during the Vegetable Show to be at Sears in Wichita Falls on June 30 to answer any of your questions you may have on diseases and insects of vegetables. They will also be available to discuss problems you may be having on trees, shrubs, or flowers. Bring in a specimen on June 30 and let the specialists look it over. The specialists will be available from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Their services are a part of the educational program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and are free to the public.

Powdery mildew is one of the most destructive diseases on certain ornamentals and vegetables. It attacks roses, grape myrtle, photinia and zinnias as well as melons and cucumbers.

The disease reduces yield and weakens plants by attacking the buds, young leaves and growing tips. On young leaves the disease appears at first as slightly raised - Mister-like areas that soon become covered with a grayish-white powdery growth. As the leaves expand, they become curled and distorted. Tiny black fruiting bodies of the mildew fungus are often embedded in the mildew patches, especially late in the season.

The control of powdery mildew requires certain sanitation procedures as the application of certain fungicides. In the fall remove and destroy all diseased annuals and prune back diseased parts of perennials to help reduce the source of new infections in the spring. Good air circulation among plants will reduce the possibility of powdery mildew. Avoid overcrowding and planting in a damp low area.

The fungicides, Benlate and Karathane, can be used to control the disease in the home garden, and either Actidione, Benlate, Karathane, or sulfur can be used on ornamentals. Fungicide applications should begin in the spring when new growth develops or immediately after the first sign of powdery mildew. Applications can also be made during the flowering period to prevent blossom blight.

Apply fungicides at seven-day intervals or as needed. Actidione, sulfur, and Karathane should be used at a temperature below 85 degrees. Applying these materials above this temperature will burn the plant.

Unemployment insurance could be extended to a substantial number of Texas farm workers by covering only a relatively small number of employers.

Agricultural workers were excluded from unemployment protection by the original Social Security Act of 1935 when most farmers were very small and little hired labor was used.

The trend in the state toward consolidating small farms into larger operations has helped make unemployment insurance in this area possible.

A fairly liberal provision, for example, requiring that employers must pay unemployment insurance if they had four workers for 20 weeks or a quarterly payroll of $5,000 affected only four percent of the farms.

It is canning and freezing time now and many ask if potatoes can be frozen. The following is the method to use for freezing:

Select potatoes the size of walnuts. Scrub well in cold water to remove skins, or wash and scrape. Blanch in boiling water five to eight minutes, depending on size. Cool in cold running water five to eight minutes and pack dry without water.

Preparation of French Fried potatoes for freezing: Use mature potatoes suitable for french frying. Wash, peel and cut into sticks 1/4 inch square. Blanch stick in boiling water for two minutes. Cool in cold running water for three minutes and pack dry without water.

New, more descriptive labeling, designed to tell consumers at a glance exactly what they're paying for when buying frankfurters, bologna and knockwurst, was announced June 1 by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The change in federal meat inspection regulations was adopted after consideration of comments from more than 5,000 consumers and industry members in response to proposals made by USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

Since many comments preferred one type over another it is evident that there should be a choice for buyers, with them deciding which type of frankfurter they prefer.

Although meat processors have until September 7 to change over to the new requirements, consumers may begin seeing the new labels on their grocery shelves sooner.

The change gives consumers a choice of three types of frankfurters and other cooked sausages:

1. Those made only from skeletal meat, which can include up to 15 percent poultry meat, and the normal ingredients such as water, sweeteners and curing substances needed for processing. These products will be labeled with their traditional generic names, such as "frankfurter", "bologna" or "knockwurst". If all the meat is from one particular species, the product will have to be labeled to show that, for example, "beef frankfurter".

2. Those made of the above ingredients plus meat byproducts, sometimes called variety meats, such as hearts, tongues, tripe, etc. and poultry products. This type of product will have to be distinctly labeled, as, for example, "frankfurters with byproducts" or "franks with variety meats". The term "with byproducts" or "with variety meats" will have to be printed so that it can be easily noticed by being next to and in the same color and background as the generic name. The ingredient statement must specify and name each byproduct, as is now required.

3. Those made with either of the above formulas, plus up to 3.5 percent non meat binders such as nonfat dry milk, cereal or dried whole milk, or two percent isolated soyprotein. These products also will have to be clearly labeled with name such as "franks with byproducts, nonfat dry milk added". And their extra ingredients will have to be named in the ingredient statement on the label.

Weekly Health Tip

20% of Americans eat a nutritionally poor diet, reported a survey by the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture. Surprisingly, this included affluent families, which reflects a lack of dietary knowledge rather than a lack of food money. One-half of the households had diets that failed to meet the requirements for one or more nutrients. Calcium (milk), Vitamin A, and ascorbic acid (citrus fruits) were the nutrients most often found lacking. If one compares the size of the soda water department with the declining milk counter in many supermarkets - the results of the survey are understandable.
